MB & PR build roads now for '64 Mamquam logging

Road building machines and crews of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River are coming into Squamish to prepare the way into the huge Mamquam timber stand owned by the company.

Approximately 13 miles of road construction will be done this year and logging will begin next year.

Tiny Kristianson will be back to boss the road work presently being set up by Bob Lasser. The plan is to keep the road work two years ahead of the logging.

Mrs. Fayre pres. church women

Mrs. A. Fayre was elected first president of the United Church Women at Pemberton, March 4.

The meeting was held in the basement of St. David's Church. The inauguration service is slated for March 17 when Mrs. McWilliams, United Church Women organizer, will be present.

Others elected were Mrs. Percy McCulloch and Mrs. Halliday, vice-presidents; Mrs. Sidel Ross, secretary; Mrs. Henry Menzel, treasurer.

On committees are Mrs. Talbot, manse; Mrs. McCulloch Sr., program; Mrs. P. Sinnes, assisted by Mrs. Halliday and Mrs. P. McCulloch, social.

Present at the meeting were: Mrs. W. Taillifer, Mrs. N. Halliday, Mrs. V. Lokken, Mrs. S. Ross, Mrs. A. Fayre, Mrs. F.

Coltister, Mrs. P. Sinnes, Mrs. McCulloch Sr., Mrs. Perry McCulloch, Mrs. Petrie, Mrs. Fred Ostman, Mrs. Morgan Miller, Mrs. W. Spetch, Mrs. H. Menzel, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. K. Harris, Mrs. W. Watson and the minister, the Rev. Archibald.

NDP open campaign

Peter Faminow opens the election campaign in Squamish with a public meeting March 19 in the Legion Hall at 8 p.m.

Speaking in support will be last year's NDP candidate Hugh Clifford.

Chairman of the meeting will be L. C. Minchin, Squamish.

DeBeck family honors father

The 80th birthday week of E. K. "Ned" DeBeck began with a motion of congratulations recorded in the Legislative Assembly of B.C. of which he is clerk and ended with a surprise family reunion at Paradise Valley Resort on Saturday, March 9.

Mr. DeBeck has been clerk of the provincial house since 1949.

When his family sat down to the birthday banquet there were 28 present, the youngest being his only great-grandchild, Denis Helgason, of Squamish.

Of his own generation present were his sisters, Mrs. V. McCrossan, Vancouver; Miss L. A. DeBeck, Salem, Oregon; and sister-in-law Mrs. W. A. DeBeck, West Vancouver.

In between were the sons and daughters: the Rev. Ward DeBeck, Coronado, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall and their four children, Petition; Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeBeck and their four children, Victoria; Mrs. H. K. DeBeck and her four children, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. Denis DeBeck with their two daughters and their husbands; Mr. and Mrs. John Visona and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Helgason.

Rod and Gun building at range

Squamish Rod and Gun Club is improving its facilities at its Mamquam range.

Last week-end volunteers were preparing the sites for a new club house and a new range for pistols and small bore rifles.

President Dick Bouwman, also heading the building committee, says the club house construction may have to be done in two stages because of shortage of funds. Size of building planned is 25 feet by 70 feet.

The range is already equipped with trap shooting facilities and for use of high powered rifles.

An archery range may be added soon.

START OF CONSTRUCTION on Christian Education Centre of Squamish United Church shows contractor Martin Halvorson, foreground, tamping concrete in foundation forms. Work will continue throughout summer and plans are to open in the fall.

North Road committee active

A second meeting of the Squamish-Lillooet Highway Committee was held in Lillooet, February 19.

Joining delegates from Pemberton, Seton-Portage, Lillooet and Cache Creek are delegates from Squamish Chamber of Commerce, Art Reynolds and Alex McBride.

The committee is pressing the provincial government for completion of the road, the southern portion of which was begun last year.

In a press release they ask, Do You Know What?

(1) Since the government has promised to complete the road to Pemberton this year, and as there is a road from Pemberton to D'Arcy, the construction of 15 miles of road along Anderson Lake would connect with the road at Seton Portage and provide a through road to Lillooet and the Interior.

(2) This road would alleviate the traffic congestion of the lower mainland that occurs on week-ends and holidays.

(3) This would open up a scenic all year route, following a chain of beautiful lakes, and provide a circle tour round by the Fraser Canyon.

(4) This is the answer for a quick new evacuation route from the coast in case of disaster.

(5) This part of B.C., so little known, will be your future recreation ground, and a great productive food basket for the coastal cities.

Home gutted by fire just after family leaves

Danny Thom left his home Monday morning at 11 after turning off the furnace and checking each room as is his habit and left with his family for Vancouver. When he arrived he was told that his house in Squamish was in flames. By the time he got back much of his home had been destroyed or badly damaged.

Mrs. George Forsythe, who lives two doors from the Thom's in Southridge, was first to notice the smoke around the house. Her first thought was that Mrs. Thom must be burning a lot of refuse. But then she saw that the smoke was coming from inside the house and she turned in the alarm.

Squamish volunteer firemen responded with alacrity but when they arrived flames were shooting out under the eaves. It was just about impossible to go inside to fight the fire, so they chopped holes in the roof and attacked from the top.

Little of value was saved and most of the interior and furnishings were destroyed.

Danny had been building the three-bedroom house over the past three years and had just about completed the inside. The outside walls had not been finished.

He plans to rebuild on the same site. The house and contents were fully insured.

How the fire started is not known, but firemen said it seemed to have started in one of the bedrooms.

"We never keep any matches in the house," said Danny, "so I'm almost positive the children didn't start it."

They have three small children. Danny is the proprietor of Squamish Supermarket.

John Jacobsen:

C. U. great adventure in grass root democracy

John F. Jacobsen, guest speaker at the annual meeting of Squamish Credit Union, called the movement "a great adventure in grass root democracy; a practical demonstration of people joining together to help each other."

Speaking as a charter member and the first president, he said the Credit Union began here as a challenge to satisfy a need.

Looking back on his years with the CU he said one of the rewards of this service was the strengthening of bonds of respect and trust among members.

"The greatest dividend," he said, "is, perhaps, the bond of fellowship derived from being a Credit Unionist."

FORMED IN 1944
There were no banks in Squamish when the Credit Union was formed in 1944 but there was a need for money at low interest rates.

The first man to ask for a loan was Ed Bishop who needed $400 to make up a down payment on his present home.

Jacobsen related that the directors approved the application providing Jacobsen could raise the money. He said he went around the business district in Squamish and actually raised more than the $400 by selling Credit Union shares to the business men. Bishop, of course, had to become a member. The next loan was to a Woodfibre man who needed $600 to buy a boat. The same procedure was followed, again the local people responded, and at the end of the year the Squamish Credit Union had $2478 in share capital, $2080 out in loans and 56 members.

All this business had been done in less than a month, from the time Bishop applied on December 6 to the end of the year.

"Small as we were, we were tremendously proud of this achievement," Jacobsen recalled.

CHARTER MEMBERS
The first officers were Jacobsen as president, Tommy Clarke secretary, Jack Castle, Ed An-tosh and Eric Axen. All were charter members along with Leo Davis, Cliff Thorne, F. C. Thorne, Rod Farquharson, A. Swan, Jack Edwards, John Foston, Bob Watson and Eddy Holmes.

They all bought one $5 share and the membership fee was 25 cents, so the assets of the Credit Union were $73.50 when the charter was officially signed on June 5, 1944.

Jacobsen said he came to Squamish in 1937 and, knowing a bit about Credit Unions, was not here long before he saw the need for one. He met T. D. Thompson who also knew something about them and the first meeting was held in the Farmers' Institute Hall, which is now a duplex residence and the first building north of the Mamquam bridge.

SEED WAS PLANTED

The seed was planted, he said, but it wasn't to bear fruit until April, 1944, when the Elks became interested in a Credit Union and held a joint meeting with the Farmers' Institute of which Jacobsen was then secretary.

At this meeting he was appointed chairman, Tom Clarke, secretary and on a motion by Jack Castle all 14 men attending signed as charter members.

Meetings were held in members' homes for the first few years but in 1946 two dances were held netting $80.75 and "with all that money we decided to build."

The first building, now used as Squamish Record Shop, was begun in the spring of 1946.

This was the beginning of Squamish Credit Union which now has over 600 members and assets of $270,564.00, over a quarter of a million dollars.

Crown land

Air strip site found along dyke

Site for an air strip for small planes along the Seventh Avenue dyke just outside the village boundary has been found adequate by the B.C. Aviation Council.

S. Leslie Brice, manager of the council which gives technical assistance on all such projects in B.C., met with local Squamish men Saturday.

Attending the meeting were Bob Bishop, Paul Russell and J. V. Puttkamer of the Chamber of Commerce and Pat Brennan, chairman of the village council.

Development of the strip would have to be a community project, Brice said. The Chamber of Commerce will explore the means.

About 15 acres are needed, 300 feet wide and from 2000 to 2500 feet long. All that is required is a 50-foot wide strip of gravel.

The proposed site is Crown land and the first step will be to acquire it from the government.

It is already flat and comparatively smooth, and would need no earth moving or leveling in preparation for graveling, which would favor minimum development costs.

If the air strip wins the support of the community, Brice said, the B.C. Aviation Council would do the survey work and lay out the project.

Awards, badges to 1st Squamish

Nine cubs received achievement badges and awards at the annual parents' night program of First Squamish Cub Pack, February 25.

Sixty-five Cubs, leaders and guests attended the affair which began with a casserole dinner served by Alpha Unit of United Church Women.

Ridon Eby, Cubmaster, presented the following awards and badges: 1st Star to Paddy Flack, Clay Carradice, Allan Reale, Eric Hansen, Joek Garlow, Brian Kyle; 2nd Star to John Hurford, David Flack and Robert Otto also received 2nd Stars in recent weeks.

Proficiency badges went to David Theriault, team player; David McCormack, collector; Eric Hansen, collector's.

Short talks were given by Glen Ballie, secretary of District Council; Sgt. H. T. Routledge, district badge secretary; and A. L. A. Hankey, representing the Session of Squamish United Church which sponsors the pack.

The Rev. N. J. Penrose, chairman of the group committee, introduced the guests and the parents of all the new boys that have joined the pack within the past year.

A film was shown and the evening climaxed with a campfire and rousing sing-song led by assistant Cubmaster, Mrs. Ted Hill assisted by Scouts Michael Flack and Al Smith.

Polio drive nets $521.60

Ladies of the Royal Purple collected $521.60 in their recent polio drive.

They would like to thank all those who donated for their generosity.

Lions Ladies Tea March 15

Lions Ladies St. Patrick's Day Tea will be held March 15, not on the 14th as stated in last week's Times.

It will be in St. John's Parish Hall from 2 to 4 p.m.

FARQUHAR MCLEOD will begin a column of Legion news in The Times and asks the co-operation of all members including the Auxiliary. He lives in Brackendale in one of the B.C. Hydro homes; phone 892-5081. A former soccer pro in his native Scotland, he is also willing to help report local soccer news.

EIGHTY CANDLES to blow out is the prodigious task faced here by E. K. DeBeck at his 80th birthday party. Family party at Paradise Valley Resort was attended by 28. On either side are sisters, Miss L. A. DeBeck and Mrs. V. McCrossan.

THE ODDITY in this picture is not the two Japanese chickens but the big bird behind. This was a hard laying hen for six years, says owner Mrs. Sam Baker, but this year she has grown a rooster-tail, comb and other male characteristics.

Co-operation Needed In Pemberton Valley...

Pemberton Valley people have a problem, have always had a problem and will continue to have a problem with its drainage and danger from flood waters.

No one better realizes this than members of the Pemberton and District Board of Trade. But the situation is not improving even though some work has been done by the Federal Government.

This newspaper believes that the Board of Trade has at last taken a step in the right direction in holding its first joint meeting with the Pemberton Valley District Dyking Board, the Village Commission and the district engineer and staff. Indeed it is only through a concerted effort of all public bodies can such a project be accomplished, for a united voice is needed before action is taken at Victoria and Ottawa.

Further, we would urge the interested bodies to call the general meeting as soon as possible to which should be invited every candidate running for the federal Cariboo riding. Tell them of the drainage and flooding dangers for, one of the four, will be able to carry our message to Ottawa.

But finally, this newspaper looks to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway management to be prepared to co-operate all the way in removing any hazards that might tend to hinder in the overall drainage problem.

Let's get behind the Pemberton Board of Trade and lick this flood menace once and for all.

Boobs In The Woods...

The Squamish Rod and Gun Club have done another public service by bringing to the attention of hunters and would-be hunters the dangers of using fire arms by careless people and inexperienced people.

We can view in sad retrospect the last hunting season when 40 Canadians in British Columbia were reported casualties. In order to assist hunting buffs to know why people get hurt, the Fish and Game branch of the Department of Recreation and Conservation broke down the fatalities with the following results.

A total of 22 casualties were from hunters with firearms. Another seven were from death by drowning or any injury other than from firearms. And further eleven were caused by firearms used for target practice.

Statistics further show that of the gunners who cause accidents 77 per cent have defective vision. Victims who were accidentally shot wore red clothing, but 60 per cent of the men who shot them were color blind.

Residents of the Squamish and Pemberton Valleys where hunting of all types is done by outsiders and locals, are most vulnerable and should insist that anyone carrying a gun is thoroughly trained.

But a man who cannot see or is color blind should not go hunting and the sooner that legislation is passed enforcing this act of precaution, the safer it will be for all. Qualifications for a hunting license should include a clear bill of health from a qualified optometrist and his license so marked.

Affluence in Squamish...

With the approaching of a Federal Election, citizens will hear the hue and cry against our economic system which has given us the highest standard of living the world has ever seen.

It doesn't matter whether we live in a luxury apartment on Fifth Avenue, New York or on Wilson Crescent in Squamish, we enjoy good living. But from this has emerged a new dirty word.

The word is "Affluence", which is whispered about and scribbled in books. And as we wander ashamed through the wilderness of our success, we murmur it over and over: "Affluence".

"Affluence" and the architects of "Affluence" have done it to us. That is what makes us buy things that we do not really need. That is why materialism is winning over things of the spirit and that is why the arts languish as the assembly line rolls!

So away with "Affluence" and all of its causes. If our modern economy has been guilty of responsibility, let us try "gooding off". If our system has been guilty of sweating it out, let us work shorter hours. If we have been guilty of tidiness, let us clutter up our highways with rubbish.

In the meantime, and quite naturally, we must find a scapegoat.

Who invented the car, and built roads, and developed mass production and brought the bathroom indoors, and packaged the food and developed the distribution and raised the pay, and shortened the hours, and lighted our homes, and sat us before the T.V. set?

Who stole the scrubbing brush and washboard from the housewife? Business is guilty, of course. And here is some proof.

Item: At the beginning of the century, workers in Squamish were averaging 19 cents an hour. Today that is not an uncommon three-year increase.

Item: At the beginning of the century, there were no paid vacations, no overtime, and the only fringes were on surreys.

Item: At the beginning of the century, only one family in five owned its own home. Today three families in five do.

Item: Only 30 years ago, it took 18 hours of work to buy an electric iron. Today we buy a better iron for five hours' work.

Indeed the citizens of the North Howe Sound area live well and enjoy the amenities of life — call it affluence if you may. And who is guilty of this "affluence" — why, it is good business.

Pensions To Those Who Need It...

Squamish Valley and district has its share of pensioners and the possibility of a further increase in the universal old age pension or of lowering the pensionable age by Prime Minister Diefenbaker is important news here.

According to Mr. Diefenbaker at a recent annual convention he may institute a five-year development plan that would include expansion of old-age security measures. Is this just hustings vote-catching?

But before such talk snowballs into a "demand", it is respectfully suggested that our leaders should be thinking of paying higher or earlier pensions, or both, only to those who really need them.

Pension costs are paid by the working man and woman and there must be some limit to what they can afford. If, as some pundits urge, the pensionable age were lowered from 70 to 65 years and the pension payment increased from $65 to $75 a month, this year, the number of recipients would exceed 1.6 million and the annual cost would be about $1.5 billion.

Clearly, the working people could not pay that cost.

It cannot be over-emphasized that the average working man, not the wealthy, pays most of the cost of old-age security. Of the $264 million raised this year by the three per cent tax on personal income, about 85 per cent will come from the $6,000-and-under income group. Also, as customers, this same group will pay most of the $305 million raised by the three per cent sales tax.

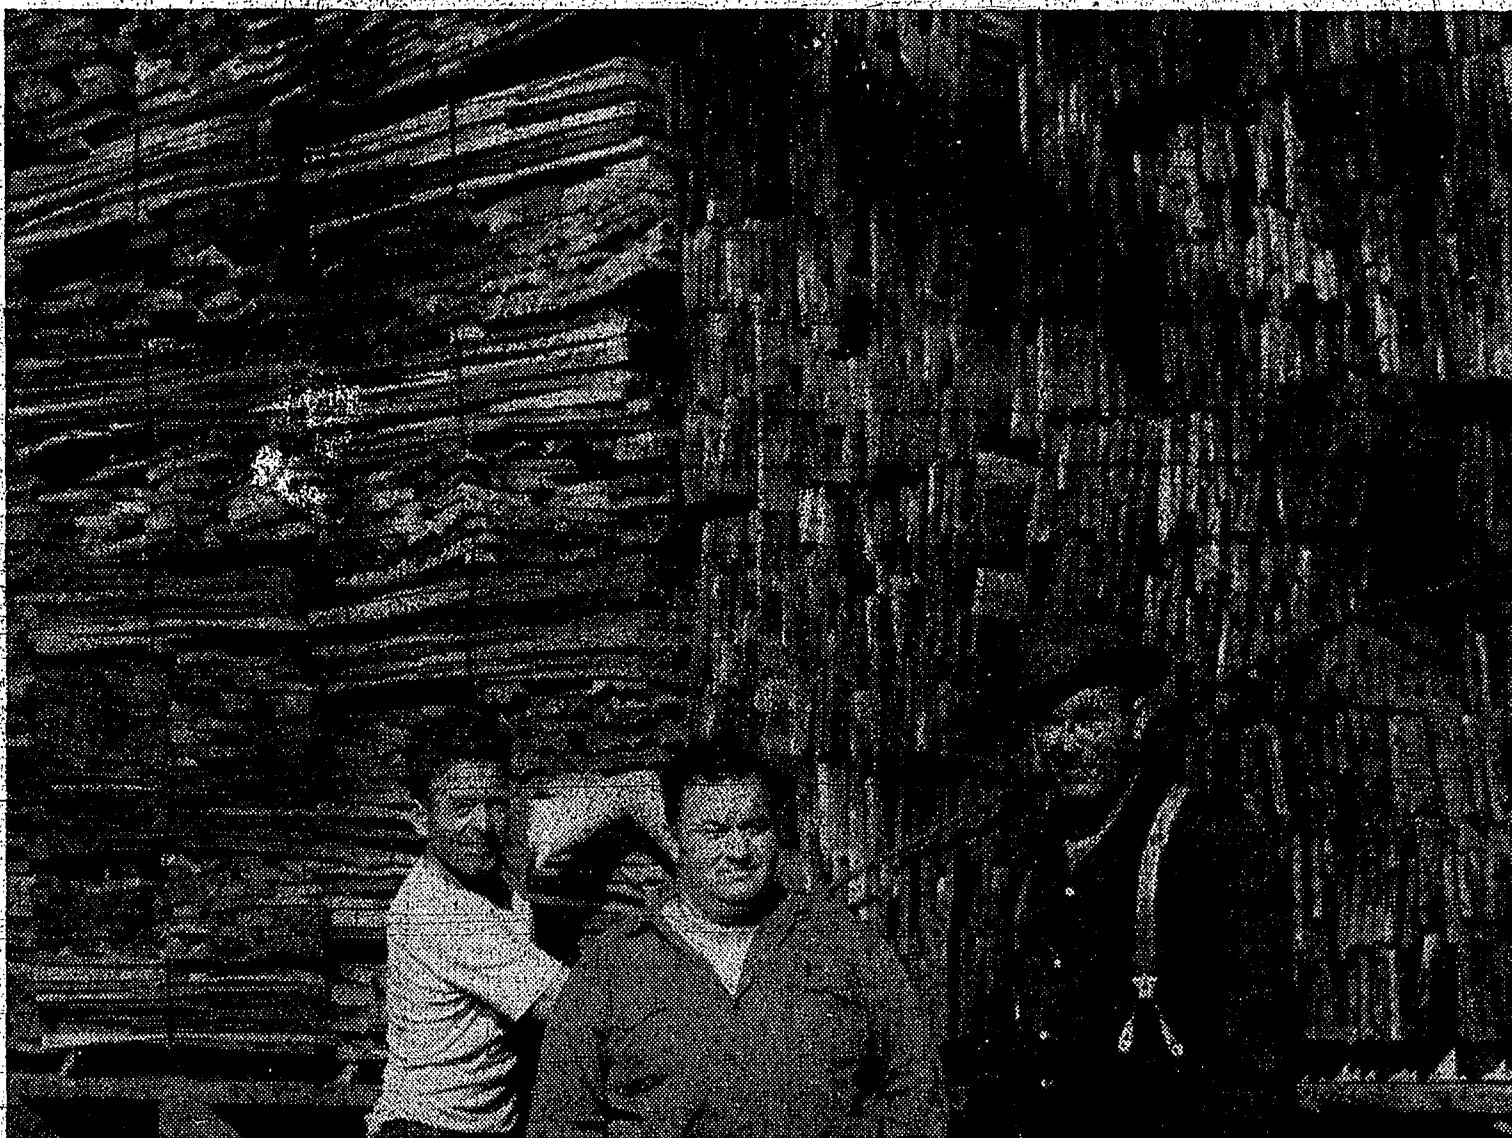

Deficits at all levels of government clearly show that indiscriminate spending must stop and that further spending on pension funds should be for those who are essentially in need.

But their status has improved.

Symbolic of the change is the recent decision of an Ontario municipality school board to build a covered garage for the parking of teachers' cars. The symbol is not to be financed by the teachers but by the taxpayers, at an estimated cost of some $85,000.

Status Symbol...

The active teaching fraternity of Howe Sound and our neighboring Pemberton municipalities can remember vividly that it was not many years since school teachers were so poorly paid they had to travel to work by streetcars, or walk if they worked in communities where public transportation was not available.

COAST CEDAR PRODUCTS is a new and thriving industry at the Red Bridge employing 10 men per shift. This week they start cutting shingles as well as tapers and resaws, which will step up production to 100 squares per shift. Partners in the business are Lloyd Roberts, right, and Bob Bigham. On left is truck driver Dave Friesen, Mission.

Straws In The Wind

by Mary MacDonald

Politicians should stand and be counted

Why am I temporarily forsaking the financial scene in these columns for the political one?

Because I feel Canada's industry and trade are in desperate, though not widely acknowledged straits. And that the only possible cure is by resolute government action — action in the form of pledges in the current political campaign.

Here is what I would like to see:

All politicians asking for votes from us would have to swear their party would —

● Appoint a National Planning Board to find what Canada can produce better than the remainder of the world.

● Negotiate treaties for fair, two-way, balanced trade, Canada to export what we can naturally produce cheaper than others.

● Lower interest rates to industry to help it compete in world markets, and ease credit to new companies following the directives of the Board.

● Cut government costs to a minimum by ruthlessly cutting bureaucratic payrolls.

● Cut income tax to reward initiative, bring capital back to Canada.

Party owns politician

But don't think I am without sympathy for our politicians.

Look at our local ones, for instance. They have decided to run for office. Running for election is expensive. To do it, they must get financial backing. To get that, they must join a party.

Look well at our local candidates as they announce themselves.

Each one, before the election is over, will be beholden to his political machine. Even with the highest of ideals to fight fearlessly only for Canada's good, once elected, he hasn't a Chinaman's chance.

The party owns him.

Once in Ottawa, he'll likely be a backbencher, a chattel to be used when votes are called, to keep the party's House majority intact. That's all.

Unless he's a man.

Men are rare nowadays. In fact, at this moment, I can't think of one. Except perhaps my own father, now a gallant 96 who came out at the time of the Gold Rush to B.C., founded some of B.C.'s major corporations for the

ABOUT THE AUTHOR...

Mary MacDonald, West Vancouver resident and dealer in securities on world exchanges for 14 years, has two basic beliefs.

First, is this. Today, some at least of Wendell Wilkie's dream of "One World" has come true. A minor event today, say, in Pakistan, may have repercussions even on the Vancouver Stock Exchange within hours.

Secondly, that it is not entirely a man's world. A woman's intuition on motives and reasoning may sometimes outweigh contrary statistics. As you read her, you'll often find when the rest of the world haws, she goes.

And just as often, she is disturbingly right. Mrs. MacDonald is with Hall Securities Ltd.

good of the people, nurtured them to profits and solvency, and then, retired from them, lest someone say he'd did it for profit!

Threaten to resign

In these times, conduct like that sounds almost ridiculous. And yet, it built the country. We need politicians like that, today.

We need politicians who will not only stand up on the hustling and shout that their party will eradicate unemployment, expand our foreign trade by the magic wand method, dam our rivers at every turn, and put Khrushchev to rout, but who, shouting that, will also shout that unless their party carries out this program, they will resign their seat in the House.

It would take a man to do that — a man who is so dedicated to his country's good that despite the risk of a quick end to his political career, he will demand from his own party that they carry out the promises he has made on their behalf, or else, quit them.

Clothes do not make the man, nor the possession of a resonant voice or platform presence.

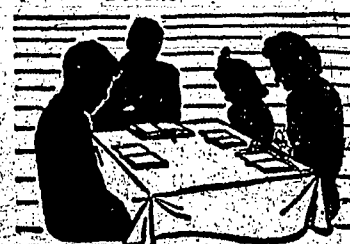

Action determines whether a man can be called that.

Let us listen to our candidates carefully. Let us note whether they in fact are worthy of our vote, whether in fact they will promise us not only their party's program, but as well, whether they will promise to resign if their party double-crosses them for political expediency.

Let us listen for that promise! And then, safely weed the men from the boys, and the rascals.

God's Pardoning Love
March 17 (3rd Sunday in Lent)

Read: John 2: 4-12

"I even I, am he that blot out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins." (Isaiah 43: 25.)

What a striking statement — "I even I, am he that blot out thy transgressions!" Our transgressions are forgiven when we sincerely want to do right in response to a loving God.

In this relationship, the Father's love is plainly shown. "I am he that blot out thy transgressions for mine own sake!"

A parent will sometimes punish a child by sending him off to bed, but then feel sorry for him. He will wait and then tip-toe into the room and watch the child in quiet slumber. The parent knows there is no resentment toward the child, but is concerned about the feeling of his child toward him. He wants no barrier between himself and his child.

That is what God is saying here. Because of His tender love, He has provided for our pardon. He wants no barrier between Himself and His children.

PRAYER: O God, we cannot explain the mystery of Thy love or of the sacrifice of Thy Son upon the cross. We thank Thee that we know that Thy love and the love of our Savior are shown to us through the cross. Help us to turn to Thee that Thou mayest pardon and receive us. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

Thought for the Day

Because of His tender love, God has provided for our pardon.

Seaweed as food not much value

Doubts that seaweed can become an important source of food were expressed by Dr. Robert F. Scagel, a UBC scientist returning from the Indian Ocean and what he says is probably the most extensive seaweed collecting expedition ever undertaken.

"To start with," he says, "seaweed is low in protein, and many varieties contain carbohydrates which man cannot digest."

Its real importance may be indirect as a food source and breeding ground for other forms of marine life, he claims.

Dr. Scagel has nearly a ton of seaweed which will take three years to classify, as a result of a four-month expedition sponsored by UNESCO and underwritten by the American National Science Foundation.

A number of poorer nations border the Indian Ocean, Dr. Scagel points out, and because it has been largely neglected by science, it is felt that an intensive investigation may yield positive results in terms of new food sources.

Other agencies in India, Africa and Australia are providing funds for other projects.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Squamish Times:

Canada is the only country in the world whose unions are dominated and controlled from a foreign country.

In the past few years more and more of our Canadian unionists have been calling for independent Canadian unions with headquarters in Canada, officers elected from the Canadian rank and file and union policy and control set up by Canadian union men.

Canadians are independent and dislike being filleted to by people living in another country. Some unions have already acted, either by disaffiliation from their international or by gaining Canadian autonomy within the international.

Canadian autonomy is the preferred method as it keeps the labor body united internationally. But, in the case of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers, Canadian autonomy is practically impossible.

The reason for this is that the international union opposes this move and, having a majority of about six to one at the international conventions, outvotes the Canadian delegation.

Therefore we must win the support of the American delegates as well as the Canadian in order to pass any motions.

Understandably, the American delegates are not too interested in Canadian problems. The International executive board has also refused to set up a committee of international officers and members of the Canadian rank and file to study the aspect of Canadian autonomy.

Our only alternative is to break away from the international union and form our own Canadian union which we are now in the process of doing.

Following is a resume of the steps to be taken to accomplish this end and a report on progress:

Step 1. A founding convention must be held to form a Canadian union.

This was held January 12 and 13 at Vancouver with locals represented from Castlegar, Crofton, Woodfibre, Prince Rupert and Vancouver Converters. A constitution of the Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada was adopted and filed with the B.C. government.

Officers were elected to hold office until January, 1964, at which time nominations will be accepted and officers elected by referendum ballot of the rank and file. Elected were: Bill Cox, Crofton, president; Evan Moore, Castlegar, vice-president; Pat O'Brien, Crofton, secretary.

Step Two: A vote of the membership of each local to determine support.

Castlegar has no international charter, therefore, after a vote of acceptance, they can immediately make application to the Labor Relations Board for certification as Local No. 1 of the Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada.

Three locals voted and the results were: Crofton, 96 per cent in favor; Woodfibre, 92 per cent in favor; Prince Rupert, 82 per cent in favor.

Castlegar holds a charter as Local No. 1 of The Canadian Pulp Workers which organization was formed in Castlegar early last year. They need only to gather a petition to change certification for this union to The Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada, Local No. 1. This is now being done upon request to the Labor Relations Board. In effect, all employees at Castlegar are now dues-paying members of The Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada, Local No. 1.

Vancouver Converters are to hold a vote and carry out the remainder of the steps after clearing up their conciliation board proceeding in some plants.

Step 3. Obtain a petition from members to be presented to the decertification from the International union.

Crofton's petition is in and a hearing before the board was set for Tuesday, March 12.

Woodfibre's petition was presented to the board on January 7 and no date has been set as yet for the hearing.

The Prince Rupert petition is being collected and will be presented shortly.

The International has at this point installed a trusteeship in place of the executive at Crofton and have frozen all funds and bank accounts, including the health and welfare fund.

The executive at Woodfibre turned in their resignation to membership on March 6 and turned the books of the local over to the trustees who will turn them over to the International at their request.

Step 4. Obtain a charter from National Union and begin signing members and collecting dues.

Local No. 2, Crofton, 94 per cent signed.

Local No. 3, Woodfibre, 75 per cent signed, to date and more, to come.

Local No. 4, Prince Rupert, application now being accepted.

Step 5. After decertification from the International has been granted, application must be made for certification of the new Local, showing proof of membership of the majority of employees of the mill.

An application will be submitted to the Labor Relations Board by each local upon granting of decertification of the International Union.

To terminate this report, I would like to state that, although the plants mentioned constitute a rather small majority of the Canadian workers in the pulp and paper industry, there is much evidence of support not only in B.C. but throughout the country.

Now that we have supplied the initiative we are, firmly convinced of our support within the other locals and are confident of having a rapidly growing national union.

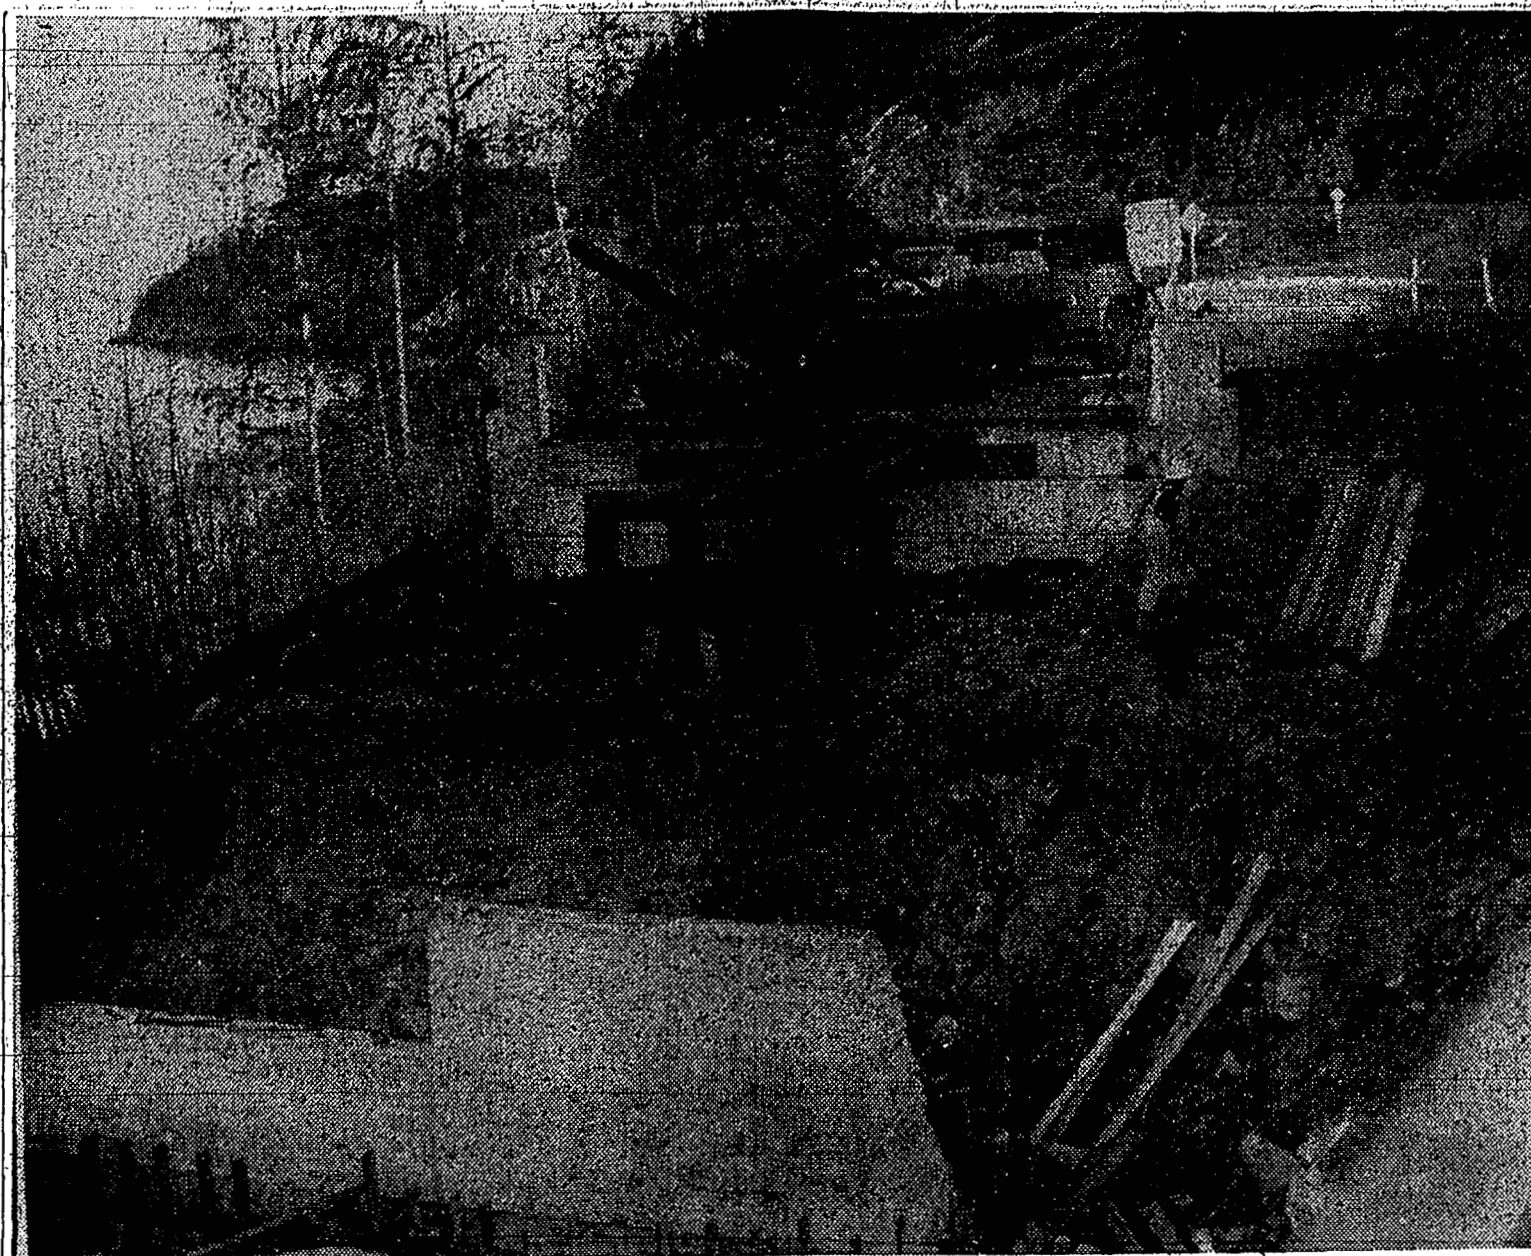

Yours respectfully,
Keith R. Hall,
financial secretary,
Woodfibre Local No. 3,
Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada.

Farewell for Mrs. Collins

Mrs. John Drenka was hostess at a tea last Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Fred Collins who will be leaving Squamish shortly.

Mrs. Collins was presented with a cup and saucer as a memento of her stay in Squamish.

Among the ladies present were Mrs. Richard Dickie, Mrs. James Hurren, Mrs. Les Moule, Mrs. Jack Carradice, Mrs. Ray Rennie, Mrs. George Forsythe, Mrs. Danny Thom and Mrs. Peter Harrison.

RECONSTRUCTION WORK has begun on the highway bridge at Brunswick Beach on the Squamish-Vancouver highway. The bridge went out last October during Hurricane Frieda and a Bailey bridge has been used since.

Pemberton seeks flood control

One of the many community projects that the Pemberton and District Board of Trade have on their agenda for this year is the very serious and important problem of drainage, and the great danger of flooding especially in area No. 2.

This area consists of from some 3000 acres commencing at the mouth of the old Green River where it joined the Lilloet River and to the mouth of Miller Creek where it joins the old river channel.

At the instigation of this Board, a meeting was held on February 28, 1963, in the Pemberton District Building with the Pemberton Valley District Dyking Board, Village Council, the district engineer and staff.

Two resolutions were unanimously carried. First that the PVD would contact the Prairie Farmers Rehabilitation Act, a federal agency which has given assistance in the past, in regards to an investigation into same. Secondly that the Board of Trade would assume the cost of having an engineer make preliminary findings. This would amount to approximately $200.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway has been advised by the Pemberton Board of Trade in regards to their bridge across the Lilloet River, that entails one of the main hazards.

All organizations and residents of the District will be notified and a general meeting will be called as soon as details are gathered from all sources. Any communication regarding same would be addressed to the Secretary of the Pemberton Board of Trade.

Night class attendance dropping

Night classes in the Squamish area are suffering from the change of interests sparked by an early spring.

Due to reduced attendance classes in house building and the Ladies' Keep Fit have been cancelled.

Attendance is dropping off in the other classes, but they are continuing until the end of the month when the regular season ends.

An especially keen group are the members of the Painting for Pleasure class instructed by Verne Simpson.

This group plans to hold an exhibition of their work at the Squamish Public Library on the afternoon of Sunday, April 7.

FAMINOW HURLS DEBATE CHALLENGE

Peter Faminow, New Democratic Party candidate for Coast-Capilano, challenged the Liberal candidate to a public debate on the basic issues of the election.

The nominating meeting to name the Liberal candidate will be held in North Vancouver this Saturday afternoon, and it is expected Liberal member for this riding in the last House, Dr. Jack Davis, will be the unanimous choice.

Party for Ken Bishop

Kenneth Bishop, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop, celebrated his tenth birthday last Saturday in typical boyish style by inviting his friends to a hearty luncheon of hot dogs, followed by a visit to the local theatre.

Joining Kenny in the celebrations were his brothers Robert and Gary, Keith Fowler, Ian Clarke and Patrick Hurren.

Coming Events

April 6
Spring Rummage Sale in Squamish United Church hall.

April 7
Open House at Squamish Library, with special exhibit of art work done by night school class in painting.

March 22

DOWN IN THE ALLEY

by J. G. Street

March 4th came and those lovable lambs the Early Birds put out some good scores.

Eleanor Bishop bowled a 233 single and followed up with 541 three game high. Peg Tinney got a 250. Freda Munro 203. Grace McDonald 212. Svava Brown 196 and Minnie Dyke 195. Nice Monday morning bowling gals.

The Elks seem to be hiding their scores from the public. Haven't had any for two weeks. Whattup?

The Riding Club also go out Monday and in the absence of Larry Urquhart, the Tailtwisters have enrolled Alf Angell. He started the night by getting an average of 210 — a league high. Rene McIntosh has 190 average for the ladies. She also took 248 for single and 564 high three. Bob Kuhn bowled 241 single and 658 high 3. The Tailtwisters ousted the Thunderbirds out of top place and have 13 points.

The Independents found Roma Shutz again with 255 single and 636 high 3 while Mike Knox took single with 287 and Willie Boscarol came close with 254 single but wrapped up the three game high of 661. The Untouchables bowled a team three game of 2626 but the Real McCoy's lead with 14 points.

Those Bantams are right in there like eager beavers. Elaine Cameron dropped a bit with high single of 140 and Gave Bowman took high 3 with 381. Spring fever, girls? Ron Kuhn hasn't been listening to the birds, tho. He got a 270 single and 709 high 3. Darwin Hurs has a 153 average. Ron's average is 183. Elaine's is 127 and Gave's is 108.

P.G.E. league has Eve Beckman with 254 single and 589 high 3. Bob Kuhn must have been getting some pointers from son Ron, as he took single with 256 and high 3 with 584. Other good scores went to Hazel Armstrong 201, Olga Kuhn 196, Tommy Clark 216 and Fred Bennett 215. The Chumps are at the top with 15 points.

Hospital Hill, league didn't divide, their points up much. Eve Worthing took 288 single and 570 high 3 for the ladies, while Jack Mahood got 260 single and 540 3 game for the men. Other good scores: Clive Flouch 203, Jack Carradice 216 and Don Sanford 206. Joah Knight had a 751 3 game.

Teachers — Britannia gang didn't share the wealth, either. Ollie Sherwood took single of 215 and 3 game of 555, while Ted Ulmer got 247 single and 628 3 game. Wilma Visoria made a 212. A. Craven 210, S. Comer 196, Tony Ramsdale 221, and Karl Heinke 224. On the whole, it was not too exciting for most participants.

In the Men's Tens, Rosann McCormack took a single of 186 and high 3 of 411. Spare E. Bishop made a 421 3 game. Marilyn Brock 155 single. The Pintails lead with 13 points, the Hell Divers and Mud Hens are tied with 11 points, while the Butterballs are plugging along with 5.

The Royal Purple were on deck March 7th and Win, Sellers took a 223 single and a 512 three game. However, Ellen Chueden bested the three game with 551 for high. The Speedballs are on top with 20 points. Peg Tinney made a nice 214 single and Dolores Bird 523 three game.

In the Howe Sound Timber league, Ellen Rae took 230 single and Rene McIntosh 545 3 game. Burnet Wood got 276 single and 689 3 game. Keith Hendrikson had 3 nice games of 234, 203 and 208 for a 645 total. A confidential note to Lou: No, this column flatly refuses to print the number of blows per person per game!

Garibaldi Estates find Jackie Fredrickson with 225 single, Giselle Eckersley 541 high 3 and Don Carson 228 single and John Fredrickson 669 3 game. The Credit Union lead the league with 16 points.

Last but by no means least, the Men's Tens has Alf Angell with a 231 single. Sam Bonde upheld high 3 with 532. The Two by Fives and the Snags each took 3 points. The former had a team 3 game total of 2329. Paul Mackenzie's team, the Spares, continue to lead the second half with a 20 point total. Runners up are the Star Theatre bunch with projectionist Sam Bonde winding film.

I'd like to get another tally from the Squamish League. How about it?

Coat hanger drive good

Recent coat hanger drive resulted in 1200 being collected by 1st Squamish (United) Cub Pack and they would like to thank the public for this fine response.

Another drive will be held in June.

In the meantime coat hangers may be left at the following homes: Mrs. Harold Kyle, Mamquam; Mrs. Ted Hill, Wilson Crescent; Mrs. W. M. Smith, Cleveland Avenue; Mrs. F. P. Flack, Hospital Hill; Eldon Eby, Sixth Street.

SETTING OFF for a holiday in Australia are two well known Squamish couples, Mr. and Mrs. Alistair Mackenzie (left) and Mr. and Mrs. Al Hendrickson. The happy foursome were photographed on board the P & O - Orient liner Iberia before she sailed February 28. They plan to return on the liner Arcadia in April.

Peter Faminow, NDP

Build Canada with a purpose and pride

Peter Faminow, New Democratic Party candidate for Coast-Capilano, called on the leaders of Kiwanis and other community minded people to determine the destiny of Canada by the Canadian people, and to work with pride for a social purpose for our country.

Faminow, himself an honorary Kiwanian, speaking to the members of Kiwanis and friends at a luncheon in Canyon Gardens, West Vancouver, on March 6th, said: "Our country today stands at a crossroad, and unless the people of Canada elect representatives to office who have ability to make good policies for our country and the courage to direct our nation to a purpose of the highest fulfillment of our citizens both economically, scientifically and culturally at home, and provide constructive positive leadership in the family of nations abroad, this country will not only stand still, but in a forward moving world it will go backward."

He called for creation of an economic planning board for Canada which would be composed of men from all facets of our country, to direct our nation toward a healthy economy at home, and improve our trade relations abroad.

He went on to say: "You all know—or believe like many other Canadians that you can act more responsibly than many of our present politicians. Why then do you not offer yourselves for public office? If you are not prepared to undergo the disadvantages of running for public office and sometimes receive criticism, then the least you can do is to clarify the issues in your own minds and then go out and vote for something worth while that you believe in.

What we need in Canada is a clear-cut demonstration by the people of Canada that it is not enough for a party to say "It is our turn now."

Faminow then said: "I invite the Liberal candidate to come forward and publicly debate with me the basic issues of this election, right here on the North Shore, and in particular the issue on which his party helped defeat the present government, the nuclear issue."

He went on to say: "As a candidate I say that I sincerely believe that the first responsibility of any representative is to the public and to his own conscience."

"The responsibility to the party is to use his vote to get the correct things accomplished. "It may be necessary sometimes to compromise the means, but the principle, never. If necessary one must stand alone on principles."

"I do not care which party advocates a particular constructive policy. If I believe it to be worthwhile and right for Canada, for British Columbia, or for Coast-Capilano, I am for it."

Woodwards give $250,000 to UBC medicine faculty

Dr. John B. Macdonald, president of the University of British Columbia, today announced a gift of $250,000 for the establishment of two named professorships for the study of vascular diseases in UBC's faculty of medicine.

The chairs are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Woodward's Foundation, and bring recent contributions of the Foundation to UBC to more than half a million dollars.

The Foundation's gift for the establishment of the two professorships will be made at the rate of $25,000 per year for five years for each chair. The funds will provide for the salaries of the professor and a team of assistants.

The Woodward professors will undertake investigation into the cause and treatment of diseases of the blood vessels supplying the brain, the limbs, the kidney and liver.

In announcing the gift president Macdonald said: "The extent of peripheral vascular disease as a crippling complaint in modern society is assuming alarming proportions when one thinks of our aging population and the ravages of arteriosclerosis to which it is heir."

He added: "The foresight of the university's friends, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Woodward, has again been demonstrated in this very practical way. We have to provide, at Point Grey, diagnostic and treatment services of a high order for the use of all British Columbians. We hope that the Woodward benefaction will serve as an example to other citizens."

Golden Operetta series coming to Star Theatre

world. An evening where the audience can count on hearing some simple, lovely music, easy to remember.

In announcing this series of "World's Greatest Operettas" starting March 20 the Star Theatre hopes it will be one of the most exciting events of the year for lovers of great musical entertainment.

This series runs for six consecutive weeks with one performance only, at 8 p.m. each Wednesday night to April 24.

The memorable songs of love and destiny that crowd the operetta series are thrilling to the folks who remember them with considerable warmth and nostalgia, and are sure to please a whole new generation of filmgoers as well.

Among them are such favorites as My Hero, Rose Marie, The Merry Widow, Waltz, I'm Falling in Love With Someone, Tales of Vienna Woods, Widows Are Gay, Girls, Girls, Girls, An Sweet Mystery of Life, and many more.

Among the great singing stars who appear in the series are Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Rose Stevens, Howard Keel, Ann Blyth, Maurice Chevalier, and the singing voice of Mario Lanza.

The object of this series is to bring, within easy reach of everyone, the well loved music of the world's most beautiful operettas. To provide a charming and refreshing evening of escape from the realities of this to understand and still as charming and romantic as it was in our grandparents' days.

Plots, set in exotic locales from Old Heidelberg to the Moroccan desert to the Canadian Rockies, filled with beautiful and pure heroines, fearless and gallant heroes and whole some laughter.

"The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg, perhaps his most brilliant work, has an old world charm that never really grows old.

The fabulous voice of Mario Lanza is heard in this beautiful romance of royalty, love and adventure in Heidelberg.

"Rose Marie," next on our program, abounds in romance, adventure and spectacle. It seems destined to play forever. Using the Canadian Rockies as its locale, it brings the color and excitement of life in the wild north with the stern and just Mounties, to generation after generation.

"Naughty Marietta" by Victor Herbert had its first performance at the New York Theatre in 1907. The story takes place in New Orleans of the mid-18th century. Producer Oscar Hammerstein declared that Naughty Marietta had the greatest music ever written by an American composer.

"The Chocolate Soldier" by Oscar Strauss adapted from George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" was a huge success. It is the deliciously daring musical story of a married stage couple who were a triumph in the theatre but domestically complicated by the flirtatious wife and the jealous husband.

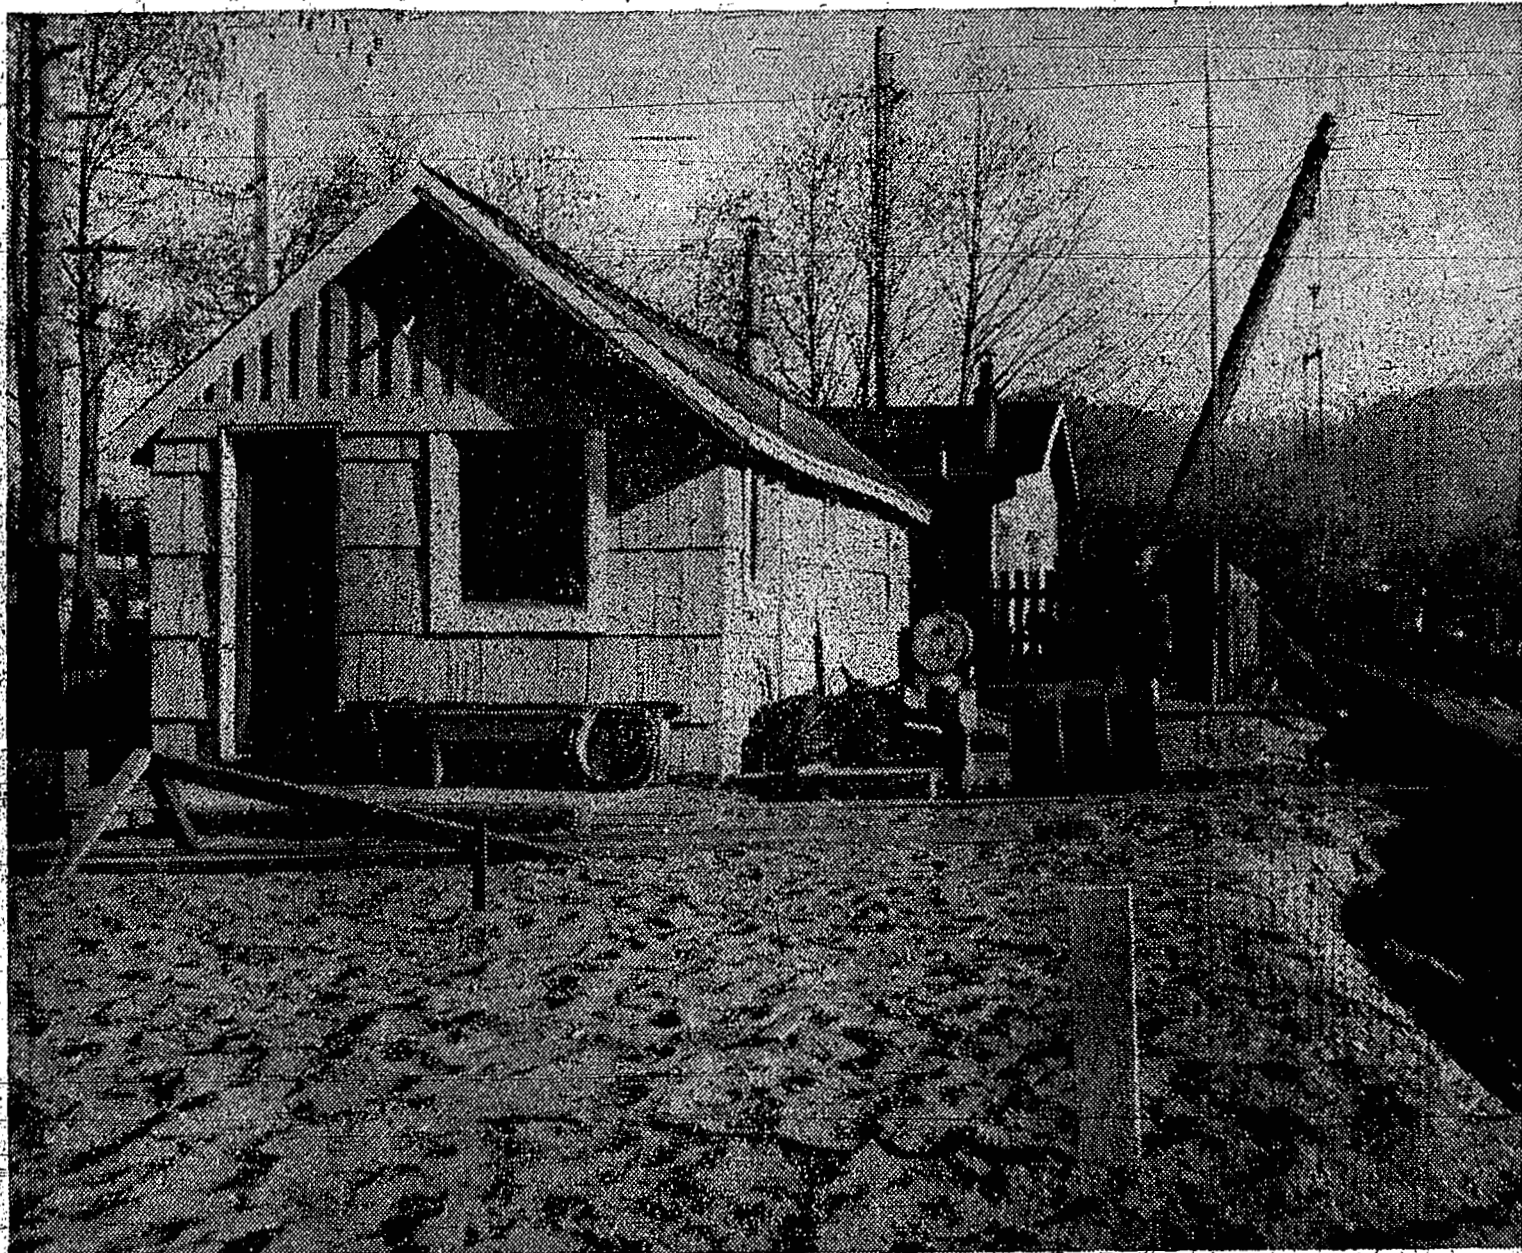

"The Great Waltz" by Johann Strauss Jr. is perhaps the greatest hit of the series and a rare treat indeed. In the audience not many eyes are dry at the end of this heart stabbing story of love in old Vienna, told in song and spectacle, accompanied by the world's most loved music.

"The Merry Widow" by Franz Lehár had American premiere at the Amsterdam Theatre, New York, October 21, 1907, where it played 242 performances and has been revived again and again.

The story takes place in Paris and is not too complicated, but Lehár in the Merry Widow wrote one of the most famous waltzes of all times: the one that bears the show's title.

In the last scene the audience is swept by a wave of emotions as the hero tells the heroine "I Love You" and they waltz to the maddening, magnificent Merry Widow Waltz and a happy ending looms for all.

Watch the weekly Star Theatre advertisements in The Times.

Freddy Lewis hit by car

Freddy Lewis, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lewis, Cheekye, suffered a compound fracture of his leg when struck by a car in Vancouver March 6.

He was visiting relatives on Adanac Street. The accident happened at Nanaimo and Georgia.

He is recovering in Vancouver General Hospital.

FROM SUN

Screens protect patients

Sun glare, the same problem that has plagued schools facing south in West Vancouver, has caught up with Lions Gate Hospital.

The hospital society has asked the municipality to agree to pay $6076 as its share of a $27,142 total bill to provide screens for windows in the hospital.

Council recommended payment.

The society had first asked permission to install air conditioning, but the BCHIS had requested sun screens first to cut down heat, then it would be possible to see what size unit would be needed for air conditioning.

When questioned by councillors as to why this had not been included in the original plans in the interests of economy, it was explained it was in the plans, but BCHIS had refused to share this expense and it had been deleted.

Now the BCHIS has altered its view.

"I hope action will be taken to see this does not happen again," councillor Tearoe said.

"Question is, what difference will there be in the cost through the failure to put it in the first place," councillor Lanska said. "It is short sightedness on the part of the BCHIS, that is apparent."

Soccer activity over weekend

by Farquhar McLeod

A bright sunny Saturday morning on March 9 put the boys of the Howe Sound Soccer League in good fettle for their games. Excellent soccer was displayed in all contests.

Both Mamquam teams surprised their visitors from Woodfibre. An early goal by Imre Sorban gave the Mamquam Juniors a 1-0 victory in a game where the locals had the edge, though the margin of victory was kept down by the wonderful display of the Woodfibre goalkeeper.

Their senior counterparts put on a rousing game. Harry Williams scored for Mamquam right after the game started, and with a penalty kick in the second half, the same player clinched the victory over last year's champions.

At Squamish, Bill Gosling's Stawamus boys defeated the junior Bombers by a score of 5-1. Pat Mulhern and Alan Harry each scored two goals for Stawamus, with Robert Bishop adding a single. Lyle Goodall replied with the sole counter for the Bombers. Both teams looked smart and businesslike in their attractive uniforms, and served up a display of entertaining ball.

Brackendale Juniors traveled to the Beach and beat out Britannia 3-0 in a sportingly contested match.

Perfect conditions prevailed and Brackendale kicked off facing a bright sun. Britannia gained possession, and with fine combined play, hemmed Brackendale in their own end. Marty Hopkins was kept busy in goal, stopping Britannia from asserting their superiority.

The "Miners" lacked a strong finisher. The Brackendale boys steamed, and in a fleeting attack, sniper-in-chief Shane McCann, triggered a bullet-like drive for a picture goal. His team-mates responded, Ed Hastings giving the local defence particular trouble, before Norm Ross flashed another ball past Len March. The visitors led 2-0 at half time.

The second stanza was evenly played, Britannia continuing to combine nicely, but lacked that opportunist in front of goal. Ed Hastings pounced on a defender's mistake to fire a third goal.

for Brackendale, and coincide the scoring for the game.

Prominent in a nicely balanced Britannia team were Lorne Erdman, Marlinus Horsting, and Donald McCutcheon, but coach Hans Van Unen has the others following closely behind these stars.

Brackendale gave a more ragged display than usual, partly because of the unsettling effect of constant substitutes going in. Shane McCann played a starring role, with Ed Hastings, Norm Ross, Alan Crosson, and the alert last line of defence Marty Hopkins, playing strongly all the way. Wayne Wassells, the starry right-winger, was missed in this game because of illness.

Another noteworthy absentee from this game was Don Ross, manager, coach, etc., of the Brackendale team, unable to be present because of business. This is the first time in three years that Don has not been at the helm of a Brackendale team, a truly remarkable record of service, consistency and help, which the boys, their parents, and others, very much appreciate.

Referee in charge of the match at Britannia, R. M. Rennie, of Squamish, kept good control and handled the game well.

Teams at Britannia: Britannia — Len Marsh, Amenta Nuzzo, Lorne Erdman, Michael Van Unen, Marlinus Horsting, Army Dornier, Ernest Laing, Kevin Kirby, Donald McCutcheon, Martin Dornier, and Wally Krzanowski.

Referee: R. M. Rennie, Squamish.

Soccer games scheduled for next week, Saturday March 16, 10 a.m.

Stawamus at Brackendale. Canucks at Woodfibre.

Britannia at Squamish playing the Bombers.

Howe Sound Soccer League Commissioners are: Chairman, R. M. Rennie; secretary, J. A. Ramsdale; treasurer, F. McLeod.

Referees are: R. M. Rennie, J. A. Ramsdale, R. F. Wagner.

Spare Referees are: W. Gosling, A. Constantine, J. Mahood.

MEETING

Please take note all soccer commissioners, team managers, coaches, and referees: the next business meeting has been arranged to take place in the Squamish Elementary School, on March 21, at 8 p.m.

Put your locks on your lockers

by Christine Mader

These satire coloring books are the latest. "Every one's doing it." Therefore here are some suggestions for figures you can paint and color according to these instructions.

Draw our washrooms and colour them smokey.

Room 9: paint it in icicle colors, ice-blues and other frosty hues. Show the students in it wearing mitts and coats and blowing their frost-bitten fingers.

Make an elaborate showing of the latest shipment of brand new library books. Paint them Make sure the covers and pages are spotless. Then put them behind a locked door or put a big "Keep Off" sign in front of them.

Pick one teacher — if you choose Mr. Walker, paint him blue (in oil paint) to match his sweat suit. If you choose Mr. Zbroff, tint his glasses rose "ear il est trop optimiste" as far as his French classes are concerned.

Don't color our secretary, leave Mrs. McCormack pure white. If you like you can add a halo and a pair of wings. Undoubtedly she is the best liked non-student in our school, as every Tom, Dick and Mary will agree.

The "Students' Handbook" which tells all the do's and don'ts (mostly the don'ts), should be black, and sketched of the type that can be expanded and can absorb the pages of new rules that we are constantly being confronted with.

As an example of a student, take Michael Buchanan as he appeared as winner of the public speaking contest: color him all over (liberally) so that he won't appear conservative.

Somehow ask him if he got paid for his speech.

In the manner of our unofficial school song: "Give a Cheer to HSS Staff Team."

Frank Field on tourist promotion

Frank Field, manager of Paradise Valley Resort, was a member of a promotional tour of California, sponsored by the reau.

The Hon. Earle C. Westwood, minister of Recreation and Conservation, said before leaving on the tour:

"I am very happy to be going. This tour is intended to stimulate interest in British Columbia. California is the most important market in our whole tourist industry. You can be sure I'll do everything I can to bring more Californians to our province."

Mr. Westwood joined B.C. members of the tour who left Victoria by motor coach March 1st for the Los Angeles area. Another group is carrying the B.C. Tourist flag to northern California as part of an all-out come-and-see-us tourist project organized and sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Conservation.

Few people realize that the commercial forest area of British Columbia exceeds by about a million acres that of the eight Rocky Mountain states, Western South Dakota, Washington, Oregon and California combined.

New Guides enrolled at Woodfibre

New Guides enrolled at Woodfibre were Patsy Magee, Sandra Alverini, and Fay Flockhart, at their first Mother and Daughter Banquet, February 18.

There was 100 percent turnout of Guides, Brownies and mothers for the occasion. Catering for the banquet was Mrs. Roberts of Little Chief Drive-in, Squamish.

Conducting the ceremony was Madame Commissioner Mrs. T. A. Clubb of Squamish. Also attending from Squamish were Mrs. F. P. Flack, Ranger leader, and Mrs. C. F. Appin-Flouch, Guide captain.

Woodfibre 1st and 2nd Brownie packs and the Guides provided entertainment for the mothers.

Newest in paper fashions is a paper tunic worn under ski jacket for extra warmth. Compact and light, it folds into your pocket and is chemically treated for wet strength.
