CONTRACT LET FOR WATER MAIN

Delmond Const. Ltd. of Richmond had the lowest bid on replacing the water main from the tank to the corner of Cleveland and Victoria Sts., with $52,773, and were tentatively awarded the contract.

Bids ranged up to $76,372.15.

The bid includes everything except the portion of the main which will be carried on the new bridge.

Council hopes that chlorination and fluoridation equipment can be installed within the $70,000 approved by the taxpayers last year.

Truck loggers' safety campaign

A safety campaign aimed at management will be started immediately by the Safety Committee of the Truck Loggers' Association of B.C.

President W. D. "Bill" Moore, who is also safety chairman of the Truck Loggers, said the campaign would serve as a reminder to management that they should not lose touch with the "human values" involved in logging.

"Our logging organizations have made great strides in increased productivity through new machines and improved logging methods in the last two years, but with the new prosperity there has been a slackening of emphasis on safety," Mr. Moore said. "There are still too many men injured, too many time loss accidents, and too many fatalities."

He said the campaign would be called "Strike Up for Safety". Committee members plan trips to camps of companies in the Association to meet with safety committees during the year and have personal talks with management to urge a "re-dedication of a sound, sensible safety program in the woods of B.C."

He said there are many good safety programs in the industry, but management must constantly remind itself to promote these safety methods continuously if their crews are to carry them out.

Although deaths dropped out from 51 - 45, he pointed out that time loss cases (over three days) in the logging industry have increased 25% in the past two years—from 3,225 in 1961 to more than 4,000 last year. Funds spent on claims climbed from 4% million dollars to over $5 million in the same period.

Work started on new bridge

Work has started on the new bridge across the blind channel of the Mamquam River which will replace the old Red Bridge.

Friday was unlucky

Last Friday certainly wasn't the thirteenth but judging by the rash of accidents it seemed to be.

Just after noon two cars collided in front of the Overwaitea store. Apparently the car driven by Mrs. Dave Smith of Garibaldi Estates, was attempting to make a left turn into the Overwaitea parking lot when it struck the car driven by Bill Clark. Fortunately no one was injured but the Smith car was badly damaged.

That evening a small Morris apparently shot across the highway when coming out of the Alice Lake road and ended up in the ditch alongside the road, while further down the road at Leski's crossing a blue Plymouth was down in the ditch between the road and the railroad track.

George Behner and Lloyd Sisco have been dredging gravel from the channel and hauling it to the bridge approaches and Harry Hopkins and his crew are drilling the rock at the east end of the channel.

John Laing and Sons have the contract for the piers and main foundation of the bridge, as well as the concrete decking. They expect to start work on the piers next week.

The new bridge will be built just north of the present one; will be 200 feet long with a roadway 24 feet wide and have a concrete deck.

As soon as the piers and foundation are completed, construction of the steel span, which is on a separate contract, should begin and when this is completed, John Laing and Sons will return to add the concrete deck to the bridge.

If everything goes according to plan and there are no delays the bridge should be finished sometime in April.

"Racer" visits Britannia Beach

by Betty McNair

The Canadian Coast Guard cutter "Racer" paid a surprise visit to Britannia Beach last Sunday.

The 95 foot ship, painted brilliant white and red, has a speed of 21 knots. She is completely equipped as an air-sea rescue craft with a crew of 12, all Canadians, and all first-aid attendants and proficient skin divers.

The ship is equipped with the most highly efficient radar system and utilizes high frequency radio for contact with aircraft, of great importance in rescue operations. They usually take part in between sixty and seventy of these each month and their territory extends from Victoria to Alaska.

Also on this modern ship is a special turbine pump for use in fire-fighting. There are four nozzles on deck, inhalator equipment and special inflatable life boats.

Captain A. Arthur and Chief Officer P. Jansen invited the local Cub pack and their leaders Marvin Arkinstall and Bob Lasby, who were preparing to go on a shell collecting expedition to Porteau, to come aboard and the boys enjoyed their tour of the ship.

After their visit they were honored by being asked to cast off the mooring ropes and the "Racer" sped away, ready to serve when called.

Increased carloadings

Carloadings on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway continued to climb in January, showing an increase of nearly 10 per cent over totals for January of 1963.

Total cars loaded on the line last month amounted to 4506, compared with 4121 for the corresponding month last year.

Log hauling dispute settled now

1st SQUAMISH SCOUT TROOP at its formation last week with Scoutmaster Hector Le Bleu at the right and assistant scoutmaster Ron Mallett on the left. Scouts: Jay Drenka, Ricky Eby, David Kuhn, Ronald Kuhn, Mel Lepitre and Sam McRae and new Scouts John Hurford, Vernon Kuhn, Sandy McCrae and David Thiessen.

CURLING CLUB LETS CONTRACTS

The contract for constructing the curling club building has been awarded to Banyard and Behner Construction Co. who tendered the lowest bid of $39,737. This does not include the electrical or ice machine cost. They will eventually have a building worth over $60,000 the construction of which will start immediately.

Money is still needed to help complete this building and it is hoped that people in the district will realize that this is a good investment and want to participate when they see the work go ahead.

Shares are still available and debentures at 7½% return. Any further information may be obtained from the 5c to $1.0 Store.

New rectory for Anglican Church?

At the recent annual meeting of the Anglican Church it was made known by Archdeacon D. P. Watney who presided at the meeting, that the Diocese had funds available for a new rectory for Squamish.

The Archdeacon felt that a committee should be appointed immediately to explore the possibilities of properties available or lots on which to build and also that this committee should bear in mind the future location for a new church to be built in the next decade.

The meeting was preceded by a lunch served by the Women's Auxiliary. At the meeting reports were received from all branches of the church. These were most encouraging and everyone felt that the church had had a good year.

In the elections which followed Harold Bailey was appointed rector's warden; John Hurren, people's warden; C.

Mrs. Cherry heads L.A. at Pemberton

Mrs. B. Cherry was elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Pemberton Branch No. 201 of the Royal Canadian Legion at its annual meeting last month.

Mrs. J. Graham is first vice-president with Mrs. E. Morgan second vice-president; Mrs. F. Cullister, secretary; Mrs. J. Leach, treasurer, and Mrs. John Decker Jr., sergeant-at-arms.

Named to the council were Mrs. J. Currie, Mrs. P. Sinnes and Mrs. W. Watson.

Billiard hall adds new table

Evergreen Mixed Billiards has increased the number of tables in their billiard hall to eight, with the installation of another National professional standard table.

In addition, Gray Mitchell, manager of the family business, says that he has installed the most modern automatic coffee, tea and hot chocolate dispenser.

The machine permits the purchaser to select his cup of tea or coffee from any of four categories, black, with cream, with sugar, or both.

We didn't try the tea or coffee but can testify that the hot chocolate is very good.

Village affairs interest pupils

Students in Grade 7 in the Squamish Elementary School have been learning about the duties of a village council and how a public library is operated.

Council chairman P. J. Brennan spoke to the class on the municipal council, its duties and functions. A question period followed and the youngsters really asked some pertinent questions.

Mrs. G. S. Clarke spoke to the class recently on the public library and last week, on separate afternoons, the girls and boys visited the library while she explained how a librarian checks out books, how they are processed before being placed on the shelves and how one becomes a member.

In the question period which followed one little girl wanted to know if "you could borrow a book if you weren't a member."

Mr. J. Tinney, principal of the Squamish Elementary School said that this program of acquainting the students with the town they live in arose from the inability to hold physical education classes while the activity room was being enlarged. He said he feels the talks and visits will "enlarge the educational program for the children. By asking non-teaching personnel to assist the students are getting direct information from people who have a first hand knowledge of their subject."

Other talks are planned by J. Carradice of the B.C. Forest Service who will speak on forest management and protection, V. H. Hurren, postmaster, who will describe the functions of a post office, Sgt. Tooley, who will talk about the duties of an RCMP officer, and Mrs. A. L. A. Hankey, who will speak on laboratory work in a hospital.

Mr. Tinney says that the students will visit the Ranger Station and see the equipment.

New manager at TV shop

Vern Sventningsen has taken over the management of Johnny's TV Shop. He is a technical school graduate with several years of practical experience working on radios and TV sets.

With his wife and two children he has moved to Squamish and hopes to make his home here.

Cancell., SVTOA working together

"The Squamish truck owners and Canadian Collieries Resources Ltd. have ironed out all difficulties and are both back working together."

That announcement by Canadian Collieries signified the satisfactory conclusion of discussions held between the logging company and the local truckers who had formed the Squamish Valley Truck Owners Association.

The log hauling from the Western Plywoods timber licence which lies within the Collieries TFL will be divided between the logging company and the SVTOA. Mike's Trucking, which had been given the contract and whose application for a log hauling licence had been granted by the PUC after a controversial hearing, sold the four trucks it had purchased to use for hauling the logs.

Canadian Collieries bought two of the trucks and local truckers Harold Burrit and Ron McCormack purchased one while Les Armstrong bought the fourth.

The first loads were hauled on Tuesday of last week with Collieries trucks being driven by two of their drivers John Hill and Tom Rivett. Helping the new men familiarize themselves with the problems of driving a logging truck were Association drivers Glen Casey and Richard Munro.

Hauling logs last week were the two Collieries trucks, C. R. Binning Ltd., Burritt & Son (2), W. C. Crosson, Gus DeCook and Len Lovell.

The Western Plywoods timber licence contains an estimated 60 million feet of timber and Collieries have to complete their contract to log it within four years.

Hi! Ho! come to the Fair!

Remember the Hawaiian Fun Fair at the Howe Sound Secondary School last February? There's another one coming up on Friday, February 21st, from 4 p.m. on.

Get out your Stetsons and cowboy boots for this will be a Western Fun Fair. The attractions will be similar to those of last year with a few variations. Instead of delving into a volcano for prizes young patrons will have an opportunity to mine for gold.

Would you like to have some odd jobs done around home? Bail out one of the numerous jallbirds and he or she will have to "do" for you.

And look over the local horse flesh. There will be a colt at the fair and a prize will be given to the patron guessing its weight.

Set aside the date and come prepared to whoop it up!

SQUAMISH, B.C. — THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1964

Incorporation Has Its Points...

The ability to change and grow is an essential factor in attaining maturity. This not only applies to individuals but also to communities. In the Squamish valley there are several problems which must be faced in the next few years if the development of the entire area is to proceed in an orderly manner.

Incorporated area, subdivisions and unorganized districts, all within a few miles of each other can create a great deal of confusion with lack of services in some districts and an overlapping in others.

There are several large problems arising in the unorganized area outside the village which will have to be dealt with before too long. First and foremost is the question of river control.

At the risk of sounding like a Cassandra, we would like to remind all those who have come to Squamish and the valley since the last big flood in 1940, that the Squamish River can go on a rampage, tear out roads and bridges, overflow the entire lower valley from the Brackendale store southward with up to several feet of water, and leave a thick layer of silty mud on everything it covers after the waters recede.

This is not in just the low lying area around the Big Chief Drive-In where the encroaching river can be clearly seen. The Mamquam district, Garibaldi Estates, the railway shops and perhaps even the village itself could be inundated if the right combination of fresh snow, followed by a heavy rain and warmer temperature arose.

This problem will become more acute each year as the upper valley of the Squamish River is logged resulting in a much heavier runoff.

The solution was proposed fifteen years ago and lies in diverting the Squamish River back to its old course along the foot of the mountains on the west side of the valley. But this will be a costly project and could only be done by a municipality, in conjunction with the federal and provincial governments, or by a dyking commission.

A dyking commission would be just another authority with overlapping services.

Planned development of the valley, in depth, instead of ribbon development is another problem which must be faced as the population increases. In unorganized areas there is no control over housing and anyone can put a shack next door to an attractive home. We don't believe in too many restrictions but can sympathize with the proud homeowner who sees such a thing occur.

Incorporation of the valley as a village municipality would result in better police protection, and improved fire protection as well. This is an important consideration in an area which is as spread out as the Squamish valley. Many lower mainland districts are finding to their cost that some form of consolidated police and fire protection instead of many overlapping ones would be more efficient and cheaper.

Other advantages would be the paving of side roads. Except for Garibaldi Estates there are no paved roads, except the main highway, outside the village limits. Taxpayers in the areas served by rutted muddy gravel-side roads must be frustrated when they see so little return for their tax dollar.

An adequate supply of good water is essential to the growth of any district. In Brackendale the question of a water system is becoming increasingly acute with the danger of pollution to wells in low lying areas. Experts claim that the Squamish water system when completely developed could serve a population of 50,000 and extension of the present system to serve the Brackendale area could be done without too much difficulty.

Of course the first question anyone living outside the village will ask is "How much would incorporation cost?" This is the first question we would ask. It is our understanding that taxes outside the village will be higher this year since the property in the valley has been re-assessed. Therefore this question may not be too important once the tax notices are out and the difference can be compared.

When the advantages now enjoyed by the residents of the village are set against the difference in taxes and the two important problems facing the valley, with the possibility of their solution under incorporation considered, the incorporation of the valley as a district municipality can be seen as a decided advantage.

Creation of a district municipality is going to be discussed more and more as the people in the Squamish valley realize that a decision must be made before too long if river control, and planned development are considered important enough to need to be solved. We would suggest that everyone give it their deepest consideration and discuss the advantages as well as the disadvantages of this major step which might well decide the future of Squamish and the valley.

Business Leaders Needed In Politics...

Why is it that in Squamish and Pemberton Valleys so few of our business and professional leaders will permit themselves to stand for elected government offices?

So many men, highly successful in their own affairs, are content to sit at home and in their clubs and criticize instead of getting down to the dusty arena of politics to do the menial chores of party politics.

Indeed there has been much discussion of late concerning the so-called decline of Parliament, for example. The press and assorted speakers refer to splinter groups and the way they attempt by filibuster to thwart the intentions of the majority.

They also point to the official opposition, playing politics at every opportunity, seemingly interested only in petty political gains and unconcerned with the country's problems.

Among those most critical are those who assume no responsibility. For after all Parliament is people and the selection of those people begins in municipalities like Squamish across Canada. The degree of interest which the average taxpayer takes in the democratic process determines the kind of government we do have.

It is not enough for today's business and professional leaders to pass resolutions in Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade. Their high ideals and aspirations would mean nothing until somebody wrote a law.

That law will be written by a politician. And that law will be no better and no wiser than the men who write it.

We must not allow popular government on any level to pass into unpopular indifference.

Democracy is the task of all of us. If that task be rejected and denied, we shall deserve that saddest of all epitaphs in the human story... the epitaph to a vanished democratic freedom.

Income Tax Time Again...

By now most adults will have the new Federal T1 Short Form over which several hours will be spent in painful concentration in working out income tax returns.

However, eventually we will find that by sticking precisely to the rules laid down to the streamlined forms we eventually come through.

But this year the T1 Short Form is tricky. It offers a strange example of Page Three not knowing precisely what Page Four says.

For example, A man with a taxable income of $3,000, for instance, will pay $439 in taxes if he decides to follow the table offered on Page Four. If he follows the scale on Page Three, he'll pay only $420.

But if he makes $4,000 and follows the Page Three formula he will pay $610. Yet if he uses the Page Four table, the levy is $597.

There is a reason for this perhaps?

In the meantime, look sharp, O wise Squamish valley taxpayer. Compare tables with an eagle eye to his own advantage and to the despair of the junior assessors who have to sort these things out.

belt are to prevent the wearer being thrown out of the vehicle and to prevent him being flung about inside the vehicle. It is obvious that only a snugly-fitting belt can do this with full effectiveness. The looser the belt the lower the margin of safety.

While the wearers of seat belts have sometimes suffered injuries as a result of accidents, these are minor in comparison with the serious injuries—and in some cases, death—that would have resulted had a belt not been worn.

Seat Belts Can Help...

For maximum protection a seat belt must fit the wearer snugly, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

A lap-belt should fit firmly around the hips; it should not lie loosely across the thighs.

A correctly-adjusted diagonal belt should not "hang" across the body, it should fit so snugly that there is just enough room for the wearer's hand to be inserted between belt and chest.

The two main functions of a seat

Herring fishing

A popular place with fishermen these cold February days is the small boat harbor at Squamish where herring are being caught by the bucketful.

On Saturday and Sunday the floats were lined with fishermen, each bent on getting his pails and pans full of the silvery fish. Some of these will be pickled and the smaller ones are frozen and used for bait in salmon fishing.

One fisherman said that the harbor is filled with the herring, who have come in to spawn, and you just drop a weighted line, with several small silvery hooks set at intervals along it and you can't help but haul anywhere from one to five fish up every time you cast.

LAURIE SULLIVAN
... 1964 Snow Queen

LAURIE SULLIVAN 1964 SNOW QUEEN

Laurie Sullivan was crowned Snow Queen for 1964 at the Howe Sound High School's indoor track meet on Friday, January 31st, by student council president Wayne Marchant.

Three girls, representing each of the three houses at the high school, competed for the honor. They were House 1, Rita Naujoket; House 2, Phyllis Beadell, and House 3, Laurie Sullivan.

Competition between Houses 1 and 3 was very close until the very end when House 3 won by a few points.

The Snow Queen contest was organized before Christmas when the students decided to use this as a means of raising funds for the various charities in the community. Committees were set up to plan the fund raising.

Collection cans were placed in the hall for donations. Another fund raising campaign was the three house rallies which were, in effect, talent shows and highly successful.

whatever happened to the "Z"? (for Zenith)

Ever noticed there's no "Z" on the latest type of telephone dial? "Z" stands for Zenith—and Zenith stands for free long distance calls. When phoning an out-of-town company or store, always check first whether it lists a Zenith number in your local directory.*

If so, merely call your Operator and ask her for that Zenith number.

Within seconds she'll connect you free of charge. It makes no difference whether your Zenith subscriber is 40 miles away or 4,000. You don't pay for the call. He does.

But please remember: you can't dial a Zenith number direct. Instead, you dial "0" for Operator. On the latest phones it's where the "Z" should appear.

* Should you find no Zenith listing, double-check by calling "Information". Your out-of-town company or store may have installed Zenith after your directory was issued.

Church meeting at Britannia

The annual congregational meeting of the Britannia Beach Community Church was held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, January 30th.

A dessert party in the church basement opened the meeting. Tea, coffee and a delicious assortment of cakes were served. Those attending were seated according to birthdays and later re-seated according to birth places. The native born residents of B.C. were amazed at the number of people born outside the province.

After the refreshments the congregation adjourned to the church where activity and financial reports of all organizations were accepted. These reports showed a decrease in general interest in church activities and a corresponding decrease in finance.

Rev. Fullerton presided at the meeting with E. Trace acting as secretary. Re-elected to the Church Board were P. Dodyk, V. Gladman, A. Smith and E. Trace, all for two year terms. D. McGregor took over as the new treasurer.

A canvass of the Beach by Board members will be carried out on Feb. 16, with the intention of rekindling interest in the church.

The meeting ended with a timely movie entitled "Food or Famine" which dealt with the population explosion and a constructive approach towards producing more food on less land. Thanks were extended to the ladies of the W.A. for providing the refreshments and for making it such a pleasant evening.

Britannia guides at meeting

Fifteen Girl Guides from the Britannia Company went to the West Vancouver Division meeting at the West Vancouver Community Center last Friday evening.

Each company put on a skit as part of the entertainment. Our girls, dressed as miners, with a shift boss and a foreman illustrated, with much glee and laughter, how their fathers worked.

They were accompanied by their captain, Mrs. D. Cripps, Mr. P. Marcanato, Mr. J. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. P. West.

Shoe shop in larger premises

Jeff Phillips, whose Town and Country Shoes has moved to larger premises for the second time since he came to Squamish three years ago, says that the move shows the increase in business during that time.

It was February 17th, 1961, when he opened his first shop where Johnny's TV now has its quarters. Approximately 18 months later he moved to the Mitchell Building and the latest move has taken him to the former Overwaita store where his business occupies the northern half of the building.

Prior to coming to Squamish Mr. Phillips travelled on the road for years for several firms dealing with both leather and rubber footwear.

"The new quarters have given us more room, double our previous floor space," he said. "We also have a better opportunity to display our wares. I feel that this is a good shopping area," he continued, "with thriving businesses on either side of the street."

"We have increased our stock," he added, "and are planning to add more lines of men's clothing and men's furnishings."

Circulation tops 1000

January was a record circulation month at the Squamish Public Library with 1046 books loaned during the month.

This is the first time a month's circulation has exceeded the thousand mark and the librarians feel it is a good start on their hope that the "ten thousand" annual circulation mark will be broken this year.

First Squamish Scout Troop

"In all my years of Scouting, since I first joined as a Wolf Cub in 1936, this is the first time I have ever been present at the birth of a Scout Troop," District Commissioner John Powell told the Cubs, Scouts and leaders assembled in the United Church Hall last Wednesday evening.

"It is a great moment," he added, "and one that very few District Commissioners see."

The new troop consists of former Scouts and Cubs from both the 1st and 2nd Squamish Packs will be eligible to move up into the senior group.

Other former Scouts have formed the 3rd Squamish Sea Scouts under the leadership of Capt. J. Auclair. Their project is affixing their ship for use as a sailing vessel.

Akela Mrs. T. Hill of the 1st Squamish Cub Pack heard four of the nine Cubs who are moving up to the troop, repeat their promise and watched them go up to Scouts. They were John Hurford, Vernon Kuhn, Sandy McCrae and David Thiesen. Ready to go up but absent at the meeting were Cubs Robert Otto, Billy Phillips, Bobby Phillips, Marvin Williams and Richard Williams.

Hector LeBlond is the Scoutmaster for the new troop with Ron Mallett as his assistant. Former Scouts who will form the nucleus of the group are Jay Dranka, Ricky Eby, David Kuhn, Ronald Kuhn, Mel Lepitre and Sam McRae.

Integrity, responsibility, accuracy and leadership are what makes a newspaper a vital community force, according to a committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors which undertook a long-term study to determine criteria for a good newspaper.

Boys form ball club

Members of the Cardinals and Titans football teams have formed the Squamish Football Club, elected their own officers and will run the club themselves with the minimum of assistance from their leaders.

Philip Manson was elected president, Dave Bennett is vice president, with Victor Marks as secretary-treasurer. Cardinals on the executive are Doug Hoodkott, Gordon Cameron and Don Kennedy, while Dale Shaw and Danny Woods represent the Titans.

The boys have formed several committees. Ways and Means for raising funds, Membership and Entertainment. They plan to hold a membership drive early this year and will be offering prizes of two transistor radios to be awarded to the member whose name is drawn.

The local football teams have always been self supporting and while they are members of the Gordon Sturbridge League, they have never received any financial assistance from the group.

DOWN IN THE ALLEY

In the Early Birds League this week, Lou Skeratt bowled the high single and triple with 248 and 641. Other good scores were made by Irene Buffrey 232 and 596 (triple), Julie Thorpe, Flora Blasko, Dorothy Lipsie, and Mary Hurren bowled games over 200.

For the men, Al Angell took the single and triple with 327 and 748. Other good scores were made by R. Roberts 215 and Max Tetachuk 253. Max Tetachuk also bowled a triple of 608.

Watch these bowlers

Ronald Kuhn and Sam McRae are going to be bowlers to watch if their present trend continues. Already possessors of 300 pins, these two boys have also rolled up triples of over 800 points.

For two 13 year olds to bowl games like this in the same week is more than a little out of the ordinary. Sam McRae, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McRae, rolled a 335 single and an 842 triple last week to top the Bantam League, closely followed by Ronald Kuhn, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kuhn, whose single of 330 and 324 triple was only a few points behind.

Bowling alley owner Ken Vass says that he plans to form a team of these younger players to compete in bowling tournaments next year. They'll be worth watching.

Snooker tournament

Evergreen Mixed Billiards will hold the Howe Sound Snooker Tournament in Squamish next month.

There will be three classes, with prizes in each class, and a trophy for the top winner.

Entries in the tournament close on March 1st and all those wishing to compete must register at Evergreen Mixed Billiards before that date.
