Stawamus Housing Plans Presented

Subdivision plans for 562 lots in the Stawamus Valley and a rough draft of the performance agreement was presented to village council, July 11, by the developers, Dan McNaughton, Don McMillan and associates in Westway Corp. Ltd., West Vancouver.

Their plan is to develop lots with all services, including sewers, build houses and sell. Garden apartments are being designed and will be built if the need for rental accommodation is sufficient.

hope to serve is the employees of Woodfibre, Britannia and Canadian Collieries, Empire Mills Division.

The initial development, as shown to the council, with space for schools, parks, recreation, is, in their opinion, eminently suitable for approximately 1600 people, but subject to refinement.

Another meeting is being arranged soon with the subdividers, government experts acting for the village, Rayonier and others vitally interested in the project.

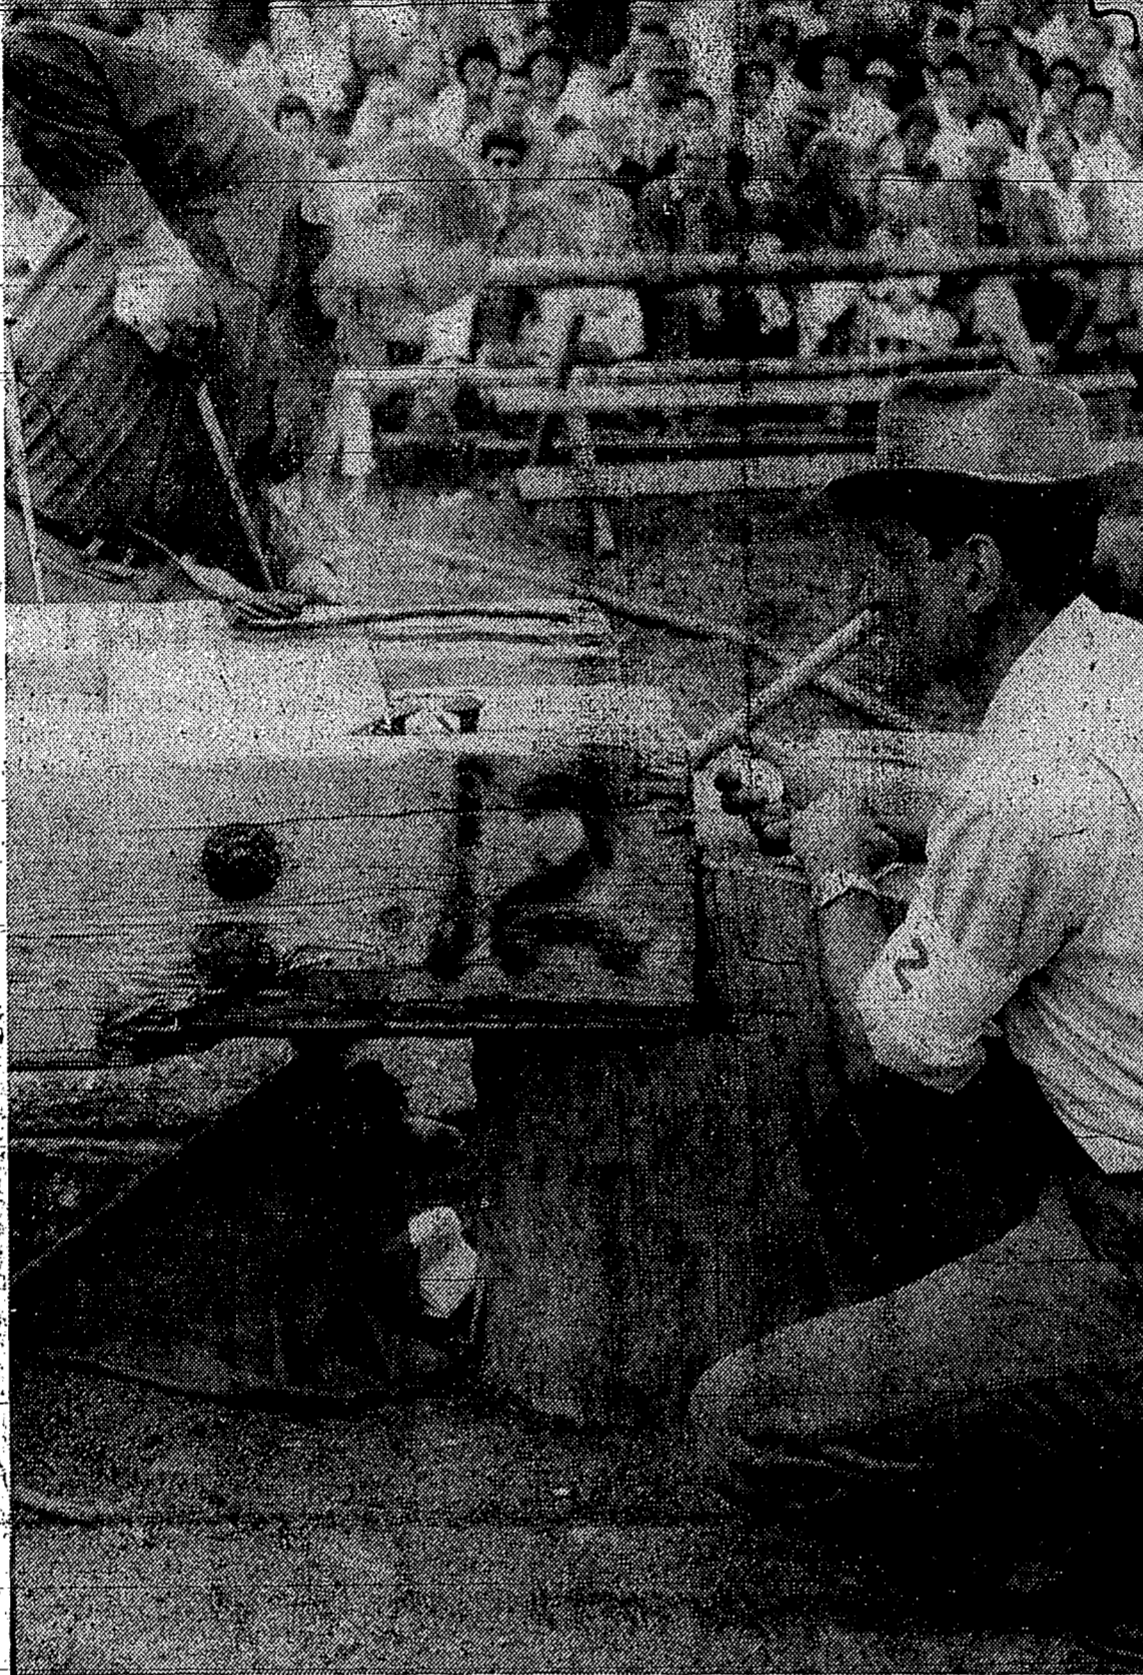

McNaughton, McMillan and associates will want lease over portion of Stawamus river "to straighten dangerous meanders, remove log jams and deltas and to build some semblance of a dyke along the west side." Gravel excavated from the channel would be used on building sites and roads.

The present logging road runs through the area to become residential and it was suggested that eventually the industrial use of this road would have to cease.

Further water storage, either at the dam or in tanks or reservoirs, will also be needed.

Obstetrical Table By WA

In a story last week "Hospital Gets New Equipment" the new obstetrical table mentioned is being donated by the Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

ALL LOGGERS' SPORTS events were timed to the second. Lionel Gould holds a stop-watch on "Bup" Carson's winning cable-eye splice. A first place win gave a contestant four points.

Valleycliffe Pros & Amateurs Wins $100 Contest Put on Fine Show

Mrs. Tom Marsh's suggested name, Valleycliffe, for the proposed subdivision in the Stawamus valley of Squamish won the $100 prize donated by the developers, McNaughton, McMillan and associates of West Vancouver.

It was a big day for the loggers last Saturday. The crowd of 3000 was their largest yet for the five-year-old sports day, the show was a real crowd pleaser and best of all the challenge trophy was brought back to the Valley by Bruce "Bup" Carson.

Bruce, a local man and one of the CRB Logging partners, was far in the aggregate lead with three firsts and one second place.

Destination Frankfurt

By an odd coincidence two local parties flew to Frankfurt last week.

On Friday Mrs. J. E. Collins and sons Brian and John left by air for the German city where they will be met by her husband, W. J. E. Collins, who is stationed at nearby Kaiserlautern.

Mrs. Collins, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dawson, expects to spend the next two or three years in Germany.

Weeklies On Chan. 6 Again

The Weekly Editor show, which regularly used material from this newspaper, returned to CHEK-TV on July 11.

Formerly a TV-6 Friday feature, Weekly Editor will be presented each Wednesday for the rest of the summer.

Although the day is different, the time remains the same — 5:30 p.m.

Down In The Valley

by John Alexander

When we first came to this valley we were told that a part of its refreshing charm was in the unpredictability of its weather but we were assured that the winters were getting milder. Now we must agree that the present one is reasonably mild and that its end is unpredictable.

15-POINT TOTAL

His first triumph was in the eye splicing, an event he has won several times before, but it was his axe throwing win over veteran Alan Woodrow of Courtenay, last year's trophy winner, that really started him in the race for highest aggregate points. Another first for the chokerman's race put him one point up on the final second place total and three points for second in the Molly Hogan race gave him a total of 15 points, far ahead of 2nd place total of 11.

There was dash and spectacle to this show. World champion tree climber Danny Sailor did things on the high end of a 125-foot spar tree that a bird wouldn't do. He stood up there in the wind on his feet and on his head and waved to the crowd. The music blared and he did versions of the twist on his 18-inch dance floor. Then he threw off his hat and beat it to the ground, coming down in giant 12-foot steps without seeming to use his rope at all.

AUSSIE CHOPPER

Jim Rope, the unassuming and genial rancher from Australia, showed the people how to chop through a log and he did it with an engine-like force and precision that even veteran axemen found hard to believe. They wanted to see it done again so he took on two of the best, Whittaker and Woodrow, handicapped himself 7 seconds and lost to them by one second.

OPENS WITH BANG

The show opened with the usual bang when a rifleman seemingly blasts the top of a nearby tree. Bobby Ryan did the climbing and chopping chore on the top of another tree.

Willie Boscarol climbed to the top of a spar tree and hurried down high over the crowd on a highline. An exhibition of hand falling from spring boards was done by George Binning and Doug Nell.

IN BIG TIME NOW

The fifth annual loggers' sports day began taking on the aspects of a big show. Television and daily newspaper coverage was there as well as representatives of the main logging industry magazines.

On their own the local boys can put on a good competitive show but bring in a world's champion, a professional on two and the aura of showmanship rises to the point that outside recognition is assured. It is then that a show of this sort is on its way to becoming an annual institution.

Proceeds from this year's show will be split three ways: 65% to the Squamish Swimming Pool Fund, 25% to the Howe Sound Retarded Children's Association and 10% to start next year's event.

Be Punctual, Be Regular For Swimming

Swimming classes have met with great response at the Squamish Swimming Pool, to such an extent that the management has found it necessary to enforce rigid times schedules for training.

Children must be on time for lessons. Those missing three consecutive days will have to re-register in a less advanced class at the convenience of the swimming instructor.

No child will be refused lessons but the overflow only will be handled after 2 p.m.

Australian Chopper Axes His Way About Continent

gers' Sports Day.

AROUND THE WORLD

He and his wife are on a leisurely tour of the world and part of their luggage is Jim's finely tempered, five-pound single bitted axe. And wherever they hear of log chopping contests away they go.

He heard of the Squamish Loggers' Sports Day through Danny Sailor at an American event. Danny is a tree climbing champion who competed at Squamish on July 14.

Jim came here from triumphs at Sedro Wooley, Wash., and at Albany, Ore., and goes from here to a big loggers' carnival at Hayward, Wisconsin.

He took up log chopping eight years ago and has competed at some of the top events in Australia, for instance at the Royal Agricultural Fair in Sydney where up to 160 competitors chip away at a prize pot of $12,000. A top notch axeman there could win $350 in one event, he says.

RECOMMENDS HANDICAPPING

Australian carnivals throughout the country are mostly agricultural in nature but most of them have log chopping events. It is such a widely acclaimed sport that the Aussies have Axemen's Associations to keep detailed records of the individual chopper's prowess. In an actual contest, these records are consulted and the axeman is handicapped or put in a class in keeping with his past performance. In this way even the novice has a fair chance of winning.

This is a system that could be used here to good advantage, Jim believes. It not only encourages those not so expert to enter but provides many a photo-finish with the professional chopping, furiously to overtake the man beside him who had his log half chopped through when the pro started.

When these events are carefully run competitors all finish just about the same time though there may be quite a difference in their actual time of chopping through the log. This, of course, is a great crowd pleaser.

CHAIN SAWS, TOO

Logs are of standard size and length and are of hardwood. Axes must be highly tempered and finely sharpened but can be of whatever weight, best suits the contestant. All are single bitted over there, Jim had never seen a double bitted axe, such as is in common use here, until he came to this continent.

Axe chopping is strictly a competitive sport, says Jim, because the loggers use chain saws there the same as here.

It is far removed from his business of looking after 8000 sheep and 300 beef cattle on a 20,000 acre ranch in the township of Brewarrina, N.S.W., but it has "provided me with many pleasant associations both here and in the United States."

Judging from his performance last Saturday it will also bring him considerable acclaim.

Allans Leave Britannia

After 21 years residence at Mount Sheer and Britannia Mr. and Mrs. Len Allan are moving to West Vancouver and Len will commute to work here.

To say farewell to Mrs. Allan a number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Nelson and presented her with copper fire-place accessories for her new home. Mrs. A. Bennett made the presentation assisted by Mrs. H. Chisholm.

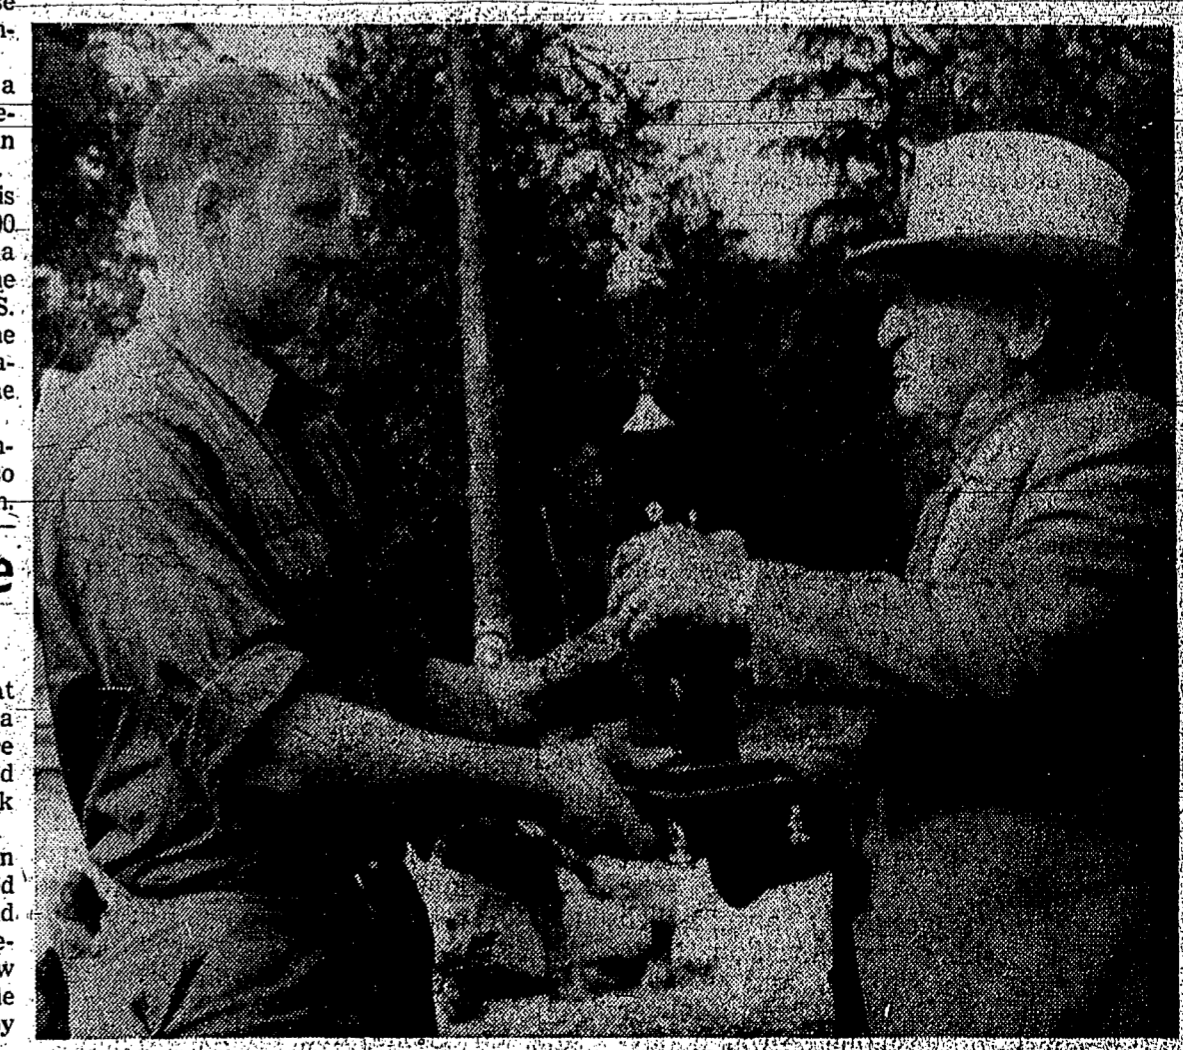

Crazy whist played during the evening was won by Mrs. M. Karvitski, Mrs. K. Gardner and Mrs. L. Moncrieff.

GERRY KRISTIANSON, shopping in the educational marts of the world, finally came up with the scholarship he wanted. A B.A. honors graduate in political science from UBC, he leaves July 19 on a $10,000 three-year scholarship to the University of Canberra, Australia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kristianson of Kelsey Bay, formerly of Squamish.

JIM ROPE, the amazing axeman from Australia, lifts feet off log giving added force to final blow. Closest competitor, veteran chopper Alan Woodrow, left, finished a dozen strokes behind.

TOP COMPETITOR Bruce Carson receives challenge trophy from Bill Seymour, an old-time Squamish logger. Bruce took three firsts and a second at Loggers' Sports to win big trophy which was taken out of the valley for the first time last year by Woodrow of Courtenay.

Act Now On Mamquam...

The flood and erosion threat of the Mamquam river, in spite of recent information sent to Victoria by the Chamber of Commerce and this newspaper, will be handled on a wait and see basis by the provincial government.

The Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, Minister of Highways, writes: "I have asked my department to check on the situation that you describe and to keep a close watch on it, but I cannot make any definite commitment or promise that we are in a position to take any remedial action at this time."

Now Mr. Gagliardi knows and we know that the Mamquam-in-flood will never be stemmed by departmental checks and close watches. What seems to be needed most at the moment is to confine it within its banks. We suggest this could be done by building up about 500 feet of the bank nearest the bridge and highway to a height of eight or ten feet above the present water level and reinforcing it with large rock. This type of riprap has proved quite effective on the opposite bank near the highway bridge.

It is probable that we have escaped the flood threat for a few months because of a cool summer which delayed the run-off from the snow pack in the mountains. But who can say what will happen in the fall? The gravel dyke that did offer some protection washed away in June exposing the low banks to the onslaught of the river.

Last fall, when the dyke was there, the water climbed to the top and over one night while most of the people in the town below were asleep. Watching it closely were the RCMP ready to warn the people if the dyke broke. But the rain stopped and the water went down.

Now the dyke is gone. Mr. Gagliardi says in his letter that: "The work the department normally undertakes on this river and any other is strictly for the purpose of protecting the bridge and the highway in the vicinity. If, of course, there is a question of life and property involved, the department would have no hesitation in assisting in any remedial works that are needed, but riverbank protection work which is not directly connected with the highway system is not normally the responsibility of the department of highways."

What can be said to impress upon these government people that the threat of the river is very real?

There is no calculated risk being taken here. It is a well known fact that within hours the Mamquam can become a destructive, rampaging torrent. It has happened before and it can happen again.

No doubt, both federal and provincial aid would pour in if the flooding Mamquam caused disaster. But this is not the way it should be. What is needed now is remedial action, such as a properly riprapped dyke.

What is needed here is protection costing a few thousand dollars. Roads, bridges, property and lives could easily be lost by procrastination. It is a fool's gamble to delay.

West Vancouver municipality has had its headaches with pets and has found the only way to deal with the estimated 2,300 dogs was to draw up and pass a fair, but rigid dog control bylaw. This legislation requires that dogs be kept on owner's property and can be taken off only under certain circumstances.

In addition, dogs are allowed on a few designated parks and then when on a leash.

Most of us have dogs as pets; we are fond of them and wouldn't do anything to hurt them or lose them. So it is very important for pet owners to realize that in establishing a set of proper rules for dog control, they are creating a situation that is better for their own Rover.

Every dog should be tagged and registered at the village office as a start and then further steps taken to set out sensible control.

Some In Public For First Time

Emily Carr Exhibit An H. B. Co. Attraction

An exhibition of the works of Emily Carr including 70 paintings never before seen by the public has been announced by the Hudson Bay Company as a centennial contribution to Victoria and the Province of British Columbia.

The unique exhibition which includes cartoons, sketches and ceramics comes mainly from the Newcombe Collection which was purchased by the provincial government in 1961. The Honorable Earle C. Westwood said in commenting on the historic display: "The exhibition would not only be of great interest to British Columbians; it would also prove to be an attraction for the art-loving visitors to the province."

Most of the Carr pictures in pen, pencil, charcoal, watercolours and oils were owned by the late William Arnold Newcombe, anthropologist and ethnologist of Victoria. His collection also included that of his father, Dr. C. F. Newcombe, who had been one of Miss Carr's first patrons. Other private owners have loaned Carr

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Squamish Times:

About 10 o'clock, Tuesday forenoon, a chimney fire started in the home of Mr. Christian Arnet, Brackendale. Mrs. Arnet, who was alone with her small children, called Gino Barone of the Brackendale Volunteer Fire Department.

He was on the scene with the fire truck and a group of neighbors, among them James McArthur and Jim Hubbard, within minutes.

Burning soot had fallen on the dry roof shakes and the fire was just getting a hold. Only the prompt arrival of Gino and his crew averted the loss of the house and all its contents and perhaps prevented a serious forest fire as well.

The bush is near the house and dry enough to burn like tinder if the fire gets a good start.

This was the second call on the Brackendale Volunteer Fire Department this month, the other being June 3, when F. D. Ross' house burned to the ground. The firemen arrived too late to save Ross' house which was razed in 20 minutes, but they did protect adjacent homes.

A considerable number of neighbors gathered by the Arnet place, among them Mrs. Terry McCann who, when all danger to the house was past, made a pot of coffee at her home and brought it to the firemen, a gesture of good will that was greatly appreciated.

Brackendale is proud of Gino Barone and his, perhaps primitive, but nonetheless effective, fire department.

"GRATEFUL RESIDENT"

PGE Loading Dips Slightly

PGE total revenue cars loaded on line and received from connections in June dipped slightly for the first time this year. The month's total was 5,318 as compared to last year's 5,562.

A drop in cars loaded accounted for the smaller total — 4,853 as to 5,185 in June of 1961. Revenue cars received from connections remained higher at 465 as compared to last year's June total of 377.

WHO Allows...

Female Influence On Drivers Good

Women drivers can take heart in the latest news from the United Nations World Health Organization, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

Without giving them an edge over male drivers, the international body came vigorously to their defense.

"Contrary to popular belief, investigators have been able to produce no evidence to show whether male or female drivers are more liable to accidents," said the agency, adding that women have a happy influence on the traffic accident rate, as indicated by the fact that "among the male community, married men have the lowest accident rate."

The BCAA passed along these other points on accidents issued by the World Health Organization:

North Pole Moves North -- Or South

Where is the north magnetic pole now?

Contrary to what many people think, the north magnetic pole moves. Since 1950 it has been moving northward at the rate of some five miles a year. Many maps show it on northern Prince of Wales Island in the Canadian Arctic Archipelago, but actually this was its position in 1950 when the last check on its location was made.

Another check is to be made this year. It is one of the many investigations of the earth's crust, which over 50 geophysicists and technicians from the Dominion Observatory of the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys are carrying out by means of geomagnetism, gravity and seismology across Canada.

The two geophysicists who will study the north magnetic pole expect to find it on southern Bathurst Island, about 100 miles north, or south. The movement of the pole is believed to be caused by changes in the liquid core of the earth. They will travel north to the island aboard two Department of Transport icebreakers, the Hibernia and the Maclean.

Biggest single project of the program is the mapping of the earth's magnetic field over 1,250,000 square miles of Canada's archipelago through to the North Pole. It will be carried out this fall by moonlight by Dr. Paul E. Serson, using the unique three-component magnetometer, developed under his direction at the Dominion Observatory in Ottawa.

Light Fare For Summer Reading

When the youngsters are off to the pool or away on other ventures, a good book can be relished in peace and quiet.

Squamish Library has a number of new ones most suitable for light summer reading.

Passports At Seventy by Ethel Smith. If you can't get away from it all, read about an elderly woman who took to traveling on cargo ships in her later years. Her reminiscences are delightful and her insight penetrating.

A Time To Pass Over by H. Gordon Green. The charming and spicy story of a pioneer grandmother who had run off to marry the hired man and helped him raise their brood of thirteen children. The setting is Ontario at the turn of the century.

The Actress by Bessie Breuer is the story of a small town American girl who wishes to become an actress. Her search for fame and happiness takes her from Hollywood to New York and then on to Rome.

City In The Sand by Mary Chubb. This is for those interested in archeology. The book describes the search for lost treasures at Tell Asmar, a tiny spot between Bagdad and the Persian Mountains.

Who Has Seen The Wind? by W. O. Mitchell. This is delightful summer reading. It tells of life on a Saskatchewan farm as seen through the eyes of young Brian.

There are many others that will help to while away the warm days of summer. Come and help yourself.

Farewell For Alpha Circle Three

Three members of the Alpha Circle of Squamish United Church were bidden farewell at the regular meeting, June 21, at the home of Mrs. N. J. Penrose.

Mrs. W. C. Campbell has been an active member of the Alpha Circle, serving as president for the past eighteen months. The formation of the joint Women's Organization was due very largely to her efforts. On behalf of her fellow-workers she received a portable sewing basket.

Mrs. R. Dyck was a staunch member of the Neighborhood Circle until that group amalgamated with the Alpha Circle. She was presented with a pair of vases.

Although Mrs. F. Snowsall has been here for only one year she took an active part in the Alpha Circle's activities and was given a cup and saucer as a farewell gift.

If our forests were to disappear, so would our wildlife and much of our scenic beauty. So would hunting and fishing, camping and picnicking. So would nearly 50 cents of every dollar in our pockets.

Today's MEDITATION

From The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
The Upper Room, Nashville, Tennessee

Read Joshua 24:14-24;
John 15:18-27

Choose you this day whom ye will serve. (Joshua 24:15.)

Good men can go wrong by drifting when they should be voyaging. On the sea of life we must not drift like derelicts but chart a course like ships that sail to a destination. It is not enough to avoid shipwreck; we must also avoid the inertia of drifting and going nowhere.

In the time of Joshua, people were drifting away from their true course by turning to their worship. Joshua sounded a summons to the soul of each man, saying, "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." He reminded the people who they were and whose they were.

To live is to choose! God calls us to choose between good and evil, between godliness and worldliness. We are made for God, and only He can guide us into our true life. Failing to choose Him, we lose by default the glorious life He intends for us.

How will it be with us this day? Will we drift carelessly, or will we consciously choose God as Lord of our lives? Let us choose this day whom we will serve.

PRAYER

Almighty God, guide us to the place and moment of decision for pledging our loyalty to Thee. Grant us the wisdom to choose Thee now, our God and Savior forever! Through Jesus Christ our Savior and Master. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

To fail to choose godliness is to drift into worldliness.

Never In Squamish...

We have heard of odd happenings by strange persons in our municipality — some printable, some not — but never to the extent of the stupidity that would match that of an English bridegroom who went on his honeymoon without his pyjamas.

The story goes that an English groom is asking compensation from British European Airlines, and an apology, because the airline failed to deliver his pyjamas to him while he was honeymooning with his bride on the island of Majorca.

The gentleman said, "It almost spoiled our honeymoon."

The bride said, "He managed to buy just about everything he needed in Majorca — except pyjamas." And the airline could not deliver the suitcase with the pyjamas because customs officers needed a detailed list of the contents left behind by the groom.

Presumably the weather would be warm on an island in the Mediterranean. And one would think there would be a spare pair of pyjamas among the island's 500,000 inhabitants — for loan, if not for sale. Or is Majorca an island without pyjamas.

We know a business man in Squamish who has lost his shirt, but never his pyjamas, we are pleased to say.

Squamish TV Society Makes Plea For Free TV

Squamish Television Society is pleased to report that the licence to install a television rebroadcasting station has been received from the government and now awaits final contributions to enable it to carry out its objective.

The aims and objectives are:
1) To act as an organization to promote, develop and administer for the benefit of the community the improvement and development of television broadcasting and reception in and around the village of Squamish, and to raise such necessary funds and acquire such property and arrange such construction as is necessary to establish and carry out this object.

2) To acquire by purchase or otherwise hold, deal with, and dispose of any real or personal property in the carrying out of the objects of the Society.

3) To promote philanthropic, charitable, scientific, artistic, educational, social, agricultural and sporting activities for the benefit of the community.

We realize that other worthwhile community projects have been under way and it is, perhaps, not the best time to expect people to contribute to our cause.

However it would be quite a loss in a year of great community accomplishment, such as the swimming pool, to have this project fall through for lack of funds.

This satellite station will be just another worthwhile example of community effort as it will supply television to one and all without further cost.

Senior citizens and those who are not too well off will then be able to watch television without the burden of a continuing charge.

We realize that it is not selective programming as offered by the cable TV but it will be there for one and all to enjoy.

The manager of the cable system has told us that he welcomes this satellite as it will improve the reception of Channel 6 on their system.

To those who have paid the regular hookup charge of cable TV and are paying the $60 per year rental fee it may seem that our $25 fee (our only charge) would be an unnecessary extra. But it will give you the guarantee that if your financial condition should ever change so that you could no longer afford the $60 per year you will at least be assured of limited TV reception.

We have at present many members who now are on the cable and have joined the society for this and other reasons.

At the present time we have 133 members and need at least 40 more to be in a position to go ahead. We pay for the satellite and its installation and then it is turned over to CHEK TV. That company will operate and maintain this rebroadcasting station without any further charge to us.

We believe this project to be worthy of your support. THINK— if it should fail for lack of funds, free television is lost.

Here are the recipes for three long, cool drinks so concocted to please the palate of friends and family alike.

BASIC ICED TEA

Make a pot of fairly strong tea (4 bags) with boiling water. Pour tea in shaker or jug filled with ice cubes. Place in frig and add more ice cubes if necessary. Drink as is or flavored with sugar and lemon to taste.

LEMON-MINT COOLER

1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup snipped fresh mint leaves
1 tsp tea leaves or 3 bags
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1 pint sparkling water or ice water

1/2 cup fresh grapefruit juice
Lemon slices, fresh mint
Pour boiling water over the tea and mint. Steep 5 minutes; strain. Combine tea with sugar, stirring until dissolved; cool. Add remaining ingredients except lemon slices and mint. Pour into ice-filled glasses. Garnish with lemon slices and fresh mint. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

LEMON-MELON MIST

Let your electric blender whip up this frosty green mist of fresh lemon, ripe melon and lime sherbet.
1/2 cup diced ripe cantaloupe
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup lime sherbet
3 tbsps fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup finely crushed ice
Place cantaloupe in electric blender; cover and blend until smooth. Or, mash cantaloupe and press through sieve. Add remaining ingredients except cantaloupe ball and lemon slice, and blend or shake vigorously until frothy. Pour at once into chilled glass. Garnish with cantaloupe ball and lemon slice. Makes one serving.

STRAWBERRY-LEMON FLIP

Summer's favorite float satisfies any thirst. It's extra cool and refreshing with fresh lemon.

1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup finely crushed ice
vanilla ice cream
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1/2 cup sliced fresh or frozen strawberries sparkling water
fresh strawberries

Place fruit juices, sugar, strawberries and crushed ice in electric blender; cover and blend until smooth.

Divide into four tall chilled soda glasses. Fill with chilled sparkling water. Top each glass with a scoop of ice cream. Garnish with fresh strawberries. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

Firemen Douse Legion In Final Game 25 To 5

Little League Baseball came to a decisive finale July 8, with league leading Firemen triumphant 25-5 over the Legion and taking the Howe Sound Motors trophy.

Winning pitcher was Dave Bennett with Ian Taylor catching. The Firemen's big blaze came in the first inning when they blasted Dorwin Hurst and Harold Stockman for 11 runs.

As their second inning score climbed to nine, Harold was replaced by catcher Gary Woods and Harold went behind the plate.

At bat, Jay Carrott and Bill Stillwell both got four hits in four tries.

Dorwin Hurst got two for three for the losers.

PLAYOFFS

An indication of the Firemen's prowess came in the first game of the semi-finals when pitcher Dave Bennett struck out 13 Lions.

Final score for this game was 20 to 6 with Bennett and Doug Harley the Firemen battery. Ron Kuhn and Bill Flack shared the pitching for the Lions and Jim Skerratt was catcher.

Dave Flack got two for three for the Lions, including a triple.

Lee Carrott got a homer for the winners in the fourth.

In the second semi-final Dorwin Hurst pitched the Legion to a 21-7 win over the Elks.

His catcher was Gary Woods in the third and eight in the Dave Lepitre and Victor fifth with several others in between. The Elks trailed all the way.

The Legion piled their score with runs in the third, fourth with four runs in the first, six and fifth.

Some Candid Comments On Loggers' Day

by Freda Munro

Of the capacity crowd which filled the seats and all available standing space at the Fifth Annual Loggers' Sports approximately one-half of the spectators were out-of-town visitors.

Most of them found the entertainment unusual, well organized and well paced.

Only two suggestions for improvement were encountered; one, there should be more signs to guide the out-of-town visitors, and second, have the master of ceremonies announce the winners in each event as soon as their names are available.

A number of visitors were questioned as to their opinion of the events and their comments were:

Mrs. Cora Gray of Vancouver: "We enjoyed this very much and promise to be back next year."

Jim Rope of Brewarrina, New South Wales: "Very, very good. Quite a change from sheep and cattle ranching."

R. C. Atkinson of Vancouver: "This was very well run and most enjoyable." His brother, Bob Atkinson, added that he "enjoyed the day's events immensely."

Peter Holmquist of Vancouver, on of Bupp Carson's closest competitors: "A very good deal but your loggers are tough to compete with. I shall keep in practice for next year."

W. Seymour of Vancouver: "Quite a change from the old days!"

George Judd of Montreal: "Make this a movable affair and you could draw thousands in the East."

C. Pincott of Vancouver: "A wonderful day!"

Summer Wedding At St. John's

The beauty of a summer bride was once again brought forth when Ellen Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Farquharson, Brackendale, became the wife of Donald Grant, son of Mrs. J. Milne of Winnipeg.

The double ring ceremony took place in St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday, July 14, with the Rev. C. H. Gibbs officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length full-skirted gown of imported French satin brocade featuring a simple bodice with short sleeves and rounded neckline. Her waist length tulle veil fell from a classic coronet of seed pearls and satin leaves and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. W. Muir (nee Roberta Slack) and bridesmaid Miss Olga Nicholson, wore identical dresses of emerald green satin with matching shoes and a headpiece of net and flowers. Their bouquets were of deep pink roses and green fern. Pinned to their dresses was a rhinestone brooch, gift of the bride.

Flower girls, Diane Begley of Winnipeg and Pam and Cinda Herndl from North Surrey were daintily attired in shocking pink sparkle organza over taffeta. They wore white accessories and carried baskets of flowers. Their gift from the bride was single strands of Aurora Borealis crystal necklaces.

Best man was Roy Begley of Winnipeg. Ushers were Graeme Farquharson and Richard Munro.

The bride's mother chose a floral silk sheath with turquoise linen coat and white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a matching dress and three quarter length coat of avocado green linen, white accessories and yellow rose corsage.

The Elks Hall was gaily decorated with pink and white bells and streamers for the reception. J. Tinney offered the toast to the bride and M. Seymour acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Servers were Mrs. Rita Barnfield and Misses Lee Gehhart, Marthea Smith, Diana and Barbara Seymour. Ladies of the United Church W.O. catered. With the exception of the bride's bouquet and corsage, all the flower arrangements were created by Mrs. J. Johnson of Squamish.

Organist at the church was Miss Linda Mitchell.

When the couple left on their honeymoon trip through parts of the U.S. and Canada, Mrs. Grant was wearing a dress of shocking pink, basket weave linen, topped with a white coat of embroidered boules, white hat and pink gloves, bags and shoes. Her corsage was pink and white glloxinia.

On their return the young couple will live in Quesnel where he is employed and she will continue to teach.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Holmes from Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster, Miss M. Cobbedick and Mrs. G. Galant of California; Mr. and Mrs. B. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Farquharson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Farquharson and Colin, and Mr. Alec Farquharson of Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. K. Gallier and family from Port Melon; Mr. and Mrs. R. Begley, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hogarth, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. W. Herndl, Mr. and Mrs. R. McKitka, North Surrey.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Muir from Prince George; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hanson, North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. Green, Britannia Beach; Miss Jean Marsh, Ron Groome, Miss Anne Rae; Mr. and Mrs. B. Rai and Mr. and Mrs. A. Kitteringham of Vancouver.

Shower For Mrs. Shindell

A combined going-away and baby shower was held for Mrs. R. Shindell at the home of Mrs. P. Thompson.

Co-hostesses for the evening were Mrs. M. Carrico and Mrs. A. Hoogenboom.

The guest-of-honour received many gifts from her friends. Among those who came to wish her farewell were Mesdames M. Dober, G. Hall, E. Focke, J. Barnfield, H. Robinson, E. Ellingson.

Those unable to attend were Mesdames C. Wyssen, J. Bird, A. Fraboni, J. McKellar, S. Foreman and Miss Linda Hoogenboom.

"Gals & Pals" At Chilliwack

Members of the Squamish 'Gals and Pals' square dance club attended the Chilliwack Round-Up over July 1 weekend.

Friday night they danced to Al Berry of Hope; Saturday morning found them participating in a street dance followed by an afternoon "work-shop" under Bob Ruff, well known caller from Whittier, California.

In the evening 400 enthusiastic dancers turned out to welcome Mr. Ruff and enjoy a series of round and square dances designed to keep them on their toes.

Evening sessions were followed by an "after party" where the callers treated the dancers to an hour of games and singing.

Attending from Squamish were Mr. and Mrs. G. Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. L. Pickell, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerhart, Mr. and Mrs. W. McAbbe, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. Reimer and Mr. and Mrs. J. Tinney.

PNE Invites Over 300,000 Children

Free passes to the Pacific National Exhibition have been sent out to more than 300,000 B.C. school children to be guests at the August 18 to September 3 Canadian Cavalyade fair.

Out of town children's passes are good for any day of the fair because of the problems parents from distant points have in co-ordinating their visit to Vancouver with home commitments.

Vancouver school children can use their passes on two children's days when Playland rides are reduced and the Exhibition is virtually turned over to junior citizens.

McNamees Wed 50 Yrs. July 25

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McNamee of Squamish mark a most important milestone in their lives July 25, for on that date they will have been married for fifty years.

It seems a long time since their wedding took place in Winnipeg in 1912. For six years after their marriage they resided in Lac du Bonnet where their only son Alvin was born. Their next move was to Edson, Alberta, where their daughter Margaret (Mrs. C. Marchant) was born.

Soon afterwards they moved westward again, this time to Prince George where they lived until 1929 except for three years spent at Fort St. James. This was the year in which they made their final move to Squamish where they have made their permanent home.

Mr. McNamee was employed by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway for a number of years, then worked in Woodfibre for some time before setting up independently in Squamish as an electrician. Before retiring from active work he was a partner in the Howe Sound Electric Company.

"Retirement" however is just a word to Mr. McNamee and he keeps himself busily employed as the local salesman for the Watkins Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McNamee have always taken an active interest in community affairs; she is a strong member of the Royal Purple and the United Women's Organization, while Mr. McNamee finds an outlet for his surplus energy in the activities of the local Masonic and Elk Lodges. Both enjoy their membership in the Old Age Pensioners Association.

To mark the golden wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Marchant will hold

HERE ARE THE FACTS

In order to correct any mis-information on the basic service charges, management of JOHNNY'S T.V. wishes to present actual facts as to charges for calls and labor on television sets by our technicians as compared with Vancouver shops.

	Johnny's T.V.	Vancouver Shops
HOUSE CALLS (up to 30 min.)	$ 4.50	$ 5.75
BENCH WORK (minimum)	$12.50	$22.50
ESTIMATES (minimum)
In case a customer does not have work completed; (minor check only) service call not included. (As compared to prices set by the Radio Electronic Technicians Assoc.)	$ 4.50	$ 5.00

It is abundantly clear from the above chart that JOHNNY'S T.V. positively competes with Vancouver prices.

Squamish-Lillooet Mining Revival

by Ernie Hansen

There has been a recent and notable increase in mining activity between Squamish and Lillooet, the first major exploration and development in a century.

At Brandywine Falls Huestis Mining Corporation has staked old mining properties, approximately 3000 acres, including the old Blue Jack mine.

The Pemberton district is being explored this summer by one of the larger mining corporations, Philip Dodge, an American company. They have a helicopter standing by serving field crews.

Up the Pemberton valley a large pumice stone deposit, the largest in North America, has been staked by a Vancouver syndicate led by Mr. John Ryan, formerly of Squamish. This affords interesting possibilities since up to present, all pumice used this side of Winnipeg, had to be shipped from Mexico.

Going north "looking over the fields of clover we overlooked before" we arrive, as the old timers did, at Anderson Lake. Here another helicopter is serving Canadian Mining Corporation, a subsidiary of Noranda. They have several crews in the field.

McGILLIVRAY
At McGillivray Falls there is an old trail from Anderson Lake to the Pioneer Mine. Here are several old mines where the old timers found pay dirt. At this location Cassiar Copperfield has taken over the old Golden Contact Mine, installed a 100-ton mill, and is now in production.

The area around Anderson Lake seems to be the centre of attention. Highland Bell has secured approximately 700 acres, Huestis Mining Corporation 1000 acres.

A road is being constructed by the Forestry Branch opening up tremendous timber holdings and mining possibilities.

100 YEARS AGO

Approximately 100 years has gone past since the last major mining activity between Squamish and Lillooet. At that time the miners went north from Howe Sound testing the creeks for gold.

They also went north from Harrison Lake, ferrying up to Fort Douglas and from there on inland to Anderson Lake, then heading towards Lillooet.

Miners arriving at Anderson Lake built floats and ferried up the lake to Seton Portage where they built a railroad between the lakes, the first railroad built in British Columbia. The year was 1861.

FIRST RAILROAD

This railroad was built of wood exclusively, and the motive power was mules.

At Seton Lake they built another float. Since Seton and Anderson lakes together were 38 miles long, this brought the miners within a few miles of Lillooet. Hence Lillooet became Mile One, being the starting-off point for further mining activity to the north.

Lillooet was the first place where gold was found in any amount — $8,000,000 was panned from Cayoosh Creek.

Now with all the renewed activity going on between Squamish and Lillooet, there is always the possibility of another Pioneer or Bralorne mine being found.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Halvey Hurren and their children went to Sechart over the weekend. Mrs. Hurren and the children will spend most of the summer there and Harvey will be going up for weekends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson enjoyed a visit from a number of his relatives recently; his father, Mr. C. F. Wilson, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson of Chilliwack. The visitors were accompanied by Mrs. W. Wilson of Matsqui.

Mr. Jack Murray has obtained three months leave of absence from the PGE and has flown to Ireland to visit relatives and take unto himself a bride.

Visiting Mrs. Lawson Rae are her grandsons from North Surrey, Jody and Arnie Loren.

Sorry, it was Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sullivan who went to Radium Hot Springs for a visit and not Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bishop.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Galaly on the birth of a son at the Squamish General Hospital on July 15.

POOL TIME is play time some of the time as the instructors Pat Quinn, centre, and Gordon Bradley, right, join hands with youngsters and jump up and down to get them wet on a chilly morning. Children

Moderation In Holiday Driving

The frenzied "600-mile-a-day-or-die" approach to holiday driving causes thousands of traffic accidents every summer, warns the B.C. Automobile Association.

BCAA President Halford Wilson said that the motorist who tries to set "a marathon endurance record" on his vacation trip runs the risk of extreme fatigue which reduces alertness and slows the speed of reaction to danger.

Calling for a more leisurely approach to vacationing, Wilson offers the following suggestions:

Start on your trip early in the morning so that you can also stop early. It is a safe rule to drive not more than seven hours in a day. Longer driving stints are dangerous.

During your trip stop every two hours or so for rest and refreshment. In this way, your driving efficiency remains at a maximum level throughout the day.

If other people in the car can drive, take turns at the wheel. Drowsiness and "highway hypnosis" are constant threats to the motorist on long trips. To avoid them, converse with others in the car or listen to snappy music on the car radio. Also, avoid heavy meals during the trip.

Above all, let moderation be your guide. It is better to cover fewer miles and return home safe and sound.

Chieftain Enlarges Facilities

Chieftain Hotel is enlarging facilities to accommodate increased business.

Both the lounge and dining room have been doubled in size.

The space formerly occupied by the Beauty Bar plus the manager's office have been incorporated into the Totem Lounge.

A new dining room with entrance off the main lobby has been created and can serve as banquet or meeting room if desired.

All the lower floor facilities are being air conditioned.

In '78 Hank Love Voted In Canada And USA

Centenarian Hank Love has never missed a chance to vote even if he had to cross the line into another country.

He told this story at the Brackendale poll on June 18: He first voted in Canada when he was 17 and as there was an election for president at the same time in the United States, he and his buddy crossed the border and voted there.

Voting regulations were different then in 1878. As long as you were doing a man's work you were considered eligible to vote, Mr. Love said, and no one worried very much where you came from.

PGE Hall Slated For Apartments

A plan to convert the PGE Hall into apartments was presented to council July 11.

Former plan to convert the least three months time building into a bowling alley cause municipal, public and provincial approval is needed to Patterson and associates of change the zoning by-law.

West Vancouver. Under present zoning and by-laws the property would have to be rezoned to allow full use of the building for apartments. It is in a commercial area and as such apartments would be allowed only above the main floor which would have to be put to commercial use.

To convert to apartments on the main floor would require rezoning. Patterson wants to put eight suites on the ground floor, two on the second floor and one on the third.

Chairman P. J. Brennan advised him that a final decision on rezoning would require at
