V.L.A. RATEPAYERS CHOOSE COMMITTEE

Members of the V.L.A. Ratepayers group, in an election last Wednesday evening chose a new committee to head their group. Named to the committee were R. W. Carroll, D. Fenton, A. Hutson and R. Johnson. Mrs. R. Antille was chosen secretary of the group. The chairman will be elected at the first executive meeting.

The election followed a meeting at which discussion concerning the drawing up of plans for any future subdividing of the area was discussed.

A committee to work on the plan was elected with M. A. Carrico, A. Hutson and R. Johnson named to the committee.

They will investigate the drawing of a master plan for any future subdividing of the veterans' property. This plan could then be presented to council and, if approved, would be the basis on which any additional subdividing would be done.

School principal dies suddenly

William James Tinney, aged 44 years, died suddenly on Saturday evening, July 10th, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Kindree.

Tinney, who had been teaching in the Howe Sound School District since September of 1951, was principal of Squamish Elementary School, a position he had held since the new school was built. Prior to that he was appointed principal of the elementary section of the combined School in September of 1956.

With his wife, Mr. Tinney was at a party honoring retiring president of the Lions Club, Dave Latimer. With other guests he had been swimming in the pool but left the water and was talking to some guests in the pool area of the Kindree home when he collapsed.

Oxygen and artificial respiration were immediately applied by Dr. Kindree but attempts to revive him were unsuccessful.

Mr. Tinney had a previous heart attack several years ago.

He was keenly interested in music and a talented pianist as well as the leader of the Glee Club for many years. Mr. Tinney's work as a musician in the local orchestra and as a member of the Square Dance Club will be sadly missed. He was very active in the Recreational Association in the early years of his life in Squamish.

He is survived by his loving wife, Peggy, three sons, Bill, Chris and Jeff, and four daughters, Pat, Shannon, Sean and Shelley, all at home; his father William Tinney of Port Kells; three brothers, Roy of Pullman, Wash., Art of Alert Bay and Ron of Alberni, and his sister Gwen of Port Kells.

A private funeral service was held on July 14th from the Holyburn Funeral Home in West Vancouver followed by cremation.

Five accidents on highway

Several motor vehicles were involved in five accidents on the highway between Squamish and Horseshoe Bay recently.

On July 7th, Claude Joseph Auclair was proceeding northward on Highway 99 when his car left the east side of the highway and was extensively damaged. He was charged under the motor vehicle act of driving without due care and attention.

On the following day, a cement truck, driven by Lloyd Twiss, overturned while making a turn into Darrell Bay. The truck hit an abutment and slowly overturned, hitting a 1964 Galaxie. Damage amounted to about one thousand dollars.

On July 9th, a three-car collision involving a vehicle driven by Lyle Wickstrom of Woodfibre, one driven by Melvin McAuley of North Surrey and one driven by Lefty Hendrickson of Squamish, occurred on the highway six miles north of Horseshoe Bay.

Passengers in the Wickstrom car were taken to Lions Gate Hospital and later released.

The car driven by Wickstrom was proceeding north on the highway, hit the shoulder of the road and went into a skid, hitting McAuley's vehicle head on and then hitting Hendrickson's.

Wickstrom was charged with driving without due care and attention.

On the following day G. C. U. Wilson suffered lacerations and a stiff neck, while damages amounting to about one thousand dollars occurred to his vehicle where he hit a shoulder while making a right hand turn about eight miles north of Horseshoe Bay and his car flipped over.

On July 13th, a vehicle driven by G. S. Freeman of Victoria, was involved in a rear end collision with one driven by J. D. Hupe of North Surrey. Freeman, who was charged with following too close behind another vehicle, hit Hupe's vehicle when the latter stopped to park.

Charges hurled at council

Stormy meeting about VLA property subdivision

Charges of "dictatorship" and "ultimatum" were hurled at the municipal council last Wednesday evening when Reeve P. J. Brennan, councillors I. Boscarriol, M. A. Carrico, G. Dickie and G. Mitchell, with municipal clerk B. Hoover, attended a meeting in the Mamquam School to discuss questions arising from an application to subdivide a V.L.A. lot.

C. Bellis was chairman of the meeting with Mrs. R. A. Antille, secretary.

The charges were made after the reeve said no permit to subdivide would be given until an overall plan for any future subdividing of the present subdivision was presented to council.

E. B. MacDonald said that this in effect meant that "council has presented us with an ultimatum that if we don't submit a plan we can't subdivide."

Neil Blue jumped to his feet and shouted that this was dictatorship.

PLAN MUST BE PRESENTED

The reeve replied that "you can rant and rave all you wish but every subdivider who has ever come before a municipal council has always charged dictatorship." He added that the plan was necessary in order to show the future location of roads lanes, water and sewer lines etc.

The reeve had earlier explained that unless such a plan was presented prior to any subdividing being permitted, difficulties could arise if others wished to divide their property later and for reasons of lack of sufficient land, proper roads, or other facilities, had to be refused.

He said this had happened in earlier subdivisions in the Squamish area.

C. Bellis opened the meeting by outlining some of the background to the question. He said he had attended a local meeting at which blacktopping was discussed also some questions concerning subdivision. When he heard a V.L.A. director was meeting with council as some question of whether they or the V.L.A. held property rights on the land in question had arisen, he attended that meeting and from it the idea of a meeting with the V.L.A. residents arose.

SEKS TO SUBDIVIDE Brennan and Bellis both mentioned planning, the reeve saying the plan would need to be presented and Bellis adding that a committee should be set up to see if such a plan, permitting access to all lots be made up.

D. Fenton wished to know what had been discussed regarding subdivision and this touched off the first argument of the evening.

Bellis said Brennan had stated Carrico had presented a plan and M. A. Carrico rose to his feet saying he had done no such thing and wished Bellis to retract the statement.

"I won't retract anything I say," Bellis retorted and Brennan rose to interject that Carrico had not submitted a plan.

R. M. Carroll rose to his feet and said he had presented the plan, asking to be permitted to subdivide. He said V.L.A. officials told him as long as it met with council's approval, they would agree to it.

At the meeting with council the officials said they were wholeheartedly in favor of the suggestion that there be an overall plan, the reeve told the meeting, and they had advised council to insist upon it.

MUST EVERYONE SUBDIVIDE?

Bellis wanted to know if after an overall plan was provided, would the V.L.A. residents be taxed on it as land which could be subdivided and would they have to donate the land for roads and lanes or would they be reimbursed?

Mrs. Bellis wanted to know if some people wished to subdivide would everyone have to do so?

The reeve replied by saying "If you don't want to subdivide, you don't have to. No one is going to make you do so."

In answer to the earlier question he said no one would be paid for land needed for roads and lanes if they wished to subdivide and sell. They would be governed by the subdivision by-law which says this responsibility belongs to the subdivider.

Questions of lot sizes were discussed and one man said when roads, etc., were taken out, the lot sizes would be too small. This was just the trouble, the reeve said, when people consider it they can see the problems involved.

SIMPLE PLAN SUFFICIENT

M. A. Carrico drew the meeting's attention to the board where a map of the subdivision showed how it would be impossible to divide most of the lots into anything less than half and this would mean very few, if any, roads would be needed.

"All that is necessary," he said, "would be for everyone to declare he did not plan to divide his property into four lots, draw up the necessary plan and present it to council."

Several times Mr. and Mrs. Carroll said they had made such application but it had not been granted. They asked if this could not be approved pending the creation of the plan.

The reeve said this was not good enough. It left the way

Council approves water plan for Brackendale

The municipal council last week approved the plan recommended by Associated Engineering Services Ltd., for supplying water to Brackendale by a pumped supply from wells adjacent to the Mamquam River, and an interconnecting system with the present Stawamus supply.

Discussion regarding the tentative site recommended in the report, on the west side of the highway just south of the Mamquam River, resulted in a decision to further explore the possibilities of other locations. The cost figure was discussed and council wished to see how other possible sites would compare from a cost, hydraulics, and other standpoints.

TANK IN THE HIGHLANDS The pumped supply from Mashiter Creek caused a great deal of discussion. Council was interested in the suggestion of installing a 100,000 gallon tank in the Garibaldi Highlands. The possible cost of such an installation at a later date was considered but there was a division of opinion concerning whose responsibility such a water tank would be, council's or the subdivider's.

Construction of such a water tank would not be done in the immediate future, however, and council decided to shelve the matter for further consideration at a later date.

Plans and specifications for the plan chosen by council will be drawn up and tenders called as soon as possible.

UNDER WINTER WORKS PLAN

Implementation of the Mamquam pumping station, to provide the Brackendale water system will take about four months and council felt this could best be done under a winter works program. With the time delay involved in preparing the plans, etc., it will almost be winter before the contract could be let so it was decided to do it under the program and save as much money as possible.

Test drilling for a well site is to be begun as soon as possible.

In the engineer's report on the existing system, the wood stave pipe from the dam on the Stawamus River to the tank at Northridge was mentioned to be in rather poor condition. It was recommended that the older portions be renewed almost immediately to assure a continued and adequate supply.

A system of wells adjacent to the chlorination plant on the Stawamus River was recommended when the installation has to be renewed as the engineers felt the present gravity system is not as satisfactory as a well and pumping system for the same reasons they quoted against the Mashiter Creek gravity system.

Logs and debris, possible clogging with snow and ice, and insecurity of flow were some of the reasons put forth. Council felt that this matter can be further discussed at the time the changes must be made. Till then it was felt the present system would be adequate.

Councillors also felt the pumping system which will be installed at the Mamquam should have been in effect for some time before the need for a new installation at Stawamus became necessary and they should be able to compare the two systems.

Two drown in rescue attempt

Kenneth Hamre and James McCarte, both aged about 42 and both of Vancouver, drowned in Brownie's Lake last Saturday morning.

The men lost their lives in an attempt to rescue Hamre's two sons, Tennis, aged 13, and his ten year old brother Wilfred.

The older boy swam out to the float, a short distance from the shore of the lake, located on the highway about six miles south of Squamish. Wilfred started out to swim to his brother and got into difficulties.

The older boy dove in to help him and then both appeared to be having trouble. Hamre and McCarte went to help the boys and both men disappeared.

Meanwhile Wilfred managed to get out of the water by himself and a bystander, Wayne Gratton of Vancouver, swam out and helped the older boy ashore.

The bodies were recovered later by skin divers who were in the vicinity.

POWER FOR UPPER VALLEY

Some ten families in the Upper Squamish valley will be receiving the benefits of electricity by late fall when B.C. Hydro will bring power to the settlement some twenty miles north of Squamish.

Power will be brought from the power house about three miles farther north and a line will carry it to the houses in the area.

One of the residents, Mrs. MacNeil, said it would be wonderful to have electricity and be able to use appliances and other conveniences again.

shop is being built on Pemberton Road near the west end of the Red Bridge.

We Create More Problems...

Districts, municipalities, or any rapidly growing area such as Squamish is going to have problems. They are inevitable. But in many cases they can be lessened and almost eliminated by wise planning and forethought.

In the District of Squamish, one area is already posing some serious problems and these will increase as more people move into the Cheakamus Valley above the B.C. Hydro bridge.

The bridge, and the road above it, are not, and have never been classed as responsibilities of the Department of Highways. The B.C. Electric built the bridge and for many years maintained the only access road to the area. Since the new highway was built work on the present road has largely been done by an independent logging contractor working in the area.

Land has been sold by the government, in fact even a subdivision has been laid out and lots sold with no services provided and with a road, built only within the subdivided area and not giving any access except over the above mentioned power line road.

Council has already declined to accept responsibility for maintaining or providing access to this area.

With an increasing number of lots in the Cheakamus Valley being sold, the question of access will become even more important. Leases and requests to purchase are continually coming before council and these are being approved. We are a little dubious about this action as approval of purchase, or even lease, in many cases, of pieces of isolated property, may create the very problems which will provide king-sized headaches for future councils.

Services, including proper roads, water, power, street lighting and many other things will come up in future. Where will the council of that day decide to draw the line? Will services be provided to everyone, regardless of where they have built? Would it not be easier to have insisted that proper planning be done, with roads, etc., before lots could be sold?

We could be wrong but approval of applications to purchase land anywhere in the Cheakamus Valley within the municipal boundaries could well be a great mistake. We wonder whether enough consideration has been given to the matter.

Let's All Get In The Act...

The biggest celebration of the year, the annual Loggers' Sports Day is coming up with the celebration slated for Saturday, August 7th. This is little more than two weeks away and we feel it isn't too early to start getting people to talk about it.

Why don't the local merchants, and businessmen decide the week of August 1st to August 7th should be Loggers' Sports Week and all get in the act by dressing accordingly?

We think the clerks in the stores, staff at the offices and others could all wear slacks and plaid shirts, we are sure most of the girls, and the boys as well, have them, and perhaps even blossom out in hard hats. It would certainly cause a lot of interest and as a promotion idea we don't think it could be topped.

After all, Calgary has its Stampede and everyone gets into the spirit of the celebration by dressing in cowboy regalia. Why shouldn't Squamish, which has the best show of its kind in the Pacific northwest, do the same?

We also think it would be a wonderful idea to have the store windows carry a "logging" theme during the weeks immediately preceding the Sports Day. Can't you see some of the bigger windows in town with a display of a logging show, a forest, equipment, or even a large Paul Bunyan type of figure? We are sure there are enough small replicas of logging trucks and other machinery among the children's toys in the valley to permit such displays to be made.

We should all make every effort to make the day a success. Much of this success depends on advance publicity as well as backing the efforts of the loggers. They certainly get this backing but it would be nice to give them some support in the advance publicity.

Let's all get in the act and advertise the annual Loggers' Sports Day, especially in the week preceding it.

Public Libraries On Summer Nights...

Public libraries, as every one-time boy or girl remembers, were something in addition to books. Their main halls, lofty, spacious, were hangars for winged dreams. Their alcoves were harbors—small harbors for pleasure craft.

Some libraries are set in broad lawns, in towns that are not too big, and where land is valuable for other things than commerce. Some still preserve the old carriage sheds out back, where history keeps a poignant silence.

On a summer day old trees shade iron benches, and an summer evenings neighbors out for a cooling stroll may meet in their deepening shadows.

In the big cities, too, public libraries fill the beholding eye with images other than, as well as those conjured by words.

Because most founders of libraries have had a feeling for beauty as well as a passion for knowledge, broad staircases wind up to vaulted reading rooms.

They pass niches where reproductions of treasures from a whole world of art suggest, if they cannot quite impart, the feeling of originals. The voice of a fountain whispers through the silence of a court fortified against city noise by high walls of the quadrangular building.

People who may have lingered in home-town libraries in their youth now linger in the soft light, in the flower-scented air, in the plashy coolness about them. Some sit reading, some just gazing into those distances of imagination where books are born.

It is better — even by need to return some long-overdue volume — to be obliged to visit a library on a summer evening than to miss the discovery that may await one there, where nothing beyond the familiar is expected but where some gentle unexpectedness surcharges it with colors perhaps unguessed, perhaps half-forgotten.

Dream Books...

It's an academic question whether seed catalogues should be labelled literature. Millions of hard-covered books are printed annually in Canada and many are trashy and worthless.

But a Squamish Valley man is never afraid to leave a paper covered seed catalogue on the living room table. Last winter when the snow depths set new records in the valley, a man could sit in his comfortable chair and do some gardening.

In spite of cynics, a seed catalogue can both be a dream book and a commercial treatise. Catalogues offer advice as well as seeds and plants. They foster good resolutions and spur a gardener's ambition.

But there the dream ends. Unless you can afford a small army of professional landscape pros, the gardens never looks just like the dream. Isn't it strange that the garden in the catalogue never have any weeds. The rows are geometrically straight and each flower is a model specimen.

A man can dream in this world and dreams come before reality. One may know in his heart the way his garden will look come August, but never will it have the seed-catalogue perfection.

Don't Crowd Him, Little Sister...

The youth behind the wheel has his hands full of steering wheel and his eyes on the road. The front seat of an auto is no place to snuggle, so don't crowd him, little sister, don't crowd him!

People who are middle-aged and older, know that this "snuggle" business is not new in automobiles. It was prevalent almost from the day the horseless wonder became a family car and Junior was given permission to take his girl for a drive.

But the cars were slower then and traffic was light. Even so, the one-armed driver and the road hog were regarded as perils.

"Overcrowding" under the traffic laws of this province doesn't necessarily mean too many passengers in the front seat. It is also overcrowding when a young female crowds a young male driver so he does not have freedom of movement.

At the risk of being called an old fashioned prude, we suggest that rather than snuggle, snap on your seat belt.

"Do you have something suitable for a person who tends to be a chicken?"

Politics: 'Noble profession, meanest of trades'

The Rivard affair has not only been an embarrassment to the Liberals; it has blackened the eye of Quebec and brought politics in Canada into disrepute.

That there has been wrong doing in high places is no longer in doubt. The Dorion Enquiry indicated that one Executive Assistant (Raymond Denis) was prepared to discuss a bribe. Another (Andre Letendre) acted in a "reprehensible manner." And a third (Guy Lord) acted "imprudently" in enquiring about bail for drug-trafficker Rivard when the same information could more properly have been obtained from Government sources in Ottawa.

All this was bad enough. But a Member of Parliament was also involved. Mr. Guy Rouleau, M.P., then Parliamentary Secretary to the Prime Minister, also made pointed enquiries on behalf of M. Rivard and his friends. His belief that they were constituents of his and the fact that he was not aware of any bribe are not enough to excuse his actions in this case.

Chief Justice Dorion found that "an intervention of this sort, particularly coming from a person of authority, certainly constitutes a reprehensible act, because it comes into conflict with the normal course of justice; but it does not constitute an act with which are to be found the elements essential to the perpetration of a criminal act."

What should the Government have done about all this? Prior to the Dorion Enquiry it had first suspended and then fired Raymond Denis.

Guy Lord had left to continue his studies at Oxford and Guy Rouleau, M.P., had been relieved of his Parliamentary Secretaryship.

But was this enough? Was the R.C.M.P. right in saying that there was not enough evidence to press criminal charges? And was Justice Minister Favreau right in dropping the matter at this stage?

The Opposition in Parliament said "No!" The Dorion Commission said "No." The R.C.M.P. should stick to its own business — that of gathering the facts, not giving legal advice. Mr. Favreau should also have sought the opinion of the law officers of the Crown — his civil servants — not taken so much on himself.

The up-shot, as everyone knows, was Mr. Favreau's resignation. Though his integrity is beyond question, his judgement has been found wanting. He could not handle the Justice Portfolio. The big question now is whether he can handle any other Cabinet post.

Mr. Pearson obviously thinks he can. By making him President of the Privy Council, Mr. Favreau will continue to sit on the Government front bench.

Meanwhile the other actors in this tragic affair have been dealt with in other ways.

Andre Letendre was fired the day the Dorion Report came out.

Guy Rouleau was pressured into resigning his seat in the Commons.

And the law officers of the Crown have been asked for their advice as to the prosecution of Mr. Denis in the Courts.

Whether Mr. Denis gets off or not there is no doubt that politics in Canada has been hurt. It has been hurt by a new Minister who took on too many jobs and it has been hurt by several junior political appointees who presumed to have more influence in Ottawa than they actually had.

"Politics" a famous English historian once said "is the noblest of professions and the meanest of trades."

The Rivard affair certainly shows it to be a mean trade. However, let us hope that politics in Canada can be an ennobling experience as well.

Other opinion

Premier Lesage speaks out on separatism

More than once in the last few months we have been disturbed and distressed by the turn of the debates heard in the Legislative Assembly. Mr. Johnson has made speeches which were, to our way of thinking, thinly veiled separatism. Premier Lesage, in his replies, sometimes left the impression that he and his party were quite prepared to move along this road too if the pressure became too great.

This impression was removed, once and for all, by Mr. Lesage's speech to the Canadian Women's Press Club last Saturday.

What has been badly needed in this province, ever since violence and separatism became active forces, has been the creation of solid middle ground on which forward-looking but not extreme-minded men and women could safely stand.

It is a valuable coincidence, obviously not planned, that within the last week or so Cardinal Leger and Premier Lesage have contributed powerfully to that objective.

The Montreal Star has already made its comment on the Cardinal's Toronto speech. Now what he said has been vigorously reinforced, and indeed enlarged, by the Premier.

What remains is to continue and strengthen the kind of rally in opinion that is now under way. The long silence during which only extreme voices were heard is over. The moderate-minded men and women of Quebec can now be heard from without fear, which some of them undoubtedly felt, that the expression of moderate views was a sign of surrender. There were those — and perhaps there still are — who could not interpret the slogan "Maitre Chez Nous" in any other terms but separatism.

The idea of cooperation, of working with the rest of the country toward common goals, seemed somehow to diminish the essentials of Quebec nationalism. We believe that Mr. Lesage's speech will render this view untenable.

A minority may continue to believe. Mr. Lesage's scathing language will go a good long way to halt its spread.

Such is our belief and the stakes are so large that we may well be accused of wishful thinking. Mr. Lesage is confident that he is on the right track, and that it is a good thing for Canada that this is so.

Frech Canada would be less than it could be without its English-speaking compatriots. English Canada too would be diminished without the vibrant, dynamic qualities which more and more pour out of this province. Each can help and strengthen the other. Each will be stronger, for the whole is greater than its parts.

This is not mere froth and platitudes. The separatists of Quebec have never faced what they would face if they decided to go it alone. The Premier said this bluntly on Saturday night. It would take generations to pick up the lost ground.

In the rest of the country, the curious form of separatism which afflicts it would be strengthened by Quebec's secession. The whole notion, as Mr. Lesage said, is unthinkable in any serious category of thought.

In New York, visitors were faced with an enormous area (the site is 646 acres in size) and expensive and inadequate means of transportation around the grounds.

EXPO wisely took a close look at our 986 acre site, the strength of the average man's arches and the size of his pocketbook. It came up with this solution:

● A rapid transit rail system will run on its own exclusive and fenced right-of-way through the center of the main exhibit areas and from end to end. It will carry 30,000 persons an hour in each direction.

● The whole ride will take 10 minutes.

● The cost of travelling on this mass transit system will be included in the general admission price and can be used as often as the visitor likes.

● A secondary mass transit system combining both minitrail and tele-cane will also be available for visitors. It will be able to handle 15,000 persons an hour and will cover six miles.

Rumbles are coming out of political circles that EXPO spending will be put under the microscope by the Opposition when parliament convenes in the fall.

It is just about time EXPO hit the political headlines again — this usually stems from either sagging defeat or unexpected success. And it is success that will trigger the interest this time.

It was only two years ago there was a wild hassle over the choice of islands in the Montreal harbour for a site and the first committee resigned. Gloomy headlines forecasting disaster filled the press.

I was in New York at a preview of their Fair at the time and watching Robert Moses sailing along on a wave of excellent publicity and rosy forecasts. I wrote:

"I mused on our own progress for an international World's Fair at Montreal in 1967. Skeleton plans are already coming unglued and there is danger of the whole project slowly sinking into the St. Lawrence. I prayed for a Canadian Moses to lead us out of the wilderness," I concluded.

Well, we didn't get a Robert Moses, but we got Robert Shaw and that has been good enough indeed.

Shaw is deputy commissioner to His Excellency Pierre Dupuy, commissioner general of EXPO. This is an ideal combination. Dupuy, probably Canada's most charming elder statesman, has charmed 52 nations into exhibiting in the Fair and confidently expects 80.

Shaw, one of Canada's top engineers, is a man of tireless energy and enormous optimism. He looks after the store at home while Dupuy sells Canada to every corner of the globe.

These two, the young, personable leader and the diminutive elder politician bristling with Gallic charm, have achieved the impossible: the success of EXPO '67.

The headlines will follow.

HOWE SOUNDINGS

Did you hear about the youngster who came home from school and proudly informed his mother that his teacher had "the fastest ruler in the west." Wonder what he had been doing to find that out.

Then there was the local gal who is having quite a time explaining just how she managed to break her toe. Uh-huh, says she kicked something. Now we are wondering just what or who she kicked and whether the object or the adversary has any bruises.

How many of you have seen the mock orange bushes growing on the slides just north of Brohm Lake? The bushes, with their pure white flowers, could be seen at the edge of the steep rock slides on the right side of the road. Others can also be found in the Cheakamus Valley, near the beginning of the canyon. You can see them from the railroad tracks.

The mock orange is one of our loveliest wild flowers and while the perfume is not as pronounced as it is in the cultivated varieties, it still makes a lovely garden subject.

Several other attractive shrubs also grow in the same locality. There are a number of manzanitas, a dwarf relative of the arbutus with reddish stems and silvery gray foliage. There are also two forms of wild spirea which have just finished blooming, a flat topped white variety and another, which shades from pink to white as it grows older but whose blossoms are in a pyramidal form. Any of these could also be added to a shrub border.

Also blooming on the bare hillside above the Cheakamus valley is dogbane. Goodness knows where the name originated, I can't see any reason why this plant should keep the dogs away. It has pretty pink flowers but don't try to pick them, despite their sweet scent, as the stem exudes a sticky milky sap.

Next time you are out for a walk, or even for a drive, look for some of the native shrubs and flowers and then go back later to add them to your garden. You'll find they make an attractive addition to it and certainly are conversation pieces.

Alice Lake has certainly been a popular spot this summer with the warm weather bringing an influx of tourists as well as the local residents who like to swim in the lake instead of the pool. But when are the authorities going to spread some salt or oil on the roads. The dust is terrific and even though you travel at a bare crawl it is hard to see when we have a few dry days. Surely it is not unreasonable to ask for some form of dust control, especially as this is a provincial park.

Even the municipal authorities have done something to keep the dust on the roads in the district as low as possible.

I know I'd hate to be camping in the park and have dust flying all over the tent, food, tables and me, every time a car went past.

And on the subject of parks, I don't think dogs should be allowed in parks unless they are leashed. There are too many small children around and all it takes are a few dogs roaring over the sand, in and out of the water, and bumping into youngsters to cause confusion and tears. Besides it isn't exactly a healthy practice, is it? I know the dog owners will hate me but I think the parks are for people and dogs should be on a leash.

A walk the other afternoon revealed the wealth of animal life which lies so close to our urban area. In a short distance we saw many deer tracks, both large and small; a lizard; a snake, (ugh!) chipmunks, a mother grouse with a half-grown young one and two birds who staged a most interesting fight going round and round and round a tree uttering the weirdest cries.

Even in Squamish, we are not far from the wilderness, are we?

Engine raising called record salvage job

Raising of P.G.E. engine 616 from the depths of Anderson Lake on June 21st was believed to be the deepest salvage job ever accomplished for a locomotive.

The engine was 135 feet beneath the surface of the lake and 168 feet from the shore. P.G.E. crews raised the engine which plunged into the lake after hitting a rock slide. Engineer Mel Hunt of North Vancouver was carried into the lake with the locomotive on Dec. 13th of last year.

The salvage operation was accomplished by two company Ledges, assisted in the final pull by the auxiliary hook from Squamish.

Three pulls were necessary before the engine was finally raised. The locomotive, rated at 120 tons was really much heavier when everything else was taken into account. One of the two shackles (which had been tested to one hundred tons), broke on the first pull.

The salvage operation was engineered by H. H. Minshall and the Squamish auxiliary crew worked on the project.

Three divers who were only allowed to make two dives per day, did the underwater work. They could only stay down a short time at the depth where the engine lay.

Many suggestions were made recommending the use of pontoons to float the engine to the surface but there was no guarantee that such an attempt would succeed. If it was tried, and was not successful, the cost would have made the salvage operation prohibitive.

Once the engine was raised, it was brought to Squamish where the mechanical department at the shops is working on it.

Within a few months this engine should be back on the line.

"HERE SHE COMES" is what the Pacific Great Eastern crew must be saying as they watch the engine being raised from Anderson Lake last month.

B.C. hydro grants total $3,842

B. C. Hydro has announced that its grant to the District of Squamish for the fiscal year ending 31 March, 1965, will be $3,842.09.

The payment, scheduled to be made in November, will be $2,506.92 more than the grant for the previous year.

In addition to the grant, Hydro also pays $29,119 in school taxes on the same basis as any other taxpayer.

An Order-in-Council, passed in April, 1965, establishes a new basis for computing Hydro's annual grants to municipalities. Commencing in 1965 most communities will receive increased grants under the new scheme. The annual payment to each municipality will be the sum of:

(a) The equivalent of the preceding year's taxes for general municipal debt and local improvement purposes applied to all lands, and, with certain exceptions, Hydro buildings located within the municipality, and

(b) One percent of the gross revenue from sales of electricity and gas within the municipality.

Approximately 98 B. C. municipalities will share school taxes and grants from Hydro totalling more than $5 million in 1965.

P.G.E. engine finally breaks clear of the water as the salvage crew prepares to finish the job and send it to Squamish where it is now being overhauled.

Enjoy cruise on Howe Sound

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Goode entertained a group of friends on an evening cruise of Howe Sound on Friday, July 16th, to celebrate his birthday.

Some sixty guests were taken to Britannia by bus where they boarded the "Northland Princess" for a cruise on Howe Sound. They passed close to Woodfibre, cruised up the west side of the sound to Squamish and then back to the small islands near Potlatch Creek before returning to Britannia Beach.

A buffet supper was served on board and appetites, whetted by the sea air, did justice to the delicious hot and cold dishes. The guests gathered around and sang "Happy Birthday" to Mr. Goode when the beautiful cake, topped with glittering sparklers was brought in.

Guests were heard to remark as they left the ship at Britannia that this "was one of the nicest parties I have ever attended."

Earlier in the day, some forty youngsters, as guests of Michael and Cheryl Goode, went to Vancouver in a chartered bus, boarded the ship at the Northland Navigation pier and cruised up to Britannia, enjoying a luncheon on board.

One mother said the youngsters had a most wonderful time, with all they could possibly eat. It was amazing to see the number of hot dogs they consumed.

Taking the trip with the children were Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Goode, Mrs. R. Bryant, Mrs. B. Hartnell and Mrs. H. Robinson.

Local delegates at convention

Mr. L. Twiss, presiding minister of the Squamish congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reports that the convention in Victoria, July 1 to 4 and attended by the local delegates, was an outstanding success. The daily attendance was greater than anticipated and reached a peak of 5654 on Sunday. However, of greater interest was the benefit of the faith-inspiring information on the Bible.

On the first day, archaeological information was presented which supports the Bible's authenticity.

The second day the lecture

"The Bible's Place in the Modern Home", showed how homes with "family Bibles" should be replaced with "Bible families".

The third day featured the value of the Bible in avoiding the moral decline, both in adults and children.

The fourth day stressed "Applying the Word of Truth to the Problems of Life". The feature lecture, "World Government on the Shoulder of the Prince of Peace", was delivered by Mr. R. W. Arnett of Toronto. Some of the local congregation went to Vernon, B. C. where the assembly program was repeated July 8 to 11th.

Stormy meeting clear to other evasions and could create a great deal of future difficulty.

Mrs. Antille interjected that the reason the Carroll appeal had been delayed so long was because V.L.A. representatives did not come to a council meeting for several weeks. She added that no one wanted to see a subdivision without a master plan because of the confusion which could result.

QUOTED EXAMPLE OF SURREY

A. F. Hutson said he had seen this happen in Surrey where roads were not provided and a regular mess ensued. He wanted to know who would have to pay for roads as he did not wish to have someone else pay for his nor would he wish to pay for someone else.

Mrs. Fenton wanted to know who would prepare a plan and who would pay for it.

The reeve suggested that V.L.A. would probably assist and he did not know who would pay for it, but perhaps V.L.A. would do so or help to do so. However council would not pay for it.

"Some impression seems to exist," the reeve said "That council is trying to grab your land. I also feel many of you do not know what the discussion tonight was to be about. We have never," he said "Expropriated any land. I won't say we won't do so, but we have never done this yet."

At the close of the meeting dealing with the planning, council withdrew and the V.L.A. residents held a closed meeting to further discuss this and other matters of concern.

Soleckis hold family reunion

Members of the Solecki family gathered at the home of Mrs. Anne Solecki on the weekend of July 10th. It was the first time they had all been together for many years and she was delighted at the surprise visit of her children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Solecki and family came from Vancouver, while son Bill with his wife and family came from Prince George and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Solecki and family were down from Lillooet for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Solecki and their family came from Beaver Cove on Vancouver Island, while

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Solecki and family came from Slocan City in the interior. Mr. and Mrs. Greg Walker and family of Beaverlodge Alberta also joined her brothers and mother at the family gathering.

Mrs. Mary Solecki of Squamish with Rosaleen and Dave and a granddaughter, Mrs. Keith Yoxall, with her husband and family of Kaslo completed the family group.

Joining the Soleckis for the reunion were some local friends, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson of Squamish with Mrs. Whitehead and Al Greffard.

BATTLE of the BULGE!

The average man is now 5 lb. more overweight than men of the same height were in 1912. Women have lost about 5 pounds of their overweight in the same period, probably because of fashion demands. Mortality statistics indicate that twice as many of the overweight succumb to coronary, cerebral hemorrhage and chronic nephritis diseases, and four times as many to diabetes, than do people of normal or underweight. Underweight people live the longest, as a rule.

Don't depend on unsupervised dieting and reducing aids alone. 80% of people who reduce that way soon gain back the weight they have lost.

A half-hour of good old-fashioned exercise every day will lose you about a pound of overweight every two weeks. Any safe physical exertion burns up from 500 to 600 calories per hour and uses up excess fat.

The proper way to permanently reduce is to have your physician advise you about the proper combination of diet and safe exercise that is best for you, and let him check your progress at regular intervals. If a glandular imbalance is contributing to your overweight, he will prescribe proper medication, and if necessary one of the new appetite curbs that will help you to eat less.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

FOWLERS WELCOME GREAT GRANDCHILD

Mr. and Mrs. A. (Sandy) Fowler are to be congratulated on the birth of their first great-grandchild.

Glen William is the first child of Ralph and Shirley Fowler. He was born July 8th at Grace Hospital in Vancouver.

He is also the first grandchild for Mr. Miller of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fowler of Lillooet.

Ralph who lived in Pemberton for many years, as did his parents and grandparents, graduated in May from U.B.C. with a degree in Forestry.

They will reside in Kamloops.

Seen at the school reunion

Many former students returned to the Mashiter School reunion on July 3rd and it would be impossible to list them all.

However many of them did come from out of town, in fact some even came from outside B. C. and we noticed the following among the many people there.

Robert Mitchell and his brother Frank, came from Vancouver to attend the reunion with another brother, Alvin, of Squamish, Jack Hutton and his sister Agnes Pakulak (returned as did Frances Lloyd (James) of Vancouver and her sister Kate Dyer of Blaine.

Marion and Orval Van Horlick of Woodfibre came over for the reunion and Nony Leach (Castle) with her husband Jim, who both attended school here, came from Prince George. Irene Wagner (Holmes) and her sister Mildred Jones were noticed there.

It was quite a reunion for the Edwards family too. Mrs. M. Edwards, now in Vancouver, was there with daughters, Sylvia Buchanan and Mavis Butterworth of Squamish while Dorothy White of Vancouver and Vera McLeod of New Westminster came to join them.

Ernie Ross and Al Peverell were noticed on the grounds along with Gordon Palmer, Vera Merchant (Barnfield) and Marjorie Tiefensee (Blundell) who attended school together were at the reunion along with Marjorie Troger (Rae) and her sister Catherine Frumento.

Clara Emms (Judd) came from West Vancouver to attend the reunion with her sister Jane Hansen from the interior and Dorothy Farguharson, who remained in Squamish.

Another family group which returned were John Chadwick of Woodfibre, his sister Evelyn Ramsay, who also lives in Woodfibre and another brother, Ed from Mission.

Alice Geddes (Downer) of Vancouver returned and attended the reunion with sisters Ruth Wilson and Jessie McKinnon who both live here. Anne Moore (Lasser) came from North Vancouver for the gathering.

Another family group were Rose Watson (Sobotka) and sisters Violet Slobogian and Mary Maundrell, both of Vancouver and Adeline Bastian of New Westminster.

Seen on the grounds were Peggy Hutton (Lane), Gordon Allan with his wife the former Shirley Harding, John Duncan, who now lives in Madeira Park, Betty Cosulich with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Quick, Leonard Marchant and sister Edith (Iles) Monica Falk (Singleton) with her sister, Violet Ayres, both of Vancouver and Bob and Maureen McCormack of Pemberton.

Others at the reunion were Lillian Lackala (Lewis) of Burnaby, Norah and Manuel Seymour, Albert Lassman and Daphne McCannell, all of Vancouver; Iris Budsey (Ingraham) and sister Vivian Wilson, both of Seattle; Betty Loren (Rae) of North Surrey and her brother Herb, of Ashcroft; Frank Midnight of Nanaimo and his wife the former Wilma Clarke.

Marion Bocho (Eadie) came from North Vancouver while Fin McRae was down from Lillooet and Chris Carson came all the way from Drummheller, Alta. Also noticed were Barbara Boyd (Machin) and Anita Lindstrom (Green).

Three of the Lamport girls returned, Vera Gulewich and sisters Frances Pierce and Evelyn Malm. Iris Samchuck (Klassen) came from North Surrey, Eleanor Grabul (Oak) from Newton and Doris Allen (Manson) from Campbell River. Also from Campbell River was Ruth Bundy (Cooper).

June Mason (Confortin) was down from Lillooet while Pat Lewis (Wilson) and Glenn Valde, now living in North Vancouver were also among those who came back. From Vancouver were Inez Mann (Nygaard) with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nygaard; Shirley Russell (Fowler) and Bob Hamelin.

The entire Martinow family, Victor of Hammond, Wilson of New Westminster, Bernita Durante and sister Verna McCulloch of S. Burnaby came back to Squamish.

Many of those who returned did not sign the guest book and may not have been recognized. But there was a good percentage of students and teachers back at the school.

With the many ex-students who remained in Squamish also turning out for the reunion, it was a truly enjoyable day.

Requests new water main

Residents of the 3200 block on Third Ave., in a petition to council, last week asked for a new water main along their street.

The petition stated that the present line, which is believed to be less than one inch, is too small and is badly corroded, resulting in pressure too weak to operate a lawn sprinkler or an automatic washer.

Municipal works superintendent Frank Wilson had already prepared a report on the water main with cost figures for a large main similar to those in other areas of the former village.

Council decided that as there are only five properties affected by the main and it is unlikely Third Ave. will be extended southwards for any appreciable time, a large main will not be necessary.

The works superintendent will be asked to submit figures for a smaller main to serve these houses and relieve the lack of water pressure.

ATHLETIC BLOCK Letters were won by John Kindree, Warren Knight, Bruce Robinson, Greg Burt, Nigel Minchin and Gordon Cameron.

Couple to live in Prince George

Floral sprays of artificial flowers graced the front of Knox United Church in Vancouver while the pews were decorated with white ribbons and green ivy on Saturday evening, July 3rd, for the 7:45 wedding of Phyllis May Aalten, daughter of Mrs. Jean Aalten of Vancouver to Frank Snider son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Snider of Haney.

Rev. H. S. Clugston officiated at the ceremony. The bride's full-length gown of crisp organza over tissue tulle was styled with a fitted scoop-necked bodice, long lily-point sleeves and a slim skirt, with a bouffant overskirt attached from the sides and sweeping into a graceful chapel train. The only trimming on the gown was scallops of imported chantilly lace.

Her bouffant, silk illusion four-tier veil was held by a full blown white rose and orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried red roses and white Fugl chrysanthemums with trailing ivy.

Miss Sharon Kindree of Squamish was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Maureen Rennie and Miss Janice Leru both from Squamish. They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of coral organza over taffeta, styled with a controlled-bell skirt and fitted bodice and lace jackets with long sleeves, the maid of honor having short sleeves.

Their headpieces were a full blown rose and tulle in matching colors. They carried white Fugl chrysanthemums and trailing ivy.

Mr. Harry Eskine of Haney was best man and ushers were Mr. John Stinson of Mission and Mr. Herb Snider of Haney, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at Hallmark Hall following the ceremony. Mr. Richard Leru proposed the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon trip to Prince George, the bride donned a two piece yellow suit with a vee-necked collar topped by a yellow hat, white pearls, grey shoes and a matching purse. She wore a white rose corsage.

The young couple will live in Prince George.

The bride is a graduate of Howe Sound Secondary School and the groom is a graduate of Maple Ridge Senior Secondary School.

Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Stoffregen of Saskatchewan, Miss Diane Roy, and Miss Velda Dibble of Mission.

1965 taxes now due

Taxes for 1965 are now due and must be paid before the end of July in order to escape the ten percent penalty clause.

Home owners wishing to avail themselves of the full benefits of the home owner's grant should pay their taxes by Aug. 2nd in order to do so, and if that is not possible, if the form on the back of the tax notice is filled in and sent to the municipal office, the full hundred dollar deduction will be taken from the total tax.

If this is not done, there is a ten percent penalty on this as well and in addition to paying the penalty on the balance of the taxes, the home owner would lose ten dollars of the grant.

All taxes in the district municipality must be paid at the municipal office.

Remember, they must be paid by August 2nd, 1965.

Couple plan to live in Kitimat

At a quiet wedding on July 3rd at 3 p.m. at St. Georges Chapel in Vancouver, Mrs. Hazel Major and Mr. Denis Isaac Downer were united in marriage by Rev. D. Elsted.

Matron of honor was Mrs. R. Smith of Vancouver and best man was Mr. Fin McRae of Lillooet.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. R. Geddes, sister of the groom, on Marine Drive, Vancouver, followed the ceremony.

Following the reception the bride and groom and their guests drove to Squamish to attend the Mashiter school reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Downer returned to Vancouver and left for their honeymoon trip through Washington. They will visit Squamish before returning to reside in Kitimat.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. Bennett of Saskatchewan, Mr. F. H. Downer, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Downer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Laktin, Mr. and Mrs. J. McKinnon and Leslie Kim, Mr. and Mrs. G. McKinnon and Adam, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wilson and Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarke, all of Squamish.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith, Don-ald Major, Mrs. A. R. Geddes, Mr. and Mrs. L. Geddes, Mr. and Mrs. E. Geddes and Doug and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wright, Miss Val Geddes, Mr. Gerry Dimsdale, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis, Mrs. D. Thomas and Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. I. Alder, all of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Means, and Mr. and Mrs. Fin McRae of Lillooet.

Mr. Gordon Downs, Mr. Cliff Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Schullkes, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Kitimat.

Blood donor clinic

Response to the Blood Donor Clinic held in the Elks Hall on Friday, July 9th, was disappointing, with the total down about forty pints below last year. One hundred and seventy two pints were donated.

Members of the Lions Club, who worked with the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic in this valuable public service felt the choice of Friday is not too good a day as many people are planning to leave for the weekend and do not wish to delay their departure.

Consideration will be given to this factor when the Blood Donor Clinic is held again next year.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sanderson and the children are holidaying in the Okanagan for two weeks. Patsy, Janie and Cathy Carrico flew to Tsawwassen recently to spend a week with their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Minaker. The girls were delighted with the chance to fly as their brother-in-law, who works for an airline, had taken in supplies to some campers at Garibaldi Park and was on his way back to the airport when he dropped down to pick them up at the local hotel. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Carrico are her mother, Mrs. Biederstadt of Calgary, with her grandson, Ricky.

LIQUOR SEIZED

On July 2nd, local RCMP constables seized a quantity of liquor, under the authority of the government liquor act. This act states that liquor may be seized if it is believed that it will be used for unlawful purposes.

The police believed that the beer was purchased in an attempt to supply it to minors.

Some excellent scores

Squamish places sixth in trans-Canada match

Squamish has taken sixth place in the inter-city cross-Canada handgun match. Calgary placed first, followed by the R.C.M.P. Senior Handgun Club of Ottawa, the Toronto No. 1 team, the Winnipeg Revolver and Pistol Association, the Toronto No. 2 team and the Squamish Valley Rod and Gun Club, Pistol Section. Not bad placing for an outdoor team on their first attempt at competition shooting.

Sports day plans well under way

Plans for the Eighth Annual Loggers Sports Day and Lions Fun-O-Rama are well under way. Committee members have been working on the grounds and the sale of reserved seats for the sports day is now under way. Contestants have been out climbing the poles practicing for the big day and other members of the local logging fraternity are hard at work planning for the materials and equipment needed for the sports day, now little more than two weeks away. The Pemberton Board of Trade will be entering a float in the parade which will precede the sports events and participation is also expected from Chambers of Commerce on the lower mainland. Local chamber president F. W. Allott has taken the initiative contacting other chambers and asking them to take part in the parade. Art Lloyd reports that a ferris wheel, octopus ride and three kiddie rides have been secured for the Fun-O-Rama at the shopping centre in the heart of town. These will be supplied by Royal Canadian Shows and local Lions will be in charge of the Fun-O-Rama games. The car draw is going very well. The Lions will also be selling attractive made in Squamish souvenirs of the Loggers Sports Day. Look for them. This will be your last chance to cast your ballot for Timber Queen. All ballots must be in by Friday as the name of the Queen will be announced at the Star Theatre on Friday evening, July 23rd. Be sure to cast your ballot on the form in the June 30th, July 8th and 15th issue of the Times.

entries, Jack Carradice placed seventh with a nine-target score of 818. Elgin Tetachuk, Max Tetachuk, and Peter Leibnitz were also well up there. Sam Slade didn't enter the individual 22 match, but was entered in the centre fire match, with his 9mm. A newcomer to Squamish, Jim Bauerle, entered the same matches while living in Regina, Sask. Jim showed up very well with his entries. Shooting a '22 pistol in the marksman class, he placed second with an 823 total, winning himself a little cash and a medallion. With his 357 Highway Patrolman, in the centre fire match, he placed third with 659 points, giving him second place for the grand aggregate. With the general shooting pattern for all members improving almost weekly, the future for competitive shooting for the Squamish group looks very good indeed.

Ben Hur theme for PNE chariot races

Every movie fan everywhere remembers the breath-taking, death-defying chariot race from the Academy Award film "Ben Hur." Now you can see it recreated live and in person at the exciting 1965 edition of the Pacific National Exhibition, August 21 to September 6. Highlight of the Empire Stadium Show of Shows, the daily grandstand attraction at the PNE, will be a thrilling chariot race featuring horses and drivers who actually took part in the filming of Ben Hur at Cinecitta in Rome. The chariots, each drawn by four snow-white steeds, will race at top speed around the track of Empire Stadium at each of the 27 matinee and evening grandstand shows. And there's always the danger of a spine-tingling pile-up or spill when these spirited horses take to the track. The horses in this heart-stopping act, many of them purebred Arabians, have been trained by Glenn Randall of North Hollywood Calif., who trained the animals for Ben Hur and whose former students include Roy Rogers' famous horse, Trigger. Randall is considered the master horse trainer in the world, and his highly successful commercial ranch near Los Angeles provides almost all the horses for today's Hollywood spectacles. The chariot races are only one of seven daring and colourful acts at the PNE's dazzling '65 Show of Shows. Admission to the Stadium is only one dollar for rush seats; $1.50 and $2 for seats reserved in advance. Children are admitted for 50 cents in the rush-seat sections.

Fishing fair at Britannia

Reports in the city papers regarding the excellent fishing at Britannia Beach are a bit misleading. Reports from the mining town indicate that the fish are there and are being caught but not in great numbers. On the July 10th weekend the Eagles Club held their annual two day Salmon Derby and a total of nine fish were caught in the two day event. The fish are appearing in the upper sound and last weekend hundreds of boats were out looking for them. Many of the fishermen are using Britannia and Porteau as the base of their operations.

Brackendale wins game

The Brackendale Ladies Softball team won the game on Monday, July 12th, by a score of 17 to 16. Pitching for the winning team were Audrey Giesbrecht and Olga Samborski while Peggy MacKenzie pitched for the Squamish team. Games are played at the field behind the high school on Monday evenings.

Loggers host ball tourney

by JIM SANDERSON

On Sunday, July 25th, the local Empire Loggers Softball Club will hold their first annual senior men's softball tournament for the Smitty Trophy. This trophy has been donated to the league for tournament play, by league president Fred Smith. It is hoped that by next year this will become a two day double knockout tournament instead of the single knockout event planned for this weekend. All five teams in the North Shore League will participate with Squamish and St. Alice getting the play underway at noon. The complete tournament layout is shown elsewhere. As well as the games, president Smith plans to hold races, throwing and hitting contests among the players. Prizes will be awarded to the players who win their events and there will also be prizes for the fans at each game. This should be one of the better softball attractions planned for this year.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES

St. Alice and Squamish play the first game at 12 p.m. with the winner playing the Coach-house in the third game later in the afternoon. The second game at two p.m. will be between the Avalon. The final game in the evening will be between the winners of games number two and three and will be at 6:30 p.m.

Centennial committee accepts offer

The Centennial Committee met last Monday evening to discuss the offer made by the Municipal Council to give financial aid to a suitable project. Council is especially anxious to see a community centre in the area but could not handle such a project at present unless a money-by-law were presented. Should the centennial project chosen be such a centre, council could assist in this by using money out of general revenue.

Members of the committee were still somewhat hesitant to undertake a task of this magnitude. However, it was decided to accept the council's offer as it was "just too good to turn down."

Even with assistance from the council the committee will have to use every means at its disposal to raise sufficient money for this project. Of greatest necessity is a hardworking finance committee to lay out a well-organized plan for fund raising. Local organizations will be approached to put on special events with the proceeds being turned over to the centennial committee.

The need for a community hall is growing steadily; it can be used for group meetings, youth activities, card games and handicraft classes, as well as dances, fall fairs and other such large gatherings.

THE CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE IS WILLING TO WORK, BUT YOU AND YOU MUST BACK THEM!

Letters to the editor

Editor Squamish Times: On behalf of the committee which worked on the reunion for former students of the Mashiter School on July 3rd, I would like to thank Yarwood Drugs for supplying the decorations. Special thanks should also go to the Five to a Dollar Store and to Bert Scott, who also helped. There are too many committee members to thank as so many people worked to make the reunion a success. Without their assistance it would not have been so well attended or so interesting a day.

Lou Skerratt, Mashiter School Reunion Committee.

Starts new business

Jack McLennan has opened a wheel alignment service for Squamish and Pemberton Valley.

Known as Jack's Wheel Alignment, the new business is an entirely mobile unit and is the first of its kind in the North Howe Sound area.

Mr. McLennan, a native of Wainwright, Alta, has been in the automotive repair business for more than 20 years.

He is also the holder of the coveted certificate as a "Bare Wheel Alignment Specialist."

Mr. McLennan is married with a family of four children and, having been raised on the farm, is an avid gardener.

Auxiliary police force

The local RCMP detachment is in the process of setting up an auxiliary police force through the Civil Defence movement. Cpl. V.R.D. Wilson said they will be looking for suitable applicants for this force within the near future.

The auxiliary force, which receives some training and is taught how to assist in routine patrols would be of invaluable assistance in case of a major or minor disaster in this area.

Cpl. Wilson said a force of this type would be useful in case of a flood, or similar emergency.

At the time of the tidal wave in Alberni last year, the local auxiliary police force was most helpful.

Handgun news

by RENE CARRADICE

At the half-way mark in league shootings, the team standings have changed a little, with the Sam-Bass Gang creeping out ahead of Dennis' Menaces. The standings at present are: Sam-Bass Gang, 3943; Dennis' Menaces, 3828; Cap Busters, 3806; Outlaws, 3802; Elgin's Hope, 3729.

The team top scores are Dennis' Menaces, 711, and Elgin's Hope, 683.

Men's high average has shown slight change with Jack Carradice still leading at 86; Elgin Tetachuk, 83; Max Tefachuk, 80; Sam Slade, 77; and Dennis Friesen, 74. Max did some beautiful shooting last week, coming up with a three target total of 260 out of a possible 300. Nice going Max.

Lady's high average is Rene Carradice, 73; Sharon Tetachuk 69; June Campbell, 63.

The high three and high single scores are not moving too much, with Jack still holding the lead at 263, and 93 for the men. Max is second for the three with 260, and Elgin second for the single with 92. For the women, Rene Carradice still holds with 230 and 86, and Sharon with 220 and 80.

Jack Carradice has qualified for the gold expert shield in handgun shooting. It takes some pretty fancy shooting to come up with the qualifying targets. Sixty targets are required; twenty slow fire, twenty timed fire, and twenty rapid fire, scoring an average of slightly over 93 points out of a hundred on each target. Come up with a few more of those 99's Jack, and they're going to have to come up with a new award.

Pemberton portraits

Mrs. George Williams mother of a dozen

by G.V.W.

When anyone in the communities of Mount Currie or Pemberton mentions Mrs. George Williams, we all think of a very kind lady who at all times is working hard for her family or for her community. It is very hard to imagine a banquet or any large 'do' taking place in either of the communities, without having Mrs. Williams at the helm.

Mrs. Williams was born on June 20th, 1910, at Lillooet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Able. On December 26th, twenty years later she became the bride of George Williams, at the Roman Catholic Church in Mount Currie. Father Rohr officiating (Father Rohr is remembered by many, he returned to his native Germany, where he recently died.)

Mr. and Mrs. Williams moved into their home on the reserve and have lived in the same house since their marriage. Life has been good to them, God blessed them with eleven children, and in addition they adopted another to make the dozen.

Their oldest daughter Charlotte is married to Richard Paul and is living in Squamish. The second daughter, Georgina, is married to Albert Nelson, and lives in Mount Currie. The third daughter, Mary Louise, married a John Williams from Chilliwack.

Their first son, Patrick, is logging, and married to Joan T. Narcissus of Fountain. Their second son William is logging at Mount Currie.

THREE GRADUATED LAST JUNE

Three children graduated this year from the Pemberton Elementary-School. There is Larry, who plans on further training at the Vocational Training school in Burnaby, Lloyd, who has had hopes for quite some time of joining the R.C.M.P., and their sister Laura, who is leaving for Victoria for nurses training and later will join the Sisterhood of Christ the King.

The next son, Bert, is in Grade nine at the Secondary School in Pemberton. The last two girls, Teresa and Trudy are attending the Indian Day School in Mount Currie. Their adopted daughter Veronica Lester was the first Indian girl to graduate from the Secondary School in Pemberton. She is married to Ted Bickadi, and lives in Pemberton.

The Williams now have 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

RECEIVED FIRST SCHOLARSHIP

Their daughter Mary Louise was the first Indian girl in the province to receive a scholarship for University training. She is a qualified elementary school teacher. Mary Louise graduated from high school at St. Mary's in Mission, and five more have graduated from the high school in Pemberton.

Mrs. Williams likes having her children attend the school in Pemberton, she feels it is giving the Indian children a chance to overcome their shyness, and are finding it much easier for them to learn to live with their white friends.

Of her eleven children, six were born at home. One of the girls Laura, weighed three pounds, eight ounces at birth, and Mrs. Williams kept her daughter at home, bringing her through this very hard time without the aid of an incubator. She used a hot-water bottle and love.

PRESIDENT OF HOMEMAKER CLUB

Mrs. Williams is the president of the Homemakers Club, an organization which has done a great deal of good not only in Mount Currie, but in any community in Canada where the Indian people have organized. Here they look after anyone in need of help, they pay train fares for sick people, assist with burned out families, new mothers, newly-weds, and quite often step in when sickness strikes a family.

This club has been in charge of completing the kitchen in the Community Hall. This is a lovely kitchen, and it is now much easier for the women on the reserve to prepare banquets. Until now the ladies have prepared the food in their homes and have taken it to the hall.

Mrs. Williams is the female probation officer for the Mount Currie Indian people.

She is a member of the Roman Catholic Church, confirmed at Fountain by Father Rohr in 1923. All her children are members of the Roman Catholic Church.

TOOK PLACE OF NURSE OR DOCTOR

For the last 23 years Mrs. Williams has often acted as midwife in the absence of a nurse or doctor. We asked her how many babies she had delivered, and she couldn't remember, the last one was delivered four months ago. Once about 4 years ago when her wrist was broken and in cast, she delivered two babies.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams had a store in the front of their house for about ten years. Mrs. Williams started it as a source of income when Mr. Williams was hospitalized for four months with pneumonia and typhoid. He was unable to work for about a year, and this little store kept the Williams family going.

This ambitious woman has attended many conventions in the province; she has been to Kamloops, Chilliwack, Vancouver, Cultus Lake, Lillooet and Chase, for the North American Native Brotherhood and the Homemaker's Club.

WORKS FOR HER PEOPLE

Always in her heart she is trying to find ways to make the future for the young Indian people brighter. She feels it is important for the young people to build away from the village on their own land allotment so that they have room to move, places to plant a garden and a lawn, and a place for their children to play safely.

She hopes the homes will be improved, that bathrooms will be installed, yards cleaned and homes painted. There is quite a campaign going on the reserve now, and both the interior and exterior of the homes are being improved. Mrs. Williams would like to see more homes built for the young people, to alleviate the housing shortage.

In the past, when there was no resident priest here, Mrs. Williams looked after visiting priests and Bishops for her church. Some of these men were Father Rohr, Father Roger, Father Fallman, and Bishop Herrington. She quite often acts as hostess to many of the visitors to Mount Currie, her home is lovely, and it is a very happy place to enter.

In addition to all her own children in her home, Mrs. Williams is looking after three welfare children this summer. They will return to school at Sechart in the fall, no doubt happier children for having an opportunity to live in this home.

She plants a big garden and does a great deal of freezing and canning for her family each year. Mrs. Williams made all the clothes for her children when they were young, and she also made native baskets until she was stopped by the doctor because of cedar poisoning.

Mrs. Williams works out at any job she can find to help her family out, she is a very good cook and quite often she is seen in the kitchen of the cafes in the valley. We all know the food will be good when Mrs. Williams is the cook.

Many things could be written about this lady, we have only touched upon the highlights of her life, but it would take pages to tell of all she does for her husband, her family and her community. It is a pleasure for anyone, either white or Indian to know you Mrs. Williams, and if more people had your qualities the world would be a much happier place in which to live.

MRS. GEORGE WILLIAMS of Mount Currie, with her husband and three of her eleven children, Laura, Larry and Lloyd.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shantz are Mrs. Shantz's niece, Joyce, her husband Harold Salberg and boys Mark and Keith from Washington, U.S.A.

Visiting at the home of the George Mitchell's recently were Mr. Mitchell's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell from Chilliwack.

Mrs. Margaret Halliday from Vancouver visited recently with her son and grandchildren, Mr. Jack Halliday, June and Gary.

Mrs. Marcella Halliday recently returned from Guide camp at Sechart, where she accompanied the Squamish guides for their eight day camping trip.

Happy birthday to one of the earliest residents in our valley, Mrs. Annie Ronayne who recently celebrated her eightieth birthday. Her three children who still reside in the valley were present for a party on Saturday July 10th. Happy returns of the day Mrs. Ronayne.

Sorry to hear that Mr. Bob Taylor was in the hospital for a couple of days, hope you will soon be okay again Bob!

Father W. Scott, O.M.I. from St. Christopher's Mission at Mount Currie, left for Ottawa on Sunday to stay with his folks for month.

Recent visitor in the valley was Rev. Doug Archibald from Lillooet. While on holidays Mr. Archibald noticed the passing of Mr. Joe Taillefer and came into Pemberton to attend the funeral. Sidewalks are being constructed along the front of the new addition of the Pemberton Hotel. This sure is a welcome addition to the front street.

Mr. Robbie Miller was back in the valley for a few days. He and Millie now have a ranch at Merritt, and really love the new place.

Nineteen people journeyed to Goat Meadows over the weekend of July the tenth and eleventh to take over 100 head of cattle up for the summer pasture. This is a very nice trip, and as the time goes along, more and more people in the valley are making the trip.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shore are their son and daughter in law Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shore and son Randy from the Peace River District.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Proudlock are Ralph's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Proudlock from Vancouver.

CEMETERY BEE AT MOUNT CURRIE

The community of Mount Currie took three days off and cleaned their graveyard, Mr. Victor Frank was in charge of the workers. They pulled the weeds, cut the grass, planted flowers, painted the crosses, and in general, worked hard to improve the appearance of their cemetery.

All who were not working on a job somewhere took part in this work, men, women and children. The families donated money and food to this venture, and all the workers were fed in the community hall.

Mrs. Victor Frank and a committee from the Homemaker's Club was in charge of the meals. Among those working in the kitchen were Mesdames Frances Wallace, Dorothy Pascal, Maryanne Dan, Rosie Wallace, Dorothy Wallace, and George Williams.

Mr. Wallace assisted the ladies with the heavy work which comes with the preparation of so many meals. Quite a few of the teenage girls also helped.

UC women hold sale and tea

The United Church Women of St. David's United Church in Pemberton held a very successful Strawberry Tea and Bake Sale on Saturday July 10th. Early plans called for it to be held on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taillefer, but unsettled weather with some rain made them move into the cafeteria of the Community Hall.

Quite a few folks turned out for tea, and many were very busy buying the home baking.

A number of the paintings done by Mrs. S. Holmes were on display, and the beauty of the work done by this woman can not be adequately described in words. There were still paintings, some of scenery, and some of the thoughts of this woman. Each person had one in particular that caught their fancy, for one it was an autumn scene, for another it was a canoe going off into the distance, all done in shades of blue. The work done by Mrs. Holmes is very good and well worth seeing.

Some of the workers at the sale were Mesdames Sidsel Ross, Gay Guthrie, Peggy Harris, Agnes Taillefer, Lennie Zurcher, Grace Sinnis, and Grethyl Watson.

Mrs. Mary Crowston and Mrs. D. Morrison of the United Church Women from Squamish came up for the day to attend the tea. Pemberton was very pleased to welcome these two ladies, and the group from here hopes some day to return the visit, and attend one of the functions in Squamish.

Pemberton ponderings

by G.V.W.

The other day while driving around in the village, I was shocked at the mess laying around on the main streets, which greets residents and tourists. Where is the pride in local should have in our village, and community? Why are there no garbage cans set up on the main street, and why are we not proud enough of our village to take our garbage home instead of throwing it out for all and sundry to see?

We have a nice little village set in one of the most beautiful surroundings in the province, yet we don't care enough to see that the streets are clean. If this surprises us who live here, how must the tourists feel? Would like to add here, there is a garbage can in front of the Pemberton Pharmacy, thank you Robert! And the Community Hall!

We have had a few days of cooler weather, and some rain. Driving along the roads in the valley, it is a treat to see the vegetation springing back to life. The fields are taking on a fresh green look, and the trees seem to be lifting their branches upwards, as though in some way they are saying their thanks to their Creator.

With the dust at last gone, the earth seems to take on a new fresh smell, the likes of which man could never duplicate. How I pity the city dweller who can not get out to the country like we can to enjoy something only God can give to us.

A little fellow came to the dinner table the other day with a face so dirty only parents could still love it. Daddy said, "Go and wash." He said "I did." Daddy said "I sure would like to know where." Little Junior answered, "In the bathroom!"

Remember once a statement being made that one of the local logging companies was going to place an ambulance in the area for the use of its workers, and the people of Pemberton valley? Has anything been done about it, or are we going to wait until the cattle are out of the field before we close the gate?

What is happening to the organizations in our district, why is the attendance dropping, and a general lack of interest being shown, especially it seems, by the men's groups? Each of these groups have been formed for a reason. Has this reason been lost in the shuffle without another good one to take its place?

Have we got to the place where we are getting selfish and care more for our own feelings than for the good of the community and its people.

Come on Pemberton, if we belong to an organization, let's get in there and do our utmost to make it a strong, worthwhile group. If we aren't at present a member of any of these groups let's make a point of joining one of them, and working along with many others to make Pemberton a good place in which to live.

Isn't it nice to see the Forest Fire Hazard rating sign gradually creeping down, to see that our forests are becoming safer that our men will have a few more days before there will be a chance of a forest closure. Wonder who the woman is who had to buy all new light bulbs because she was burning the candle at both ends?

Personal income tax was first levied in Canada in 1917 as a special war tax; it was not until 1948 that the name of the tax was changed from the Income War Tax Act to the Income Tax Act.

FAMILY REUNION AT THE WATSONS

A family re-union was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson, when Mrs. Watson's family met for the first time in twelve years.

Attending were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bray from Chilliwack, her oldest sister Gladys and her husband Albert Lindgren from Sardis, her second sister Gwen and her husband Jack Kemp and family Debra, Barbara, Roddy and Wayne from Ottawa, Ontario, and her aunt, Mrs. W. Spindler from Vancouver.

The family drove in over the road, and were not at all impressed. They were worrying so much about what the next corner would bring that they didn't have a chance to look at the scenery. Any one who is used to hardtop finds it very difficult to drive on such a road.

Mrs. Campbell from Nanaimo is in visiting with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Deering.

Happy Anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Menzel on their 22nd wedding anniversary, on Wednesday July the 7th.

Mrs. Clark Hiles and daughter Deanie are home again after spending a week with her parents in the Okanagan Area.

Nice to see Jack and Renee Carradice and family again, who were visiting in the area last Saturday.

Billy Brotherston had Gerald Giguere and Murry Fowler in for dinner last Saturday, July the 10th. Happy thirteenth birthday, Bill.

Sifu Fougberg went out to Gibson's on Wednesday July the 14th for a meeting of the joint School Boards. Accompanying him was Mrs. F. M. Taillefer, who was being met at Horseshoe Bay by Mr. and Mrs. R. Cameron, of Vancouver.

Mr. Frank Kinaird was in for a couple of days staying at the home of his sister Mrs. June Perkins. Mr. Kinaird is working in Squamish for the Canus Catering Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Urdal are now living in their new home, about four miles up the valley from the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gamble have been over to Sechelt for a few days. On the way home they are picking up Mr. Gamble's brother Doug, who is coming to stay for a while in Pemberton.

More money for drainage

The Department of Highways has agreed to make a further grant to the Village of Pemberton, so the drainage project on District Lot No. 7926 can be completed.

Mr. Wendell Watson is in charge of this project, and has as his assistants Mr. Gus Zurich, Mr. Pete Kuurne and Mr. Herman Saekow.

When completed, the water which normally runs helter skelter around the village, will be channeled into One Mile Creek.

A trip to Port Douglas then and now

On Friday, July the second, Mrs. George Williams took a trip down to Port Douglas, to renew the memories of the same trip taken 29 years before. The mode of travel was different and the time was much less, but to Mrs. Williams it brought back very happy memories.

This time she accompanied the resident priest, and travelled by jeep, the time before she had gone with her husband and five year old daughter by canoe down Lillooet Lake through the Portage which was very narrow and rough, to Tenass Lake where they camped overnight.

The next day they walked into Skookumchuk, a distance of 17 miles. Mr. Williams had the camping supplies strapped to his back and Mrs. Williams had their daughter strapped onto her back. They stayed at Skookumchuk overnight, then walked into Port Douglas the next day, another 20 miles.

Today the trip takes three hours by jeep, then it took the Williams' three days.

Mrs. Williams says the logging roads in the area are very good and someday soon when the bridge is completed it will be a lovely trip.

Mount Currie bean supper

The Homemakers Club of Mount Currie held a 'Bean Supper' on Saturday July the seventeenth, to officially open the kitchen of the Community Hall. This kitchen has been built by the people of the reserve under the capable direction of the Homemaker's Club.

The cupboards and shelves, tables and stove have been arranged to make it easier for the ladies to prepare their banquets and suppers. It is a very nice layout, and it is nice to know that all, even the teenagers, assisted with the work in this community effort.

School in the sun

Many new experiences at Penticton school

by LOUISE KILBY

Have you ever had anyone tell you that it "Never rains in Penticton"? Don't believe them! They have clouds here, it gets windy, and it rains. Oh, but the weather was sizzling the first days, just to give a good impression while we settled down. Then, the day of our beach party the heavens opened up and it poured.

The girls' dorm is a scene of girls busily getting prepared for the opening night of the play "Tunnel of Love" by J. Fields and P. Deurles. This play was in the Summer Theatre which is an open-air theatre. The play directed by Joy Coghill will run until July 24 when it will be followed by "Hay Fever" and "The Boy Friend". Our mascot, a big gold and black tiger is perched on a chair — he grins secretly at the merry-go-round world which whirls madly around him. "Sonatina" by Clementi is being practiced by one of the piano students. Before I came here I never appreciated the classics by Bach, Mozart and all the others. Now as a result of listening to the music students practice in the dorm, I enjoy some of it.

Discotheque night, dim light, loud music, scattered tables — and let's Jerk! Yes, Saturday night we all visited Shaky's Discotheque. For a lot of us this was our first visit to one and we found it much different that we had expected.

Most of us expected the dress to be more formal than the levis, sweatshirts and cut-offs in which the town crowd turned up. However, we all enjoyed it and are hoping that we shall be able to attend it again. In any school you get fads and OSSA is certainly no exception. Our latest among the girls is hair ironing. This process requires hair, comb, ironing board and iron. It is most fascinating to watch a girl on her knees, hair on the board, while a girl friend irons it to give it a straight Mod effect.

There are so many types of activities planned for us, sports, music, drama that besides learning in our classes we are learning much in our extra activities. Many of us have never golfed but the miniature golf tournament will give us all a chance to try to learn this sport enjoyed by thousands.

Never before have we had a chance to go to the opening night at an open-air theatre, to tour a radio station, to do many of the activities that we do here between classes. In our three week stay we will learn not only classroom work, but experience many social events.

CURLING TROPHIES were won by Doug Harley, Grace Harley, Lynn Mahood and Tom Shields, while Brian Shaw received the Cariboo Trophy for winning the bonspiel at Clinton.

Roads are improved

Roads in the vicinity of Minaty Bay and some access roads around the mine at Britannia Beach have been treated to a flush coating. Similar to black-topping but not as thick or long lasting this has improved the standard of roads in the mining community.

The dust problem, which has been a cause of complaints in Britannia as it was in Squamish, has been relieved by this treatment.

New books at the Library

Books for a lazy summer day

by FRED CLARKE

It's too warm to garden, too hot to make jam and the thought of ironing is unbearable, so sit out of doors with a book, but nothing too heavy. Any one of these would fill the bill nicely. (I'll bet it's raining when this is printed.)

THE LONELY LIFE by Bette Davis, who tells all the story of her long and successful career in pictures and her short and unsuccessful marriage.

OATH OF DISHONOUR by Garet Rogers tells of the dilemma faced by a young eye specialist. The daughter of a former sweetheart has received an eye injury in the same accident which killed her father. Against his better judgment he allows the mother to persuade him not to remove the eye. Blindness results and mother sues him for malpractice. YOU take it from there.

BE SILENT, LOVE by R. Hanna. While accompanying your lady love to a secret hideaway you accidentally kill a pedestrian. You flee from the scene of the accident and set in motion an unusual chain of circumstances. This is a marvel for an afternoon.

THE BATTLE OF THE VILLA FIORITA by Rumer Golden. Mother and father have separated; father obtains custody of the children and mother joins her lover in Italy. But the children refuse to accept the situation and that's when the action begins.

LOST CITIES AND VANISHED CIVILIZATIONS by Robert Silverberg. This is the intriguing description of the rediscovery of six ancient cities which had been buried for centuries. With the author we visit Pompeii, Knossos, Angkor Wat, Chichen Itza, Troy and Babylon. There's the recipe for a relaxing afternoon.

DISTRICT OF SQUAMISH NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that the Council of the District of Squamish intends to pass a by-law, under authority of Section 509 of the Municipal Act, to provide an exchange of land for the purpose of relocating a highway within the meaning of the Municipal Act.

The following land, presently registered in the name of Mackenzie & Sons Holdings Limited is to be conveyed to the Crown and is to be dedicated as a lane:

"All that portion of Lot 28, Block 2, District Lot 486, Group One, New Westminster District, Plan 3960 which said portion may be more particularly described as follows:

Commencing at an iron post set at the most westerly corner of said Lot 28, thence S 61 deg. 31' 20" E along the south-west boundary of Lot 28 a distance of 120.01 feet more or less to an iron post set at the most southerly corner of said Lot 28; thence N 28 deg. 29' 30" E along the south-east boundary of Lot 28 a distance of 30.0 feet more or less to an iron post set; thence S 73 deg. 29' W a distance of 14.14 feet more or less to an iron post set; thence N 61 deg. 31' 20" W a distance of 110.01 feet more or less to an iron post set on the north-west boundary of said Lot 28; thence S 28 deg. 29' 25" W along the north-west boundary of Lot 28 a distance of 20.0 feet more or less to the point of commencement."

In exchange, the following land presently owned by the Crown, is to be conveyed to Mackenzie & Sons Holdings Limited:

"All that portion of lane in Block 2, District Lot 486, Group One, New Westminster District, dedicated by the deposit of Plan 3960 which said portion may be more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at an old iron post at the most easterly corner of Lot 25, Block 2, Plan 3960; thence S 28 deg. 29' 30" W along the south-east boundaries of Lots 25 to 27, Block 2 a distance of 150.07 feet more or less to an iron post set at the most easterly corner of Lot 28, Block 2; thence S 61 deg. 32' E a distance of 20.00 feet more or less to an old iron post at the most westerly corner of Lot B, Block 2; thence N 28 deg. 29' 30" E along the north-west boundary of said Lot B, Block 2, a distance of 150.06 feet more or less to an old iron post at the most northerly corner of said Lot B, Block 2; thence N 61 deg. 31' 30" W a distance of 20.0 more or less to the point of commencement."

Survey plans for the above-noted lanes may be seen at the Municipal Office during regular office hours.

Any person desiring to object against this exchange of land must submit his objection in writing to the undersigned on or before Aug. 5th, 1965.

B. HOOVER,
Municipal Clerk.

Social Notes

Mrs. A. Fraser and Mrs. R. R. McCormack have flown to England for a two-week holiday. They plan to spend most of their time visiting relatives in the Cumberland District and in the Inverness area of Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Vandelaar have moved into their new home in the Garibaldi Highlands. Our very deep sympathy is extended to Mrs. W. J. Tinney and her children on their sudden loss of a loving husband and father.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Daniels are holidaying on Gabriola Island. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson and their children of Chilliwack have spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. Gedge.

Marilyn Smith and Mary Wingfield are off to spend a month at the MRA Camp Mackinac on Lake Michigan.

Following a week spent on Vancouver Island accompanied by her children and Mrs. E. Reeve, Mrs. Joan Knight and her son Warren are now visiting in Dawson Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Grosse of Rock Springs, Wyoming are spending a week with their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. C. Barnabe.

Judy Green is home for a two week holiday visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Keith Green. Christine Brown has gone to Quebec to spend a month with a student in that province. Last year she had an exchange student from Quebec City as her guest for a month.

Bank introduces new travel plan

Travel, which is fast becoming Canada's largest industry, is being given a boost by The Bank of Nova Scotia's new Globe Trotter Plan. Scotiabank is the first Canadian bank to introduce a service especially designed to assist travel-minded Canadians. The new service helps prospective globe-trotters to work out the total amount they will require for a vacation and they can then choose one of three methods to arrive at their goal. Method one is to save the amount in a special Globe Trotter account, method two combines saving and borrowing and the third method suggests that the traveller borrow the full amount through a Scotia Plan loan.

FOLDERS FOR SEVERAL REGIONS

A series of folders will be available outlining the plan, each one covering a different geographic region: "Canada," "the Caribbean and Bahamas," "Britain," "France," "Europe" and "Globe-Trotting." It is expected that a folder on the United States and a special folder on EXPO '67 will follow shortly. The folders show the living costs of the country, air, rail and steamship fares, the currencies involved, information on passports, visas, customs, etc., and a map of the region. They also incorporate a passbook enabling depositors to carry a handy reference on their savings progress.

WILL ENCOURAGE MORE TRAVEL

Although Canadians have already earned the title of the world's most travel-conscious people, a Scotiabank spokesman said he anticipates wide acceptance for the new plan, particularly by those who have always wanted to take a major trip across Canada or overseas, but either could not afford it or hesitated because they were uncertain as to costs involved.

Hunters required to take tests

Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan said written tests will start next year to bar potentially dangerous hunters.

Kiernan said the gun-handling test will be given to persons applying for the first time for hunting licences. He said failure of the test will mean denial of a hunting permit.

Kiernan said the test was provided for in the last session of the legislature in amendments to the B. C. Game Act.

The form of the test was not immediately known but game department officials said it probably would resemble the province's multiple choice drivers examination.

Kiernan said a gun-safety booklet is being prepared and will contain the necessary information to pass the test.

"If a person comes close to failing the test, he will probably have to take a practical field test and satisfy the examiner that he knows how to handle his weapons," he said.

The test would also be given to persons committing a breach of the Game Act, whether or not such a person is a novice hunter.

There were 10 firearms fatalities in 1964 compared with five in 1963 and the number of injuries increased from three to eleven.

June car loadings up on PGE

Carloadings for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in June reached a record high at 8,174, up from 6,704 in the corresponding month last year, according to a report just released by J. S. Broadbent, Vice-President and General Manager. The previous record was set in July, 1964, when carloadings totalled 7,471. Despite a two-week break in operations during February this year, carloadings in 1965 are now ahead of the pace set in 1964. Carloadings for the first six months of this year total 33,040, compared with 32,690 during the corresponding period last year.
