

Record $1,478,467 provisional 1974 budget

THIS IS THE PLANT at Woodfibre and inside are the first set of Venturi scrubbers, the first step in the air-cleaning process. The huge ducts will go from these two stacks down the side of the building to the second set of Venturi scrubbers which will be installed on the scaffolding to the left in the picture below.

THE GASES WILL LEAVE the second set of scrubbers installed on the frame-work at the left, pass through a tank which will be placed between it and the three cooling scrubbing towers at the right and then enter the towers by the square ducts at the base. They will rise through the towers and be washed as they rise. The result should be .1 grains of particulate matter per standard dry cubic foot, the government's "A" level requirement.

$32,811 GRANT FOR BRACKENDALE GALLERY

The Brackendale Art Gallery has been awarded a $32,811 LEAP grant to provide local operating staff for the centre's gallery and restaurant and to train them on the job in the various revenue and community co-ordinating functions.

The project will provide training and recreational programs for the Squamish and Brackendale areas and a co-ordinating point for community groups and local agencies.

Thor Froslev said the grant is from the Local Employment Assistance Program and will provide three jobs.

He has hired Nancy Martin who will be working at the gallery. She is very artistic and her work should be of interest to those who are interested in posters and art.

No change in mill rate anticipated

By ROSE TATLOW

A record provisional budget of $1,478,467 was presented to council last week after the finance committee had prepared it and would be studied and revised if necessary.

The mill rate for the district is not expected to rise as there will be no preferential rate for Woodfibre this year and this should add some monies to the revenues.

However while budget estimates for this year show higher income, revenues for licences and permits will be lower as the mobile home tax has been discontinued.

No unusual expenditures which were not present last year appear in the administration, fire protection and policing and safety sections. An increase has been shown in the SPCA and dog control section.

The municipal clerk pointed out that there could be considerable changes as there are some new committees this year and some departmental estimates have not been received or planned.

Capital requirement over the next five years were presented by the municipal clerk at the same time the provisional budget was prepared and this includes a number of projects.

ADDITIONS TO HALL

Administrative needs are one of the greatest requirements and these can be taken care of by the proposed additions to the municipal hall, at least for the next few years. Cost of this would be expected to be about $165,000. With the growth of the municipality over the next few years still an unknown quantity, expansion of the administrative offices to a new hall was not considered wise at this time.

Within five years the need should be determined and there would be time to thoroughly examine the ecological sanctuary and its relationship to the proposed new municipal centre. The new additions to the hall will also solve the needs of the library for some time to come as well as the requirements of the firemen. Also when the municipal staff leaves the present building it can be converted to a library and firehall so it would appear that it can serve a useful purpose for a long time to come.

FIRE PROTECTION
Plans for fire protection in the municipality call for the addition of a pumper truck this year and another one in 1977. This should serve the district adequately.

The increased space needed at the No. 1 firehall will be provided by the additions to the municipal hall and as the needs of the other two areas appear to be amply provided for as far as accommodation of vehicles, there should not be any pressure to expand these firehalls.

A works yard is a must during the next few years as the existing one is inadequate. A site for a yard has been found on the banks of the Mamquam River opposite the Highways Department Workshop.

Construction of a works yard at this site would be more centrally located and more serviceable. Estimated cost of setting up a yard at that location is approximately $90,000.

EQUIPMENT
Equipment needed over the next five years and the timing of its purchase would be: 1974, a new works superintendent's pickup $5,000; 1975, replace gravel truck, purchase new gravel truck and replace waterworks van, $24,500; 1976, replace gravel truck, replace half ton pickup, $14,000; 1977, purchase grader, $20,000 and in 1978 purchase a sweeper $20,000.

The water system may require an increase in some of the mains between the downtown area and the valley. Storage should also be considered in the Northridge, Stawamus Valley and Garibaldi Estates areas.

Installation of mains could cost $180,000 while the storage tanks in Northridge and the Highlands area would cost $75,000 each with the one in the Stawamus Valley to cost $50,000.

An industrial line might also be required and this could cost $112,000. Timing for the tank in Garibaldi Highlands would be 1974 with the industrial line possible in 1976, the Northridge-Stawamus tanks in 1978 and the line to the Highlands and the valley in 1980.

There should be no need for any sewer expansion in the next five years but some equipment might be needed to activate the remaining tanks at the Mamquam plant and blowers might be needed at the downtown plant. Total cost for both would be $80,000.

The Third Ave. extension, scheduled for this year, will use monies from the sale of D.L. 4261 lands and Second Ave. and the road on Hospital Hill will be financed through debentures.

INCOME
Anticipated income this year should come from: Taxation, $577,967; sewerage, $400,860; licences and permits, $30,150; ewnra, $11,315; interest and penalties, $17,200; service charges, $35,200; fines, $25,000; recreation, $13,700; grants, $317,000; miscellaneous and equipment rental, $23,000 and grants in lieu of taxes, $27,075 for a total of $1,478,467.

Expenditures are expected to be $136,500 for administration, $19,300 for fire protection and safety, $160,700 for policing and $43,200 for inspections and dog control.

Public works costs are expected to be $60,800 for administration; $58,200 for maintenance of roads, $5,000 for dyke maintenance; $7,950 for street signs; $4,900 for sidewalks; $40,000 for snow removal; $36,500 for drainage; $3,600 for street cleaning and $35,750 for garbage disposal.

Sewerage costs would be $400,360; welfare $100,500; parks $14,000; miscellaneous and community $12,600; cemetery, $4,450; recreation, $62,290; debt charges $47,635; civil defence $2,000; contribution to capital $169,732; contingencies $21,000; Regional District $15,000; Regional Hospital District $16,000 and Municipal Finance Authority $500 for a total of $1,478,467.

WATER BUDGET
Revenues are expected from sales $128,000; connection fees $5,000; interest $3,000; frontage tax $62,000 and hydrant rental $3,250 for a total of $201,250.

Expenditures are estimated at $18,700 for administration, $16,000 for connections and services; $26,550 for transmission and distribution; $16,000 for chlorination and fluoridation; $10,500 for dam and intake maintenance; $10,075 for sundry costs; $93,085 for debt charges and $10,340 for contribution to capital for a total of $201,250.

Mayor appoints new committees

At the inaugural meeting of council on Monday, Jan. 7, Mayor P.J. Brennan appointed the committees of council for the coming year.

Named to the various committees were: (the chairman is the first name on the committee.) The mayor is a member, ex officio, of all committees.

Finance — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, I.L. Boscarol, R. Bryant, C. McCartney, A. Makowichuk and D. Stewart.

Water — Aldermen I.L. Boscarol, L.C. Kindree, C. McCartney.

Public Works, Sanitation, Community Services — Aldermen R. Bryant, I.L. Boscarol, D. Stewart.

Parks — Aldermen C. McCartney, L.C. Kindree, R. Bryant.

Liaison with R.C.M.P. — Mayor P.J. Brennan.

Salary Negotiation Committee — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, A. Makowichuk, D. Stewart.

D.L. 4261 — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, D. Stewart and A. Makowichuk.

Squamish Sewers — Aldermen C. McCartney, R. Bryant, A. Makowichuk.

Valleycliffe — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, A. Makowichuk, R. Bryant.

Recreation director's and staff salaries — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, R. Bryant.

All Courts of Revision — Aldermen L.C. Kindree, R. Bryant, A. Makowichuk.

In addition the mayor appointed a number of representatives to various boards in the district.

Union Board of Health — Aldermen L.C. Kindree.

Industrial Development Commission — Aldermen A. Makowichuk.

Recreation and Adult Education — Aldermen R. Bryant and D. Stewart.

General Hospital Board — Aldermen D. Stewart.

Regional District — Aldermen L.C. Kindree and R. Bryant with Alderman C. McCartney as the alternate.

Senior Citizens Home Society — Alderman A. Makowichuk.

CHANGES SUGGESTED BY DESIGN PANEL

A meeting of the District of Squamish Design Panel Committee was held December 18. In attendance were Aldermen R. C. Bryant and L. C. Kindree and the building inspector, L. Pool.

Both aldermen stated dissatisfaction with the stairway leading from the balcony of the Little Chief Restaurant as it appeared to be too remote from the north elevation wall.

Alderman Kindree suggested that the east elevation should be provided with an architectural change so as to break up the elongated vertical siding panels. Alderman Bryant suggested that the section separating the two windows on that elevation could be recessed from the wall face.

Because the off-street parking did not comply two extra parking spaces should be provided.

Dr. Kindree asked for permission to alter the exit stairway leading from the balcony on the Miki Motor Hotel. Because the exit did not comply with the building code the inspector notified the architect on the required changes.

May target date for Woodfibre's air improvement

By ROSE TATLOW

The new air pollution control process at Woodfibre should be in operation by May providing there are no further delays in equipment arrivals or in construction.

Roman Balzar, project engineer for all major construction done by Rayonier, said in an interview last week that the new process would remove all but .1 grains per standard dry cubic foot, the level "A" of the government's pollution control standards.

Balzar pointed out that the final steps to bring it down to this stage are the costly ones, and these are the ones which have required the cooling, scrubbing towers. In the process the particulate emissions from the stacks are fed through two sets of Venturi scrubbers and then through the cooling towers to the final stage which should contain the minute particulate matter and water vapor.

Work on the pollution abatement program started a year ago but there have been some delays in receiving equipment due to shortages and delays in freight delivery.

"See those huge pipes," he said, pointing to a row of pipes and ducts stockpiled near the office, "they couldn't be produced if we ordered them today."

The pipes in question, each with a radius of more than the height of a tall man, are product of the petro-chemical industry and with the increasing shortages of oil, could not be produced today. They will be used to carry the smoke and vapor from the first set of Venturi scrubbers to the second set.

Balzar said some important pieces of equipment have not been delivered, including some heat exchangers which have been ordered from Sweden. He pointed out it was necessary to have enough equipment on hand to start the contractor on his portion of the project and any delays can prove costly in time. Some delays have been as long as six months.

The system being used to remove almost all the particulate matter which produces the grey plume of vapor and smoke at the Woodfibre plant, is a combination of systems which have been used before but never together as they are being used here. The particulate matter will be removed in three stages.

The first stage is the Venturi scrubbers in which the vapor from the boilers which has not been cleaned and contains 5 grains of particulate matter, goes through the scrubbers which contain black liquor. New ones have been installed and the process removed 60 per cent of the particulates, leaving 2 grains. Then the vapor passes through the second set of Venturi scrubbers in which brine is used as the cleaning agent and these are .90 per cent efficient, leaving the residue with .2 grains.

The resulting vapor is then passed through a tank into the three new cooling scrubbing towers which have been erected at the rear of the main plant on an area which used to be the site of the old community hall and has been excavated to provide space for the equipment.

These towers contain a series of pipe grids with nozzles which spray water in a counter current to the gas stream. These scrub and cool the gases and the process is between 50 and 60 per cent efficient, resulting in a particulate matter content of .1 grains, the level "A" asked for by the government.

In the process the gases are cooled. They leave the boiler room at a temperature of 200 degrees and by the time they reach the end of the process this has been reduced to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. With an additional cost heat can be recovered to be used in the plant.

Balzar pointed out that all the equipment in the plant is new from the first set of Venturi scrubbers to the cooling scrubbing towers.

The new equipment will require considerable maintenance and as this is the only kraft mill in the Rayonier organization the problems involved in making the plant almost pollution free have been different from problems in other plants.

Balzar added that wherever possible local firms and materials had been used. The big cooling towers were built by Industrial Coating Ltd. in Richmond, the Venturi scrubbers came from Ontario and the only overseas product in the process are the titanium heat exchangers from Sweden.

Balzar is in charge of the project and Bill Maund is the field engineer. Balzar is very familiar with the problems in the Woodfibre plant as he was in charge of the changeover from sulphite to kraft and also of the expansion program several years ago.

Local contractors have been employed on the project with Cana Const. of Vancouver in charge of the foundations; Matthias and Nicol in charge of the mechanical work; C.H.E. Williams, the electrical work and all the detail designing was done by Sandwell and Co. also of Vancouver.

It's a big project, one which has been some time in the planning and in the construction and one which has been eagerly watched by residents of the Howe Sound area and tourists who travel along the sound on their way to Whistler.

One of the big complaints during the years since Woodfibre changed from a sulphite process plant to a kraft one, has been the pall of smoke and particulate matter which blankets the area at certain times of the day and when weather conditions are conducive to keeping the smoke pall down.

Hopefully this will be removed when the new process is finally in effect, sometime in May.

New hours for Library

Effective January 14, the Squamish Public Library will be open on Monday to Thursday afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m.

It will also be open from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Fridays and Saturday.

Mrs. Barbara Pinkiewicz has been appointed as the new librarian replacing Mrs. G.S. Clarke who has retired.

Barking dog causes alarm

To the consumer-citizen, the energy crunch is posing some crucial questions. How bad will it be? How long will it last? What must we do?

The professional conservationist is asking those same questions, and one other: how will a shortage of fossil fuels affect all resources?

He's concerned for both basic types of resources, renewable and non-renewable. The two are inseparable. The two types of natural resources interact at man's direction — and if man acts unwisely, the whole interaction can be thrown out of balance. Knowing this, wildlife conservationists are looking ahead with a mixture of dread and hope.

The pessimists among us fear an all-out surge of strip-mining for coal and oil shale, ravaging millions of acres with no time or fuel for reclamation. They fear irreparable damage to Arctic wilderness, and pipeline breaks and oil spills in our beautiful coastal waters. They fear that pollution standards will be relaxed, that our skies will grow yellow-gray, that our waters will sicken with pollution and rise to fever heat with thermonuclear discharges.

An optimistic view is that a long fuel shortage would curtail such energy-devouring boondoggles as wetlands drainage and stream channelizing, retire marginal farmlands, relieve the housing sprawl into quality outdoor areas that are no longer easy to reach, relieve unbearable public pressures on wilderness areas, decrease the headlong consumption of all resources and keep us in one place long enough to figure out where we're going.

From either view, some things are certain. If there is a major energy crisis, it will cause great social and economical readjustment. Work and leisure will undergo vast changes. This was probably bound to happen sooner or later, but the prospect is causing angry rumbles and everyone seems to be seeking a scapegoat.

Some are pinning the blame on the conservationists, accusing them of sabotaging national energy development in the interests of environment. Which is a bit like kicking a watchdog that barks at midnight. It's no fun being shocked awake from a pleasant dream, but it can be deadly dangerous to remain asleep.

Many Canadians are reluctant to quit the sweet dream of limitless resources. Some are trying to ignore the barking dog and go back to sleep, some are half-awake and confused and angry about it, and a few are on their feet and stumbling around looking for the light switch. There's no question of the danger; the only question is whether that danger is still somewhere upwind, or already climbing in our bedroom window.

Either way, the barking dog has cause for alarm.

Caicos-Turks no Mecca

Recent questions in the House of Commons by Waterloo MP Max Saltzman regarding the annexing of the Caribbean islands of Caicos-Turks to Canada, raise some interesting points. Apart from the fact that a province in the Caribbean immediately brings quick approval from many winter worn Canadians, the disadvantages of bringing the British colony into confederation might outweigh the advantages.

Many Canadians think of the Caribbean as a big resort with hot sun, beautiful beaches, pretty girls and lots of cheap rum. But do we realize that the Caribbean islands are infested with wild marijuana and in many places this weed provides a major source of income for a basically docile population. Since there are no customs and immigration between provinces, it will be difficult to control a heavy influx of the drug into the rest of the country unless the drug were legalized.

At present, Canadian tourists enjoy a great deal of personal service at the various so-called luxury hotels in the Caribbean and all for about $20.00 per night. This is because the hotel owners can hire a man or a woman for less than $15.00 per week. If Caicos-Turks becomes a province, wage will automatically become $1.65 per hour. The result of wage increases like that would make the cost of a holiday in Caicos-Turks four or five times the cost of a comparable holiday in the Bahamas or Jamaica. The question then reads, where would a winter worn Canadian spend his holiday — in the Bahamas for $500.00 or in Caicos-Turks for $2,000.00?

If the federal government does not insist on granting wage earners in Caicos-Turks a minimum wage of $1.65 per hour, as it does in the rest of Canada, then that would be like granting special status to the province of Caicos-Turks. If the federal government can give special status to Caicos-Turks then would it not also have to give special status to Quebec?

Mr. Saltzman's proposal strikes great desire in all of us, but at this time, better it swish away in the Gulf stream than flood us in a mound of impracticalities.

Gas hoarding dangerous

It is dangerous to hoard gasoline. Some motorists are carrying extra cans of gas in their car trunks as insurance against running out of fuel on the highway, and some are storing gas in their homes. Both methods are deadly.

In case of an auto accident, what might ordinarily be a minor mishap could become disastrous under these conditions, and if a chain reaction highway accident occurred, the result could be a holocaust.

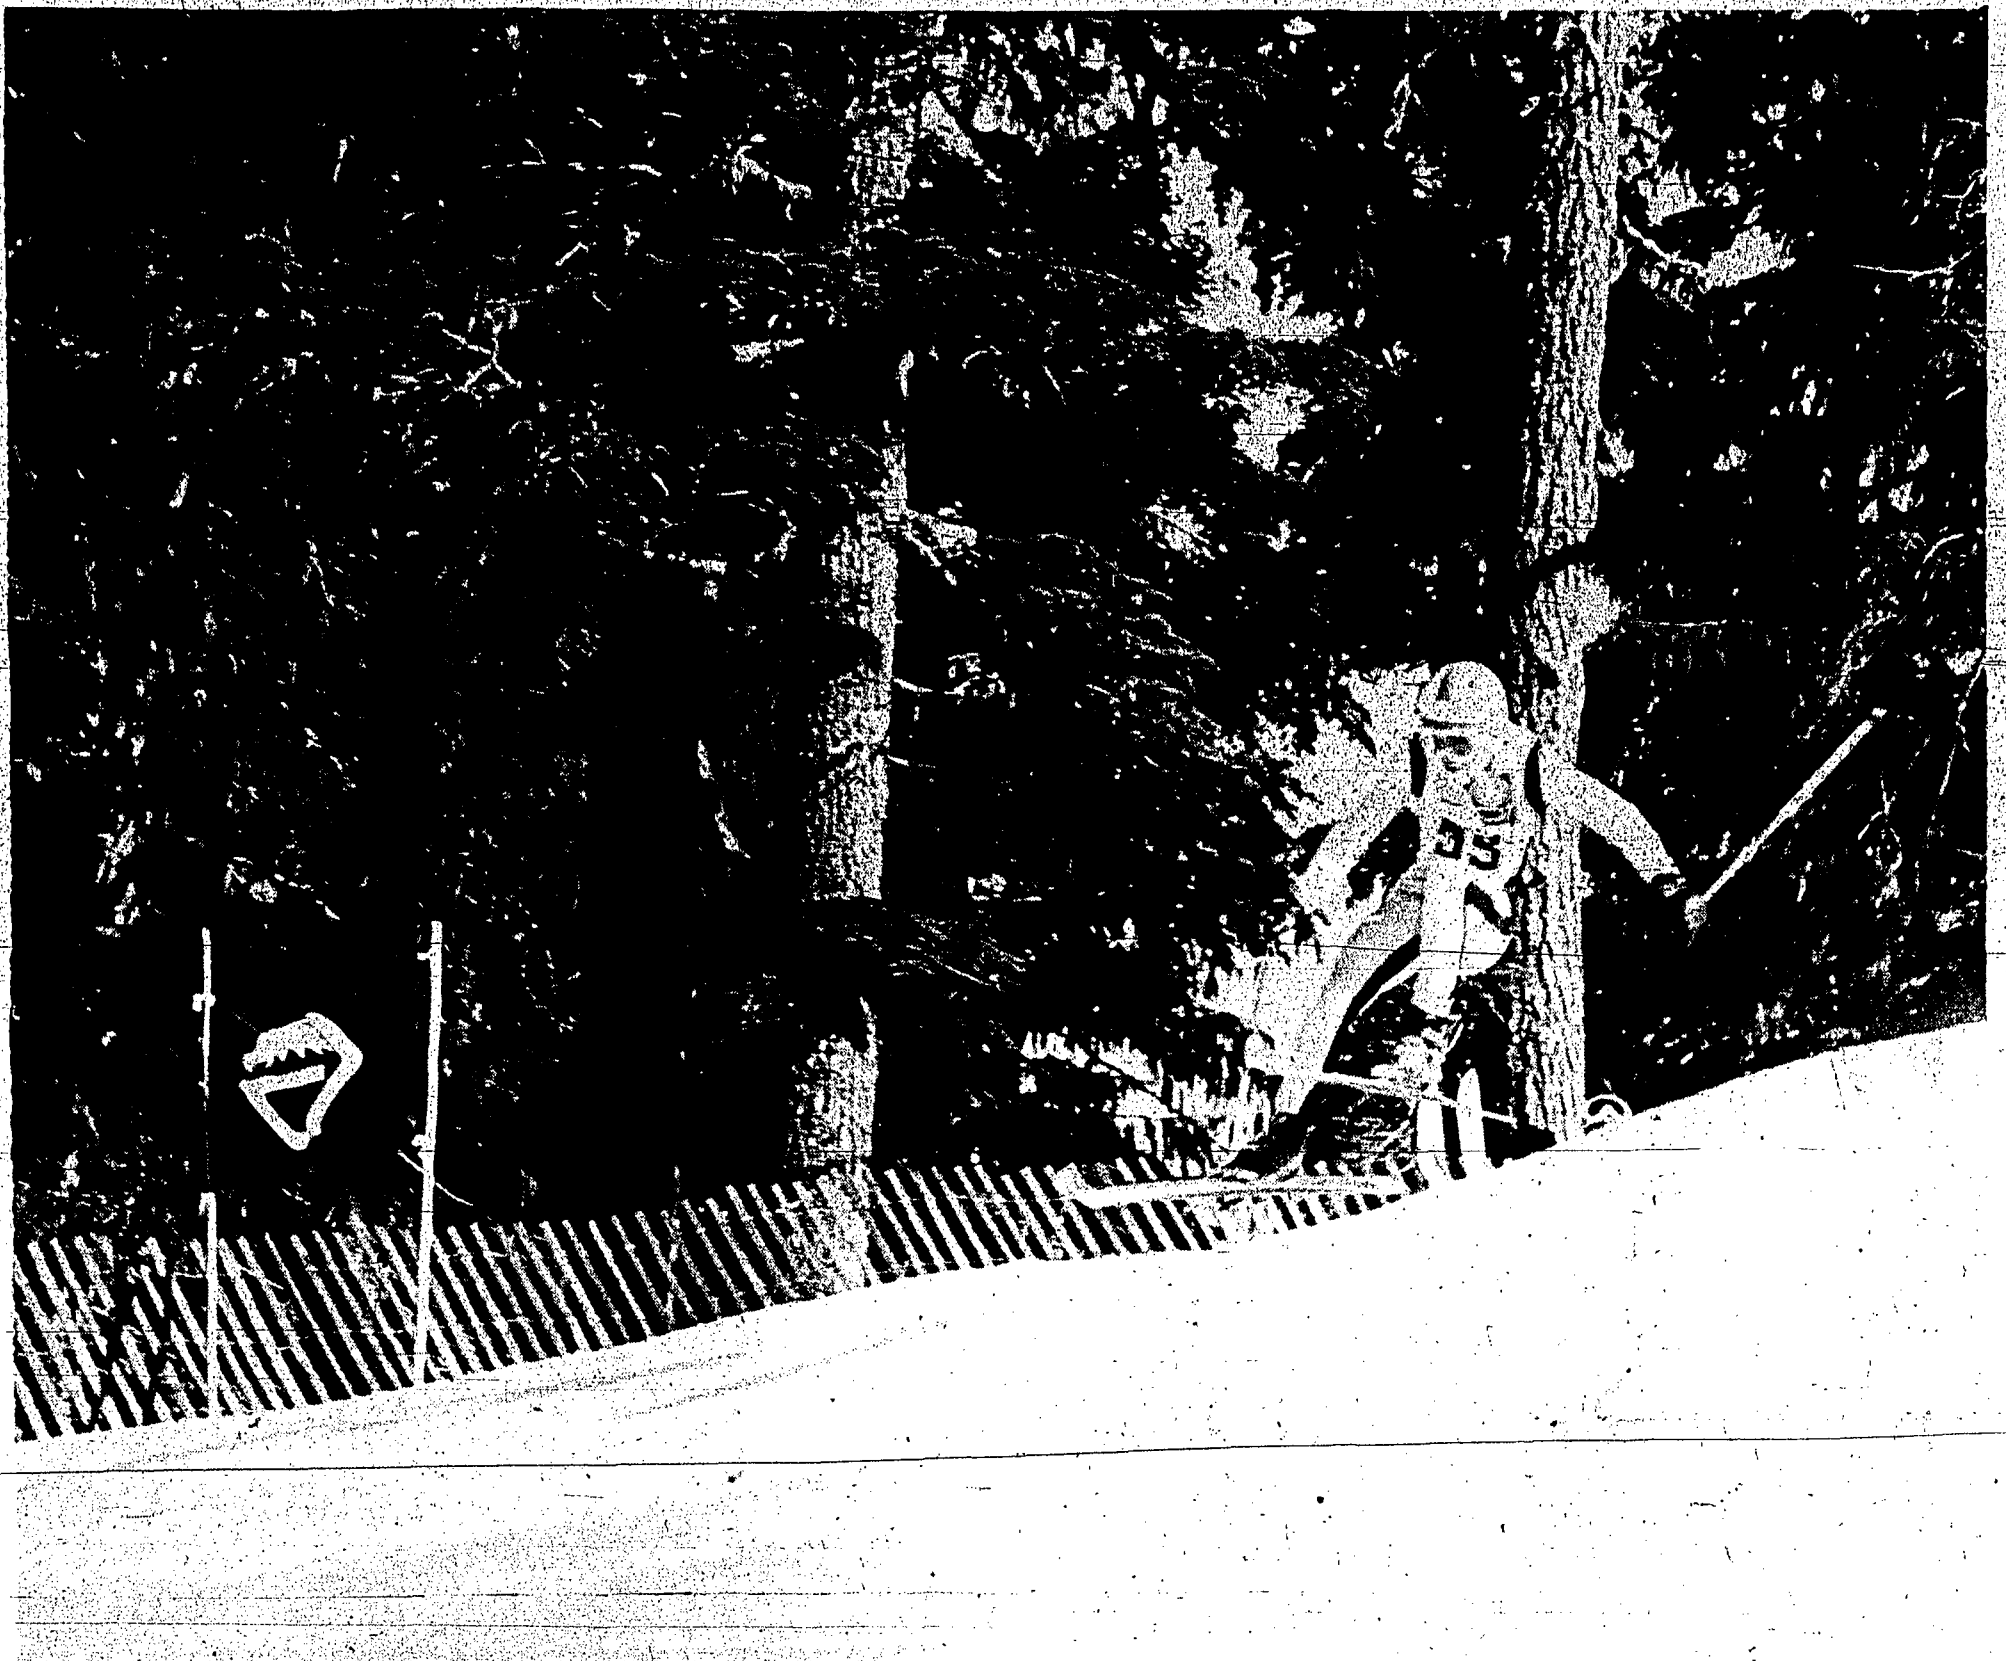

Gasoline stored in cans inside a hot car trunk can expand and overflow, increasing the risk of ignition by sparks from a crash or from a lighted cigarette.

Cans filled with gasoline for future car use should never be stored in garages or other areas of the home. The danger is obvious.

The B.C. Automobile Association says it knows of no instance in which a motorist has been stranded because he could not obtain gasoline supplies, and even if such an incident should occur, the inconvenience could not be compared to the casualties that could result from cars carrying extra fuel.

Not only is it dangerous to hoard gas in your home, it's against the law. Local fire bylaws regulate storage of gasoline by requiring a permit for storage of over one gallon of gasoline in a dwelling or other human habitation and/or excess of five gallons outside any building.

The municipal fire bylaws are there to protect you and your property. The Times urges you to observe them.

Howe Soundings

Did you see Shannon Falls last week? It was beautiful. Just a frozen ribbon of ice falling for 700 feet down the mountainside. In the centre there was a tiny trickle of water but the fall must have been quite heavy when it started to freeze and it just looks gorgeous.

The river below is full of chunks of ice and it's really a spectacular sight.

Notice too on my way to town last week that there were dozens of places along the highway where the same thing had happened and the water cascading over the cliffs was frozen. In fact, in one spot there was a big chunk of ice on the highway where the chunks had broken away from the rocks.

Maybe there should be a warning posted along the highway "Beware of falling ice!"

And on the same Monday morning when I left the house for Vancouver, the blind channel at the rear of the property was smoking. That's right, it was literally steaming with wisps of smoky vapor rising from the water.

It's got to be pretty cold when that happens and according to our thermometer the temperature that night had dropped to 11 degrees. That's getting down there!

Guess that the comet Kohoutek must have been the disappointment of the year. Apparently no one has seen it and while some of the reasons given has been its position in the sky just after sunset and the proximity of the mountains in this area, even people with telescopes who can manage to find the moons of Jupiter can't see the comet.

Another reason for its failure to perform could be the large amount of pollution in the air, especially noticeable down the sound where the comet should appear.

But it's been a great disappointment and the number of people who have mistaken Venus and Jupiter, both very bright in the western sky just after the sunset, must be legion. I know, I even goofed and was sure that was what it was. But evidently Jupiter and Venus come very close at this time of year and both were very bright about two weeks ago.

There are always a number of reports about birds at this time of the year. The eagles are back and feasting on the dead salmon on the riverbanks. Noticed some just before Christmas along the Squamish and Cheakamus rivers. They aren't here in full force yet but give them time.

But those reports about robins on the island can be matched by Squamish.

Robins have been reported at the Brennan ranch and Mrs. Brennan said last week that several meadow larks have been seen there. Usually these birds go south for the winter but maybe the idea of the grain close by prompted them to stay.

At any rate she says they are quite distinctive with their lovely velvety black collar, and there's just no other bird you could mistake them for.

In Prince George where it's a lot colder than it is here, the children have been feeding the birds. There was snow on the ground there so it was essential to make sure there was enough food for them. There were dozens of chickadees and juncos but I was really surprised to see two pairs of woodpeckers.

There was a large pair and a smaller one. Not the lovely huge pileated ones but the smaller ones. They really attacked the chunks of suet put out and by the time they were finished it was a real piece of lacework. It was odd how they perched on the edge of the board. If they couldn't reach the suet from the edge of the board they would have to come on it and they way their claws are shaped made it impossible for them to hook them around the flat board so they squatted on their tails.

The little birds really loved the peanut butter and they need it in those colder climates where birds have to eat at least a quarter of their weight each day just in order to survive.

The beautiful northern spruces just outside the kitchen window were so thick they made perfect places for the birds to perch in the night and they would be there chirping away almost as soon as it was light.

Council Briefs

A number of people were named to additional committees at last week's council meeting with municipal clerk J.R. Craven appointed to the Ecological Sanctuary committee along with Alderman I.L. Boscarol.

Aldermen McCartney, Bryant and Makowichuk were named to the design panel committee and Ed Olander was appointed to the Advisory Planning Commission.

The first three readings were given to a bylaw to raise the dog tax in Squamish. Rates for males and spayed females will rise from two dollars to five dollars while the rate for unspayed females doubles from five to ten dollars.

An application for permission to rezone the rear of the duplexes along the road to Diamond Head near the golf course to permit the installation of an 11 unit condominium was refused.

The property in question is much too small to permit condominiums to be built upon it.

An application to lease land from the B.C. Railway by V.H. Hurford came up before council and was turned down. Reason for the refusal was that no subdivision can be permitted where there are no sewers, and sewers must be put in before subdivision. B.C. Railway is not prepared to put sewers in the area.

Silverline Fire Equipment notified council that a new line of fire trucks is being built and that one of these might be suitable for the district. The committee set up to purchase a fire truck will meet with the company and look into the qualifications of the fire truck.

D. Jenkins submitted a request to build an 8 foot fence along part of his property. Council is not in favor of such a move but a committee of Aldermen Stewart and McCartney will look into the matter.

Council approved a request from Diamond Head Motors for Chevron signs to be placed above the gas pumps.

Under the new laws enumeration for a municipal voters' list must be done and the list can no longer be compiled from the tax rolls.

The municipal clerk asked permission to start working on such a list and to employ people for this purpose.

He also said the services of the court clerk are required for a longer period and this was approved.

Concern was expressed about the noise of the heating unit in the courtroom as there are often times when it is turned off so the judge can hear and then, in weather like this, it becomes extremely cold in the courtroom.

LETTERS

Editor, Squamish Times:

In your issue of December 19, 1973, Mayor Pat Brennan was quoted as wanting to see B.C. Hydro "pay (its) share of the tax burden."

Hydro pays school taxes in most areas, including the District of Squamish, on the same basis as any other taxpayer. It is exempt from general taxes but instead makes grants to all municipalities, including the District of Squamish, in the regions of British Columbia served by Hydro.

The grants are based on the equivalent of the previous year's general and local improvement taxes applied to lands and buildings owned by Hydro, plus one per cent of the gross revenue from sales of electricity and gas in the municipality concerned. These are comparable to what it would pay as regular taxes.

For the year 1973, Hydro paid the District of Squamish $114,446.58 in school taxes plus a grant in lieu of taxes, based on the formula stated above, amounting to $24,493.81 — a total of $138,940.39.

In other words, Hydro does pay its share of the tax burden. J.A. McCarthy, Manager Public and Customer Relations B.C. Hydro and Powe Authority

Editor, Squamish Times:

I recently read this letter in a city paper and would like to add my comments:

"Two weeks ago my seven-year-old boy was killed by a car while on his way to school. It was neither his nor the driver's fault, just a freak accident. However since that time we have received numerous letters from the people of Jehovah's Witnesses telling us what parts of the Bible, etc., to read. My husband and I find them extremely upsetting. I go into hysterics practically. There is nothing that we can do about them personally. I thought perhaps by writing this letter there may be a Jehovah's Witness who might read it and realize what excess pain they cause people like us who are not members of their religion."

I would like to add my opinion of their religion. I wouldn't have had Mrs. Rogers with me for an extra 14 months had it not been for some wonderful people donating their blood. Whoever they are, all I can say is thanks to them.

So will you Jehovah's Witnesses come and peddle your religion some other place and just stay away from my house. Art Rogers.

Outlines Indians studies program

Frank Rivers of North Vancouver appeared before the school board last week to discuss his proposed development of an Indian Studies course in North Vancouver and Squamish.

He will require a total of $20,000 to complete the project and has already been promised $6,000 from the Vancouver Foundation if he can raise the balance.

Rivers said he is planning a seven month program which will include collecting legends, history, herbal lore, etc., and recording it for future use. He would compile the information, record it and duplicate it.

"The program is planned to develop an identity with our culture," he told the board, "and to share that culture with the non-Indian student. There are just a handful of elders left who can give us this information and in five years they may be gone as well."

Rivers told the board he was planning to be a school teacher but wished to take time out from his studies to work on this project before it was too late.

He hoped to develop the Indian studies courses in Squamish similar to those which are now underway in Hamilton Secondary School in North Vancouver and would also like to plan one for Capilano College.

Another part of his program would be to provide speakers for social studies classes and then go further to create a scene of the interior of a long house which could be brought into the classroom so the students could identify with the Indian life and culture.

Other plans include films on the Squamish people. He already has two of these and would like to take them into the schools as part of the course.

Rivers said the final portion of his project would be to develop a list of good, authentic books on Indians and their culture which would truly reflect the life of the Indian.

Test results satisfactory

Council was delighted with the first results of the effluent tests from the new sewage treatment plants.

Coliform counts were less than 1 part per million and the chlorine counts were less than .01 parts per million.

Council was pleased with the results and said they were extremely good for a new plant which had just opened up.

$5,000 GRANT TO SCHOOL DISTRICT

School District 48 has been given a yearly grant of $5,000 from the H. R. MacMillan Student Association Fund to assist Grade 11 and 12 students who are in need and who without such assistance might find it necessary to drop out of high school.

Students can make application for assistance on forms which are available in the school. Students receiving assistance are required to attend school regularly and make satisfactory progress in their studies.

Alice Lake lands lessees seek further extension

Lessees of the lands at the junction of the turnoff to the Alice Lake park and the highway to Pemberton are seeking an extension of their agreements with the B.C. government.

The lands in question were leased from the provincial government over five years ago and there were some stipulations regarding development of the property. To date F.R. Rustad has been the only person to do any building although the other lessees have cleared property and Mrs. Puttkammer said they had paid over $23,000 to develop the land and look for water.

However when the decision was made to change the highway and there was no assurance that there would be proper highway access, the lessees felt that it would be unwise to plan to further develop their lands.

Mayor P.J. Brennan told A.R.

McDougall, F. Rustad and Mrs. J.V. Puttkammer that their argument was with the Department of Lands and the Highways Department not with the District of Squamish.

"We zoned it commercial for you," the mayor said, "and that's all we could do. We haven't been asked to make a decision, we've just been asked what zoning we would want there if the leases were cancelled."

He said council had no idea the government was even considering the cancellation of the leases and the first intimation this might be possible came in a statement from the provincial planner.

"However," he said, "if the government wants to take the land away from you and use us as a patsy, they're out of luck!"

Mrs. Puttkammer said that her assessment in that area had gone up by 291 percent and this would probably rule out any plans for commercial development as this would prove to be too costly.

She also stated that repeated attempts had been made to have a meeting with the provincial government but to no avail. She said they were treated very kindly in phone calls or letters but they never seemed to get any action on the requests for information concerning an access road.

Mayor Brennan suggested that the lessees see the government and find out from the lands department what plans are for that area and what access will be provided to the leaseholders.

Brohm ridge development

Alderman L.C. Kindree suggested that in view of the government's decision to cancel Bauer's leases on the Brohm Ridge project, council should see if the provincial government would consider developing it as a ski area.

Mayor Brennan said he was planning to see the Minister of Lands and Forests in the near future and would ask either Mr. Williams or Mr. Raford, Minister of Recreation and Conservation, about the status of the project.

There is always something interesting at Squamish Floor Coverings.

Housing Society Design meeting

The Squamish Housing Society held its inaugural design session at the high school cafeteria on Thursday evening of last week. Chairing the meeting were Ed Olander and Alf Wilkinson of the Squamish Housing Society and Mrs. Shirley Schmid of the United Housing Foundation.

Mr. Olander reported on the grant from CMHC which will be used for starting up the project, soil samples, architect's drawings etc. Crown land has been made available according to a letter from G.L. Chatterton, director of Home Owner Assistance and Public Housing.

The land in question is behind the Brackendale School and the letter said if the municipality is interested in servicing the land the province would authorize the municipality to engage consultants to prepare a proposed subdivision plan together with estimates. After this has been approved the municipality could call for bids, and following authorization of a contract the work could be done with the municipality submitting progress claims as the work proceeds.

However last Tuesday evening at a council meeting it was decided that the municipality did not wish to enter into such an arrangement but would prefer to have the housing group act on its own.

The letter from Mr. Chatterton also said that the B.C.

Rezoning waits on plan

The application by the Royal Canadian Legion for rezoning of a portion of its property near the VLA came up for discussion again. As it will only be a matter of a few days before the planner's report is finalized it was felt this should be held up till his report comes in.

The matter will have to go to a public hearing to permit the people in the area to speak on their impressions of the project.

A letter from L. Laramee concerning rezoning of his property on Judd Road will come up for discussion once council has an opportunity to study it.

Assistant manager for Woodfibre

Stan Smart has been appointed as assistant manager of Rayonier's Woodfibre plant. He came to Howe Sound from Gold River where he has been working ever since the plant was planned.

He is a graduate of Nova Scotia Tech. and worked for Canadian International Paper in the east before coming to B.C. when the Gold River plant, a joint effort of Canadian International Paper and the East Asiatic Co. was formed.

He is married, with three sons, Stan 10, John 9, and Patrick 7, and plans to move to the Howe Sound area as soon as possible.

His hobbies are skiing, sailing, scuba diving and hockey and he owns a 24 foot sailing vessel which they have enjoyed during their stay at Gold River and he is looking forward to taking the family sailing in the waters of Howe Sound and the Gulf of Georgia.

Fire Chief gives report

Fire Chief Gordon Matheos reported on five fires in the district during December. On December 20 a house fire at Cheakamus caused the loss of the lives of two children. On the same date there was a trailer fire at Shannon Falls. There were two other trailer fires during the month, one on December 3 at the Wagon Road, Wheel Trailer Court and one on December 14 in a trailer opposite the Brackendale store. On December 1 there was a chimney fire on Third Avenue. In November there were only two fires, on November 1 at the John Hurren trailer in Bracken Park and on November 2 when there was a car fire on Hope Road.

BURNS SUPPER SET FOR JAN. 26

The annual Burns' Night supper will be held at the Canadian Legion Hall on Saturday, January 26, commencing at 7 p.m. and will be followed by a dance.

Once again Dave Watt and his committee are preparing for the dinner with haggis and heather promised for all those who attend.

Mrs. John Gilmour's dancers will be entertaining with some fine Scottish dancing immediately after the dinner.

Tickets are limited and they have been going fast. Enquire at the Legion if you are interested.

Three month extension for trailers

Deep Cove Investments permit for the trailers on the property where the hotel is being constructed has run out and is no longer valid.

The company has asked for an extension of the permit for a further three months. After some discussion this was approved provided there by only a watchman resident in the trailer. No workmen were to be permitted to live in them.

Sawdust and Shavings

There must be something about where you live that has something to do with the New Year baby. Seriously and all kidding aside last year's baby, Dana Conn, was born to parents who lived on Cheakamus Way, close to where the Ferbeys, parents of this year's baby Linda Ann Ferbey live.

And in 1968 the New Year's baby was Samuel Parker and his parents also lived on Parkway. Wouldn't you say this was some sort of a coincidence?

Well first of all a happy birthday to our outdoor columnist "Hank" who celebrated his last week. And also a happy birthday to Mrs. Ardith Smith. And a belated happy birthday to David Haffey who is one of those unlucky guys who marks it on Christmas Day!

Our bid for the Good Joes of the week must be to Al and Viv Wyatt who collected for the Susie Bass Fund just prior to the holidays and came up with the whopping sum of $179. There were too many names to list them all but thanks and a tip of the hat to a pair of Good Joes. And also to the boys at Butler Tire who contributed a sum to the same fund. These monies have been turned over to the Susie Bass Fund now being administered by the Squamish Lions.

One of our staff reported seeing a rather startling event last Wednesday. While eating lunch near the golf course and watching the activities of some people clearing land on the bank above she saw them falling a tree.

The tree came down, hit another and the second one slid down the bank onto a white pickup truck parked at the base of the hill, hitting the front hood and the windshield.

She reported the man was standing on the bank with his hand to his head as if to say "Oh, no."

And then there was the chap who was working at a shop in the Mashiter Service yard recently when a lady with an American accent stopped and, after looking at the bank above, asked if it was really safe to buy property up there as she was considering buying a lot.

"Oh, I think so," the chap said, adding that he had recently purchased a lot on the bank above the service area.

"That's all right for you," she retorted, "you've got the equipment to shove it back up there if it comes down!"

An interesting sidelight on the energy crisis and how it hits close to home is the remark made by Bill Francis, manager of Rayonier's Woodfibre plant, when he said that bunker "C" fuel used in the plant now costs double what it used to a year ago.

And Stan Smart, the new assistant manager, says he almost came to the Howe Sound area a number of years ago when Price Bros. and United Pulp were looking at the possibilities of a pulp mill in Squamish.

By the way how many of you saw Take 60 last Thursday evening and heard an engineer with Viking Corporation talk about cutting Nova Scotia off from the rest of Canada at the isthmus of Chignecto and sailing it down to Florida?

That's right! An engineer from the Viking Corporation said they would separate the province from the mainland, put pontoons under it, equip it with diesels and float it down to Florida.

That way they would solve the energy crisis on the eastern seaboard as it would be warm in Florida and no heat would be needed for the homes. Also the engineer said the province would sail down in the fall and come back each spring.

Travelling at his estimated speed of 2 knots per hour that would be 24 knots per day or 27 1/2 miles per day. At that rate no sooner would they get it down there than they would have to start back.

The interviewer just kept shaking his head but the engineer was absolutely deadpan. We kept waiting for someone to say the whole thing was a gag!

Also contributing to the Susan Bass Fund, established at the Royal Bank by the Squamish Lions Club and held in trust for her were the B.C. Railway's car shop employees who collected $137 to add to the fund.

So you think it's fun to put out a newspaper? Just imagine the problems that one can face in getting one out. First off there's the question of labor. According to the contract the back shop boys get an extra day holiday each year and they elected to take it on the Friday. That's fine except that's when one of the papers was supposed to be put together.

So it didn't get done till Monday. Then, just as everything was going well the transformer which feeds power into the shop blew and that meant no machines were working. So you have to contact B.C. Hydro and that sometimes takes time.

By the time that was fixed up and the papers were run off they were rushed up to Squamish to be placed in the mail.

Oh joy! They were half folds and the post office will only accept them for mailing if they are quarter folds. So guess what happened? Yes, a member of the staff spent the evening quarter folding the papers which could have been done by machine at the time they were printed.

And you still think you'd like to put out a paper!

All this excitement south of the border over the Gordon Sinclair recording of an editorial he wrote praising the Americans seems pretty childish.

Surely they are not so insecure that the beatings of Gordon Sinclair's nauseating hymn of praise makes them feel better?

We like Americans, we think they are terrific people, but they are not the chosen children of God and they make mistakes just like other people do. Certainly they aren't as wonderful as he makes them out to be but they are just people with both good and bad and because they are a big country they have more than their share of both.

But American people are suffering from a desire to be loved by everyone and they have to realize that everyone doesn't love them nor ever will. All countries have faults, some more than others and all have good points. But to blather about them as if they were perfect seems just a bit too much to us.

And their grateful acceptance of the editorial makes it even more pathetic. Surely they don't have to act like a puppy dog getting a pat on the head.

A 14-storey apartment building — the first high-rise in the Yukon Territory — will get underway next spring in Whitehorse at an estimated cost of $2 million. It will have an enclosed swimming pool and a sauna bath, to be completed by December, 1974.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK GAEBEL

Pretty wedding at St. John's Church

Snow was falling thickly outside but flickering candles and Christmas lights warmed the interior of the Church of St. John the Divine on Saturday evening for the 5 p.m. wedding of Susan Elizabeth Applin-Floach and Frederick Edward Gaebel.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Applin-Floach of Squamish and the groom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gaebel of Kokish, Vancouver Island.

White chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church and Rev. A. E. W. Godwin heard the young couple exchange their marriage vows. Mrs. P. Calverly was the organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional bridal gown of white taffeta with high lace collar at the throat above a vee shaped lace insertion at the neckline, with long sleeves edged with lace matching the lace panel which edged the accordion pleated skirt which flowed to a slight train at the back. Her elbow length veil fell from a Juliet cap of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Dennis McPherson, as her sister's matron of honor, wore a floor length gown of pink crepe with a lace bodice and carried a bouquet of white carnations and chrysanthemums with a single red rose and tied with a pink bow.

Mrs. J. Hamilton and Miss Ginnell Bourne, as bridesmaids, were dressed alike in blue crepe floor length gowns with lace bodices and carried identical bouquets of white carnations, chrysanthemums and a single red rose, tied with blue ribbons. Tiny Elise McPherson, the bride's niece, as flower girl, wore white and pink sheer over taffeta and carried a silver basket of red rosebuds and carnations.

Robert Brink of Nanaimo was the best man and ushers were the groom's brother Richard and Don Drummond.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Applin-Floach chose a royal blue floor length gown of polyester crepe with a white carnations corsage while Mrs. Gaebel wore a brown and beige polyester floor length gown with a white carnation corsage.

A reception at the Legion

Hall followed the ceremony with Cst. Marvin Hodge acting as master of ceremonies and Dennis McPherson proposing the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon in the Interior of B.C. the bride donned a pale yellow and white tulle coat suit topped with a dark brown leather coat.

The young people will make their home in Squamish.

Out of town guests included Mrs. E. M. Schierbeck, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Schierbeck, Miss K. Schierbeck all of Rutland; K. Nichols, Okanagan Mission; Mr. and Mrs. B. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. K. Thomas, S. Ray, all of Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. F. Charlton, Miss Vicki Charlton, Cloverdale; Miss Judy Ray, Coquitlam; and Mrs. Don Drummond, Richmond.

Coming and Goings

Diana and Joanne Olson have returned from a visit to their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Anderson, at Smithers.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Herron enjoyed a California holiday over the festive season.

Have you noticed the change in the appearance of our Municipal Park?

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boscarol have returned from a holiday in Mazatlan.

Did you ever see a soup spoon created for men with moustaches? One of our young men about town got one as a Christmas gift. It has to be seen to be believed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Drenka enjoyed the Mexican sunshine during the holidays.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Paul on the birth of their first child, a son, Jonathon Harley, weighing seven pounds, five ounces and born in St. Paul's Hospital on Saturday, January 5.

FOOD **** AND OTHER THINGS

By Joy Dawe

If you like pasta but wouldn't mind a change from your spaghetti and meat sauce thing, here are a couple of recipes for manicotti that I borrowed from Alison Colwell. The recipes make 6-8 servings so you could halve the recipes for fewer people or make them up in two casseroles. Alison says the extra casserole keeps well in the fridge and can be reheated — about 1 1/2 hour in a slow oven.

MANICOTTI:

1 packet manicotti noodles
1 lb. cream style cottage cheese

8 oz. cream cheese
1 bag fresh spinach
1/4 lb. liver sausage
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
4 cups tomato sauce

8 oz. packet mozzarella cheese

Cook manicotti according to directions on packet. Wash spinach and cook without water till limp. Chop spinach and mix all ingredients except manicotti, tomato sauce and mozzarella.

Stuff manicotti with mixture and place in one very large or two medium size casserole dishes. Pour over tomato sauce and bake covered at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 an hour. Take out of oven. Place mozzarella cheese slices on top and bake uncovered for 10 minutes.

(Canned tomato sauce has a lot of pepper in it so for a milder sauce make it from tomato paste or canned or fresh tomatoes.)

MANICOTTI ALLA BOLOGNESE

1 pkt. manicotti noodles
3/4 lb. ground beef
3/4 lb. ground pork
or 1 lb. ground beef
1 large onion chopped
1 clove garlic minced
1 cup fresh breadcrumbs
1 egg beaten
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon crumbled leaf basil or ground basil
1 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
4 cups white sauce
1/2 lb. shredded cheddar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Saute meat till brown. Add onion and garlic and fry up with meat. Mix in breadcrumbs, egg, parsley, basil, salt and pepper. Stuff manicotti and place in casserole dishes. Add cheese and Worcestershire sauce to white sauce and pour over manicotti.

Cook 1/2 an hour at 350 degrees. Put under broiler for 2 minutes before serving.

OTHER THINGS: If you plan on seeing "American Graffiti" at the Varsity theatre (well worth the drive down, we hear) a good place for an unusual meal is the My Tan Cordon Bleu Vietnam Restaurant at 2764 West Broadway. It's not exactly a discovery — has been operating since 1969. The atmosphere is friendly, the food different and the price pretty good. In the last three years the main courses have gone up only 20 cents from $1.50 to $1.70 and from $1.75 to $1.95.

The dinner menu is very basic with a choice of "Highland Barbecue" or "Imperial Rolls" served on lettuce with rice and home-made tomato sauce.

Highland Barbecue (best buy) is a Vietnamese shish kebab — pork slices and onion slices skewered by bamboo sticks, marinated in a special sauce and barbecued.

Imperial Rolls are pork, shrimp or crab, eggs, mushrooms, vermicelli, and special sauces and seasonings ground together, wrapped in rice paper and deep fried.

Rolls or kebabs are $1.70. An extra 20 cents for the combination dinner includes two small papery shrimp-flavoured crispy things. The portions aren't all that big so if you're really hungry it might be worth trying the thick beef or chicken soup first.

The hot tea is delicious and comes in a big glass for 15 cents. And if you go there don't try too hard to resist the dessert — bananas deep fried in batter and served with ice-cream.

The food is served by a happy group of Vietnamese people. Hours are 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Sunday, 4:30 to 10 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, closed Monday. It's popular and you have to at least be prepared to wait for a table.

Warning. Don't leave it till ten after seven to get tickets for the seven-thirty show of the movie on a Saturday night or you might be as unlucky as we were.

FAREWELL GIFTS FOR CLIFFORD RONAYNE

Clifford Ronayne, who resigned after serving a term as a school trustee, was the surprised recipient of a number of gifts at the school board meeting last week.

SAC sponsors one man show at Art Gallery

The Squamish Arts Council is proud to present a one man show at the Brackendale Art Gallery this Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

Charles Harper of Toronto, Ont., is currently touring Canada with his show "A Taste of Robert Service" which is a completely memorized dramatized presentation of selected works of Robert Service, the Yukon balladeer, interspersed with humorous comments on his life and times.

Mr. Harper wishes to stress that the evening is an entertainment and not an academic lecture. Judging from the newspaper clippings sent along from various stops across Canada, his show is being extremely well received and the Squamish Arts Council is pleased to have this opportunity of bringing it to the people of Squamish.

Those familiar with Thor Frostev's Brackendale Art Gallery and Teahouse will realize what a perfect setting this should prove to be for such a performance and it is hoped that many will plan to attend.

Those who haven't had the pleasure of visiting the gallery are urged to take this opportunity to do so. It really is an experience.

Those interested in drama or in rejuvenating a drama group in Squamish now that the Squamish Arts Council has a building that can be used for rehearsal might be particularly interested in seeing a professional at work.

Cost for the performance is $2 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens. Time again, 8 p.m. on Saturday, January 19.

Amendment of pollution Control

PERMIT No. 404/P

Pursuant to Section 6 of the Pollution Control Act, 1967

This application is to be filed with the Director, Pollution Control Branch, Parliament Buildings, Victoria,
British Columbia. Any person who qualifies as an objector under section 13 (2) or (3) of the Pollution Control Act, 1967 may, within 30 days of the date of application, or within 30 days of the date of publication in The British Columbia Gazette or in a newspaper, or, where service is required, within 30 days of the serving of a copy of the application, file with the Director an objection in writing to the granting of a permit, stating the manner in which he is affected. Those who do not so qualify may file with the Pollution Control Board an objection in writing under section 13 (6), in the same manner and time period as described above.

I, Horizons West Development Ltd. of No. 1830, 505
Burrard Street, Vancouver, B.C. hereby apply for amendment to Permit No. 404/P issued on 26th May, 1971 in favour of Horizons West Development Ltd.

1. To authorize additional or other works than those previously authorized by deleting that part of section 'd' of the permit which reads "the works authorized to be constructed are a package treatment plant, chlorination facilities, & ground disposal field" and substituting in its place the following "the works authorized to be constructed are package treatment plants, chlorination facilities, & ground disposal fields."
3. To increase or decrease the "quantity to be discharged" by deleting that part of section 'b' of the permit which reads
"the quantity of effluent which may be discharged is 26,000 gallons per day" and substituting in its place the following:
the quantity of effluent which may be discharged is 65,000 gallons per day.
5. To extend the time fixed for the completion of the works by deleting that part of section 'g' of the permit which reads "the works are to be constructed on or before September 30th, 1973" and substituting in its place the following: the works are to be constructed on or before 31st December, 1976.

How Squamish celebrated the New Year

MARKING THE ADVENT of the New Year at the golf club were Bill and Billie Kibsey and Pat Brohman.

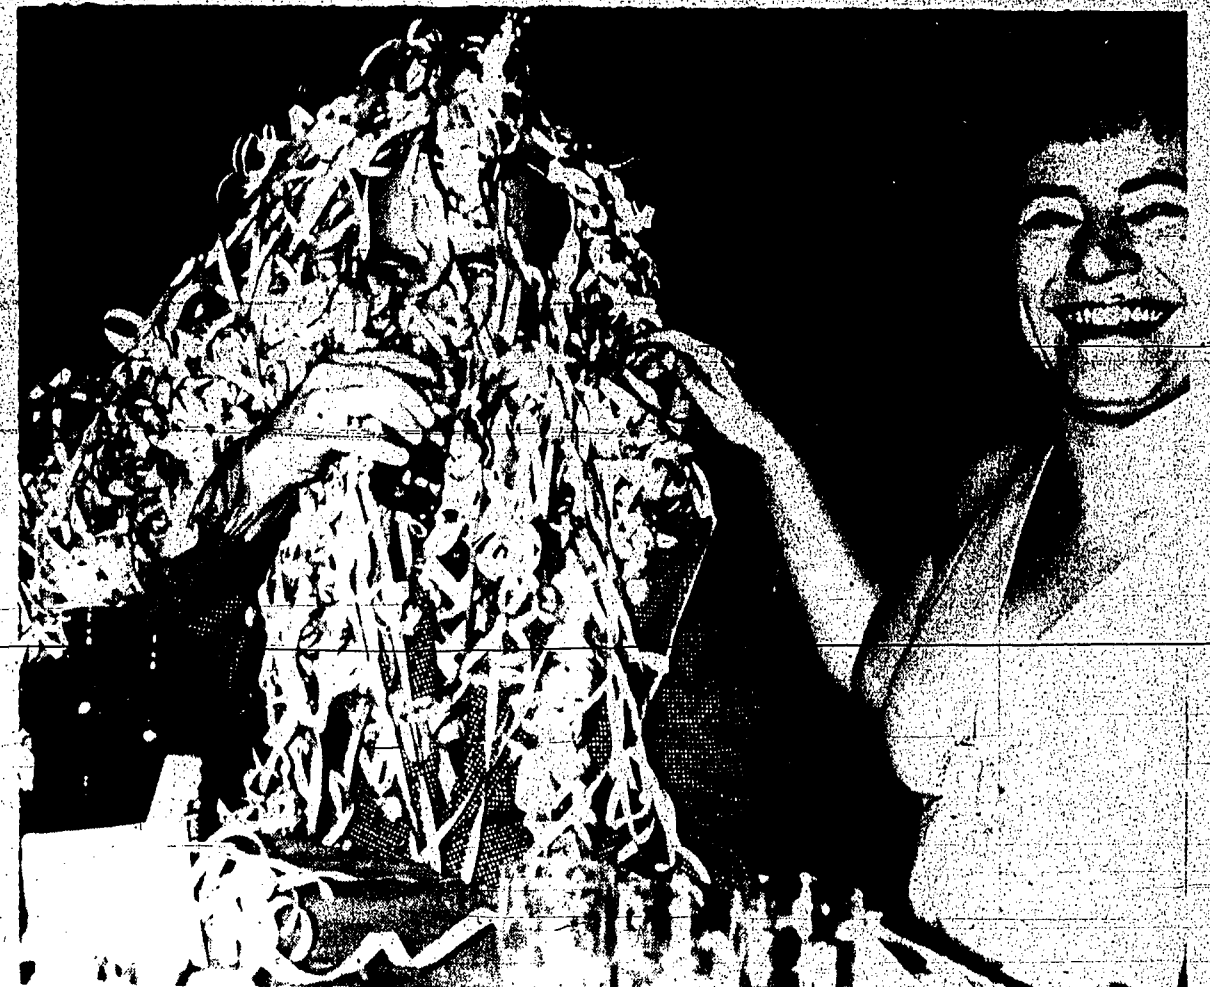

RICK AND ELAINE HUNTER and the Antoshes celebrating New Year at the Coach Inn.

MR. AND MRS. GARY HENDRICKSON at the New Year dance at the Chieftain.

The square dancers were really swinging it at the Legion Hall on New Year's Eve.

Guess who's hiding behind that serpentine. Bob Smith of course!

Jane Walker and Al Shemko really swinging at the Chieftain's New Year party.

MRS. RAY BRYANT and John Buckham at the Chieftain New Year party.

THE MENSINGERS were holding a family party at the Curling Club to mark the advent of the New Year.

AND DOWN AT the Chieftain Norma Kindree and Steve Rizun celebrated to the music of the spirited orchestra.

Prefer land use contracts

Discussion concerning the need for hydrants in subdivisions or on areas sited for condominiums and apartments prompted Alderman J.L. Boscarol to propose that plans for this type of development should be referred to engineers to ensure there was adequate provision for water mains, sewers, etc.

It was pointed out that these requirements must be met in subdivisions but in apartment or condominium areas it might be wiser to go to a land use contract instead of rezoning as this would be the easiest way to control the development. Boscarol was concerned about the fact there was no hydrant in the new apartment project and that one would have to be placed at the end of McNamee or on Cleveland Ave. as the main to the apartment complex was not large enough to handle a hydrant.

He felt these should be provided for before the building was permitted to be constructed.

SIGNING THE NEW salary agreement between the school board and the teachers T. B. M. Fougberg, chairman of the board and Dick Eccles for the teachers while Trustee Les Rush and teacher Bill Drew look on. Standing up at the rear are teacher Nelson Winterburn and District Superintendent Harry Cullis.

Wage agreements signed with teachers, maintenance

The Board of School Trustees and representatives of both groups of employees covered by agreements signed 1974 contracts on Wednesday, January 9.

Negotiations with the Howe Sound Teachers' Association began on September 21, as required by the Public Schools Act. After a series of meetings the unresolved agreement was referred to conciliation. Former Richmond District Superintendent of Schools, Lt. Col. J. N. Burnett, who was appointed conciliator, held two meetings with the board and the teachers. During these meetings agreement was reached on all points on the agreement but the salary scale. The scale was established by an arbitration board hearing held at Squamish on December 4.

| Cat. 1         | Cat. 2     | Cat. 3     | Cat. 4     | Cat. 5     | Cat. 6     |

The agreement covers 130 teachers in the district. Acting for the Howe Sound Teachers' Association were Richard Eccles, Nelson Winterburn and Charlie Brown.

Negotiations with the Howe Sound School Employees' Association commenced on November 1. Several meetings were held and the results of a survey of wages currently being paid in the school district were considered. Negotiations were concluded on December 27, and the new agreement signed January 9.

The 1974 rates of pay with 1973 rates in brackets for the major categories covering the 70 non-teaching employees are as follows:

|                    | Minimum per hour | Maximum per hour |
|--------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Custodian I        | 4.55 (4.07)      | 4.55 (4.07)      |
| Custodian II       | 4.50 (4.02)      | 4.50 (4.02)      |

| School Aide        | 2.53 (2.28)      | 3.96 (3.28)      |

Acting for the Howe Sound School Employees' Association were John Fryer, Mrs. Edith McCawley, Frank Downing and Arie Hoogenboom.

Representing the board in reaching agreement with both groups were Trustees T. J. MacDonald, and L. A. Rush, District superintendent of schools, H. E. Cullis, and secretary-treasurer, F. D. Ross.

Fougberg again chairman

T.B.M. Fougberg was elected chairman of the Board of School Trustees for Howe Sound School District No. 48 at the first meeting of the year last Wednesday and Mrs. Margaret Marchant was elected vice-chairman.

A number of committees were appointed with Mrs. P. Shore and W.V. Manson named to the Building and Grounds Committee; Mrs. Marchant and Mrs. Shore to the Public Relations Committee; T.J. MacDonald and T.B.M. Fougberg to the Capilano College Council; Mrs. Marchant and L. Rush to the Advisory Planning Commission; L. Rush and W.V. Manson to the Recreation and Adult Education Committee and W.V. Manson was appointed to the Safety Committee.

The school board was advised that the site selected for a school in Brackendale has been reserved for a park and another site, 20 acres, immediately north of the present Brackendale School, will be applied for.

The committee to work on the Ecological Sanctuary will consist of two members each from the council and from the school board and the director.

The board decided to order two new school buses to replace two others which will be put on standby and extra use.

Three young people, two from Squamish and one from Pemberton, have been named to take part in the Young Voyageur program, an exchange between British Columbia and Quebec. They are Jane Ann Manson and Steven Moyes of Squamish and Brian Webb of Pemberton.

Re-apply for park lands

The Environment and Land Use Committee has written regarding green belt lands and council last week decided to resubmit applications for lands which have already been made.

This would include lands along both banks of the Mamquam River from Mashiter Creek to the Canyon.

Outdoors

By HANK

The clear cold weather has given everyone and even the wild animals a break after a month of snow and rain. With clean ice on the lakes and ponds everyone who can get hold of a pair of skates is out taking advantage of it. Others are trying out the ski hills, and some snowmobiling on the higher back roads. Anyone driving up into the hills should keep a sharp lookout for ice on the road, in some cases completely covering the road. This happened when the weather turned real cold when the water was running down the road turning it into a sheet of ice which could put even a four wheel drive over the hill.

When you get higher up some of the roads there is a light covering of new snow on the ice so you really have to watch. I took a hike up Mashiter Creek then came back below base camp then down the road and over to the Mud Creek flats, hiked all over the flats trying to find where the deer were holed up. Saw very little deer sign but found coyote tracks everywhere I went. I noticed bobcat tracks out on the flats also a few rabbit tracks, those rabbits will be having a tough time with the coyotes and bobcats after them. I believe a family of four coyotes made all the tracks on the Mud Creek flats, as they can cover a lot of ground in a night.

Took a trip up behind the Chief the other day to get some pictures and check on the game, went to the top of the high point south of the forestry lookout station and had a good view and took several pictures then went down to the lookout. When I got down to the saddle between the high point and the lookout I was surprised to see the tracks of young children. It looked like a family had been out hiking. I could see that they had come in on the logging road that circles back from the main road that goes up above Shannon Falls. It's good that people are hiking more than they used to. People that ski or snowshoe get plenty of exercise but people that can not follow either can hike and get in good shape.

Two mountain climbing friends of mine have bought bear paw snowshoes. One of them told me that she had found that the bear paws put them in far better shape for a summer of mountain climbing than skis did as they really develop the leg muscles. A person taking his first trip on snowshoes will discover a lot of muscles that he never knew he had and will be sore and stiff. But don't give up, the soreness will wear off and after a few trips you will really enjoy it and will notice that your weight has come down a bit and your clothes are getting pretty loose. The main thing is not to go too far the first trip out as you become overtired and that makes beginners lose all interest.

The thing to do is to get out as often as you can and gradually increase the length of your hikes as you get in better shape. It used to take at least three weeks for me to get in shape when I started trapping in the fall and I was out every day. By the middle of January any extra weight I had put on was gone and I could go all day and still have plenty of energy left to dress any fur I brought in, make supper and wash the dishes and get ready to hit the trail at daylight next morning. I was never tired the morning after a hard day on snowshoes then but for the last six years I have noticed that even after getting out in the hills as much as I could and getting into pretty good shape if I make a hard long trip it takes a couple days to pick up steam again.

A lot of hikers only notice the view as they hike along but they are missing a lot. In winter they should make a game of watching for birds and animals and their tracks and identifying them; yes, even bird tracks. This adds a lot of interest to a hike. There are good books on birds and animals to refer to and if hiking in a group you can set up a contest to see who is the most observant.

In summer you can add flowers and trees and shrubs to the list, again there are books to refer to and some are small enough to carry along on a hike. Of course a person should always carry a camera and a light pair of binoculars, as they are the means of bringing some of the things you see home with you and the binoculars let you see a lot more than you would without them.

The deer have been scattered all over the hills, the snow is frozen so hard that even the big bucks are walking on top of it and they are free to roam anywhere they want to. They always leave their winter range when under conditions like we have now, even in the worst winters and will feed far from the winter range until another heavy snowstorm hits them then they return to the winter range or yard as we call them.

They will be back in the yard before the snow gets too deep for them to make it. I watched their movements during the winter for a good many years and never found a deer that didn't make it back to a yard. They do not always return to the yard they left when a storm hits, I think they head for the nearest yard.

I know of one case where a small bunch of deer headed down to a yard and found it logged and all died trying to get over a ridge into another yard but the snow was too deep for them. The old-timers thought that the deer moving out of their winter range whenever they could was nature's way of conserving the feed in the range.

Get off to a good start. See your Autoplan agent NOW!

To operate your car after February 28, it will need to be covered by Autoplan, your new B.C. auto insurance.

This insurance is now available from nearly 1,000 Autoplan agents throughout B.C. provincial Motor Vehicle Licence Offices and independent insurance agents authorized by the Insurance Corporation of B.C.

Even with all these Autoplan outlets, you could still run into frustrating line-ups and delays if you wait until the deadline draws near. Your best bet is to do it right away!

By now, you should have received your Autoplan application forms in the mail, one for each motor vehicle and trailer you own. Take each vehicle form to your Autoplan agent right away. With the computer printed information on them, together with a few facts from you, he can quickly calculate your basic premium, advise you on optional extensions, and supply your 1974 vehicle registration cards and licence plates or decals. He can also arrange time payments for your insurance premium, if you wish. If there is any incorrect information printed on your form, your Autoplan agent can make the necessary corrections.

If, for any reason, you have not received an Autoplan application form for each vehicle you own, just take your last year's motor vehicle registrations or licence transfer certificates to your Autoplan agent. He'll see that you get the coverage you need.

It is possible to obtain Autoplan insurance on some types of vehicles by mail. This is explained in the booklet that accompanies each Autoplan form. But mailed applications must be sent in by February 1st to ensure you are covered by March 1st.

It is important that you act now. Your Autoplan agent is ready and able to provide you with valuable assistance at no extra cost to you. But he will be pressed for time as March 1st approaches. See him early and avoid the last-minute rush.

Let us show you how to defer your income tax.

Do you want to pay less income tax for 1973? Of course you do! Then why not take a few moments to drop in and talk about Registered Retirement Savings Plans.

Here's how they work. Under the present income tax regulations you are entitled to set aside a tax-deferrable amount for your retirement years. This amount is 20% of your earned income up to a maximum of $2,500 for people who already participate in a company pension plan and up to $4,000 for self-employed people.

These tax deferrals, together with any income and capital gains they earn, don't become taxable until you withdraw them; and if you wait until you retire, chances are your tax rate will be lower than it is now.

So you defer income tax today and you build a nest egg for tomorrow.

We can help you chart your R.R.S.P. program. Don't let this opportunity slip by. Your plan must be registered before the end of February to qualify for your 1973 tax deferral. Drop in and see us soon.

Police Court

The following cases were heard recently before Judge C.I. Walker in Squamish.

On December 18 Terry Cyr pleaded guilty to being a minor in unlicensed premises and to hitch-hiking contrary to the Motor Vehicle Act. He was fined $25 and received a suspended sentence on the hitch-hiking charge. The hitch-hiking charge was laid after Cyr had been told by the police not to hitch-hike.

Michael Montgomery received a $300 fine for driving with a blood alcohol reading of more than .08.

Edward Reynolds pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a public place by fighting and was fined $50.

Michael Foulkes pleaded guilty to possession of stolen property under $200. Foulkes was apprehended carrying a bar stool from Christina Inn. He stated he had consumed 20 beers in celebration of turning 19. Foulkes received an Absolute Discharge.

Edward Kohut and Arthur Richardson pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle on a railway contrary to the Railways Act. The accused stated they were searching for a Christmas tree near Lion's Bay, got stuck on an unused trail and tried to get out via the railway tracks where they became stuck.

The train was held up for 1 1/2 hours and the vehicle had to be removed by a crane mounted on one of the engines. Kohut and Richardson were each fined $100.

Eugene Roy received a fine of $350 for driving with a blood alcohol reading of more than .08.

Steven Randall and Maurice Ratcliffe pleaded not guilty to theft under $50 the charge having arisen when the defendants were found with a wheel assembly in their pick-up truck. The property was taken from a Woodfibre home. The defendants were found guilty and each received a nine month Conditional Discharge.

On December 20 Robert F. Whissell was found guilty of attempted breaking and entering, the case having been heard November 27. He was sentenced to nine months on this charge and nine months concurrent on a charge of possession of stolen property, heard on September 28.

Robert Jung was fined $250 for driving without insurance and $300 for driving with a blood alcohol reading of more than .08.

Clifford Spivey was fined $250 for driving without insurance and $35 for driving without a driver's licence.

Gerald Dodds received a $300 fine after being charged with driving while under suspension.

Douglas Warnock received a $300 fine for refusing to blow. The case had been adjourned from November 6.

Lawrence Galliard was fined $50 for allowing an unlicensed minor to drive a motor vehicle.

On January 4 David Horyza pleaded not guilty to charges of common assault and causing a disturbance under the Public Schools Act, the charges having arisen as a result of an altercation at the Howe Sound Secondary School. The case was remanded until January 8 for decision at which time Horyza was found guilty of both charges. He received a $350 fine on a charge of common assault and one year suspended sentence on the causing a disturbance charge with the terms that he remain off school property, keep the peace and be of good behaviour and not consume liquor until he turns 19.

On January 5 Leroy Houston was charged with impaired driving. He received a $350 fine and a one month suspension.

Lloyd Laramie pleaded guilty to impaired driving. Laramie was arrested following a chase

The amount of fur exported from Yukon increased in 1972 25 per cent over the year previous. The value of Yukon raw fur marketed through the Ontario Trappers Association Fur Sales Service in 1972 amounted to $195,637. Animals trapped in Yukon include beaver, fisher, lynx, fox, marten, wild mink, muskrat, wolverine, otter, weasel and squirrel.

which ensued after he pulled out from a roadblock on Cleveland Avenue January 1 and drove at speeds of up to 80 miles per hour to Garibaldi Estates where he was apprehended. He admitted to consuming ten bottles of beer and had a blood alcohol reading of .19. He received a $400 fine and a six month suspension.

Jack Martin was fined $300 for having a blood alcohol reading of more than .08 and received one month's suspension.

Joseph Googel was charged with having a blood alcohol reading of more than .08 and was fined $250 and given a one month suspension.

Keith Campbell received a fine of $250 for having a blood alcohol reading of more than .08 and received a two month suspension. The vehicle Campbell was driving received $1000 worth of damage when it went out of control at the cemetery.

Edwin Cockrill was convicted of impaired driving and having a blood alcohol reading of more than .08. He was remanded until February 26 for sentencing.

Woodfibre workers serve notice

Pulp, Paper and Wood workers of Canada members at the Rayonier Woodfibre pulp mill served 72-hour strike notice last Friday over the company's refusal to pay for travelling time.

Since Rayonier phased out the last of its townsite in September of last year, employees have been forced to find accommodation on the other side of Howe Sound and use the company-operated ferry to reach the mill.

PPWC Local 3 president Eugene Marcotte said the men spend about an hour every working day travelling to and from the mill by ferry.

He said the men wanted some recognition from the company for the time lost similar to that received by loggers, who are paid from the time they arrive at the common travelling point.

In a ballot spread over the preceding four days the mill employees voted 74 per cent in favor of strike action.

Marcotte said the local's rejection of the master industry agreement yielding a 17 per cent wage increase over two years is because of the ferry time issue.

Alta Lake News

By JENNY BUSDON

Conditions and weather couldn't have been better for the 1974 Can-Am ski racing series held at Whistler last week (January 8 and 9). The course, hard packed following our long sunny spell, gave the more than 100 North American racers ideal conditions for the event, co-billed as the Shell Canadian Alpine championships.

Many of the racers expressed that the course was one of the top downhill runs in North America — and no one could dispute this. The B.C. girls really put in a great show on Tuesday. Top B.C. racer was Jane Tidball of Fort Langley who placed sixth, followed by West Vancouver's Susan O'Sullivan in seventh place. Other B.C. finishers were Sarah Sotow of North Vancouver, 10th; Ruth Niedermayer, 11th; Helen McDonald of North Vancouver, 13th; Martha Toy of Vancouver, 16th; and June Brandon of North Vancouver, 20th.

The course was so fantastically fast that in my book anyone venturing on the run at the speeds those racers were clocking, deserves a medal. No wonder some of the competitors feel queasy as they stand at the starting gate awaiting their signal to lurch towards the course.

Sad news of the event was the death of 22-year-old Kent Yale, a member of the U.S. ski team. He had been practising on the downhill runs Sunday afternoon (Jan. 6) when the accident occurred. It seems he was making a curve just before the finish, lost his balance, made a quick recovery movement, and lost a ski. He then took a tremendous fall at about 60 miles an hour before sliding limply down the trail into a gully filled with soft snow.

Willy Schaeffer, the race's chief safety official had nothing but praise for first aid efforts and said the Ski Patrol and two doctors were on the scene within minutes and oxygen was flown within 10 minutes. Yale was given artificial respiration at the scene and in the helicopter that flew him to Vancouver General Hospital but died Monday at the hospital of a brain injury.

On January 19 and 20 Rainbow Ski will be holding a jump tournament with competitors travelling from Prince George, Revelstoke, Washington and Vancouver area to compete in this event. On January 19 competitors will be training for the actual tournament to be staged on the Sunday and the event will be starting on the 20th at 12 noon sharp.

Classes competing will be novice, midjet, juvenile and junior. This is always an exciting event to watch and Rainbow Ski say that this year they are well prepared for the jump meet, having made many improvements.

The fire truck and volunteer fire department have been kept very busy this past week. On Wednesday, January 9, eight condominiums in the Alpine Village complex were heavily damaged when fire broke out in one of the units.

The flames were roaring uncontrollably at about 3 p.m. but the tremendous effort by the Alta Lake Fire Dept. and local volunteers soon had the fire contained to four of the units. The other four were damaged by smoke and water. It is not known at this time the actual cause of the fire, as the manager of the complex was not prepared to issue a statement at this time.

It is certainly great to see everyone rallying around to help in such desperate circumstances. I saw locals who had just left the hill, still in ski boots and expensive ski wear, stop their cars without hesitation, and run to help; also saw one very wet Murray Campbell, who spent a good three-quarters of an hour on one of the slippery metal roofs aiming a hose into close proximity of blazing flames and at the same time dodging other hoses from down below — and on many occasions Murray and Helmut Salmhofer completely disappeared into thick black smoke.

Other volunteers smashed windows venturing inside the burning mass of timber, hopefully to control the fire from the interior of the buildings — couldn't see who these brave souls were, but certainly deserve a mention. All 50 or so volunteers that eventually controlled the fire, plus the help of Pemberton Fire Dept., deserve a big thank you. It could have been a major disaster without their fine ability.

If this fire wasn't enough for one week — on Friday, Jan. 11 at 1 p.m. a fire started in the small gothic arch cabin just opposite Union 76 service station. Again the fire dept. was quickly on hand and the usual good Samaritan volunteers ran to the scene. I really don't know what the actual extent of this fire will be, for as I am writing this the cabin is still burning, lots of smoke, but one cannot actually see just to what extent.

Very strange — the fire department always seem to be busier during the winter months and yet one would think it would be the other way around.

EVANS MILL CLOSED FOR TWO WEEKS

The Evans Products Ltd. sawmill at Pemberton closed for two weeks at the beginning of last week due to a depressed market for studs, according to a company official.

The closure came at the start of the new year, resulting in a layoff of 20 production workers of the International Woodworkers of America.

The 20 workers were on curtailed shifts due to the market situation.

The sawmill was closed pending the restarting of the planer mill in mid-January, according to the company spokesman. Total layoff since the planer mill was shut down in late fall is about 100 IWA men.

Pemberton Council briefs

The 294th meeting of the Pemberton village council commenced with clerk D. Proudlock conducting the oath of office ceremony for new Alderman J. M. Hustin.

Alderman Underhill moved, Alderman Pagdin seconded, that Gordon Sangster accept the position of mayor for a two year term. Mr. Sangster accepted and was duly installed following the oath of office.

It was passed that Len Pickell be accepted as an Alderman. Mr. Pickell also took the Oath of Office. The vacancy of mayor and one alderman occurred following the municipal elections in 1973. It was the responsibility of the 1974 council to appoint one mayor and one alderman.

Alderman Underhill questioned a bill from Web Engineering for fees. The clerk will ask for a further breakdown of the bill.

Council recommended that Mayor Sangster continue to represent the village on the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District and that the alternate be Alderman Pagdin.

A letter was read from Hugh Naylor, requesting a lease of the 5 acres (lot 24, district 165) owned by the village, for grazing purposes. Council will first view the property before making any decisions.

Bylaws 85 and 86 have now received final approval and have been registered. The first bylaw affects the proposed shopping centre of Pemberton Plaza, and the second, a proposed motel site on the Parkson property.

Council agreed to carry on the lease of the courtroom at a new rent of $100 per month.

Mayor Sangster reported briefly on a meeting held with government officials and local representatives re the erosion control of the Lillooet and Birkenhead Rivers affecting Mt. Currie reserves.

Application will be made for re-newal of the Pollution Control Permit for the proposed sewage lagoon.

Some discussion on the green belt acquisition. Council will continue to urge joining of Nairn Falls Campsite with One Mile Lake Park through the regional district.

The following committees were announced:

Water — Alderman George Underhill.

Fire Department — Alderman Mike Pagdin.

Health Centre and Municipal Building — Alderman Len Pickell.

Roads — Alderman Jim Hustin.

A letter of appreciation will be sent to Bob Priest for his services as alderman in the past years.

Your heart beats 100,000 times a day and pumps 4,300 gallons of blood. Help your heart by helping the Heart Fund.

From the Pemberton Valley

By Shirley Henry

The first meeting of 1974 was held by the Pemberton and District Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday January 8, at Signal Hill Elementary School with 13 in attendance.

Treasurer John Cosulich reported that there were now 11 paid up members. A complete financial statement will be given at the next meeting.

J. Cosulich reported he had no further word regarding the relocation of the Land Registry Office from Kamloops to Vancouver.

President Len Bellevue read the list of committee chairmen decided upon at the directors meeting.

The directors recommended that the general meeting elect an entertainment committee, set up a calendar of events, and that an additional director be added from the Mt. Currie and D'Arcy area.

S. Henry will compile a list of events in the area to be submitted to the Travel Bureau for the Spring and Summer 1974 Calendar of Events for B.C. An updated list of the various clubs, organizations and business will also be completed by Mrs. Henry.

A letter was read from the Minister of Highways re Suicide Hill. The chamber felt perhaps that the minister had never even seen the said hill. It was moved that a letter be sent to the minister with suggestions of alternatives to eliminate the hazardous hill.

A letter of inquiry for information about the church at Skookumchuck from the Fraser Regional Library in Chilliwack was read and will be referred to Chief Allan Stager.

A letter written to the BCR by the Whistler Chamber in regards to the recent washout, and the BCR's refusal to carry food products to the Whistler area was read. The Pemberton Chamber will send a letter to the BCR supporting the Whistler Chamber.

Mr. Packer reported on a meeting with representatives of a Paymaster Protection Agency and suggested if the Chamber was interested the firm would attend a meeting and give a demonstration.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all those people and especially the Squamish Legion for the very nice party for me Friday, 4th of January. Also a thank you to all those that gave their encouragement and donations. It is truly a help and will give me added strength in my representing Canada in the Commonwealth Games.
