Pemberton Views Olympics With Highway In Mind

Pemberton Board of Trade was host to E. W. Ellis, chairman of the Garibaldi Olympic Development Association, February 14, to discuss Garibaldi Park for the '68 Winter Olympics.

Also attending were invited B of T delegations from Lillooet, Seton-Portage, Shalalth and Bridge River.

The Pemberton board feels that their support would be timely, in view of their desire to see a highway built connecting Lillooet, Pemberton, Squamish and Vancouver, and for the benefits that would come to the country and this immediate area.

Mrs. C. Tatlow Heads Group Committee

The Squamish Valley Group Committee to the Guides and Brownies met at the home of Mrs. R. Leru on February 7 and chose Mrs. C. Tatlow as their new president.

Other officers are Mrs. W. Curran, secretary; Mrs. A. Eross, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. Hill, treasurer.

A man's or ladies' wrist watch is to be raffled on March 27 at the Easter Tea held in the Parish Hall.

Besides handling the tea, the Guides plan to have a flower and candy stall, door prize and bake table.

The group committee hope to have another rag canvass this year and ask anyone with old usable rags to save them or phone a member of the executive for collection.

Any parents interested in the Guide and Brownie movement are welcome to attend the coming meeting on March 7 at the home of Mrs. Tatlow.

DOWN IN THE VALLEY

by JOHN ALEXANDER

What Squamish needs is a millionaire or two so we plebeians could brighten a dull winter day by vicariously sharing in the exotic shenanigans of our own idle rich.

News from around the world keeps us up to date on what those from other places are doing, but it would be so much more exciting to have our very own.

MONTHS OF HAULING is gradually bringing gravel fill at Darrell Bay ferry terminal up to level of PGE tracks and lessening grade to highway from which picture was taken. Wood-fibre, which the ferry will serve, can be seen top center, across the sound. Opening of the extensively renovated pulp mill there is scheduled for April 1. Fill on the other side of the track leading to the yet to be constructed wharf will start soon.

B. of T. Float Excites Interest At Olympic Rally In Vancouver

Toll-Taker Sees Double

It may be said here in B.C. that there is nothing more certain than taxes, death and tolls.

But it is the uncertainty of the variations that make them interesting as Norm Squires can attest: he paid 40 cents to take the Squamish float across Lions Gate Bridge to the Olympic parade and 65 cents to bring it back.

On the way down, the toll-taker didn't see the dual wheels on the float trailer.

Reports from the city are that the Squamish float was a big success in the Winter Olympic rally torch light parade in Vancouver, February 8, drawing more than its share of attention from the TV cameras.

Sparkled by the Squamish Board of Trade, the entry was built mainly by members of the board and of the Squamish Lions Club.

On the float in winter sports clothes were Shirley Campbell, Christine Brown, Laurie Sullivan, Diane Seymour, Rick Hunter and Lynn Hendrickson.

Holding to ropes and capering behind were Al Bird and Bob Bishop on skis and roller skates and dressed as a clown and a snowman.

Marching behind them were Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Brown, Ottar Brandold and Mrs. Mae Gorsuch.

Norm Squires drove the float to Vancouver with Ian Hamilton's tow truck and in the parade with Brandold's jeep. Manuel Seymour was on hand both during the building and at the parade to give assistance.

FOUR BLOCKS LONG

The parade and dinner and dance that followed in the Hotel Vancouver was sponsored by the Garibaldi Olympic Development Association.

The parade led by two bands, was four blocks long with floats and torch bearing marchers. Over 700 people attended the banquet and dance.

Among those at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Aler Philip of Alta Lake. The Phillips, now retired, were pioneer resort operators at Alta Lake, adjacent to Whistler Mountain, the proposed Winter Olympic site for 1968.

Lawrence Rae Dies at Quesnel

Lawrence Johnson Rae, 61, son of a pioneer Squamish family, died at Quesnel February 8. He was buried at Squamish on Saturday.

The deceased, recently retired from the PGE, had been unconscious for 10 weeks, following an auto accident at Quesnel.

Funeral services were held in Squamish United Church with the Rev. N. J. Penrose officiating.

Surviving are four brothers, Edward at Brackendale, Jimmy and Bert in Vancouver, Wesley at Keithly Creek in the Cariboo, and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Armstrong at Armstrong's Corners, north of Squamish.

Pal bearers were his nephews, Bob Armstrong, Les Armstrong, Jimmy Rae, Harry Rae, Donny Rae and Jim Riis.

G. A. Campbell, Pres.

Elect New Slate At Brackendale

Gordon A. Campbell became president of the Squamish Farmers' Institute at the annual meeting held in the Brackendale Hall, February 7.

Vice-president is Clayton Thorne and secretary Eric Axen.

Directors are G. Baron, I. L. Boscarol and N. Halvorson. The auditor is J. Riis.

Mr. Campbell reporting for the past year stated that one of the important accomplishments of the institute was the forming of the Barkadeen and the forming of the Brackendale Volunteer Fire Department.

This group later established itself as a separate organization. They use the hall for meetings free of charge and have built a fire hall on SEI property.

Better facilities for the Brackendale Scouts has high priority on the institute's plans for this year.

This is a co-operative project with the Brackendale Institute.

CNR Reroutes Trains on PGE

PGE total revenue cars handled in January was up 17.3% over the same period last year.

The rerouting of 1,556 CNR cars over the PGE brought the total to 5,213 as compared to 4,445 in January 1960.

Actual total PGE cars loaded was 3,311, down from 4,025 and the revenue cars received from connections was 346 as compared to 420 in January last year.

B. Wray Chief of Mamquam VFD

Burt Wray was elected fire chief of the Mamquam Volunteer Fire Department at the annual meeting, February 5, in the Mamquam School.

Also elected were new president R. E. Tinney and secretary-treasurer Mrs. P. Candy.

R. E. Jordan became acting chief. This position was created because Mr. Wray is a logger and away from the community during the day.

Installation of a fire alarm system is pending and the purchase of 1000 feet of hose was discussed.

Two Day Event

HSH Students To Sample UBC

Mrs. Ann Zobl and Gordon Emery of Howe Sound High School are among delegates attending the 14th annual High School Conference at the University of British Columbia on February 24 and 25.

More than 260 delegates from throughout British Columbia and the Yukon will be welcomed in a ceremony in Brock Hall by Dean E. D. MacPhee on behalf of the administration; Dave Edgar, president, for the Alma Mater Society and Kyle Mitchell, chairman, for the conference committee.

Designed to provide high school students with an opportunity to sample all aspects of life at a university the two-day event offers a program of typical lectures discussions, campus tours and sports which will conclude with a banquet and dance.

As extensive publicizing of the conferences is considered essential to their continued success all delegates are required to report back to their fellow students on observations made during their visit to the university.

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, president of the university, states:

"I am pleased indeed that nearly 300 high school students from all parts of British Columbia will visit the university during the last week of February. Although it is difficult to understand the workings of a large and complex university after a brief visit, I hope that each student will carry away a lasting impression of the work we are doing.

In due course many will be coming to the university to continue their studies and so participate in one of life's most meaningful experiences: the search for wisdom and knowledge. I encourage all those who have the desire, the capacity and the willingness for hard work to continue their education to the highest possible level.

"Canada's need was never greater for young men and women of vision and imagination who are eager to learn and who by improving their own level of education, will contribute to the progress and welfare of the province and the nation."

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN at Brackendale check their pumps to be prepared in case of fire. From left: Clayton Thorne, Gordon Campbell, Gino Barone and Izzy Boscarol. The pumps look small but they can throw terrific streams of water. Annual meeting of the department will be held February 20 in the Farmers' Institute Hall.

Not Good Enough, Mr. Gaglardi

Howe Sound motorists can garner what little comfort they can from the crumb thrown out by Mr. Gaglardi that he may set up a one-way traffic system during rush hours on the First Narrows bridge.

Of course, we have no right to this crumb. We only subsidize four other toll bridges in British Columbia so we must be all polite in the morning and night lineups and not fuss.

The net profit on our little bridge for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1960, was $1,549,629.

The net loss for the other bridges was: Fraser-Delta, $5,508; Agassiz, $44,739; Nelson, $47,666; and Mr. Ben-net's bridge at Kelowna, $113,432.

Mr. Gaglardi is hoping the opening of the Upper Levels into North Vancouver next week will suck off a goodly percentage of the traffic from the First Narrows and so lift the pressure on him for another crossing to this west shore.

We don't think it will make that much difference, and for this reason. Why take the longer Second Narrows route to be thrown into a bottle neck in the Vancouver business section due to lack of freeways?

The turning the bridge into a one-way highway twice a day would be ridiculous, with the only alternative a route clear around the perimeter of Vancouver.

Come up with another solution, Mr. Gaglardi.

Support The Garibaldi Winter Olympic Project

There is an extremely good chance that Whistler Mountain will be selected as the site of the 1968 Winter Olympics, if Canada is to be host nation. But the Manning Park and Banff promoters are hard at work trying to scuttle the local efforts for Garibaldi.

The decision has to be made this year, and support—moral, financial—must be shown with increasing weight. Realizing this is an energetic group of businessmen from all parts of Greater Vancouver, Sunshine Coast, and Vancouver Island who are donating time and support towards the promotion of Whistler Mountain.

While most of the lower mainland business will benefit with the influx of investment money, citizens and firms of Squamish and Pemberton Valleys will feel the direct impact. World attention through newspaper, magazine, radio and television will be focused upon Squamish—the gateway. People will see, will read, will visit Whistler Mountain, Garibaldi, Pemberton, Squamish. Already national magazines, television and newspapers across the nation have played up our district. And what does this lead to? Tourism and investment capital. More jobs and economic strength.

On the local scene, the Squamish Board of Trade are putting every ounce of effort to capitalize on the favorable development. But they need your help. Both businessmen and private citizens will be asked to help in time, ideas, financial contributions.

We all have a selfish interest; and that is the way it should be. We want our town, our valley to grow and be a better place in which to live. Therefore, get behind the drive to put Whistler Mountain on the map and make it the logical spot for the Olympics.

Even if Canada does not get the nod for 1968, the opening up of Garibaldi Park for skiing and year-round tourist attraction will bring in pots of money for the economic health of the North Howe Sound area—including our brothers and sisters in Pemberton.

Tidbit for Mr. Mous

Monday's mail prompted this editorial Bear with us, please.

No editor, dead or alive of this century or of colonial days, has been missed by that ageless, mystic crusader of the mails, "A. Nony Mous."

A man of many faces with many missions, he has rubbed shoulders with the seething masses of the great city of Vancouver, labored with the poorest of the Squamish Valley folk, and prescribes, without askance or pay, the cure for all the evils besetting North Howe Sound citizens.

His most revered possession is his unlimited supply of stationery, ink and stamps. To this he has an up-to-the-minute director of all newspaper, magazine and periodical editors, and the motion necessary for his incognito existence. Topping this, of course, is his unparalleled lack of convictional courage.

And, strangely enough, not all of his missives are without merit. Many times he proposes good, backs it up with intelligent reasoning, and then mailbox.

Mr. Mous evidently passed through our town of Squamish sometime last week for that Monday's mail was one of his prescriptions for the common good. His letter was rational and intelligent; his suggestion meritorious.

But Mr. Mous, if you feel so strongly about what you write, why not lift your veil?

Full Time University and High School Program ...

British Columbia educators, taxpayers and students alike may profitably take note of an experiment in accelerated education in the eastern states. For the past 18 months, the University of Pittsburgh has been offering at the student's discretion, a "trimester" program under which the regular school year is extended from nine to 11 months, divided into three semesters.

A student is enabled to complete the regular undergraduate course in less than three years and to obtain a master's degree in one year.

Experience has been promising. More than 40 other colleges over the United States, according to reports, are considering similar changes to use more intensively the facilities of higher education in this period of critical enrollments.

University of Pittsburgh has found that its overhead costs are less per student credit hour, that a greater number of students can be accommodated without sacrifice of standards of quality. Further, annual faculty earnings total substantially more, and there is a minimum of idle time for classrooms and laboratories.

A Little Pinch of Prayer

In describing to the Lions Gate Times newspaper in West Vancouver recently, the recipe which won her a pie baking championship, a 17-year-old high school student said she first put into the ingredients "a little pinch of prayer."

She has learned early in life something which many people never learn,

The Lions Gate Times is convinced that such a practice could apply to Canadian universities, and in particular, UBC.

The academic year in Canada, at all levels of education, was established in an agricultural era. Teachers and students were needed in the fields in summer months. Circumstances are much different today.

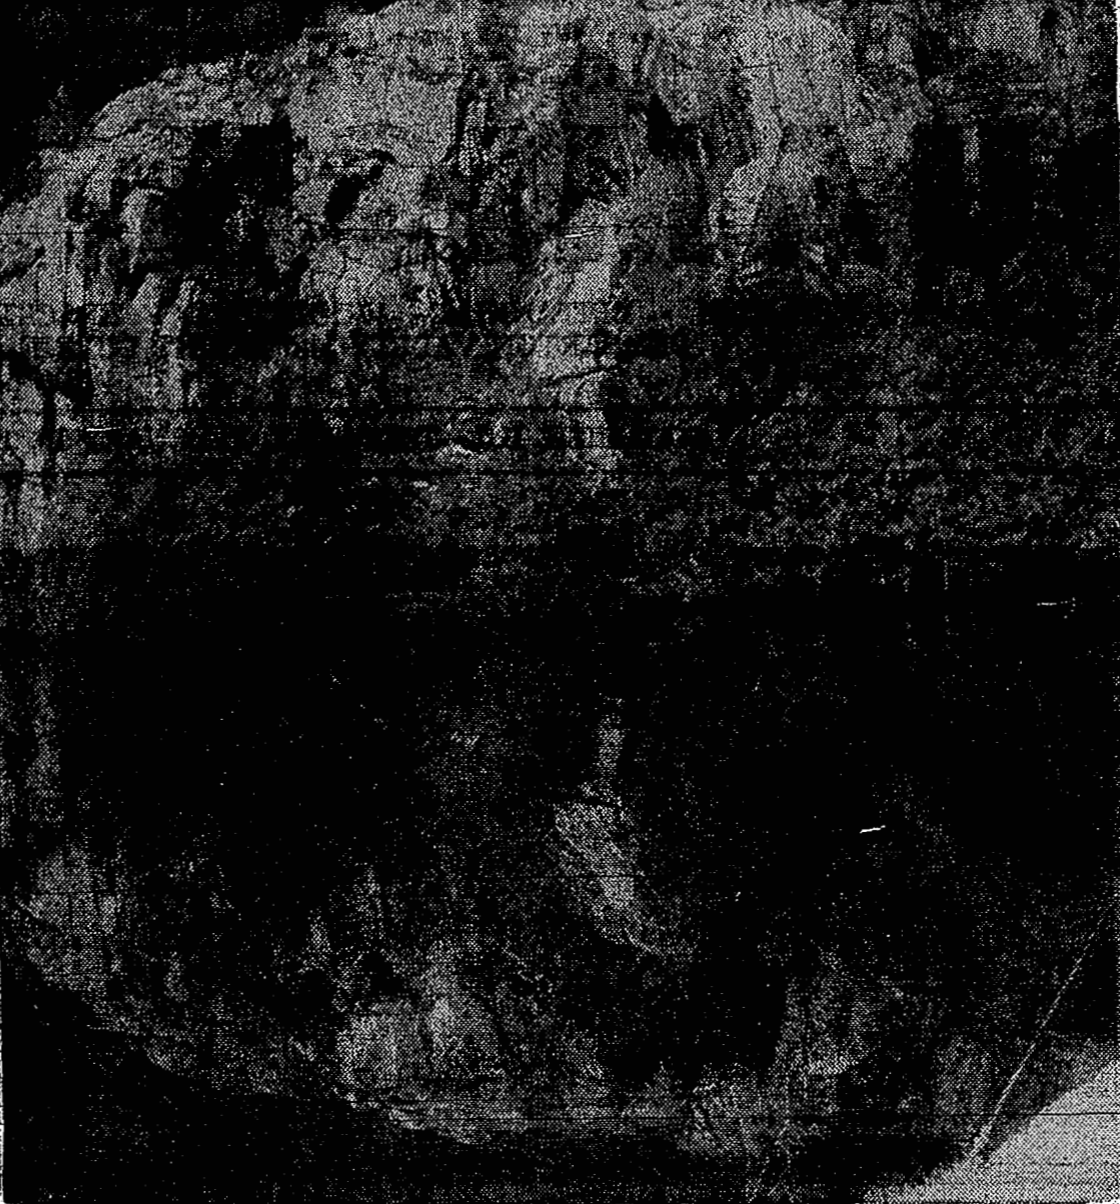

Re-focusing the picture into our there is a serious question whether our schools — elementary, secondary — own West Vancouver school district, should not adopt the trimester program. In the light of present-day living and economics, is there really any reason why students of all ages need eight consecutive weeks of holiday in summer, a week at Easter, and nearly two weeks at Christmas?

Can the taxpayer, who now foots a staggering educational bill, afford such luxuries of 11 weeks holidays?

Why must our educational system remain one of the nation's few endeavors not on a full-time basis, considering that time is becoming such a valuable commodity in education.

namely, that any enterprise which starts with "a little pinch of prayer" has a better chance of succeeding than those which are conducted without prayer.

The infinite wisdom within each of us is released and expressed through prayer.

BROWNING LAKE or Murrin Park, summer the first season for this lake call it what you may, it has a beauty as a roadside park. Picnic tables and all its own, which should soothe the wide gravelled walks are on the shore jangled nerves of city dwellers this between the bluffs and the streets.

West Van Senior High

Acceleration Is Success Story

—by Louise Spratley

This is a success story. It is the story of a school, its principal and staff and their students.

It is a story of one man's courage to stand up to the Department of Education and conduct the experiment of acceleration on his terms; it is the story of a principal and staff that had to completely reorganize the curriculum one quarter way through the term; and it is the story of a courageous group of students that accepted the challenge to complete four years of schooling in three.

It is the story of West Vancouver Senior High School.

COURSE IS "ENRICHMENT"—In December of 1955 the Department of Education asked Jimmy Inkster, principal of the senior high school, to embark on an experimental program of acceleration with a group of outstanding students from grade 9.

Last week the department recognized the results of that experiment and the high-scholastic standing of the school in general.

This was the report from Victoria: "The accelerated high school classes in West Vancouver are proving their worth."

"The annual report on public schools just released noted that the classes in West Vancouver produced:

- Two of the top students in grade 13 examinations last June (23 wrote the exams).
- Four out of 37 winners of B. C. government scholarships for first class marks in grade 13.
- Seven out of 33 second class — scholarship winners in the same grade.
- Six (it was 11) first class scholarship winners in grade 12.
- Ten second class scholarship winners in grade 12.

The same week school board was informed the Department of Education had accredited the school for four years—the first time any school has been so honored.

This means the school will be able to recommend 60 per cent of its students passing into university with a C grade or better.

Schools are accredited on the basis of scholastic standing and also the percentage of qualified teachers.

PTA HELPS BUY BOOKS—So much for the long overdue recognition of the school and back to the experiment.

The school was a happy choice by the Department of Education on two counts: its principal, who has always pressed for the recognition of the bright students and his need for better textbooks and a streamlined program to keep him challenged and interested; and the high calibre of teachers he has gathered around him to carry this out.

Now given a chance to bring his ideas into actual practice he made this stipulation: a free hand with the curriculum, in effect, government hands off the entire experiment.

Victoria, respected this and acceleration was on in West Vancouver.

First big problem was reorganizing the schedule. December is not a recognized time to disrupt school programs, but Jimmy Inkster and his accelerated teacher group did it, though it meant ignoring Christmas week and practically living at the school.

SCHOOL IS HAPPY CHOICE—Text books were the next headache.

"All courses are designed for the 'average student' in this province," Inkster said. "We had to throw away the course of study, try to find adequate text books and also the money to buy them."

"The PTA put on a carnival and gave us the money raised as the government was not prepared to subsidize us to this extent."

"We had to go far afield for books, England and the States as well. We had to experiment in this new field, and you can say we were about four years ahead of the Chant Report."

Then he added with a wry smile, "We were never visited by the Chant Report investigators. And here was an experiment unique in North America with more than 240 pupils on the program."

About the bright student, Inkster had this to say:

"Canada is so far behind the United States and Britain in educating the bright student, it is pitiful.

"There is no challenge in our course of study and text books for these youngsters."

"Text books are far behind their ability to learn, they are repetitious, boring, and a bored bright student is our biggest tragedy today."

ACCELERATION BEGINS HERE—Inkster stressed there was a misconception in using the word "acceleration."

"Our accelerated program is not accelerated in the sense of speeding or rushing," he explained.

"Ours is enrichment—it cuts out the trivial and replaces it with that which is more important."

"We would like to see, it called 'advanced placement'—the term acceleration has overtones that are not true, implying skipping, etc.," he said.

Will Foster, who heads the accelerated department, has compiled the history of acceleration.

"Just in the past year," Foster said, "students in this school won a total of $6,920 in scholarships."

(Next week. The personal side of acceleration—how the students adjusted to this challenge, the change it brought in their lives and the need for parents to understand and support the school in this field.)

Those wishing Karen well were Mrs. Richard Munro, Miss Pat Wilson, Mrs. Len Siggers, Miss Jean Neilson, Miss Sandra Farrow, Miss Sally Allott, Miss Barbara De-Beck, and Miss Josie Rudan.

HOWE SOUND HIGH LIGHTS

—by Marsh & Moore

We seem to be having a little trouble getting together with Gibsons for basketball games this year. Gibsons was scheduled to play a game here Friday, Feb. 10, but I guess they copied our example and didn't show.

But nothing can stop us when we decide to play basketball. At the last moment a game was arranged between the local women's team, the Timberettes, who with such short notice obligingly turned out—and also obligingly beat the school team 34-21.

It looked like a close game at first with the school ahead by one point at half time. However in the last half the Timberettes managed to pick up the lead and held it to the end.

High scoring honours for the school were shared by Barb DeBeck 6 points, Sally Allott 6 points, and Phyllis Aaton 5 points. But by far the highest single scorer in the game was Timberettes player Sandra Farrow, who scored a grand total of 16 points.

Another local team, the Hornets, played H.S.H. Chiefs in place of the Gibsons team. From the start the Chiefs overpowered the Hornets. The score at quarter time was 32-0 for the school team. The final score a little closer was Chiefs 62 Hornets 38.

High scorer for the Chiefs was Lefty Hendrickson who scored 19 points, 16 of which were scored in the first quarter.

Another day another game! Last Saturday, February 11, the Howe Sound High teams played a return game at St. Thomas Aquinas High School.

In the girls' game neither team got off to a very good start, but soon the Squamish team started handling the ball better and picked up a steady lead. The final score was 28-8 in favour of Squamish.

Tying for high scorer were Doreen Horsting and Marg Marsh with 5 points each. Several other players contributed their share with 4 points each.

When it came to the boys' game the St. Thomas team quickly picked up a lead of a few points. Try as they might, the Squamish team could not close that gap.

St. Thomas Aquinas came out the victor over the Squamish Chiefs by a score of 43-31. Leading the Squamish team was Roger Mercier with 16 points.

Adding colour to the Biology lab are several cloth charts depicting classic examples of each of the animal phyla. Sally Allott, Susan Reeve Theresa Andrews, and Cecilia Akers have each completed one of these colourful charts. Jo Rudan is working on a chart of a typical flower.

Reg. Hall and Terrill Patterson have each made a large plaque showing the different parts of two native coniferous trees. These all add interest in the Biology lab.

NO NAMES MENTIONED—The teacher who forgets to show up for class, he remembered before the day was over though to assign homework—that teacher who, no matter what the students say, is quite convinced that he is still young and handsome—girl in Grade 11 that decided Woodfibre—1:30 p.m.

(or had it decided for her) to try something new in hair styles—a jelly hair do—the teacher whose classes have been awfully quiet lately. It seems that this teacher is having trouble talking.

The Math '91 student who was so delighted when she got one question right. She tried to convince us that she actually got another one correct but it was all to no avail.

Birthday for David Penrose

David Penrose, elder son of Rev. and Mrs. Norman Penrose, celebrated his fifth birthday on February 9.

During the afternoon David was host to a number of young friends who came to wish him many happy returns of the day. A pleasant time was spent playing games and feasting on the traditional birthday cake.

Those attending the party for David were his brother Martin, Pat Flack Carl and Gary Halvorson, David Christensen, Verné Dawson, and Lyle Moon.

Shower for Larsen Baby

A surprise baby shower for Mrs. Kai Larsen was given in her home by her neighbors and friends on February 8.

Attending were Mrs. R. Stammers, Mrs. L. B. McRae, Mrs. R. W. Hales, Mrs. R. R. Armstrong, Mrs. D. Neil, Miss Linda Rennie, Mrs. J. Schmidt, Mrs. W. Hamilton, Mrs. D. Hutchinson, Mrs. L. Keyes, Mrs. J. Hunter, and Mrs. I. Confortin.

Once again, here we are! We are attempting to write this column for you every two weeks, so if you have any news, Brownie, Guide of L.A. wise, please let me know.

Our Guide Company has been quite busy, and is today feeling quite honoured. Our first Gold Cord within our company under the same leadership has been awarded to patrol leader Judith MacDonald.

We are anxious to congratulate her, and look forward to the day when she will be presented with her cord and be able to go to Victoria to receive her certificate from the Lieutenant Governor in April at Government House. Congratulations, Judy!

We have two more girls, company leaders, Corinne Flinter and Judith Fairbanks, who are awaiting their Gold Cord Challenge. Upon completion of that, they must await word whether or not they have been accepted as Gold Cord Guides.

God luck, girls!

It is interesting to know that Judy MacDonald had a very challenging Challenge. She was taken to MacKay's Nursing Home for the Saturday morning, and left there to act as a student nurse. Judy tells us it was quite an experience, and even if she had failed her challenge, that experience would have been well worth the time in Vancouver.

That afternoon she took a group of Brownies to the PNE and taught them a great deal in a tour of the B.C. Bldg. She also entertained a Crew of Rangers, and then attended Church Parade on the Sunday morning, with her hostess, both of them in full uniform, in a very crowded church.

We are extremely curious to know what challenges Corinne and Judy will have, and are looking forward to their report in April.

We have been on two Company hikes, one to the top of the Chief, two weeks ago, and last week to the new dam in the pouring rain. Our captain really took a teasing from her Scouters husband — they couldn't get their fire going! Or rather, she couldn't!

We are planning a trip to Pemberton for the 25th of February. However if it is still raining there, a trip to the Ski Cabin has been proposed. Sunday, the 26th, will be our Thinking Day Church Parade, to commemorate the birth of our founder, Lord Baden-Powell, who was born in England on February 22, 1857, also the birth of his wife, Lady Baden-Powell, also born on Feb. 22, almost 40 years later, and who is still our Chief.

Lady Baden-Powell will be touring the United States next year, and we hope that we will be able to make arrangements to see her at one of her visits.

On Monday, Feb. 27, in the Catholic Hall, where we meet for our regular Monday meetings, we will host our fathers, and the husbands of the L.A. members, at our Thinking Day Banquet. (It will not be beans, either!) It is hoped that Father Eisenring will also be able to be present. Each gift must bring either her father or a substitute, so if you are asked to attend, please be a good sport and come along. We promise to feed you well!

On March 25th, the Guide Company is planning an Easter Tea and possibly a Flower Sale. The L.A. is going to hold a Bake Sale in conjunction with this tea and they will also draw the winning ticket on a raffle for either a lady's watch or man's watch, depending on the winner's choice. Get your tickets early, so that you have a good chance of winning.

The L.A. reports that it will also continue with its rag drive through the year, so please save your rags for the ladies.

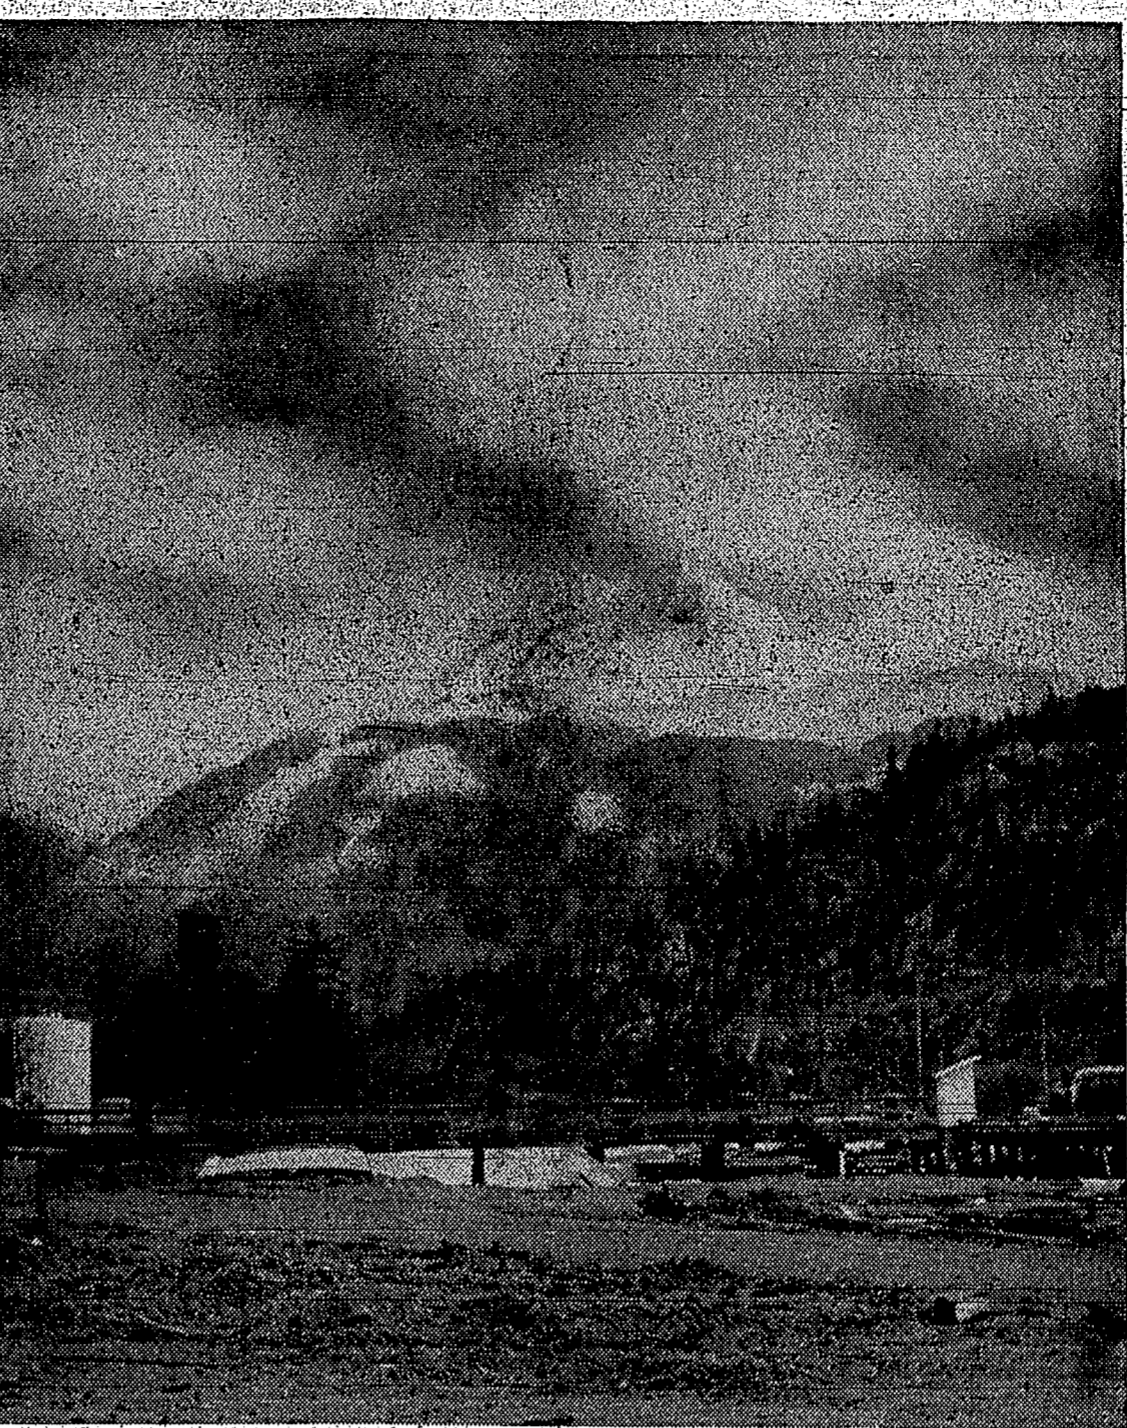

The new executive for the L.A. was elected on Tuesday evening at Mrs. Leru's home. The new president, and one of whom we are justly proud and promise to do all within our bounds to help at any time, is Mrs. Rose Tatlow, who with her husband has taken a great deal of interest in the Guide movement within the past two years. Corresponding Secretary is Mrs. A. Eross; Recording Secretary, Mrs. W. Curran; and Treasurer, Mrs. Beth Hill.

We hope that you will have a wonderful year, and enjoy working with all the groups. Mrs. Mahood will remain Badge Secretary. It is again hoped that all who are asked to act as testers for the various Brownie and Guide tests will agree to do so, and will do their best to see that all the tests are done to the best of the girl's ability.

Transportation is the one big drawback within the L.A. If there are any interested persons, whether they have children or not, who would be willing to give a part of a Saturday or an evening when called upon, to transport girls, for instance, to West Vancouver for Company or Pack activities; or on a Saturday to take the girls and their gear part way on a long hike, for instance, up past the Power House, the Company and Packs would be more than grateful. Phone 194 and leave your name and phone number, and type of vehicle, four-wheel drive, truck, car, station wagon... anything.

This is a very urgent matter because many activities have had to be postponed for lack of transportation. So, Squamish, get behind your girls and help us out.

Nothing from the Brownie Packs this week, but hope to have a column about them for next. Good hunting!

Nunley-Stowe Wedding

Sharon Margaret Stowe became the wife of Charles Edward Nunley at a ceremony in her home at Brackendale, February 11. The Rev. N. J. Penrose officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wain and the groom is the son of Mr. Frank Nunley, formerly of Squamish and Mrs. H. Biford of Victoria.

For her wedding she wore a baby blue walking suit with beige accessories and carried an orchid on a white bible.

Her maid of honor, Miss Gerda Hoogenboom, wore a blue sheath dress with white accessories and carried pink carnations.

Assisting the groom was best man Bill Hall.

The reception was held in her parents home and her uncle, Clayton Thorne, proposed the toast.

The couple will live at Brackendale. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Black of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones of Cloverdale, aunts and uncles of the bride.

3rd Squamish Pack on Hike

Cubs of 3rd Squamish Pack were taken on a hike to the old Merrill & Ring trestle over the Mamquam River on January 28.

Jim Hurren led the 21 boys who had enjoyed hot dogs and cookies and some games before their return.

Marsh Hurren Cubmaster

M. C. Hurren has joined 3rd Squamish Cub Pack as assistant cubmaster. The pack is sponsored by St. John's Anglican Church.

Other cubmasters are T. W. Clarke, leader, G. W. Forsythe, J. A. Mahood, and R. S. Bishop.

Seed Potatoes Topic at Pemberton

Pemberton Valley Farmers Institute had potato inspector Neville Myers give a talk on seed potatoes at a meeting in the Upper Valley Hall, February 7.

Mr. Myers also showed slides taken on his recent trip to Europe.

Encyclopaedia Britannica

Last Year's Gift To Be Renewed

Sets of the Encyclopaedia Britannica donated to the nation's high schools last year through the Canadian School Trustees' Association are soon to be replaced with 1961 sets, it was announced today by A. J. Thlesen of Winnipeg, GSTA president.

When the Britannica donation was first announced, the hope was expressed that it would be possible to replace the sets from time to time to keep them in top condition and ensure students of continuous access to up-to-date information.

"A reference work of this sort is good for many years," Mr. Thlesen said. "However, we have been told by the publishers that the 1961 revision of Encyclopaedia Britannica is the most extensive in more than a generation, and they feel that the 1961 sets in the schools will remain current for a long time."

Sets were donated to more than 2,000 of the country's English speaking and bilingual schools early last year, and to nearly 500 French-speaking schools last summer and fall. In most cases the presentation was made by the chairman of the local school board in the name of a benefactor of the school in the community. In this district one set was received at Howe Sound High.

The 1961 revision of the Encyclopaedia Britannica involves more than eight million words and nearly fifteen thousand separate articles, 135 of which are of specific Canadian interest.

Shower for Sharon Stowe

Miss Sharon Stowe was the guest of honour at a bridal shower held in the United Church Hall last Wednesday evening. Streamers of white, blue and pink adorned the head table.

Following bingo and other games, the bride-elect opened her many gifts, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Bud Wain, and Mrs. Glen Casey.

Hostesses for the happy occasion were Miss Gerda Hoogenboom, Mrs. Allan Tremblay, Mrs. John Lakin and Mrs. Glen Casey.

Two new chums, Patrick Hurren and Philip Owen, have joined the 3rd Squamish Pack sponsored by St. John's Anglican Church.

Invested as Cubs in January, were Scott Hurren, Eddie Hutchinson, Ben and Terry Sandberg.

Average weekly pack attendance is reported to be 25 out of a possible 27.

THE COMMON ROUND

By C. S. Q. H.

Charivari... Conservative government - new brooms - old ladies - 11% - disgruntled civil servants comprise the ingredients for the following tale. It's a strong rumor with lots of substance that the 11% boys are properly browned off with the new directives from Ottawa and the Vancouver department is really mixed up. For instance, under the Liberal, 11% on draperies was charged to department stores, but now the many little old ladies who make the draperies for the department stores are now being charged the 11% each. The old dears haven't been keeping records so the taxmen have dozens of new licensees all over the city and now have been ordered to check back over three years of work. One housewife-manufacturer was assessed close to $3,000 in 11% arrears. That's just in drapery manufacturing. Looking after the Lions' bingo refreshments next Wednesday will be Helen Naismith and Essie Barker. This should be good. Harry Dubberly has quit smoking. Jack Leggett and pals are planning a mass flight to Los Vegas on Easter weekend and another group of local mafes are also staging a large five-day stag in Vegas on Easter weekend. Just for a rest, they say. Oh yeah? J. O'Connell and family have moved to the Cassidy Hotel, Cassidy, B.C., and the A. Thomsons have taken homesteading in Torrance, California.

Manners and Morals... Note to Charlie Dickens, mgr. P.R. Woodwards: one of your young drivers was seen stopping on busy Marine Drive at 17th Friday, getting out of the car, help elderly lady with cane across street and climb back into truck with a wonderful smile of somebody who knows and has fellowship. A big promotion to that lad. Senior high school boy told his home teacher last week not to worry that while he might be a little dumb, watch for his young sister coming up. "She's real smart." Semi-retired Clarke Simpkins has been made president of Jim Manders' Western Yacht Sales at Fisherman's Cove. Dundarave housewife who belongs to the fourth estate, tells us of the recent party where a small contest of naming as many animals and birds with a double "o" in their names. There was everything from moose to cuckoo, but fistfuls flew when such names as moo cow, bookworm and boozie hound were entered. Result: two windows, one bookend. Where was the morality squad last Saturday night. Sentinel Hill house was scene of a hair-raising "key party."

Under New Business... Decorator Cy Howard is moving down to Bank of Commerce new location. Watch for more changes this spring in Dundarave as business district begins to expand.

West Van druggist may sell out to chain for nice piece of cash. "E" for effort should go to Safeway's management for doing all in their power to come up with the right plans for the best shopping center. Did someone say they're working on a fifth draft of blueprints? A Bigtown candy and nut magnet is making overtures for hotel development at Shanan Falls. Local types who have new cars: Doug Heal with a Comet, Eleanor Leohrich with Pontiac, Pearly Brissenden with a Jaguar, Don Deman with a Renault, Donald Garnett with a Volvo, Helen Cullen with a Valiant, Leonard Allward with a Chev.

Drawings of John Mayer's home is on display at the Memorial Library along with R. A. Chilcott's. Architects are Wensley & Rand and Dunc McNab, according to publicist Roger Day. Miss Helen Brett, a more attractive dish you could never find at the business end of a mortar and pestle, is pro-tem pharmacist while Frank Libby and spouse are sunbathing. Executives on auto dealer row are wondering what very able Jim Pattison will be doing now that he's left Bow-Mac. Good man to work on the Garibaldi Development Association; we think.

Thot of the Week... The answer to what most men would be without women is solvent.

Social Notes

Miss Karen Halvorson has left to take up her studies at the Vancouver General Hospital's School of Nursing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pratt have moved into the house on Second Street formerly occupied by Mrs. E. Brennan.

Mr and Mrs Thor Halvorson and their sons spent the weekend in Haney.

Brackendale Cougars Win Soccer Game At Mamquam

Brackendale Cougars, all young cats up to and including Grade 6, met the unamed Mamquam soccer team last Sunday and beat them 1-0.

The two teams will play again this weekend if weather permits and the men behind the boys hope to recruit some teams from Squamish schools to make competition more interesting.

One score of the game, by Henry Williams, came at about half time of the second half.

KITCHEN KAPERS

—by PEG TINNEY

Soup is a year-round favorite, but it's when the winter winds blow that we think of coming home to a warm kitchen filled with tantalizing aroma from a pot of home-made soup.

A long-time favorite of Mrs. M. Hurren, is this dinner chowder recipe, given to me by her daughter, Mrs. O. Reeve. It's bound to rank high with busy housewives because of the short preparation time, and coupled with a heavier type dessert, is a meal in itself.

DINNER CHOWDER

- 2 cups diced raw potatoes
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 2 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. powdered mustard
- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 cup grated cheese
- 2 cups boiling water
- 4 tbsp. butter
- 4 tbsp. flour
- 1 tin tomato soup
- 1 tsp. parsley (optional)
- 1 1/2 tsp. meat sauce (Worcestershire)

Combine potatoes, onions, celery and 1 tsp. salt in water in deep kettle. Cover and simmer until tender. Meanwhile melt butter in top of double boiler, stir in flour until smooth, add rest of salt and next four ingredients while stirring. Cook until thickened, add cheese and stir till melted. Stir into potato mixture and add parsley and soup. Heat and serve.
