ALL HONEY FOR MRS. AXEN

Mrs. Axen's honey provided her with the sweetness of success last week when she won two prizes at the PNE in addition to the one previously won for her spinning.

By Exhibiting six 1-lb. jars of amber honey Mrs. Axen was awarded a first prize. In the class for six 1-lb. jars of chunk honey she received third prize.

It is interesting to note that the exhibitor who won first prize in the latter class is our old friend from Britannia Beach, Rod Blundell, now living in Ashcroft.

August temperatures well above average.

While there may be a hint of fall in the air, local temperatures during the month of August were well above average.

On the first of August a high of 88 degrees was recorded, eight degrees higher than the hottest day of last August when the mercury reached 80 on the tenth of the month. However the hottest day in August did not equal the high of July when the mercury soared to 95 on July 31st.

By contrast a low of 42 was recorded on the 30th just one degree higher than the low of last August when the temperature dropped to 41 on August 31st, the lowest August reading recorded by Harold Bailey since he began to keep these records fourteen years ago.

Rainfall to date is well below last year's fall. During August 2.82 inches of precipitation were recorded, almost half of the 4.18 inches recorded during the corresponding month last year. Total precipitation for the year, including the snowfall early in the year, is now 41.53 inches, considerably less than last year's eight month total of 53.01 inches.

Early settler laid to rest

Funeral services for Mrs. Jean Neil, a pioneer of Squamish, who passed away on Thursday, August 26, were held in the Squamish United Church on Monday August 30 at 1 p.m. with Rev. H. M. Wingfield officiating. Interment took place in Garibaldi Cemetery.

Mrs. Neil and her late husband James Neil came to Squamish about 1910 and settled in the Mamquam area around the shops. She remained in Squamish after her husband's death in 1953 until the death of her brother-in-law Kenneth Robinson of Vancouver when she joined her sister and remained with her until Mrs. Robinson passed away in May of 1963. At that time Mrs. Neil returned to Squamish to be near her son and his family and her many old friends.

Mrs. Neil was a charter member of the Ladies Aid to the Presbyterian Church when it was formed in 1913. In her later years she was a permanent honorary member of the Jean Neil Circle of the Squamish UCWO.

Mrs. Neil who was 88 is survived by her son James Douglas and his wife Alice, and a grandson Edward Neil of Squamish and one brother, Donald Matheson of Vancouver.

First aid training offered

With the coming of fall, many residents will, no doubt, be thinking about some of the things they may want to do in the evenings such as bowling, curling or square dancing, to mention just a few.

There is one activity that is available to everyone which is inexpensive, does not take up too much time each week and yet is extremely useful to everyone and the need for it may arise at any time.

This activity is First Aid and the St. John Ambulance Association is offering courses again this year.

Senior classes in St. John's First Aid are comprised of ten sessions of lectures and practical periods usually held at the rate of one session per week. A nominal fee, usually $5, is charged for this course. The fee covers the cost of text books, bandages and the final examination.

Upon passing the examination a certificate is issued which is valid for five years. Subsequent examinations will gain for the holders of certificates such awards as vouchers, medallions and labels. Persons already holding valid St. John awards may join a class and qualify for a higher award.

MANY HAVE TAKEN THIS TRAINING

In past years many have taken advantage of this training and have put it to good use in the home, at play, on the highways or at work.

St. John First Aid is a simple, basic course endeavouring to teach people how to carry out efficient first aid in the event of sudden injury or illness using only the resources they have at hand and which, in most cases, is very limited. A very important point is always stressed, "What not to do", so that injuries are not aggravated and made worse by incorrect treatment.

A number of employees of Canadian Collieries have received a special basic course on First Aid in Industry which has whetted their appetites for learning a little more about the subject.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSES OFFERED

Industrial First Aid Classes will also be offered again this fall possibly beginning around the end of October. This is an extensive course set up to cover the needs of industry in B.C. and is completed in twenty-four lectures and practical periods taking in two evenings a week. The course is finalized by an examination set by the Board of Examiners of the Workmen's Compensation Board. Successful students are certified as Industrial First Aid Attendants of B. C.

Candidates for an initial course in Industrial First Aid must pass a medical examination and be between the ages of twenty-one and fifty-five years. The Workmen's Compensation Board will consider applications from persons outside this age group under special circumstances. Previous First Aid training is not necessary to apply for this course although any previous training would be a definite asset.

The St. John Ambulance Association has appointed H. H. Buffery as their local co-ordinator and instructors are L. A. Moule, W. T. Curran and E. Lamb with L. A. Moule and H. H. Buffery as Industrial First Aid instructors.

Anyone interested in taking a Senior St. John First Aid Course to start in September is asked to contact H. H. Buffery immediately at 892-5252 local 92 during the day or 892-3260 in the evening.

PGE ticket office moves to North Van

As of Monday, August 30th the PGE's city ticket office at 1095 West Pender will be closed. The staff of this office is being transferred to the passenger depot in North Vancouver, near the foot of Pemberton Ave. and all ticket sales will now be handled from that office.

50th ANNIVERSARY FOR J. H. DAWSON

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dawson will hold Open House at their home at 3129 Cleveland Avenue on September 14 in honor of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dawson who will be celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson have spent some thirty-five years in Squamish and have a wide circle of friends who will be on hand to congratulate them on reaching this milestone in their married life.

THERE'S STILL WATER!

The brewery strike has finally caught up with the local establishments; there's nary a glass of the frothy brew left in town.

The Liquor Control Board store sold its last case on the evening of Friday, August 27. The local hotels held out a bit longer, the Squamish ran out on August 30 but the Chieftain Hotel was able to keep its patrons happy until September 2nd. It could be a long dry month!

Accidents send two to hospital

Two separate accidents took place over the weekend.

On Friday night a 1964 Ford Valiant driven by Thomas Goodall of Vancouver went out of control on the first sharp curve south of Browning Lake and rolled thirty feet down the embankment before coming to rest.

The driver and one passenger were taken to St. Paul's Hospital with serious back injuries, another passenger was taken to Squamish General Hospital with a severe cut on the forehead but was released from hospital the following day. Two other passengers escaped with minor injuries.

On Saturday evening a car driven by Mervin Nikota struck a pole near the main gates at Britannia Beach. Although the vehicle received extensive damage Nikota and his girl passenger received only minor injuries.

At June 1, 1964, the metropolitan area populations of Canada's five largest cities were: Montreal, 2,260,000; Toronto, 1,989,000; Vancouver, 828,000; Winnipeg, 487,000; Ottawa, 468,000.

Apples accounted for nearly half of Canada's $67 million commercial fruit crop in 1964.

Excellent showing by Woodfibre team

The Woodfibre Jets, their local swimming team, has made an excellent showing on each of three occasions in the past month.

On August 5th the Jets travelled to Vancouver to take part in the regional swim-off held at the Capilano Winter Club. This meet, open to all summer swimming clubs from the lower mainland, was held on the following day. The Jets gave a good accounting of themselves, placing fourth.

The same team went to Kelowna to take part in the northwest swimming championships held on August 11, 12, 13 and 14 during the Kelowna Regatta. At the close of the meet the Jets were proud to bring home one First Place trophy and over forty ribbons. In the overall competition the team placed fifth against strong competition from other teams in B.C. and Washington.

All the travelling expenses of this group were paid by the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 181 of Woodfibre who have consistently assisted this swimming team in the past.

TAKE HOME TEN GOLD MEDALS

On August 20 and 21 the Jets took part in the regional finals of B.C. held at Empire Pool. Of the young people participating thirteen made the finals. With just pride they brought home to their small community ten gold medals, two silver medals and two ribbons.

Top winners were Chris Dale with three gold medals and two silver medals; Wayne Cherney with three gold medals, Dale Kingston with two gold medals and Dean Kingston with one gold medal. In addition Billy Carrigan brought home a ribbon for placing fourth in the diving and Jeff Kingston brought home a sixth place ribbon for his achievement in the swimming. Their success is a fantastic achievement for so small a team.

The credit for the success of these swimmers must go primarily to their instructor Don Kinley, Manager Bill Carrigan cannot find words to express his pride in the efforts of these young swimmers. He knows that each and every one of them did his or her very best in each event in which they participated. And the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 181 shares his pride in their success.

Mr. Carrigan regrets that the girls on the team had tough luck but hopes that they will place in the finals next year. He is also very anxious to see Squamish develop a good swimming team and thus provide some around home competition.

The swimmers taking part in these events were Bridget Carrigan, Joanna Story, Marina Schultz, Patricia (Gus) Schultz, Karen Kirkham, Billy Carrigan, Wayne Cherney, Dale Kingston, David Smyson, Dean Kingston, Phillip Malm, Jeff Kingston and Chris Dale.

Hunting statistics for local season

The following statistics on last year's hunting season (1964-65) have been compiled by the Fish and Game Branch from a study of extensive hunter questionnaire forms which were sent to holders of hunting licences selected at random from licence counters.

Moose — An estimated 42,242 moose hunters took 17,850 animals in the province, with 73 percent of these being harvested north of the 53rd parallel of latitude. Adult bull moose comprised 59 percent of the harvest; adult cow moose, 35 percent.

Elk — The provincial elk harvest was 3,230 animals, 37 percent being adult bulls and 50 percent adult cows. Elk hunters in the province numbered 13,000. Of the total elk kill, 92 percent were taken in the East Kootenays.

Deer — Deer hunters numbered 100,782. The harvest of 78,440 deer was comprised of 66 percent adult bucks, 29 percent adult does and 5 percent juveniles.

Mountain Goat — The provincial mountain goat kill was 1,570 taken by 3,416 hunters. The age-sex distribution of the kill was 53 percent adult males and 43 percent adult females. Game Management areas 11 and 20, the central part of the province and the East Kootenay area, together supplied 50 percent of the provincial harvest.

Mountain Sheep — Hunters of mountain sheep totalled 1,412. They harvested 294 sheep, 85 percent of these being taken from Game Management Areas 11 and 20.

Upland Game Birds and Waterfowl — The estimated grouse kill was 130,600 birds, of which 121,600 were blue grouse; 42,200 were ruffed or willow; 12,900 were sharp-tailed grouse, and 4,000 were Franklin's. Some 116,000 hunters participated in the harvest.

The provincial pheasant harvest was estimated at 48,900 birds of which 88 percent were cocks and 12 percent were hens. Quail harvested are estimated at 17,000.

The waterfowl harvest was 383,900 ducks and 24,700 geese. Waterfowl hunters totalled about 50,000.

LAST LINK in the new water main has now been installed. Here municipal workmen Ed Theriault and Dick Johnson are shown in the hole beside the highway at the bridge while Walter Heckman of Associated Engineering and Jim MacKenzie are watching the work. The workmen were installing the ten inch steel line which came across the bridge and along the highway. It was the only portion of the new line which remained to be completed.

Teachers Have Their Problems, Too...

How to make teachers feel more welcome and prosperous is, in fact, furrowing brows worldwide.

While most of us in suburbia are directly concerned with the well being of our offspring and their education, there is developing a local and wide-spread concern for state of the teaching profession. In Canada and the United States it might be said that the teaching profession has developed a respectable image. But this is not so elsewhere.

Next January, educators from 30 nations will travel to Geneva to take up the teacher plight internationally.

Teachers in many countries, particularly in the underdeveloped ones, don't draw the pay to match their educations and skills.

In many other instances, the teachers simply don't possess either the education, or the skill. It is not uncommon in some back regions to find teachers with only eighth-grade educations teaching elementary school.

The Geneva conference, meeting under UN and International Labor Organization auspices, will take their professional, social, and economic problems in tow. It hopes to make a dent in a few of them.

Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!...

A brisk election season is shaping up in both municipal and federal jurisdictions and in such a time campaigners are scratching for new ideas, different ideas for the promotion of their candidate's good character before the electorate.

Atlanta's Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., seems to have come up with the ultimate in opportunity in his re-election campaign by putting in a Beatle plank in his platform.

Britain's Beatles, that celebrated shaggy-headed quartet from Liverpool visited Atlanta in August for a concert. Teen-agers, agog over the prospect, inundated Mayor Allen with letters.

As any proper politician should, he addressed them all in an open letter in the newspapers. He, too, he stressed, was a Beatle fan — indubitably. He, too, planned to be right there at that concert — unquestionably.

The minimum voting age in Georgia, after all, is 18. That's still teenage isn't it? Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!

OTHER OPINION

A Bath With The Boss...

by RICHARD J. NEEDHAM, The Globe and Mail

This American trade union official, by name Clarence L. Greenwell, came to Toronto for a union convention (Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees). The convention featured a banquet, he had a bath in his hotel room before attending it, and severely damaged himself when he slipped in the tub.

Question: When Mr. Greenwell had the bath, was he engaged in a purely personal act, or was he engaged in official union business? An appeal court at Washington, D.C. (where he resides) has ruled that he was serving the union when he got into the tub, and that the union must therefore recompense him for injuries, medical bills and loss of pay.

This court ruling should make all of us humble toilers sit back and think. When we do whatever it is we do... from taking a bath to getting a haircut to refusing that eighth Manhattan—are we doing it for our own benefit, or for the benefit of the organization which employs us? If you contemplate the subject, you may decide that almost everything you do is done for your horrible employer; you are working for him for not 40 hours a week, but more like 140, and you ought to be paid accordingly.

Do you really want to go to bed at midnight? Of course not, you would rather stay up and drink beer and play cards and watch television. The only reason you hit the sack is so you can be bright and fresh when you encounter Old Meathead at nine the next morning. He should pay you for getting eight hours sleep; you do it just for him.

Do you really want to wear a dark grey suit with striped shirt and polka-dot tie? Fat. You would like to wear a doubler with a ruff and silken hose, and a pointy cap with a feather springing out of the top. Or you'd like to wear a scarlet cloak; or a flowing Arabian burnouse; or a monk's sackcloth robe; or a pair of blue denim overalls. But the company wouldn't approve of that. Well, since it dictates your clothes, let it pay for them. And have them custom-tailored at Hobblerlin's or Harry Rosen's or some such place.

Why do you live in a house, rather than a cave or a tent or up on top of a pillar-like St. Simeon Stylites? Why do you have a telephone, pay your bills, drive a car, shave once a day and cut your fingernails once a week? Why don't you take off right now, this very moment, for Mexico City? Why don't you go on a wonderful three-day bash? Is your wife your pet, your poppet, or merely someone who drags you out of bed in the morning so that you can go and push bits of paper around at Consolidated Pretzels? Does she belong to you—or to them?

As you reflect on these questions, you will see that you have almost lost your identity as an individual; you do things, or refrain from doing things, because of your job. Like Faustus; you have sold your soul; like Hoffman, you have surrendered your reflection; and what sort of a price did you get for it? Faustus at least got to frolic with Helen of Troy, and Hoffmann had various jollies with Giulietta.

In his witty romp, Pictures from an Institution, Randall Jarrell describes a university president that "it was hard to tell where he ended and where the environment began". Has this perhaps been your fate? Can you, can anyone, tell where you end and where your job begins? It's a generous outfit that employs you, to be sure—it paid for the psychiatric treatment you needed as a direct result of working for it—but what ever happened to you as a person?

Perhaps, it's too late; there's nothing left of you but a blank. Perhaps you're like the girl in Mary McCarthy's first (and best) novel, The Company She Keeps—a dead planet, merely reflecting the personalities of others. Your character, like that of Meg Sergeant, is determined by the company you keep, and the company you keep is the company that keeps you.

Enough People...?

Confronted with such awesome statistics—and remembering that something like half the present world population is grossly underfed—one can only marvel at the blind optimism of those who can delude themselves that fewer than 20 million people is a large enough number for a country that is both the second largest and one of the richest and most under-occupied in the world.

We can also recall not too many years ago, when West Vancouver pioneers fretted and fumed over the intrusion of the "nouveau riche" claiming that the population spread would ruin municipality forever. We, on the contrary, think West Vancouver is even a better place in which to live than it was 20 years ago.

Be it a community or a country heavily endowed with the riches of nature, restrained immigration may be a cosy notion but it is hardly a practical or a moral one.

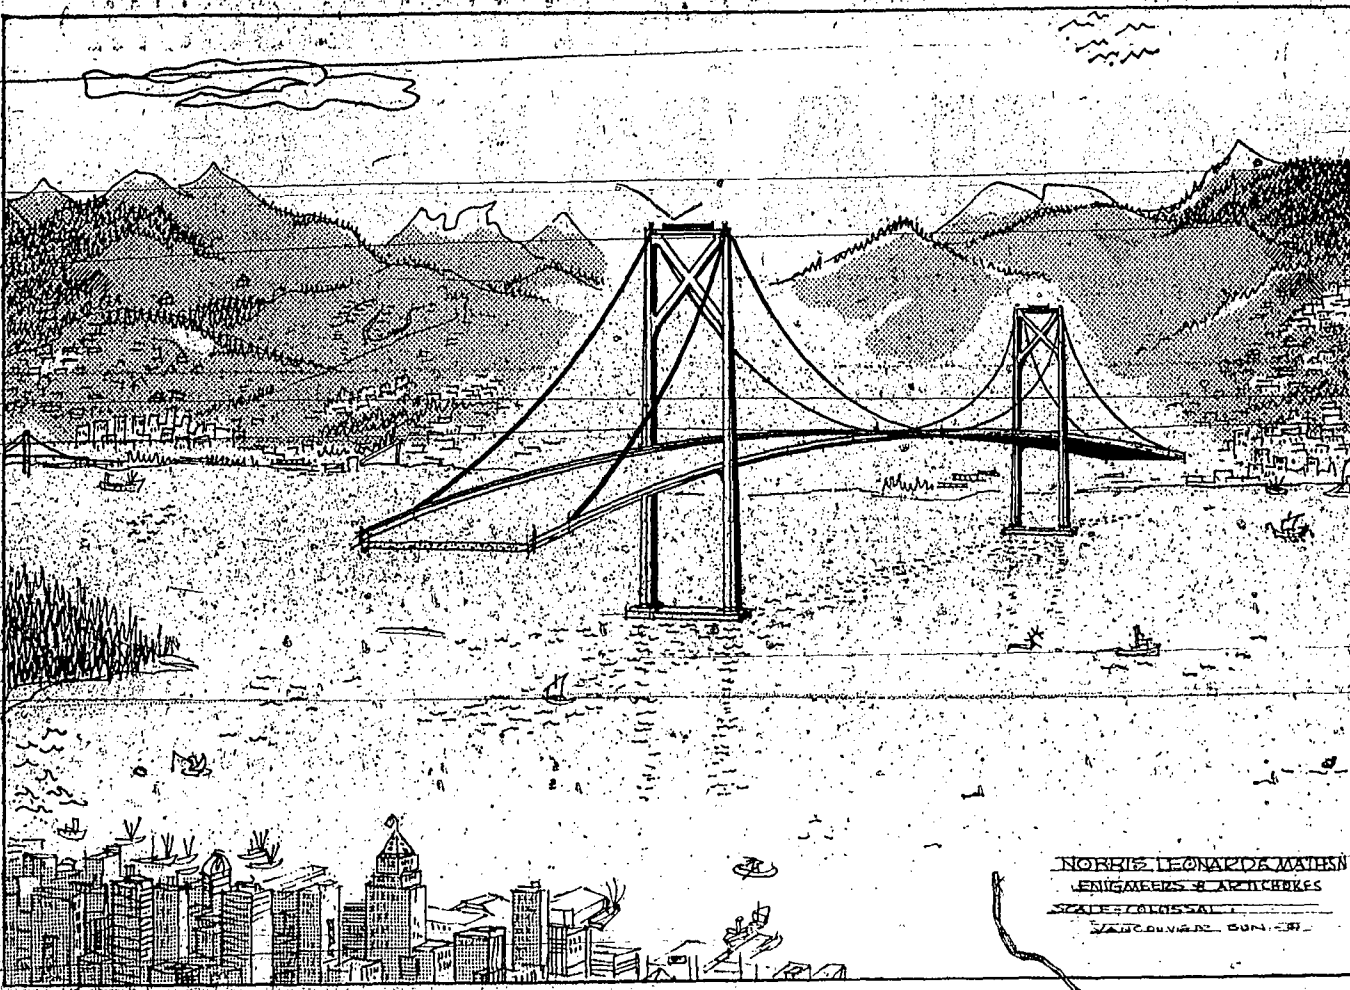

A recent Canadian Institute of Public Opinion poll revealed that 48 per cent of those questioned thought that Canada needed a larger population compared with 44 per cent who were satisfied that the present population was "just right."

This is a disappointingly narrow victory for humanity and commonsense. Moreover, it reflects a continuous 20-year decline in the percentage of respondents recognizing Canada's need for more people. Records show that back in 1945, this stood at 65 per cent.

No doubt many factors are involved in so marked a change in public opinion; not all of them necessarily bad or selfish. Yet it is rather incredible that an apparent 44 per cent of those in Canada today should think it possible that we can hold our population at its present level.

The world's population is currently rising at the rate of 50 million people a year. Since the beginning of this century it has more than doubled, to its present figure of 3,000 million. And in the years which remain to the end of this century it will, at its present rate, more than double again.

Artist's conception of provincial government's proposed new First Narrows 8 lane bridge. Local municipalities have been cordially invited to attach their roads to it by means of bridges. Mr. Gagliardi, aware that love of money is the root of all evil, naturally declined to have anything to do with love, money or evil.

Straws in the wind

by Mary MacDonald

Bennett's medical kick forstalls B.C. Tel grab

AN INTERESTING DEVELOPMENT IN THE PUBLIC utility field in Canada has been the announcement that the Board of Transport Commissioners, controlling body for privately-owned Canadian utilities, will hold hearings on October 25th to determine the permissible level of earnings for the B. C. Telephone Company.

The B. C. Telephone Company has recently announced an issue of new rights to buy their common shares at a reduced price.

This issue will be on the basis of one new share for every eight shares held by the investor, and at a price equivalent to $57 per share — roughly $10 under the current market. The rights can be exercised or sold, at will.

I feel that this presents us with an opportunity. The opportunity is not one for massive appreciation but, rather, for accumulation of a stock which over the years has had one of the soundest of earning records, cannot but grow with B. C. and, by inference, is practically committed to maintenance of a good market on its shares by its capital requirements.

MAINTENANCE OF A GOOD MARKET CAN ONLY be achieved by a reasonably generous dividend policy, and it is unlikely that the Board of Transport Commissioners will do anything drastic that would imperil the Company's future by impairing its ability to raise capital.

Too, current high levels of prosperity in B. C. would seem to indicate that the new drain on the provincial economy occasioned by the Premier's switch from a government that builds roads and bridges to a government that is hell-bent for education and medical care will be so great as to not allow take-over of our one remaining privately-owned major public utility.

(Friends of Mr. Gagliardi may mourn his crashing demolition announced by cancellation of his elaborate First Narrows Bridge plans, but, to put it mildly, Mr. Gagliardi's mark will remain fixed in B.C.'s every Social Credit electoral district in four-lane blacktop highways that may have just a teeny tendency to roll up at the edges, and bridges that may show mild spavin with the passing years. Nevertheless these will remain a monument to the Man.)

THE B.C. TELEPHONE COMPANY HAS AN interesting capital problem.

The 1964 balance sheet of the Company showed a working capital deficit position of over $2½ million and the proceeds from this issue will amount to $16.4 million, leaving $14 million for expansion.

The 1965 expansion program is expected to cost about $45 million, and I think it an entirely reasonable assumption that with only $9.6 million left, the Company will have to go back to the public for more financing in the way of another rights issue, preferred shares or bonds before many years have passed.

A consistently high market on the common shares over this period would be helpful in selling any type of security later. That high market will be helped by generous dividends.

CURRENT EARNINGS ARE SUFFICIENT TO JUSTIFY a generous dividend policy.

The 1964 net profits increased nine percent over 1963. Operating revenues rose thirteen percent. The number of telephones in use climbed by 5.8 percent. But, probably the most significant figure was an increase in long-distance calls of 10.2 percent, and it is in this field the greatest net earnings improvement probably lies, for with almost complete automation and direct dialing to most of the world, expansion of business in this field is likely and most productive.

From past experience I have found that generally it is best to buy shares in a company just after the rights have been issued to the shareholders, since "quite often" the price of the shares drops by at least the amount of the market value of the rights.

I believe that the B. C. Telephone Company's management is among the best in Canada in any field, and I consider the prospects of the Company good. I recommend the shares for purchase after the rights have been issued.

Ottawa Diary

Ottawa's plan for medical services boils down to a conditional offer of financial assistance to the provinces.

Mr. Pearson also made it clear in his opening statement at the recent Federal-Provincial conference that his government was not launching another shared-cost program; instead it offered to support "provincial" medicare plans by means of a contribution of pre-determined size.

Four conditions were laid down by the Prime Minister. They were to the effect that medical benefits must meet the full cost of the doctors care, must be universal, must be publicly administered and must, above all, be portable from one province and from one part of the country to another.

Minimum standards would be set up and Canadians, under this scheme would be free to move taking their benefits with them.

One fear at least was removed. Medicare will not result in a vast bureaucracy centrally controlled and operated from Ottawa.

What we are going to have, if Mr. Pearson's ideas are acceptable, is a series of provincial plans, differing in some details but basically the same, to which the Federal government will give money and such expert advice as can be provided more efficiently by the nation acting as a whole.

The reaction of the Provinces varied from province to province. Mr. Lesage, for once, was reasonably happy.

Mr. Robarts, speaking for Ontario, saw some form of medicare as inevitable.

The Maritime provinces are all for it because this means more cash from the federal treasury.

Saskatchewan already has an universal scheme in effect and B. C. is moving step by step, in that direction.

Only Premier Manning of Alberta expressed outright opposition to the scheme. He and later Premier Roblin of Manitoba both thought that the provincial plans should be voluntary, not universal, and that the private insurance companies should be allowed to act as carriers in financing schemes of this kind.

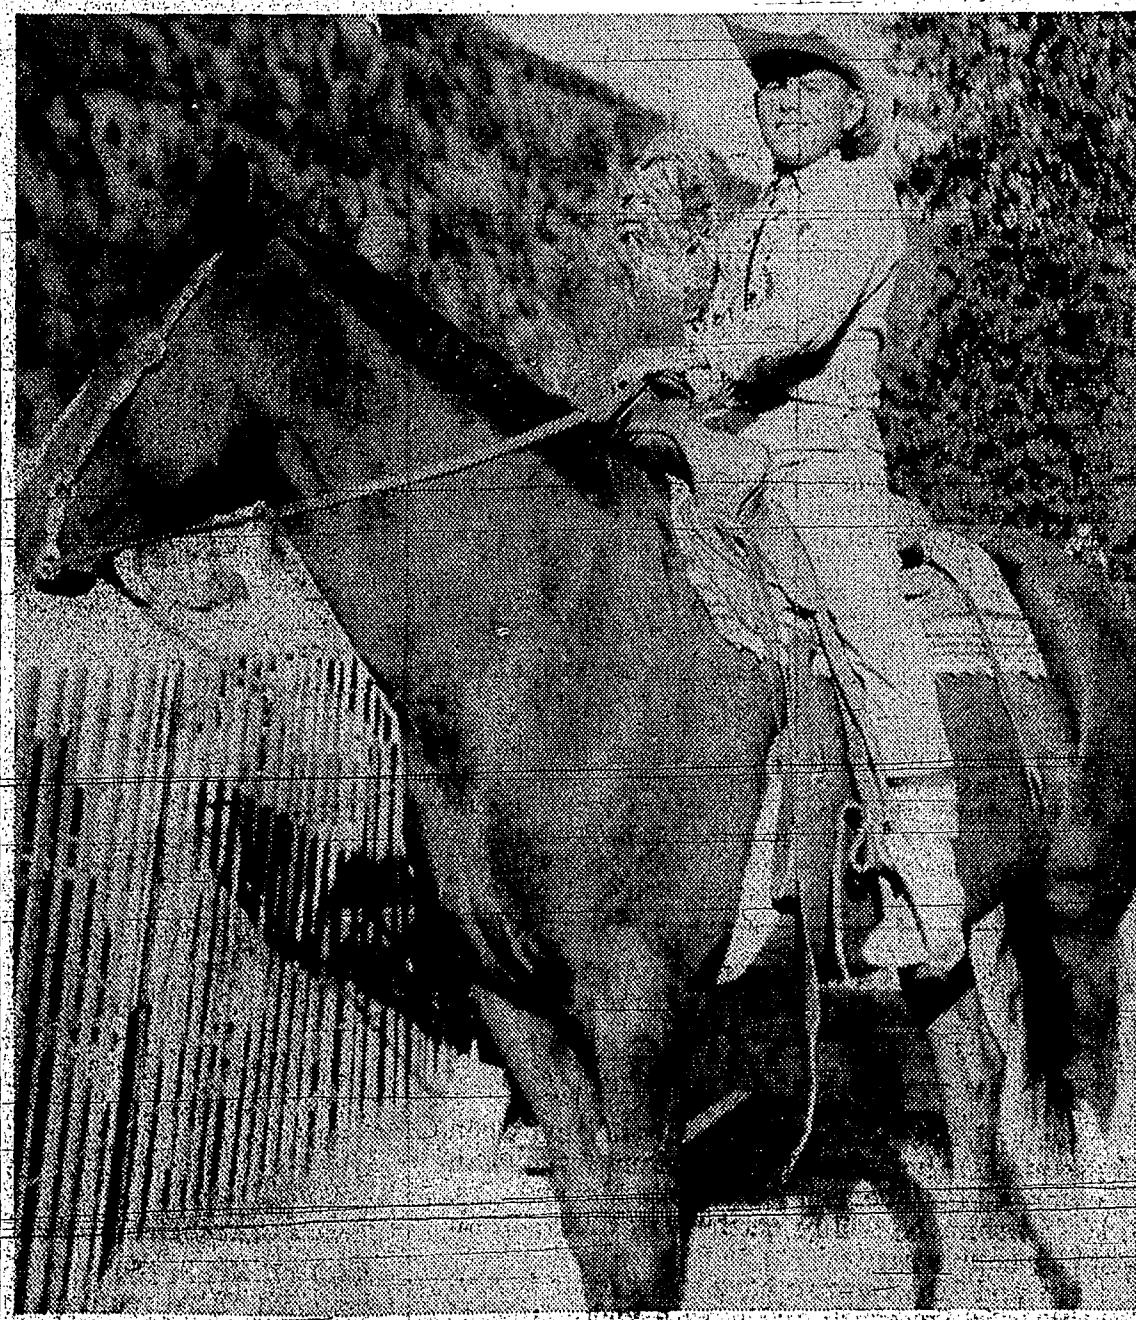

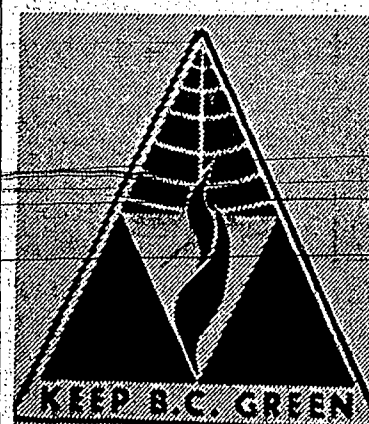

There are other complications. Medicare available on a universal basis and paid for largely out of the general reserve of the nation will cause a spurt in the demand for services of various kinds.

Medical personnel will certainly be in short supply. So Mr. Pearson is also advocating the creation of a central fund for the construction of research facilities, teaching hospitals and top rate medical schools.

All told it is a package with which it is difficult to quarrel. There will be those, myself included, who will wish that the doctor-sponsored plans could have been given a place.

But this is not to be. So let us hope therefore that the doctors will bury their differences and, by helping to shape our provincial plan, will make the overall national health scheme their own.

For the 1964-65 fiscal year administration cost of the unemployment insurance fund was $54 million, payment to the fund out of general tax revenues was $62 million, employer-employee payments were $309 million.

Social Notes

Marilyn Smith and Mary Wingfield went to Rosedale over the weekend as guests of the United Church there. The local girls gave a talk on their experiences and impressions while attending the MBA Camp at Michillimackinac.

The congregation of their home church is looking forward to hearing them speak before too long.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Aldridge recently were her sisters, Mrs. Peter Hagglund of Kamloops and Mrs. J. Gulewich of Ladysmith.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gebhart are leaving for the east where they will visit their son LAC Larry Gebhart at Val Doré, Quebec, and then go on to Fredericton for a stay with her brother.

Following a quick look at Nova Scotia they will go to Toronto to spend some time with another brother of Mrs. Gebhart's. If time permits they hope to visit Rev. and Mrs. N. J. Penrose at Morgan's Point. Earlier this summer Leonard Gebhart made a trip east to visit his uncle, Fredericton.

Rev. H. M. Wingfield attended the United Church Conference at Naramata where he chaired the Committee on Evangelism and Social Services.

Ken Mann, who is stationed at Edmonton with the RCAF, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Munro.

Mr. C. T. Candy of Richmond spent a few days with his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Nick Candy.

Garibaldi Highlands Jottings

Well, holidays are over and everyone's busy getting ready to build their new homes in the Highlands.

We welcome Rex Billington from New Zealand who will be teaching at the Mamquam School. His fiancée arrives from New Zealand Sunday.

The Reverend Harvey Peters is very active this Fall with plans for the new Baptist Church which is proposed to be located at Road and Diamond Head Chalet road. Every one interested get ready to lend a hand.

The one bedroom apartments will be ready before September 24 and the two bedroom shortly afterwards. There are a few vacancies still. Construction is expected on a further 30 suites of the same design this Fall, to be ready in the Spring.

For larger facilities there are rumors of five blocks of four plexes each with three bedrooms. So Mel Carrioco, our Mamquam School principal is praying that this extra explosion of families won't take place before the end of School year.

Welcome notes are hung out for:

Arthur and Letitia Saul who are planning building on their lot on Park Crescent.

Vern Gerrard is starting his new home on the creek side on Park Crescent, too.

John and Wilma Visona are clearing their lot for their new home on Skyline Dr.

The John Helgasons are busy too, next door with the same effort.

Henry Grove plans building a home on his lot on Argyle Crescent where the Gordon Allen's hope to be moving in shortly to their new residence opposite.

John Leman, Garibaldi Parks superintendent, is very busy evenings on his home on the Boulevard and hopes to have the roof on shortly.

Gordie Sellers is busy chewing his nails waiting to get in to his new house also on the Boulevard and the David Reids house next door is well under way.

Bill and Ruth Smith are planning a house warming party when they move in.

Bob Stammers is on the roof of his new house on the north end of the Boulevard. So far he hasn't set the woods afire again but Sam Goss has his fire hose ready.

John Frederickson's new home on Cheakamus is worth a visit. It is the prettiest new home. Congratulations gentlemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Maveety have completed their new home on Cheakamus and have moved in. Everyone has wondered about the effect on Squamish of the pulp mill. The one that didn't and the one that's coming. Pat Goode has just returned from a business trip to Kitimat, Prince Rupert, Prince George and Kamloops, looking at the industries there. A comment he made was: "If the pulp mill comes, it won't be growth, it will be a bigger explosion than people realise."

Welcome to all the new school teachers. We hope to meet you soon. Drive careful please near the schools.

25th ANNIVERSARY FOR KIRKWOODS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kirkwood celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary very quietly on August 30. Married in Calgary, they have been residents of Squamish for almost all of their wedded life.

Sharing the quiet family celebration with them were their daughter, Lynnda, of Vancouver and Gayle, Mrs. Kirkwood's mother Mrs. C. Harrison, two of her sisters and their husbands Mr. and Mrs. Ian Banks of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morris of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood are deeply grateful to the friends and neighbors who presented them with gifts and a beautiful floral arrangement in honor of the occasion.

Harold Adams weds Beverly Brown

Gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations decorated Kitsilano United Church on Saturday August 21st for the 7:30 p.m. wedding of Beverly Enid Brown, daughter of Mrs. T. Mitchell of Vancouver to Harold James Adams of Squamish.

The bride given in marriage by George Hudson wore a brocade cream satin cocktail length dress in princess lines with a wide yellow chiffon scarf around the neck that hung down the back of the dress to the hem. Her headpiece was a pill box hat of green and yellow with a large yellow flower on the crown of yellow veil. Her bouquet was of Tailsman roses and baby breath. Her only jewellery was simulated drop earrings and a necklace.

Her sole attendant, Miss Irene Edval wore a cream colored cotton knit dress with short sleeves of lace, and lace around the neckline. She carried pink and white carnations.

Mr. Floyd Adams, son of the groom, was best man and ushers were Mr. Leo Robadeau and Mr. E. Adams.

A reception was held at Lions Gate Legion following the ceremony. Mr. George Hudson proposed the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon trip through parts of the United States and Vancouver Island the bride donned a grey wool worsted suit with white and yellow accessories. She wore a yellow rose corsage.

The couple will live in Squamish. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burkett of Prince George, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Targenson of Williams Lake, Mrs. Norma Zigarlick and Mrs. Judy Carnell of Courtenay.

OAP join Golden Agers

Among the many thousands of senior citizens attending the special Golden Agers Day at the PNE last Thursday was a busload from Squamish.

Arrangements had been made by Jack Castle with the Squamish Coach Lines to transport those interested in attending, to the PNE grounds.

As the busses from points throughout the lower mainland arrived at Gate 16, young ladies presented each senior citizen with an address of welcome, a map of the grounds, a white ribbon which testified to their status as senior citizens and entitled them to some special privileges and a plastic dogwood flower to wear on their coats.

The formalities over, the Squamish group divided into two and three and divided into two own interests: the ladies of course headed for the Home Arts Building and the floral displays while the men were more interested in animals and machinery.

It was a tired but happy group that boarded the bus for the homeward journey.

Local couple wed at United Church

Bouquets of gladioli decorated the altar of Squamish United Church on Saturday, August 28th for the 7 o'clock wedding of Linda Grace Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Erma Mitchell of Squamish to Patrick Leo Morgan, son of Mrs. E. L. Morgan of Victoria.

Rev. H. M. Wingfield, officiated.

The bride wore a floor length full skirted gown of lace over taffeta. Her elbow-length veil of lace fell from a pill-box head-dress and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Her attendants Miss Linda Mae Hamilton, Miss Janice Leru, Miss Helen Calbeck and Miss Laura Addinall wore identical street length gowns of pink nylon over nylon and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

The two flower girls Michelle and Toni Lynn Mitchell, nieces of the bride, wore identical dresses of pink organza and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Ken Morgan was his brother's best man and ushers were Mr. Gray Mitchell and Mr. Harvey Jackson.

Miss Laurel Gourlay, Miss Carol Daniels, and Miss Donalee McDonald from Duncan sang at the church. They were accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Kristjansson. Later they sang at the reception, accompanied by Linda.

A reception at the Elks Hall followed the ceremony. Mr. Ray Mitzel, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon trip to the Okanagan the bride donned a red plaid suit with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

The young couple will live in Squamish.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mitzel and family, Richmond; Mr. John Kaiser, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lentz and family, Surrey; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Risling, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. V. Irwin, Edmonton, Alberta; Mr. Les Clark, Tacoma, Washington; Mrs. Anne Hunter, Burlington, Washington; Mr. Paul Kinsman, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Port Alberni; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Morgan, Victoria; Mrs. E. Beverly Greveling weds D. Caldwell at pretty rites

Gladioli and two large baskets of delphiniums and roses graced Kingdom Hall on Saturday, August 21st, for the 6 o'clock wedding of Beverly Louise Greveling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Greveling of Vancouver, to David Alexander Caldwell, son of Mrs. Fern Caldwell of Squamish.

Mr. Chas Martin officiated at the ceremony.

Fitted satin over net fashioned the bride's floor length dress while her shoulder-length veil fell from a pill box head piece. Her only jewellery was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of bud roses.

Mrs. Emily Risby as her sole attendant wore a street length blue brocade dress with a white hat and wore a yellow corsage.

Mr. Lloyd Twiss was best man and ushers were Bob Rogers, Nolan Smart, and Ronald Blanes.

A reception at Melody Hall followed the ceremony with Mr. Arthur Twiss as Master of Ceremonies.

Before leaving for their honeymoon trip to Alberta the bride donned a three piece brocade suit of soft pink with pink and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The young couple will live in Squamish.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Greveling of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. T. Nygren of Surrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. L. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Greveling of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson and children of Campbell River, Mr. and Mrs. E. Warne of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. T. If Mary's earnings continue at this rate until she reaches age 65, she will receive a retirement pension of $77.50 a month from the Plan plus $75 a month Old Age Security.

Because Mary will have the opportunity of contributing for 43 years, she can have as many as 6½ years of lower or no earnings and still be entitled to the same pension.

Actually, Mary's retirement pension will undoubtedly be more. This is because as Mary advances in her profession and her earnings increase so will her pension. Furthermore, to ensure that all benefits under the Plan maintain their value, they will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

If Mary continues to work and becomes disabled at any time after 1970, she will be entitled to a disability pension of $83.12 a month until she reaches age 65. From then on she will receive her retirement pension as well as $75 a month from Old Age Security.

If Mary dies any time after 1967, having contributed until her death, a lump sum payment of $465 will be paid to her estate.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Mary, you are employed and have earnings of $3,720 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of $4.68 a month. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Horse show pleases Pemberton audience

As an added attraction the Fall Fair Committee sponsored the second Horse Show to be held in Pemberton on August 29 in conjunction with the Fall Fair. In spite of the heat everyone appeared to enjoy the variety of events. For the first time horses and riders from outside the valley entered the events and, although most of the awards went to Squamish, the people of Pemberton are very proud of the prowess and sportsmanship of all those who took part.

Mrs. Sidel Ross was in charge of the program and the judges were Harry Head of Squamish and Lex Ross and Derry McEwan of Pemberton. George Hayes was master of ceremonies.

The winners of the events were as follows:

Stock Saddle Seat (Junior)
1. Brian McIntosh of Squamish, 2. Weldon Talbot, 3. Connie Kyle of Squamish. As a special prize Brian won the trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Street for the winner of this event.

Junior Pole Bending 1. Brian McIntosh, 2. Connie Kyle, 3. Linda Miller, 4. Darryle Meen.

Intermediate Pole Bending
1. Doug Gilmore, 2. Margaret Mitchell, 3. Rusty Fotsch, 4. Bob Menzel.

Senior Pole Bending 1. Robbie McPherson of Squamish, 2. Tex Rodgers of Squamish, 3. Nancy Gilmore, 4. Gus Zurcher.

Stake Race (Junior) 1. Brian McIntosh, 2. Janet Miller, 3. Linda Miller, 4. Darryle Meen.

Stake Race (Intermediate)
1. Ray Shier, 2. Richard Crosson of Squamish, 3. Rusty Fotsch, 4. Margaret Mitchell.

Stake Race (Senior) 1. Robby McPherson, 2. Harry Kenyon, 3. Laura Miller, 4. Nancy Gilmore.

Musical Chairs (Junior) 1. Brian McIntosh, 2. Linda Miller, 3. Connie Kyle, 4. Norman Ross of Squamish.

Musical Chairs (Intermediate)
1. Ella Miller, 2. Ed McCulloch, 3. Richard Crosson, 4. Doug Gilmore.

Musical Chairs (Senior) 1. Brian Ross, 2. Lloyd Williams, 3. Robbie McPherson, 4. Harry Kenyon.

Potato Race (Junior) 1. Brian McIntosh, 2. Connie Kyle, 3. Norman Ross, 4. Jilene Drenka of Squamish.

Potato Race (Intermediate)
1. Klaus Fotsch, 2. Ed McCulloch, 3. Ella Miller, 4. Ray Shier.

Potato Race (Senior) 1. Gus Zurcher, 2. Lloyd Williams, 3. Don Miller, 4. Robbie McPherson.

Among the riders who took part in the events and their mounts were Gus Zurcher on Tippi, Lloyd Williams on Black Banner, Harry Kenyon on Whiskey, Robbie McPherson and Richard Crosson who shared Kit, Tex Rodgers on Tequila, Connie Kyle on Peppy, Jilene Drenka on Blanco, Fred Meen on Flash which he shared with his son Darryle, Deanie Ross on Connie, Raye Shier on Casey, Margaret Mitchell on Lonesome, Doug Gilmore on Olive Oil, Eddy McCulloch on Apache, Rusty Fotsch on Billy the Kid, Klaus Fotsch on Tang, Brian McIntosh on Patty, Jean Hamilton on Connie, Linda Miller on High Life, Nancy Gilmore on Olive Oil and Janet Miller on Pooch. This event has been most successful for the second time and those in charge are to be congratulated.

Aggregate winners at Pemberton fair

As in past years the Pemberton Fall Fair was a resounding success. The judges, Mrs. Dennett of Vancouver and Ian Carne, a horticulturist from Abbotsford, found it very difficult in many instances to reach a decision as to the winners.

The Fair Committee wishes to thank all those who assisted in the success of this event.

Following is a list of the aggregate winners.

VEGETABLES — Mollie Ronayne.

GARDEN COMPETITION — 1. Mrs. Vivian Lokken, 2. Mrs. Audrey-Oberon, 3. Mrs. Elsie Miller.

GARDENS — (Indian) 1. Mrs. Harry Dan, 2. Mrs. Albert Nelson, 3. Mrs. George Williams.

FLOWERS — Mrs. Jay Moore who received the cup presented by the B. C. Telephone Co.

Mrs. Moore also won two bracelets and a pair of earrings made of natural rock and donated by Mr. Slim Fougberg.

POTATOES AND TURNIPS — Sam Gilmore.

FRUIT — K. C. Harris.

DAIRY AND POULTRY — Mrs. Mollie Ronayne and Jack Guthrie tied in this section.

HOME COOKING — Glenda Mitchell. Great praise is due to Glenda who is just sixteen years of age and who was competing with the best cooks of Pemberton.

CANNING — Mrs. Ed. Gilmore.

HANDICRAFT — Mrs. Pat Priest who is a newcomer to the valley.

THRIFT SEWING — Mrs. Ma-

tina Pierre; for the first time this prize went to one of the Indian ladies.

SPECIAL SECTION — Heinz Zurcher was the winner here for his entry of a giant pumpkin.

JUNIOR EXHIBITS (ages 6 to 11) Doug Mitchell.

JUNIOR EXHIBITS — (12 to 16) Glenda Mitchell.

INDIAN EXHIBITS — Mrs. Joseph Jim, a lady of 89 years of age from Mount Currie. Mrs. Jim spends her days producing beautiful basket work characteristic of her people.

Sonny Taylor won the tree lamp offered as a door prize. George Mitchell won the binoculars, and Miss Donna Guthrie won the Brownie camera.

The Pemberton Girl Guides sponsored a hot-dog and soft drink stand under the leadership of their captain Mrs. Dawn Ross during the Fall Fair. Working very hard in the booth were Rosalind Pipe, Joanne Menzel, Irene Decker, Linda Priest, Sharon Priest, Roberta Fegan, Rebecca Collins and Sherry Mathews.

Ace-Novelties brought in a ride for small children plus a dart-throwing game, a cotton candy and popcorn booth, a fish-pond and other novel attractions.

CHRISTENING AT MOUNT CURRIE

Five children were baptized at St. Christopher's Catholic church at Mount Currie last week by the Rev. Father Wilford Scott. These are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Downer, Jr. from Squamish: Mrs. Downer is the former Hilda Stager of Mount Currie and daughter of Mrs. Rosie Ross.

The children were Linda Jacqueline, aged seven years, Debra Katherine six, Norma Loretta five, Perry Theodore three, and Candy Karen, aged six months.

The godparents for Linda and Debra were Mrs. Downer's sister and brother, Myrtle and Allen Stager.

Godparents for Norma, Perry and Candy were Mrs. Downer's brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. James Stager.

After the christening, the family, with godparents and Father Scott gathered at the home of the children's grandmother.

Pemberton Ponderings

Read in the Squamish Times the edition of August the twenty-fourth that the Howe Sound School Board are recommending that running shoes not be allowed in the regular class rooms. Why?

To-day I figured the expense of the parents with a family of five in the schools. Boys' shoes run in the price range of five to ten dollars a pair. Each boy during the school year would need at least two pairs of leather shoes, a pair of snow boots, and one lucky (or the parents are) will get away with one pair of running shoes. For my family of five boys, it would mean two pairs at ten dollars, and three pairs at six dollars, for a total of thirty-eight dollars. That's a lot of money for a family of five. Snow boots run at about ten dollars a pair, this would be another fifty dollars, and the running shoes would be at least two-fifty a pair, for a total of twelve-fifty. This is a grand total of $138.50 for our children to go to school in leather shoes as well as the required gym shoes.

There are other families in this area with more children than we have, and if we find that this is quite an expense, what must they feel? To the members of the School Board, would you please consider the parents when you make a request like this. I for one, am objecting to this regulation, are there any more of you parents who feel as I do?

This is the first time I have had this chance to say publicly to the Commissioners of the village of Pemberton, "Thank you very much for supplying the residents of the community with garbage cans." Now Pembertonians, let's show that we are proud of this little place we live in and use these cans and clean up the front street. It will certainly add to the attractiveness of the area as a whole and the businesses in particular. The tenders for the schools in this area were turned down, and they are being re-bid next month. This means that there won't be any real construction until possibly into October. In Pemberton winter construction is not very popular because of the extreme weather conditions we have in this area. We can start having frost in September, and by October it can be quite frequent. If the contracts are started and the weather turns bad, the children in our schools could be disturbed until the winter is over. No little child can possibly concentrate on his books when men are going up and down in the halls and saws and hammers are running and banging away.

How miserable it would be to be a carpenter working outside in the miserable weather we have here! How can this possibly lower the price, for how will the contractor be able to keep men in the area when they can work on construction jobs for the same wages where the temperatures are not so extreme? To keep men here the may have to raise the wages, and in the long run, who pays these wages?

Often wonder why the powers that be can't get together so that a better schedule for the building of our schools is realized. Is it local, the architect, or the senior government in the province? How about filling some of us in with some data on why?

The Annual Fall Fair was held in the Pemberton Valley last Sunday starting at ten a.m. and it was open to the public until six p.m. when there was an auction sale of goods donated by the exhibitors. The judging of the exhibits was done during the previous evening, so there was a very tired Fall Fair Committee on the actual day of the Fair.

These people do a great deal of work, and most of it is done behind the scenes. To the Fall Fair Committee, Thank you one and all for your untiring efforts, the Fair was a success, and all who went to see it were impressed with the quality of the exhibits.

SAM GILMORE, top winner in the potato and turnip class at the Pemberton Fall Fair.

Wide variety of films available

The National Film Board has changed most of the films on hand at the Squamish Public Library. Some of the better films from the previous lot have been left with us; with the new ones there is now a stock of some fifty films on hand. The topics are varied and there should be something to suit every taste.

The following titles are proof of the wide range of subjects covered by these films.

BETWEEN TWO WARS pictures the years between 1919 and 1939 and is divided into three sections; the first covers the boom days up to 1927, the second the grim days of the depression and the third depicts the march towards the Second World War.

THE GIFTED ONES is the study of an educational problem, what is the best way to satisfy the needs of the especially bright child?

THE HEAD MEN deals with the leaders in three separate communities in Brazil, Nigeria and Canada. What qualities have made men in these highly different areas, leaders among men? This is an insight into leadership potential.

TO BUILD A BETTER CITY shows how Vancouver, faced with the problem of blighted areas, embarked on a new plan of urban renewal.

THE WATER DWELLERS portrays how the forest workers of Simoon Sound in B.C. make their homes on sturdy river craft. It shows how people in a floating town get their mail, do their shopping and carry out the tasks of daily living.

PHOEBE is a film revealing the state of mind of a teenage girl when she realizes that she is pregnant and must tell those nearest to her.

The above are just a sampling of the films available. These are all 16 mm films and can be rented for a very nominal sum.

Swimmers pass tests

September 1st was the day set for the local swimmers to take their tests. Miss Louise Broome of the Red Cross Water Safety Service in Vancouver came to Squamish to put the local swimmers and a few from Pemberton through their paces.

Unfortunately, the pool was not heated; due to construction on the Howe Sound Secondary Building the heating system was disconnected; the youngsters who were accustomed to swimming in warm water most of the summer received quite a shock as they took their first dip.

The Squamish swimmers successfully passing their Senior Red Cross Water Safety test were Joy Phillips and Janice Drenka.

Passing the Intermediate Test were Graham Manson, Lorraine Kilby and Mary Ellen Shinnars. Passing the Junior Test were Sheila Phillips and Joanne Dickie.

Mrs. Lloyd Shore and Mrs. Wendell Watson brought a number of young people down from Pemberton for similar tests. Passing the Intermediate Water Safety Test were Tommy Harris and Joanne Menzel while Rene Decker and Linda Priest passed the Senior Red Cross Test. Janet Miller also took the test and passed but is too young to be awarded her certificate. Peter Proudlock of Pemberton passed the test for a bronze medal from the Royal Life Saving Society. He was the only one tested by Brian Patterson, all other tests were administered by Miss Louise Broome.

SHOWER FOR MRS. HAROLD KYLE

The hall at the United Church's Christian Education Centre was decorated very simply with a few bouquets of fall blossoms for the miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Harold Kyle.

Centring the head table was a floral arrangement of black-eyed Susans flanked by two tapered in a matching shade. Small bouquets of the same bright flowers adorned the side tables. A large vase of maple leaves completed the decorations.

A large crowd of friends turned out for the occasion. Seated at the head table with the guest of honor were her new daughter Miss Sharon Kyle and two of her former fellow-workers from the Squamish General Hospital Mrs. A. L. A. Hankey and Mrs. Mae Stack.

The many lovely gifts piled high on a corner table were presented to Mrs. Kyle by Mrs. Jack Mahood.

Hostesses for the happy occasion were Mrs. William Manson, Mrs. Nick Candy and Mrs. Norman Halvorson.

New crest for PGE

Pacific Great Eastern Railway has chosen a new crest to be used on all its rolling stock, stationery and trucks.

The design consists of an outline of B.C. over the letters PGE, all enclosed in a figure shaped like an arrowhead.

This crest will replace the familiar caribou which was designed by Ed Aldridge almost twenty years ago. At that time the PGE sponsored a competition for a crest and Mr. Aldridge was the winner.

Lloyd Twiss reports from convention

"The odds are greater than one in ten that you will be mugged, robbed, or otherwise victimized by criminals within the next ten years," said M. R. W. Arnett, Watchtower representative. He was speaking on the subject, "The Moral Breakdown — What Can Be Done About It?" in the Kerrisdale Arena Sunday afternoon. An audience of 1,582 heard this highlight lecture of the three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Rather than being discouraged by the events of our times, Mr. Arnett said, "Jehovah's Witnesses view them as part of the composite sign which signals the incoming blessings of God's Kingdom in our generation."

Mr. L. Twiss, local presiding minister, reported it was encouraging to observe the contribution from both the aged and the young to the spirit of the convention. "Men and women with 60 years in the ministry and young teenagers worked together in the program and as volunteers in the various departments. This opportunity to express themselves in Christian love is a powerful force against moral breakdown," he said.

A feature of the convention was the baptism ceremony. Saturday afternoon twenty-two new ministers were totally immersed in water as evidence that they had dedicated themselves to follow the high moral code of the Bible.

Pemberton court news

The following cases were heard before Magistrate J. O. Decker on August 16th.

Curling progress

In spite of the fact that the building has been closed all summer the members of the curling club have been busily preparing for the coming season.

From September 10 until the 30th the rink will be open for skating, to be followed by the opening mixed bonspiel from October 4th to 10th. One day later club curling will begin.

Notices will be posted in the rink on the first night of skating for entry in ALL CLUB CURLING and also for the opening mixed bonspiel. All members interested in club curling and the bonspiel must have their names entered on these notices at the rink before Friday, September 24th.

Draws for the opening mixed bonspiel will be held on Saturday, September 25 at 8:30 p.m. at the Curling Rink. All skips will be notified as to the personnel on his rink and the time of the first game. Draws for rinks for club curling will be held at a meeting of the skips at the rink on Sunday, October 1st at 1 p.m.

Times of club curling will be the same as last year; Monday, Friday and Saturday, mixed; Mens on Tuesday and Thursday; and Ladies on Wednesday.

Two men have done yeoman duty at the rink during the summer; Len Gorsuch and George Nesbit have put in countless hours cleaning up and doing some needed painting.

They have earned the gratitude of all their fellow members for the time spent on these jobs.

Helen Robinson has some good news for the hungry; the coffee shop will open for business when the skating starts on September 10th.

Calling all square dancers

The Gals and Pals Dancing Club would like to welcome any new members who are interested in square dancing.

The club meets on Friday evenings at the Mamquam School from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. An Open House is planned for September 24th to introduce the public to square dancing. If you have danced before, come and join in; if you have never square danced, come along and learn.

A training program under the leadership of Len Pickell will meet at a time and place to be decided by those who wish to participate. This program will begin about October 1st and will last about 20 weeks. It is adaptable to shift workers so don't worry if you miss a few lessons.

If you would like to join the club please phone 892-5002 or 892-5159.

Mrs. Peggy Harris and son Tommy were out to the coast recently, also Mrs. Bertha Miller and daughter Ella.

Logging enters art field

On display at the Squamish Public Library is a group of pictures painted by Mrs. Sheila Collins of Vancouver.

These paintings are of particular interest to Squamish as two of them are logging scenes. Mrs. Collins feels that not enough painters are depicting our prime industry.

One painting, in particular, is noteworthy; that showing the construction of an old-time sled for a steam donkey engine. In the background is the engine on a sled with one broken runner, the obvious reason for the construction of the new sled. The tools being used are almost unheard of today; a hand auger, broad axe and adze. Clearly the crosspieces are being carefully mortised into place.

The construction of such a sled is fast becoming an obsolete talent, as out-of-date as the old method of felling a tree from a springboard. In the background of the scene are high stumps which have obviously been felled in this manner.

Another painting by Mrs. Collins shows a fully rigged spar tree with a backdrop of mountains. In addition to the logging pictures there is a calm seascape against a setting sun and a portrait of an Indian done on velvet. The native pictured belongs to the Nootka Indians on the west coast of Vancouver Island and has been suggested by pictures of Chief Maquinna and his followers.

These pictures are well worth seeing for Mrs. Collins is no stranger to Squamish. Have you seen and admired the picture in John Drenka's office, the one looking up the Sound from Horseshoe Bay with Bowyer and Anvil Islands in the background and showing the deforested hills above the highway?

That was done by Mrs. Collins, another one belonging to Mrs. Tatlow hangs in the Times Office; a vivid portrayal of a piece of abandoned logging machinery on a bare hillside against a sky of startling blue.

Drop in at the library and look these over. Mrs. Collins plans to change these about once a month so don't wait too long.
