"Little Gibraltar" arrives at the Mining Museum

The Mining Museum at Britannia Beach was the scene of excitement Thursday, July 31, as "Little Gibraltar" arrived, a 61/2-ton sample of ore taken from Cominco's Sullivan Mine in Kimberley, B.C., "Little Gib" is aptly named because of its immense size.

The mine from which it was taken is the world's largest leadzinc-silver-iron mine. It produces 10,000 tons of ore daily which is 1,500 times the amount contained in "Little Gibraltar." It is a very good example of "banded ore" which is a highly complex ore in which the metal values are ultimately

"Little Gibraltar" has had quite a travelling history. Originally, it was moved from Kimberley by Johnston Terminals of Vancouver to the basement of the B.C. Pavillion at the PNE. For approximately ten years, the rock sat here until, at the request of Cominco, and in co-operation with the manageress of the Pavillion, Camillia Fleming, it was moved, once again by Johnston Terminals, and presented as a gift to the Mining Museum.

It has taken over four years for a variety of interested persons and businesses to get the museum going. Time and money have contributed to the successful opening and operation. Jack Greenwood, who is the president of the Mining Museum Society, is also president of Nelson Machinery Co., which has recently donated $10,000 to the museum. This is only one of many contributions they have made since the museum's conception in June of 1971. As one of the directors of the museum, Jim Brohman stated, "Without this firm, this museum would not exist."

Along with "Little Gibraltar" came a flat deck trailer loaded with rubber tires donated by another outfit, Kaiser Resources of Sparwood, B.C. Kaiser is the largest coal mine in Canada.

The tires are the biggest in the world and are used on vehicles the tires weigh 8,000 pounds Tinney and Ingrid Pearson;

$15,000 each. There is sufficient rubber in one large tire alone to make 400 ordinary passenger car tires or enough tires to outfit 100 cars. The largest tire is officially called "4000 by 57" and its the biggest one produced

Eventually, the tires will be bolted to the rock wall below the mining museum and run parallel to the highway. They will represent the different tires used on the various equipment currently found at any open pit mining site in B.C.

It was a rather major task transporting the tires to Britannia as the trailer carrying the load had to be specially outfitted, taking into consideration clearance, support, and balance of the load. It was the United Tire Company of Canada that organized the move from Sparwood and hauled the tires into Britannia. Because of their immensity, the tires had to be unloaded with a special crane.

In June alone, over 1,000 school students toured through the museum. Also, in July, many groups of children from summer playground programs have made outings at the museum. As the museum will be remaining open all year round, there will be ample opportunity for further school groups to take advantage of this very educational tour.

The opening of the museum has provided employment for a variety of people. University and high school students and a few past employees of Anaconda are_sharing the duties of guiding, providing information about mining, and running the different mining machines.

Beverley Crowe, Leona Murray and Kim Thompson are the Squamish university students employed; Mark Raiston, Allan Tryon, Sandra Galloway, Chris Sumpton, George Halliday, Jennifer Sanderson, Debra Forster, Randy Gladstone and Elizabeth Nonay are the Vancouver university students. All students are paid by the B.C. government, Department of Labour. From Squamish, there are carrying up to 200,000 tons of high school students Joanne. Valleys. coal. Ranging downwards in Deno, Diana Hinde, Dave size from a diameter of 13 feet, Smith, Ralph Schmich, Sean nual holidays.

> John Cochrane is the construction supervisor; Frank Rak and Dave Mullen, both of whom are former employees of Anaconda, assist in above ground operations; Jose Diaz and Bert Blanchette are involved with the underground tours and moving displays; and Clem Godin and Frank Columbus handle running the underground equipment.

On the administrative end of things is Cal Opre as managing director while Pat Brohman is administrative assistant.

The provincial government has recently donated a small truck to the student employees to be used in collecting artifacts throughout the Lower Mainland and other parts of B.C. from other museums that are closing. As of yet, trips have been limited due to financial consideration

As a reminder to all those people who have yet to see the mining museum, it is open seven days a week, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Admission is $1.75 for adults, 75 cents for students with cards and senior citzens; and 50 cents for kids. There are also group and family rates. The tour altogether takes only about 45 minutes. It is certainly a worthwhile venture for those who are unfamiliar, as well as those who are, with the ins and outs of underground mining

He was in top form on Saturday, winning the axe throwing with a bullseye and good for 13 of a possible 15 points. He was first in the hand bucking with a time of 59 seconds. He also placed third in the obstacle speed bucking.

The weather was cool and at times "liquid" sunshine was the offering. The clown supreme, Paul Mackenzie suggested everyone think "sun" but somehow it never quite broke through. It certainly didn't dampen the large crowd's enthusiasm as they cheered their favorite contestant on to vic-

Winner of the Underhand chopping event and authorized by CANLOG as a Canadian Championship was Jim Alexander from New Zealand, chopping through his log in 19.9 seconds. He was presented with the Labatt Breweries trophy. Brian Herlihy was next with a time of 20.3; followed by Ken Nelson 21.9 and in fourth with a time of 22.2 was Gordie Hart.

The Lecky Realty Ltd. trophy went to World Champion Ron Hartill in the axe throwing event with his 13 big points; Ken Nelson was second with 11 points, lan Moratti nine for third, and Eric Holmquist fourth with seven points.

The novice climbing event was a thriller as the big trees were mighty slippery in places. In first place was Terry Patrick with a time of 25 seconds, Mel Linn made it in 27 seconds, third was James Bastion in 34 and Lloyd Wade 35 seconds for fourth place. They were timed to the 80-foot marker and Terry Patrick picked up the Halray trophy for his winning time.

For a change of pace, the gals took to the field for the ladies hand bucking contest. Last year's winners, Marg Jeffries and Jean Boyko emerged as winners once again but their times were slightly slower at 16.5 seconds. They were the recipients of the Squamish Bakery trophy. In second place was Giant Johnston and Midget Moratti with a time of 23.2 seconds and third place went to locals Sandy Owen and Renee McIntosh in 33 seconds.

CRA records price increases

The Canadian Restaurant Association has released its latest figures on price sampling in its July-August edition of its national report.

The regular quarterly sampling of prices to the industry was stable on some items such as bread, coffee, and milk, but large increases were registered for steak, bacon, tomatoes and Between April 1 and July 10, the largest increases in price were noticed with potatoes (100%), tomatoes (47%), side bacon (41%), and steak (36%). Decreases were noted in such things as sugar (24%), pure vegetable shortening (13%) and garbage bags (10%).

McIntosh was in fine voice keeping the show moving at a brisk pace. At the start of the show, he introduced Mayor Dave Stewart to the large crowd. Stewart reminded everyone they were attending the largest logging show in Canada. He said it was his pleasure to introduce a great Canadian and native British Columbian, Stuart Keate, publisher of the Vancouver Sun, to officially open the show.

Keate said there was a tremendous community spirit in Squamish and it was his and Mrs. Keate's pleasure to be taking part in the Loggers Sports. He started the sports day "with a bang" when he "shot". the top off a specially marked

Mrs. Keate also assisted in Keate and Mayor and Mrs. Stewart were escorted to their place of honor to enjoy the afternoon's festivities.

Timber Queen Colleen Morgan along with senior prinprincess Leigha Armstrong were introduced to the gathering by M.C. Al McIntosh at the beginning of the show. They were kept busy throughout the afternoon with the pleasant task of presenting trophies to the winner. Also introduced was Miss Pemberton Sandra Rivett and her two princesses.

At half time the crowd was treated to a giant cleanup program when Robbie McPherson used the loader with ease to load the logs and fallen trees onto a waiting logging truck. He made it all look so easy but special talents are needed to operate the machinery.

The halftime show with the famous Flying Logger, Rudi Bauer had to be delayed as Rudi didn't think he was going to make it. Poor flying weather at Mahatta River made it impossible for him to get his own plane out.

Rather than disappoint the McIntosh stating she was the plane and completed some very spectacular stunts. Al Hendrickson explained the manoeuvres to the audience. Later, Rudi was introduced and he apologized for his limited show saying it was the first time he had ever flown the plane. Everyone felt he had done a great job.

Hand bucking, cutting a round off a log with a bucking saw instead of a power saw, was Ron Hartill's specialty once again and he was awarded the Vancouver Equipment Company trophy with a time of 59 seconds. Next was Norm Blozenna 1:21; third Don Johnston 1:24.5; and fourth Peter Holmquist 1:29.3.

Novice birling was a crowd pleaser and winning the Garibaldi Glass award was judging the floats for the parade Danny Herrling and in second earlier in the day. Mr. and Mrs. place G. Hanson and D. Hanson in third.

The obstacle pole bucking event, had the contestant running up a slender log balancing on a big one, cutting an end off and running back to the starting. Hotel trophy with a time of 14 seconds was Barry Smith and right behind him was Armand Didier in 14.2 seconds. Marv Trudeau was next 14.9 seconds, and Brian Corture 20.1 for fourth place.

M.C. Al McIntosh was pleased to introduce the new B.C. Junior Girls Lacrosse champions to the crowd. Congratulations were given to the Squamish Lionettes on their big win over Victoria earlier in World champion tree climber, Mary Trudeau thrilled the crowd as he scampered up the 100 foot tree and down again in 38.2 seconds to capture the Overwaitea Food trophy. Armand Didier's time was 42.4 for second place, third was M. Rogerson in 44.9 and Jack Adams in 52 seconds gave him fourth place.

A "lady" strolled up to Al

"climbing oil" with her and was. ready to do her "thing." McIntosh finally agreed to let her climb but — only part way up the tree. She kept the crowd in "stitches" as she chatted with Al and finally climbed to the top, where she dropped her safety belt and spurs and other "unmentionables." Not content just to stand, she had to do a little dance on top of the tree and "show off" by standing on her head. The crowd gasped as she jumped off the tree only to slide down a wire to the ground. "Copper Canyon Sal" Art Williams had once again thrilled everyone with his famous routine.

The Point Grey Towing trophy went to Mike Hurley in the Class A birling event, dum! ping Paul Hurley while both performed on the "little dynamite" log. In third place was Rob Smith and Owen Carney was fourth.

A record was set in the standing block chop as Mery Jensen from Australia chopped through tess Sandra Jackson and junior point. Winner of the Chienami , the solock and 15 seconds . In a real team effort starting with the second place was B. Herlihy 18; followed by C. Stewart 19.3 and A. Harley with 20.8 seconds. He received the Garibaldi Building Supplies trophy:

The chockerman's race had to be one of the more exciting of the afternoon. Each contestant had to race over a narrow and slippery log placed across the birling pond while carrying heavy cables. They then had to jump over two logs and the third one, they had to pull the cable over it and lock the shackle. They then had to leap back over the logs and run over the log (placed over the birling pond) to the finish line. A few of the fellows landed in the pond (the kids especially loved this) but still scrambled along to finish the race. Two contestants, Brian Christiansen and Armand Didier were tied for first place with a time of 27.4 seconds. They had to do it all over again and in another close finish, large crowd, he borrowed a only woman tree climber in the Brian came out on top. Besides winning the Shell Canada trophy, he also won four tires donated by the North Shore Firestone Tire Centre. In third place was Barry Smith 27.9 and Rob Smith in 28.5 seconds.

Although hampered by a badly sprained ankle, Paul Mackenzie never let it bother him as "Paula" the clown amused everyone during the whole show. In the past few years he has missed only one performance. He is a "home grown" product but now resides in Oregon.

The last event of the day, the seven-man team relay had to be the most exciting of all. The two teams competing were from Squamish and Vancouver Island.

The contestants had to climb a tree, obstacle pole bucking. underhand chop, throw an axe. race over the pond with chokers, power saw_cut/and finally with the springboard chip on a slender pole set in the middle of the grounds.

If you think Squamish Day was a success, remember it was a Loggers Sports Committee, the timekeepers, fencing crew, trophy committee, ticket sales. button committee, the performers, the service clubs, and hundreds of other hard working citizens. President of the Squamish Day committee Al McIntosh called upon past chairman Owen Carney to the mike where he was presented with an engraved plaque thanking Owen for the three years 1971 to 74 he had served as president. Mrs. Sandy Carney was happy to present Mrs. Linda Roche with a bouquet of summer flowers for the four years she served as secretary of the committee.

Fougherg also advises in his capacity as chairman of the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District that on Sept. 7 at 2 p.m. at the Christiana Inn, the SLRD will be sponsoring a public meeting to officially turn over the 'reigns' from the board to the newly-elected mayor and council. ;

There is hope that Municipal Affairs Minister James Lorimer will be in attendance. It will be interesting to see whether he keeps in-mind-this commitment for we have been told on other occasions he would come and speak to the people up here, but one excuse after another has always been used, raising hopes, but these hopes being quickly washed away when the minister never did make such an appearance.

Nevertheless, the meeting should be one well worth attending to cheer and pass on enthusiasm to our new municipal council. These members will need all the encouragement and inspiration from those of us who will be observing closely over the coming period of time, for in their next two years of office there will be many difficult obstacles to be faced in order to get Whistler on the right track and headed towards a progressive, thriving town.

-More on the election: On Sept. 1 at 11 a.m. in the Garibaldi Cafeteria, an all candidates meeting has been set up by the Alta Lake District Ratepayers' Association. It will be at this time when we can all hear what our prospective mayor and aldermen have to say on their thinking for the future of Whistler — it is an important meeting so all of us that are eligible to vote certainly should be in attendance.

Fire Chief Dave Rogers is trying to set up an Alpine band to play at local functions here at Whistler and would appreciate anyone who plays an instrument and would be interested in getting such a local group together, to get in touch with him.

IS PROPERTY SELLING?

That's a question we are asked almost every day. Frankly, the way a property "moves" when it's offered for sale depends a lot on how it's handled. For this reason, when you're buying or selling, we suggest you give us a call. We are old enough to be experienced ... young enough to be aggressive ... large enough to be efficient ... and small enough to be personalized.

EVERYTHING you wanted to know about sports but . By RICK RAYNOR

Well, it was a tough weekend folks, but contrary to popular belief, I did survive. I took in the Timber Queen Pageant on Thursday, which I thought was very well run. On Friday, the rain stopped long enough for the horses to run at Smokey Downs. While everyone else was running around downtown in their sleeper. No, the beer was not cheaper if you wore your sleeper. On Saturday, I had breakfast at the Elks Hall, which was very good again this year, then put the finishing touches on our float (B.C. Tel's) and drove it down to the parade line-up. I therefore missed the fantastic finish of the bicycle race, but I did have a beautiful view of all the people. who shunned the weather to watch the parade.

In the afternoon I took in the 18th annual Loggers Sports. After ten years of sunshine it finally rained over the loggers' arena; however, it did not rain too hard because there were some mighty tough loggers there that were shaking their axes at the clouds.

That would be enough to scare anything! But it was still an extremely exciting show, with more entrants and an all round better show than last year. Ron Hartill from Sooke put on a super show and won the best-all round logger award for the fifth time in a row! Personally, I thought that Paula should have won it, but I was not on the panel of judges. Paula did a fantastic job of keeping the rain away and the people there; however, a few raindrops did manage to sneak by unnoticed.

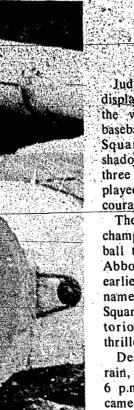

I won't mention what I did on Saturday night, because this is a family newspaper; however, I was hungover on Sunday morning when I attended the first annual coaches vs. Little Leaguers game. It was the first baseball game I have been to where each kid in the field is given a ball, and there are two pitchers, throwing at the same time! The coaches never had a chance. I was too busy on Sunday afternoon developing pictures for the weekend to see the other baseball games, but I heard that they were really good, and that a few spectators did show up despite the short notice.

On Monday afternoon I went to the harness races and am I glad I didn't do any betting! I would probably have lost a bundle: however, Sandy Jackson won a fortune, but it wasn't on the races. Nothing like having a friend like the Timber Queen to draw your name for the lottery. (I'm only kidding.) But it was a good day for racing and for the first time since I moved to Squamish, it didn't rain in the middle of the races. You can thank Paula for that Ken

By the way, I would like to congratulate the Squamish Lionettes on their hard-earned win over Victoria at Queens Park on Saturday. These bantam girls put out their best to come home with the PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIP!!! I think we should all be proud of our home town lacrosse team.

COACHS CORNER

By DON DAZE Judging by the fan support displayed at Centennial Field on the weekend, it appears that baseball is here to stay in-Squamish. Although overshadowed by Loggers Sports, three brands of baseball were played to the delight of an encouragingly large audience. The festivities began when the champion Squamish girls' softball team hosted a team from Abbotsford. They had met earlier in the season at a tournament in Hope, with the Squamish girls emerging victorious in an extra-inning

Despite a light sprinkling of rain, the game got underway at 6 p.m. on Saturday. Squamish came out hitting and by the end of the third inning held a commanding 8-2 lead. The hbbotsford Wildcats rallied with eight runs in the fourth to tie the game at 10-all. A five-run fifth stay as they held on to defeat ties of their zany coaches. A Abbotsford 17-15.

The second game was held at noon on Sunday when bright sun and blue skies offered an exciting re-match. Squamish again jumped out in front, leading 8-3 after three innings. However, the Abbotsford defence tightened, shutting out Squamish for the rest of the game, as two consecutive five-run rallied led to a convincing 15-8 victory. In two weeks the Squamish girls will return the visit to play Abbotsford at home.

Earlier in the day, the Howe Sound Baseball Little League All-Stars staged an exhibition contest with a team comprised of coaches. Because of their independent status, the league was unable to procure competition from, a member of the Little League organization. However, the fans were not disappointed inning put Squamish ahead to viewing the laugh-a-minute and delightful time was enjoyed by both participants and spectators.

> Later in the day, baseball took on a more serious tone. The Howe Sound Babe Ruth League All-Stars played a doubleheader against a North Vancouver team. The all-stars, facing their fiercest competition of the year, played well in the first game, only losing to the more polished visitors in the late inning, 10-5. Not being used to a stamina-draining second game, the all-stars succumbed to the more sophisticated North Vancouver hurlers, losing 15-1.

Considering that some of the players have only two months organized baseball under their belts, the All-stars showing was most commendable. A rematch is scheduled for 1 p.m. next Sunday, Aug. 10, at Mahon Park in North Vancouver.

Coaches shown how

It was a hazy Sunday morning for the Little League coaches at Centennial Park.

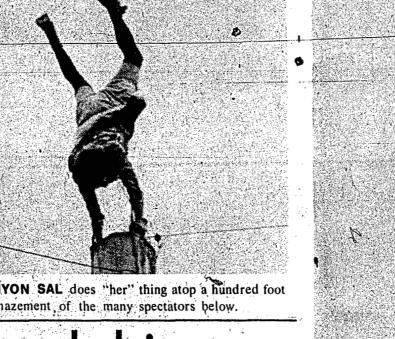

The All-Star Little League team just womped the hungover coaches 30-20! The coaches just could not seem to get things going, starting with "Fingers Farley" running to third instead of first!

Later on in the game, Constable Dale Meyer had to handcuff the unsuspecting Paul Christianson for littering, much to the dislike of his little daughter. He accidentally left his hat and shoes at home plate after making a poor hit.

I don't usually comment on the umpires, but the field umpires just could not make a correct call. The plate umpire (being astutely observant) was usually called upon for his unbiased opinion.

All in all, a good time was had by everyone and I have to give it to the coaches, it is hard to get up at 9 a.m. on a Sunday morning!

I would also like to thank Lvle for telling me about the game, even though he did tell me the night before. A bit more notice next time please Lyle.

Steam donkey model in Fenton Jewellers

A number of interesting win- window paintings added to the weekend. Getting into the true dow displays and humorous fun and mood of Loggers Sports "spirit" of "think logging" were best blue jeans, work shirts, hats, etc. To the casual visitor they may have thought the town had gone slightly mad!! One display is a must to see even though the Loggers weekend is now history. In the window of Fenton Jewelers is a working model of a steam donkey. The owner, Bill Fenton (Doug's brother) from Vancouver, spent two years in the construction of this two drum yarder. It is from the 1920 era and the same type of model used by the Merrill and Ring Logging Company way back

ployees as they dressed in their

The Willamette pattern used, has the sled scaled down from 65 feet 3/4 inch to one foot. All the rigging designs were taken from pictures in an Opsal Steel catalogue from the 1920s.

This exceptionally built model is completely workable, having both a hot water pump and a steam cylinder pump. Bill said it is fired with wood and can take up to 80 pounds pressure. The tiny gauge on the yarder was purchased in

The blocks are bronze bushed and the axe and wedge are hand forged and workable. It has working chokers and bardon hooks plus swivels.

Constructing this model was a labour of love as the frame, drums and cylinders were made from memory and from pictures. No drawings whatever were used during construction.

This fine model will be in Fenton Jewelers window for at least another week. Old time loggers especially and hobbyists and others will appreciate the time and talents of Bill Fenton, when they see this for themselves. How interesting it would be to see the yarder in "action."

Here is how to make a windmill bank to save for a rainy day. First, obtain a plastic coated quart milk carton. Close the gable and staple or seal with tape. Cut a slit in the gable for Spray paint or cover with selfsticking paper. Cut two eightinch strips from another carton. Cross at the centres and attach ith a large pin, small flat headed nail or a paper fastener.

MAL HARPER, alias "Copper Canyon Sal" appears to be losing something here as he climbs to the top of a hundred foot pole during his act at the Loggers Sports Day.

The best to you from Palm. Milk.

Bible School held in Squamish Baptist Church

A well attended Vacation Bible School was held in the Squamish Baptist Church during the week of July 21-25, culminating in a special service on Sunday evening, July 27 when children took an active part in musical numbers, recitations, reading and dialogue.

It was also a time for the giving and receiving of awards. Each child received a certificate while the following were the recipients of special prizes:

Beginners — Susie DeKroon, Robert Wiebe and Cherith Teel; Primary — Colleen Mareno, Tony DeKroon, David Wiebe, and Sherrie Gildemeister; Juniors — Christine Wiebe, Darryl Savage and Melanie Rempel: Intermediates — Kelly Young, Christine Yaky, Pamela Hurren, Barbara Wiebe and Helen Gildemeister.

In recognition of special attainments, Miss Carolyn Teel and Master Stephen Savage were proclaimed Daily Vacation Bible School King and Queen. The queen received an old-fashioned "elegant dresser doll" while the king received a "super-stunter" motorized aeroplane kit. The following evening both were taken for a real aeroplane ride, piloted by Mr. W. Teel.

There were many workers involved in making this week of meetings such a success. Special recognition was extended to Mrs. H. Wiebe, the school director, who was presented with a gift.

School Band attends Youth

By PHILIP KRISTIANSON Eight members of the Stawamus Elementary School Band spent two weeks at Courtenay Youth Music Camp on Vancouver Island. Susan and Glenn McKilligan, Geoff Furniss, Tracy Rempel, Debbie Sadler and I attended from July 12 to 27; Doug Elliott and Sharan Fischer from July 20 to Aug. 3.

The camp headquarters was the Georges Vanier Secondary School in Courtenay. The sleeping quarters were in various unused classrooms. I was in the carpenter shop with 13 other boys. We slept in sleeping bags on mattresses on the floor. We ate cafeteria style at meal times and between meals canteen was open. Lights out for juniors was 10 o'clock, for seniors it was 11.

Each camper had an individual daily schedule; special private music lessons and other unscheduled activities were posted daily on the bulletinboard. Each of us had at least two private lessons a week on our chosen instrument. Each student could join ensembles for daily practice sessions according to his level of musical skill.

After breakfast we had a choice of attending three classes. Rudiments of music or theory (both concerned with beats, measure and rhythm), or movement, which had to do with stage awareness and overcoming stage fright. Arts and craft classes were also available in the afternoon.

Recreation was plentiful. There were daily bus trips or hikes to beaches and swimming holes. The school gym was open four hours daily for juniors and an added hour for seniors. It provided shuffleboard, trampolines, ping-pong, badminton and basketball.

Outside were tennis courts and large playing fields, and across the street the brand new Comox Indoor swimming pool. Some nights, pilots from Comox flew their radio-controlled model planes as a free show for

There were about 500 students from places as far away as New York, California, Massachusetts, Montana, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Quebec, Ontario and Alberta, as well as B.C.

Getting organized into camp routine was, a' bit of a drag at first, but by the end of the two weeks I felt I had had a worthwhile experience and I would like to attend a session again next year.

Squamish Day Parade biggest ever

SQUAMISH, B.C.—THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1975

Bands, floats, kids, logging trucks, clowns, Timber Queen and princesses, motorcycles, horses, fire trucks and more kids made for the best parade ever on Squamish Day, Saturday, Aug. 1.

the hot August variety but it didn't keep the crowds away from the downtown area. Playing a prominent part in the parade was the British Columbia Railway as on four separate occasions the trains blocked the crossings. Perhaps Squamish is the only town that has its parade stopped on account of trains!! Led by two members of the RCMP on motorcycles and followed by the Colour Party from the Royal Canadian Legion and Shriner Band, the parade started to wind its way down Cleveland Avenue to the high, school.

Timber Queen Colleen Morgan sat on a specially carved chair made from the butt of a cedar log, and this was mounted on a log platform on the back of a logging truck. Her two princesses and other Timber Queen candidates sat on the logs alongside Colleen.

Riding in an open "jimmy' were Mayor and Mrs. Dave Stewart and special guests of honour Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Keate from Vancouver, Mr. Keate is the publisher of the Vancouver Sun.

The grand aggregate award was won by the Squamish United Church as their float was a model of the Annex and was well constructed. It was complete with steeple and bell and two years old and has reached what is commonly called "a coming of age." Like all newcomers, she went through growing pains; "only a hippy gallery," said some, eyeing the unique surrealistic images to which the gallery showed preference.

Feature artist at Gallery

By KRISTINA DISSING Brackendale Gallery is now

Others winced at the restaurant-gallery-theatre combination, refusing to accept the legitimacy of high quality ant in such a casual atmosphere. Through it all, Brackendale persevered, nurtured by the hundreds of performers and artists who repeated again and again that it was exactly the kind of place they always wanted to perform or exhibit in.

Now in its second summer, Brackendale Gallery has launched a feature artist series that puts it in the front line with major Vancouver galleries, attracting governmental and professional critical attention.

Following a successful July showing of magic realism by Christopher Blades, fabricartist, Terry Van Buren will_ monopolize the wall space Aug. 1 through Aug, 24.

Terry is one of the best known fabric artists in the province. She utilizes a fantastic variety of materials to create tapestries, wall-hangings, rugs and paintings. Her present show at the_ Royal Centre in Vancouver comes directly to Brackendale.

New homeowners especially should take note of Van Buren's unique way of beautifying a living space. Her philosophy refuses to just "make a rug (or a blanket, etc.)" but make a rug that is also a painting something beautiful in its own

The feature artist series will continue as a regular event at Brackendale Gallery, spotlighting one special artist each month. Go and browse any weekend, including Fridays, noon until 10 p.m.

Railways account for about 17% of the world's transport effort, measured in terms of how far every carriage-paid ton is carried. Because they are relatively efficient users of energy, railways consume only about three percent of all the energy used for transport.

ted the various activities of the church including T.I.C.s, choir, Sunday school, cubs, brownies, guides, and Bible study. As this is the 50th anniversary of the church across Canada, some ladies were dressed in costumes The weather was not exactly dating back to 1925. The float also won the best club entry. The float the loggers sports committee entered with the Timber Queen and attendants won the second prize in the club entries. The commercial float winners were Peter McKay's green car with all the car parts welded to the body and the rather unusual but popular "steam pot" and accessories on huge ice cream cone beckoned the Pop Shoppe float.

Other entries getting attentionwere the PNE's animal circus train carrying Miss PNE Brenda Hinds; Field's float depicting a Hawaiian theme; the Royal Bank's "junior olympics" theme was certainly well done, as was B.C. Tel's large fibre glass telephone. The kids could hardly wait to get at those big watermelons on the "fun truck" entered by Overwaitea.

The Kiwanis Junior Boys Pipe Band and the Burnaby Legion pipe band filled the air withmusic as did the Shriners' bands! and the Whalley Legion band and the Eniskillen Fife and Drum band. They were interspersed throughout the parade adding to the ex-

Children played a large part in the big day. The playground school children's programme always comes up with unusual entries. The Brackendale school produced those cute "Jungle" kids, for the Mamquam school it was "fashions in plastic," Squamish had as their theme "the horrors of the wax museum" and Stawamus school was the busy "work force" in action. The school children's entry was first in the children's section, followed by the Squamish Highlanders with the Little League boys' baseball third and the lacrosse team fourth.

The logging trucks with their huge load of logs was an attraction everyone looked forward to seeing. The Squamish. Riding Club was first in the horse entries followed by Cloudburst Mountain Horse Ranch. Also taking part in the parade were the Rebel Radio Club, the Vintage Car Club, a good representation from the Road Runner sports shop with mini bikes and bikes of all sizes. Miss Pemberton and her princesses rode on a float and the Square Dancers had the little beginners on their float with the older dancers entertaining the crowd from time to time. The Bank of Nova Scotia suggested everyone should "grow with us,"

The band "99 North" entertained from the back of a truck and describing the parade on radio was the CKWX mobile unit. The Squamish Flying Club saluted the parade with a fly past. Dairy Queen's wagon and to everyone as did the Chieftain Hotel with the large replica of the "chief" on its float.

" Missing anyone is not our intention but if we have, please let us know. It was a large parade and special praise should be given to the parade marshals, Candy Rustad and Peter McKay for once again putting together a great show. The judges having the difficult task of picking the winning entries included Mrs. Dave Stewart, Mrs. Stuart Keate, Mrs. Gus Schildhorn and Miss Leona Ingraham. Following the parade, children took part in the Kiwanis junior sports day, ATTIRE OF FRIDAY NIGHT shoppers isn't exactly orthodox as this Loggers Sports weekend shopper indicates. This is just an example of the fun "madness" that hits people on such a weekend.

Homemaker's Society year old

Homemaker's Society completes one year of service to the community on August 26.

What is a Homemaker? A Homemaker is a mature person who is employed and given some in-service training and orientation as to their duties with the agency. They are assigned to families or individuals needing, someone to help them maintain their home life in times of difficulty. Usually the service is made available in homes where there are children requiring care, for instance when a parent is absent or a mother is acutely or chronically ill (whether at home or elsewhere), or is convalescing and not able to assume her full duties. Homemakers may also be placed in homes where there are disabled or aged persons.

During this past year the local agency has successfully assisted a number of families and individuals who were experiencing one or more of the above mentioned difficulties. The society was also instrumental in organizing a twice weekly Meals-on-Wheels program with the help of local service clubs, and the students and staff of the high school home economics department. The role of a Homemaker in the health care team is expanding rapidly and will continue to do so in the future. Howe Sound Homemakers Society looks forward to a busier and even more rewarding second year of operation.

Anyone wishing further information about the society can call Mrs. Ann Vroom at 892-5201 between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.
