Council Moves Ahead On New Housing

Vote 8 a.m. To 7 p.m.; Go By Clock On Wall

All polls on June 18 will be open to voters from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., according to D. V. Whitworth, returning officer for Coast-Capilano.

There has been some confusion as to whether Pacific Standard Time or Pacific Daylight Saving Time is applicable here, said Mr. Whitworth, but in effect it is the latter.

Go by the clock on your wall, he advised. There is no daylight saving time in B.C. this year, said Mr. Whitworth, because the government did not designate the one hour advance as daylight saving time which, in effect, it is.

Davis Charms A Capacity Meet

Liberal candidate Jack Davis rolled into town, June 6, charmed the ladies with his winning smile and had all the men smiling at his winsome ladies.

It was a big day for the Liberals, starting with a coffee party in the morning and ending with Davis' speech in the Legion Hall.

It was a careful speech given to a crowded hall well salted with a bus load of out of town supporters, including the three winsome campaign ladies identically dressed in white trimmed with red.

BIG GUNS THERE

Ray Perrault, provincial Liberal leader, was there to say a few words of introduction and during the question period a questioner was stopped in mid-sentence by the entry of that former Liberal heavyweight, Jimmy Sinclair. Jimmy didn't say anything publicly but the crowd was enchanted.

Listening to Davis one got the impression that the Liberals are aware of the great challenge of this country, its development and problems, and they say they are the party to meet it.

COLUMBIA RIVER

On the Columbia River development Davis said, "We can get this going in 12 to 18 months because we are prepared to export power."

On devaluation of the dollar he said, "I suggest we can get this country back on its feet. We must discipline ourselves... not more pay to civil servants, armed forces..."

On defence he declared the use of obsolete arms by the Progressive Conservatives, their missiles, rockets and jets, all requiring atomic warheads which they have not accepted. Liberals are against arming Canadians with atomic weapons. Canada should have only a conventional force for national defence and for policing trouble spots under the direction of the United Nations.

TRADE
On trade Davis claimed there had been no increase in the last four or five years except that to Red China and to Cuba. We must have freer trade, he said. We must lower tariff barriers so we can bargain our way into the markets of the world. The ECM is a larger market than that of the United States, Davis claimed, and it should be encouraged because the member countries need our products. To supply their needs in paper alone, he said, we would need 30 new mills like Powell River and many more like Woodfibre.

GARIBALDI
On Garibaldi he said the Federal government should put money into building the access road. The Liberals propose participation with the province without waiting for the whole park to be turned over to Ottawa.

Unemployment is a great problem which Liberals will tackle through freer trade, more trade, and as a result, more employment.

The Liberal party is the party of adventure and self-discipline. We offer you, he said, good government, better government, responsible government.

To Explain Needs & Plans

United Church Dinner Prior To Fund Drive

Prior to a campaign to raise funds to build a new Christian Education Centre for the Squamish United Church, a congregational dinner was held in the cafeteria of the Howe Sound High School, June 7.

The large attendance of one hundred forty people was due largely to the personal invitations issued to members and adherents by a group of very capable and enthusiastic hostesses under Mrs. J. Harley.

Immediately following the dinner W. Boscaroli, chairman of the Building Fund, spoke briefly on the reasons for the new building. Just as the old woman in the shoe had more children than she knew what to do with, the United Church

Sunday School is faced with inadequate housing facilities. R. Dyck and A. Hankey also spoke briefly on what the church means in a community and its needs. Mr. E. Antosh explained how the drive for funds was to be carried out.

The success of the evening as a whole was brought about by the co-operation of many departments of the United Church. Girls of the choir acted as baby sitters for parents who could not otherwise have attended the dinner. The girls of the Hi-C supervised a group of children in the United Church Hall while other girls from the same group served the dinner. The boys were only too willing to arrange the tables.

Under the leadership of Mrs. F. Munro, the ladies of the Women's Organization made certain that the dinner itself was a success. The ladies of the Harmony Circle set the table, the Jean Neil Circle provided refreshments for the children at the hall and the Alpha Circle cleaned up after the dinner was over.

As the cooking of the meal was in the capable hands of Nell Blue, the ladies were all able to sit down with husbands and friends and enjoy a leisurely meal.

Rev. Norman Penrose paid tribute to the church work of a number of members and supporters who will be leaving shortly, among them are Mrs. Art Lavers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snowsell, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dyck.

Want Houses By End Of This Year

Stawamus Valley housing by the end of this year is the avowed intention of Squamish Village Council. Subdivider's survey starts this week.

Daily negotiations with the land owners, the provincial government and Rayonier, and subdivision developers have moved the prospect within reach, according to chairman P. J. Brennan.

100 UNITS

The initial prospect envisages 100 housing units, half of them to be rental units in a garden type apartment building.

Choice of Dan McNaughton and associates to do the development and building was made in special council session, June 7. At the same time Paul Walker, Vancouver engineering consultant and specialist in sewer building, was retained for one year.

McNaughton, the first private builder to show interest in the area, had met with the council in April. At that time he said that he would build houses in a price range to suit the incomes of prospective customers.

These would come chiefly from Woodfibre, Britannia and Canadian Collieries new sawmill which is to be in production by the spring of 1963.

ON-SITE NOW

He met with council at the end of the week and said his surveys would be on the site this week. Council asked for a letter of intent and performance contracts will be drawn up as soon as the survey is finished.

Approximately 200 acres are in the initial development. About 40 of this will be set aside for sewerage treatment plant.

At press time Rayonier's price for land had not been decided, except that it would be between $250 and $500 per acre.

In negotiations council has stressed that any saving in the cost of the land would be passed on to the home owner. The subdivider, Rayonier and the government have agreed this should be so.

Rayonier's land is being turned over to the Crown and the Crown is turning over all the land involved to the village for $1. The village in turn will sell to the subdivider at a price that will cover all demands of the former owners.

Pre-Election Statements Of Three Candidates

Bill Payne

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE PARTY

When you elected me as your Member of Parliament in 1958 I resolved to justify that trust by dedicating my every effort to serving the constituency in Ottawa.

I will not attempt to enumerate again all of the activities of the Progressive Conservative Government in Coast-Capilano during my term of office.

A more comprehensive review of some 21 separate and distinct projects has already appeared in the Press, and I believe you may be more interested at this time in a brief summary of our plans for future progress.

The formation of the new Forestry Department of the Federal Government in 1959 was particularly gratifying to me — as all of us in Coast-Capilano depend on the forests for our livelihood. This new Department in Ottawa will help to secure new markets for the products of our forests, and to provide at last scientific research which is so badly needed in today's competitive world. In the field of recreation, my views on Garibaldi Park have been voiced frequently. Garibaldi can be one of the great year-round tourist attractions in the world—and the Progressive Conservative Government is committed to de-

LIBERAL PARTY

In The Last Will and Testament of the Empire Builder, Sir Cecil Rhodes, are set down the qualifications for Rhodes Scholars: all-round ability in academic achievement, athletics and leadership. And of every man who would receive this scholarship, Rhodes wrote in that Will: "... in the hope that, with this training, in later life he would esteem the performance of public duty as his highest aim."

I feel that I must fulfill the aim of this great man. This is one of many reasons I am a candidate in this federal election.

You will remember, and the record will prove the statement, that Jimmy Sinclair, also a Rhodes Scholar, was the architect of virtually all works and enterprises in this riding. The Upper Levels highway and the North Shore hospital grant were committed by the Liberals. It was also through Jimmy Sinclair under a Liberal government that plans were laid for the Gibsons breakwater, Westview and Lund boat harbours and the new post office facilities in the riding. For the Tories to take credit for these undertakings is close to political larceny.

However, I do not intend to dwell upon the past. It is my intention to serve you as well as you were served

Hugh Clifford

NEW DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Hugh Clifford, the New Democratic Party candidate for Coast-Capilano, is one of that important group in today's economy. "A small business man." Hugh Clifford takes a keen interest in political economy and current affairs.

As owner and operator of a store in West Vancouver for 16 years, Mr. Clifford is a highly respected member of the community, a man whose opinions are valued by other businessmen in his riding of Coast-Capilano.

He was born in London, England, in 1906, and educated in England. Coming to Canada in 1930 he sign-off his ship to work the fish boats. Later he became an engineer on the fish packers.

During World War II he worked as a draughtsman in the shipyards. He has been a resident of West Vancouver since 1934. Mr. Clifford is married and has two daughters, both married; and one son still at school.

Mr. Clifford joined the CCF Party in 1934. He is a past member of the Provincial Executive of the CCF. He was the CCF candidate in Coast-Capilano in 1957 for the Federal election, and also the CCF candidate in the Provincial election of 1960.

Police Warning...

Parents: Keep Kids Off Roads

Two accidents involving cars and children have brought a strong plea from police to parents to keep unsupervised children off the streets.

Sgt. H. T. Routledge stressed that in both accidents there was no indication of excessive speed and no blame was attached to the drivers. "But parents must keep their little children off the streets or there is going to be a more serious or fatal accident."

On June 11, five-year-old Milly Derhousoff darted across the road at the Mamquam Store in front of a car driven by Robert J. Major of Vancouver.

Other officers are Mrs. J. Gorsuch, vice-president; Mrs. N. MacDonald, secretary; Mrs. O. Wood, treasurer.

Directors are: P. Emery, Mrs. J. Hurren, H. McMillan, W. Smith, J. Elliott, Mrs. R. Wagner, Mrs. T. Fowler, Mrs. J. Mahood, Mrs. S. Banyard, F. Collins and Miss N. Small.

EDITOR'S NOTE

On the weekend prior to publication we asked the Coast-Capilano candidates for a statement of policy on the important issues in this Federal election. Below are the replies we received. Our only qualification was that the replies be made in approximately 300 words. Unfortunately we did not get any reply from the Social Credit candidate by press-time.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Squamish Times:
I understand that the former member of Parliament for this riding, Mr. William Payne, has refused to attend all-candidate meetings.

We are led to believe:
1. That he feels his presence would draw attendance to these meetings that would be beneficial to the other candidates.
2. Such meetings are set up at the behest of the other candidates; and

3. Mr. Payne's meetings, in covering the riding, have been set up with a minimum of inconvenience to himself.

Dealing with these three points:

1. If Mr. Payne honestly feels that the force of his personality is so magnetic his presence will attract audiences by which the other candidates will benefit, then he must be suffering from a form of megalomania suspiciously similar to that of another public figure who has been much in the news recently.

2. I should like to point out that generally, such public meetings as those of the Allied Ratepayers of West Vancouver or the Midwest Property Owners' Association are hardly set up by the candidates, but rather, by the voters concerned. Therefore, I assume that Mr. Payne, by his refusal to participate, either utterly rejects these electors, or is afraid that the contrast between him and the other candidates will prove unfavourable to himself.

This being true he is, in fact, either "ducking out" or is truly ashamed of the record he purports to defend.

3. If Mr. Payne finds ease and convenience the measure of his success, we must assure the continuation of his peace and quiet. We must certainly not put him to the inconvenience of returning to Ottawa. Such a course would be unfair indeed unless sleeping on the back benches is the least inconvenient course of all.

Yours truly,
ANDY SULLIVAN.

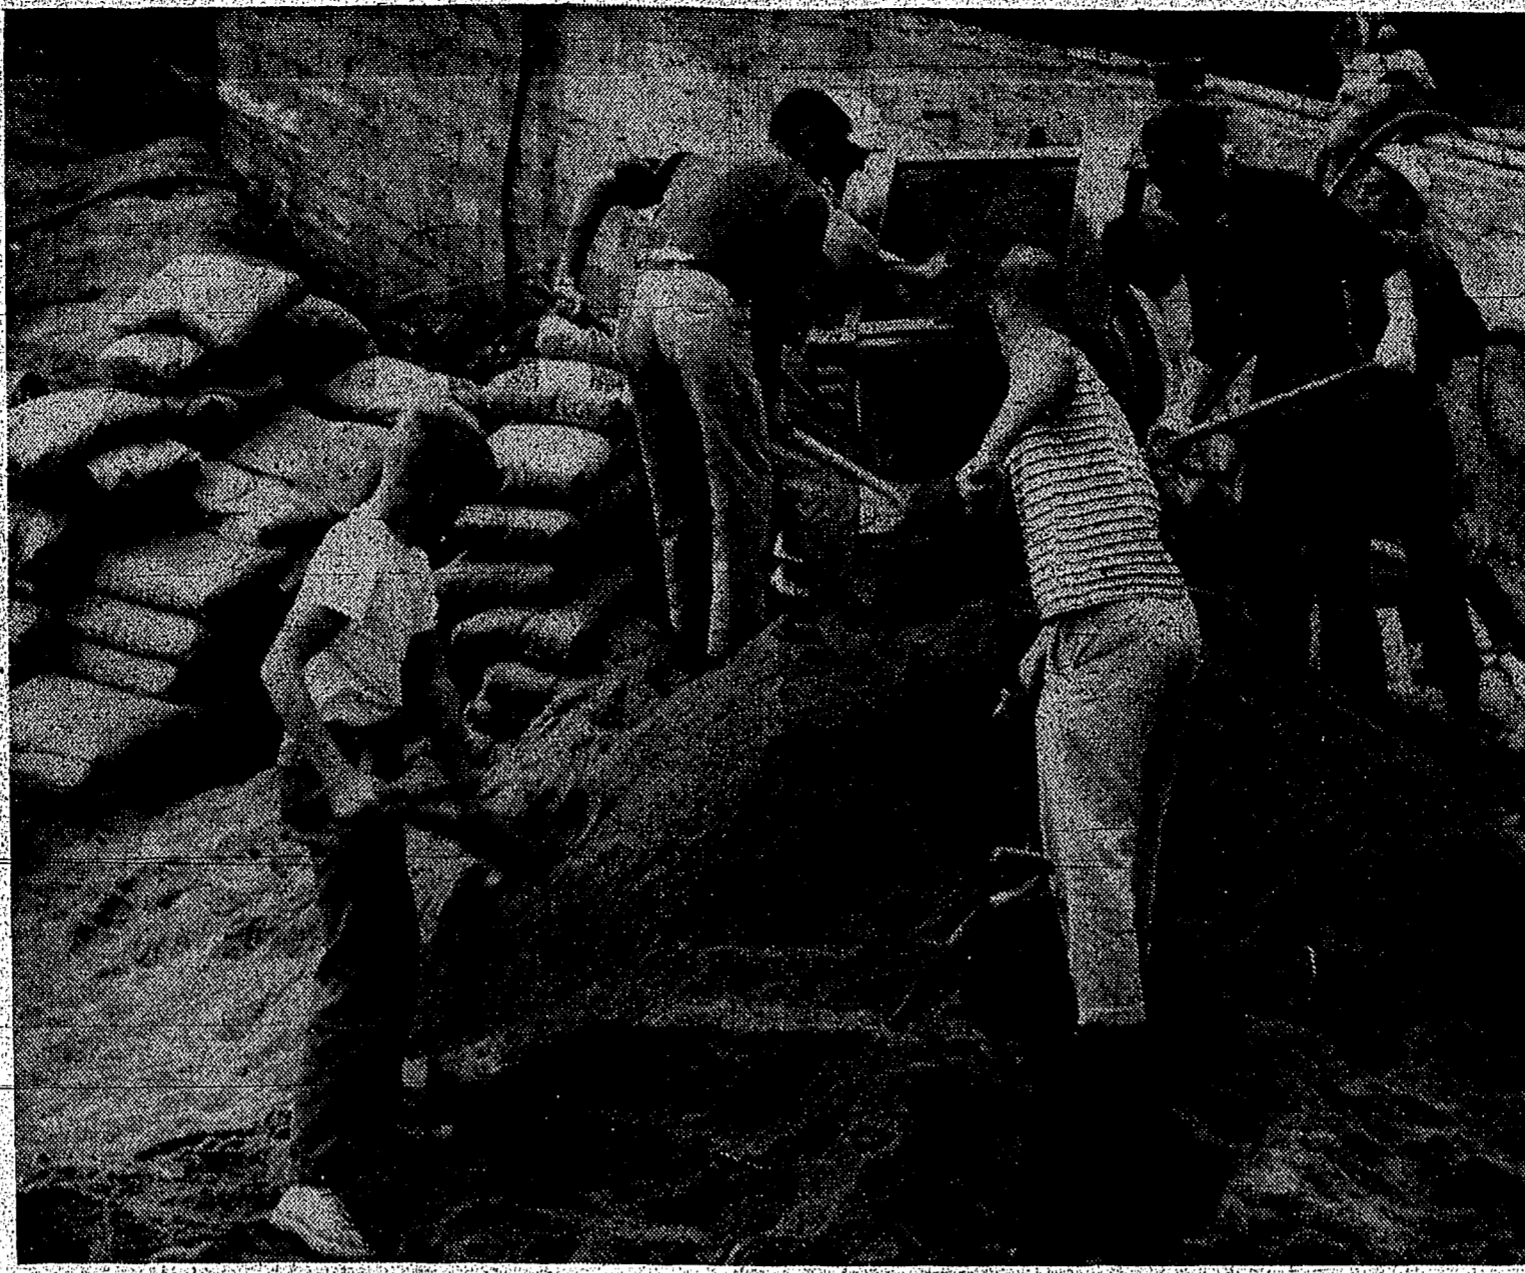

Editor, Squamish Times:
With reference to the forthcoming Federal election, it is believed most United States citizens are fully aware that participation in foreign political elections or plebiscites subjects them to loss of their United States nationality. However, it is in the interest of those few who may not be aware of their own nationality laws that we seek your aid. It is hoped that you will regard the following as a news item and will arrange to publicize it once or twice prior to the forthcoming Canadian election. Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

"The United States Consulate General cautions all United States nationals that by participating in the forthcoming Canadian election they will automatically lose their United States nationality under Section 349(a)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 1952, the pertinent portion of which is as follows:

"A person who is a national of the United States whether by birth or naturalization, shall lose his nationality by —

(5) voting in a political election in a foreign state or participating in an election or plebiscite to determine the sovereignty over foreign territory."

Very truly yours,
HAYDEN RAYNOR,
United States
Consul General.

SINCE BILL PAYNE WAS ELECTED as your Member of Parliament in 1958, 21 Major Projects have been completed or near completion to increase employment and prosperity on the Sunshine Coast and the North Shore. The new Federal Department of Forestry has been established to boost B.C.'s major industry. Closer to home, the Progressive Conservative Government has offered to develop Garibaldi Park as a national sports centre.

BILL PAYNE and his wife, Blanche, live in West Vancouver with their two children, Marie and Tony. Since defeating the Honourable James Sinclair in the 1958 Federal election, Bill has made at least three major tours through the Coast-Capilano riding every year, and takes great pride in the continuing work to improve living conditions and provide employment throughout the riding. The 21 Major Projects completed to date are more than were completed in an entire twelve year period prior to Bill Payne's election as your Member of Parliament.

TODAY THE WORLD has to line up at B.C. wharves because of the dynamic sales policy of your Conservative Government. Closer to home, Bill Payne's hard work to secure improved dock and wharf facilities has ensured the development of the North Shore's port facilities for generations to come.

Keep BILL PAYNE working

These fine people, who worked to provide the roots for our wonderful province, are now in the twilight of their lives, and it is the duty of the Government to see that they enjoy the comforts to which they are entitled.

"I will strive to provide good homes at low cost in the fine tradition of the Kiwanis Clubs and other organizations which have undertaken to look after our Senior Citizens in co-operation with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

"I will keep in constant touch with the people in my riding. Regardless of political affiliation, I feel that every resident of this constituency must be treated fairly. I make no divisions. I am elected by some of the people to serve all of the people. That is my only pledge."

Drama Unfolds At Cannery As Cameras Begin To Roll

by LOUISE SPRATLEY

Commonwealth's shooting of its first movie in West Vancouver is probably the most dramatic thing that has happened here since Jenny Cortway was murdered on Christmas eve, 15 years ago.

The peaceful countryside at Great Northern Cannery rang to the cries of "Quiet please" and "Camera" as shooting got underway for The Sweet and the Bitter.

The sun, a stranger to these parts for many months, burst out of the clouds Tuesday as we went on the set.

Producer-director James Clavell, a soft-spoken man who didn't disappoint us in his silk-knotted scarf and dark glasses, lost no time in getting his outdoor shots at the wharf.

Chico Day is assistant director.

First feet of film were shot at the airport Friday, then the entire cavalcade moved to the Great Northern Station for further scenes.

TECHNICAL PROBLEM FOR SIMPLE SCENE

What is surprising to the on-looker is the vast technical problem of filming a few feet of a simple scene.

Friday as Dale Ishimoto talked to the cab drivers, enormous overhead lights were focused, an overhead crane moved in with the speakers, script girls sat huddled over the books and more than 50 personnel were clustered around, extras, technicians and executives.

Tuesday the shooting caught up the character of the play. Here were the petite Japanese star Yoko Tani and her co-stars Paul Richards and Dale Ishimoto playing the scenes on the fish boat and on the wharf.

The setting was a producer's dream. Huge billowy white clouds arced across the sky and Point Grey hung at the end of the Lions Gate Bridge.

The cannery compound itself is tailor-made for the plot with its weathered buildings and air of timeless industry.

PEARL WHITE CLIFFHANGER

There seemed a complete lack of confusion for so complex a project, probably due to the masterly planning that takes place on all levels beforehand.

And there was no evidence that the Pearl White cliffhanger that was played out Saturday and Sunday had left any lasting scars.

It was touch and go during the weekend whether the cannery would be available for this picture, but Frank Miller finally got the details ironed out to both his and Bill Magginitti's satisfaction and gave his OK at midnight.

As production supervisor, Magginitti carries the responsibility of management.

He must find the locations—a harrowing task in conservative British Columbia; he must find trained key personnel for the technical departments; he must carry a thousand details in his head and in his brief case that seems an extension of his fingers.

And most important of all, he must know at all times how the costs are running, and answer for all delays.

DONNA WONG IS STAND-IN

Yoko's stand-in is pretty Donna Wong, 18, of West Vancouver.

A UBC student and graduate of the senior high school here, Donna stands while the lights and cranes are fixed in position when the star steps in for the take.

We watched the scene where Ishimoto is showing Yoko his way of life as a fisherman.

At a signal, a cannery worker, Mrs. N. Endo (who really works in the cannery) picks up a basket and walks across the dock; a Japanese extra is working with the nets nearby and Yoko stands, a forlorn little figure, half-way down the ramp.

This scene was repeated several times until it met with Clavell's approval.

Paul Richards, in dark brown make-up, came over to chat. He is still entranced with British Columbia scenery and is happy with outdoor shooting after a long siege before the television cameras.

RICHARDS TV STAR

He has guest-starred in The Untouchables, Bonanza, The Dick Powell Show, Naked City, Gunslinger and starred in movies and on the stage.

This Sunday he will be on Bonanza at 9 p.m.

Richards has a theory that in acting it certainly helps to have a brain, but the work is so exacting a healthy body is a must. He therefore ordered a set of dumbbells from the YMCA for his daily workouts. Probably the first time that organization reached a helping hand into the movie colony.

We had lunch with the crew in the huge trailer, along with the traffic policeman that accompanies the cavalcade in its change of location to Vancouver, Corporal Don Brown.

TALENT FROM EVERYWHERE

We found one assistant cameraman was Doug McKay of Eagle Harbour who came from Ottawa where he was freelancing to take the job. Another was Bert Eason, from Hollywood.

Paul Fritz-Nemeth, North Vancouver, is assistant director and Franz Lindner is the cameraman who takes the publicity stills.

Dennis Brown is the prop man, a North Vancouver resident who came from England with a lifetime background of show business.

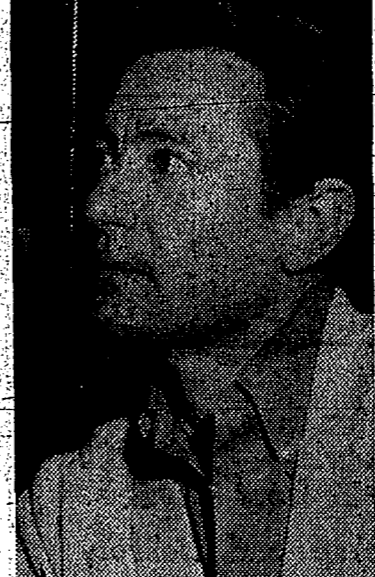

The Times played a small part in a crisis Sunday when two pages of the phone book had to be set up in large type so the camera could zoom in and pick up the star's fingers tracing a number.

Fictitious names and numbers had to be substituted and the backroom staff will probably watch this minute-long scene with intense interest when the picture is released.

In charge of wardrobe is B.C. born Mickey Mussado, here from Hollywood with his wife, Virginia.

They were exploring West Vancouver shops for smart clothes for Verle Cooter. Virginia gave a Hollywood atmosphere to the set Tuesday, dressed in blue capri pants, sweater and leopard skin coat.

They are looking forward to Kelowna where Mickey used to live.

Snowsell Busy Man

Frank Snowsell reports a busy weekend, June 2, in which he, his wife and daughter, Jane, attended the wedding of his niece at Kelowna; he bought a home in West Vancouver where he will be teaching next term; his wife and other daughter, Mrs. Heinz Schoder, left to spend four days at Seattle's World's Fair.

Mr. Snowsell is vice-principal of Howe Sound Secondary School.

GUNITE JOB on swimming pool was completed last weekend and this week tiling and plastering will be done. Gunite is here being put on to a depth of two inches over 10-inch thick wall. Gunite is mixture of fine sand, cement and water put on under air pressure of 35 pounds. Plaster with glaze finish goes on over this.

June Wedding At Squamish United

Befitting the June bride, was the lovely setting of baskets of salmon pink gladioli, carnations, blue iris, white mums and silver leaves that decorated the United Church for the marriage of Gerda Ria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoogenboom, of Squamish, to Mr. Bill Hall, son of Mrs. Jessie Hall, of Nanaimo.

The Reverend N. J. Penrose officiated at the double ring ceremony, which took place June 9 at 7 p.m.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a full skirted, floor length gown with layers of white lace over net, featuring a fitted lace bodice, long sleeves, and neckline embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. Her shoulder length veil of tulle fell from a coronet of Aurora Borealis crystals. Her only jewelry was a dainty diamond and pearl pendant and earring set, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red rose buds and white carnations.

Mrs. Chris Wyssen, eldest sister of the bride, and matron of honor, wore pink nylon and lace over taffeta, matching gloves and hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and rose buds.

Bridesmaids, Alida Hoogenboom and Maya De Waal also wore pink nylon, with headbands of a pink velvet bow and net and were carrying bouquets of pink carnations. Their jewelry consisted of double strands of pearls and earrings, gifts of the bride.

Best man was Victor Didier of Vancouver. Ushers were Gordon Erjcon and John Laktin.

The bride's mother chose a three piece suit of beige linen with floral blouse and lined jacket, coral gloves and beige accessories, all purchased on her recent trip to Holland. Her corsage was rose buds and silver leaves. The groom's mother wore a two piece dress of turquoise wool with blue and white matching hat and white accessories and corsage.

A reception was held in the Elks Hall. Mr. M. Dober proposed a toast to the bride and groom. The three tiered cake was made and beautifully decorated by the groom's mother. Flower arrangements, bouquets and corsages were the talented work of Mrs. Johnson of Squamish. Organist at the church was Mr. W. J. Tinney. Assisting with refreshments was Mrs. H. Dyke and Mrs. W. Chamberlain. Serving at the reception were Misses Sally Allott, Sandra Farrow and Mrs. May Shindell, Mrs. Richard Munro and Mrs. John Laktin.

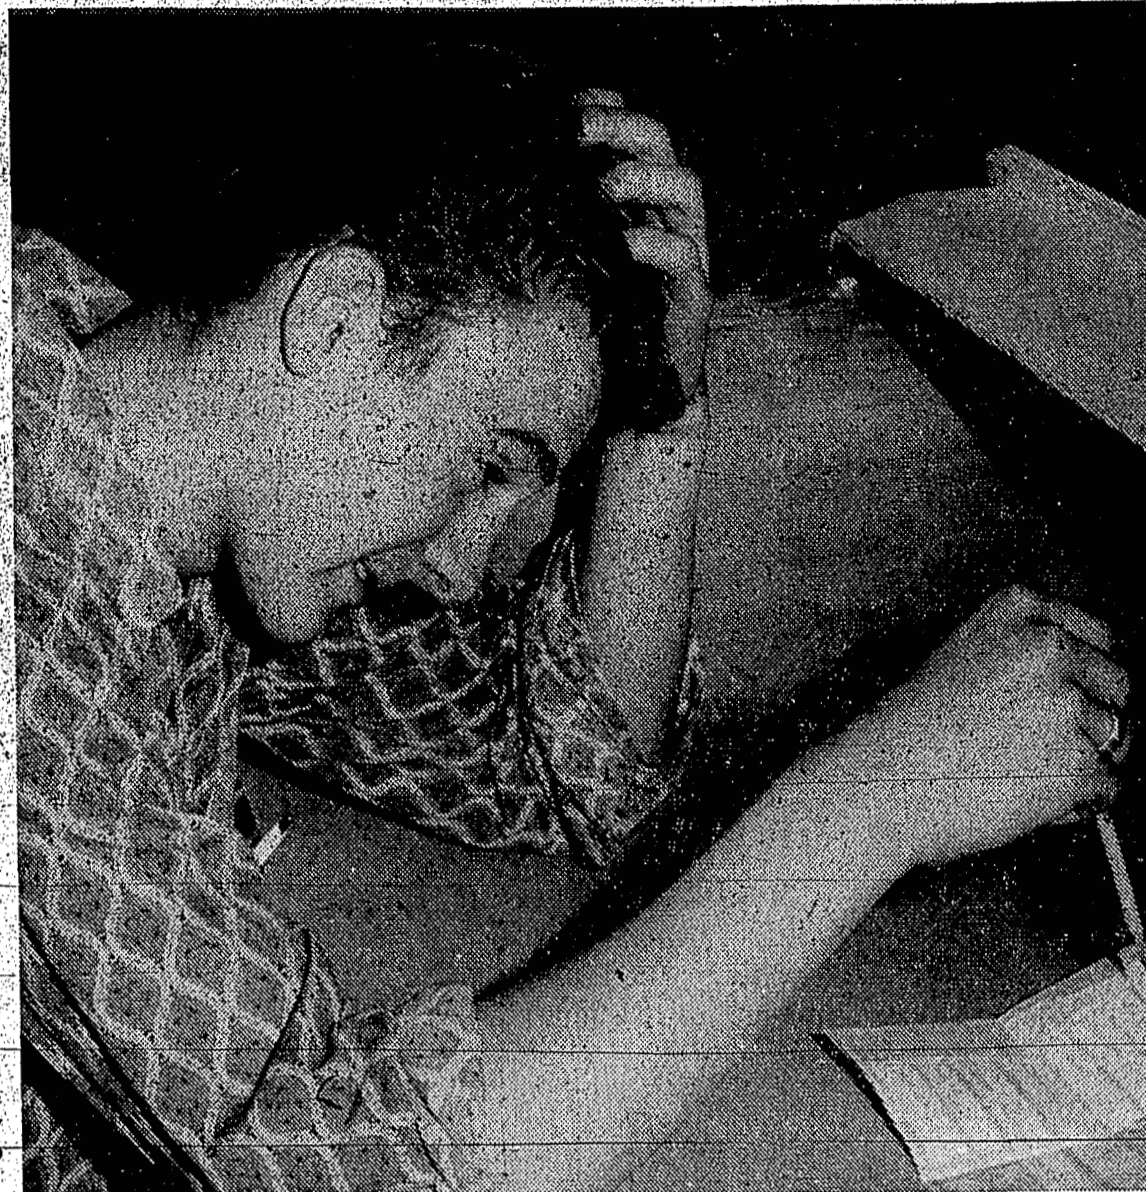

For her going away outfit the bride was radiant in a two piece suit of yellow boucle, white blouse and accessories, with a corsage of rose buds. On their return from a honeymoon in the Okanagan, the young couple will reside in Squamish.

Among the out-of-town guests was the bride's cousin, A. De Waal of Burnaby, who took a tape recording of the wedding, and reception which will be sent to the grandparents in Holland.

Other visiting guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ireland and J. Steves from Steveston, Mr. and Mrs. S. Holman and family of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. R. Freistadt, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, from Richmond, Earl McElhinney, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hall, brother of the groom, Mrs. Anne Moore from Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. J. White, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, from Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Edwards from Agassiz.

Kindergarten Graduation At Britannia

Graduation day for the Britannia Kindergarten was held June 8.

Mothers and smaller members of the family watched the attractive ceremony at which certificates were presented to the five-year-olds dressed in capes and mortarboards.

Those completing the course were Delane Pickard, Earl Patterson, Johnny Andrechuk, Danny Chisholm, Catherine Anne McMillan, Mitchell Moncrieff, Sandra Lasby, Valerie Dyck, Frances Cartwright, Don Hustad, Carol Busko and Darrel Shuttleworth.

Children of the kindergarten not graduating added to the colorful occasion by dressing up in pink and blue ribbons and party-hats. These were Susan Henke, Vicki Andrechuk, Curtis Hoefflick, Van Holoiem and Darrel Gillis.

Mrs. G. Pickard and Mrs. L. Moncrieff conducted the ceremony and completed the party by serving juice and cookies to children and parents.

Lots Up Higher In Air & Price

Residential lot development in Garibaldi Park Estates has moved up to the higher levels of the 1500-acre block.

Large, three-quarter-acre lots at an elevation ranging from 80 to 220 feet with a view south-west down to Howe Sound are planned for initial sale at $2500 each.

These are to have underground wiring and sewers as well as the usual roads and water.

These 55 new highland lots will make a total of 700 residential lots now available in Garibaldi Park Estates and in the new section, Garibaldi Highlands Development.

Pat Goodie, one of the principals in this land development, says over all planning in the 1500-acre block allows for about 3000 lots with 400-500 acres set aside for park land.

THE TURNING POINT—

"A DAY FOR DECISION"

By JACK DAVIS for COAST-CAPILANO Riding

Next Monday, June 18th, Canada goes to the polls. There we have a choice: we can re-elect the Conservatives and leave things as they are, OR we can elect the LIBERALS and get Canada rolling again. I urge you to cast your vote for ACTION by backing the PEARSON TEAM.

The challenges which our Canada of 1962 faces, internally and externally, can only be met by an effective government... a LIBERAL government. Today half a million able-bodied Canadians are out of work, in the next few years half a million young people will be coming onto the Labour market. Our national debt is rising, and the value of our dollar is falling. People in other countries have also lost faith in the present government's ability to manage our affairs. Obviously we must change our ways, and June 18th is the turning point.

A LIBERAL government will plan ahead. We will put Canadians to work by launching major projects in areas of serious unemployment such as central British Columbia where we plan to establish a uranium processing plant as big as that at Kitimat.

We will sponsor research leading to the up-grading of our resources: for example, the recovery of aluminum from Hat Creek coal.

We will assist Canada's tourist industry by helping to open up park areas such as British Columbia's Garibaldi Park.

A LIBERAL government will help the provinces and municipalities to get on with needed projects by advancing long term loans at low rates of interest.

Initiative on these fronts, coupled with economies in defence, we go a long way towards helping us to pay our way once more.

But, let us not forget the vital role played by private enterprise, for it can, and must, supply most of the drive to put Canada back on the track again. A LIBERAL government will eliminate taxes which discourage new investment or encourage the sale of Canadian firms to others.

Only by acting, and acting quickly, can we rescue our country from depression and despair! I therefore urge you to help us to give the Canadian economy a real "shot in the arm" by voting LIBERAL in June 18th.

Thank you, JACK DAVIS, Liberal Candidate, Coast-Capilano.

Squamish Racers Start Season In Top Form

It should be a great season for Squamish harness racers Pat Brennan and Buster Marks if the rest of the weeks are for them like the opener was at Ladner's Paterson Park.

Opening night, June 5, Brennan brought his 5-year-old gelding Cherokee Tass under the wire for wins in the fifth and eighth races and took the seventh with his wife's Counsel Key.

This performance earned him a bid along with the best pacers at the track, in the special Invitational Race Saturday night but he ended up lying in the dust unhurt with a wrecked sulky when crowded too close by a trailing horse.

Marks, with a stable of four, races three times a week. He drove four first place winners in the first three nights.

Opening night he won with Cavalier Woolen, came third with Melba Tass and fourth with Rippon Tass. On Thursday he drove his wife's horse, Margie Tass, to first place win. Saturday night he was behind two winners, Melba Tass and Rippon Tass, and drove Melba again for a third.

$300 Fun Nite Set For June 15

Final fund raising drive for Judith MacDonald's trip to Denmark will be held on Friday, June 15th, in the Cafeteria of the High School. Judith leaves for Denmark on the 23rd, so that it is hoped that the final $300 may be realized at the Fun Nite.

Fun Nite starts at 4 p.m., with children's games, such as fish pond, clown ball throw, country fair, and revolving darts, hot dogs, drinks, ice cream, corral of spring horses for the little ones.

Mamquam Brownie Pack will operate a candy stall in the early evening, the 1st Squamish will convene the drinks and ice cream.

A mystery table of gifts for all the family not over the purchase price of 50 cents will be on sale, so try your chance on a wrapped gift.

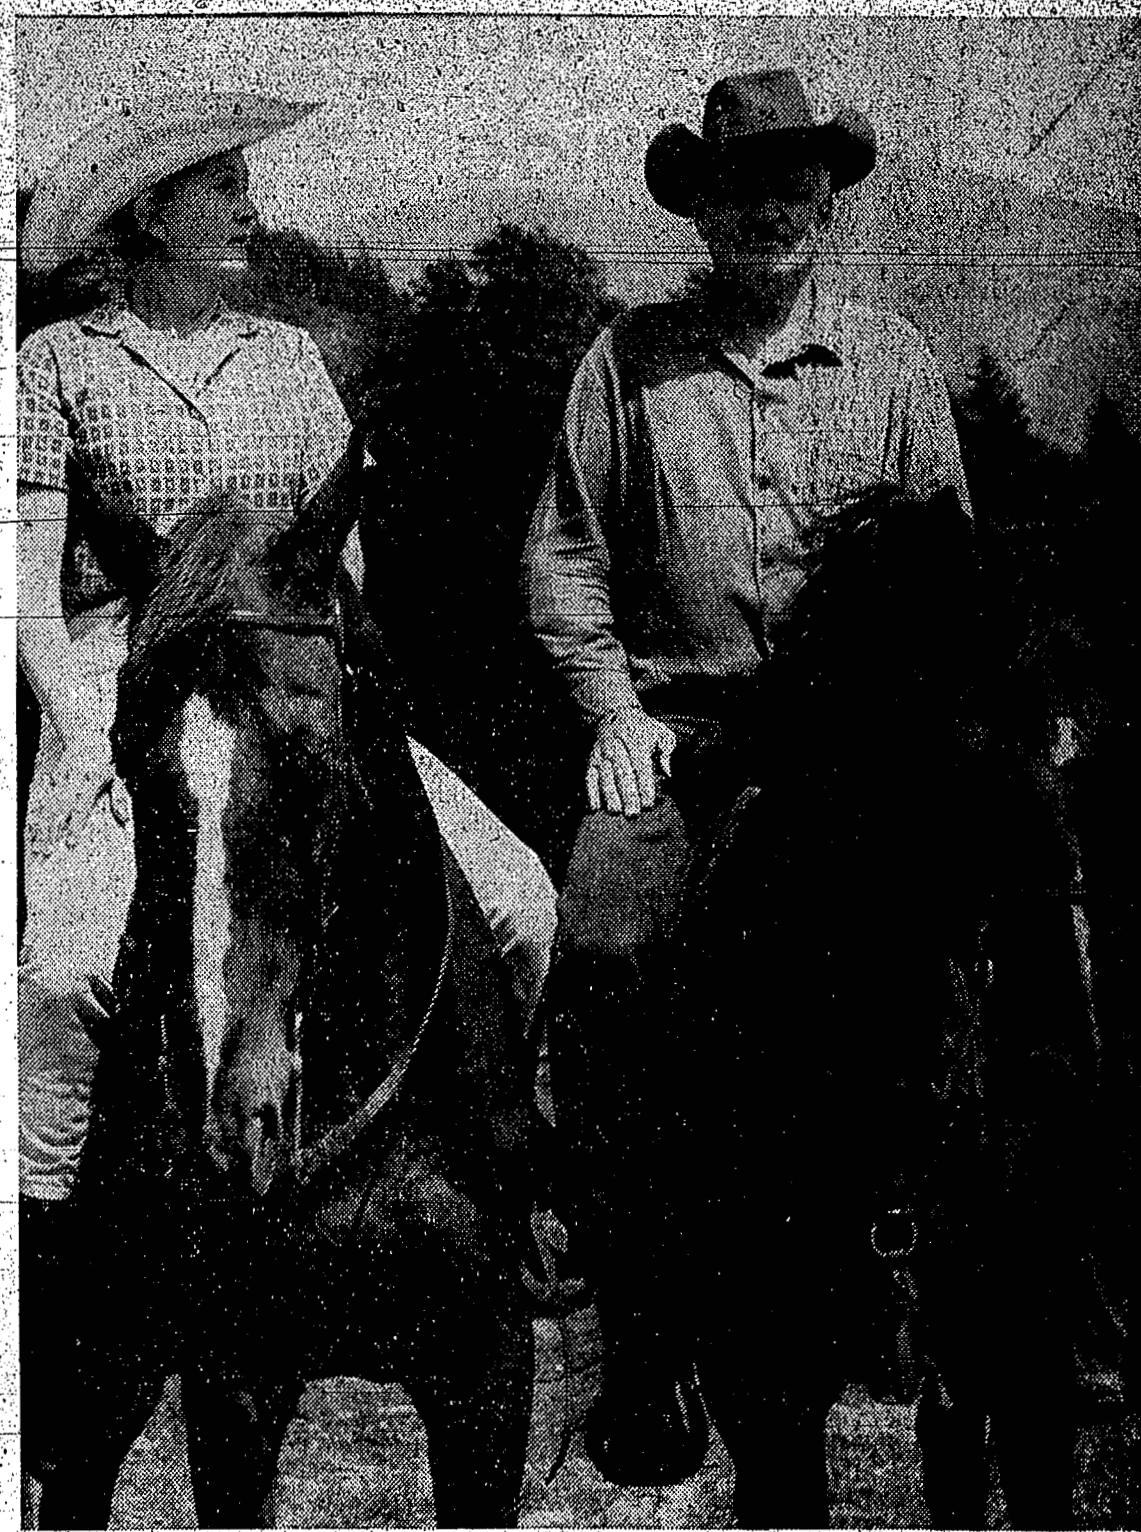

At 8 p.m., all those under 12 will be out of the hall, and games for the older members of the family will start, including bridge, whist, crib, or other games of this nature, plus tea-cup reading. Children's games, such as fish pond, will close down, also the puppet show; and these will be replaced by teen-dancing.

Card games will be held adjacent to the cafeteria, allowing the adults to have quietness.

There will be refreshments available during the evening, and it is hoped that all will attend, and put the fund over the top. We are still almost $300 short of our objective of $795, so please buy an advance ticket if a Guide calls at your door.

The pre-sale ticket is redeemable at the door of the cafeteria for $500 funny money, and it is hoped that you will come and spend that money any way you wish.

BACKBONE of the Squamish Valley Riding Club and the annual horse-capades is Mr. and Mrs. Ray Street. This year the big event is slated for June 17 at the Brackendale race track. Over 40 entries are expected, coming from Cloverdale, Chilliwack, Richmond and Vancouver as well as local horses and riders.

At Barkerville

Election Irregularities Date Back Over 100 Years

Any returning officer who thinks the current federal election is a headache should read about elections held in B.C. almost 100 years ago.

At Barkerville for instance, in 1866, the loser was named winner and a man who was destined to be a premier of British Columbia almost lost his seat. It took three weeks to straighten the mess.

Barkerville is the old gold rush camp, 60 miles east of Quesnel which is celebrating its centenary this year. It is now an historic park. Barkerville Restoration Advisory Committee, in co-operation with the Department of Recreation and Conservation, has reconstructed most of the old town so visitors can see it as it was.

Old files of the "Cariboo Sentinel", published at Barkerville, are aiding the restoration project with sidelights on how our pioneers lived. The issues of September and October, 1866, are pertinent today.

3-MONTH RESIDENT

In that year voters were electing a legislative council for the colony. Signs stated that a voter must have resided in the district for at least three months. (Doubtless this permitted many Americans to vote. They had swarmed to the Cariboo when the California gold rush petered out.)

Chinese and Indians were prohibited from voting. That was sum and total of the regulations.

The candidates were one T. Harris and one G. A. Walkem, who had served two years and was seeking re-election. Neither represented a political party. Walkem was a 30-year-old lawyer who came here in 1862 from Montreal.

FREE FOOD AND LIQUOR

Both were buying votes from miners with free lunches and liquor — right up to polling time. The "Sentinel" notes, "In some cases the unwilling victims were hurried to the polls before they had time for reflection."

Barkerville and its two neighboring settlements, Richfield and Cameronton, mustered 706 names were struck out. By votes on October 2, giving October 22, the "Sentinel" was able to report Walkem as the winner by 18 votes.

Harris' people said all 22 were district pioneers who had absented themselves from the district briefly in recent months, but the law was the law.

Six days later, these results were in and Harris had won with a majority of four.

DECISION REVERSED

Seven days after that, Walkem protested the election. He said 34 persons who voted had not put in the required three months' residence. Returning officer W. G. Cox conducted an enquiry and sure enough, 22

He went on to become B.C.'s third premier (1874-1876), a triumph he was to achieve twice. He was returned to that office in 1878 and held it until the close of his career in the legislature in 1882.

TUTS Will Celebrate With Three Best Shows

When Theatre Under The Stars opens its 23rd season July 2nd Vancouver never missed a season's famed outdoor theatre something no other theatre will continue the long or entertainment group est consecutive run of any in Canada can say.

Three of the most popular shows ever staged by Theatre Under The Stars have been rescheduled by producer James Johnson to attract the influx of tourists and the home-town fans who support the shows at Malkin Bowl year after year.

Mildred Franklin takes the Rosalind Russell part in "Wonderful Town" which opens the season on the evening of July 2nd for two weeks. Leonard Bernstein's great Broadway success is based on the famous comedy hit "My Sister Eileen" and features such songs as "A Quiet Girl", "Ohio", "It's Love", "My Darling Eileen" and the hilarious dances, "The Conga" and "Ballet" at the Village Vortex. "Wonderful Town" was called a great success in its previous appearance at TUTS.

One of the most beautifully costumed shows in Theatre Under The Stars history is "Can-Can" which follows on July 16 to 28. Cole Porter's gay and naughty musical romp through the Paris of the Toulouse-Lautrec era when the "Can-Can" was considered a wicked dance features such songs as "I Love Paris", "C'est Magnifique", "It's All Right With Me", and "Can-Can". Fran Gregory and Ernie Prentice take the lead in this merry romp.

The season ends July 30 to August 11 with "South Pacific" the great Rodgers and Hammerstein success which ran for 1694 performances on Broadway and was also TUTS' great success in 1956 when it played to capacity houses for three weeks. Some of the most tuneful songs ever written for a musical: "Some Enchanted Evening", "Younger Than a Springtime", "Ball, Ball", "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair", "Bloody Mary", "Nothing Like a Dame" and many more are featured in the score.

The only import in the three shows, Jan Rubes, will star in this wind-up show along with Barber Jay. The box office will be located in the Hudson's Bay Company, but tickets are usually available at the box office, at Malkin Bowl, Stanley Park.

Started in 1940, Theatre Under The Stars' theme has always been to provide entertainment and develop young stars. Among the better known TUTS graduates are George London, star of the Metropolitan Opera, and Robert Goulet, one of the stars of "Camelot" and television fame. Aida Broadbent has always produced a crop of dancers who have gone on to television fame or joined touring dance groups. Among the best-known are Lois Smith and David Adams, Carlu Carter and Bill McGrath.

By building up a highly skilled staff providing the finest in modern equipment, the technical level of a TUTS production now compares favorably with the best on the continent. Each year the importation of talent for productions has dropped as local stars have been given a chance.

Originally TUTS was started by the Board of Park Commissioners, but it is now run by the Vancouver Civic Theatre Society, a non-paid group of citizens.

Although the outside competition this summer is heavier than before, TUTS is counting on the loyalty of its many fans plus the great influx of tourists to make this a banner season.

Trustees Study Leadership

Thirty school trustees, including three from School District No. 43, Mrs. J. A. Tailfefer, C. P. Kidson and chairman W. V. Manson, will go to university next weekend, June 15 to 17, for a seminar in which they will "examine in depth" "The Trustee's Administrative Relationship in Education".

Members of the South Coast Branch, B.C. School Trustees' Association, will move bodily into the University of B.C. for the weekend seminar during which they will meet, eat and sleep on the campus.

This seminar is the third in a series, ultimately to cover all geographic areas of the province, in which the trustees' association and the university are working together on a project titled "Developing Leadership for Public Responsibility".

Why I Am Glad To Be A Guide

by Barbara Goss

I have belonged to the Girl Guide Association for only a short time but I have already made many new friends, learned many things which will help to make me a better citizen and taken part in various activities which gave me enjoyment I otherwise would not have had.

On many memorable occasions I have gone on short excursions such as the trip to see Lady Baden-Powell, a skating trip to Alta Lake, a cookout at Horseshoe Bay, a trip to Pemberton and a hike up the Chief with a company of Vancouver Guides. I am looking forward to many more such outings.

One informative event I shall always remember is the trip to the aquarium. It is an exciting and unforgettable experience to see the many types of fish, large turtles, octopi and alligators. I think what impressed me most was one lizard biting the tail off another lizard.

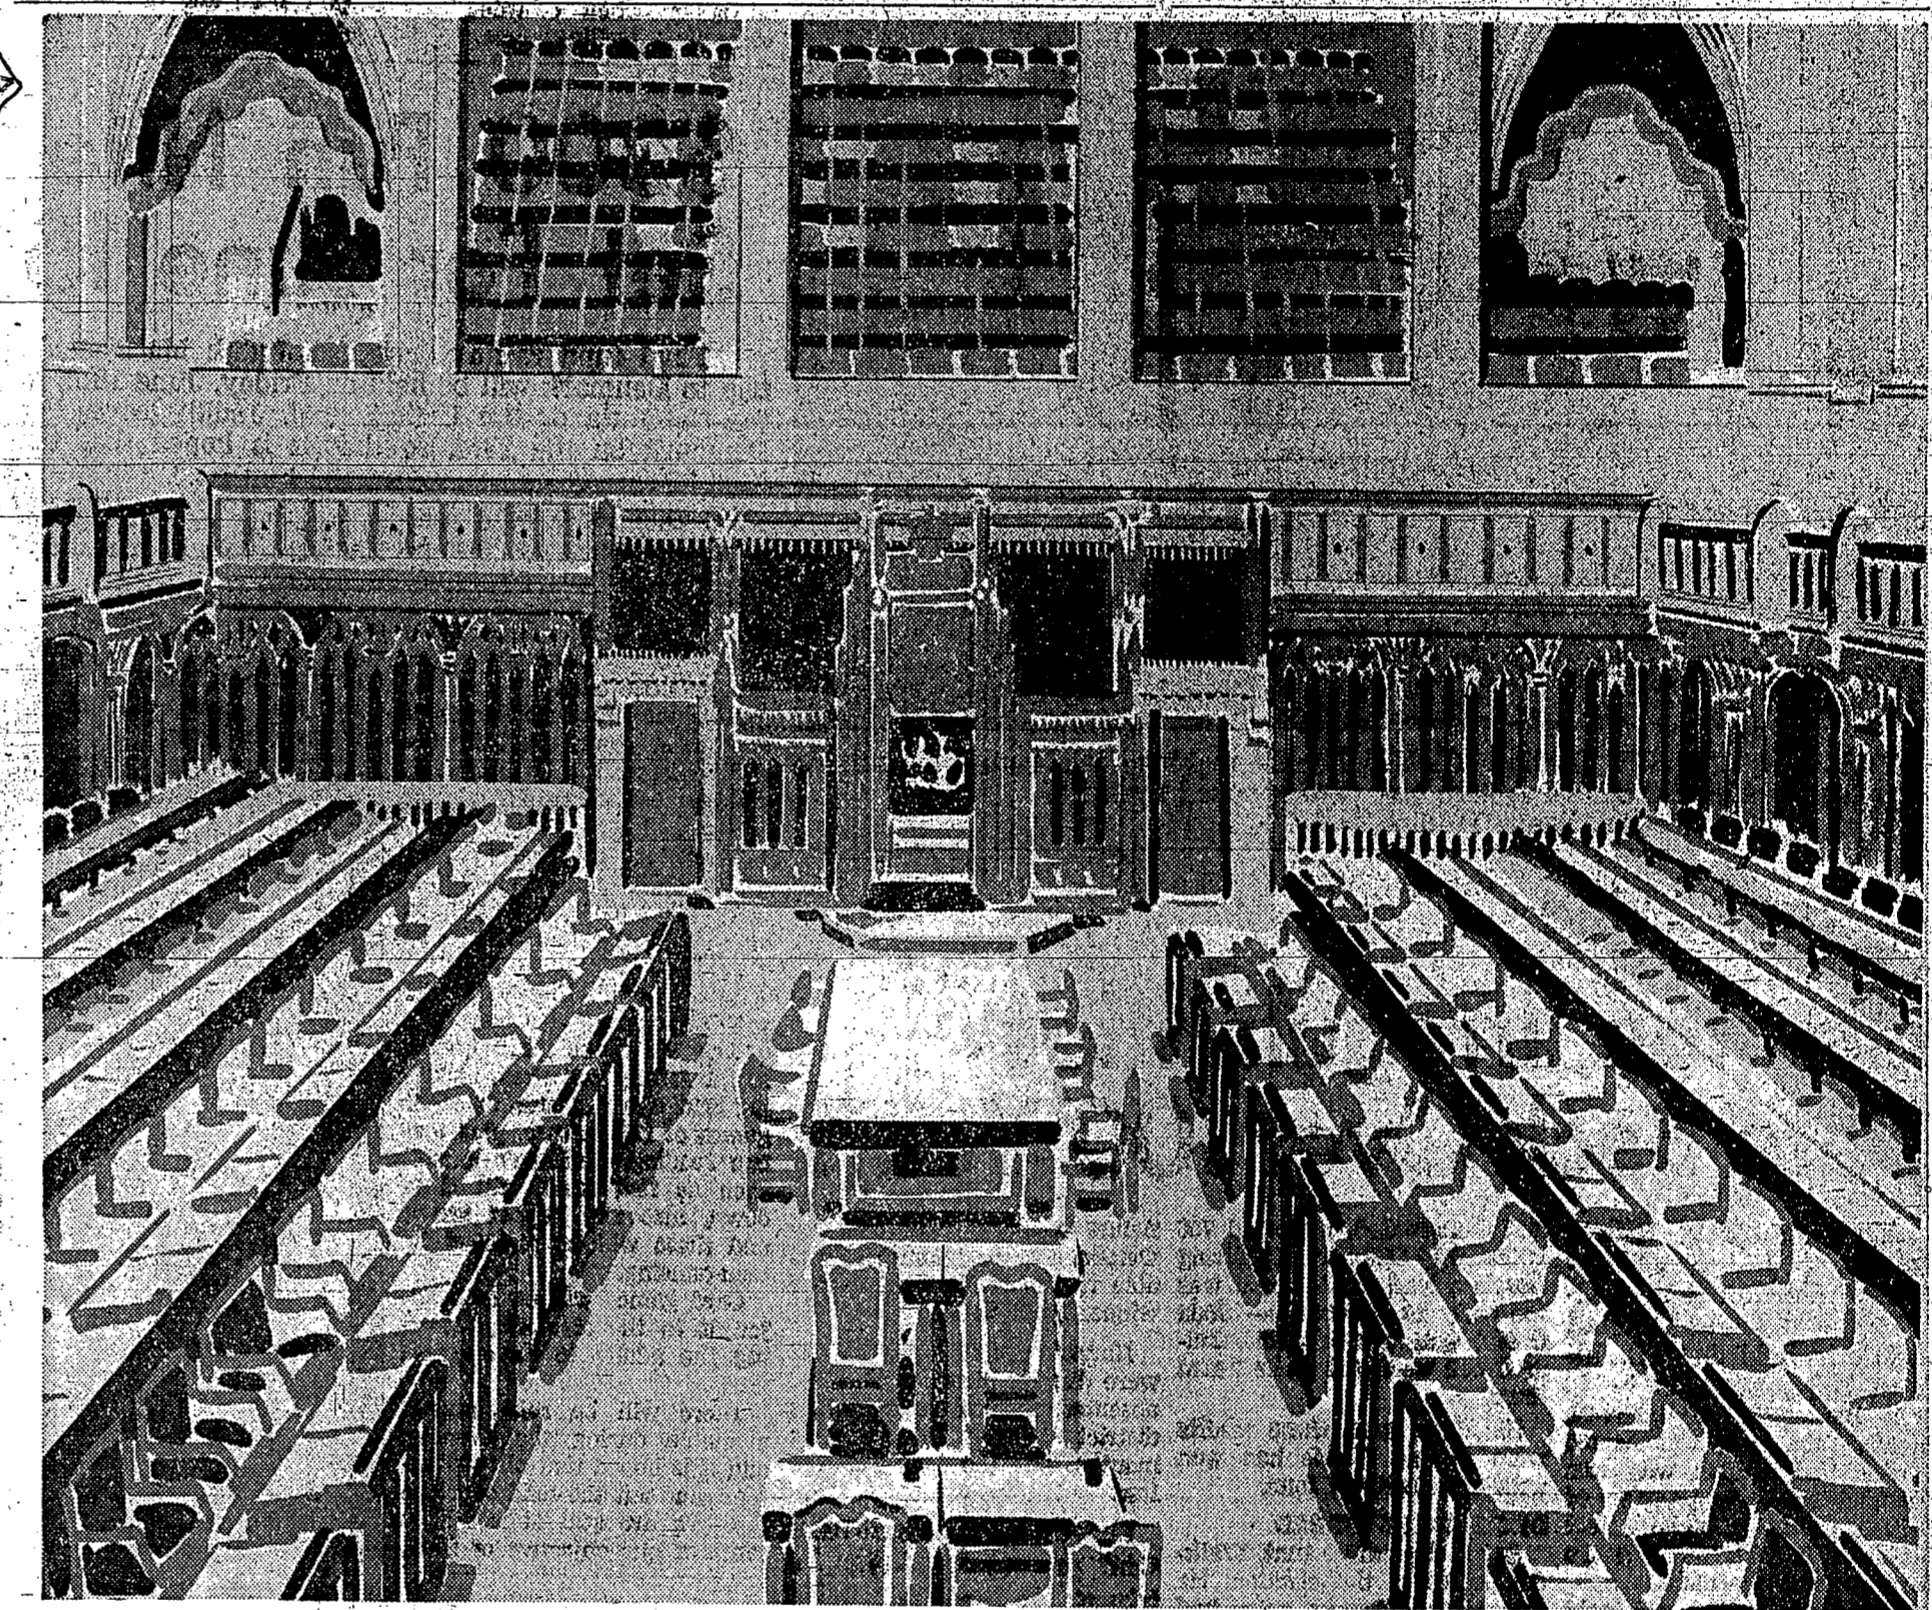

Already in my life as a Guide I have made many new friends and met many people. Among these are Guides from Pemberton, Woodville, Horseshoe Bay and I have, through Guiding, become better acquainted with some people in my own community.

The Squamish Guide Company has regular meetings every Tuesday night at which we learn many things. In my year as a Guide I have learned about basket-making, the duties of a baby-sitter, identification and description of plants, how to make novelties, map-work and trail-signs and perhaps more important, co-operation and organization. I think I enjoyed best the time we spent on plants.

When I stop and think I realize I have learned many things in the past year. Now that Guiding has opened the door I hope in future years that I can look back and be proud to know that I have to the best of my ability lived up to the promise I made when I was enrolled as a Guide.

(Ed. Note: This story is an assignment given to Barbara as part of the writing requirements she must complete to qualify for her Writer's Badge.)

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

B.C. has only 22 seats out of 265 in Ottawa

Let's fill them with people who will speak strongly for B.C.

In the House of Commons, in Ottawa, vital decisions are made which affect every Canadian. Decisions about jobs... about money... decisions about your family's security and future. But in the House of Commons, British Columbia has only 22 seats out of 265. That means a small minority must speak out and fight for the things that will keep British Columbia moving ahead. Yet how often in the last four years have you heard strong voices raised on your behalf? Now's the time for a change. Our Province is unique. It's great potential must be developed. Our story must be told in Ottawa if we are to prosper! In British Columbia we have proof of Social Credit's ability to get things done. We'll get more things done for B.C. with Social Credit Members of Parliament.

Free Concerts In Stanley Park

Television and radio tenor Maurice Pearson is just one of the many guest stars appearing this summer in a new series of free Sunday evening popular musical concerts in 1,000-acre Stanley Park, Vancouver.

The 80-minute concerts which start July 1 in Malkin Bowl and continue weekly through August 26, will feature the newly-formed Park Board Pops Orchestra under the musical direction of Harry Pryce. Curtain time is the traditional 8:30 p.m. Malkin Bowl, home of Theatre Under The Stars, seats 4,300 persons. On cool evenings a blanket is recommended.

Outstanding Canadian artists being sought for the 1962 series include: Shirley Chapman, Eleanor Collins, John Emerson Singers, Audrey Farnell, Roy Firth, Chris Gage Trio, Lance Harrison's Dixieland Group, Juliette, Lorraine McAllister, Maurice Pearson, Ernie Prentice, Jan Rubes and Bernard Turgeon. Some of B.C.'s most promising new talent also will be presented.

Each Sunday evening during July and August, Mr. Pryce will direct 35 of Vancouver's top musicians in a musical salute to Canadians, their country and their affairs. A Canadian Broadcasting Corporation musical director for nearly 30 years, Mr. Pryce this summer also will be conducting the TUTS orchestra in the same setting for his sixteenth consecutive season.

Film Festival Judges Announced

Claude Jutra from Montreal, John Grierson from England and Pauline Kael from California will form the trio of judges at the Vancouver International Film Festival, July 11 to 24.

Judging will cover documentary, short fiction, and children's films. Feature films are non-competitive.

Claude Jutra, who has been associated with the National Film Board of Canada since 1954, has acted, written and directed for films and television since 1946.

Awards won by Mr. Jutra include a Florence award in 1961 for "Le Niger — jeune république", first prize for experimental films at the Venice Film Festival in 1957 for "L'etat une chaise", and the Honour Diploma at Cannes for "Mouvement perpétuel", in 1949.

During the past six years, Jutra has concentrated on documentary films produced for the National Film Board.

John Grierson, acknowledged "father" of the documentary film, has produced films all over the world.

He was the first commissioner of Canada's National Film Board.

Under a Rockefeller Research Fellowship he surveyed educational and propaganda methods in various countries for the British Government.

Mr. Grierson now works with "Group 3", a private company producing documentaries in the United Kingdom.

Pauline Kael has been closely associated with films as a leading critic since 1954.

She is best known for a group of controversial articles published in England in "Sight and Sound". Miss Kael has a bi-weekly program "Movies" on California radio stations.

Many regard Miss Kael's articles on films as the best American film criticism since the death of James Agee.

Bay Group Urge

"Move Ferries Near Squamish"

Stepped-up service by provincial ferries operating out of Horseshoe Bay, and bigger and noisier ferries have residents of the area protesting to council.

In a letter from the planning department of the Horseshoe Bay community association, one recommendation is to move the ferry slip nearer Squamish.

"Horseshoe Bay will become increasingly busy, traffic-wise," councillor Ellis said, "and increasingly unattractive."

"Unless by persuasion we can change the government's mind,"

Reeve Collier, "We will ask the government what its future plans are."

"We should now take a stand on the future of Horseshoe Bay or it will be one big dock in 20 years," Ellis continued.

"It may not take too much persuasion," councillor McDiarmid said. "It is a problem to them too."

Safety Tips For Hauling Boats

With the number of boat owners increasing every month, the B.C. Automobile Association has issued a list of safety tips for motorists planning to haul their boats to the lake or seashore by car.

Emphasizing that boat hauling requires special knowledge and techniques, the BCAA offered the following suggestions:

While almost all modern boat trailers are designed for high speed, it is a good idea to keep slightly under the posted speed limit. Then, you can stop quickly in the event of trouble.

Large boats add considerable weight to your moving car and, therefore, require longer stopping distances. They also cause your car to accelerate more slowly.

When pulling out to pass and returning to the proper lane afterward, compensate for the added vehicle length.

In turning corners, allow a little extra room for the trailer. Sharp turns should be taken at slower than normal speeds, especially on rough roads.

Avoid sudden stops. A boat trailer with a heavy outboard motor on the rear can jack-knife.

If you observe these safety rules, the BCAA said, you should have little trouble in getting your boat to the water with a minimum of inconvenience and risk.

4-Company Group Wants Athabasca Tar Sands

Intervening at a hearing in Calgary recently, Cities Service Athabasca, Inc. revealed that on behalf of itself and Imperial Oil Ltd., Richfield Oil Corp., and Royallite Oil Co. Ltd., it had filed application with the Oil and Gas Conservation Board of Alberta for a permit for the future development of commercial production of liquid hydrocarbons from the Athabasca tar sands.

The four-company group set forth a plan directed at the development of facilities by the late 1960's for the production of 100,000 barrels daily. The development schedule calls for the completion of a definitive estimate of the project during the economic and market evaluation at that time, the applicants would be prepared to start construction. Approximately four years would then be required to build the facilities proposed in the application.

Preliminary estimates of the over-all capital investment for the proposed project total some $250-million for the construction of mining and processing equipment and the building of a 300-mile pipe line from the plant site at Mildred Lake to Edmonton.

Introduction of liquid hydrocarbon products from the Athabasca tar sands to the market is based on a careful study by the applicants of all available data and forecasts of the demand and supply of Canadian crude. In their judgment the ratio of crude oil reserves to market demand will probably decrease to the point where supplemental production will be required to maintain the acceptable level of such reserves in the interests of the oil industry and country.

Filing of the application by the group follows five years of intensive research at Mildred Lake. Core hole drilling and process research were commenced in 1957. The results of that research program indicated that large-scale pilot plant testing was essential. Such a plant has been in operation for three years, with total investigations to date costing approximately $16.5 million.

The applicants plan to continue their studies and experiments. However, they are confident that because of their extensive "on the ground" research of the unique problems of the tar sands, they are particularly well qualified to design, construct and operate a commercial plant.

As a result of the applicants' research, they have concluded that a scale of operation approaching 100,000 barrels a day is required to achieve satisfactory low-cost operations in mining, conveying, processing and pipelining.

North Yard News by Peg Tinney

Happy birthday to Graham Binning who was seven years old, June 5.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Sellers was her mother, Mrs. N. Cundy, of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kyle and family, recently from Squamish, are now residing in the Neil house at the North Yards.

Our regrets to Mrs. and Mrs. D. Ross and family on the recent loss of their home. We hope they will enjoy their stay in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murchin have returned to Langley.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall (nee Gerda Hoogenboom) who were married June 9.

Glad to hear Mrs. M. Laing is home from hospital and wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Edwards from Agassiz were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Edwards.
