SPONSORS NEEDED FOR TIMBER QUEEN

Mrs. S. Rizun, who is chairman of the Timber Queen competition, says sponsors are needed for the girls who will be competing for the coveted honor of representing Squamish at the 1970 Loggers' Sports Day and at the PNE as Miss Squamish.

A number of girls have indicated their willingness to take part in the competition and she would appreciate hearing from any sponsoring group.

The girls will receive a special short course in poise and charm prior to competing. Outside judges will be in Squamish to decide who is the winner and she will represent Squamish at the PNE competition.

Last year's winner was Dolores Laventure.

Ratepayers decry Post Office loss

Garibaldi Ratepayers Association vigorously protests the proposed discontinuation of the post office at Garibaldi, slated for June, 1970.

Support for their protest came from the Squamish - Lillooet Regional District at its last meeting.

The ratepayers protested the planned closure of the post office saying that it is more necessary than ever before as within the past year 20 new residents, five new businesses and at least four new subdivisions have come into the area.

They also point out that Garibaldi is part of the proposed Olympic site and this can only result in increased development.

They also feel that closing of the post office should not be regarded as a satisfactory solution to the mail mix-ups with Garibaldi Highlands. The ratepayers point out that their post office has been in existence since 1913, and is descriptive of the area, while the name of Garibaldi Highlands, which has nothing to do with Garibaldi at all, is located within the boundaries of the municipality of Squamish.

They also point out that local businesses rely on the post office for their mailing address, and have considerable money tied up in advertising the post office as their address.

The regional district, in supporting the request pointed out that the distances people would have to travel to pick up their mail in Squamish, if the post office closed, was prohibitive considering the narrow width of this road, the snow conditions and the mileage involved.

Squamish backs Olympic bid

Squamish responded to a request to back the bid for the 1976 Winter Olympics which will be decided at Amsterdam next week.

Council is backing the request by sending a telegram to Amsterdam stating it is in favor of having the games held at Whistler.

At the same time a petition is being circulated in the community and people are being asked to sign it, endorsing the request for the games.

Dave Hinds, president of the local Chamber of Commerce took a petition with him when he attended the recent Rotary convention at Prince Rupert and received a long list of signatories to the petition.

While in Prince Rupert he was interviewed over the local radio station and spoke on the tourist potential of this area, both in winter and summer, and of course stressed the desire for the 1976 Winter Olympics to come to this area.

Joe Seymour off to Ottawa

Joe Seymour, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Seymour of Squamish leaves for Ottawa on May 10, to take part in the Rotary Club's 1970 Adventure in Citizenship.

He was selected by his fellow students to make the trip.

He will arrive in Ottawa on Sunday and on the following day will be welcomed by the president of the Ottawa Rotary Club and the mayor of Ottawa. He will then go to the House of Commons and be received on the floor of the Senate and the House of Commons. This will be followed by luncheon at the Chateau Laurier and in the afternoon he will visit the National Gallery and the National Arts Centre.

In the evening he will be the guest of the Ottawa Board of Education at a dinner, concert and dance.

Tuesday's program includes group discussions at Carleton University, luncheon at the Chateau Laurier with the Opposition Leader the Hon. R. L. Stanfield as the guest speaker. In the afternoon he will visit Government House and the RCMP training division at Rockcliffe where he will see the famous Musical Ride and have dinner. A tour of the National Museum of Science and Technology will take place in the evening.

Discussions at Carleton University will take place on Wednesday followed by luncheon, a guided tour of the national capital and dinner at the Chateau Laurier as guests of the National Capital Commission.

On Thursday he will visit the Supreme Court and later the Secretary of State will present each of the Adventurers with a certificate of Canadian citizenship. The Adventure tour will end with luncheon and then the young people will return to their homes.

Mr. Seymour said he is looking forward to the trip and is grateful to the Rotary Club for making it possible.

JOE SEYMOUR
... off to Ottawa

STUDENTS from Howe Sound Secondary School were busy painting the walls at the tourist booth last week while Dave Hinds was busy preparing to add the exterior changes to the building. The youngsters enjoyed soft drinks donated by Overwaitea and hamburgers supplied by the Chieftain Hotel, during the breaks for lunch and coffee.

Regional district deals with many varied problems

The Squamish-Lillooet District dealt with many varied problems at the regular meeting in Squamish on Monday night, April 17.

Correspondence from the Lands Department said that the Pemberton area was unable to lease the land they desired south of Pemberton for a garbage dump as this falls within the Naim Park area.

The department was to be asked if it had any suggestions regarding land in that area which might be suitable for garbage disposal.

The requested reserve on the watershed at 21 Mile Creek is already partially covered by a recreational reserve and when the district's plans are more definite the lands department will reconsider the request.

A letter concerning Ambassador Developments, some of whose property falls within the proposed Olympic reserve, was read and the department of lands said they did not believe the Olympic reserve will seriously affect the status of these lands.

The board decided to send a copy of the subdivision bylaw to the department, pointing out that this land could not be utilized until a re-zoning had taken place.

The application to purchase property near Pemberton by the local Legion branch was refused by the department of lands, so the board decided to ask for a 21 year lease.

A provision requesting that the government reimburse the Legion full compensation under the terms of the Arbitration Act, for all improvements to the land if the lease is ever withdrawn, was added to the request.

Discussions regarding the advisability of asking Indian band representatives to board meetings followed and it was decided to invite Gordon James of the Lillooet band to attend.

The district's request to have the building inspector act as assistant fire marshal was refused, owing to the spread out area of the district which might make it impractical for him to perform his duties efficiently.

Crabs show high mercury content

Figures released on Monday by the Fisheries department show a high concentration of mercury in crabs and other ground fish in the Squamish area.

Fisheries minister Jack Davis released the figures which gave steelhead and salmon fry a clean bill of health with steelhead showing .08 p.p.m. and salmon fry .01 p.p.m. Accepted standards according to the Canadian Department of Health are .5 parts per million.

Tide tables

Tides for the coming week are as follows. All times standard.
Thursday, May 7. 0025-10.8;
1510-13.5; 1225-1.4; 210-15.0.
Friday, May 8. 0120-11.2;
0540-13.1; 1305-1.7; 2055-14.9.
Saturday, May 9. 0210-11.4;
0600-12.6; 1345-2.3; 2145-14.8.
Sunday, May 10. 0320-11.3;
0630-12.0; 1425-3.0; 2225-14.6.
Monday, May 11. 0440-11.0;
0720-11.3; 1505-3.9; 2320-14.4.
Tuesday, May 12. 0625-10.5;
0810-10.6; 1555-4.8.
Wednesday, May 13. 0010-14.3; 0720-9.6; 0955-9.9; 1650-5.7.

Crabs showed the highest concentration of mercury, 6p.p.m. at the loading dock at FMC. At the government wharf the tests showed 1.80 p.p.m. and at Shannon Falls 1.66 p.p.m.

Ground fish, while not as high as crab, are the kinds which are most likely to hang around the top of the Sound, and will show a high content. Flounder at the boat basin showed 2.4 p.p.m. and at the Squamish River 1.13 p.p.m. Rock fish showed .95 at the outer marker and bullheads 1.62 p.p.m. at the company outfall and 1.58 at the basin.

The ban will still be on but no salmon, flounder or rock fish reach the market from this area. Crab was the only commercial fishing in the area and this is still closed.

The department is still awaiting tests on spring salmon which were not available when other fish were caught.

Good forestry guarantees healthy forests for future generations as well as outdoor recreation, timber crops and wildlife now.

Council concerned over regional district costs

Costs of the regional district, whose finances come from the various areas in it with Squamish paying half of the costs, came up for discussion at last week's council meeting.

Mayor Brennan expressed his concern over the fact that while Squamish paid half the costs it had less than one third of the voting power of the district. This voting power is based on population figures, using 2,000 as the basic unit. This gives Squamish three votes while each of the other seven areas, many of which have a very small population, have one vote. One suggestion was that voting units be lowered to 500 people.

This would make a fairer representation.

However Mayor Brennan suggested a more sensible solution would be the severance of the regional district from the northern portion which contains Lillooet. This would leave a practical unit, from D'Arcy south which might be efficiently operated. The remaining portion could be placed in the Kamloops Regional District, an area with which it would have more practical associations.

Mayor Brennan also pointed out that Squamish pays 85 per cent of the Lillooet hospital costs because we have the largest assessment. This is most unfair and it also presents a problem as this area will not vote for development of the Lillooet hospital and that area cannot be expected to vote for improvements to the Squamish hospital.

Mayor Brennan was authorized to arrange a meeting with the Hon. Dan Campbell, Minister of Municipal Affairs, to discuss the voting units and the financing and reformation of the boundaries of the regional district to make it more efficient.

Another facet of the district, tourist development costs was discussed in view of the fact that the tourist booth in Squamish serves the entire regional district. The mayor wondered if the regional district should be asked for assistance in running the tourist booth as it serves the entire area and not just the District of Squamish.

New BC Tel rate structure forseen

Growth in the Squamish area has pushed the number of telephones in service in the Squamish exchange up beyond the limits of its present rate grouping and a higher grouping is expected to come into effect in about two months.

The B.C. Telephone Company said today application of the higher rate grouping would mean increases of up to 25 cents in monthly telephone rates for residential service and of up to 90 cents in monthly rates for business service.

Gordon Mitchell, B.C. Telephone's District Customer Service manager, said the company is required by law to file reports with the Canadian Transport Commission on exchanges which outgrow their existing rate groupings.

The commission regulates B.C. Telephone and authorizes its rate structure, which has remained unchanged since 1959. The rate structure sets out monthly rates on the basis of the number of telephones which can be called without toll charge and as this number grows, the rates increase in keeping with the higher value of service.

Mr. Mitchell said the Transport Commission requires that the company report on growth of any exchange when it exceeds by five percent the upper limit of its present grouping and, where it is shown the number of phones will remain above the upper limit of its present grouping, the rates must be adjusted to conform with the proper grouping.

The Squamish exchange has been in rate group three, covering 1,001 to 2,000 phones, since March, 1956 when it had 1,250 telephones. It now has nearly 2,200 telephones in service, which places it within the limits of rate group four covering covering 2,001 to 5,000 telephones.

Mr. Mitchell said forestry, transportation, shipping, tourist and other developments in the Squamish-Brackendale areas indicate continued growth and continued increase in the number of telephones in service.

Thus, the company expects the Transport Commission will approve of the application of rate group four for the Squamish exchange. Date the new rates would become effective, however, cannot be determined until the regulatory agency's decision is received.

In the new grouping, the monthly rates for residential service would be $4.35 for an individual line, $3.40 for two-party line and $2.90 for multi-party line. The business rate would become $8.50 for an individual line, compared with the present $7.60.

PLEASE HEED WARNING SIGNS

With the advent of the fire season Weldwood of Canada is manning the gates leading to the TFL in the Upper Squamish. Gates will be closed during the night and only open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The first closure took effect last week and the gateman will be in attendance throughout the fire season.

Motorists are also warned that the road is closed to traffic during the working day, not through any desire to prevent the public from entering the licence area but merely for their own protection.

It is pointed out that blasting often takes place along the roads and the warning to keep out is for the safety of those driving into the area.

DAVE HINDS holding the list of names he obtained at the Rotary convention in Prince Rupert which included supporters for the Canadian bid for the Olympic Winter Games in 1976. On Sunday Tex Rogers of Alta Lake passed through Squamish on horseback carrying a list of supporters from the Alta Lake area and picking up lists circulated in Squamish to add to those collected in Vancouver.

Beautify Britannia competition

The committee for the annual Beautify Britannia competition consists of chairman John Jette, Mrs. June Higham, Mrs. Enid O'Neill, Mrs. Fenny Blanes and Mrs. Norma Croteau. They toured the property during the week of April 20 and will make their second survey later in the summer.

The gardens are to be judged in seven categories; each receiving between zero and ten points. These are fences, lawns, flowers, vegetables, weeds, gardens and over-all appearance.

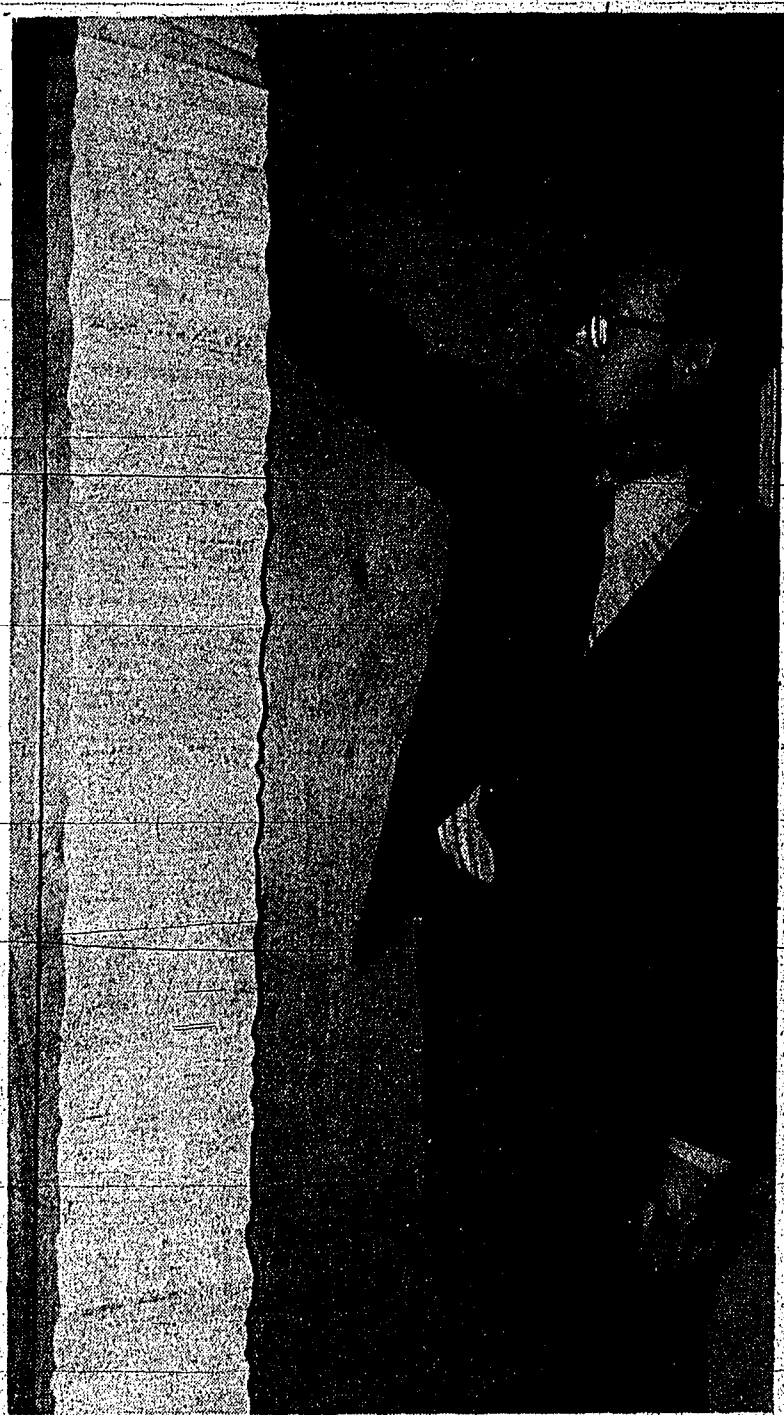

In previous years there has been much improvement at Britannia and by all the activity seen up to now, this year should far surpass the mail.

Airport sight sought

An airport site in the Pemberton area is being sought and the chairman of the Regional District, Don Gow, representing electoral area "E", Alta Lake-Green Lake, said the airport for that area should be in the vicinity of Pemberton.

The secretary - treasurer was asked to assemble information on airports in the Pemberton area for the board to study.

Director Cherry, mayor of Pemberton, said all information they had would be given to the district.

SQUAMISH B.C. — WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1970

We can all contribute

Many people are concerned about the wise use of renewable natural resources. They realize that all society has a concern in this, that it is not just the industry and the governments, both federal and provincial, but also the responsibility of every one of us.

Many people would like to personally contribute to a better environment, but don't know what they, as individuals, can do. The following guidelines for individual action are suggested (by the Forest Association).

Learn and observe the proper use of all smoking materials, campfires and any outdoor use of burning materials which could destroy your forests and cause needless waste and pollution.

When camping or picnicking, always leave your picnic site cleaner than when you entered it.

If you must use detergents, use those with a low phosphate content. Lists of these have been published in many papers.

Check household plumbing for leaks and don't waste water while cleaning cars or watering gardens. Unnecessary water can contribute to overloading sewage systems.

Check cottage septic tanks for proper construction and location.

Don't throw empty bottles in rivers, lakes or oceans. They may wash up in shallow water and break.

Purchase drinks in returnable bottles and return empties.

Paint and clean up things in your home and garden. Neatness is contagious. Don't litter, and teach your children by example, not to be litterbugs.

Use your municipal dump, not vacant fields, to dispose of unwanted articles or refuse.

Unnecessary use of your car and idling of engines contribute to air pollution and should be avoided.

Equip your car exhaust with an anti-pollution attachment.

Home heating systems should be checked to prevent needless air pollution.

Be sure that you get facts about industry or community pollution before officially complaining. Industry and communities are made up of individuals and there is more good will and intent in these institutions than usually credited publicly. Responsible statements from leaders in local industry or government must be sought in order to identify the real problems and balance many distorted statements made about resource use or misuse.

Seek the advice of professional resource managers about conservation issues; Foresters biologists, geographers and other resource experts have devoted their lives to our environment and can help in interpreting the complexities.

Join a conservation group to learn more about what is being done and what is being left undone. There are many such groups.

Take part in public debate and political action after you have studied and learned as much as possible about the environmental questions involved.

Noise is also pollution

Noise is another form of pollution of which many of us are not aware. Certainly those who attended Amateur Night were treated to a display of noise which must have reached the levels which would be considered dangerous in industry.

A recent issue of the Timber Journal said that men in the logging industry are urged to wear protective ear devices such as ear plugs or ear muffs to reduce the noise from machinery. However, the W.C.B.'s director of accident prevention says the best way to reduce noise is to do so at the source.

In the case of industry this would mean using engineering means to reduce the noise created by machinery and secondly to wear some form of protective device.

In the high school gymnasium the other evening noise was created by two factors. One was the amplified musical instruments and the other was the young people who applauded, banged, shrieked and whistled loudly in praise of the performers who played the guitars.

formers who played the guitars.

Certainly even those people who would have liked to try to hear the music and the singers found it impossible to do so, both because the music was amplified to the point where it was sheer noise and drowned out the singer and by the noisy reaction of the audience.

To paraphrase the W.C.B. officer's remarks we are sure this noise could have been reduced to a level where it would have been compatible to those who were listening. This could have been done by suggesting the amplifiers be turned down so one could hear the melody and the singer. And it could have been further reduced by making the young people who created the noise in the audience be quiet.

A few people strategically placed in the audience and the removal of a few of the more noisy offenders would have quickly reduced this problem.

Perhaps something can be done to see this does not occur again. Certainly it was the only sour note in an otherwise highly enjoyable evening.

An unlit fuse

This is National Forestry Week. We are all being urged to be very careful, both to preserve our forests and to protect them from fire. The national association, the Forest Service, and the industry is spending considerable money and effort to promote this message.

But there is one danger, noticeable both along the Sound and north towards Pemberton which nullifies much of the work done these organizations do. South of Britannia and adjacent to the highway the B.C. Hydro power lines present an unlit fuse aimed at the mining community.

We are talking about the power line, sprayed last year and now dead, with bare leafless limbs on the dead trees and dead leaves on the ground. When the weather is dry, a careless smoker with a cigarette could cause a holocaust which might easily burn the mining community. Fanned by the high winds usual in this area, a spark could cause a roaring blaze.

A similar situation exists north of Squamish where the same spraying occurred. We have noticed that, in the district, much of the power line has been cleared and the dead brush removed.

It seems odd that on one hand we have a government agency, the B.C. Forest Service, urging everyone to be careful and watch for fire dangers, and another government agency, or Crown corporation, is permitting a situation to exist which is a grave potential danger.

The dead and dying trees on the power line are an unlit fuse aimed at the heart of the community.

Worldly British Columbians

British Columbians often complain about the influence of outside capital — usually American — on their autonomy and economy.

But the Calgary Chamber of Commerce thinks that the average Canadian doesn't do much about seeing to it that home products are favored in the interest of some local production. The chamber defines a Canadian this way . . .

"One who drives home from a Swedish movie in a German automobile, slips out of his Hong Kong suit and Italian shoes, puts on his Japanese robe and Mexican slippers and sips Brazilian coffee from English china at his Danish desk while he takes his American pen to write his member of parliament to demand Ottawa do something about the imbalance of payments."

SQUARE DANCERS crowded the floor at the high school gymnasium at last week's Spring Roundup with many visitors present.

HOWE SOUNDINGS

Yes, Country Philosopher, if that was April 23rd you heard the pig squealing you weren't hearing things! It was a pig. There's quite a story behind it and you might enjoy it.

Seems these people were going to Pemberton and one of the local people asked them to stop at one of the Pemberton farmer's homes and bring home a young pig.

So they did. But the animal was handed to them in a sack, protesting loudly, and they were told to put it in the trunk. There were some fears that the animal might not get enough air but they were assured he would be all right.

So, off they started, the pig protesting loudly every time they hit a bump. Naturally this sounded funny and when the driver commented that he wondered what would happen if they had to go as far as Vancouver and were stopped at a light with the piggy noises emanating from the back seat, everyone dissolved in gales of laughter.

Could you imagine the consternation it would cause? There would be a tie-up that would put the Friday evening ones to shame.

But the poor animal arrived at its destination and was still vocal. It was pouring rain and the wind was blowing and the men carried the squealing, squirming animal through the storm to the pen at the rear of the property. Incidentally I wonder if the car owner had to wash out his trunk the next day!

Did you ever see a better behaved group of youngsters than those who attended the soccer banquet on April 26th. Some of them had hearty appetites and I think everyone got a laugh out of Rick Dawson who piled his plate so high, Bill Gosling offered him a quarter if he finished it.

Not only did he eat it all but he went back for seconds! Boys that age have insatiable appetites and you just can't feed them enough. But the pay off came when Mr. Gosling settled the debt, in pennies!

And I should comment on the conduct of the youngsters at the Amateur Hour. Obviously they liked the guitar selections but was it necessary to be so noisy that even if the squares like me had tried to get the message the young men were trying to put across, we couldn't hear it?

Maybe we would be more sympathetic if there was any attempt to let us hear but with the shouting, the banging and the whistling, you couldn't hear a word, but unfortunately you could hear the music.

Certainly those amplifiers could have been turned down for the benefit of the older people in the audience.

lets and they are beautiful this year. We found them in places we had never seen them before and I'm sure they were lovelier than ever. Must transplant a few of them into my garden if I ever get the time.

As it's forestry week I just can't resist this story about the poor little sapling who was most unhappy cause he couldn't find out who is family or his parents were. He kept asking all the other trees and all he could learn was that maybe he was a son of a birch, or he could have been a son of a beech, or even a little basswood.

But this didn't satisfy him. He still moped around and kept asking every tree he met if they knew who his parents were.

Finally a tall pine leaned over him, and said softly, "Sonny, I don't know who your father is, but your mother was the finest little ash I ever saw!"

Did you hear the report, just after the Easter weekend, about the way the British police handled an expected riotous occasion at a seaside resort?

Apparently the Easter weekend is the time when groups converge on some of Britain's seaside resorts and generally create quite a disturbance.

One bright policeman came up with an idea which solved the problem this year. He simply had all their belts and braces removed and it's pretty hard to riot when your trousers are slipping around your ankles. I'd say it would stop them in their tracks.

And it's hard to throw bottles or stones when you're using your hands to hold up your trousers. Wonder if the policeman got a special citation for his idea?

Do you know?

Do you know the answers to the following questions?

Where is the Skwaka River? When did Mount Fuji last erupt?

Who was the Vicar of Wakefield?

Where did Hemingway get the title for "For Whom the Bell Tolls"?

What was the infant mortality rate for the province of Manitoba from 1956 to 1961?

What is the correct definition of "zombie"?

How many pounds of wool per fleece were reproduced in Canada in 1967?

Where did the phrase "a labour of love" originate?

How many juveniles came before the courts of Canada in 1961?

When was Sir John A. MacDonald prime minister?

These are the types of questions which can be answered by consulting the reference shelves of the Squamish Public Library. You won't find the answer to every question but it is amazing how many answers can be found in a number of carefully arranged books designed to fill the need for such isolated, factual answers.

Alderman Makowichuk reports

(Any views which may be expressed in this column are mine and are not necessarily the views of the Squamish Municipal Council as a whole or any individual alderman.)

The "waterline" project is on schedule and a total of 14,054 feet of pipe had been laid as of Friday, April 24. The waterworks committee make regular inspections and with the good weather in our favour, the projects should be completed in time for sprinkling the gardens.

Council discussed the report presented by the Fire Committee on various pieces of equipment required by the firemen for this year. Two smoke ejectors and the foam mentioned in the report were approved to be purchased. The radio paging system is still under study and recommendations will be submitted after more data has been received for consideration.

The fire chief and two deputy fire chiefs had a discussion about the Squamish Fire Department. The fire marshal's position was under consideration and Mr. Knox, the present was in favor of the building inspector assuming the role of fire marshal as well as he was in a better position to perform all the inspections along with his own inspections.

The works superintendent advised that he had discussed the drainage problem which exists in the Brackendale area on Highway 99, with the Highways Dept. and as yet had received no results. A letter is to be sent to the Dept. of Highways for immediate action.

A centennial committee delegation appeared before council and discussed the proposal of establishing a playground in the new recreational area in the park plan. After careful consideration, a suggestion was made to put the playground in the upper part of the proposed park area as the cost of fill would be less and parking could be utilized by more various functions which will be going into that part of the park.

The date for the Mamquam sewer frontage Court of Revision was set for May 26, in the municipal hall. Approval was given for a sign for the Little Chief Drive-In. Pioneer & Elderly Citizens Week is from June 1-7. Service clubs with the cooperation of council will plan to honor the elder citizens in the area. The proposed rezoning of the area, the former Mamquam grocery store, and Mr. Dent's property north of the Loggers Road near the Rod & Gun Club area was passed. The trailer committee report was discussed thoroughly and was referred for more study and consideration.

Next council meeting is on May 12 at 8 p.m. in the municipal hall.

Letters to the editor

Editor, Squamish Times:

Today we received the Monthly News Letter from the Society for the Hard of Hearing and were very pleased and grateful to see that the Squamish Fire Department had sent a donation to the Society.

Both Kolly and Paul are still very grateful to the Squamish Elks Lodge for the Audiogram that was given to Erina, three years ago and which she is still using every day.

Thank you.

Forest fires pollute

"Environmental concern certainly includes prevention of forest wild fires," president E. G. Shorter of the Canadian Forestry Association told a recent meeting.

"Forest fires blacken our landscape, cloud our waterways and darken our atmosphere while stealing its oxygen."

He went on to say that our forests are needed for industry, for forest playgrounds, for regulating water supplies and for helping to renew atmospheric oxygen. Wild fires which were so common during the early development of Canada and which still devastate large portions of the country each year, should not be tolerated and should form part of the concern for environmental protection which is developing so quickly in this country.

A Trustee Answers

BY MARGARET MARCHANT

A SCHOOL TRUSTEE

This week's column is by Mr. Don Ross, School District No. 48's Secretary, Treasurer and Business Manager.

Mr. Ross was born in Saskatchewan, came to Langley, British Columbia in 1942. After graduating from Langley Secondary School, he worked on tow boats up and down the Coast for two years. Mr. Ross returned to Langley School and took his senior matriculation. He worked in the construction industry for awhile, then became Assistant Secretary Treasurer of the Langley School District in 1950 for three and one-half years. Mr. Ross came to the Howe Sound School District in November, 1953, as Secretary - Treasurer. He received his Certified General Accountant's degree in 1957.

He has worked with six superintendents and many board members and all agree that Don is a master diplomat and a great asset to our district and community.

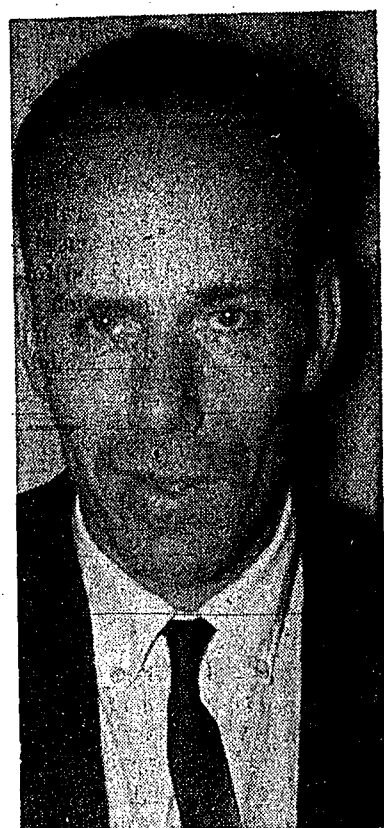

He is married to an attractive pixie, Dorothy. They have three sons, Norman, Douglas and Alex and one daughter, Sharon. They are also guardians of two nieces, Joyce and Margaret. There are usually one or more people also calling the Ross household home.

Don received the Good Citizen award in 1967. He has been and still is actively involved in making this community a better place for all and especially for the young people.

Among his other attributes, we rely on Don for arranging school buildings and grounds being available for community functions.

The B.C. School Trustees Association has often stated that school districts rise or fall on the competency of the District Superintendent and the District Secretary - Treasurer. We are indeed fortunate to have both offices so competently filled.

Meet Mr. Ross:

DON ROSS

The Need For Confidence

The idea has occurred to me that one of the most important needs of an effective School Board is for the confidence of the people of the School District. By this I mean the confidence of the people that the Trustees will do their best to provide good schools and teachers, take a real interest in education, and live up to the declaration they must make prior to taking office.

Among other things, a newly elected Trustee declares that "I will abide by the provisions of the Public Schools Act and will not allow any private interest to influence my conduct in School matters".

This part of the declaration is important as the Trustee is entrusted with funds raised through taxes in the province as a whole as well as those raised in the School District. By making this declaration the Trustee binds himself to serve the needs of education as a whole to the best of his ability.

In this district we have been very fortunate in the persons who have offered their services as School Trustees over the years. People of many different occupations, professions and interests have served. In addition, the geographical representation on the Board has been important.

The seven Trustees come from various parts of the District so that the views of residents from all areas are reflected in the Board's decisions. These factors and many others have resulted in the people of all parts of the district showing their confidence by voting in favour of seven of the eight school building referenda and both of the plebiscites held in the last few years.

The Municipal Councils and the Rural Area Representatives too have shown confidence in the Trustees by approving operating expenditures for education in excess of the basic provincial program. Without this approval the Trustees would find it impossible to offer the children of the district the opportunities that they have today.

There are 2,500 children in this rural school district spread out over an area roughly equivalent to all of the school districts between Vancouver and Hope. The fifteen school districts there enrol approximately 250,000 students. It is inconceivable that the Trustees here could offer a comparable educational program to the 2,500 students here at the same cost per student, the support of the community is essential.

I feel that the Trustees of this district have the confidence of the people and so are able to try new ideas, make changes and to provide an educational system superior to that of many B.C. school districts.

Over 95 per cent of fire damage is caused by the 5 per cent of forest fires which exceed 500 acres in size.

Bon voyage, Mrs. Thom!

Mrs. Danny Thom was the guest of honour at a Bon Voyage Coffee Party held at the home of Mrs. Stan Goad on the morning of Tuesday, April 6th.

Mrs. Thom, who is leaving for a three-week holiday in Japan, was presented with an attractive tote bag containing a handy emergency sewing kit and a box of scented soap.

Invited to enjoy the pleasant occasion, in addition to the guest of honour, were Mrs. Owen Reeve, Mrs. John Drenka, Mrs. Harvey Hurren, Ms. George Forsythe, Mrs. Gene Klymchuk, Mrs. John Rudan and Mrs. Jim Hurren.

Mayor interviewed on television

Mayor P. J. Brennan was interviewed on television last week and stated that he felt the pollution from the Rayonier mill at Woodfibre and possible pollution, at Alta Lake were some of the more serious problems in this area. However, he pointed out that Alta Lake does not lie within our jurisdiction.

The mayor, who was photographed in his home in Brackendale, appeared on the six p.m. program on Monday, April 27. The program also featured some scenes of the area, of Howe Sound, of the town of Squamish and the surrounding country.

Mayor Brennan, who was outspoken on the subject of the control of pollution, cited the spending of large sums of money to advertise the Whistler area and at the same time neglecting to come to terms with what he believed would be the key problem, the possibility of pollution in that locality.

Earlier the mayor had been an interested participant in the discussions held the preceding Saturday concerning the threat of mercury pollution from the FMC chemical plant.

Garibaldi Ratepayers fear logging trucks

Garibaldi Ratepayers have protested against the menace of logging trucks operating on the narrow highway north of Squamish.

They expressed concern over the speed, overweight and over-height loads carried by these vehicles which often operate at night as well as during the day.

They feel the long and wide load trailers and flat decks, also operating on the highway have become an additional problem. In many cases they claim there are no safety precautions or pilot cars.

As the highway is, in some sections, only 18 feet wide, they point out that it is impossible for wide or long vehicles to negotiate turns. They feel it is very hazardous with hills, sharp curves, narrow soft shoulders and narrow pavement and could only be regarded as a light traffic road.

Recreational travel has almost doubled in the past year and this can only be expected to increase as the interest in the area grows. They are also concerned about the possible danger to school children who daily travel the road in school busses.

The group is also concerned about removal of the sign "Garibaldi" at the railway station and request its immediate return. They are also concerned about the burning down of the station at McGuire, stating that they felt property owners in the area should have been notified prior to this action being taken.

Removal of the highway signs designating "Garibaldi" was also protested. The ratepayers claim this area has been a registered townsite since the early 1940's when it was subdivided and so registered.

They feel that it was a recreational area long before the Whistler Mountain development occurred and ask that the highway sign be reinstated.

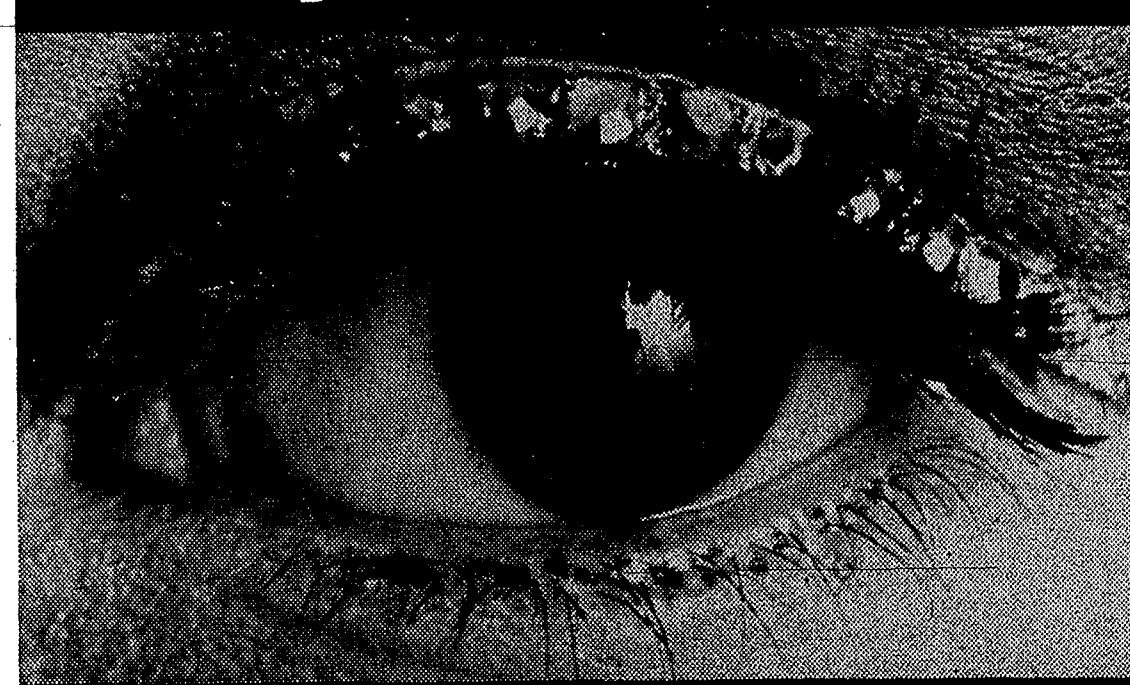

WATER MAIN TWO THIRDS COMPLETED

Almost two thirds of the water main between the Stawamus River and the Highlands was completed last week when over 14,000 feet of the 22,000 to be laid had been installed.

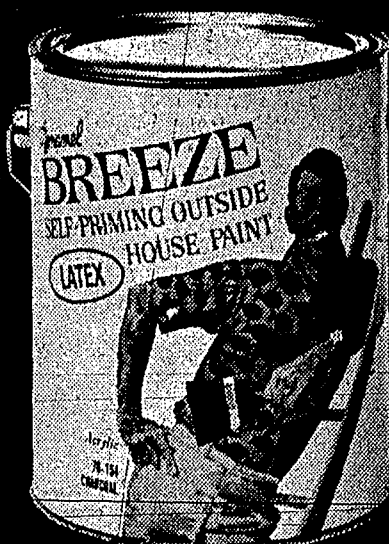

Work had progressed more favorably than anticipated due to the weather and the early spring which had permitted an earlier start than anticipated.

Mayor Brennan said he was hopeful that all the main would be in and working before summer.

District protests planned subdivision

Mayor P. J. Brennan and members of the municipal council expressed grave concern at government plans to subdivide an area on the road leading to Diamond Head at approximately the 2,000 foot level.

The proposed subdivision, planned by the lands department, would apparently be similar to the one opened in the Cheakamus area several years ago with minimal roads and no water or other services.

The mayor feared that demands might be made on the district for services and this could create a serious problem for Squamish.

He foresaw demands for road maintenance and snow removal, fearing that people might settle there and then ask to have snow removed so their children could go to school, etc. The present plans say snow removal in the area would be on the lowest priority basis; when all other roads in the area are cleared. Although the area is well outside the boundaries of the municipality, it is quite conceivable that demands could be made for services and other amenities.

The government standards for subdivisions are well below those demanded by the municipality and the district has no desire to see a sub-standard subdivision on its borders.

Mayor Brennan urged council to protest this action and an immediate request that the subdivision, if formed, be made to adhere to municipal standards will be made.

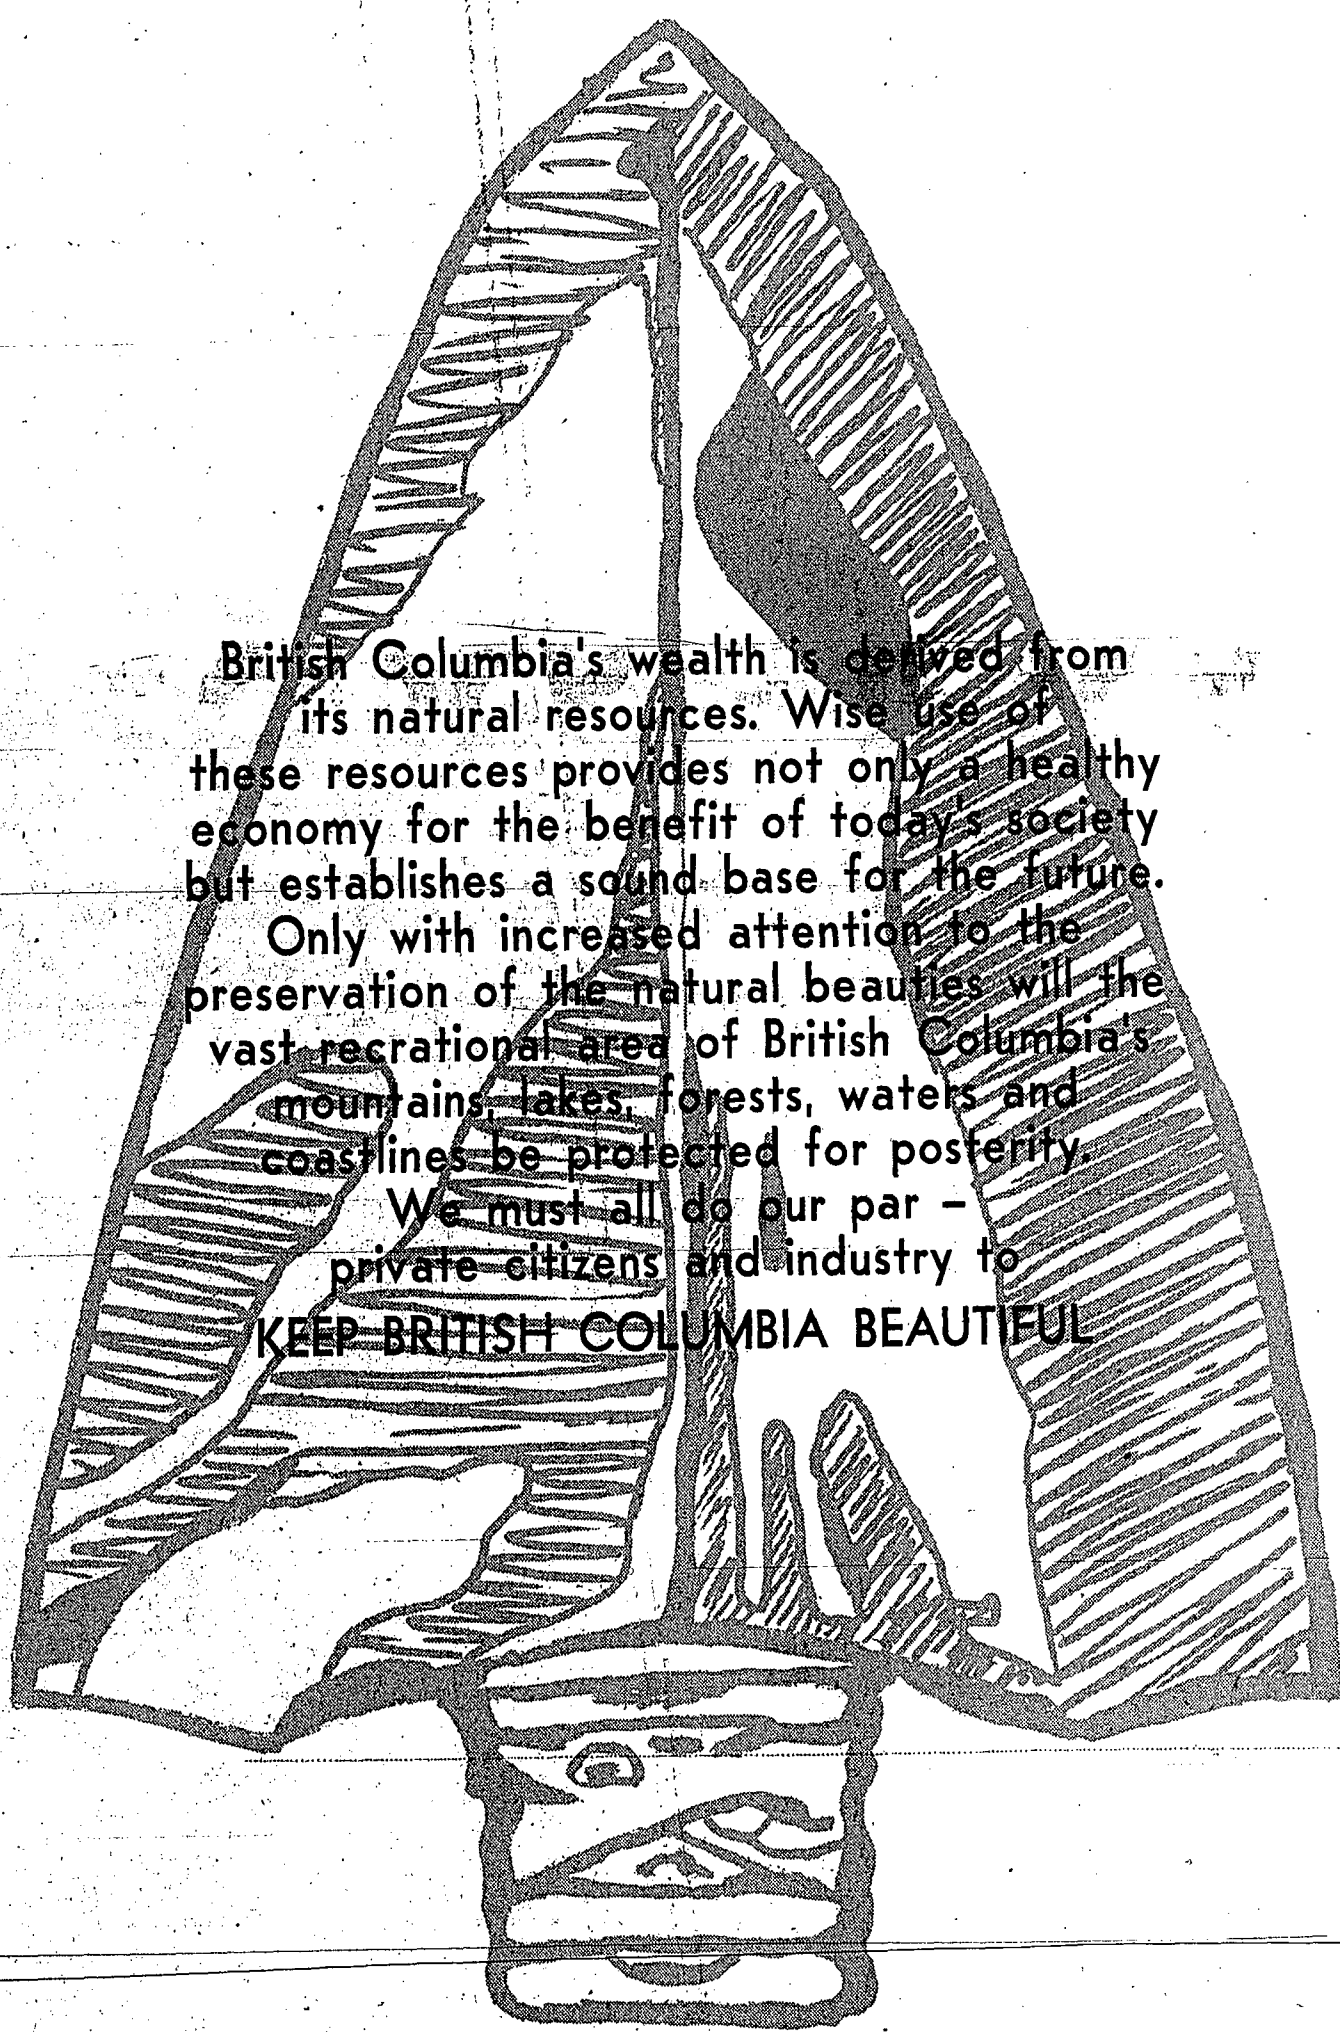

The area is within the regional district and at the regional district meeting the preceding evening this question was also discussed. The board of the regional district decided to write to the lands department asking them to subdivide the land in accordance with the municipality's subdivision bylaw.

The clerk also was asked to obtain copies of the highways department subdivision bylaw for discussion at the next regional district meeting with the suggested result that a subdivision bylaw could be adopted for the entire region.

Three good samaritans

The Thomas brothers of Wood fibre won a $3 prize for entertainment at the Amateur Hour and last Monday donated it to the Squamish Junior Pipe Band.

Brian Thomas is in the band and Dave Watt, one of those keenly interested in their activities, said last week he felt this was a very nice gesture on the boy's part and gives everyone who is working for the band some encouragement to get on and help this worthy cause to the Squamish community.

SQUAMISH VALLEY HOMES PROJECT

HOUSING NOTICE

RESIDENTS OF DISTRICT OF SQUAMISH

A proposal for the construction of Homes for those wishing an initial home, where they have not been able to qualify for existing N.H.A. loans is under consideration in the District of Squamish, under the joint sponsorship of the whole area.

The Contractors have agreed to make a joint project to show that the District can prove to the rest of Canada that we in the District can start and finish a HOUSING PROJECT for those in the $5000 to $8000 income level.

The Homes will be available to anyone in the wage level $5000 to $8000, who qualify for NHA or VLA first mortgage (or can get a bank or credit union first mortgage) of $12,500 and who qualify for the $5,000 Province of British Columbia second mortgage (or who can get for themselves the same second mortgage with approximately $1,000 down). These homes will be constructed anywhere in the District of Squamish, where the lot qualifies for the first mortgage. The home will be two bedroom, NHA house with kitchen, dining area, large living room and utility room — built on a crawl space with a floor area of 960 sq. ft.

Costs are being finalized and it is estimated that the home will be in the $13,000 to $14,000 range, plus the cost of the lot. The home is designed so that a third bedroom and carport can be added later by the owner.

The reason for this project is that in the above income level it is getting very difficult to qualify for a housing loan. Costs are rising rapidly, so this project has been started to give everyone a last chance to get a Home Now!

Construction time is estimated at 45 days from approval of the lot. This housing project is hoped will be sponsored by the District of Squamish, the Squamish Valley Contractors Industry and the interested industrial trade unions.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gladman have been spending a week with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Crane, climbing a nine month vacation in Gambia, Rhodesia, South Africa and Spain.

Sincerest sympathy to Mrs. J. Evans on the sudden passing of her husband, Jack, during the course of his work.

Among the out of town guests at the Eljassen-Harvey wedding were Art Fors, Mr. and Mrs. Art Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. L. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Levesque, Mr. and Mrs. D. Cripps and daughter Norma. The Jorgensen family from Port Coquitlam and Miss Jana Jorgenson, "Miss Canada Teen-ager" and Mr. Conrad Jorgenson from Thunder Bay, Ontario, also attended.

Constable R. Guy MacDonald of North Battleford, Sask., has been enjoying a week's visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. MacDonald.

Mrs. Burnley has returned to her home in Vancouver after spending an enjoyable two weeks holiday with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baxter at Minaty Bay.

God long ago has counted out The years each of us live.

And yet, one day at a time Is all He ever gives. It's all that anyone may have The humble and sublime. The rich, the poor, the old, the young, the sick, Lives one day at a time.

DISTRICT OF SQUAMISH 1970 COURT OF REVISION MAMQUAM SEWER FRONTAGE ASSESSMENT ROLL

TAKE NOTICE that the Court of Revision for the District of Squamish under authority of Section 353 (2) of the Municipal Act will hold its first sitting at the Municipal Hall, Squamish, B.C., on Tuesday, May 26, 1970, commencing at 8:00 p.m.

Pursuant to Section 419 (5) of the Municipal Act, the Court of Revision shall hear complaints and may review and correct the frontage tax assessment roll as to:

(a) The names of the owners of parcels of land;
(b) The actual foot-frontage of the parcels;
(c) The taxable foot-frontage of the parcels;

A complaint shall not be heard by the Court of Revision unless notice of the complaint has been made to the office of the Assessor at least forty-eight hours prior to the time appointed for the first sitting of the Court of Revision.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS, FORESTS, AND WATER RESOURCES

TIMBER SALE HARVESTING LICENCE A01345

Sealed tenders will be received by the District Forester at Vancouver, British Columbia, not later than 11:00 a.m., May 25, 1970, for the purchase of Timber Sale Harvesting Licence A01345, to authorize the harvesting of 1,456,000 cubic feet of timber each year for a ten year period.

Cutting Permits to be issued under authority of this licence will authorize cutting on areas within the Soo Public Sustained Yield Unit in accordance with a Development plan to be submitted by the successful tenderer and approved by the District Forester. (It will be a condition of the licence that the District Forester shall send notice thereof to the other Licensees established in the said unit before the development plan can be approved.)

This sale will be awarded under the provisions of Section 17(1a) of the "Forests Act", which gives the timber sale applicant certain privileges.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Forest Rangers, Port Moody, Squamish and Pemberton, British Columbia, from the District Forester, Vancouver, British Columbia, or from the Deputy Minister of Forests, Victoria, British Columbia.

Thank you for being careful with fire.

Each year, thousands of forest fires consume millions of feet of valuable timber.

Some are started by lightning and other natural causes.

Some are started by man's carelessness.

But considering the fact that countless Canadians use and enjoy our National forests, the incidence of forest fire is relatively good.

Smokey says "thank you" — and continue to be be — careful with fire!

Rod and Gun News

Everyone invited to club's sport events

By NELSON WINTERBURN

The Squamish Valley Rod and Gun Club extends an open invitation to the general public to participate in the activities planned this year. Currently, the annual Steelhead Derby is underway. The Derby date has been extended to May 24 due to poor water conditions.

The club offers good prizes for the heaviest fish and for the hidden weight, in addition to two consolation prizes. The weigh-in station is at Fergie's. Entry tickets are available from all club members, both hardware stores and from Fergie's priced at $1.

The trap shoot, held at the club's range on Sunday, April 12, was very challenging. The next shoot will be held at the range on May 10, starting at 1 p.m. This will be a Sunday family day so both mothers and novices will be welcome. As trap shooting becomes more popular every year a good turnout is expected. Plan to attend early so you can enter all events.

Memberships are still available for people wishing to join the club.

If you have a particular gripe about pollution, conservation or any other aspect of the outdoors, the club has a place for you on their platform.

In view of the closure to anglers of the Stawamus and Mamquam rivers and the Squamish river from its estuary to the confluence with the Mamquam, the Rod and Gun Club is concerned about mercury pollution.

The apparent reason for this closure is due to a high content of mercury in the water, reportedly caused by a chemical plant near Squamish.

The Great Lakes system, specifically Lake Erie, has been ruined as a result of water pollution. The Squamish Valley Rod and Gun Club is one organization which does not wish to see pollution of our waters go unchecked to the point where our marine resources are seriously endangered.

The club's concern goes beyond the possibility of depleted fish stocks. We must be mindful that in Squamish and the surrounding area we are sitting on a virtual gold mine of a barely tapped resource — tourism. The prime economic base of this area could well switch to tourism providing the resources are not destroyed and facilities were developed.

The only question the Squamish Valley Rod and Gun Club has regarding the mercury pollution is why the amount of effluent was not reduced sooner at the company's initiative, considering the reduction was completed so quickly.

Your local Rod and Gun Club is providing a watchdog service for your interests. Don't dog the watch... get out and howl with the club.

The next executive meeting will be held on May 11 at 7:0 p.m. Watch this paper for the location.

Pemberton Guide news

Sixteen Girl Guides of the 1st Pemberton Company and their captain, Mrs. Dawn Ross, with her daughter Maris, held a running supper instead of their regular meeting recently.

They first visited Mrs. P. Shore for crackers and juice, then to Mrs. R. Sankey for hot soup in a mug, on up the valley to the home of Mrs. J. Guthrie for a treasure hunt. They had to write poems to receive their Weiner buns.

At the Obersons a big bonfire was built and here the girls roasted their weiners and marshmallows and drank hot cocoa and sang songs. They all ran to the C. LeBlanc home for the final portion of the menu, jelly, ice cream and cake. The evening ended with Taps.

Captain Dawn Ross and her Guides thanked all the mothers for an enjoyable evening.

BILL ST. LAURENT presents a special award to Elva Wulff of the Senior Citizens Bowling League while Tom Collins looks on.

TOM COLLINS and Freda Clarke with the trophies they won for the high three scores in the Senior Citizens League.

Royal Purple bowling banquet

Trophies were presented to the winners at the Royal Purple bowling banquet in the Longbranch Cafe on Tuesday evening, April 28.

The top team for the season were the Slickers and members Marguerite Hendrickson, Dorothy Debeck, Dorothy Chapman, Alice Bonde, Vi Antosh and Fran Hurren received trophies. Runners-up were the Jets with Eileen Johnson, Lynne Morla, Florence Stevens, Clarice Burt and Annette Fulton.

Linda Burt with 175 received the trophy for the high average while Eve Worthington with 743 was the high three winner and Joyce Flury with 301, winner of the trophy for the high single.

Winners of the losers were the Alley Cats with Sharon DeCook, Doreen Quinn, Marg Applin, Flouch, Joanne Dhelly, and Sharon Hollinshead. Cathy Ciechanowski was the most improved bowler while perfect attendance pins went to Rosemary Enefer, Ethel Robson, Eileen Johnson, Rose Watson, Joyce Flury and Marlene Odenbach.

A seven hundred pin was presented to Eve Worthington and a three hundred pin to Joyce Flury.

Woodfibre Wanderings

Congratulations to these proud parents. Mr. and Mrs. Win Whitfield were happy to have a son, born April 27 in the Squamish Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz. and will be called Peter George Bruce. The Whitfields also have a small daughter Tana Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sepulveda, formerly from Chili have become the proud parents of a daughter born in North Vancouver Lions Gate Hospital, on April 21. She will be named Katherine Nicole Tamara and weighed 7 lbs. 14 1/2 oz. At home besides the parents there are two brothers and an older sister.

Several people are in the hospital or have just come home from a stay there for various ailments. Mr. Dave Anderson is in White Rock General and is feeling much better; Mr. John Bewley was finally back at work last Wednesday, April 29, after a series of operations on his back; Mrs. G. Henderson is doing fine at Lion's Gate; Mr. Jack Henderson is making a remarkable recovery in Vancouver General after a stroke suffered about three months ago; Ernie Johansen is unable to work because of a broken hand; Mrs. T. Johnstone is home from Lions Gate Hospital on April 30; Master Gelf Lloyd is home from Squamish after a tonsil infection; Mrs. T. Stone will soon be home from Squamish; and Mr. C. Teichman is home after a stay in Vancouver Hospital.

Mr. H. Waldron Jr. is taking up a new position of Assistant Personnel in Port Alice, leaving on May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron were feted at a office staff party at the dormitory April 24. A stag party honored both Harry Waldron and Jerry Bell on May 1. Mrs. H. Waldron will be joining Harry in Port Alice when the school term is over. Mr. and Mrs. Bell are going to Prince Rupert for a new position.

Congratulations to the three older Thomas boys, Barry, David and Brian for placing 3rd in the junior group on amateur night April 24 at Squamish. They played the drums and accordions in these selections — "Detroit City" and "I Walk the Line".

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Smith and family are spending the weekend at Harrison Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Rudkin are off to Expo on May 5. More details about the trip on their return.

AROUND PEMBERTON

The Chamber of Commerce annual banquet with guest speakers the Hon. Cyril Sheldford, Minister of Agriculture, and the Hon. W. K. Kiernan, Minister of Recreation and Conservation, as guest speakers, was a great success. The dinner was held on Friday, April 24 with the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion catering.

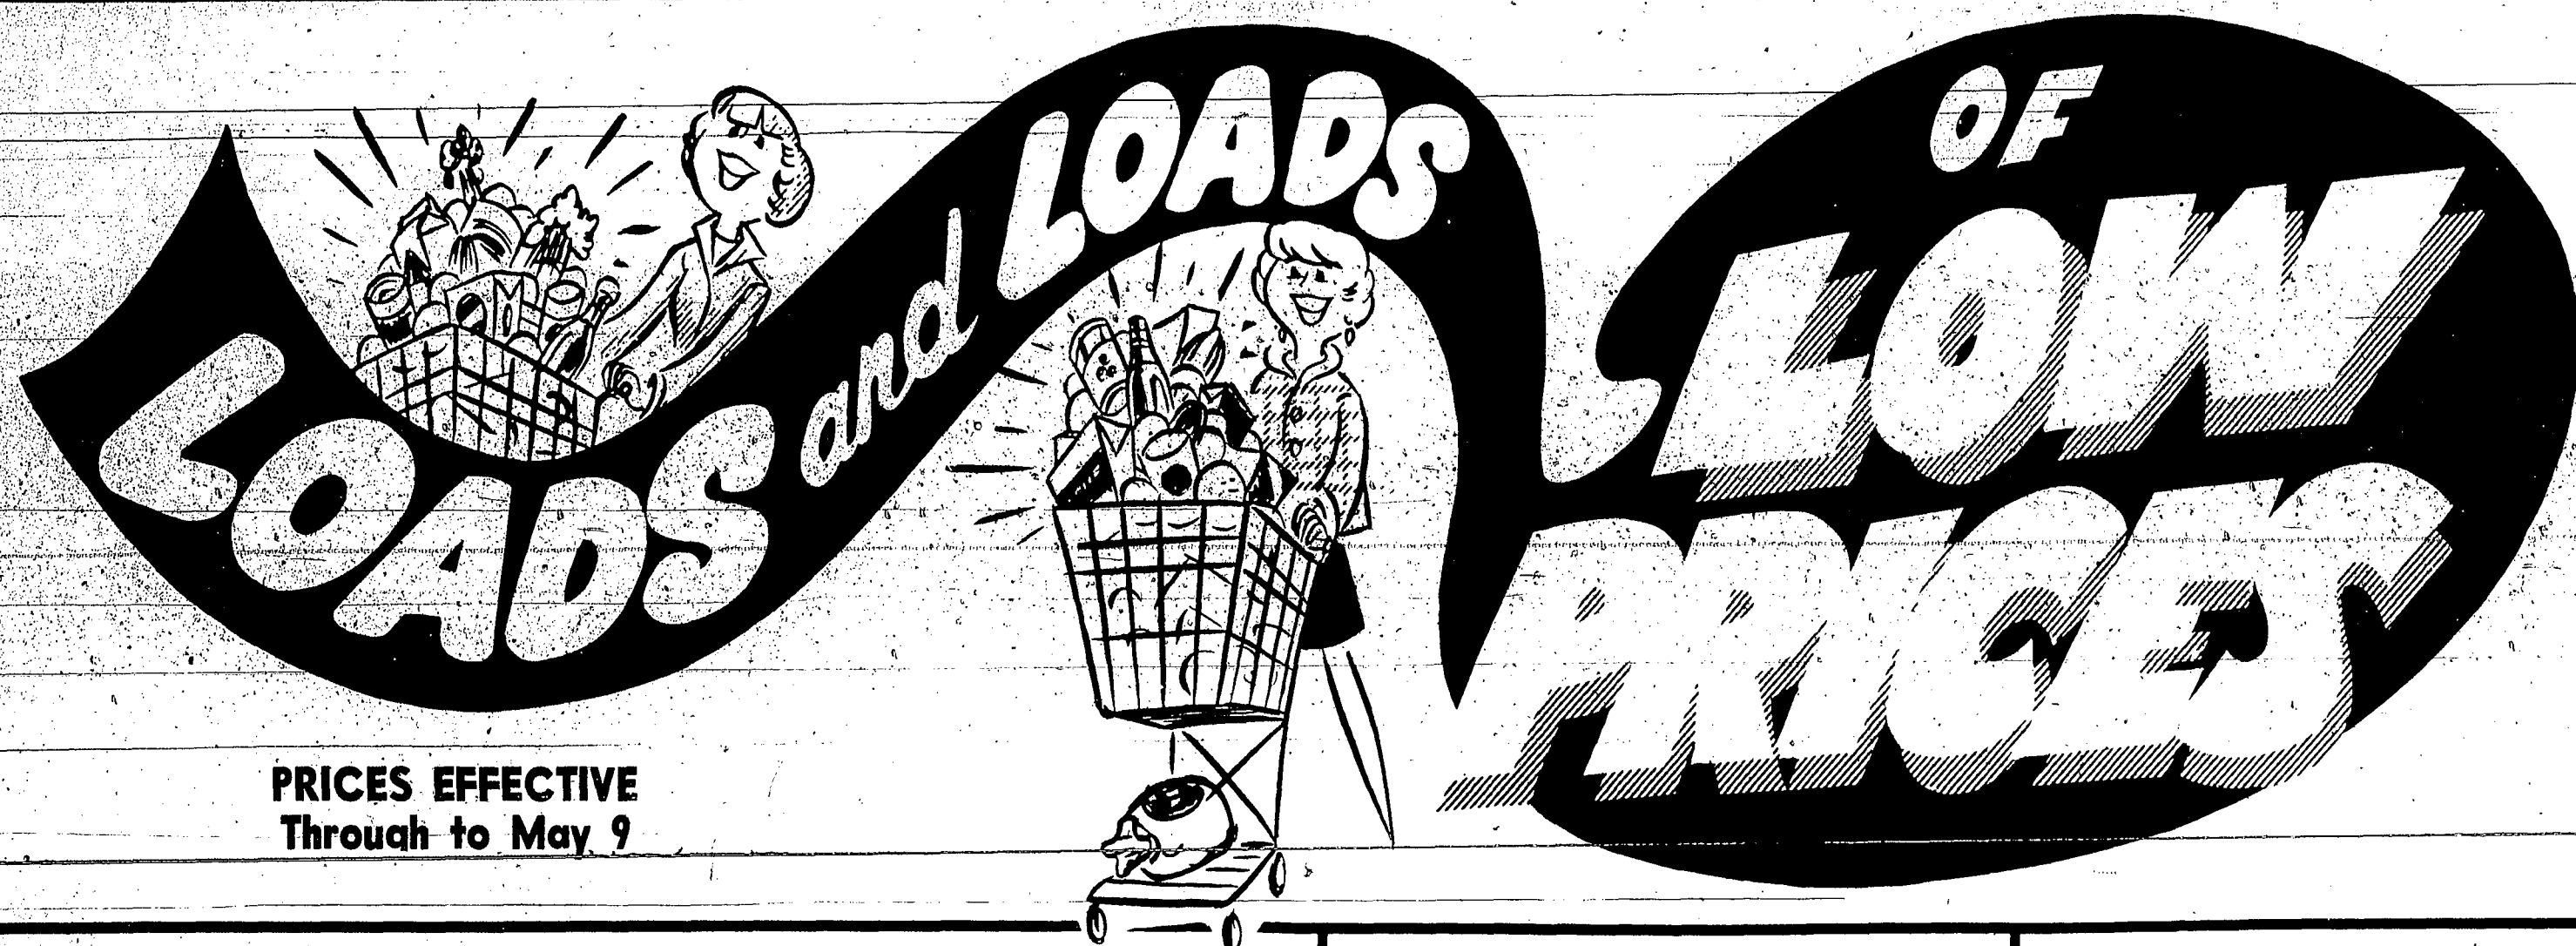

The auxiliary also held a very successful Rummage Sale at Mount Currie on April 18. This was convened by Mrs. R. Patenaude and refreshments were also served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Patenaude were the high scorers at the whist drive, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion and held on Saturday, April 25. Other winners were low score, Mr. and Mrs. G. Forsythe; door prize, Mr. and Mrs. O. Tourand; Mrs. J. Patenaude and Mrs. L. Pickell convened the whist drive.

Two win prizes

Rolf and Sigrid Schmich, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Schmich of Brackendale, recently won prizes at the Kiwanis music festival.

Rolf won two first prizes in the under 13 year class while Sigrid won a first and a third in the under 14 class.

Alienation problems with adolescents

An account of a speech given to the Annual General Meeting of the B.C. Principals' and Vice-Principals' Association March 31, 1970 by Dr. John Wood, director, Saanich Mental Health Centre.

Principal W. W. Baldry of Howe Sound Secondary School felt parents would be interested in it.

Is there a very real generation gap? Are the vast multitude of youth alienated? Dr. Wood stated his opinion that the entire problem is overblown, over-sentimentalized and certainly unexamined.

Most students, declared Dr. Wood, are amiable, develop close and friendly relationships and show no extensive degree of alienation from parents or from older people. Even students from broken homes seem to grow up reflecting their parents' attitudes and become basically well-adjusted people.

A small percentage of students will rebel and some of these will show aggressions not acceptable to society, join and lead activist groups, and become skilled at harassment. We shall give these lots of attention, they will thrive on publicity, and they, too will grow up successfully.

A third group really concerns Dr. Wood, and should concern us, once we tear our attention away from the group who are acting out, the students who seem to be emotionally fixated on the brink of temper tantrums. The truly alienated young people in our society and in our schools are the quiet, passive, withdrawn youngsters, who never give anyone a moment's trouble. These are the terribly unhappy, hard-to-get-to-know group whose mental health should be our concern.

Dr. Wood went on to remind us that the 'adolescent storm' is a well-known growth stage. Physically and psychologically it is a brief transient adjustment period stretching from childhood to adulthood. But Dr. Wood pointed out, our culture violates nature. Adolescent attitudes are being developed in the pubertal and pre-pubertal stages, so that the very young are drawn into the adolescent sphere. At the other end of the true-adolescent period, we juvenilize our young adults. It is easy for older youth to avoid adulthood into their 30's; and many are by this time married, parents, and still evading responsibility.

The term 'adolescence' in our society is now used to describe a lengthening segment of life, from 12 to 35. We encourage young people at the peak of strength and sexual potency to remain in an illusory world, where they have no trouble living up to our expectations of juvenile conduct.

We lump these young people together — a 'gang of teenagers' — and the stereotype blunts any possible understanding.

Yet when facts are faced, Dr. Wood is most convincing on the subject that home and parental influence are still the greatest factors in how a youngster will develop. Peer influences are trivial, although they may be most difficult to overlook. The young person may depart from his parents' standards in hair styles, dress, jargon, choice of entertainment, but his major life decisions will reflect his parents' attitudes.

In support of this thought, Dr. Wood pointed out that the 'old pros' in politics are not worried about 'radical liberalism sweeping the land through the action of aroused youth. They are dropping the voting age, on the assumption that 75 per cent of students will vote as their parents do (about the same proportion as will follow the religion of the home). A study of youth made by Fortune magazine revealed that, while 20 per cent are interested exclusively in 'self-discovery,' 80 per cent cherish the traditional values. Law students, engineering students, pre-medical and education students are conservatives.

Dr. Wood warned his audience about accepting 'holus-bolus' the findings of two types of 'research' into the ways of youth, both very much in evidence at this time. He referred to the questionnaire, and the in-depth study of a very small sampling. He confirmed an opinion long held by many educators in our association: there is a shabby avoidance of 'true educational and social research in the Western world. From a pure series of one,' declared the speaker, 'some so-called investigators outline what the future of mankind will be.'

Is there any truth in the often-heard accusation that modern youth is amoral and without standards? A reliable source of information here might be the Kinsey Report of 1967, a follow-up to the original 1947 one. It appears that there has been a gradual, but not startling, increase in sexual permissiveness. Casual sexual relationships have been replaced by quasi-marriage pairings, that often result in marriage. There is among us, as there has always been, a group of 'sexual athletes,' all in need of psychiatric help and unable to make warm and lasting human contacts.

Dr. Wood used a term that is new to us, one that may become very popular for its very obvious usefulness. The term is 'coping skills.' The alienated adolescent lacks coping skills; he withdraws. The sexual deviate lacks coping skills; he seeks vainly for happiness in promiscuity. Dr. Wood also used this term in discussing the drug problem among youth. If a youngster is finding that use of marijuana helps him to cope, he may soon be programmed to drug usage. If a young person uses marijuana as a coping agent successfully five times, he is likely to go on to more destructive drugs.

What will develop in drug usage in the future? Dr. Wood doubts that marijuana will be legalized in Canada. He gently reminded us that Canada in 1923 led the way in the League of Nations to have marijuana declared illegal. Through Canada's efforts, the use and sale of marijuana was banned around the world. Since good quality marijuana cannot be grown in Canada, and since the federal government, having legalized it, would be asked to supply it, representatives would be obliged to deal directly with international smugglers.

Alcohol, declared Dr. Wood, is the major catastrophe in our society. Where marijuana and alcohol are being used together, the user will drop the marijuana and turn to dependency on alcohol for his coping skills.

Dr. Wood did not promise us that working with youth in the '70s is going to be easy. He foresees greater and greater use of community resources, acceptance of each student as an individual with strengths and weaknesses, (no special classes!) and somehow wound up making us feel that being a principal was just about the greatest opportunity and privilege that society could bestow.

Good attendance at SPEC meeting

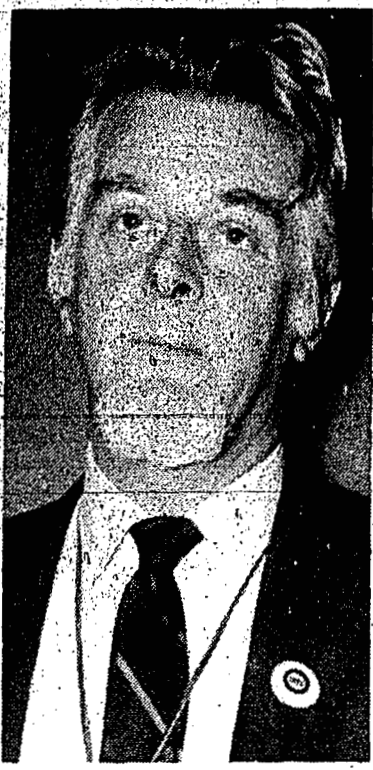

Approximately one hundred and fifty people attended the meeting in the high school last Friday evening to hear Derek Mallard, president of the Vancouver branch of S.P.E.C. speak on pollution and present two films on the subject.

The first film dealt with air and water pollution in our immediate area; Vancouver and the lower mainland, including Howe Sound where pictures of the air and water pollution caused by Woodfibre were shown. Other pictures showed the Fraser Valley mills and pollution caused by jet aircraft, who are also guilty of noise pollution.

The second film showed the damage caused by the oil seepage at Santa Barbara earlier this year where oil seeped from the underground drilling areas to damage miles of shoreline and beaches and kill thousands of birds. Oil is still spilling in this area and he pointed out that a similar situation could occur in the Straits of Georgia if drilling there discovered oil and it seeped into the water.

He made a number of other points, that our present culture, based on using up basic materials to produce paper goods which are thrown away or burned, both causing pollution, is a wasteful one. There is only a limited amount of material including the minerals which are being used indiscriminately with no regard for the fact that there is not an infinite amount of raw materials.

He said his group has had

DEREK MALLARD

good discussions with industry and with federal politicians but has been able to get nowhere with provincial politicians. He added that talks with municipalities have been better.

He pointed out that without steps being taken soon the environment could collapse about us and we must be concerned about our children and the world they will live in.

Unfortunately Mr. Mallard spoke at length and many of the members of the audience, who heartily agreed with the need for pollution control, were eager to hear what they must do to bring this about, not to be further convinced of what they already knew.

His talk would have been more effective if it had been shorter. Reports on the afternoon discussion at the high school indicated it was also too long.

Following the meeting members of the audience signed up to form a SPEC group in Squamish and a meeting will be called in the near future.

Resolution for U.B.C.M.

Council discussed the question of resolutions to be submitted to the U.B.C.M. meeting to be held later this year.

Mayor Brennan said he was concerned about the loss in tax revenue from property owned by the PGE railway and lying within the boundaries of the municipality.

FIRST READINGS FOR THREE BYLAWS

The Squamish-Lillooet Regional District gave the first three readings to bylaws at last week's meeting. These bylaws dealt with the Alta Lake-Green Lake area and were for specified areas covering fire protection, street lighting and community planning.

The area will be assessed for the costs of these services.

BAN ON FIREARMS AND FIRECRACKERS

The Regional District's function of regulating firecrackers and firearms came a step closer following the suggestion from the Municipal Affairs Department that member municipalities be asked to go along with the ban to make it region wide.

They would be asked to sign over their powers in this regard so that one uniform fireworks and firearms bylaw be prepared across the entire region.

At present Squamish has a fireworks and firearms bylaw which has been in force for several years.

Odd ball day at Squamish school

Students at Squamish Elementary School held an Odd Ball Day on Friday, May 1, to raise money for a gift for Jimmy Wilson who was injured in an accident recently. The students came dressed in weird and varied costumes and the teachers also got into the act.

Prizes were awarded for the best costumes with the following pupils in the following grades.

Mrs. Roberts, Melody Drew and Kevin Knox; Mrs. Brollich, Lisa McLean and Roddy Simm; Mrs. Squire, Tora Halvorson and Dale Levesque; Mrs. Polowich, Kim Midnight and Sandy Sherlaw; Miss Koyanagi, Donna Thompson and Michael Reed;

Miss Cousins, Susie Wheaton and Bruce O'Neil; Miss Van Der Ree, Esther Rosler and George Reil; Mrs. Friesen, Joan Scherer and Brent Downing; Mrs. Reidl, Terry Christie and Billy Halters; Mr. Plaatjes, Jne Hutchinson and Jimmy O'Neil; Mr. Milne, Leanne Walker and Billy Kennedy and in Mr. Dosen's class Cathy Otto and Bruce Carson.

Teachers winning prizes for their costumes were D. Dosen and Miss Van Der Ree. The grand prize winners among the students were Susie Wheaton and Jimmie O'Neil.

The sum of $35.85 was raised to buy Jimmie a gift.

Fire department meets council

The local fire department with Fire Chief Mike Knox, deputy chief Gordy Matheos of Mamquam, and Gene Barone representing Brackendale, met with council last week to discuss the needs of the local volunteer fire department.

Chief Knox said their main problem was still the inability of some firemen to hear the sirens in their area, particularly on the hill. He said the pocket paging system was almost a necessity in order to make it possible for his crews to get to the fires. However council was concerned about the cost of this. Mayor Brennan told the chief further information must be obtained before any decision concerning such a system could be implemented.

The clerk was instructed to write to the PGE to ask what they propose to do about further nuisances to the fire department caused by fires along the tracks.

Council pondered the possibility of laying charges against the railway if this occurred again this summer.

WINNING GIRLS at the Squamish Elementary School Odd Ball Day were, not in order, Melody Drew, Lisa McLean, Tora Halvorson, Kim Midnight, Donna Thompson, Susie Wheaton, Esther Rosler, Joan Scherer, Terry Christie, Jane Hutchinson, Leanne Walker and Cathy Otto.

Pretty wedding at Squamish United

Royal blue and white was worn by the bridal party at the May 2 afternoon wedding in Squamish United Church when Myrna Dorothy Dawson, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Dawson of Squamish, became the bride of Gregory Bruce Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Clarke of Peterborough, Ont.

The wedding took place at 3 p.m. and Rev. Stanley Edgecombe of Burnaby officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the church when the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, came down the aisle. She wore a white georgette over taffeta gown with scoop neck and leg o'mutton sleeves. Heavy floral lace accented the empire waistline. Her full length tulle veil fell from a Juliet cap covered with daisies and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and blue tipped carnations.

Her four attendants were dressed alike in royal blue georgette over taffeta, with long sheer sleeves caught in a tight cuff. Royal blue ribbon sashed the empire waists. Similar ribbons accented their ringletted hair. The gowns were all made by the bride's mother.

Mrs. Judy Reed, as her sister's matron of honor, carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies, while her three bridesmaids, Dinah Looyen, Shelley Ross and Melody Botton, all carried bouquets of white daisies.

Bill Newport was the best man and ushers were Brian Denbigh, Bob Cushman and Dave MacPhee.

A reception at the Elks Hall followed the ceremony and Jim Collins was master of ceremonies while the bride's uncle Harry Dean, proposed the toast to the bride.

Following the reception the bride donned a black crepe pantsuit with tunic top and long sleeved white crepe blouse before leaving for Vancouver where they will be living.

Out of town guests included the bride's maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Battison, her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Dean with Jacqueline, Harriet and Todd Dean all of Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins of Tacoma, Mr. and Mrs. A. Little, Mrs. R. Todrich, Mr. and Mrs. K. Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Battison and Frances, all of Vancouver, Miss Dee Peacock, Langley and Mr. and Mrs. G. Clarke.

MR. and MRS. GREGORY CLARKE

NORTH SURREY WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kroesen are pleased to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Annie Johanna to Byron George Blue, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Blue.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, May 23, 1970 at 6 p.m. in the North Surrey United Church.

Girl forest guard program growing

The Girl Forest Guards were organized in 1944 in response to requests from many girls who were sisters of active Junior Forest Wardens. There are now 372 girls in eight clubs serving in British Columbia and competing for three degrees and 19 badge courses, following the same course outline as the Junior Forest Wardens and carrying out similar activities including camping.

It was the feeling of the sponsors, the Canadian Forestry Association of B.C., that there was a very real place for girls in the conservation movement. Like the Wardens, they would carry the conservation story to their families, friends and classmates. But, more important still, as the first teachers of future generations, girls with first-hand knowledge of forest protection and a lively appreciation of all our renewable natural resources gained through activities in the field would be a great asset to our long-range conservation program.

As we plant the seed of a tree to grow to maturity and spread its benign influence over the land, so do we plant the germ of conservation in young minds today, confident that it will grow and flourish to the greater good of our community and our country in years to come.

The appeal of the Girl Guards was immediate and some 500 girls were enrolled in the first year. A camp was held at Point Atkinson in West Vancouver, and groups organized in Vancouver, Powell River, Victoria, Penticton and several small centres.

Girl Forest Guard groups are organized only where funds, responsible leadership and necessary facilities are assured. That is why we have not embarked on an intensive publicity program as yet.

It is interesting to note some of the contributions the girls have already made to the forest protection program. Several members of the Guards, for instance, were responsible for reporting and even helping to fight forest fires.

Girls can serve as effectively as boys as Junior Field Officers of the Canadian Forestry Association and, like the boys, they benefit from the outdoor activities and physical fitness programs stressed by every Warden group.

Sons of Norway plan smorgasbord and dance

In Eidsvoll, at the southern end of Norway's beautiful Lake Miosa, stands a plain but stately building. In front of it the Norwegian flag flutters from a tall staff. Within these walls the Norwegian constitution was adopted May 17, 1814, one of the most remarkable instruments of the kind ever written, whether we consider the sound democratic principles it embodies or the clearness and calm dignity with which they are expressed.

The composers of this great constitution were a delegation of 112 men known throughout history as the men of Eidsvoll. Of these 112 men, 37 were farmers, 16 were businessmen and 59 were officials. In writing the constitution these 112 men forgot their personal differences and endeavored to set forth a constitution that was, in all ways, best for their country and her people. The Norwegians, as a people, are very proud of their country and its constitution which has survived to modern day.

Social Notes

Inspired by her winnings at the recent Lions Bingo, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Clarke are away southward on a two week holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCulloch and their sons have moved into an apartment on Garibaldi Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hinds have returned from a trip to Prince Rupert where he was a delegate to the Rotary Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Robertson have moved into their new home on Cottonwood Drive.

Mrs. Gordon Kilbride and her small daughter Tanis were recent guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Groome drove from Surrey on a spring weekend to bring their son David to visit his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marsh.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Clarke spent a long weekend visiting friends in Sechart.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Wingfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harley are attending the B.C. Conference of the United Church at Naramata.

Sorry that Jean Ridgley's name was omitted from the winning team in the Senior Bowlers meet with West Vancouver.

And a welcome home to all students after the grind of final examinations; may they all find a summer job.

Mrs. Danny Thom is off to Japan to see Expo '70 on a three-week holiday.

A sure way to keep your house reasonably in order is to invite a guest or guests at least once a week.

of Eidsvoll were still sharp in everyone's minds. And May 17 became, of course, a main rallying day for these new North Americans with a bit of Norway still in their blood.

Therefore on May 16, the Squamish Odin of Sons of Norway, newly formed in this area, is hosting a smorgasbord and dance starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Chieftain Longhouse. Everyone is welcome, whether that "little bit of Norway" is in their blood or not.

The music, with a Scandinavian flavor, will be played by the "Jim Peters" group. After you've eaten your fill you can dance your fill and enjoy an evening of Norwegian hospitality.

Tickets are $3.50 per person and can be obtained by phoning one of these numbers 892-5480; 892-3342 or 898-5905.

Low cost housing planned for area

P. N. Goode met with council last week to discuss a proposal for low cost housing for this area.

For some time Mr. Goode has been concerned with the lack of housing in the Squamish area and he is hoping to be able to supply housing for the district at interest rates well below those usually charged.

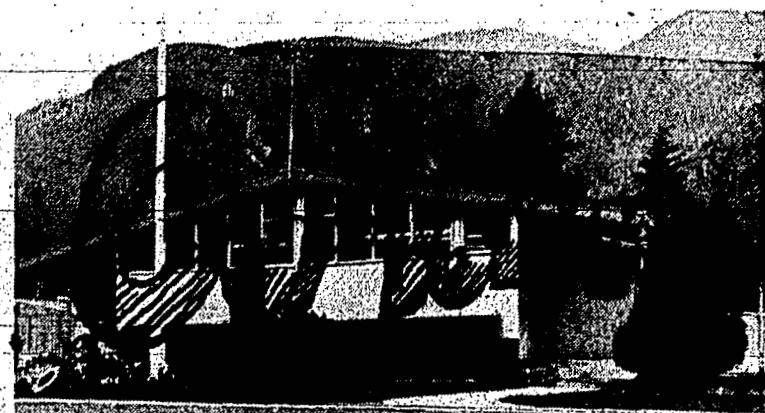

He explained that a group of local contractors were willing to construct houses of a very simple design which would qualify for the low cost housing loans and that these could be built with interim financing.

Mayor Brennan and council were very interested in this project and it was decided to invite local representatives from local industry to a meeting to discuss the proposal and to ask for their support.

This meeting is scheduled for next week.

Nova Scotia is the only place in the world where "tracking dogs" are used to trace people who start forest fires.

Numerous matters interested council last week with a number of them being discussed. The location of the proposed playing field, planned as a central project for 1971, was moved from the lower end of the park area to the upper end where it would be easier to develop and where some work had already been done.

Dr. Rimmer and Dr. Redford, who are interested in building a medical clinic on the 56 acre site owned by the district met with council to ask about purchasing a portion of the property. They viewed the site on the following Thursday and a meeting to discuss costs of the property was scheduled for this week.

Council decided that a special dinner for all senior citizens over the age of 70 would be held in the Chieftain Hotel during the week of June 1 - June 7, which is Senior Citizens and Pioneer Day.

The week has been set aside to honor all pioneer citizens of the province.

The trailer and mobile home committee brought in a recommendation which was thoroughly discussed. There was considerable divergence regarding the lot area required for a mobile home, with consideration given to those who might desire a double home which would be 24 feet wide.

The proposal will be shown to a number of developers in the area and their opinions on the plan will be asked and then it will be brought back to council.

A sign permit was requested by the Little Chief Drive-In and the council was in accord with installation of the proposed sign. However there was some discussion concerning the plethora of signs on the building at present. It was suggested the building inspector be empowered to ask the removal of some of the existing signs if the new electrical sign is installed.

The Magnum Car Club, which uses the former public works department shed at the foot of Second Ave. was to be asked to clear up the property surrounding the building.

A number of old cars are on the site and they present an unsightly appearance. One of the conditions accompanying permission to use the building was that it be kept clear of old vehicles.

Amusing incidents often occur at council meetings and there was considerable jesting over the request for the mattresses for the prisoner's cells. Particularly when their description was read to the council members.

Five of them were ordered. And the clerk drew some laughing remarks when he said the Hon. Minister without Portfolio, Isobel Dawson, used to be his mail lady. Doesn't look as funny in print but when he said it you could see the surprised expressions on the aldermen's faces.

So he had to explain that she handled the Queen's Mail.

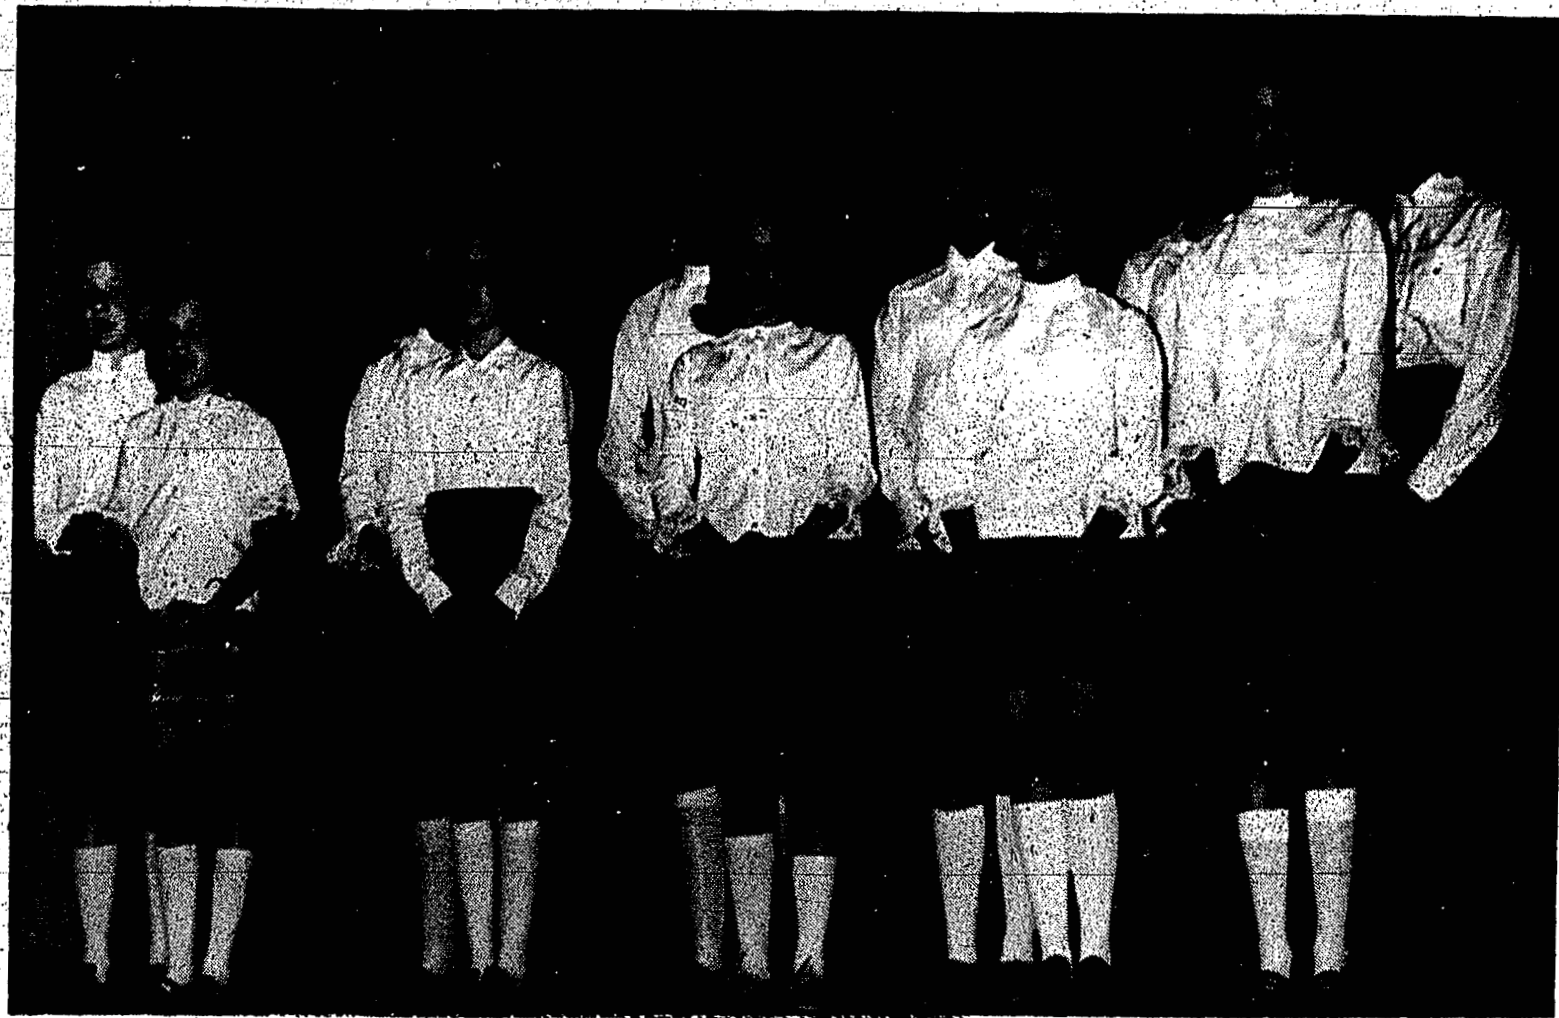

April rainfall above average

April rainfall was above average for the month with 8.47 inches falling during the month, two inches more than average for that period. This brings the year's rainfall to 21.51 inches, still well below last year for the first four months of the year.

Temperatures were also average for the year with 66 degrees registered on April 14, and a low of 29 degrees recorded on April 12.

Despite the high amount of snow which fell during the month at higher levels temperatures did not reflect this. A report on the snowfall at Black Tusk said between eight and nine feet fell there during the month. However snow which falls this late in the season does not have a high water content and rapidly sinks down.

ONE OF THE ACTS at the Amateur Hour was a song by members of the United Church Junior Choir.

Police Court

The following cases appeared before Judge C. I. Walker in police court recently.

On April 21, Lane Boyd pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor and was fined $15.

Bruce McArthur was also fined $15 for a similar offense.

R. G. Calnek, L. L. Costley and G. G. Koop each pleaded not guilty to being minors in licenced premises. The court was advised that the accused, aged 19 and 20, had gone to a beer parlor after the passing of the statute concerning change of legal age for drinking but before its promulgation. Each accused was found guilty and sentence was suspended. Calnek also pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a public place and was fined $20.

On April 28, Lorne Walter was fined $25 for operating an overwidth vehicle. In a similar charge involving an overlength vehicle Florian Psorsky was fined a similar amount.

Paul Martin was fined $25 for being a minor in licenced premises.

Ian Taylor pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a public place, he received a six month suspended sentence with a condition that he keep out of the local cafe where the disturbance was caused.

John Barkley pleaded not guilty to driving without due care and attention. The charge arose when Buckley's motorcycle went out of control approximately one mile north of the Alice Lake junction. Buckley sustained a broken ankle as a result of the accident. He was convicted and received a six month suspended sentence and a two month licence suspension.

149 students named to Scholarship Club

One hundred and forty nine students in Howe Sound Secondary School were named to the Scholarship Club in the third reporting period of the term.

District Women's Institute holds 40th conference

Over sixty members of the North Fraser Valley District Women's Institute, representing nine Institutes, met in Port Coquitlam on April 17th for the 40th annual District Conference. Mrs. Freida Mitchell represented the Pemberton Women's Institute.

The vice-president of the Provincial Women's Institute, Mrs. Ivy Ford-Tappen, was guest speaker. She urged the members to plan workshops on a district level, to encourage handicrafts, learn meeting procedures, discuss problems, and projects. Mrs. Miriam Kendrick, of the Point Grey W.I., and a member of the Provincial Board, also spoke, mentioning the recent board meeting, and some of the decisions made there.

Lightning fires

About one quarter of all forest fires in Canada are started by lightning. These fires commonly account for over half the area burned each year.

Lightning fires are especially dangerous because they often occur in remote regions of the country and develop to a considerable size before being detected. In addition they are often more difficult to control when their isolation hinders the transport of men and equipment to fight them.

Lightning is a major cause of forest fires in all provinces, although British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec usually record the highest number of these fires. Because of peculiar weather and topography conditions, certain parts of Canada are noted for the high incidence of lightning . . . such as the Gatineau Valley in western Quebec.

Lightning fires have been known to smolder in dead tree trunks struck by lightning, for days during heavy rain, then gradually break out as surrounding fuels dry.

No methods have been detected to adequately predict lightning fire though radar has often been used to track storms. A branch of radio known as "sferics" has new equipment which can detect lightning strikes.

Duplicate bridge

Winners of the duplicate bridge games held on April 27 were: North South, Tom Clarke and Dennis DeBeck, Mrs. O. Nelson and Mrs. A. Hendrickson, Sam Bonde and Rolf Lowinger and John Gilmour and Dave Kleinfelder.

East West winners were Mrs. A. Carlson, and John Hughes, Earl Trace and B. Tichauer, Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. P. Powell, while Mrs. M. Murray and Mrs. M. Read tied for fourth place with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Malm.

Junior wardens active

The Lower Mainland Junior Forest Wardens Clubs planted 3,000 seedlings at the Evans Lake campsite on the burned area resulting from the 1962 fire.

Arrangements have also been made with the District of North Vancouver to assist in replanting the logged-over area, made necessary by the outbreak of the balsam wooly aphid.

Both projects are part of the province wide program of the Junior Forest Wardens for tree planting, cleaning up of campsites, cleaning trails and park development.

The Girl Forest Guard program is also active with 372 girls in eight clubs in B.C. participating. The original organizational camp for girls was held at Point Atkinson in West Vancouver in 1944. Currently the North Shore Group centres its activities at Lynn Valley School under the direction of Norma Chadwick.

Population and land use

The pressure of increasing numbers of people is the greatest factor affecting proper forest land use in Canada, and indeed, the world. Even though Canada's population is relatively small, conflicts have already developed as a result of concentration of people near forest regions.

By the year 2000, the population of the world will almost double to an expected 6,130 million. Canada's population, and that of the United States will also approximately double in that same period.

It is clear that this growing population will want higher living standards and . . . certainly in North America . . . will have more leisure time.

Canada's forests will be required to produce more timber and also more recreation. This demand will be increased by outside factors including the need to export wood products and the increasing role of Canada's outdoors as an international recreational playground.

According to the Canadian Forestry Association, these demands can only be met if forest management programs are accelerated.

This week, quick like a bunny, I would like to congratulate little Trudy. These on-herp-er-formance at the recent amateur nite at the high school. Trudy, you were just fabulous, and most certainly deserved the prizes and awards you did receive.

In fact, I'd say that the judges did a real fine job. And that Harry Stockman with the horn, wow, wasn't that first piece he played dreamy. Its always such a pleasure to hear Harry.

Sure go to a kick out of the "Amigos". Sure was a neat little dance they did. Sure seemed funny not seeing Harvey Hurren as M.C. Think the gals kind of missed him. Al McIntosh as usual did a fine job but forgot the kissin bit "for the gals". Oh, Al, you sure slipped up there fella, and those gals doin' the rain number weren't wee ones!

There is one thing that spoiled the whole amateur nite and that was the behaviour of our children in the audience. In fact it was absolutely disgusting!

At first I thought it was the boys throwing those paper airplanes around. Then I turned to see just what was what, and here, the girls were making the airplanes for the boys. Course a little later, the gals were throwing them along with the boys.

The next time I ever go to a "do" like that and have to put up with that, you kids are going to see your names in Capital Letters in this column! You seem to have no respect for either the talent on stage or the audience.

For God's sake, if you aren't interested in listening and watching the players, well stay home! I just bet that the school was a mess after too. The kids were literally throwing pop corn around too. In fact, a lady with me came out with her hair hanging with the damn stuff.

I think you kids in the audience were absolutely ridiculous. You should all be ashamed of yourselves. And these were not little kids causing all the mess and disturbance, they were kids in their teens. And I'd say, if old enough to go-out without their parents, they should be old enough to darn well behave themselves.

Anyhow, the talent, I'd say, was all very good. And I hear thru' the grapevine that the Thomas boys from Woodfibre gave their winnings to the Squamish Junior Pipe Band. Very nice thought boys!

Thats some pretty good late movie you see quite often at the bus stop early in the morning, eh, Paul? Yah, and I still look terrible but can see good!!

While I am on the kids, I wish that all parents would talk with their children about this rock throwing, I don't know about Squamish, but up here in the Brackendale area, it is terrible. You can't even work in your yard without ducking rocks. The kids are even using the patrol stop sign's to bat them around.

I also know that in one place up here they put a hole thru a stop sign with a rock. They also buy pop, and then stand the bottle up and keep heaving rocks till they finally make a hit and then there is broken glass that has to be picked up off the road and school walk. I know that I will take no more of it.

I realize all kids do this, I probably did when I was a kid, I know my own did. Until they broke windows and had to pay for them, I felt bad that no one had told me they were doing it before the windows were broken.

And also, one of mine had to have stitches put in his head as the result of rocks. So please tell your kids before some one either gets hurt bad or breaks windows or does other serious damage, and we find the kids down paying a visit to our new police station.

Wedding anniversary greetings go out to Mr. and Mrs. C. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Feschuk, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ross, their 20th, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Nelson, who celebrated their 27th last week. And birthday greetings to Greg Mason and my honey's mother, Beth Kershaw.

Congratulations to all the winners of the soccer raffle. And Granny and Grandpa, how about turnin' that radio on in the daytime so I can have music while I work!

Welcome To Squamish Mr. and Mrs. Rae and children. Do hope

Fishermen don't mean to start forest fires. But they do. It's usually when the fish start hitting and everyone jumps for his rod. And everyone forgets the campfire. Which is pretty dumb. Leaving a fire to smolder alone is just inviting an inferno. Man, douse it first. Only you can prevent forest fires.

Hundreds attend annual soccer banquet

Over four hundred people filled the dining room and banquet hall at the Chieftain Hotel on Sunday evening for the annual Howe Sound Soccer League banquet. Children and parents, coaches and officials, all enjoyed the delicious smorgasbord dinner prepared by chef Tony Destradi and his staff.

Soccer commissioner Walter Sweeney and Mrs. Sweeney sat at the head table with former commissioner Paul Christensen, referee Sonny Rennie and Mrs. Rennie, John Misera of the Mainland Soccer Association with Miss Gerda Van Den Bogaert and master of ceremonies Bill Gosling.

Following the dinner the trophies and crests were presented to the winners. During the evening Tom Egey presented Mr. Rennie with a suitably inscribed whistle to mark the work he had done for the local league.

In his opening comments Mr. Gosling said he was pleased to see so many parents present; after refereeing some of the games he wondered if some of the children were orphans.

Commissioner Walter Sweeney thanked all those who had worked for the league, stating that it would be impossible to name them all so he hoped everyone would note the thanks.

LEAGUE WINNERS

League winners during the season were the Celtics in the Pee-wee section and Craig Wittman and coach Ken Ramus accepted the Garibaldi Building Supply Trophy for his team. In the Junior section Dale Sweet and coach Bud McStay accepted the Howe Sound Teachers Association Trophy for Brackendale while Greg Wirachowsky and coach Jim Mackin accepted the Squamish Times Trophy for the seniors on behalf of the Woodfibre team.

The Celtics were also the playoff champions in the Pee-wee league and the same two accepted the Empire Lumber Trophy. Terry James and coach Len Marchant accepted the Gwyneth Judd Memorial Trophy, emblematic of the Junior playoff championship while Tommy James and coach Lindsay Valleau accepted the Allan Crosson Memorial Trophy for the Senior playoff championships.

LEGION TROPHIES

Three trophies were offered by the Royal Canadian Legion at Woodfibre for the teams with the least goals scored against them in each division and these were presented to Gene McMillan of the Celtics, Pee-wees; David Staats of Brackendale for the Juniors and Cecil Van Sickle of Woodfibre for the Seniors.

Soccer Boy of the Day trophies were presented to Pee-wee player Craig Whitman of the Celtics who received the Fenton Jewellers Trophy; Terry James for the Juniors who received the Chris Arney Trophy while the Howe Sound Soccer Commission donated the trophies for the Seniors, won by Jim Schutz; the Kinsmen, won by Alfie James, Rotarians, won by Rick Dawson and the Lions, won by David Burns.

Emblems were presented to the three soccer teams which play in the North Shore Division with coach Walter Sweeney presenting them to the Lions; coach Pete Goodgrove to the Kinsmen and coach Ed Anderson to the Rotarians.

Do you remember a quiet patch of water close to the shore of a lake or river? Do you remember the play of sunlight on countless softly-moving leaves? Take a moment to think about the forests and what they've meant to you. Then, make this moment the beginning of your own personal program... to Colour Canada Green.

May always a bad fire month

May is the most dangerous month in Canada for forest fires. The worst fire disaster in Alberta's history struck in 1968 with the bulk of the damage taking place during the last two weeks in May. Many of the critical fire seasons which have developed across the country in cycles of five to seven years have occurred in May.

One of the worst fires of all times in eastern Canada started in May of 1948. The fierce Mississauga fire in the region east of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., devastated over one thousand sq. miles of prime white pine country.

Smoke from this fire darkened skies as far away as the Maritime provinces and Texas. Foresters working in the area at that time reported seeing hills and complete horizons outlined in red as flames climbed into tree tops and spread quickly over huge areas. Wind currents created by convection from the heat of the fire caused quiet lakes to suddenly develop waves three and four feet high. During May forest fuels are often dry while sheltering green foliage has not yet developed to its full protective level. Periods of dry windy weather sometimes develop. To a high fuel hazard is added high risk as city dwellers venture into the forest for the first fishing and camping trips of the year.

National Forest Week, observed early in May each year, helps to focus public attention on the potential danger from fire and reminds the forest traveller to be extra careful.

High school track meet

The Howe Sound Secondary School will hold its annual outdoor track meet on the school grounds at the high school on Thursday, May 7.

Parents and other interested people are cordially invited to turn out and watch the events. Stands have been provided for the spectators who will no longer have to stand around the grounds.
