Slash fires burn again

The return of the good weather has also brought a return of the slash fires so noticeable early last month.

On Thursday evening a slash fire was burning in Ring Creek where CRB left their debris and several others were reported down the Sound.

Forestry officials said they received a number of reports saying the north end of Bowen Island and the southern portion of Gambier Island were ablaze. However it was a slash fire at McNab Creek which the informers had noticed.

Slash fires were also burning at Potlatch and Newman Creek, also along Howe Sound.

Plan park improvement

The Pemberton and District Parks Board held a meeting on Wednesday September 19, to discuss plans for park and swimming pool improvements at One-Mile Lake.

Al Fairhurst of the provincial government Parks Department spent the day in Pemberton going over the territory with C. J. Graham and meeting with the local board in the evening.

The Parks Board felt the first step of a planned effort has been started in the right direction.

Alternate route for Olympics not practical is local opinion

ANACONDA, USW REACH AGREEMENT

B. B. Greenlee, manager of the Anaconda Company (Canada) Ltd. Britannia operation, announced on Monday that the company has reached a tentative agreement with the negotiating committee of Local 663 of the United Steel Workers of America, on the terms of a new collective bargaining agreement.

The strike deadline set by the union for 8 a.m. on Tuesday has been postponed pending ratification of the agreement by the membership in a vote to be held on Friday, Oct. 4.

Details of the settlement have been withheld pending ratification.

St. Pierre calls for changes in absentee voting

Paul St. Pierre, MP for the Coast - Chilcotin riding, last week introduced a resolution in the House of Commons calling for absentee voting in federal elections.

The resolution also urges changes in the counting of Armed Forces' ballots and the extension of voting rights to Canadian civil servants posted in foreign countries.

"The resolution's prime purpose," said St. Pierre, "is to enable Canadians to vote on election day at polling places far from their homes."

"In the last federal election a shocking number of fishermen and loggers were disenfranchised in Coast - Chilcotin because their work made it impossible for them to vote in their home areas. The present system of advance polls proved totally inadequate to meet their legitimate needs."

"Coastal Indian fishermen were particularly hard hit.

Large numbers of them were absent from their homes on both advance poll and regular poll days because the fishing fleet was congregating in Rivers Inlet and other salmon waters."

"If studies can get underway this year, we should be able to avoid a repetition of this mass disenfranchisement at the next federal election."

The provisions for counting the Armed Services' ballots in the resolution are designed to mix service votes with Canadian absentee ballots so that present discrimination against such people will be offset.

At present, the armed services is the only Canadian professional group whose political choices are made known by the segregation of their votes in the armed services bloc.

The resolution is one of 43 private members' motions on the order paper for the new session. It is not expected to be debated until later this year.

Suggestions that an alternate road for the proposed 1976 Olympics go through the Fraser Valley, up the Harrison and Lillooet Lakes to Pemberton and back to Whistler is just not practical in the opinion of local people who have long been interested in roads in this area.

Consensus of opinion is that it would be a wonderful route "if we have the money to spend on roads" but that when monies are needed elsewhere it would be much better to improve the existing access.

B. H. Brown, former chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and very interested in the possibility of the Olympics coming to Whistler, said "the idea of the roads, funds permitting, is great, but to tie it in with the Olympic development is unfair. It gives the idea one must drive two-hundred miles to reach Whistler instead of 80 miles."

"An alternate access, if this is necessary, could be provided all the way to Furry Creek from Vancouver by utilizing the lower cost. This could be fenced for protection.

Allister Mackenzie voiced the same idea, saying the watershed route could start in North or West Vancouver, bypassing the Upper Levels highway. "A four lane highway could be built as far as Furry Creek," he said. "This could then be tied in with the present highway which could be widened to four lanes."

"Much of the new road between Squamish and Britannia is practically four lanes now," he continued, "and from Squamish it would not be too great an endeavor to widen it right through to Whistler. Certainly this makes more sense than the idea of a much longer route."

F. D. Ross, school board secretary, who has covered much of the route in question says "It would be a wonderful route to open up if we have the money to spare for building roads but certainly not as a route to Whistler or the proposed 1976 Olympics."

H. H. Bailey, chairman of the Squamish and Howe Sound District Chamber of Commerce said he had listened to discussion in the Chamber concerning the proposed route and members familiar with it said it was such a big undertaking they could not see where it would be practical. Certainly as a means of Olympic access it left much to be desired.

One local resident who is very familiar with the Lillooet and Harrison Lake route said "It has been touted as a wonderful game area. Well last week I went down there and all I saw was two squirrels and a grouse!"

"It is not an agricultural or a game area and while the scenery is terrific the scenic drawing card can be overdone when we have so much of it in B.C. Certainly it ranks much lower than what has been quoted in the press. Many more roads could be put in this province to a much better advantage."

"Another point is that the Olympic Games are held in February and at that time of the year much of the 170 miles of road would require costly snow removal. This coupled with the possibility of slides and cost of maintenance would make it unsuitable."

Dr. L. C. Kindree, one of the local aldermen and keenly interested in road problems in the area, says "It's ridiculous to think of the proposed highway as the other two lanes for the 1976 Olympics."

"Compare the proposed 160 miles to the 80 miles between Vancouver and Whistler using the Howe Sound route and I'm sure you'll see the Sound highway completely jammed because people aren't going to drive twice as far if they can help it."

"The idea of the proposed Haney to Pemberton-Whistler route meeting the requirements of the Olympics is ridiculous!"

"It would be fine as a future road," he added. "To open up the country but not for the Olympics!"

Earlier both Mayor P. J. Brennan and MLA Allan Williams had stated they thought the proposal was most impractical."

Bob Bishop stars in trouble with beaver

Sounds like a television program or something but to Bob Bishop beavers are no laughing matter. But these days he is answering to "Beaverman" and deploring the need to do so.

Last year we ran a story about some boys who were delighted to have a beaver in the bathtub and this year the beaver is in the deep freeze, and quite dead! And that's quite a tale... and not a beaver tail either!

Along with Bernhard Brown, he acquired some property at Alta Lake which they plan to develop and subdivide. A small stream runs through the property and lo and behold, one day early last summer they discovered a beaver dam under the small bridge which spans the creek.

Water was spilling over the road and on some of the property so they decided the only solution was to get rid of the beaver dam. Have you ever tried to get rid of a beaver dam or beavers? If you haven't just ask Bob about it.

He spent all one Sunday removing the dam from beneath the bridge, assisted by one of his sons and Bernie Brown and it was a wet day, so they were soaked when they finished the job. The water still wasn't running away too well so he did a bit of exploring and found another dam. That was also destroyed.

But beavers are persistent little animals and these just weren't going to leave. One week later the dams were back in, bigger and better than ever. So they cleaned it out again as well as possible but it's been a running battle with beavers ever since that time.

Finally in desperation Bob asked for permission to trap them and this was granted. Since that time he has trapped four and the last one is in the freezer now waiting for Bob to learn how to get the hide off so he can have a beaver rug.

So, if you know how to skin a beaver, please tell Bob Bishop or better still, go over and help him. Or maybe by the time this gets in print he'll be able to tell you how to do it.

In the meantime does anyone want a fresh frozen beaver?

On Sept. 24, the results for North-South were Ted Vandelaar and H. Waldron in first place; Tom Burke and K. Carlson, second and Ross Chapman and Mrs. D. Kirkwood in third place.

For East-West it was A. Hendrickson and Mrs. Behner in first place; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Malm in second place and Mrs. K. Tomlinson with W. J. Elliott in third place.

$75,000 to upgrade Road at Alta Lake

$75,000 has been allocated to upgrade the Alta Lake road on the west side of the lake. The announcement was made earlier this month when prime minister W. A. C. Bennett announced a number of highway projects.

The work will be done by day labor, probably the highway crew and no contracts are expected to be awarded.

Reports indicate the work will consist of widening the road, re-surfacing some and also re-aligning other portions. Work is expected to start this fall but it is not expected to make any significant change in the road this year. However by next summer the west side road should be greatly improved.

Numerous complaints about the state of the existing road on the west side of the lake have been sent to Victoria with residents complaining about the condition and the narrowness of the road as well as the steep hills on the four mile stretch from the new road, constructed last year, to Rainbow Lodge.

This fall parents on the east side of the lake refused to send their children to the Alta Lake school because of the poor condition of the road and the fact it is not kept open during the winter.

It was considered too difficult for small children to walk to school when the road is closed and unsafe for them to use the railway tracks.

The school board, Ratepayers' Association and Whistler Chamber of Commerce have all protested against the lack of an adequate road and urged that a short bypass road be built at the south end of Alta Lake.

SQUAMISH, B.C. — WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1968

Cinderella highway

Millions of dollars seem to be available to build a proposed highway from the Fraser Valley to Whistler when a perfectly good route already exists and could be upgraded with much less cost.

Or is there some reason why it seems important to build a road from Haney through country which is not even sparsely settled, to a point twenty miles from the proposed site for the Olympics?

Already the Squamish highway, while admittedly narrow in some places, is still a good highway between Britannia and Horseshoe Bay; will be an excellent three lane one between Squamish and Britannia, and could be widened in many places north of Squamish without too much difficulty.

One bottleneck is the present Upper Levels highway but there seems to be no reason why this could not be widened, not only for the proposed Olympics, if they come, but for the increasing traffic to this area and to the Horseshoe Bay ferries.

Land has been obtained, houses have been removed. Surveys and design work has been completed. Road approaches to Horseshoe Bay terminals have been widened and the terminals themselves extended.

Yet there has been no widening of the Upper Levels. Already it is inadequate for a normally busy weekend traffic with no passing lanes on all but one hill. One just has to hit the highway after a ferry has arrived to realize just how frustrating it can be.

Yet a new road is being touted as part of a circle highway with the $48 million "back door" route to Whistler forming one arc of the circle. Maybe it will be possible to speed traffic up by going in or out through the back door but it will still have to have a front door too and as long as it is just a two-lane highway, inadequate for present needs, it certainly won't be able to carry the anticipated Olympic traffic.

So what would happen? Motorists would be just as frustrated. Certainly 50,000 people a day would tax any two lane highway whether it was from the Haney area or from Vancouver.

We don't know what is behind the thinking which advocates the construction of another two-lane highway at great cost, to really serve no area, when a perfectly good road base already exists which would take nowhere near the amount quoted to become a perfectly good four-lane highway.

The latest suggestions that the new route would be an alternate to the Fraser Canyon road are laughable. Once it arrived at Pemberton it would still have a long way to go before it reached the Cariboo and if an alternate is wanted the basis, and a black-topped one, exists as far as Whistler. Twenty miles of paving, a few bridges and an overpass which have been forgotten since the highway was completed to Whistler is all that remains to give Pemberton excellent road access. And it wouldn't cost $48 million!

Certainly spending the sums estimated to build another road which would go no further seems senseless.

Meanwhile the Upper Levels highway, Canada's No. 1 highway west, is still too narrow to carry the traffic to the ferries and the Whistler area but seems doomed like Cinderella to sit in the ashes while the government toys with another road.

We can't understand it.

If an alternative is necessary

If an alternate route to Whistler is necessary why not consider the possibility of building a highway through the Capilano watershed, a suggestion originally made when the Squamish highway was first proposed?

This might eliminate the Upper Levels bottleneck, would provide an alternate route bypassing Horseshoe Bay and could be built to four lane standards to Furry Creek. The existing road from Furry Creek to Britannia Beach could be widened, not too great an undertaking and the present, nearly completed Squamish-Britannia Beach link is already practically three lanes in all areas and could easily be widened.

From Squamish to Alice Lake widening would not be too great a problem as most of the land is free of rocks and very little is privately owned. There might be problems in some spots further north but certainly none that would be insurmountable and we do not think it would be as costly as the proposal to build the alternate route from Haney.

This would give a four lane highway to Whistler, be the basis for a beautiful alternate route to the Cariboo or Chilcotin and also provide access to the many proposed new ski areas which are certain to be opened up between Squamish and Pemberton.

Certainly it seems to make more sense to us and we would like to suggest the government seriously consider this alternative to building another two-lane highway which would be twice as long as the present one which leads to Whistler.

If an alternate route is necessary this would seem to be the bill.

You're wanted dear

Once in a while, we break away from trying to solve the problems and troubles of things and conditions in and about our municipality to give some space to the little woman.

Undoubtedly it will surprise no one to have this impression confirmed: That wives can play a big role in their husbands' business careers. And particularly in that vital question as to whether the man of the house gets hired or promoted. Look to your laurals, Sweatpea, because Recruiters of business executives and personnel officials nowadays give very close scrutiny to the distaff side of the family when they are hiring breadwinner, according to recent survey. The wife is not expected to understand how the business is run, but it does help, very appreciably, if she maintains an orderly home, doesn't have a drinking problem and is a helpful constructive influence on her husband.

For instance, West Vancouver insurance executive always has dinner with the family before hiring the husband. I make sure that the wife doesn't nag, and believe it or not, that she doesn't wear "gauche cheap jewelry".

A Vancouver law firm has hired executives mainly on the strength of the wife's personality. And one local business firm decided not to promote a man because his home looked like a "pig sty".

One of the things that this indicates, of course, is that business now recognizes that a marriage and a home must be a true partnership to be successful. Gone are the days when the man was expected — or allowed — to set the tone of family life as he will.

Come to the surface, ladies! Whether your husband is a businessman or a biology teacher, you can help greatly, even if you don't wear the pants and sign the cheques, by being your normal, helpful understanding selves.

FALL COLORS are at their finest in the blueberry bushes below these trees at Diamond Head and last week several Squamish visitors made the trip to the chalet to take pictures of the brilliant color. Many of the bushes are just turning and the color explosion should continue for the next few weeks.

Paul ST. PIERRE, MP Coast - Chilcotin

One of the features of the House of Commons which comes to the attention of a new Member of Parliament is that there seems to be a lot of politics in the place. This is not always attractive.

The games politicians play irritate some Canadians and bore a great many more. Only a few find them good sport. Perhaps for these reasons, many new members of the House will remember one day the Throne Speech debate as Diefenbaker day.

It began this way: Prime Minister Trudeau rose, very much at ease, very relaxed — a refreshing change from the attitude of barely concealed boredom with which he spoke for an hour and ten minutes on the Throne Speech itself.

There was, said the prime minister, a very select club in Canada — the Prime Ministers' Alumni Association. There are only three living members, only one in the House of Commons Chapter "and I must say that chapter has never been in better shape".

It's doubtful that many members of the Opposition parties remembered that it was Mr. Diefenbaker's birthday, but these words were enough to signal that the most prominent private member in Canada was involved in some form of celebration, and a few thumped their desks in applause.

The prime minister continued "Its distinguished and very active representative here is known by different names to different people — Chief Great Eagle, Chief Walking Buffalo, Chief Many Spotted Horses — and some of us from other tribes call him by other names at other times. But in the House of Commons and to the people of Canada in general, he is the honourable member for Prince Albert. (Canadians generally do not know him as the member of Prince Albert. They know him as John Diefenbaker. But names may not be named in the Commons. The prime minister was doing his best.)

"The opportunity I have seized to make this report to the House of Commons is on the occasion of the Right Honourable gentleman's seventy third birthday. On behalf of the government, indeed on behalf of all the people of Canada, I want to wish him many happy returns of the day. I hope I will have the occasion for many years, and possibly even my successors will have the occasion, to make this annual report."

The Prime Minister then crossed the floor of the House to pin a blue carnation in Mr. Diefenbaker's lapel. "An expression of good will from the flower people," he called it.

Mr. Stanfield, Mr. Lewis of the New Democratic Party and Mr. Caouette of the Creditistes added their congratulations, but the House was impatient. It wanted to hear Mr. Diefenbaker. When he rose, it was to speak briefly, but with an enveloping warmth.

"The House of Commons is a place where from time to time we reveal an understanding of each other, and an appreciation of members sitting opposite, which dispels the acerbities of party warfare and which causes each of us to form deep and abiding admiration for those members who sit in every part of the house."

What history may say of Mr. Diefenbaker's career may be left to history. The future will be better prepared to deal with his place in Canadian affairs than any man of the present. But there could be no mistaking the quality he lent the House of Commons in those few minutes. Every spirit was lifted.

"The longer Honourable Members are in Parliament the more they will love this institution. To the young members who have just come in, I would say that for the first six months after you are here you will wonder how you got here. Then after that, you will wonder how the rest of the members ever got here."

One of Parliament's better moments.

LABATT'S DEFEAT SQUAMISH UNITED

Labatt's Blues from Burnaby defeated the Squamish United soccer team in a closely fought game on the high school grounds last Sunday afternoon by a score of 4-2.

The score at the end of the first half was 1-1 with Les Downing scoring for Squamish. Rudy Venekamp scored the second Squamish goal but Labatt's came on strong in the second half to get three goals past the keeper Rob Bonar.

Squamish United will meet the Dutch Lions at the high school grounds at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 6.

THE COUNTRY PHILOSOPHER

By A B C

Hello you all, do hope you are enjoying this beautiful Indian summer weather we are having of late. It's nice, but a constant reminder that winter is just around the corner! And by the look of the new snow on the mountains "around the corner" is not far off.

It appears that the snow has not come down far enough as yet as far as the hunters are concerned. Don't think there are many harmless deer meeting their doomsday as yet. But there are sure a lot of hunters out.

Guess they believe in the old sayings of "the early came and got the game" and "come early and avoid the slush!!!" So do beware if you are out roaming about the woods; wear the proper clothing and you can't be mistaken for a four legged deer!

Talking about being shot I remember one time a smart alec said to me "so-and-so got shot last night, but she is still alive." And of course you ask the one question "Did they get the bullet out?" and the answer was "Of course not, the bullets in her yet!" Now you just tell me what's a yet?

So David Axen is coming back home to us once again. Mighty nice. Must say you have done us proud David. David is a local fellow; raised and went to school here in Squamish. Smart bunch of kids those Axens.

I remember Ellen Axen at school always did her homework just like her brothers. So you see kids, it pays off. Now David is going to be an assistant professor at the University of British Columbia. And he isn't very old either. Bet you feel a real proud mother, Mrs. Axen.

Seems to be a lot of comments going on about the radar trap business. I know it's a heck of a thing but when it comes right down to it, let's face the facts, eh? The fact being that, as long as we are obeying the rules of proper driving and are staying within the speed limit we shouldn't be worried if they do have radar traps.

On the other hand there are times I sure wish they had radar up in the Brackendale area all the time! Think there are quite a few people using Government Road for a speedway.

I would like to wish Mr. and Mrs. Manzer the best of luck in their taking over the Star Theatre. I am sure you and yours will enjoy living among the crazy inhabitants of our community! We are all real gone and happy. Guess Alice and Sam already warned you eh?

Birthday greetings go out to Rene Trudeau and Gary Halvorsen. Wedding anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. R. Bliss.

What did you think of last week's picture? Really good, eh? Bet those pictured were surprised. Well folks those people were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ingraham and his sister Vivian!! Think it was taken shortly before they were married!!

This week's is a real oldie too. Taken a mighty long time ago. Cute kid, eh? This one is married and went to school here and you all know the party very well. Do you know who it is Lou?

Have you heard the latest? Well, it hasn't come out yet! There's that "yet" again!

See they are about to start our new police station. Must say we sure need a new one. Wonder if they will have a cell or two set aside for women? Just wondering.

I think it's about time I had a complete rest — and where else could you get a better one? I hear they feed pretty good too. And no dishes to wash!!!!!!

Well, guess I've said just about enough this trip. Remember to watch out for the hunters... on the road as well as in the bush!!

Letter to the Editor

OPEN LETTER TO TAXPAYERS

Editor, Squamish Times,
After a poor summer season for construction in the area, the Squamish Valley Contractors have been deeply concerned over fall and winter works. Since the federal government has now discontinued the program, it was hoped that all available work would be kept in the Valley, if possible.

The Squamish Valley Contractors Association has previously requested the municipal council to consider to give, where possible, preference to local contractors for contracts in the Valley.

It is with concern that the local contractors find that the only winter contract to be done by council — a contract large enough to keep most of our contractors busy during the winter — has been won by a Vancouver contracting firm. Now this seems a strange "concern" as the contractors locally could bid on the project, leaving the monies here.

The contract for the new police building has been given without any chance for local contractors to bid — there was no announcement by council of calling for tenders — there was no advertisement in the local newspapers (they too are local and need the revenue,) merely a small news item three days before tenders closed, stating that bids were closing, too late for our contractors to work out a tender on a ($128,480.00) job. A sum of money which, if possible, should be retained in the Squamish Valley. Municipal contracts are usually advertised locally for three consecutive weeks, giving a reasonable time to bid.

Needless to say, we are all most upset over this, as each and every one of us pay for a business licence and pay business taxes. We are part of the Squamish Valley — our men live here too, and have families.

We feel that the taxpayers of the Valley should be given a fair break, and we call upon council to correct this apparent error and hardship committed. We would ask the taxpayers to support our request to have council reconsider their action and recall the Tenders for the new police building.

Squamish Valley Contractors Association

Editor, Squamish Times,
We, the local Contractors Association of the Squamish Valley, wish to express our thanks and gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Goode of Garibaldi Highlands Holdings Ltd., for their trust in our valley contractors in building the townhouses on the Garibaldi Mall.

A Trustee Answers

Mrs. Margaret Marchant, School Trustee, has decided to revive her column on School Board matters because she has received a number of questions in recent days.

(1) Why have the Grade 5 students from Brackendale been transferred to Squamish Elementary School?

ANSWER: There are 7 classrooms at the Brackendale School. One is required for Kindergarten, leaving 6 rooms for 211 students in Grades one to seven. If these 211 students had remained in Brackendale, the pupil-teacher ratio would have been 1-34 in the primary grades and 1-36 in the intermediate grades. In order to improve instruction, the Board has adopted a policy of not allowing the pupil-teacher ratio to exceed 1-30 for primary and 1-35 for intermediate wherever practicable. Transferring the 26 Grade 5 students to Squamish lowered the Brackendale attendance enough so that the pupil-teacher ratio comes within the numbers desired by the Board.

(2) Why didn't the Board add an extra room at Brackendale to accommodate the total number of students there?

ANSWER: In reply to the previous question, I stated that the Board had adopted a policy of limiting class size to 30 for primary and 35 for intermediate grades wherever practicable. The Department of Education building standard, however, is still based roughly on one classroom for each 36 students. In the case of the Brackendale School there are 211 Grade one to seven students. The Department of Education has not been permitting School Boards to build for any but "Critical Needs". According to the Department of Education standard, the "critical need" point will not arrive in the case of Brackendale School until there are 215 students in grades one to seven. With the present enrollment of 211, the Board will now be able to forecast that there will be more than 215 students in September, 1969 and no doubt will receive permission to build one additional classroom between now and September, 1969. The answer to the question is that the Board could not get the approval of the Department of Education to build another classroom but considered it would be in the interest of ALL of the Brackendale students to transfer Grade 5 to Squamish Elementary. If it is possible to build another classroom at Brackendale during the year, the Grade 5 class which is being kept as a group, will be transferred back to Brackendale as soon as the room is ready.

(3) Why was the teaching staff at Stawamus reduced after the start of the school year?

ANSWER: During the previous school year the number of students in Grades one to seven at Stawamus was 218. In June it was forecast that the September enrolment would be approximately 240. During the summer a large number of the children moved away leaving a September enrolment of only 191. The teaching staff, however, had been employed anticipating a higher enrolment and was, therefore, reduced by one. The teacher was transferred to Squamish Elementary School to enrol the Grade 5 class which was transferred in from Brackendale.

(4) There seems to have been an unusual number of timetable problems at the high school this year.

ANSWER: This year the Board decided to follow the example of the North and West Vancouver and numerous other School Boards in having the time tabling done by computer. A contact was made with the data processing centre and information as to the courses offered at the school, the course requirements of the students, and the facilities and teaching staff available was supplied.

For some reason, the school time table which was returned was entirely unsuitable. There was overcrowding in some classes, no students in other classes and much confusion in the school. As a result, the Principal and administration of the school were faced with the monumental task of working out a new timetable in the first week of school. This has been done and hopefully the problems associated with the data processing timetable have been worked out so that in future years no such problems will arise. With the increasingly complex course offerings and the continuous growth in student numbers, data processing will be used by virtually all larger secondary schools in the future.

Last rites for Clarence Lewis

Clarence "Curly" Lewis, who had lived in Squamish for fifty years, passed away in Burnaby General Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 22, in his 78th year.

Mr. Lewis, a native of Barbados, left the island when he was fourteen years of age and came to Canada.

He lived in North Vancouver before coming to Squamish where he drove a team of horses in a delivery service.

Logging brought him to Squamish in October in 1918 and he worked in the woods as a donkey engine operator, later leaving the woods to act as delivery man for Mackenzies Ltd.

For many years he worked at this and was a well known and well liked figure, immensely popular with the people in Squamish.

But he later went back to logging until his retirement some years ago. For many years he lived on a farm on the Diamond Head road near the present VLA development. Mr. and Mrs. Street pasture their horses on the old farm.

Mrs. Lewis said the younger children were all born at the ranch and grew up there. When the Lewises first came to Squamish, the only access was by boat and there was just a trail wide enough for a horse and buggy between the dock and the town.

Mr. Lewis is survived by his loving wife, Elveda; three sons George Parker of Vancouver and Roy and Ed of Squamish and three daughters; Mrs. Grace Pallos, Victoria, Mrs. Lillian Lackala, South Burnaby and Mrs. Delores Garrison, Vancouver; eighteen grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Squamish Funeral Chapel on Wednesday, Sept. 25 at 3:00 p.m. with Rev. H. M. Wingfield officiating. Interment in Mt. Garibaldi Cemetery.

Many attend judo classes

Dave Milligan who is instructing the judo classes at Howe Sound Secondary School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, says he is delighted with the response to the classes.

Thirty juniors, the maximum number for the course, are enrolled in the classes which start at 7:00 p.m. and sixteen seniors are attending the 8:15 to 10:15 classes.

Britannia PTA meets teachers

The first meeting of the Britannia Beach P.T.A. had a very fine turnout with 45 parents on hand to meet the teachers and the new executive. Mrs. Doris Hansen welcomed parents and guests and Mr. Cope introduced his teaching staff.

This year the P.T.A. is sponsoring the school patrol and will supply the raincoats for the youngsters.

A dance will be held on October 5th, as a money raising event for the year's commitments. A spaghetti supper will be served. Awards are to be dispensed with this year and the money will be used for additional books for the school library.

Walt Disney shows will be shown this year at the Saturday movies; children 25 cents, and adults 35 cents.

The beginner's mothers tea will be held on October 16th at 3:00 p.m. with the grade seven girls baking the goodies for the refreshments. Mrs. Dyck, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Begin and Mrs. Price will be helping the girls with their baking. Mr. and Mrs. Begin are working for the recreation of the young folks again this year and would be happy to have help from adults who would like to help in this work.

Only three year olds will be eligible for the dental clinic this year. After January 1st, a card will be sent out to the parents from the health clinic which they can take along to the dentist of their choice to have their child take advantage of the fluoride treatment and cleaning, free. If the dentist isn't aware of the plan he may contact the Squamish Health Clinic.

School savings will be continued again this year.

Mrs. Kay Pickard presented the P.T.A. award to Mr. Sid Smith who thanked the P.T.A. on behalf of his daughter Sharon who will use the $100.00 to further her chosen profession. Sharon is now in Ottawa where she hopes to take an air stewardess course.

Refreshments were served and members enjoyed a social hour.

The next meeting will be held in the school auditorium November 21. The program will be a Panel discussion on Delinquency.

Fires appear to have been set

Two fires, in two houses on Cleveland Avenue, owned by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and vacant for some time, appear to have been set according to firemen who were called to put them out.

The first fire, on Wednesday morning at about 8:00 a.m., was in the bathroom of one of the vacant houses and burned a hole in the centre of the floor. Only the fact that the door was closed as well as the entire building, prevented the fire from spreading. One wall in the bathroom was also damaged.

In the other fire, which occurred about 8:00 p.m. on Thursday evening, fire appeared to have been set inside one of the back rooms. The entire back of the house was burned and the roof was damaged. Children in the area told firemen they saw a figure running away from the scene.

Woman shot on Pemberton street

Mrs. Louise Halford was wounded in the upper part of the leg as the result of a shot on Sunday, Sept. 22. The incident occurred on the main street of Pemberton when Mrs. Halford, who is the sister of Arno Bouchard of Pemberton was walking down the street with her husband.

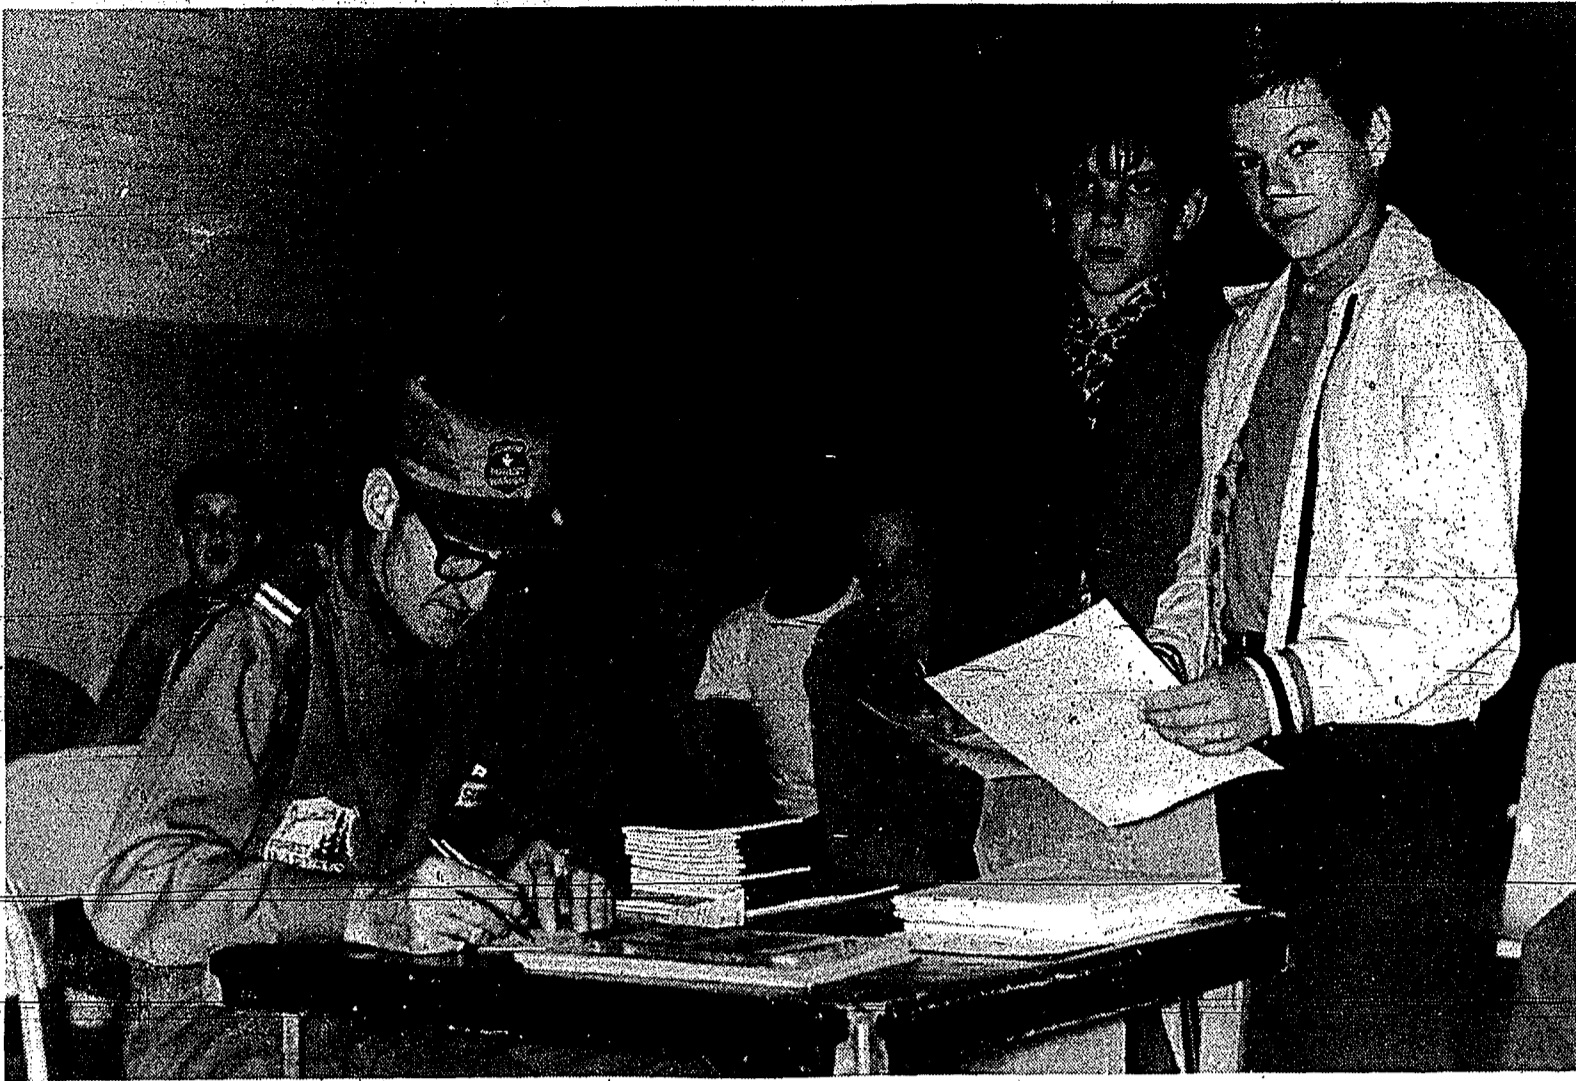

She had paused and was bending over, presumably to pick up something on the street when she was hit.

She was rushed to hospital and X-rays were taken. Doctors said the object, which is imbedded too deeply in her body for safe removal, was possibly a .22 shell. However Mr. Halford told the police that he heard a distinct "pop" at the time she was hit which would appear to indicate it was an air pellet.

If the shot had been fired at close range from a .22, the man apparently would have heard a much louder report and a "z-z-z-zing" sound. If it had been fired from a long distance away it is unlikely that the woman would have been hit.

The nature of the incident led police to suspect that this was the act of a juvenile. R.C.M.P. police say that, since the woman was bending over when she was hit, she would possibly have been killed if she was facing in the opposite direction.

The shot was supposed to have been fired from the direction of the railroad tracks where several boxcars were standing. The police have questioned a large number of people and the investigation is continuing.

Drama notes

Club welcomes new members here

By Doreen Ramus

The Howe Sound Drama Club welcomes several new members this year, adding quite an international flavor to this popular, hard working fun club.

Sue Penn joins us from London, England, having had several years of acting experience in that city — the home of the greatest live theatre.

Peggy Milligan is a very recent arrival from New Westminster, keen on acting. She might even add a touch of Judo to the stage so watch her!

Gwen Rimmer, who is almost an old time resident by now, has become very interested in the workshops which we hope to have more of in the new year. So keep on blowing that mist away!

Denise Redford, originally from Montreal, is a world wide traveller. She is already bringing a delightful French Canadian whimsical atmosphere to rehearsals even though she is apt to "disappear" sometimes.

Colin Howard is a newcomer to Squamish from Melbourne, Australia, and has had a wide experience in musical productions down under.

Sally Grimsdick hails from West Vancouver and has already "put on an act" by entering her jeep in the Loggers Sports Day parade. There's no need to introduce Sally to anyone who has anything to do with the hospital.

Add these new members to an already active and experienced crew and you are bound to enjoy a laugh at the live theatre they will bring to you this year.

Woodfibre Wanderings

Instead of the regular date for the baby clinics in October, there will be one on Tuesday, Oct. 1 and on Tuesday, Oct. 29.

The Ladies Guild will be canvassing for the Arthritis Fund on Sept. 26-27.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lloyd have gone on a two week holiday down the Oregon Coast and as far as Los Angeles. They will stop at various places; in Seattle to see his sister, and in inland cities. Mrs. Anna Duncan of Squamish is looking after the children and Sid Lloyd is going to Fort St. James for a month with his brother and a friend. They are going on a hunting trip and Sid expects to be chief cook and bottle washer.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Drygas and the boys moved into their new "home" in Garibaldi Highlands a few weeks ago. Their new home is just across from that of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Malm.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Acorn have also moved into their new home in Garibaldi Highlands, making the move on Sept. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Otterbine and an official from Rayonier's New York office were day visitors on Sept. 19. Mrs. Otterbine visited with her relatives of the Wickstrom clan while in Woodfibre.

Mrs. Jim Francis arrived home from hospital on Sept. 15. She is feeling much better.

Many people have been celebrating their wedding anniversaries. Three couples marked the occasion by dining out at the Chieftain Hotel in Squamish on Saturday, Sept. 14. These

Cardinals score decisive victory

The Squamish Cardinals won their first home game of the season last Sunday while the Chiefs and the Titans lost to their visiting opponents.

Football fever was evident as the teams congregated on the playing fields at the school for the first home games of the season, and a number of parents turned out to watch the boys play.

Merv Foote expressed his thanks for the effective refereeing done by Tom Shields, Bob Skerratt, Lauchie Brock, Danny and Gary Woods, Bill Gosling and one of the new teachers. He also complimented the coaches of the three teams: Len Marchant, head coach for the Cardinals, who is assisted by Tom Shields, Spence Hinde and Mike Buchanan; Bob Brock and Doug Harley of the Chiefs; and Gary and Danny Woods of the Titans. The Woods boys also assist in refereeing or in any spot where they are needed.

An added incentive to the boys who played on Sunday afternoon was the presence of Lefty Hendrickson of the Lions football team.

The Cardinals have won the second game of the season and are in second place. On Sunday afternoon they defeated the North Shore Argonauts 25-0. To show how strong the team is the Argos didn't get a first down until the fourth quarter. Scoring went as follows: Lyall Goodall took an end reverse for 45 yards for a first touchdown which ended the half with a score of 7-0.

Opening the second half Chris Baldry ran an off-tackle play for 35 yards for a touchdown. Pat Hurten scored from the two yard line on a quarterback keep. Lyall Goodall scored the last touchdown on a straight dive play from 70 yards out.

Though the offense was excellent the main emphasis was put on the defense with excellent playing by Mike Ross, Pete Derhousoff and Doug Carroll.

The Cards are the first team to beat the Argos and have already reserved a spot in the playoffs.

Randy Foote.

On Sunday the Squamish Chiefs, coached by Bob Brock and Doug Harley, played the Spartans. The score was 19-7 for the Spartans.

The Chiefs' lone touchdown was scored by Dave Simpson, who also intercepted a pass. Dougie Woods, Brian Ellingson and Mike Rattray also played a good game.

Doug Harley.

The Titans lost to the Leos by a score of 15-9.

Next Sunday's games will be played on the North Shore with the Titans meeting the Eagles at Norgate at 1:00 p.m. This will be followed by the Cardinals against the Bears at 2:30, also at Norgate while the Chiefs will meet the Vikings at Ambleside at 2:30.

DAVE REA WINS IN CLOSE COMPETITION

Dave Rea emerged as the club champion after a cliff-hanger on Friday, Sept. 20 when the 36 hole match between Rea and Ole Runzer went right down to the wire.

It was a see-saw match from the beginning with first one, then the other ahead and the final decision didn't come until the last hole.

Still scheduled to be played is the first flight championship duel between Bill Campbell and Charlie Bellis. Don Flamaud defeated Gerry Birss to take the second flight championship in another close fought match.

Soccer news

Kinsmen defeat Mount Seymour

The Squamish Kinsmen team defeated Mount Seymour 5-0 in last Saturday's soccer game with Gordon Eckersley earning three goals and Allan James two.

Special commendation for Ron Roberts who kept the other team scoreless in the game played at Deep Cove.

On the same day the Rotarians lost to the West Vancouver Spurways in a closely fought 2-1 game. Mike Rattray scored the lone Squamish goal.

Coach Hans Hickli said it was a very tight game with the other team having only four shots on goal but making two of them count.

In the second half the Spurways never came out of their 16 yard line.

In the Howe Sound Soccer League action in the PeeWees saw Brackendale defeat Squamish by a score of 8-0 while Mamquam Rangers and Britannia battled to a scoreless tie.

In the only other game in this division Woodfibre and Stawamus also tied with one goal apiece.

MANY NEW CURLERS TRY THE SPORT

New curlers took the spotlight at the Howe Sound Curling Club on the weekend with approximately 35 new players trying the sport on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Seasoned players were on hand to instruct those who had never played before and reports indicate the new members may add to the fun of this year's curling season.

Two films "There's Magic in Curling" and "Skip's Dilemma" were shown on Saturday and Sunday evening and these were instructive as well as entertaining.

Pemberton Choir a great delight

A good crowd turned out to the Squamish-United Church to hear the Pemberton Choir give a concert on Sunday evening, September 22.

The choir is under the leadership of David Walden, who hails from Australia and has been teaching in Pemberton for the past year. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walden of Bundaberg, Queensland, have been visiting in this country for the past five months and will be returning to their home shortly to put in their garden. Mrs. Walden was the guest soloist for the choir; her rendition of Malotte's setting for "The Lord's Prayer" was beautiful and definitely the highlight of the program. She also sang "Forward to Christ" and during the coffee hour, in response to requests she sang "How Great Thou Art".

Although all the numbers were of a religious theme many were light-hearted such as Mrs. Lexie Ross and Mrs. H. Pipe's singing of "Let the Saviour In" and "God Will Take Care of You". Perhaps the cheerful note was due to the guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Ross. And Mr. and Mrs. J. Guthrie and their daughters Donna and Barbara delighted those present with "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" and "Ezekiel Saw". Mrs. Guthrie also gave two thought-provoking recitations. Equally enjoyable was John Palmer's trumpet solo "A Medley of Hymns". David Walden forsook his choir long enough to sing the solo "I'll Walk with God".

All thirty-nine members of the choir contributed to the success of the evening; Pemberton may well be proud of them. Certainly Squamish residents went home asking themselves why there is no similar choir here when a much smaller community can do so well.

Driver tests at Pemberton

Two men from the Motor Vehicle Branch have tested about 85 people in Pemberton regarding their knowledge of road signs, vision, and general knowledge of the road. All were passed after some were given written examinations and others took oral ones.

Guide and Brownie news

Guide and Brownie leaders are urgently needed this year, especially in the Mamquam area. If anyone is interested, please call Mrs. Brander, 892-5896.

There will be a Local Association meeting on Thursday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m. in the United Church. Anyone who has not registered their daughter for Guides, Brownies or Rangers, please come out to this meeting, as you will be able to register then.

The registration fee is $1.00, plus $3.00 per family, which goes to the Local Association, and each mother is a member of this Association. Please come out to the meeting and give us your ideas and opinions.

The Brownies, Guides and Rangers will be collecting bleach bottles this year, so if anyone has any size plastic bottles would you please save them for the girls. The bottles must have a handle, and a cap on them.

The object of these tests is to enable the driver with a restricted licence to have the restriction removed without having to go out of town to take a road test from a qualified examiner.

On Tuesday one of the men came to the high school to show a film entitled "Mechanized Death" put out by the Ohio State Police, which was not intended to entertain the students, but rather to show them exactly what happens when speed, together with another factor such as drunkenness, fatigue or just plain carelessness, results in an automobile accident.

The film was followed by a short talk during which the "sobriety balloon test" was demonstrated.

Students were told that an average of $27,000,000 (27 million dollars) is spent in B.C. alone because of automobile accidents.

Police Court

The following cases appeared before Magistrate C. I. Walker in police court recently.

On Sept. 17 Pat Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of consuming liquor in a public place and was fined fifty dollars.

Francis Bullinger pleaded guilty to impaired driving and admitted to a previous conviction of a similar nature. He was fined four hundred dollars and prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for a year except for his employment.

On Sept. 24, Norman E. Nelson pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor, resulting from a check in a motor vehicle driven by the defendant. Nelson received a three months suspended sentence with the provision that he not drink and not drive a motor vehicle.

Donald J. Buckmaster pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor and received a twenty five dollar fine. Bernd Missler was convicted of crossing a solid double line and fined twenty dollars.

King Wong was convicted of impaired driving, the charge arising out of a three car collision on August 3 near the forestry station. Wong received a two hundred dollar fine and a one month driver's licence suspension.

Good turnout for new club

Bill McArthur said last week he was delighted with the numbers who had turned out to attend the second meeting of the Junior Forest Wardens group.

Over twenty boys registered at the meeting last Wednesday evening and McArthur said he hoped to be able to create two groups. This would permit them to compete against each other and create an even greater interest in the youth group.

He added that an assistant to help with the work would be very much appreciated and anyone interested is asked to contact him.

A thought is an idea in transit. You cannot put the same shoe on every foot.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Squamish Times,

In reference to the lack of reconstruction and maintenance on Alta Road, between Highway 99 and Rainbow Lodge:

I think the time has come to forget politeness and throw a few punches.

I for one am fed to the teeth with the completely negative attitude for the Highways Department. Letters have been tossed back and forth between your department, the Howe Sound School Board, The Alta Lake Ratepayers, Whistler Mountain District Chamber of Commerce, The P.G.E. Railway, local businesses and private citizens. So far we've had no satisfaction whatsoever.

Simply a lot of empty garbage from a bunch of incompetents. As Postmaster at Alta Lake I have a drive of sixteen miles every day over absolutely foul roads which you people in your abject ignorance deem unnecessary to keep in some semblance of repair. (It was graded once in June) Our motor vehicles are complete wrecks because of this negligence. In winter its next to impossible after a heavy snow to get to work. On the railroad its a two mile walk. As you are no doubt aware it is illegal to walk on the railroad at any time. In the winter it is doubly dangerous because of snow ploughs. Last winter the High School students who must walk on the railroad in order to catch their school bus were caught by a snow plough and were compelled to jump over a bank onto the lake which fortunately had frozen solidly enough to support them.

This sort of thing is just not good enough and I think its time you people woke up to the fact.

Funds seem to be available to support projects such as PROPOSED Winter Olympics and new highways to accommodate travellers for a three week splurge, but no funds are available to build one small piece of desperately needed road.

I would like to have you or any member of your department spend one winter on the west side of Alta Lake, or be compelled to drive the road from the highway to Rainbow Lodge twice a day ten months of the year. In two weeks you'd be howling for a road—or better still have your big or small children plough through snow up to their waists in order to catch a school bus.

We hear the snow plough on the highway and know full well that when the highway has been ploughed the plough carries on to plough roads WHERE NO ONE LIVES. To me this is utter stupidity.

We are tired of putting up with negligence and ignorance and being treated like second class citizens.

Mrs. Joyce R. Gow

ERNA TKACHUK WINS GOLF TOURNAMENT

Mrs. John Tkachuk was the winner of the wind up tournament sponsored by the Squamish Ladies Golf Club on Tuesday of last week.

In second place with a low net was Mrs. A. Sewell while Mrs. W. Galley was the low gross winner.

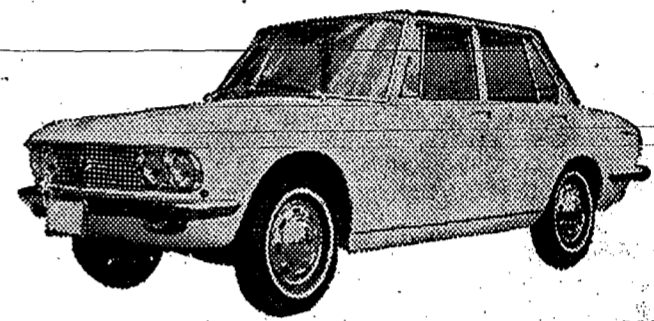

Mrs. E. Lamb had the longest drive and hidden scores went to Mrs. W. Francis, Mrs. R. Mader and Mrs. R. Greveling.

Seventeen women took part in the eighteen hole tournament and enjoyed the lovely autumn weather.

A ladies golf club meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 1, and all ladies are invited to attend.

NOTICE

Dear Customer:

As you may have heard, I have sold my interest in Yarwood Drugs Ltd., effective October 1st, 1968.

The new manager is Mr. Dave Lynes, a University of British Columbia graduate, who has moved here from Penticton, accompanied by his wife Carrie, and baby daughter. They are looking forward to taking part in this community's activities and I know you will be well and capably served by Mr. Lynes in his professional capacity.

I do not intend to be far from the Squamish scene. I will be relieving Mr. Lynes from time to time, and in the snow-free months will be pursuing other business interests in the Whistler Mountain area.

The firm will continue to carry the Yarwood name.

I have enjoyed and respected your business help and friendship, and would hope Dave Lynes receives the same encouragement I have encountered over the years.

Yours truly,

Bernie Brown
