SRA: Now Is The Time For Swimming Pool

Squamish Recreational Association has appointed a committee to revive the proposed community swimming pool project.

Some years ago property was acquired for this purpose in the park site near the high school. Information and plans were acquired but the cost was considered prohibitive by the community at that time.

The SRA now feels that this pool could be built if the residents of the area give their wholehearted approval and financial assistance.

Committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of the project is Mrs. P. Alder and Mrs. A. Shemko.

Dental Disease Control

PTA Hears Dentist Expound Fluoridation

Benefits of fluoridation in the drinking water supply was main topic of discussion at Squamish Elementary PTA meeting, January 12.

Guest speaker was Dr. J. M. Conchie, regional dental consultant of the Fraser Valley Health Unit which includes this school district.

Fluoridation has been proven beneficial to teeth with no ill after effects, said Dr. Conchie. Statistics in test areas show that it will reduce tooth decay in children by two thirds, he stated, and the benefit derived while the teeth are in the formative stage remains throughout life.

Cost of fluoridation is small compared to cost of dental work. Average yearly dental clinic cost per Grade 1 child in the Fraser Valley Unit is $40, said Dr. Conchie, whereas the cost of fluoridation in the water system ranges from eight to 10 cents per person.

There just aren't enough dentists in this province, in Canada, in North America or the world to give people proper dental care. Widespread use of fluorine in drinking water is one means of overcoming dental disease, claimed Dr. Conchie.

Forty years ago people were worrying each year about how many children they would lose each year to typhoid diphtheria and TB. Now inoculation pasteurization of milk and chlorine in water are used to control these diseases.

Dental disease does not kill but it does cause disfigurement, pain and embarrassment. Growing children who cannot eat properly cannot grow properly, he said.

Almost 40 million people on this continent are now drinking fluoridated water in an effort to control dental disease. The results speak for themselves, claimed the doctor.

Work Proceeds At Darrell Bay Ferry Terminal

Work on the Darrell Bay ferry terminal is proceeding according to schedule. The shutdown, instigated by the Squamish council and the Board of Trade, who wanted the terminal at Squamish, was of short duration.

John Hunter Co. Ltd. has the contract for hauling 60,000 yards of gravel fill from a nearby pit at Olsen's Creek. Total cost of the new ferry is $289,404; $156,240 for the new 15-car ferry and $133,164 for the slips and approaches at Woodfibre and Darrell Bay.

Operation on the new route is to coincide with the opening of the new plant at Woodfibre in May, 1961.

Sullivan Family Mourns Daughter

Funeral services for Mrs. Jack Tindale (Nee Olga Loretta Sullivan), who died unexpectedly at the age of 35 at her home in Prince Rupert, January 9, were held in Mt. Pleasant Chapel in Vancouver, January 14. Cremation followed the ceremony.

There was a previous ceremony in Prince Rupert on January 11.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. R. S. Bishop and Mrs. S. H. Hinde, a brother, Alex and her parents Mrs. and Mrs. Andy Sullivan all of Squamish.

49 Xmas Dinners At Home In 50 Years Of Marriage

With the festive season past, Mrs. Daisy Barnfield reports that she had New Year's dinner away from her home in Squamish for the first time in 48 years.

In her 50 years of marriage she claims to have cooked 49 Christmas dinners and 48 New Year's dinners.

"It was a lot of work, but we enjoyed being at home with our family," she reminisced.

She and the late Mr. Barnfield were on their honeymoon in England for their first Christmas together and spent own family.

It was there she was given She spent last New Year's with her daughter, Mrs. Vera Merchant, in Vancouver.

W'fibre Installs Legion Officers

Joint installation of officers at Woodfibre Legion, Branch 181, was held January 9. Adam Williams of the B.C. Executive Council was installation officer.

Gordon Sinclair was installed president of the Legion and Mrs. Bessie Stephens heads the Ladies Auxiliary.

Other Legion officers are David Anderson, 1st vice-president; Dale Stephens, 2nd vice-president; Gerry Vose, treasurer; and Joan Forrest, secretary.

On the executive are: John Bastin, Frank Brunn, Oliver Kirkham, Peter Kidson, Maurice Cote.

Sergeant-at-arms is Barney Alvernini.

Other officers of the Ladies Auxiliary are Mrs. Kay King, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Helen Henderson, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Dot Wickstrom, treasurer; and Mrs. Betty Lloyd, secretary.

Ben Cherry, President Pemberton Bd. of Trade

Ben Cherry was elected president of Pemberton and District Board of Trade at the annual meeting, January 10.

Other officers are Jack Graham, first vice-president; Jay W. Moore, second vice-president; Roy Penrose, secretary; Fred Meen, treasurer.

On the executive council are R. H. E. Taylor, Lorne Monford, T. E. M. Fougberg, J. Carradice, W. Watson, W. Davis, Jack Nelson and Harold Pipe.

Mr. Taylor was also appointed as public relations correspondent.

Disc Dance Club Dancing Jan. 20

The Disc Dance Club of Britannia Beach under the guidance of Pat McCawley has scheduled their first dance of the New Year for Friday, January 20.

Relaxation after the completion of term examinations and the purchase of new records should add to the pleasure of the dance.

Library Holds Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of Squamish Public Library Board was held January 16 under the chairmanship of M. V. Seymour.

Re-elected to the board for this year were Mr. Seymour, G. S. Clarke, and Mrs. Rose Tatlow, secretary-treasurer.

Newly elected were Jacques Moon and Jack Wuttunee. Librarian is Mrs. Freda Munro.

In his annual report, the chairman noted a substantial increase in circulation and commented that this was a positive indication of the need the library is filling in the community.

Britannia Ladies Elect President, Mrs. D. Pringle

Election of officers for the new year is always the most important business of the January meeting of the Britannia W.A. Thanks to the excellent work done by Mrs. A. Bennett, as nominations chairman, the new slate was elected in record time.

President for 1961 is Mrs. D. Pringle. Mrs. R. Lasby is vice-president with Mrs. M. Moncrieff secretary and Mrs. A. Wells treasurer.

Programs will be handled by Mrs. C. Bradley and Mrs. G. Begon while Mrs. L. Allan and Mrs. L. Archibald handle the visiting.

Mrs. H. Chisholm has taken charge of the devotional part of the meetings.

It was agreed that the system of a different group organizing each function had proved successful and the executive was empowered to name the groups. Tentative plans discussed suggest an active year.

Damage Not Extensive; Disrupts Road and Rail

Flooding was widespread in the Squamish Valley last weekend following high temperatures and heavy rains which reached the 6,000-foot level of snow-covered mountains sending a deluge of water into swollen rivers and streams.

From Friday to Sunday afternoon 6.26 inches of rain fell as the temperature rose to 54 degrees. Damage to houses and other buildings was light except for minor flooding of basements, but road and rail communications were disrupted north of Squamish.

Highway and railway crews worked around the clock to keep bridges clear. Some have been damaged but none were reported washed out.

VILLAGE O.K.

Squamish village remained free from flood waters as village crews patrolled the dykes paying special attention to keeping the main flood gate at the west end of Vancouver Street free from obstruction.

Behind Dentville flood waters from the Mamquam, which normally would have run through this residential section, were successfully diverted by the road-dykes built around this section a year ago.

CHEAKAMUS

Saturday night at 10:00 p.m. the Cheakamus rose to the level of the low highway bridge at Cheekye and by midnight was boiling over the top as debris jammed against the structure.

Huge logs, snags and boulders were smashed into the bridge by the roaring waters all day Sunday but it held and Sunday night as the rain eased and the water receded, crews moved in to remove the jam and make repairs.

MAMQUAM

By Sunday morning, flood waters from the Mamquam had spilled into the North

Yards and the Squamish River had flooded south of Brackendale to a depth of one foot and a half on the road and over the fields and around the houses.

As a precaution, some of the older Indians were evacuated to Brackendale.

Sunday night the rains stopped and the temperature dropped to 34 degrees and the danger passed.

Pemberton Cemetery An Orphan

Pemberton village council turned down the offer of title to the cemetery at their meeting, January 3.

Sale of the Wilson property has precipitated the need to register this one-acre cemetery which was donated to the community some years ago by Mr. Wilson.

Council feels that the Pemberton Valley Diking District, which has taxation powers in the whole valley which the cemetery serves, would be better suited to take over and maintain the cemetery.

At the present time it is administered by three trustees.

HOLIDAYING IN HONOLULU

Away for two weeks in the sun are Paul Mackenzie and Keith Hendrickson, who flew to Honolulu January 11.

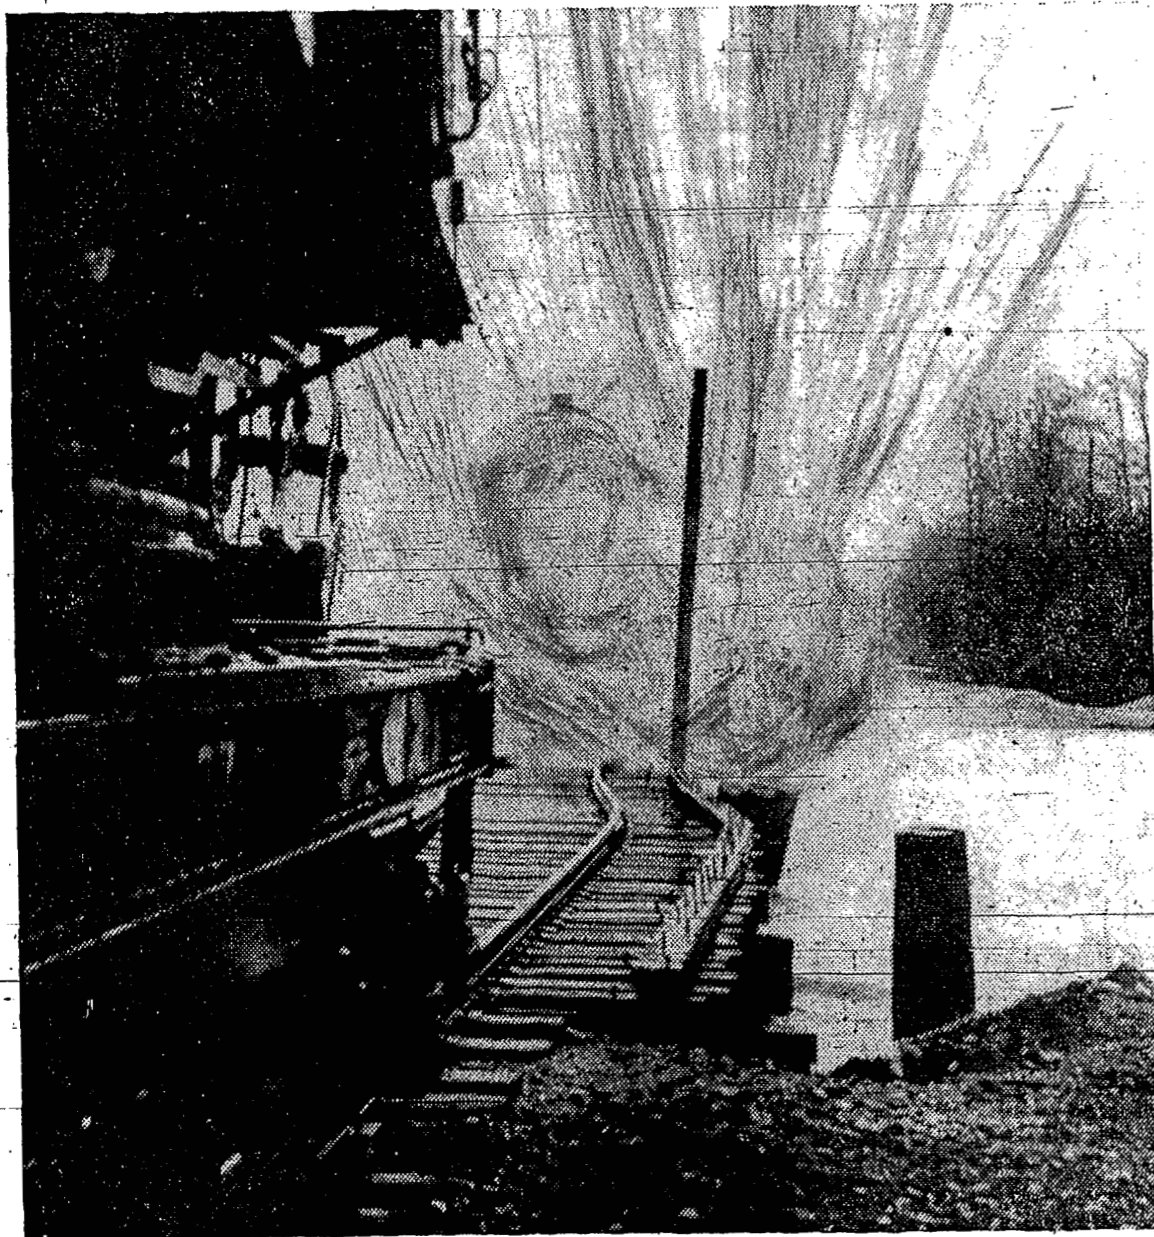

Portrait Of People At Squamish Library

"Painting People," an exhibition of portraits of people by Canadian artists, will be shown at Squamish Public Library, January 22, 2 to 5 p.m.

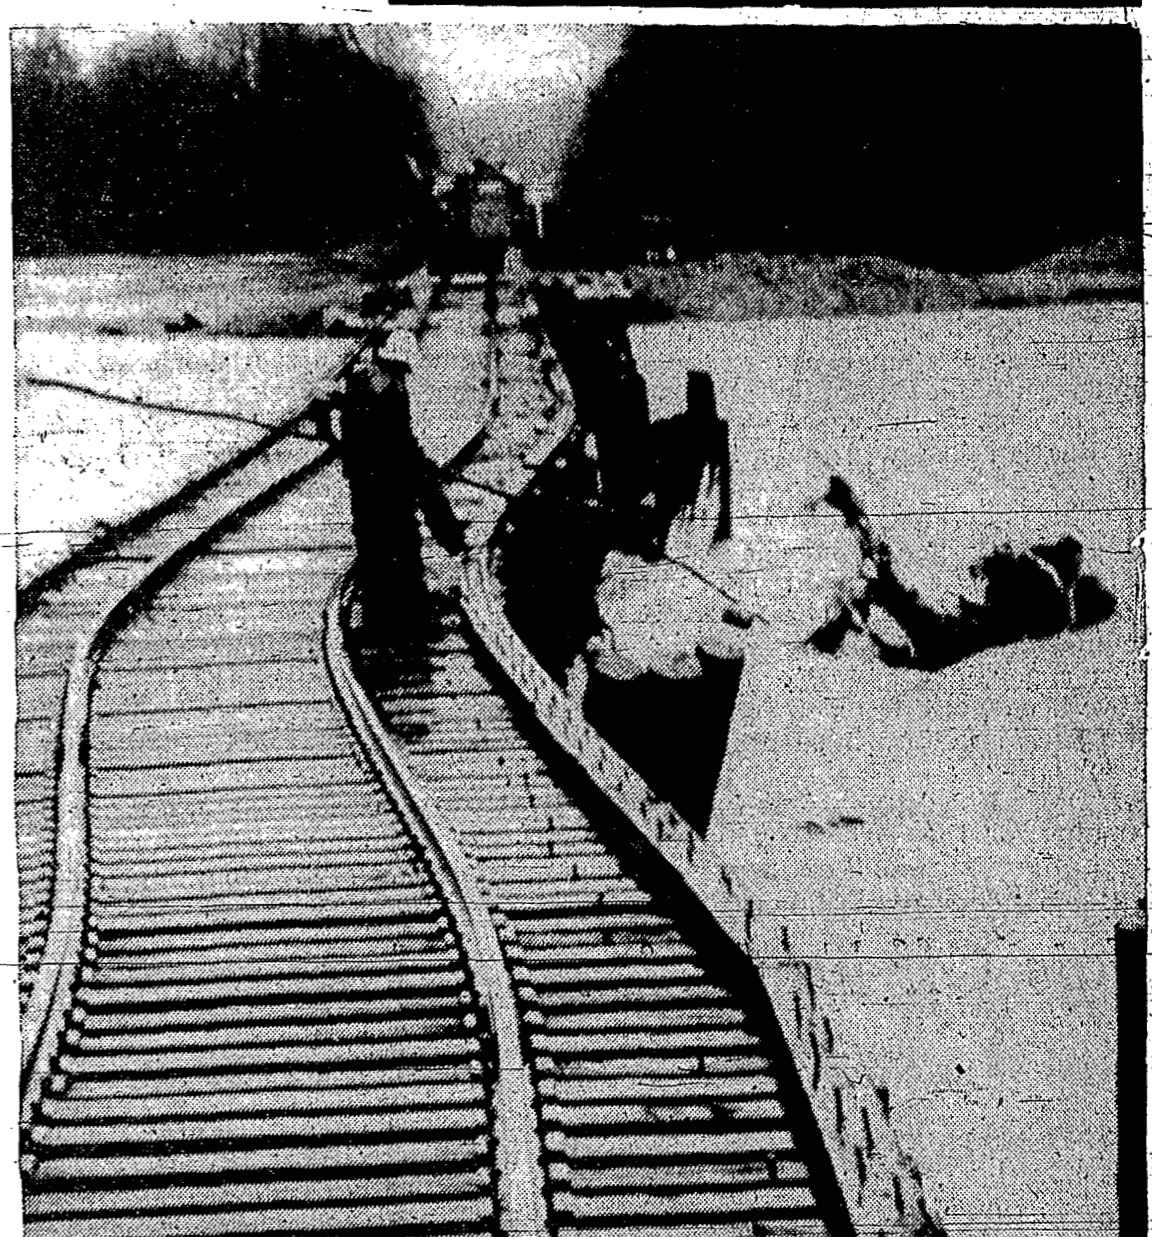

There will be 10 portraits, each distinct from any other in the exhibit. Each painting will be accompanied by an interpretive text.

One of the artists represented is Molly Bobak who held classes here last spring.

The display, sponsored by the Canada Arts Council and the library board, is open to everyone.

FORCE OF EXPLOSION smashes the snag and upends heavy bridge timber. This section of bridge had to be rebuilt to straighten track. Trains were rolling again on Tuesday.

HERE CHARGE is lowered on long and the bridge is cleared of crew and pole into the water against the snag spectators awaiting the blast.

Winning Over The Woodfibre-ites

Everyone at almost every moment is either part of the problem or part of the solution. At one time we may be part of the problem, making things difficult for other people. At another time we may be part of the solution, making things easier for other people.

The question of a new location for the Woodfibre ferry has been the problem, and whether the handful of Woodfibre residents realized it or not, Squamish people were trying to help the situation.

But it stunned the citizens of Squamish to read the vitriolic and short-sighted thinking contained in a letter written to a Vancouver daily newspaper. Then when overtures were made in good faith to have the paper-town people consider having the ferry dock moved to Squamish, there was virtual hostility shown.

The people of Squamish Valley do not deserve such treatment, from anybody. But Squamish people, who have had their belly full of unfair attacks, incorrect publicity, and generally the victims of governments and big business, are not resentful. They still want the co-operation Woodfibre employees and families and are willing to offer the usual friendly service and hospitality.

Lesson In Thriftiness

Last week we wrote an editorial urging the women of the North Howe Sound area, up to and including Pemberton Valley, to get out and offer your talents and energies towards community betterment. Here is a short editorial designed to make not only mother to think but for father to pitch in.

It is the question of family thrift.

Has thrift become out-moded? Is it far too old-fashioned for the tempo of our modern times? In a day when almost anything you want can be acquired without the expenditure of a nickel — immediately, that is — it won't seem too surprising of many people say they can't be bothered to save money, and pay cash when they buy something.

But thrift amongst us of Pemberton and Squamish Valleys, is not a dead one. Take children, for instance.

Are parents doing their duty by instilling thrifty habits in their children? Not as much as they should, we think. Children should be warned against the "buy-now-pay-later" philosophy.

Can children save? Certainly they can.

Small boys are hoarders by nature. Think not? Turn out their pockets and see what you find. Look in their hidey-holes and wonder at the loot stored there. This hoarding instinct can be turned to good account. Tell them about the great oak and the little acorn.

Or instill a little Scottish parsimony — not the pinch-penny kind, but the kind that says "mony a mickle makes a muckle." Even now.

One learns further that, while gentlemen may prefer blondes, it is more gentlemanly to keep the preference secret.

That noted British author, Chesterton, wrote in another connection, "All is gold that glitters, for the glitter is the gold," and so one should accept the miracle of the recurring blondes humbly and gratefully without inquiring too closely into the possibility that a technically spurious blonde may have deceived the eye.

Like the miracle of spring itself, especially in the middle of January, it is a generous deceit.

The Flowers Of Spring, Tra-la, Tra-la . . .

Crack!

There is hardly an established weather record for our west coast climate that hasn't been shattered with the past few weeks of blustery, balmy atmosphere. But it's still January; finally we have reached the ultimate — June in January, as the dance tune goes.

We may be a bit ahead of ourselves.

Together with robins, crocuses and tulips, the re-appearance of blondes on Cleveland Avenue is one of the sure signs of spring, we think. Doubtless there are some who remain around all winter, but they seem to cover their heads with hats and parkas, revealing their crowning glory indoors only.

One is inclined to conclude that blondes are migratory birds, following the sun as it moves from the tropic of Capricorn to the tropic of Cancer and back again, but research on the subject is difficult.

If one has a pet blonde around the house, one may study her habits and movements, but the sample is too small to afford any reliable data of a general nature. Inquiry among non-blondes will elicit much information about such matters as rinses and bleaches. In fact, we hear so much about this subterfuge to fool menfolk that we end up by suspecting that the early robin is really a disguised crow.

One learns further that, while gentlemen may prefer blondes, it is more gentlemanly to keep the preference secret.

That noted British author, Chesterton, wrote in another connection, "All is gold that glitters, for the glitter is the gold," and so one should accept the miracle of the recurring blondes humbly and gratefully without inquiring too closely into the possibility that a technically spurious blonde may have deceived the eye.

Like the miracle of spring itself, especially in the middle of January, it is a generous deceit.

Let's Put Everybody to Work . . .

The North Howe Sound area and especially Squamish is about to lose a myth. The belief has been that in winter, construction costs more and is for the same reason unnatural to the country. This belief stems from the time when Canada was primarily an agricultural country.

The result is that there are now a considerable number of people in Squamish Valley who find themselves out of jobs. A few years ago this was a situation that was taken for granted.

This is no longer entirely true. Now something is being done in a deliberate effort to boost employment during the winter months. The federal and municipal government, representatives of management and Board of Trade have been working together to combat the problem; they have been getting results.

"Do It Now" campaigns have been running for the past two winters and again this year an all out program has been initiated. From Britannia to Brack-endale are making an effort to provide more work for the unemployed residents and businesses.

Past experience has shown that in municipalities and districts of the size of Squamish Valley, hundreds of additional winter jobs can be found by encouraging householders to follow a "Do It Now" policy on repairs and renovations that they have been postponing.

Doing such work at this time of year offers a number of advantages — skilled tradesmen are available, there is no shortage of materials, no union strikes, and some supply houses offer winter discounts.

With a successful campaign men are kept at work, merchants benefit from additional business and municipalities are relieved of requests for welfare assistance.

And what is more, you must admit that this is about the mildest winter weather we have ever enjoyed. Let's all take advantage of it and get those remodelling, renovation and fix-up jobs done.

Hats Off To Legion Band

We hope everyone within earshot of the Canadian Legion band Christmas carolling, joined in with crescendo.

They were not looking for silver collection, but were making a sincere effort to spread more the true Christmas spirit. We hope they will be carolling next year.

But you, if a critic, may say this editorial is outdated. Not so. While Christmas season is over, the spirit of fellowship, good will or love for your fellow man is never out of date.

Truly, we wish the members of the Canadian Legion band a warm salute to their wonderful efforts during the Yuletide season.

HOWE SOUND HIGH LIGHTS

—by Marsh & Moore

Shoot! Bang! That was the rather original beginning for our column (?) this week.

Actually what we were supposed to say is that both the Sr. boys' and girls' basketball teams played their first games of the New Year on Saturday, January 7, 1961. (Oh, by the way, Happy New Year everybody).

The games were held here and played against Delbrook Sr. High. The girls didn't fare too well, losing their game 29 to 10. Besides making a small percentage of their shots, they put up a rather weak defence.

The boys game got off to a much more exciting start. The Squamish Chiefs held their own against the Delbrook Hill-toppers and at half time the score stood tied—27 to 27 (for Squamish, natch).

Early in the third quarter, Lefty Hendrickson was fouled off the floor and the Chiefs began to lose their spark of the earlier quarters.

Gradually the score began to mount in favour of Delbrook and they won by a score of 63-43.

Making the game a bit more memorable were Paddy Greatrex, a Grade 10 boy, playing his first game with the Seniors, who scored two points with a good hook shot and Gordon Emery, who also sent the ball through the hoop with a lovely hook shot.

High scorers for the girls' and boys' games were respectively Barbara DeBeck, with 5 points and Lefty Hendrickson, with 16. Both are team captains.

On Friday the 13th, Squamish teams were supposed to go across to Gibsons Landing for basketball games; but arrived at Horseshoe Bay in time to see the ferry on its way.

I guess it was natural that we missed it — after all it was a nice afternoon drive anyway. Still, the boys managed to

Committees Appointed At Inaugural Meeting

At the inaugural meeting of Pemberton Village Council two newly elected commissioners took the oath of office.

They were Leonard J. Fowler and Warren R. Taillefer. The clerk, Mrs. J. H. Nelson, officiated.

Chairman W. Watson appointed Fowler to roads committee and Taillefer to sanitation.

Serving on other committees are D. McEwan, water; R. A. E. Taylor, fire; W. Watson, lighting and Health Centre.

Beware of Fallen Power Lines: B.C.E. Warns

With the season of high winds, and falling trees and branches, comes a warning from the B.C. Electric to beware of fallen power lines.

"During or after a storm or highway accident, a fallen wire must be considered as dangerous," says R. M. Holsey, B.C.E. branch manager. "Electricity travels fast, hits hard, and you can't see it."

"If you see a wire down, please report it at once to the nearest B.C. Electric office. Linemen will answer your call promptly."

Mrs. Mathews Honored

Mrs. J. Mathews of North Vancouver spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Drenka, during the Christmas holidays.

On Boxing Day, Mrs. Drenka held a tea in honour of her mother's visit. A number of Mrs. Mathews' friends were able to attend and renew their friendship with her.

Among the guests were Mrs. W. Caulfield, Mrs. R. McNeil, Mrs. J. Eadie, Mrs. E. Carson and Miss Harriet Brightbill.

Social Notes

Miss Gail Summerskill of Squamish spent a few days with Miss Mary Louise Smith. Mr. and Mrs. B. Bigelow from Vancouver moved into the house formerly occupied by J. Downes.

Song Writer & Recording Star Here Saturday

Song writer and recording artist, Buddy Reynolds, will be featured with a five piece dance music combo singing his "country music" hit parade songs and others at the PGE Hall, Saturday night, Jan. 21.

This former West Vancouver boy, now living in Richmond, B.C., is just back from Nashville, Tenn., from recording "Walking With Me" which has been No. 1 on the Vancouver country music hit parade for 10 weeks.

Another song he wrote and recorded in Hollywood, "George Porgie" reached the national hit parade in the States. A few years ago his "Spruce Bug" gained country wide popularity in Canada.

His publishers are London Records in Canada and Zero Records in United States.

Trento Baby Christened

Infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Trento was given the name Diane at her christening on Saturday, Jan. 7. Rev. Father A. Eisenring officiating.

The name was chosen by their friend and neighbor, Mrs. I. Confortin. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Confortin.

Skin Divers Wish To Form Club

Skin diving enthusiast, Paul Jones, along with Philip Hoy, is recruiting members to form a club to promote this fast growing sport in Squamish.
