Slides and washouts follow heavy fall rains

HIGHWAY CLOSED FOR FOUR DAYS

With Monday being a holiday, the highway will be closed from Tuesday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. This will be a four-day closure similar to those in the past few weeks.

Considerable work is being done just north of Britannia Beach where the road is being re-routed and a culvert has been installed.

Motorists in the Greater Vancouver area may telephone the Department of Highways Regional Office at 987-9311 to confirm or clarify closure schedules.

Highway closed for four hours

In thirty six hours between early Friday and noon Saturday a torrential down pour dumped 3.75 inches of rain on the Squamish Valley bringing rivers up and causing slides and damage to the highway.

Major trouble spot on Saturday morning was just north of Britannia Beach where water gouged out a trench in the road two and a half to three feet deep.

Planks were laid across it and traffic permitted to cross but only one way traffic was possible.

Water was running down the road just south of Brownings Lake and some travellers said the entire road from Britannia to the top of the hill at Brownings Lake was a sea of mud and pot holes with water cascading everywhere.

On Friday night a slide, in the area near Porteau, brought rock across a portion of the highway but traffic could get by. Al Bicknell said some boulders were bigger than his car.

Water was also flowing over the Stoney Creek bridge just south of Darrell Bay on Friday evening but by Saturday morning had subsided somewhat.

Bob Chodat, who was coming to Squamish for a fishing trip, said he was forced to wait four hours at Britannia before he could come through.

"I arrived there at 5 a.m.," he said "and didn't manage to get through till 9. Police were only permitting one way traffic and we had to wait our turn. Each time a car would go over the planks they would have to be replaced. It was a long wait."

Gravel portions of the road between Squamish and Britannia were full of potholes, but this could be expected after a week of heavy rain and heavy traffic on Friday evening with hundreds of hunters heading for the Pemberton area for the opening of the duck season.

Rivers in Squamish were high with the Squamish River only a few feet below bank level at the Paradise Valley Horse Ranch. The Mamquam was high bringing down vast quantities of logs and debris.

One factor which prevented the Squamish from rising too fast was the control exercised by the Daisy Lake dam. The dam had been low and up to Friday the gates were closed and it was filling. This controls the flow of water discharged through the Cheakamus River, thus easing the rise of the Squamish.

Hillbilly teen party

As an opening to the fall season, Brenda Ayers hosted a Hillbilly Teenage party Friday evening, Sept. 15th, in the United Church basement. The young teenage crowd dressed in various cowboy styles danced to recorded music from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Mrs. Ayers and Mrs. Oberson acted as chaperones. Approximately sixty young people enjoyed the evening party at which refreshments, buns and cake were served.

At midnight the party reluctantly ended with the guests heading home after an enjoyable evening.

PGE engine no. 2 should be protected

Doug Fenton, who is a member of the Vancouver Railway Museum Association, said he was delighted to hear that the PGE engine No. 2 which had been one of the original engines in the Squamish Valley, would remain in the valley.

"However," he said "I do hope that they will protect it because if it isn't protected, there is a possibility it will be stripped."

Sam McRae wins trophy

Sherridon (Sam) McRae, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus McRae, won the championship trophy at the Rod and Gun Club's Trap Shoot in the "C" event.

Sam, who is 17 years of age, never had a gun until a year ago as his parents felt he should not have one till he was 16, but club shooters say he is a natural and should do very well.

Ed Bishop said he was up against some of the best shooters in the club and to take the trophy was a real feather in his hat.

Next year Sam will be unable to compete in the "C" class event but will advance to a higher category.

Mr. Fenton said the engine on display at Kitsilano Beach has been almost denuded of some of its fittings by souvenir hunters and the CPR engine which is being preserved is kept in the shops and only put out on special occasions when it can be carefully watched.

"We know of instances where engines have been damaged and I would hate to see this happen in Squamish," he said.

He added that he planned to attend a meeting of council and urge that steps be taken to make sure it was not damaged.

Reeve P. H. Brennan said he felt certain if everything which could possibly be removed was firmly welded down and the engine was placed somewhere under brilliant street lights, this would be sufficient protection.

"I would hate to see it kept locked away," the Reeve said. "Children and young people should be allowed to clamber over it and see what one of the first engines in the valley looked like."

But he added that while he felt all necessary precautions for its preservation should be taken there was no way in which one could be one hundred percent sure that the engine would be safe unless it was completely locked away.

THREE SENTENCED FOR POLICE ASSAULT

Three people appeared in police court before Magistrate C. L. Walker within the past three weeks on charges of assaulting a police officer.

On Sept. 23rd, Arthur Monti pleaded guilty to two charges of assaulting a police officer and was sentenced to one month consecutive on each charge.

On Oct. 3rd, Harvey Greffard, convicted of assaulting a police officer on Aug. 15th, was sentenced to 30 days in the provincial jail.

Robert Burns, otherwise known as Bropinder Natara Singh, was also convicted of assaulting a police officer and sentenced to 30 days in the provincial jail.

Fair committee thanks merchants

The Fall Fair Committee thanks all the merchants and businesses who so kindly donated cash and merchandise for the Fair. Without their generosity, the Fall Fair would not be able to carry on.

The main objective of the Fair is to encourage interests in gardening, horticulture, hobbies, baking, sewing and home arts. The committee is trying to promote more interest among the younger generation in all these sections and wants to thank all the exhibitors who helped make the day a success and those who brought in their antiques for display.

More emphasis will be placed on getting new members for the coming year and the membership fee is only $1.00 a year. One of the projects for the coming year is to get more display tables and a suitable place to store them.

Special thanks to the Girl Guides who so kindly gave up their whole day to man the pop, ice-cream and fish pond concessions.

Delinquent taxes paid

PEMBERTON - The village clerk reports that all delinquent 1965 taxes have been paid. Soon to be commenced is the village's second story framed in on the newly constructed Fire Hall.

Pemberton ranch sold

PEMBERTON - Dr. Arbour who has owned the K.C. farm in the upper valley has sold it. The new owner is J. B. McGuire, vice-president of the Canadian Western Airlines, and his partner.

On Sunday Sept. 24th at the farm an impromptu rodeo was held, which attracted a large number of the valley residents. Many of the guests joined in the sports with a good crowd of spectators looking on. Hot-dogs and refreshments were served to the crowd.

Sapwood of growing trees frequently contains more water than wood by weight.

Chieftain Hotel signs with Union

Last Friday the Chieftain Hotel owners Joe LaVenture and Don Pacelli signed an agreement with the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union Local 835.

Stan Sekora, business agent for the union was the other signer of the agreement.

Mrs. Joan Hutchinson will be shop steward and Mr. Sekora said this is the first completely unionized hotel in the Squamish area.

"The beverage rooms were covered by an agreement prior to this one," he said, "but the new agreement covers the entire operation."

Mr. Sekora said that he would appeal to union members in other trades to patronize the Chieftain as it is now a 100 percent union operation.

"Food is tastier and service is better when done by union personnel," he said with a smile.

Hospital auxiliary anniversary

The Women's Auxiliary to the Squamish General Hospital is planning its annual Anniversary Cake draw with proceeds going to their work.

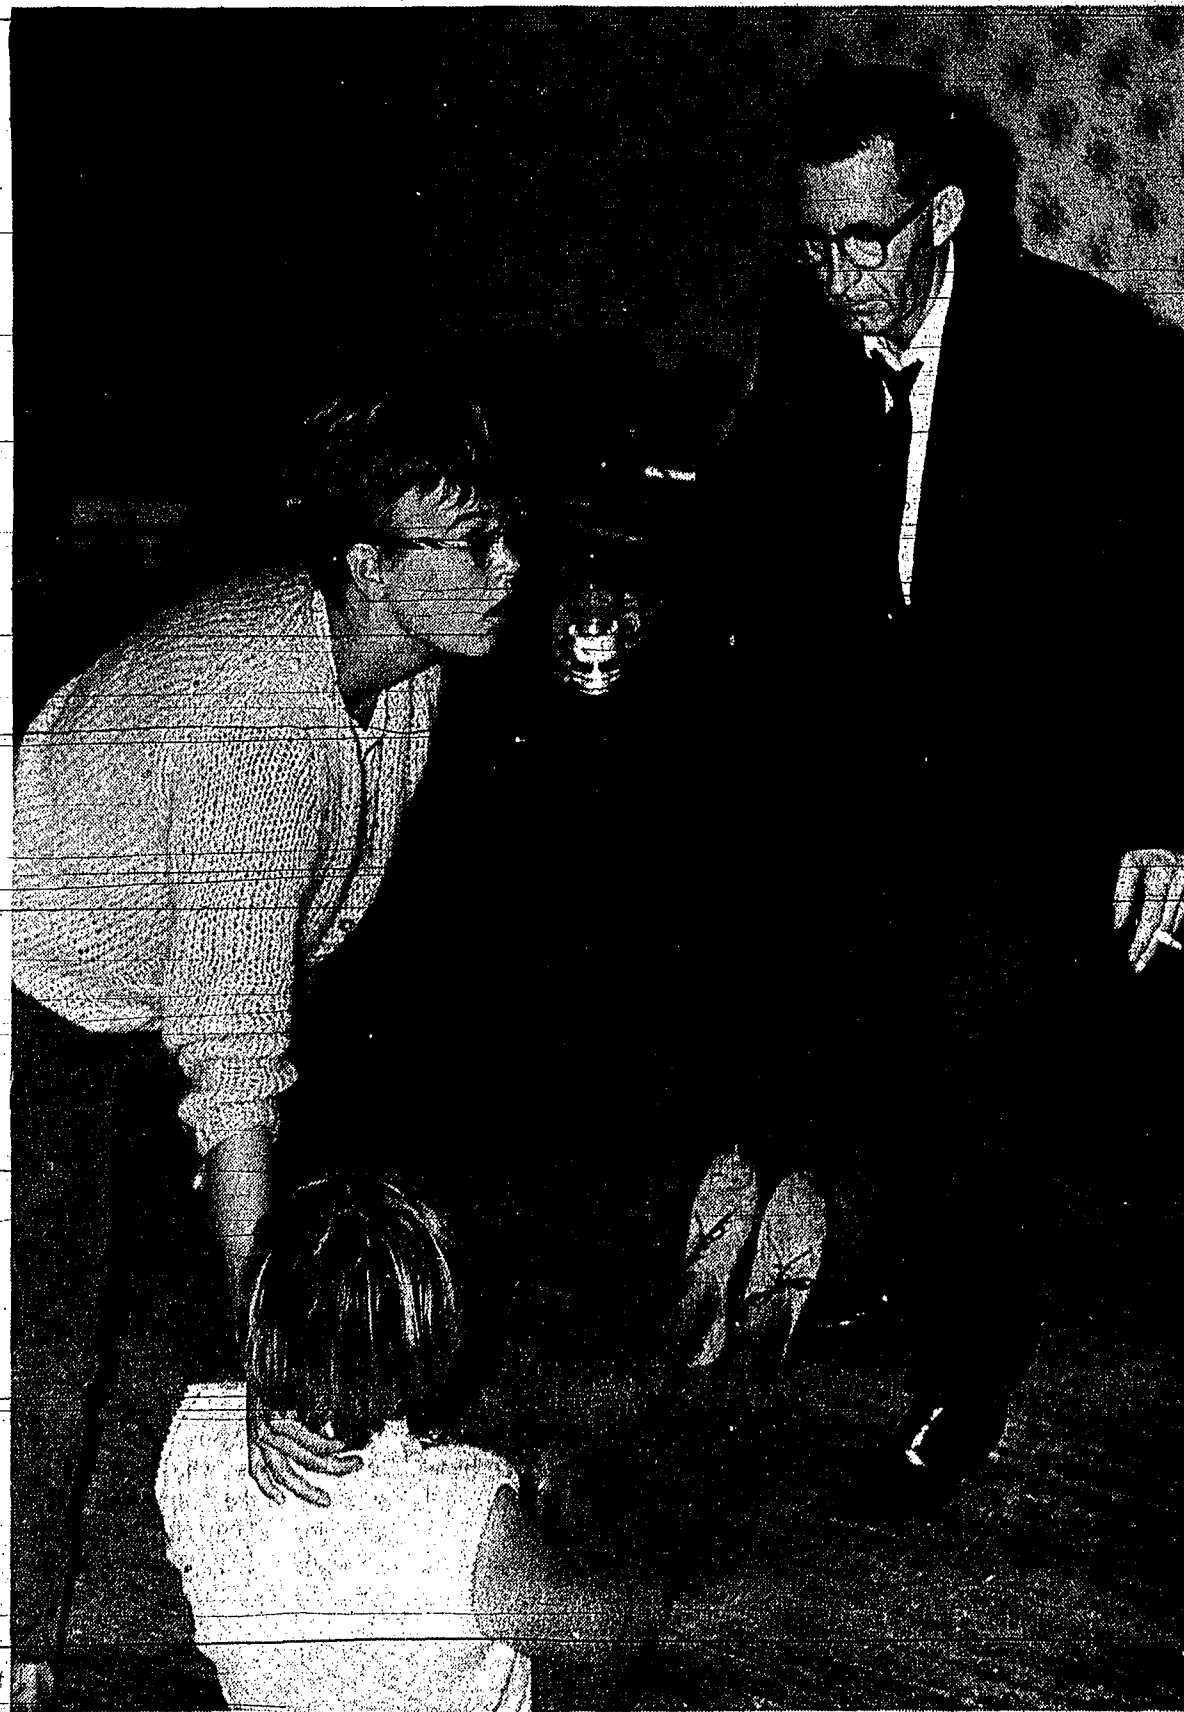

The draw will be held at Fred and May's Bakery on Saturday, October 28th at 3 p.m. and the cake will be on display in the bakery.

Tickets may be obtained at the Thrift Shop or the bakery.

New public health nurse

PEMBERTON - The new Public Health nurse for Pemberton and District, Miss Jean Houghton made her first trip into Pemberton Tuesday, October 3rd. While spending the afternoon here, Miss Houghton visited Signal Hill School.

Miss Houghton who also practises in Squamish hopes to spend two days every second week in the valley. Schedules for clinics and conferences should be arranged soon and parents will be notified.

REV. LIONEL TOOP (Al Bird) and his wife (Sharon Tetachuk) attempt to revive the spintist Miss Skillings, played by Doreen Ramus, in the three-act farce presented by the Howe Sound Drama Club this Friday and Saturday.

Ratepayers discuss bylaws

Several new bylaws came up for discussion at the regular meeting of the Squamish Valley Ratepayers Association on Monday evening of last week.

The members felt the trailer bylaw is limited to a small number of people and should be extended to cover other circumstances. They suggested a person should be permitted to live in a trailer on his own property, provided he had a lot only covered trailers for personal use, not a trailer court.

The sign bylaw should be broadened to cover directional signs pointing to specific areas of services. These should be no longer than two feet and it was recommended they carry out the valley's logging theme.

The ratepayers are still working on the questions raised regarding keeping horses in the valley as some people seem to be permitted to keep these animals while others are not allowed to do so.

The meeting also wanted to know if there is a herd law for the municipality.

Television reception in the Brackendale area was discussed and both the CBC and Chan TV had been contacted regarding the lack of adequate reception. Mr. Peters of the CBC stated he felt 35 to 40 people were affected by the poor reception while the group, which had conducted their own survey felt it would be closer to five hundred.

The ratepayers also urged that everyone who is planning to run in the municipal elections in December should file nomination papers early in order to be able to come forward and present their platforms to the people well in advance of the elections.

The next meeting will be held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall on November 6th and everyone is welcome.

Woods closure necessary ...

Once again the Vancouver Sun's Outdoor Editor has blasted local forest companies for road closures during highly dangerous conditions. This time Weldwood is the recipient of his wrath which last year was expended on McMillan Bloedel.

These so-called sportsmen seem to feel they have a God-given right to enter any forest area at any time, and should not be subjected to the rules and regulations which govern ordinary mortals like the rest of us.

The latest hassle rose from a gate across the road south of the power house but within the Tree Farm Licence. Whether this is public road or not is beside the point as, even if he had been able to pass that gate, others would have prevented him from going farther.

At the time he tried to enter, the company was fighting a fire on their operation and weather conditions were extremely hazardous. People living in the valley did not feel deprived because they could not enter the forested area although many of them are even more fond of hunting and fishing than some sportsmen. They realize the forests are necessary to provide the woods for the game and the streams for the fish.

It would behoove these visitors to realize that the very activities they wish to take part in would not be there if forests were not protected. We are sure many of those who were fighting fire, or observing the rules, would have liked to be hunting or fishing too.

Forests are important to the economy of the province as well as for tourists and sportsmen and their preservation is of prime importance to everyone. The very people who protest they should be allowed to enter at any time would be the first to protest if they were asked to fight a fire caused by one of themselves.

The sooner people realize these rules apply to everyone and are instituted for the protection of the forests and the people who use them, the easier it will be to control fires in our province.

Let's keep signs out!

After a trip which covered over a thousand miles in Montana, Idaho and Washington, we agree with Reeve Pat Brennan's desire to keep signs, large ones that is, out of our municipality.

All you have to do is travel along roads where highway signs are not prohibited to see the plethora of them cluttering the roadside and often obscuring something which one might want to see.

Not only that but many signs are left up for months after the events have taken place. We saw some advertising a blossom festival ... in early spring. By now most of the fruit had been picked yet the sign was still there.

We feel that sign like those along the highways in both B.C. and Washington stating that "Food, gas and lodging" are available, is really all that is required. Of course some outstanding scenic point should be mentioned but only two often the ones which are touted just aren't worth seeing when you get there.

We don't like to say "ours is better" too often but in this instance we must agree that a policy to keep large signs out of the community and to control what goes on the signs which are permitted, is a very good idea.

If we don't, we'll have to get a Ladybird to campaign for keeping highways attractive, and she's got a long way to go.

Pray for a cure ...

At Thanksgiving we traditionally take inventory of the good things of life. Among these, no resources are more beneficial, more effective, more striking than the achievements of medical science.

Diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid, cholera and the worst types of infantile paralysis — a host of infectious diseases — have been virtually eradicated.

Other killers such as cancer, diabetes, tuberculosis, pneumonia and malfunction of internal organs have yielded, or are in the process of yielding, to the wizardry of chemistry, surgery and new refinements of treatment.

Only a few deadly maladies remain; muscular dystrophy perhaps the chief unsolved disease among them. Today some 10,000 to 12,000 of our fellow Canadians are its victims, most of them children. Its cause is unknown; its cure non-existent.

As we recall our blessings in the form of health safeguards protecting us and our families this Thanksgiving, let us pray that when next year's Thanksgiving rolls around we shall possess another medical shield — one against muscular dystrophy.

OTHER OPINIONS

City Hall as teacher

To see City Hall as a job school for youth from deprived neighborhoods takes imagination. But when one considers the variety of skills required to run a city government, it becomes clear that municipal employees can teach many things that an unemployed boy or girl needs to know to get a good job anywhere.

So why not an apprenticeship program for youth in the municipal offices and shops?

Boston is to be commended for giving the idea a try. Upon recommendation of Mayor John Collins, the local antipoverty agency is arranging with city department heads to bring in job-seeking young people for a training period. The agency promises to supervise the workers and pay them a small wage. The young people will serve as assistants to automobile mechanics, draftsmen, file clerks, data processors, and so on, learning on the job.

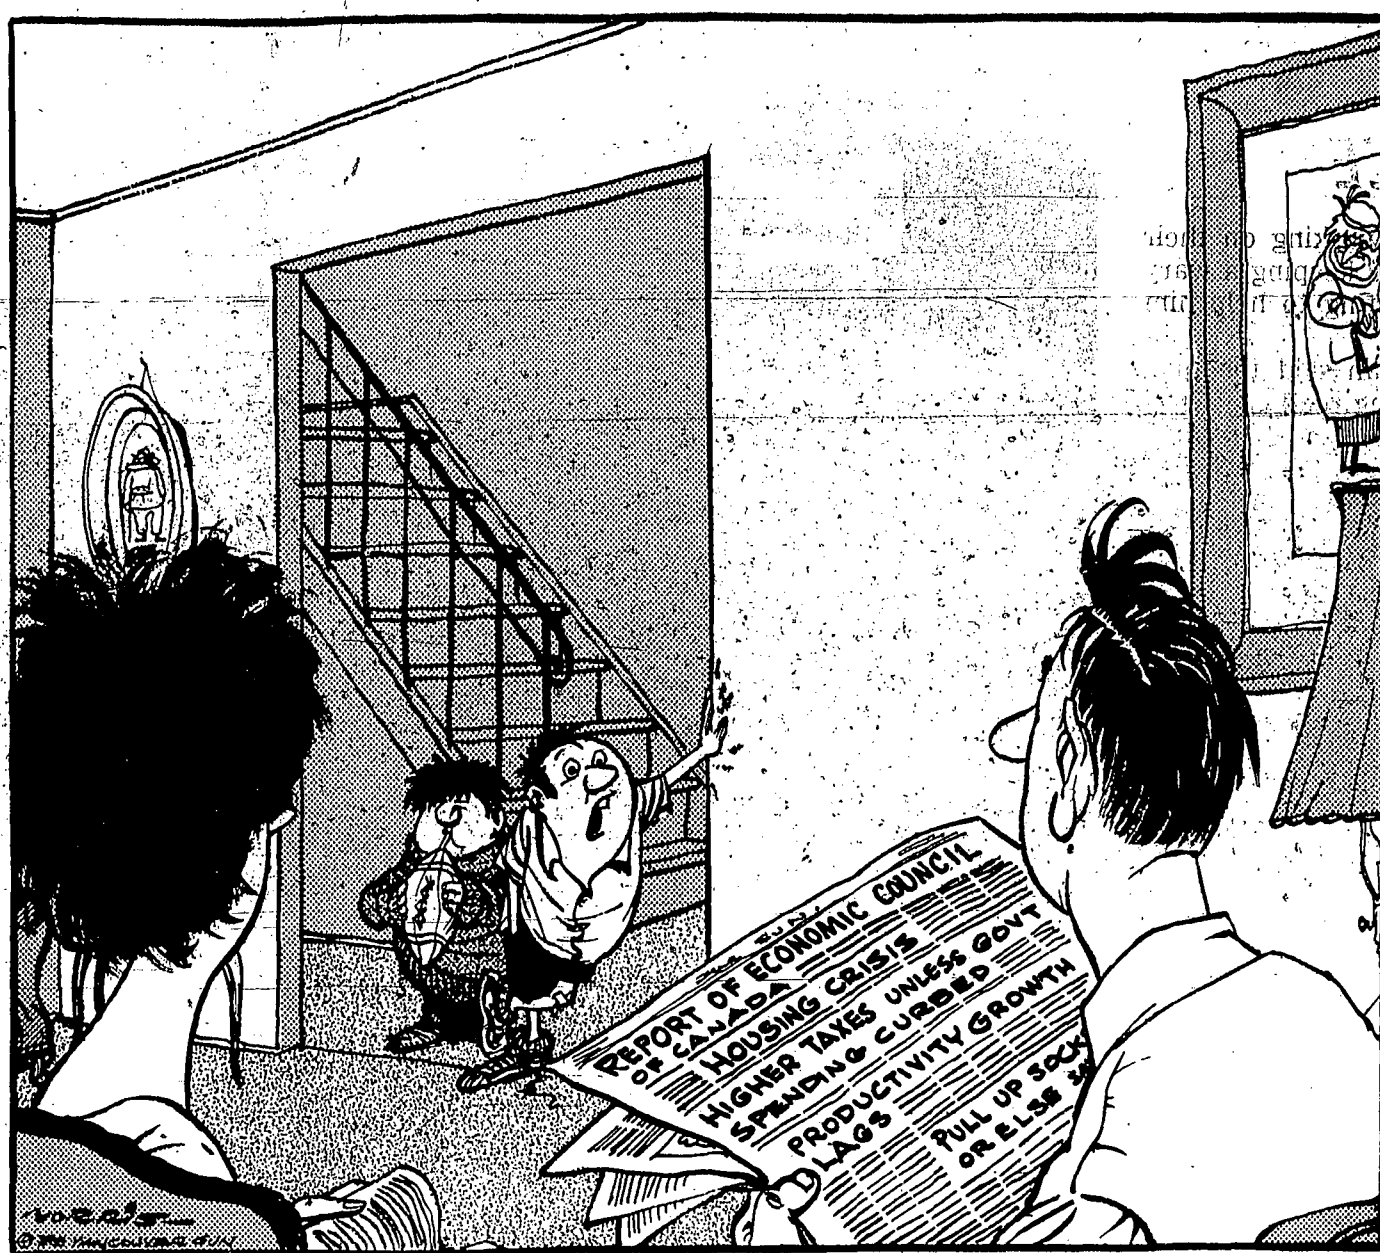

Officials hope to employ from 500 to 1,000 youths over a year's period.

In New York City a different type of program is placing boys in the public service temporarily. Two municipal departments (Buildings, Sanitation), handicapped by lack of staff and certain regulations, enlisted members of a neighborhood youth corps to help clean up slum back yards and alleys, now loaded with uncollected trash, garbage and junk. This is not training for skills but it employs youth in urgently needed community work.

The great merit of both the Boston and New York projects is that they give young persons from ghetto areas opportunity for friendly relations with their local government. Such contacts are all too rare for those who live in slums.

It is ideas like these as much as dollars that will strike at the roots of riots.

"Let's face it ... you've got a crummy report card."

HOWE SOUNDINGS

When you spend a week travelling with two other women for more than two thousand miles across B.C., lower Alberta and the three northern American states you have a number of funny things to remember, as well as some that weren't quite as funny at first but took their place among the others before the trip was over.

I don't think any of us will ever forget the night we spent at Waterton Lakes national park. The cabin was small but cosy, and as we were tired we all went to bed early. One member of the group was a sound sleeper (and didn't read) so she always went to sleep long before we did.

As we were reading we heard a mouse gnawing away and repeated trips out of bed failed to discover where he was working but as soon as things quieted down there he was nibbling away.

Finally we tried going to sleep and then the sleepyhead woke up, heard the mouse and decided some action must be taken. So out of bed we climbed, searched the cabin but of course couldn't find the beast. Meanwhile the third member of the party awakened long enough to ask what we were doing and when told a mouse hunt was on, rolled over and sleepily mumbled "Let it gnaw!"

By then we were wide awake and made a cup of tea, and between making the tea and giggling over the mouse, no one got to sleep for hours.

The climax came next morning when we woke to find the mouse in the food box. Don't ask me how he got there but out he popped, bright and cheery, only to scuttle under the bathroom door and out of sight.

Another highlight was the experience in Lethbridge when one of the party decided to enjoy a tub bath and turned on the taps. You guessed it, the shower was on and she got drenched. With a scream she came into the motel room, dripping wet and said "What do I do?"

You can just imagine what we told her. We suggested the nightgown be hung out the car window to dry as we travelled to Waterton. It would have been fun to be the only car in southern Alberta with a nightgown flapping in the breeze but somehow or other she didn't go along with this idea.

Then there were the American tourists seated behind us at Kootenai House during dinner who naively asked whether B.C. was part of the Northwest Territories.

Our journey got off to a good start just outside Princeton when we noticed some wild clematis with its fluggy seed heads climbing around some shrubs and decided to stop and pick some.

The roadsides had been graded and, unknown to us, were soft. When we tried to start up again Betsy's wheels just spun and nothing happened. There we were, stuck in the dirt in southern B.C. after one of the hottest and driest summers on record. Most people get stuck in the mud, but not us! We pick dirt, and dry dirt at that.

Fortunately for us a farmer came by, hopped out of his car, took a look at the situation and before you could tell him what was the matter, had his car trunk open and was fishing out a piece of rope. "Always carry rope," he said. "Never know when you may need it."

In less time that it takes to relate it he had the rope around the axle and the car back on the pavement.

Moral: never travel without a hunk of rope.

The funniest experience of the whole trip occurred at Kalispell in Montana where we stopped one night. Tired after the drive over Logan Pass, we pulled in at what looked like a nice motel with attractive log cabins and booked one for the night.

We asked for housekeeping accommodations as we cooked our own breakfast and the lady asked if we had our own dishes. Rather startled I said "of course not" only to be told there was a two dollar deposit on dishes.

Too tired to argue I paid and one member of the party said "Deposit! You could buy them for two dollars at any second hand store."

We inspected the cabin which certainly didn't seem to be up to the usual standard and discovered the bedroom was locked. We pushed, we pulled and did everything but kick down the door, finally going back to the office and asking what was the matter.

"Oh! I forgot," she said. "The last people who rented it only paid for a double so I wasn't letting them have the second bedroom and locked it!"

We'd never heard of such a procedure but took the key and opened the room. The television set wasn't too good and only one of us seemed to have the ability to make it work. Then to top it all off the heater wouldn't burn if you tried to turn it up but persisted in going out so we opened the oven door on the electric range and heated the cabin that way.

So if our landlady thought she was saving on heat she was due for a surprise.

The following morning we had some cards to mail and I suggested we find a post office or somewhere to mail them. "Better not leave them with the landlady," she'll steam the stamps off them," one of my friends said.

Guess that must be what happened. Those post cards still haven't arrived!

Was thoroughly enjoying Kingsley Martin's "Critic's London Diary" recently and couldn't resist passing on these brief observations from the book.

One referred to the Wall Street panic in 1929 saying an American friend said "the street was so quiet you could hear the passing of a dividend. I would have thought the falling shares would have drowned out all other noises."

The other anecdote referred to mother and daughter walking down a London street at the height of the Yuletide season when they noticed a window with the nativity scene, complete with creche, oxen, virgin mother and child surrounded by angels.

"Mommy, don't tell me they're bringing religion into Christmas now," the youngster said.

OTTAWA DIARY

by JACK DAVIS, MP
Coast - Capilano

Dr. John J. Deutsch is known to be a far sighted man with the nation's interests at heart. So when he criticised the Government for over-spending he was bound to be listened to.

Budget deficits, says Dr. Deutsch in the Fourth Report of the Economic Council of Canada, are all very well. They may be necessary when our economy is running down. But when it has a full head of steam on, as it does at the present time, they are dangerous. They certainly add fuel to the fires of inflation.

Unemployment, notes Dr. Deutsch, is down to, or close to, an all time low. The Government, in other words, deserves top marks on Priority Item No. 1 — the provision of new jobs for Canadians.

But we are not doing so well on Priority Item No. 2, Productivity, or output per man hour, has not been jumping as it should. Last year, in 1966, it only rose at about half the annual rate which we will have to maintain if we are to hit the 5 percent target which the Economic Council has set for the 1970's.

Of course private enterprise, in the sense of management and labour, can itself do a great deal to correct this situation. But Government also has a responsibility. The Economic Council suggests that it should:

- Set up clear cut priorities for spending;
- Cut out obsolete programmes (subsidies for coal mining for instance);
- Make sure the benefits for each project or programme are far in excess of its costs;
- Adjust the sum total of its expenditures in such a way as to complement and not clash head on, with those of private enterprise; and
- Make our economy more competitive by reducing tariffs and breaking up monopolies.

The Economic Council's Fourth Report was not all criticism. It struck several cheerful notes. One was that, over the next decade, Canada should grow faster than any other country in the western world. Our population will jump 25 percent by 1980. Meanwhile our labour force will be up by a whopping 50 percent. With more Canadians at work and fewer proportionately, in school or in retirement, our total output should go up dramatically in the 1970's.

It should also be possible to hold the line on taxes. In 1967 Canadians will be paying nearly a third of their income into our three levels of government; national, provincial and local. The figure in 1970, the Council says, will be about 33 percent. And it sees no reason why the percentage of our Gross National Product being taken away from us for government spending should increase thereafter.

John Deutsch, who for some years was head of the Economics Department out at UBC, is now off to Queen's University. He will be the Chancellor there. Behind him in Ottawa he has left, not only four excellent reports but a sound institution. The Economic Council of Canada, set up by the Pearson Government as one of its first acts in 1963, has been doing a first class job. It has drawn a number of useful guidelines for the economic future. All of us, whether we be housewives, businessmen, labour leaders, professional people or politicians will do well to heed its warnings and its urgings for the years ahead.

Teeners hold dance

At the past week end the teenagers enjoyed a dance and buffet in the United Church hall. The party held Friday night September 29th was hosted by Randy Pipe. The young crowd enjoyed an evening of dancing to the latest "rock" records and a delicious buffet provided by Randy was set up. The food table included ham, turkey and hot rolls.

The teen crowd of Pemberton amounting to fifty five young people made the party a huge success with the aid of bingo and spot dances to aid enthusiasm to the festivities. A fun evening with the guests looking forward to another dance soon.

WORKER REFUSES BEAR ASSISTANCE

An employee of Squamish Mills, working on their logging road in the Brohm Lake area is keeping a wary eye on a bear which has been attempting to help him complete his tasks.

Squamish Mills owner Pat Brennan said the man was busy filling potholes on their logging road last week when the bear ambled out and attempted to help him. Naturally the workman didn't relish his assistance and drove the animal away.

Later the bear came around again and this time had to be driven away by a tap on his nose with a shovel.

Brennan said the workman certainly didn't appreciate the bear's offer to help.

High temperatures in September

September's high of 86 degrees on the 16, set a record for high temperatures in that month, as it was two degrees higher than the previous September high.

The lowest temperature of the month was recorded on Sept. 12, when it fell to 42 degrees. This was six degrees above the average low for the month.

Rainfall of 5.35 inches was average for the month and brought the year's rainfall total to 49.01 inches, considerably higher than last year.

The rain fell largely on the last two days of the month and early in September with most of the month being clear and

Rain at the end of the month brought snow to the higher elevations with snow coming down as far as the four thousand foot level.

By early October rains had brought up river levels and the snow line was creeping down the mountains. This can be expected to climb as warm spells usually occur in October but if there is a prolonged fall of snow, fears of flooding may be revived.

October flooding is usually caused by a combination of snow at high levels followed by a warm rain which brings the whole mass down and raises river levels.

Program plans for Saturday morning

Frank Mymryk announced last week that the Saturday morning programs for elementary school children will begin this Saturday, Oct. 14th in the gymnasium at the secondary school.

Children eligible for the program must be of elementary school age and they will be divided into three groups, 6-8 years of age; 9-11 years of age and 12 years and over.

The program will consist of three one hour sessions, one on gymnastics, one for art and crafts and the third will consist of films.

This will be done on a rotation basis so each child will get the same program, but specifically geared to his or her age group.

There will be a nominal fee for the program.

This is another service provided by the Community Recreation Branch of the District of Squamish which instigated the Day Camp and Summer Playground Program earlier in the year.

Scout and Cub news

Scouting off to good start in Squamish area

Scouting activities are off to a good start in the Squamish area, members of the East Howe Sound District Council were told at their first fall meeting on Sept. 27th.

Held in Squamish United Church, the meeting was hosted by the 1st Squamish Group. All groups were reported in full swing with many activities planned.

The 1st Squamish Scout Troop is disbanding with members going to the 2nd Squamish group. There are 27 Cubs and 10 Scouts in 2nd Squamish and Dan Carson will replace George Miles as leader of this group with Dave Pinchbeck as assistant.

4th Squamish has 31 Cubs and a number of Scouts while the 1st Squamish Cub group has 21 members. Cub leader Kurt Oleson is leaving for Australia soon and his place will be taken by Const. H. Herog who will find his own assistants.

1st Squamish will host a parents night on October 16th and the boys meet each Monday night at 6:30 p.m.

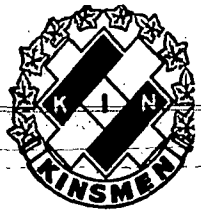

The district council heard a report on the Christmas Tree

Farm which has been acquired along the B.C. Hydro right-of-way between Pemberton and Mount Currie. H. McCulloch, said agreements had been received and returned to Coast Region. He also said that W. A. Lloyd would head up the Christmas tree campaign this year.

Members of the District Council and Scouters will visit the site of the Christmas Tree Farm on Saturday and appraise it, both for the 1967 cutting program and for planting, transplanting, etc., in the future.

Cutting will be done on or around the November 12th weekend, as there will have been frost by then and the needles will be set.

Barry Shaw, who attended from headquarters, complimented the group on the excellent start to the Scout year.

Don't walk ... run to "See How They Run"

The finishing touches were being given to the three act comedy offered by the Howe Sound Drama Club for your enjoyment on Friday and Saturday evening in the Secondary School auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

This is the first of the fall and winter productions and presents an unbelievable tale of comedy antics in an absolutely unbelievable English rectory.

The play which is directed by Audrey Own features Sharon Tetachuk as the pretty wife of rector Al Bird. She is a former American actress and often shocks the parishioners, especially a gossip splinter played by Doreen Ramus.

The pretty wife is visited by a former actor friend, an Irish American played by Luke Plunkett and her uncle, a bishop, Ian Walker.

A substitute clergyman, Harry McCulloch, a Russian prisoner, Tony Mameli, and a police sergeant, Al MacIntosh, all add to the confusion, abetted by a Cockney maid played by Sheila Haffey.

Months of work and long hours of rehearsal have gone into the play and the amusing scenes are guaranteed to cause a great deal of laughter.

New sets have been designed and painted, furnishings will be provided by To-Day's Furnishings and a great deal of work has gone into collecting the appropriate costumes for the play.

Many people are working hard behind the scenes to ensure the play's success and all will be out in full force on Friday and Saturday evening to present the performance which they have been preparing for several months.

Tickets are on sale at Tots to Teens and at the Times office and may be picked up at any time prior to the performance.

Be sure to get them and come to the high school auditorium on Friday or Saturday for the laugh of your life.

The Christmas pantomime will be the next production by the Howe Sound Drama Club.

Anyone interested in taking an acting part is asked to contact Mrs. Ken Ramus at 892-5509.

THE VITAL LINK!

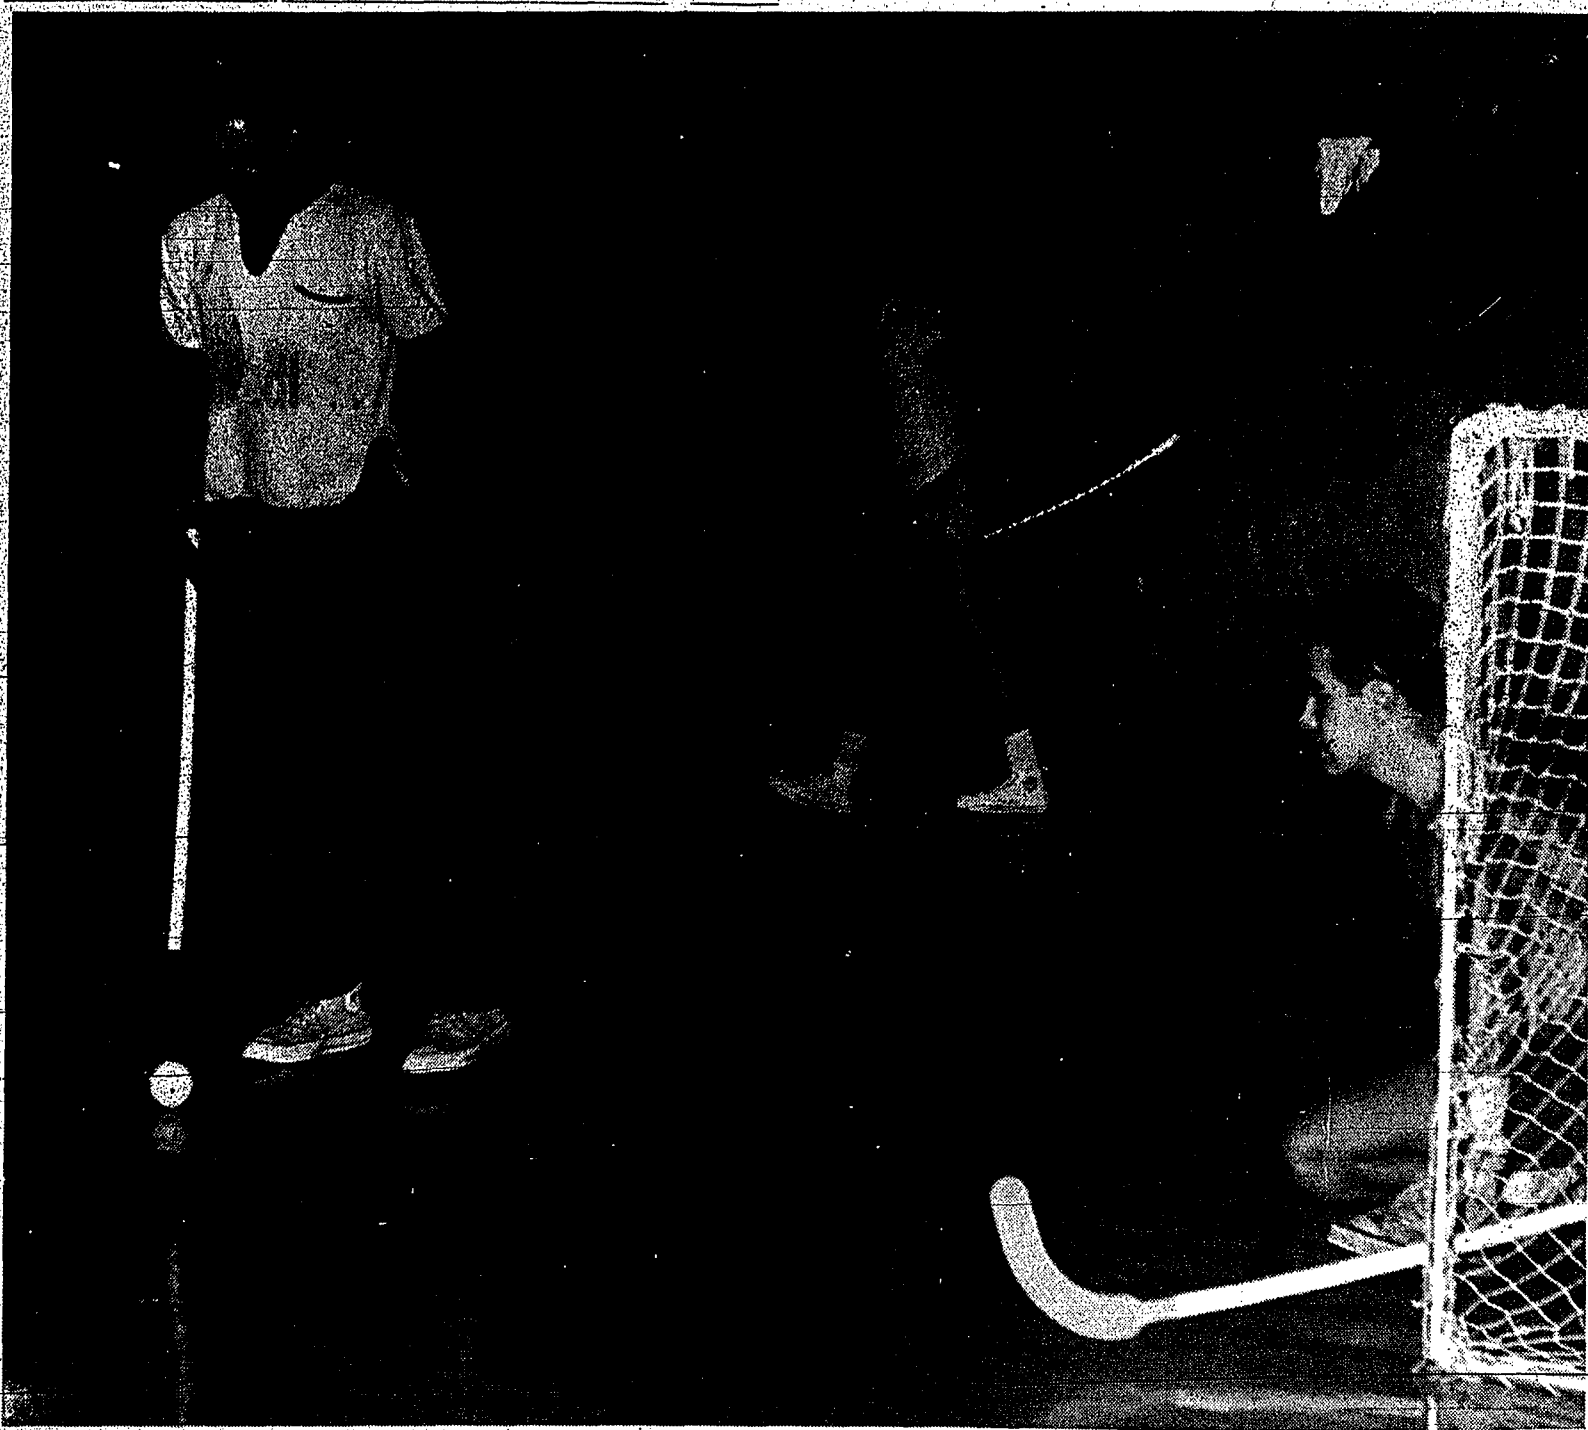

Mountains of muskeg, the rich loam of the Peace, dense forest, or the rolling rangeland of the Cariboo ... Pacific Great Eastern trains link the Northern Interior of British Columbia with the markets of the world. Millions of dollars have been invested in the north to harvest the rich resources of minerals and timber. The forests produce lumber, sawn products and high-grade pulp. The vast area is the scene of metals, oil and natural gas development. The fertile valley of the Peace produces some of the finest grain in the world, and the beef of the Cariboo is marketed across the nation. All these industries ship their goods to market by P.G.E. freight. The P.G.E. brings them the materials they need and takes their production out: Lumber, beef, grain, sulphur, ore ... the North produces them all — and the world buys them. The P.G.E. is the vital link between the Northern Interior and the markets of the world.

Interesting courses in Night School Program

An active program is planned for the winter season to provide recreational activity for the entire community. The Recreation Commission at its regular meeting last Wednesday evening discussed plans for a Saturday morning program for children in the elementary school as well as many other activities.

The Saturday morning program would cover crafts, games, some sports and other activities and in many ways would be similar to the summer playground program which so many of the children enjoyed.

Teen age discussion groups are planned for every second Sunday evening and the topics will cover a wide range of subjects which should be of interest to all young people.

Recreation director Wayne Smith is keenly interested in this program and hopes that the young people will find a great many subjects to discuss. Films will also be shown.

Mrs. B. Harris said she is hoping to start a charm and personality course for the teen age girls. Make-up for school and evening, correct dress, for various social activities and school as well as some talks on probably be included in the course.

Another interesting program planned for the winter months is a training course for young people who are interested in leadership training for recreational purposes. This group will probably provide the recreation leaders for next year's summer program.

Young people in Grades 10 to 12 who are interested in working with the elementary school pupils will be invited to take part in this training program.

However the emphasis is not all on the young people. In his capacity as Adult Education director Mr. Smith said a number of courses in the night school were going very well but

New recreation assistant

Frank Mymryk has been appointed assistant recreation director, assisting Wayne Smith who is both recreation director and adult education supervisor.

Mr. Mymryk is working part time on a recreation program for youngsters in the winter months, and working full time for Weldwood of Canada.

He brings to the job experience gained in working in different youth camps during the summer and also YMCA experience at St. Vital Winnipeg where he took a leaders program.

He later went to YMCA College in Chicago and obtained his B.Sc. in H.P.E. At present he is working towards a master's degree in H.P.E. and a B.A. in Social Sciences. He has one more year to go and in the meantime is working to earn sufficient money to further his education.

others were in need of more members.

Among those off to an excellent start are the academic courses, both beginners and advanced dressmaking, welding, cake decorating, English literacy, Slim-nastics, art and typing.

Perhaps one of the most enthusiastic groups is the one taking art where teacher Sheila Gibbons found herself with a class of almost thirty pupils.

Mr. Smith said he was also pleased with the literacy course and said he never realized there were so many people in the community who had come from other countries and would find such a course useful.

A number of courses need more people before they can proceed. These are driver training, carpentry, public speaking, senior First Aid, management accounting and communications and supervision.

The latter course, aimed towards promoting better communications and understanding between people who work together, should be invaluable to people working in jobs which deal with other people. It is planned to help them to understand others, what motivates people, and how to help them achieve their best efforts.

Management accounting for small businesses is another course which should be invaluable to the many people in the community who operate a small business and would like to know a little more about the problems involved.

Two recreation courses which are proving very popular are badminton and floor hockey. There were a number of people out to take part in both these strenuous activities last week.

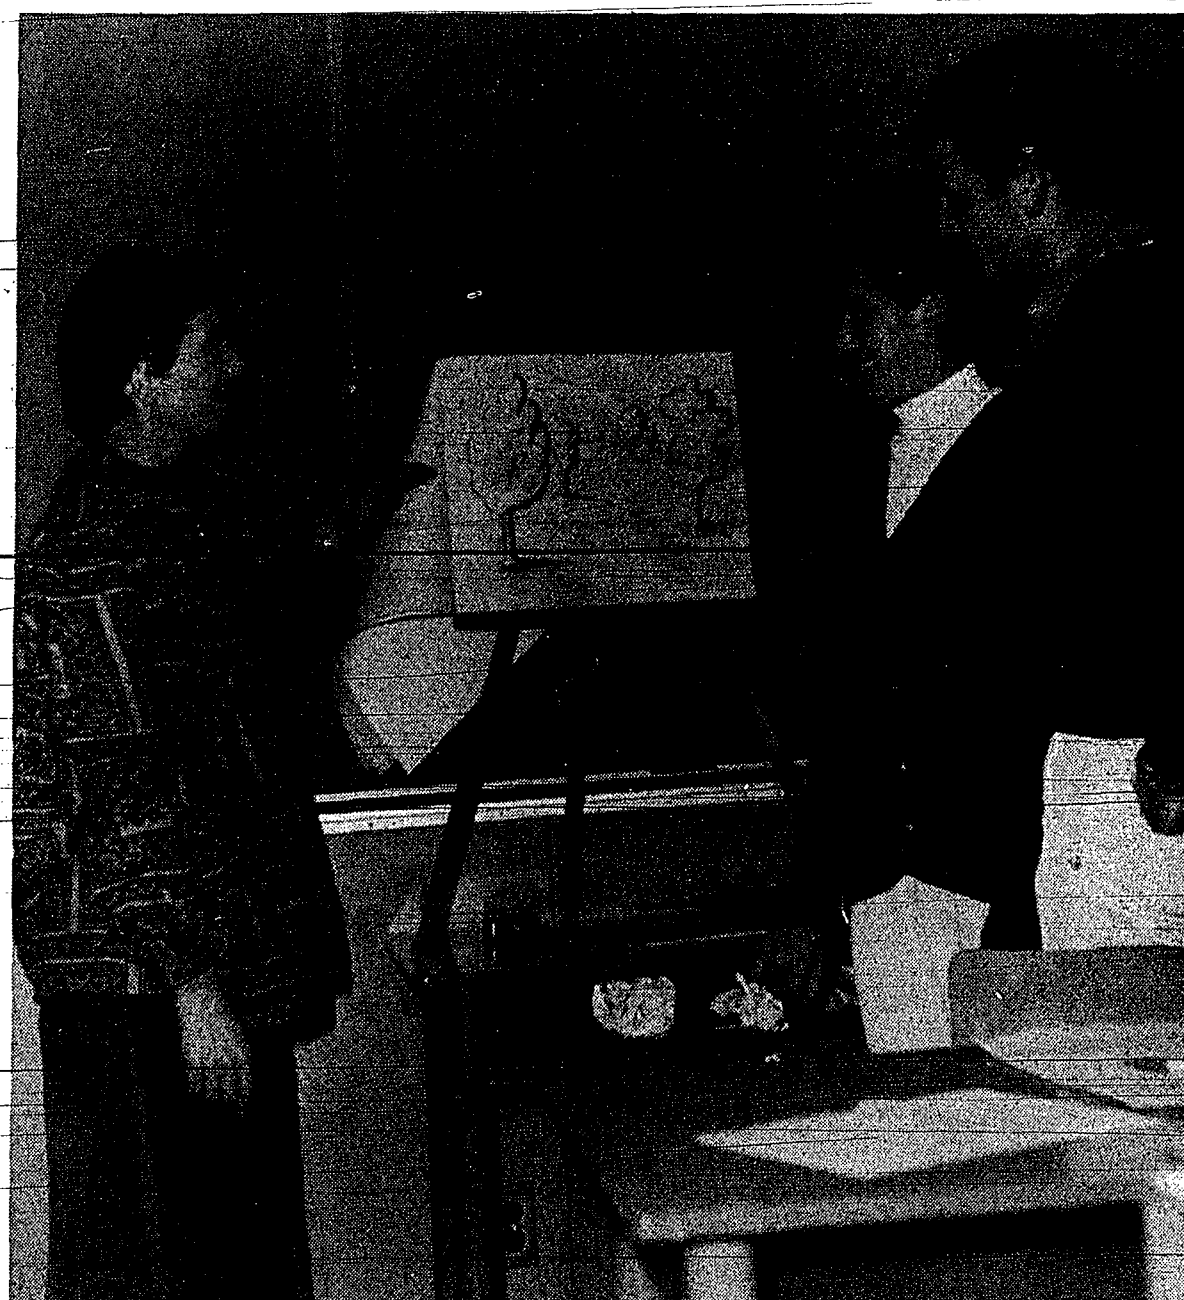

Further courses may be offered later this fall and a number ber are now being planned for the spring.

Hedley Buffrey, instructor for St. John's Industrial First Aid classes said there would have to be a few more people enrolled in the class in order for it to be able to continue.

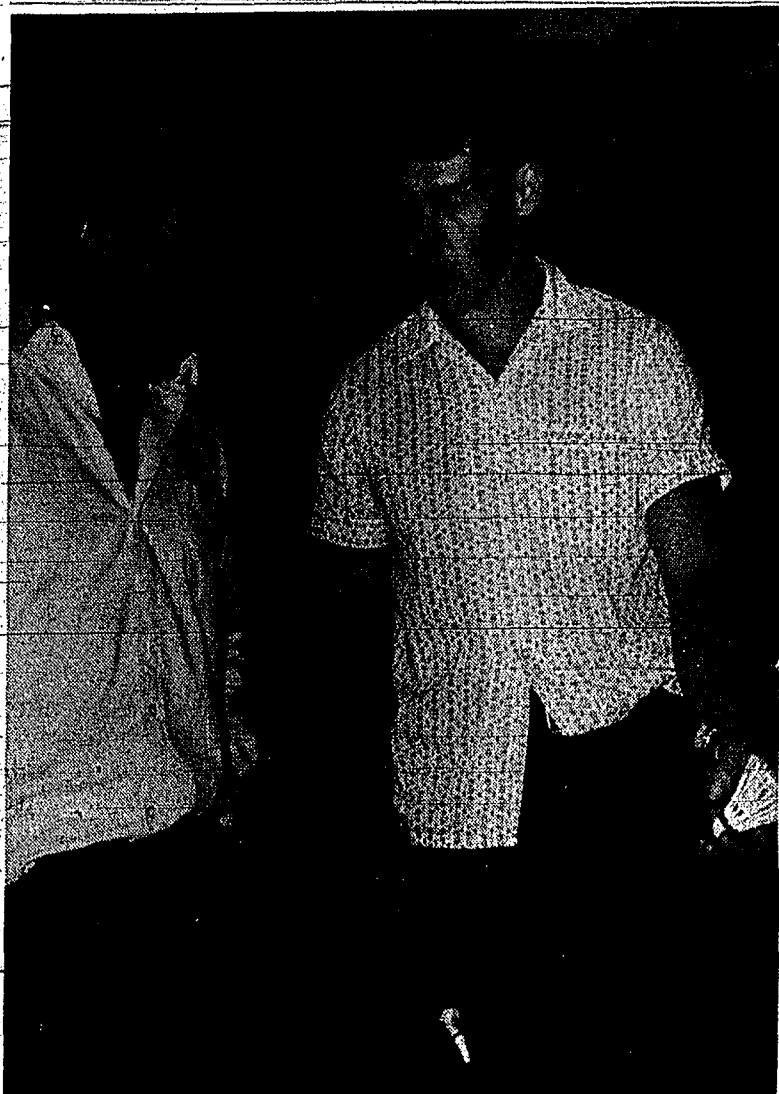

THE CAKE decorating class conducted by Mrs. Gatzke drew a large number of students and Janice Hurford is showing how a fancy border is applied.

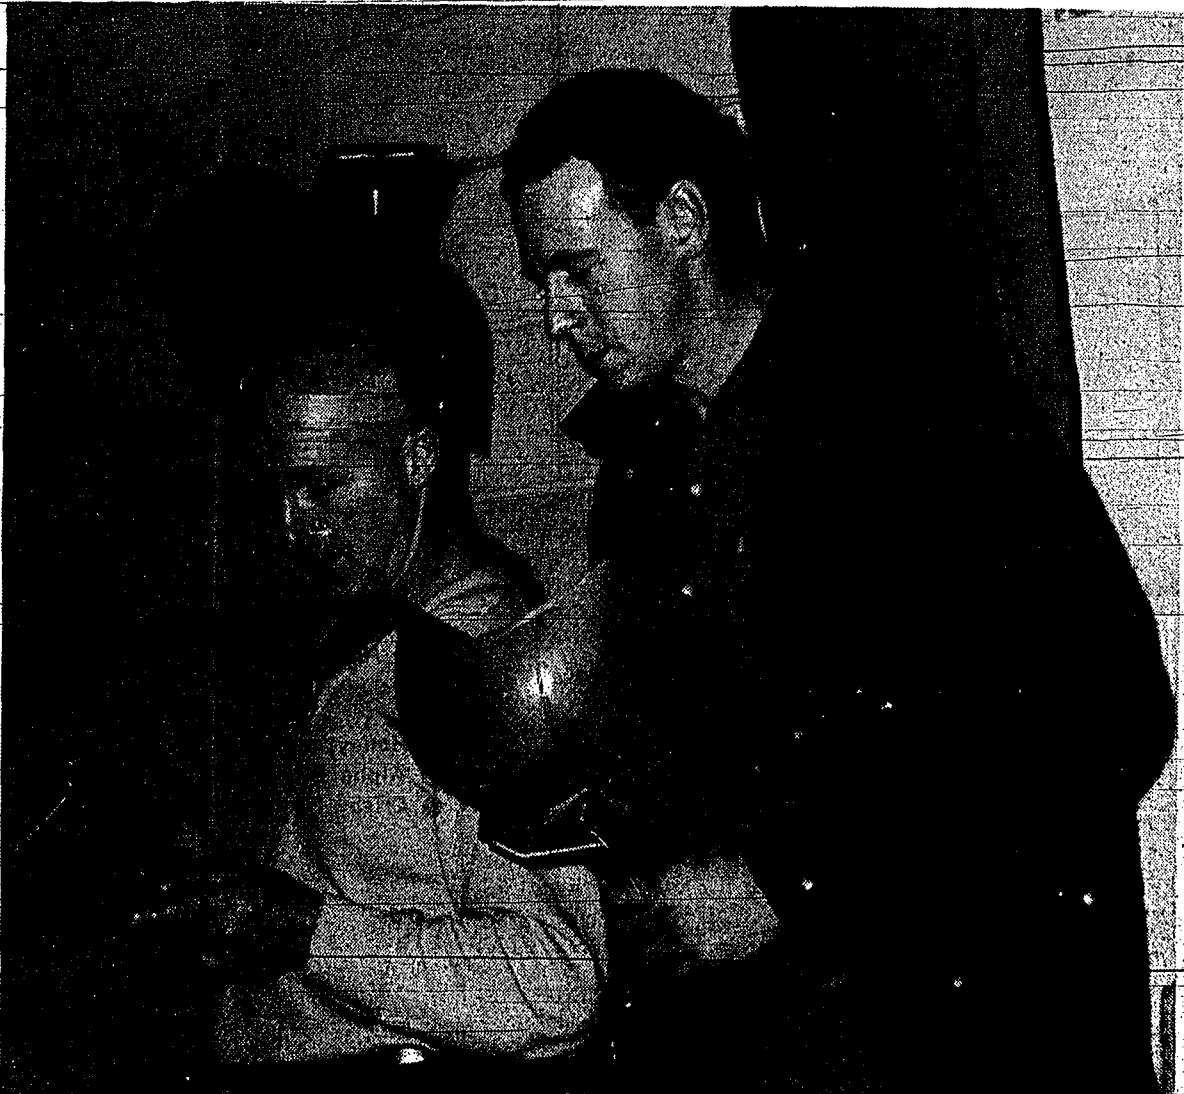

PAINTING for pleasure drew one of the largest number of students and here instructor Sheila Gibbons is explaining part of the course to Mr. and Mrs. N. Callaghan.

PATTERN BOOKS were claiming the attention of these two members of the dressmaking class, Mrs. A. Fraboni and Mrs. G. Burns.

COLIN WETTERSTROM showing some of the finer points of badminton to new player Vic Didler.

WAYNE BOYD is conducting the welding class and explaining the use of the machines used in the course to Jack Cochrane.

CENTENNIAL PROJECT

Today 35 Indian High School students from the Yukon and Northern B.C. are starting out on a fabulous journey across Canada because IGA believes that in Canada's centennial year Canadian business should give more consideration to the first Canadians.

Today they are the guests of British Columbia's IGA dealers, and they are being introduced to Vancouver. The Indian students will visit Vancouver Public Aquarium, tour Vancouver Harbour, visit the Vancouver Sun, a Vancouver Shopping Centre and dine in Vancouver China Town.

In each province they visit they will be the guests of the local IGA dealers, and they are going to do and see a lot of exciting things from Vancouver to Halifax. The highlight of the trip will be 3 days at Expo before returning home.

Lions governor visits Squamish

District Governor Gordon Steenson of West Vancouver visited the Squamish Lions Club last Thursday evening and spoke on the golden anniversary convention of Lions Clubs in Chicago last summer.

He emphasized the important role Lionism, with its belief in equality for all, could play in wiping out racial discrimination, and suggested that instead of deploring it in other countries we should strive to see that it could not occur in our own backyard.

At the close of the meeting, former Lions Club president Cy Marchant presented him with a carved and painted totem pole as a gift from the group.

Lion president Bob Kuhn presided at the dinner meeting in the Squamish Hotel and introduced Zone Chairman Joe Benner of the Sunshine Coast who introduced the District Governor.

On the preceding Sunday the Squamish club hosted the first zone meeting of the year for the newly formed 18-A-4 Zone. This was created when the former 18-A-2 zone became too large and had to be divided.

Included in the new one are clubs from North Vancouver, Squamish, Pemberton, Mount Seymour, West Vancouver, Lions Gate, the Sunshine Coast and Powell River.

Zone chairman Joe Benner attended the meeting along with members from various clubs but presidents and secretaries from all the clubs attended the dinner meeting at the Chieftain Hotel.

Lions host visitors

PEMBERTON — At their Wednesday Sept. 20, dinner meeting, the Pemberton Lions Club welcomed as guests the District Governor Gordon Steenson of North Vancouver and the zone chairman Joe Benner of Sechelt. The two visiting Lion members had travelled to Pemberton on their annual visit, where they were welcomed by the Pemberton Lions and enjoyed dinner.

At this meeting new Lion Jim Spencer was initiated into the club. An enjoyable evening was had with the visiting Lions.

The Lions Club whose members are building a fire hall have been working steadily on this project and have poured concrete for the foundation and will continue to hold work bees on the building.

The Pemberton Village hopes to build a second story on the fire hall to be used as an office and perhaps have other rooms available to rent.

MR. AND MRS. J. CARROLL

Judy Magee wed in city

St. Michael's Anglican Church Vancouver was the setting for the recent wedding of Judy Ann Magee and James Garry Carroll.

Rev. C. H. Gibbs heard the vows of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Magee and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Carroll.

The bride's choice for her wedding was a empire sheath of white peau de sole with a square neckline and lace and pearl insert in the empire bodice. A bow held her elbow length veil and she carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

The bride was attended by Mrs. R. Magee, Matron of honor, Wendy Wilson and Nancy Magee, her sister were bridesmaids and young Debbie Carroll was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants were gowned alike in short turquoise sheaths of peau de sole with pearly collars. Their headresses were pearl trimmed turquoise headbands. They carried gladioli tinted to match their gowns.

Robert Carroll was his brother's best man while Ull Mader, Robert Magee and Doug Carroll ushered the guests.

A reception was held at Gwynne's Caterers and J. Wood, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon trip to San Francisco the bride donned a golden beige cotton knit suit.

The young couple will make their home in Vancouver. Guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Woods of Edmonton and numerous Squamish friends.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. J. Confortin have been holidaying in Italy for the past two months and will be returning about mid-October. They have been visiting friends and relatives.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Radomski (Darlene Armstrong) on the birth of a son, Alan James, weighing 7 pounds, 12 ounces, in St. Vincent's Hospital on Monday, Oct. 2nd. Mr. and Mrs. R. Armstrong are the proud grandparents.

The attractive hair style worn by Liz Sorban and featured in a recent issue of the Times, was styled by Eleanor Dorey of Classic Coiffures but the design was created at the styling show they attended the previous week.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. Dent and Mrs. A. Sherlaw recently were Mr. and Mrs. W. Wood of East Kildrie Scotland, Mrs. Dent and Mr. Sherlaw's aunt and uncle. Mrs. A. Sherlaw and Alan Sherlaw of Pitt Meadows accompanied them.

Social Notes

Mrs. Frank Smith of Seattle spent a recent weekend with her mother Mrs. E. Klont.

Remember Mr. and Mrs. Jim Knutton who used to live up the valley? Kathy, one of their twin daughters is Carol Lasser's big sister at VGH. The family, we hear, are now living in Fort St. John.

Mrs. Mae Stack spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Gibson at Sechelt last week.

Mrs. A. P. Barnfield and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnfield have returned from a most enjoyable holiday in Hawaii.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. W. Luckiw and Mrs. Chris Carson on their loss of a husband and father.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Pfeiffer of Freiburg, West Germany have been spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. A. Mader.

Peppers and plums in seasonal recipes

Ed. Note. With Times editor away on holiday last week the following recipes from the file prepared by Juliana Egyed might fill the cooking column this week. Next week a new homemaker and her recipes will once again be featured.

Peppers and plums are both in good supply so Mrs. Egyed thought these dishes, popular in Hungary, might appeal to Squamish cooks.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

(Töltött zöldpaprika)
12 green peppers
2 lbs. ground pork or 1 lb. beef and 1 lb. pork
½ cup cooked rice
1 tsp. paprika
2 tsps. salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 onion, finely chopped
2 tsps. fat
1½ cups strained tomatoes or tomato juice.

Remove stems from the peppers and scoop out seeds. Avoid breaking the shells. Combine the pork, rice, paprika, salt and egg. Brown the onion in fat and add to the meat mixture. Pack loosely in the peppers. Arrange in a baking dish and pour in the tomato juice. Cook in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for one hour. The pork should be well done and the peppers tender but not broken. Six or more servings.

With this main dish serve boiled and buttered potatoes and fresh rolls.

You might like to top this dinner with plum dumplings a desert of which Hungarians are very fond. The plums must be prepared before the dough.

PLUM DUMPLINGS

(Szilvasgombóc)
12 plums
12 lumps of sugar
3 tsps. butter
2 cups flour
2 cups ricod cooked potatoes, chilled
1 tsp. salt
¾ cup buttered crumbs

Remove the pits but do not cut the plums completely apart. Fill centres with the sugar. Cut the butter into the flour until the mixture is like coarse corn meal. Combine it with the potatoes and salt. Mix in the eggs and knead dough well. Roll out ¼ inch thick on a floured board. Cut into 3 inch squares. Place a prepared plum on each square. Moisten the edges of the dough and pinch around the plums. Dust the palms of the hands with flour and roll dough into dumplings. Gently drop the dumplings into a large kettle of boiling water a few at a time. The water must boil without stopping, but not too vigorously or it will break the dumplings. Cook them for fifteen minutes then carefully lift each out and roll it in buttered crumbs. Serve hot. Serves 6.

Our "coffee shop" proprietor Jack Spink has been very sick and collapsed at home. He is now in Lions Gate Hospital undergoing tests. We all sincerely hope he will be better and back to work soon.

Bill Fulton who had his left hand crushed in an accident July 28 is taking therapy in Vancouver throughout the week. At this point he can touch his fingers to his palm. Bill is ambidextrous and probably uses his left hand the most.

Hazel Bellamy is just home from a three week holiday and she is sure that all gas station attendants wired ahead "Please get off the highway. Hazel is on holidays." She says this is her 3rd year of trips with no traffic. Anyway she took her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Gray, with her and the first week they were at Osoyoos, down to Everett and Grand Coulee Dam. The second week they spent at Harrison Hot Springs and the last week up the Alaska Highway and stopped at the Peace River Dam, plus other points of interest.

The Guide leaders Mrs. Baverli Capt. and Mrs. Wickstrom Lieut. took twenty-one Guides on a hike Saturday Sept. 23 to Shannon Falls. The three stages of advancement - Tenderfoot, Second Class, and First Class were able to work on as nature, stalking, setting up a camp fire and putting it out and a cook out meal. The day had one exciting event when two of them ran into a hornet's nest while stalking and got several miserable bites. All went home feeling they had a day well spent. Perhaps another hike will be arranged to stay on this side and go to the dam on Lake Henrietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Greveling are away on two weeks holidays first to Kamloops for a week to visit many relatives including her twin sister Mrs. Hansen of Heffley Creek and then on to Cranbrook with another sister Mrs. Ted Lawson. Mr. and Mrs. Lawson will be in Kamloops with them also.

Who hasn't been up Whistler or Garibaldi mountain yet? After 23 years of living in this district I, Frankie Wickstrom, finally got to the top of Whistler on the lifts. Alan Sinclair took his son Stewart, his cousin from Scotland, Rina McBain and myself up one Saturday. In spite of the mist the scenery was fabulous. A trip there in the winter or late spring would be that much more breathtaking.

Sunday School on Sunday Sept 24 had a good turnout of children. Mrs. Teichman is the superintendent and also a teacher along with Mrs. Rudkin, Mrs. Lobdell, Mrs. Yonin, Ellen Stephens and Mrs. Van Sickle. Many of the young girls are helping. Pam Anderson, Barbara Teichman, Pam Huether, Kay Newstead and Patsy Magee. Patsy is also the pianist.

Meet the teachers

Former Kenya resident teaching at Squamish

G. Forrest Johnston is teaching Commerce and English at Howe Sound Secondary School, glad to be back in Canada after 16 years in Kenya, Africa. "I loved Kenya," he said. "It was a beautiful place, but I felt the time had come when there was not much financial security there for white people."

He came to British Columbia, which he had visited while in the RCAF during the war (he got his discharge at Sea Island) and always wanted to see again, teaching at New Denver for a year before coming to Squamish a month ago.

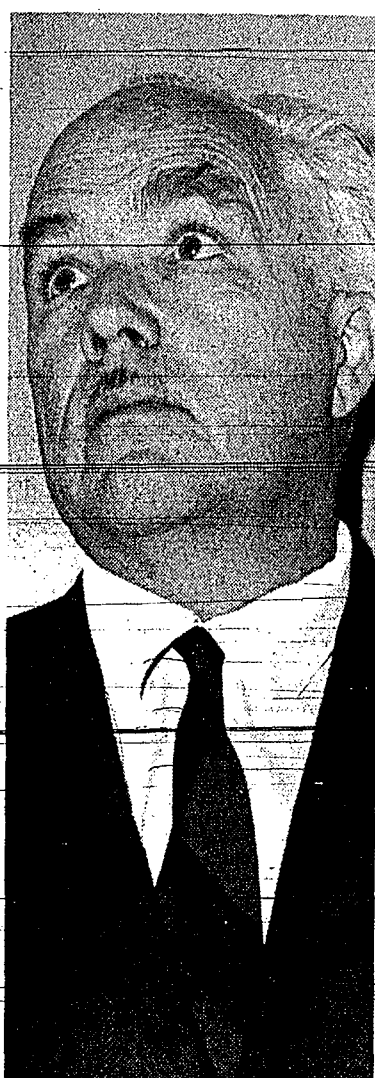

Mr. Johnston, who said he had been teaching off and on for twenty-five to thirty years, said he started in 1932 but had been out of actual teaching at times. "But even when I was in journalism," he said, "it usually was in the educational field or had an educational slant."

He worked for the Kingston Whig-Standard in Ontario for ten years as a feature editor, music and drama critic and district editor and also worked in the same field in Kenya where he was chief sub-editor on the East African Standard, as well as music and drama editor.

"I liked my years in Kenya very much," he said. "I was travelling and happened to arrive there and, like the country so I joined the Ministry of Information as a news editor, later becoming provincial information officer and worked in radio as well."

He left journalism to go into farming for a while but found this wasn't a profitable venture so went back to teaching, becoming principal of a twenty room elementary school.

But the Kenya government wasn't going to let him off so easily and he soon took a part time job with their Ministry of

G. FORREST JOHNSTON from Kenya to Squamish

Information serving as a radio news editor and later working for the Voice of Kenya in radio and television editing.

He stayed on as an adviser and training officer after most of the white people left, giving courses in journalism and arranging for others. He also found time to teach for two years in a secondary school.

He had the greatest praise for the people of Kenya and said there seemed to be an amazing lack of bitterness towards the white man.

"Whereas things seemed to be upset with the rapid takeover when the natives formed the government, the change had to come," he said. "The Africans are doing an absolutely marvellous job of taking charge in positions for which they had no training. They have their own unemployment problem," he added, "and must look after their own people, but they are most appreciative of any assistance."

Mr. Johnston, who is a widower with two sons, George in Grade 12 and Pwani in Grade 2, is living in the former Behmer home in Northridge. He plans to do a bit of free lance writing in his spare time and is sponsoring the school newspaper which will be issued bi-monthly.

OLE RUNZER WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Ole Runzer won the club championship at the Squamish Valley Golf and Country Club on Wednesday of last week, beating out Dave Rea to take top place. The match was played in pouring rain.

In the first flight Charlie Bellis narrowly defeated club president Lloyd Ingraham to take first place. Second flight championships were scheduled for the weekend.

The club tournament started on Sunday, Sept. 10th with fifty-six members turning out in a drenching down-pour to play for the club championships.

Students endorse 4 house system

On Friday, September 29th we said good-bye to Electrons, Neutrons and Protons and voted for a four house system.

In the last few years there have been too many students on the sidelines while only a few could take part in competitions. With less students in each house there will be a better opportunity for more students to get in on the activities.

Shortened periods were held on Monday afternoon so that each house could meet and elect house captains. Congratulations to Jerry Dirks, House 1, Roy Johnson, House 2, Pat Mulhern House 3, and Harry Stockman, House 4. It is the job of these boys along with the President of the House Council to plan inter-house competitions.

Entry forms for the swim meet have been filled in and only the weather is holding it back. It was scheduled for the first nice day last week but the rain keeps coming down and forcing it to be cancelled. But rain or no rain there are a few students who practice every chance they get in the hope of bringing their new house closer to victory.

Some of the boys are practicing either volleyball or basketball nearly every noon hour. If they keep it up we're sure to have some really good teams.

Rugby seems to have really caught on this year. Squamish will host Hantsworth after school on Tuesday, Oct. 10th. The boys would welcome a big turnout to cheer them on. ED. NOTE—Louise Kilby has resigned as high school correspondent and this column will be written by Leslie Chapman.

LESLEY CHAPMAN who has joined the staff at Squamish Times and will be working on Saturday and during winter and summer holidays.

The Country Philosopher

By ABO

Well, lets see now — whats what and who's who this week. Met a real upset fellow the other day — was quite upset and put out because Merve Foote didn't carry shoes. He felt that with a name like that he should be selling 'em.

Oh no! and just what was going on around the corner by Chieftain Hotel the other day? Some young lady sure was lucky. Think the boys in red were going to give her a ticket for illegal parking. Instead they very graciously helped her change a flat tire. Isn't that a jolly lot! But when you come right down to it they are really not such a bad bunch. It seems we are always hearing the so-called "bad" they do and not the good nor the ever so many kind things they do.

Think we might all be better off if we showed a little more respect toward them. After all, they are human and do have a job to do — and I would say a darn thankless one at times. I salute each and everyone of you, Amen!

If you don't think these women don't go after bargains or these green stamp deals you are all crazy. Just drop into Paragon Cleaners (bring you cleaning and green stamps along) and you had better bring your hiking boots along so you can climb over the mountain of clothes, in order to get to the counter. Boy those stamps that have been appearing in the Squamish Times are sure paying off by the looks of things.

And folks they do do a real good job. Have no complaints. They did a real neat job pressing my pants and cleaning my overcoat. Give 'em a try eh? They are local businessmen and charity does begin at home.

This goes for all the store here. We have a fine lot of 'em and their prices are good and so is the quality. After all it doesn't seem to matter where you go — you only get what you pay for. So lets keep the money at home eh?

See by the paper that Dave Rea is doing pretty good with his golf. He always told us he knew the game but of course we didn't believe him — he is always so full of it.

Now all we need is a picture of you with one of those fish you always say you catch (haven't seen one yet). Then we will know for sure that you are not always peddling us a line. Haven't seen Dick the fisherman around lately. Was kind of wondering if he is on holidays or if his wife finally pushed him into the fish pond.

Boy has the smoke from the mill ever been horrible lately. You sure can't tell me that breathing that stink in is at all healthy. It just gags you sometimes. And what an "H" of a mess it makes on your car if you park it downtown for just five minutes.

And your hair! Wow its what I would call black dandruff. And don't be picking those black spots on your skin — they are our modern mill.

not blackheads — its ash from Wish to hank the party for sending in the following picture. I mentioned in one of my columns about the shoe-shine-boy, and evidently the parties were caught in the act. Perhaps this is the only way your mother is going to get a picture of you Roy. And don't be telling her anymore how hard you work. Pictures don't lie.

Well must be on my merry way now and hope to be with you next week again, in the one and only, "Squamish Times".

LETTERS

Editor, The Squamish Times,

I wish to declare myself as a candidate in the forthcoming municipal elections, for the School Board.

However, if I am elected, I shall be elected by the electorate at large, both ratepayers and others, and shall be answerable to that electorate for any sins of omission or commission whilst in office. Therefore I feel I cannot answer any questions except from a public platform, at a public meeting, in a public place.

My stand is a very logical one. A candidate, seeking election as an individual, and not as a member of a constituted political party, or organized group, for the first time, cannot answer specific policy questions, because until he has served some time in office, he cannot possibly know the problems involved. The only questions that could be answered would be very broad and generalised. For example: Q. Do you think that school taxes are too high? A. It depends whether the community is getting 100 cents worth of educational value for every tax dollar spent, and if I am elected, I intend to see that the highest possible return is made. The answer sounds pretty good, but really means very little. Surely, anyone elected to public office is expected to do this as a matter of course.

Finally, I wish to make it quite clear, that I am my own man. That I am not seeking endorsement from any organisation or pressure group. That I do not wish to have such endorsement thrust upon me. And I still am of the opinion that the Ratepayers Association should field a slate of candidates from within their own organisation, that is sufficient talent is available.

Cards lose to Packers

The Cardinals lost their Sunday game at Squamish to the Packers by a score of 31 to 7. Chris Baldry scored a touchdown on a reverse in the game which was played in the pouring rain.

Coach Lockie Brock said the Cards were up against a much better team and made a good showing.

He suggested the Packers must have been doing a great deal of practicing in order to play so well.

Britannia Beach PTA holds first meeting

By Olive Baxter

It was a very successful beginning for the P.T.A. with about 60 parents and teachers including a fair amount of fathers, attending the meeting on Thursday September 28.

Mrs. T. Conto, chaired the meeting and welcomed the members and guests and introduced the teachers and the members of the executive.

Following the minutes and the treasurers report a number of recommendations were read from the executives meeting of the previous afternoon and from these, committees were formed; to study the bursary, also a car pool for sports events away from the property. It was also moved to help the school sponsor the child in Lebanon who has been aided by the school children for the past 6 years.

It was moved to dispense with the excess kindergarten furniture to offer it for the use of the retarded school, or failing this to be given for the thrift sale. Also moved that the children's library be closed and the books combined with the school library and monies in the library treasury to be used for awards assemblies which will be held quarterly throughout the year, if found beneficial.

Mrs. D. Clark received a vote of thanks for her many years of service to the library. It was moved that meetings be held every second month.

A dance is to be held on October 28th, as the fund raising event for the year's commitments. The school children will make the decorations for the hall and parents will be asked for food donations thereby cutting costs to the minimum. It is hoped to have the local musicians on hand.

The dance will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hoodkoff and it is hoped that everyone will turn out and help make this a very successful fund raising event and at the same time be having a good time.

Mrs. Baxter asked and received two volunteers to help her in the continuance of the school savings plan.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Conto introduced Mr. Lorne Cope who gave a full explanation of his remarks in the previous News Letter. He read out the rules for the school children, on the kind of behaviour that will be expected from them as regards their school work; what will be expected of them while playing in the school ground, in the school rooms and also in the gymnasium.

Mr. Cope also respectfully asked for the cooperation of the parents, by their attitudes toward the school and their remarks about the school and the teachers in front of their children. He also asked for cooperation in the disciplinary measures of their children and not to expect teachers to make upstanding citizens of spoiled rebellious children and to do their part in training them in their early years.

Mr. Cope explained the full duties of the teachers and the principal by showing that, Sports drama, Art and music were partly extra-curricular which most teachers put in after regular school hours. He touched on the many missing articles of sports equipment and hoped that there would be a growing realization of this among the parents to see that their child returned anything that didn't belong to them.

Mr. Cope remarked that Britannia Beach P.T.A. is rather unique in the fact that it is the only functioning P.T.A. in the area and congratulated the members on the continuing harmony with which they have always worked with the teachers at Britannia. He announced that there is to be a mothers' tea in the near future with the girls of the higher grades supplying and serving, with the assistance of two or three of the mothers, behind the scenes.

A very successful meeting closed with refreshments.

SOME HEATING FUELS ADD A LOT TO YOUR HOME

Some heating fuels give you "extras" you'd be better off without. Like fumes and soot. With electric heat, no fuel is burned so no dirt is created to mar your furnishings. You get even, comfortable heat; operating costs are low, and your heating system requires little or no maintenance. Come to think of it, electric heat does give you one extra... the extra resale value it adds to your home. As the trend to all-electric living continues, more and more homebuyers will be demanding modern, efficient electric heat. That could mean a lot when the time comes to sell.

14,000 homeowners have made Electric Heat B.C.'s hottest seller!

Greetings from Nigeria

Mrs. Turbay arrived back in Canada on September 2nd after spending the summer holiday touring Ghana and Nigeria covering some 4500 miles in those countries. While in Nigeria she visited the parish of Rev. Jacob Borokini spending two days driving through the area where he preaches and at the same time visiting several schools particularly elementary schools, all the while having a very pleasant visit with the Borokinis.

Mrs. Turbay also spent a couple of pleasant afternoons with Mr. Arie and his daughter Esther, in Ibadan. They too, wished to be remembered to the Squamish people, especially St. John's Anglican Sunday School who are so kindly providing Esther with a scholarship for her education. Mr. Arie is a close friend of the African clergyman of St. Stephen's in Ibadan where he and his family worship. This African clergyman Rev. Pasorankbaker, is very happy about the financial help Esther is receiving. He constantly encourages his people to further their education saying that such assistance as Esther is receiving from Canada, is not only for Esther but for all Nigeria too. Mr. Arie is a shoemaker by trade but in a country where such a large proportion of the population go barefooted one wonders how a decent standard of living can be obtained, let alone educate a family. He does not make shoes but merely repairs them. Recently he obtained a slightly better paying job of repairing boots for the Ibadan policemen and with the job cheaper living accommodation.

Mrs. Turbay had a visit with Josiah Skidiban who is beginning his third year at the Ayetoro Comprehensive Secondary School. Josiah's education is sponsored by a group of Anglican people from Langley. Josiah says, "hello to Lyle Fenton, his penpal."

Judging from the number of christian churches and schools seen on the 4500 mile tour Mrs. Turbay believes Ghana is predominantly Methodist, and Nigeria Anglican. There are a great variety of other denominations too numerous to mention. Mrs. Turbay spent the first weekend in Lagos with a Baptist clergyman and his wife. The last service she attended in Ibadan was in an Ethiopian church. All churches in Ghana and Nigeria are well attended, not only on special occasions but every Sunday, and many of the smaller churches have services every night of the week.

Champagne party for winning team

PEMBERTON — Tom Allen, sponsor of the Pemberton Cabarettes, who won the ladies softball championship this year hosted a champagne party for the team, their husbands and invited guests on the evening of Saturday, Sept. 30th.

Highlight of the evening was the opening of bottles of champagne, given to the team by their sponsor.

The dance was held in the cabaret which was closed to the public for the evening, and started off with a bingo dance to the music of the local orchestra with Stu Thompson as vocalist.

Prizes were given to winners of various contests with the E. Gilmores winning a spot dance, D. Deering and Mrs. T. Olsen winning an elimination dance and B. Ross and Mrs. N. Gilmore champions in a marathon dance with the M. Pagdins receiving the door prize.

Entertainment included a hilarious baseball skit acted by Gay Guthrie and Aggie Taillefer-vocalizing with the band on several numbers. The ball players gave an exhibition ball game to music which drew delighted laughter from the audience.

At midnight the party adjourned to the W. Taillefer home where a buffet table was set up and guests later danced to music provided by Mrs. Lillian Shore.

Student exchange at Pemberton

PEMBERTON — An interesting experiment at Pemberton Secondary School recently was the arrival of three centennial exchange students of the Greater Vancouver School District. The three students, all of grade eleven, visiting here for the week of Sept. 23rd to Oct. 1st were: Shirley Cartway, Richmond; Rick Rigby, Burnaby; and Terry McKenzie, Vancouver.

The students were billeted at the homes of Pemberton Secondary students. Similarly, two grade eleven Pemberton Secondary students were visiting another school for the week. These two being, Barbara Folsch at Surrey and David Walker at Victoria.

The exchange students took regular classes and did the lessons assigned for their week's stay. The students toured Whistler Mountain Resort and visited a logging camp. At the end of their visit each student reported to his school class on his week's program at Pemberton Secondary School.

Pemberton leads in Carling shoot

Pemberton is leading with ten points in the annual Carling contest with Squamish and Pemberton teams vying for the trophy. The first shoot took place in Squamish on October 22 and this will determine the winner.

The annual turkey shoot, sponsored by the Pemberton Rod and Gun Club, saw a good turnout of members and also a number of visitors from Squamish.

Mrs. L. Ross was co-ordinator for the shoot and kept score for the entrants. A concession stand was set up, manned by the ladies and dispensed refreshments throughout the day.

Prizes of turkeys, chickens and steaks went to the following contestants in the rifle section: George Bikadi, two wins; Jim Decker, twice; and Ed Ronayne, Carol Bikadi, Sonny Taylor, Eldon Talbot, and Lud Gross.

In the shot gun shoot winners were John Wutzke, twice; M. Shier, R. Wilson, R. Pipe, B. Ross, E. Ronayne, E. Gilmore, E. Bishop and G. Bikadi.

The shoot also featured an event for youths under 18 years of age. This cash prize was won by Allan McEwan of Pemberton.

Pemberton night classes

Night School co-ordinator for Pemberton and District, Bob Priest reports that the academic courses offered, Math and Socials have started. These courses are held twice weekly, Monday and Thursday evening at the Secondary school.

A tentative schedule of non credit courses offered is now set up for the public and anyone who has further suggestions for courses or anyone who wishes to act as instructor is asked to contact Mr. Priest at Pemberton 894-6416.

Rotary Club plans sportsman's dinner

The Squamish Rotary Club is planning to hold its annual Sportsman's Dinner on Saturday, Nov. 18th. Wild game and fish will be featured at the dinner and proceeds will go towards the junior sports program in the community.

The dinner chairman, John Drenka, says Herb Capozzi, MLA and former general manager of the Vancouver Lions football team will be the master of ceremonies and it is hoped that Annis Stukas and Jim Chapman will be among the guest speakers.

In addition to the dinner and the opportunity to meet some of the great names in sport, two films will be shown, one on the Canadian Open and the other on the 1967 Stanley Cup finals.

The first Sportsman's Dinner was a great success and the club is hoping for a repeat performance.

John says he already has the salmon promised and among the other game he has asked for are moose, deer, elk, geese and ducks.

Many animals seen in area

PEMBERTON — With the coming of the autumn season, residents here have seen a number of wild animals close to the village and in one case within the boundaries of the village. At the Signal Hill Elementary School, both teachers and students have watched a lone coyote wander about the school grounds for several days. It was decided the animal could be dangerous and it was done away with.

Further up the valley, near W. C. Green's, a mother bear and two cubs were often seen. Art Knaus has bee hives there and this was the strong attraction. With permission to shoot them, it was discovered there were two mother bears with two cubs each.

A motorist travelling from Pemberton to Squamish was taken by surprise when three young deer, last spring's fawns, crossed the road nonchalantly in front of the car.

12th birthday for Heather
Pemberton — On Monday, September 18th, Heather Furniss, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. George Furniss celebrated her 12th birthday at a dinner party at her home. The young guests enjoyed dinner followed by the traditional birthday cake, which had been beautifully decorated by Mrs. G. Henry.

Following dinner, dancing and games were played with prizes for each winner. A spot dance prize was won by Peggy Pickell and the twelfth person to arrive also received a prize, this going to Vickie Brotherton.

The guest of honour and her friends enjoyed a happy evening helping birthday girl Heather celebrate. Present were Peggy Pickell, Betty Costilich, Vickie Brotherton, Roxanne Deering, Nancy Harris, May Wong, Donna Guthrie, Leslie Priest, Charlene LeBlanc, Kathy Mercer, Eleanor McCulloch, Janice Thevarge and Cheryl England.
