Walter heads newly formed local HUDAC branch

Harry Walter has been elected president of the newly formed Squamish branch of HUDAC, the Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada. The Squamish Valley Branch, which will extend from Lions Bay to Pemberton, is part of a national and provincial group, and one of 17 in B.C.

Ben Dennis was elected first vice-president; Tor Ervik, second vice-president; and Stewart Quest, secretary-treasurer. Named as directors were Dave Thomas, Bruce Kehler, Cliff Kilbreath, Villi Jensen and John Vroom.

HUDAC is a builders' association and they will welcome representation from other builders, from the sub-trades and from allied industries. The group has been working on the formation of the association for several months and the initial steps are the culmination of this work. The officers have been elected for a term which will end in October when a new slate of officers will be elected.

The group will deal with problems within the industry, will discuss new phases of the industry and new standards in construction. They plan to pool information and to study municipal bylaws which affect their association.

"Socially, we feel it will be good to get the builder and everyone connected with building together in one group," Walter said. "Anyone in the allied fields can be affiliated."

He said the goal was to introduce a construction standard within the area.

The Squamish Valley branch of HUDAC will be holding its first general meeting in the Mira Hotel at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 9 and the meeting will start with dinner before going in to business. This will kick off the membership drive and tickets are available from any of the executives.

The main aims of the organization are to:

- Associate the housing and urban development industry of B.C. for purposes of mutual advantage and co-operation;
- Improve the quality and character of homes for the residents of B.C.;
- Develop and establish standards of practice for those engaged in the housing and urban development industry;
- Exchange experiences and information among those engaged in the housing and urban development industry;
- Represent its members in matters of national, provincial and local policy and legislation.

STUDENTS from the Johnson Heights junior secondary school worked with the students from Howe Sound secondary school last week at a practice session before the band concert. It was an enjoyable afternoon for all the musicians.

WINNERS of the bicycle rodeo sponsored by the Squamish Rotary Club were Debbie Sadler, Lisa Moss, Dan Olson and Tim Spurling. They received radios as prizes.

Snowmobilers, skiers want multi-use of Brohm Ridge

By ROSE TATLOW

Snowmobilers and skiers will urge the provincial government to permit multi-use of the facilities and areas on Brohm Ridge in any planned program for development of the area.

The decision to ask the government to permit multiple use of the area arose following a meeting in the Chieftain Hotel last week attended by members of the Black Tusk Snowmobile Club, the Squamish Ski and Outdoor Club and members of the public interested in the area.

Also present was Don Worthington who has made a proposal to the provincial government for the development of a resort facility in the area similar to the one at Diamond Head which was closed a few years ago by the provincial government.

Brohm Ridge is an area which is excellent for snowmobilers, cross country skiers and hikers, similar to Diamond Head which was open to the public, either by hiking or by vehicle until a few years ago. Today only about 25 percent of the people who used to go there are able to do so.

On Brohm Ridge there are buildings which could perhaps be utilized and form the nucleus of a development which would provide shelter for people who wish to stay overnight. The government has no money to develop it but several private schemes to do so have been proposed.

Don Worthington, who has presented one proposal to the government, told the meeting that he was trying to establish a development similar to the one operated by the Brandvolds at Diamond Head. The buildings have been deteriorating, which is a ridiculous waste and the government asked for proposals for development of the area.

"I submitted a proposal to the government," Worthington said, "and at that time Al Raine, the provincial ski area co-ordinator said it was the most viable. However, I have heard nothing since that time. It was to have been discussed at Easter and there is still no word."

Worthington said one aim of the meeting was to stir up a loud voice of disapproval as we go into another year with no action.

"Why has it been sitting there for eight years," he said, "with nothing done about it?"

Ron St. Arnault, head of the snowmobile club, asked Worthington what his proposals were and the roof fell in when the snowmobilers were told they would not be permitted above the lodge if his proposal went through.

The ski club agreed with the objections saying they felt the snowmobilers should have priority on the ridge as they have no other place to go and there are other areas available, to skiers.

"There's a thousand miles of cross country skiing land for skiers to use and we have only the ridge," St. Arnault said.

Sam Lima and Len Burrows also objected vociferously to the statement that snowmobilers would be confined to areas below the chalet while slopes above would be for the skiers.

"That's the area we want," St. Arnault said. "But we are prepared to share it with the skiers."

Ron Sheffield of the ski club said he felt there was no argument between the two groups but that they could work out a proposal for some areas to be set aside for skiers and others for snowmobilers.

However, they could see that if Worthington took the operation over he would want more skiers than snowmobilers and they would be more likely to stay overnight and support the chalet operations.

Some of the skiers agreed safety problems could be horrendous as parts of the ridge are dangerous and whiteouts could be a hazard. Weather is a major problem here as it was at Diamond Head.

Ottar Brandvold said that skiers and snowmobilers usually don't mix nor do hikers and motor bikes.

Dr. L. C. Kindree, representing the municipality as an alderman and the regional district as a director, said that the operation would be a marginal one and the operator would have to love people and the country to make a go of it. However, city people would be a real problem.

"I don't visualize any problems with the local groups," he said. "But outsiders could create one."

Kindree said he believed in the multiple use of an area and he had never found machines such as diesels or snowmobiles a bother in other ski areas. If they

RECORD TURNOUT AT BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

The Canadian Red Cross blood donor clinic sponsored by the Squamish Lions Club on Tuesday, May 25 had a record turnout of donors. The clinic held in the Elks Hall for six hours on Tuesday had 183 persons donate their blood. Thirteen members of the Red Cross were in attendance.

The last clinic held in Squamish was last August and at that time, 175 donors were recorded.

The Squamish Lions Club wishes to express thanks to the Elks Lodge for the use of their building, to the Overwaitea and IGA for donating coffee, soft drinks and cookies and to the B.C. Telephone Company for putting up the sign on Cleveland Avenue announcing the blood donor clinic.

JASWANT SINGH BILN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gurdev Singh Biln, graduated last week from UBC with a Bachelor of Applied Science degree in electrical engineering. Singh is a graduate of Howe Sound secondary where he received the MacMillan Bloedel scholarship as top academic student in his graduating year. He also received a B.C. government scholarship. He is presently taking a short holiday at home and will soon be starting work as an engineer-in-training in the lower mainland area.

Templar Holdings attempts to revive Pemberton subdivision

By ROSE TATLOW

Bill Warke of Templar Holdings, the firm which came up with a plan to build a "new" Pemberton on a bench several miles north of the present town, appeared before the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District Monday night with a request to have them reconsider the zoning which permits five acre lots in the 360 acre site and permit him to build four to an acre homes on the property.

Warke suggested that the plan would provide a housing subdivision which would be very attractive, above the flood plain, and with all the amenities and services needed.

He quoted from a soil study his firm had ordered which stated the ground was suited for drainage and that water would be available.

Director L. C. Kindree asked him if he was proposing a proper subdivision with water, sewer, roads, street lighting and all the other subdivision standards and Warke said this was the proposal with an ultimate goal of 1,000 lots. Some of the property would remain as lake frontage and there would be some dedicated as park.

Warke said the plan, as he envisaged it, would take several years to complete.

"I can go for five acre lots right now and no one can stop me because that's what it is zoned for," Warke said, "but I don't think this would be right. I'd like to go the subdivision plan, four to the acre, because it would make a better plan."

Warke said he had discussed the matter with Chris Woodward, assistant deputy minister of municipal affairs, who had suggested he come back to the regional district to obtain approval for his proposal. Warke also said he had approval from fisheries, pollution control and highways for his proposal.

Regional district chairman T.B.M. Fougberg said that he would like to get letters from the different departments in question supporting Warke's plan.

Director Bryant said that last time around the district told Warke they were not interested in single family small lots and that at that time the proposal was turned down by the departments he mentioned.

Warke wanted to know if there was any point in chasing these departments for permission to develop and would the district give approval if it was obtained?

The district declined to be committed but said that approval would have to be forthcoming before it could be considered. At one point Warke asked, "Let me know what you want me to do and I'll try to do it!"

Mayor Underhill of Pemberton said that he would prefer to see it developed as a subdivision with city sized lots instead of five acre blocks.

Director Kindree wanted to know if the Pemberton Valley and the Village of Pemberton wanted this development. "If they don't then forget about it," he said. "But first see what the people say. If their answer is in the affirmative then he could be turned loose on his plan. But see what the people say first."

Warke claimed that three highways would be coming through Pemberton within the

Implementation of Bill 22 hinted

Talks between Labour Minister Allan Williams and the Joint Council of Railway Unions broke down Tuesday and there does not appear to be a solution to the continuing labour problems of the provincially owned railroad.

Reports after the meeting indicated the government may now step up action to get Bill 22 enacted which would ban all strikes and lockouts on the railway for a period of four years.

After the meeting Williams announced that the government is considering amendments to the legislation and said he would be discussing Bill 22 with the cabinet and might have an announcement today.

Asked if the act's clause that would force BCR unions to submit to compulsory arbitration, a point which the unions take strong objection to, could possibly be altered, Williams said, "The government can never abdicate its authority in that regard and never will."

The spokesman for the joint council, Jack Whittaker, said after the meeting that the labour movement cannot and will not accept any compulsory arbitration.

He said if that was accepted then the unions could not use economic pressures in its bargaining and its hands were tied.

No further meetings were scheduled.

A job well done

On May 28 and 29, some 8,000 girls and boys from across Canada will be in Ottawa to participate in the 17th National School Safety Patrol Jamboree and parade sponsored by the Canadian Automobile Association and affiliate clubs.

There are some 95,000 patrollers in Canada, many of whom are Squamish residents. These young people have established a record that is without precedent in the area of school-age child protection. There has never been a fatal accident attributed to the negligence of a school patroller since it was organized; in fact the death rate amongst school-age children dropped in some areas nearly 50%.

In a message to all patrollers, Governor General Jules Léger stated, "The outstanding contribution you are making in protecting the lives of your fellow students is a fine example of good citizenship for all of us to follow."

The Times joins with the B.C. Automobile Association in publicly supporting this program. These young people who are involved in safety patrol work are learning invaluable lessons, in discipline, alertness, responsibility and good citizenship. It is a dedicated, concerned person who freely gives up his play time to stand on lonely corners often in cold or wet weather.

We are sure we speak on behalf of all parents of the children who attend our schools when we say thanks and congratulations on a job well done to all involved, the patrollers, their parents, police safety officers, school teachers, principals and school boards. We hope that those lucky enough to participate in the Ottawa Jamboree have a good time and wish them a safe trip.

Coping with sexploitation

The storm of protest over violence in TV is at last having an effect that will be evident in future programming. Now another trend needs to be challenged — the fascination with sex.

This is evident in some situation comedies spiced up with bar-room humor, leering dialogue and seduction scenes. Unfortunately these shows catch whole families off guard in prime viewing hours. So maybe it's time to raise another chorus of protests and chastise the sponsors of such programs by boycotting the products they advertise.

As for TV movies, which can be pretty gamey, the problem is simpler. Most are shown in later hours to an adult audience. And viewers are often warned in advance that the scenes and language may be offensive.

Such warnings, in fact, may well be used more widely. Theatres showing no-holds-barred films must label them as adult or restricted. But does this prepare decent people for shocking language, nudity and explicit sex? Not at all. Similar warnings flashed on the screen at the start of a picture come too late.

Why shouldn't theatres be compelled to put strongly worded, highly visible signs near the box office to tip off the public as to the true nature of the entertainment inside?

Why not adopt similar cautionary statements on the jackets of lurid novels liberally sprinkled with four-letter words? No commercial interests should assume that everyone enjoys highly sex-oriented, vulgar entertainment.

Indian Band has grown up

The Squamish Indian Band has grown up. Ho, hum; so what? and what has that got to do with me? might be the average reader's reaction to that statement. We'll tell you why you should care.

You should care because the Squamish Indian Band controls development of 420 of the most valuable acres in British Columbia. Those Indian acres are on the North Shore waterfront, at the north end of Lions Gate Bridge. The Indian Band plans to build housing there for 13,000 people. That will be like adding a small town to the North Shore. With another small town could come all the problems of another small town in an already congested area. That's why you should care.

We say the Indian Band has grown up because it has in the past few weeks successfully completed ten months of highly sophisticated negotiations with Park Royal Shopping Centre and West Vancouver for the $20 million expansion of Park Royal. This is no ordinary shopping centre expansion because it is on Indian land and within a municipal boundary. The Indian Band had to resist attempts by West Vancouver to dictate all aspects of the project, and satisfy the shopping centre developers at the same time. Preceding all this, the Indians had renegotiated the lease with Park Royal for the shopping centre's use of Indian land. The new lease gives the Indians a "considerable" increase in income from the Park Royal land. Band council chairman David Jacobs declined to tell The Times how much.

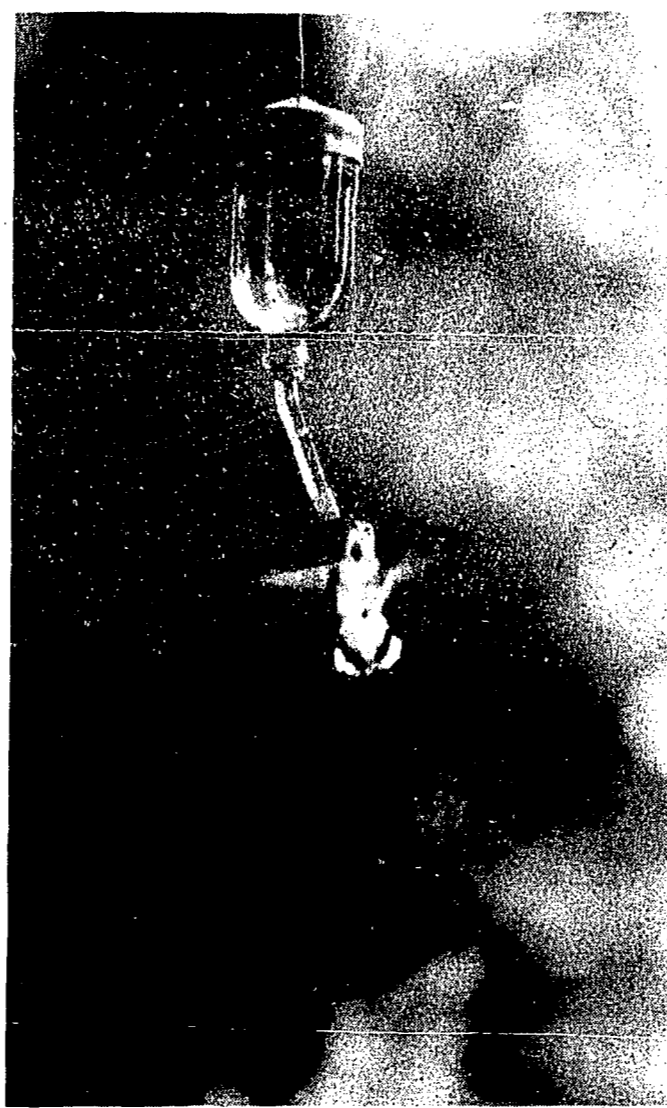

Jacobs calls the successful negotiations a landmark event for the Indian Band, and we agree. The Band put the whole package together itself, the type of work done in the past by the Department of Indian Affairs. As Jacobs also says, the completed negotiations also point out that the Indian Band clearly has development (zoning) jurisdiction on its own land.

The Indian Band has come of age. It is now able to handle its own affairs, and quite well. It's playing the white man's game and you might say winning it because it was dealt such a good (1) hand. Next step for the Band is showing the public its "Urban Design Study" — the housing plan for the 420 acres at the north end of Lions Gate Bridge. This will no doubt create controversy and many people will call the plan irresponsible and unthinkable. The critics should remember the land and its potential is the Indian Band's only hope for the future well being of its members. The critics should also remember the point of this editorial — that the Squamish Indian Band has grown up and can and intends to handle its own affairs the way it wants to. It's a whole new ball game and the Park Royal deal was the forerunner of future negotiations between the Indian Band and developers, and the Indian Band and North Shore municipalities and other B.C. municipalities: The Squamish Band controls land in Squamish and Gibsons, and a couple of islands in Howe Sound.

This new era of Indian sophistication in handling development of its land was underlined recently in the formation of an alliance of the Squamish, Musqueam and Sechelt Indian Bands. The alliance means the three Indian Bands will share knowledge for the benefit of Indian economic development.

For the municipalities in which Indian alliance members are located, it means the Indians aren't going to be pushed around any more. In this ball game, it's the Indians' turn at bat, and we're rooting for them to score a few home runs.

COMING IN FOR LUNCH this hummingbird at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rhodes on Kalodon Street is shown in the second picture feeding from the container filled with syrup.

Dusty Rhodes, who took the pictures, says there have been as many as six of the tiny jeweled birds at the feeder at the same time.

Council briefs

Discussions of subdivision of the island property in Brackendale, owned by Harley Paul and Dr. L. Guy, revealed that the parcel would be divided into two lots. There was still some concern about sewage, Land Registry requirements for the subdivision and roads and water services to the property.

Council felt the proposal should receive further study by the administration and then come back to council with suggestions on methods by which this subdivision could be approved.

The ambulance building is no longer required and the Squamish Lions Club was to be advised that the club could dismantle and remove it. The administrator was asked to contact Chevron of Canada Ltd. advising them that council wished to be aware of and to approve of any development of this property.

Council discussed the reopening of the old crossing on Cleveland Avenue north of the Overwaitea store to possibly relieve some of the traffic congestion in the area. However, some aldermen felt this would only be a temporary relief as it would just serve the Dentville area. However, Ald. L. C. Kindred said it could also be utilized by people heading up the valley.

A study was made of the area and the RCMP asked to submit a report. Meanwhile, Dave Horrey of Overwaitea said that he was working on realignment of traffic in the parking lot.

The municipal works superintendent has been asked to submit a report on costs for a new sidewalk and concrete guards to be placed in the vicinity of the Mira Hotel in the road leading to the Mamquam elementary school.

A proposed subdivision in Valleycliffe has been referred to the Planning and Design Committee and the municipal consulting engineers. It was also approved that the water main in this area be increased to 20 inches with the district paying the difference in costs between this and the smaller main.

No objection was raised to an application by Harvey Dubeck for water rights on the Cheekye River.

Everbrite Home Builders, who are building homes in Valleycliffe, have been instructed that their office trailer must be moved off the roadway onto property owned by the developer and that services must be hooked up to the trailer before a permit to use it is issued.

Gulford Industries was also to be reminded that the provision of its contract with the municipality states that no more than 20 percent of the lots in a section of the subdivision can be sold to a private developer.

The municipal works superintendent was instructed to investigate a cleanup of debris in the area of the slough adjoining the R. Bruce property with a view to overcoming problems in that area.

Worldview, a free film feature of Habitat

In 1975 the world had its picture taken for HABITAT. Squatter settlements, traffic congestion, village irrigation schemes, and a reforestation project are only four of the subjects captured on film in one of the largest learning experiences ever undertaken by the international community.

The public is invited free of charge, starting June 1, to view some 230 audio-visual presentations from over 120 countries to be shown here as part of Habitat: United Nations Conference on Human Settlements.

Titled "Worldview", the films and slide shows representing some 70 hours of viewing, will be shown in the 650-seat Playhouse of the Queen Elizabeth Theatre Complex.

Commenting on the program, the Canadian Commissioner General for Habitat, Jim MacNeill said: "The audio-visual program should not, however, be mistaken for a film festival. It is not an expression of art but a report of reality. The film and slide presentations should be viewed as audio-visual statements, as an added dimension of information in the conference debates. Just as some speakers at the conference will present their statements more clearly, more persuasively than others, so the audio-visual statements vary in their impact. Habitat's audio-visual program is not a film competition but a film forum in which participation and communication are the key."

"Perhaps as important as the final products is the way in which they were produced. Habitat did not choose the easy course of offering governments outside film directors to prepare presentations for countries which do not have sophisticated audio-visual technology. Instead Habitat's assistance program was designed to enable all productions to be done by national producers. As such the films are of unique documentary importance. They reflect genuine, national values and aspirations as surely as do the national statements. The success of this approach is evident in the wide-ranging participation of member states which do not normally produce films. "One needs to see a vision before one

Six ships due in June

Squamish Terminals is expecting six ships to be in harbour in June loading for Europe and the Far East.

The Star Bulford was to be loading June 2 for London, Brake and Velsen; on June 7 the Star Asahi for London and Brake; and on June 9 the Irish Stardust for La Pallice, Antwerp and Rotterdam.

On June 13 the Star Billabong will be loading for Yokohama, Tagonour and Osaka; on June 21 the Star Malmanger for Livorno and Barcelona and on June 24 the Star Blackford for London, Velsen and Brake.

can become a visionary and Habitat's audio-visual presentations will provide governments with a vision of what changes can be made to improve the way their people live and the motivation to make those changes. Pictures speak loudly of injustice, of want, of pain and helplessness as well as of achievement. The pictures which will be shown at Habitat will demand a response because they pose a multitude of solutions. The audio-visual program brings reality to the Habitat delegates' desks."

There will be nine hours of showings each day, divided into three three-hour sessions. The times will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., seven days a week until June 12.

The public will be able to hear the audio-visual presentations in their original language and, if they choose to do so, in English, French or Spanish, through a translation system.

Canada alone is contributing four audio-visual presentations. In addition, it has given $645,000 to developing countries to help them produce their presentations.

To date, 122 governments have submitted audio-visual presentations, of which 81 have received financial and technical assistance from the United Nations and the Canadian International Development Agency.

About 210 of the 230 audio-visual presentations will be films and about 20 will be slide presentations.

Honduras will be the first country to lead off the audio-visual presentations. He rest of the films and slide shows will follow by alphabetical order of the donor countries and then revert again from the letter A to H.

This cycle was used since Honduras was chosen at random, by having its name picked out of a box, as the first country to lead off the speeches in the plenary session of the Conference. The plenary session will be held in the 2,300-seat Queen Elizabeth Theatre adjacent to the Playhouse.

The audio-visual presentations will run for an average 18 minutes each. They are restricted to a maximum 26 minutes.

Three-minute capsule versions of audio-visual presentations will be shown to delegates to illustrate a speaker's point during speeches in the plenary sessions.

Canada is presenting four productions dealing with governing human settlements, managing urban growth and land use, design innovations in Canadian settlements and the recycling of wastes.

Community Service Corner Squamish Detachment, RCMP

At this time of year you are no doubt looking forward to summer activities: Holidays? Boating? or an Auto Trip? The following points are suggested with your safety and greater enjoyment of summer in mind.

Are you taking a holiday from home?

1. Leave a key, your car description and a list or intended addresses with a trusted friend — some emergency could arise!

2. Advise local police who is looking after your home.

3. Suspend all deliveries — milk, newspapers, etc.

4. Have someone mow your lawn and keep your porch clear of circulars.

5. Ensure doors and windows are secured and all utilities off.

6. Time switches can be purchased to automatically turn selected lights on and off to give appearance of being home.

7. Don't advertise your vacation in the social column until you return. Remember BOATING?

marina, yachting club, or experienced friend and the tips they can pass on will pay off in a safer and happier voyage!

Many casual boating trips end in disaster each summer through lack of knowledge or lack of basic safety equipment. Don't let it be you.

THE AUTO TRIP?

1. Always good to begin with a lube and oil change at your neighbourhood service station — and have them do a thorough safety check for trouble free miles on your trip.

2. While on tour — Don't hesitate to drop into any police office — if there has been any problems at home they may have word for you.

3. With the tourist time of year — most of that traffic is other families like yours. There are bound to be impatient drivers about. Drive safely.

Finally, can you identify your property? If you suffer a loss, police and insurance will require detailed description. Make a list of valuables and articles with serial numbers, then tuck it away in a safe place as a permanent record. If some item has no serial number, scratch in your driver's licence or Social Security number in an unnoticed place.

Happy Holiday!

5 YEARS AGO
Senior Citizens in the Squamish area were honoured at a pioneer banquet in the Chieftain Hotel on Thursday evening of last week and 24 of them who had been in Canada prior to 1897 were presented with pioneer medallions.

Mayor P.J. Brennan welcomed the group and complimented them on what they had done to pioneer the community.

Following the dinner, pictures of former scenes and residents of Squamish were shown, courtesy of the Squamish Public Library. The evening closed with a musical program and a sing song with music provided by Norman MacDonald and his orchestra of Mrs. Gebhart, Harold Stockman and Brian McIntosh.

Guest artists who helped with the program were Gary Hendrickson and Mrs. I. Choboter, who played the piano and Mrs. R. Babuin, who sang several songs.

Acting as master of ceremonies was Al McIntosh.

10 YEARS AGO
The Squamish Lions Club celebrated its 9th anniversary. In that time it had contributed a great deal to the community with the main project being the Squamish Ambulance.

Plans were underway for a resort development at Whistler where John Taylor had purchased the 130-130 acre Jordan's Lodge property and planned to build a resort complex. Cost of the property was $400,000. Other plans called for hotels to be built by other developers as well. Capilano Highlands, one of the major developers in the area, was working on development of recreational land.

Tag Neighbor had just been appointed as the new Forest Ranger for the Squamish District, replacing Jack Carradice who was moving to Prince Rupert.

Weldwood received the WCB safety award for the best safety record of any logging operation on the west coast.

15 YEARS AGO
Twenty-four students graduated from Howe Sound Secondary School in the largest graduating class to date with Barbara DeBeck as the valedictorian. Jo-Anne Moore received the MB scholarship from her uncle, who represented the company.

The census was being held and the population of Squamish was expected to show an increase.

LETTER

Editor, The Times:
Well I've been holding back long enough. I'm fed up! I've been riding my bicycle from Brackendale to Squamish and all over this valley for the past six years, and as each year passes, riding on the road has gotten worse. Between logging trucks and rush traffic, trying to keep my little portion of the road to ride on has been murder.

I average a speed of 20 m.p.h. when I am riding my bicycle, yet cars can't wait a couple of extra seconds for me to get around the corner, so that they can see what's coming, and pass me safely. I suppose they expect me to hit the dirt and get off the road (which I've had to do on occasion).

The edge of the roads in this town aren't exactly smooth, especially the old highway where it's pretty ripped up. Riding on the sidewalks between Brackendale and Manquam is impossible because it's continually chewed up by galloping horses and various construction work. In places, there simply isn't a sidewalk to ride on even if one wanted to. What awaits you is a soft shoulder or a ditch.

Bicycles are pollution free, and great energy savers. Cycling is healthy, good exercise and truly enjoyable (and could be even more so). It is also a lot cheaper than driving a car these days.

I love riding my bicycle and I am sure there are many other people who would love to cycle to work, school, anywhere, but are discouraged by the traffic. Riding a bicycle around here is scary and dangerous.

Cyclers have a right to a piece of the road, and since few drivers want to acknowledge that fact, isn't it about time we had a bicycle path?

I would like to thank those drivers who do pass me on the road who do it cautiously and considerately. I really appreciate it.

Yacht club seeks site for clubhouse

The Squamish Yacht Club is seeking a site for the clubhouse which they propose to build adjacent to the small boat harbour where they have added floats for the use of club members.

Council decided after hearing their case at a special meeting prior to the regular council meeting last week, to apply to Weldwood of Canada Ltd. for the lease of an area north of the bulk plant for the clubhouse providing that no parking be allowed in that area.

The administrator is to investigate sewer and water services to the proposed clubhouse.

Hugh Denney, commodore of the yacht club, spoke to council outlining the work which had been done by the club to provide floats, electrical service, supervision and collection of wharfing fees, and dredging of the small boat basin to provide service for members who own boats.

Denney said some work remained to be done which would, in total, amount to more than $11,000.

He asked council to represent them in seeking the lease of Weldwood property north of the bulk plant, on which to build a clubhouse. Denney said the area south of the bulk plant was not suitable for this project.

Some discussion took place regarding sewer and water services to the area as well as alternate locations for the clubhouse.

Snowmobilers

use the same area they must have their designated locales and not use the same trails. This should solve the multiple use problem.

He also felt snowmobilers could aid skiers in making trails for them and also if there were any accidents or lost skiers, assistance from the snowmobile group would be invaluable.

Discussion on day and other use brought the remark that people going in and out on the same day would be a total loss to the chalet operator except for the meals they might buy. The revenue will come from skiers who stay overnight and from snowmobilers from other areas who may stay for several days.

Sam Lima said he could see no reason why the groups should not be able to share the area and get along together. "If you take the ridge out for the snowmobilers, there will be lots of screaming," he said.

Hans Schaefer, who operated the Diamond Head Lodge after the Brandvolds retired, said that the area needs a pioneer's spirit. "From the standpoint of making money I wouldn't even think of it," he said. "If the two sides would get together it would be excellent. I'm all for multiple use of the area."

"The Brandvolds did succeed," he said, "but times have changed and everything costs so much more today. Perhaps it can't be done today. It may not succeed as a commercial venture unless someone has lots of money to put into it."

The outcome of the meeting was a decision for the two groups to get together and recommend to the government the multiple use of the area with snowmobilers and skiers using the area together.

Bert Summerskill chaired the meeting with assistance from Gisela Behm and Joan Gambioli.

SPECIAL CHARGE

At the regular monthly meeting of the Squamish General Hospital Board on Tuesday, May 27 a motion was passed by the board that, effective July 1, a deterrent charge of $20 will be put on all unnecessary emergency cases. This decision was made after several lengthy discussions on the subject and overall examinations of emergency records by medical staff.

The general public are reminded that there are two doctors on call in the area at all times, and are requested to please contact a doctor wherever possible before proceeding to the hospital; in cases of genuine emergencies the normal $2 fee will be charged by the hospital.

On many occasions in the past, high costs have been involved by use of the hospital and its staff, calling out a doctor and occasionally an x-ray technician, when a patient could have been dealt with by a phone call to a doctor or waiting a short period of time until the doctor's office opens for regular practice.

CARD OF THANKS

Special thanks to Dr. Rimmer and the nursing staff at Squamish General Hospital for the wonderful care and attention given us on the arrival of our daughter.

Six hurt in holiday accidents

Police report that a vehicle, driven by Yau Chung Wong, 22, of Vancouver, was involved in an accident May 24 and six people were sent to Lions Gate Hospital with injuries ranging from bruises to a broken arm.

The accident occurred in the vicinity of Strachan Creek on Highway 99. The vehicle was southbound and went around a sharp left hand curve. The driver lost control of the car which crossed the lane and struck the rock face on the opposite side of the road.

Police say Wong is being charged with failing to confine to the right hand side of the road.

On May 21 a motorcycle ridden by Pat McCartney of Garibaldi Estates was in collision with a vehicle driven by William Streleaff of Squamish, on the road between the Mira Hotel and the Legion. McCartney received leg injuries in the accident.

Police warn that while no charges have been laid the road is now recognized as a highway and should not be used by unlicensed motor vehicles, as it now falls under control of the Motor Vehicle Act.

In an accident May 29 at 2:12 p.m. a vehicle driven by Peter Dennis Moyes of Vancouver southbound from Whistler collided with one driven by Sik-Lon Sherffick Cheung at the checkerboard corner in the Cheakamus Canyon. It was almost a head-on collision with Cheung's vehicle making the corner too fast and striking the front of the southbound car.

Cheung's mother received minor injuries in the accident.

In another accident the following day a mile south of Porteau at 5:50 p.m., a van driven by Edward Lasko of Vancouver, travelling south, came around the corner too fast. He lost control of the vehicle, swerved into the oncoming traffic lane and swerved back and went over the bank, going down 200 feet. Lasko was charged with failing to confine to the right hand side of the road.

Mayor Carleton of Whistler said that if you have information about three roads you have more than we have been able to obtain. "Last we heard there would be no roads developed and only maintenance on the existing ones."

Fouberg suggested that the directors tour the area, look at it and see what they thought about the proposal to make a housing subdivision there. Bryant suggested that new directors should have access to the files on the proposal which dates back to 1974.

they have been very busy with a large stock turnover.

In addition to furniture and appliances, which they bring in regularly, they carry a small showcase of novelty goods including some attractive locally made ceramic mugs featuring the Royal Hudson. The maker says he plans to add several other local scenes to the collection of mugs to enable people to buy a set of them.

Joe Pennell said one of their biggest sale items is a picture of the Royal Hudson and this is very popular with the children who come on school trips.

"Keeping up the stock is a real problem," Betty said. "As fast as we get something in it is sold. We managed to keep a piano for half an hour so we are planning to bring in more."

In addition to the furniture and the showcase they have a collection of pocket books which they offer on an exchange or sale basis. New titles, and books in good condition are welcomed.

Drop in and have a look at the collection of furniture in the Surplus Store. If you are interested in antiques, they plan to bring some in to see how the response is to furniture items of this type.

Firefighters lose double header

On May 26 and 30, the Firefighters lost a double header to Port Coquitlam. The first game was an 11-7 loss and the second game was an 8-7 loss.

In Port Coquitlam, Mike Sweeney scored four goals and got one assist, Art Pascal two goals and Paul Lewis one goal and one assist. Two assists went to Kelly Clausen, and one each to Lex Tetachuk, Ross Stathers, Cam Bond, Don Halvorson and Ray Mensinger.

Goalie Arnie Weiss stopped 18 shots in the first two periods as to PoCo's 19, and in the third period Gary Marchant stopped 16 shots to their 14. Squamish received 39 minutes in penalties to their 32.

The second game was a far better game, and was close scoring right to the end. Sweeney scored four goals, Pascal, Pascal got one goal, and Robin Drygas and Earl Lewis each scored a goal and got two assists. An assist each went to Earl Lewis, Stathers, Rick Harry and Paul Lewis. Lawrence Gagnon was brought up from the midget team to give a hand, and did an excellent job. Goalie Gary Marchant stopped 31 shots, and the PoCo goalie stopped only 21 shots. Squamish got 42 minutes in penalties including another match penalty, and PoCo only got 27 minutes.

Norburn downs midgets

The midget girls team suffered their first defeat of the season when they played against Norburn in Burnaby. Despite the excellent goaltending of Judy Elliott, the Norburn team scored only seven goals to make the final score of 7-4 very reasonable.

The Norburn team outsize the Squamish team, and also has one more line which helps tremendously. Mavis Lewis scored one goal and got one assist, Yvette Baker scored one goal, Ann-Marie Staats scored two goals, and Joy Joseph got one assist.

The girls have a busy schedule during the week, with the next game on Sunday, June 6 at the Richmond Arena at 12:30 p.m., then on Tuesday, June 8 they play at Myrtle Box at 7:30 p.m.

Division 5
The PeeWees won one game and lost two over the weekend. They won May 28 to Killarney with a 6-5 score. Scoring for the Giants were David Sweeney with one goal and one assist, Joe Elliott with one goal, and Steven Bank and Cameron Grant with two goals apiece. Single assists went to Brice Delikatny, Don Boyd and Pat Sweeney. Goalie Jeff Elliott stopped eleven shots to Killarney's 12, and the Squamish team got 12 minutes in penalties to Killarney's 16.

On Saturday, the Shibaden Giants travelled to West Vancouver Arena and played a very good team. The team lost 10-1 with Cameron Grant scoring the only goal and Delikatny getting the assist. Goalie Joe Elliott stopped 18 shots to their 12, and the team only got three penalties for the game. Sunday's game was an 11-8 loss for the team, playing against Vancouver East. Mike Ainscough scored two goals, Jim Burnie scored one and got one assist, Cameron Grant got two and two, and Steve Bank three goals and one assist. Single assists were also given to George Nicholson and Don Boyd. Goalie Joe Elliott stopped 16 shots and Vancouver East stopped 19. The Giants got 18 minutes in penalties while Van East received 26.

Giants have four games upcoming in the next week; June 3 they play Mount Seymour at 7 p.m. here in Squamish, June 5 they play Mount Seymour at Myrtle Box at 12:30 p.m., Capilano comes here June 6 at 11:30 a.m., and Riley Park comes here at 7:30 p.m. June 8.

Division 8
On Saturday, May 29 the Sons of Norway travelled to the North Vancouver Recreation Centre to meet Capilano. The effect of a 15-day layoff was very apparent in the first few minutes of the game when Capilano scored four quick goals. The Squamish team settled down after that and matched Capilano goal for goal with the final score being 7-3. George Jacobs scored two and Jamey Raymond one. Mike Brekinridge and Davie James added one assist each. Goalie Kevin Crowston stopped eleven shots while the Capilano goalie stopped seven. Penalties were even with four going to each team. The next game for Sons of Norway is Friday, June 4 at 7 p.m.

DIVISION 3
Monday, May 31 Riley Park travelled to Squamish to meet the Rotarians with two Division 5 players. Mike Ainscough and Allen Pearson to supplement the team. The Rotarians defeated the Riley Park team with a score of 8-3. Peter Bain led the scoring with three goals, Ford Currie and Paul Woods added two goals each and Sean Sweeney got one goal and one assist. Mike Ainscough had two assists and single assists went to Bob Pearlless and Chester Joseph. Riley Park outshot the Squamish team 17-11, and the penalties were Squamish with eight minutes and Riley Park with six.

WOODFIBRE WINS MEN'S SOCCER CUP

A confident Woodfibre soccer team outplayed the Terminals team 7-0 to win the game cup final in the Howe Sound Soccer League on Sunday morning.

Previous games have always been a close contest, but due to a Saturday playoff game with Khalsa which culminated in overtime and penalty kicks, the Terminals team was not up to its usual competitive form.

From a foldup team in the 1975 season to league second and cup second, Terminals did a good job.

Rotary bicycle rodeo winners

BICYCLE RODEOS are lots of fun and these youngsters are concentrating on going through some of the exercises prepared for them. The top four youngsters in the five elementary schools competed in the finals under the watchful eye of Cst. Jim Allan and Cst. Jack Riddell with Rotary Club members Don Patrick, Don Hobbs, Peter Martin and Jim Kilburn and assisted by Barclay Craig.

Winners of the Squamish Rotary Club Bicycle Rodeo were selected Sunday afternoon after the four contestants of each of the five elementary schools in the area, Squamish, Mamquam, Brackendale, Stawamus and Britannia Beach, competed over a track set out on the Overwaitea parking lot.

The course was set by the RCMP who had earlier visited each of the five schools, put the youngsters through their paces and selected a boy and a girl from each school in Grades 1 to 4 and 5 to 7. These were designated as 'A' and 'B' class.

Representing Mamquam school in the 'A' division were Paul Hughes and Melanie Rempel with Glen Jorgensen and Arlene Bishop in the 'B'. Squamish representatives were 'A' Wayne Jung and Anna Milia and for 'B' Tim Sparling and Patty Carson. Dan Olson was the sole representative from Britannia Beach and he was in the 'A' division.

From Stawamus in the 'A' division were Daryle Craig and Lisa Moss with Rahni Sherman and Debbie Sadler in the 'B' and from Brackendale were Robert Wilson and Shane Board as well as Alan Pearson.

The youngsters had to compete in six events and were judged on each, losing points for mistakes. They had to ride a straight line between markers, use brakes to stop in a designated length, demonstrate a knowledge of hand signals, ride a complicated figure eight, ride a 50 foot length in as close to 30 seconds as possible and then weave through a set of markers showing their ability to change direction without hitting the markers.

Winners of the 'A' division were Lisa Moss of Stawamus with 52 points and Dan Olson of Britannia Beach with 63 points while winners in the 'B' division were Debbie Sadler of Stawamus with 62 points and Tim Sparling of Squamish with 63 points.

The winners each received radios and all the contestants were treated to sundaes at the Taztee Freez following the competition.

Howe Sound secondary won three divisions out of a possible four; junior boys, senior boys and senior girls, missing the junior girls division by only five points; and captured eight of the ten records that were broken.

As a result of their performances in this meet, two students will represent the Howe Sound Zone in the B.C. Provincial Track and Field Championships at Swangard Stadium in Burnaby June 4 and 5.

The two students are Rhonda Rosser, high jump and long jump, and Ray Mensinger, shot put.

Squamish Earful

by Maureen Gilmour

What could possibly be in store for us weather wise now that summer is just a couple of weeks or so away? I don't believe anyone has been rushed to the hospital suffering from "sunstroke" recently but there may have been a few cases of "web feetitis". Miracle of miracles by the time you read this you (we) might be basking in beautiful B.C. sunshine! Well its got to shine one of these days!

Don Lloyd, now a resident of Vernon, spent the holiday weekend here visiting his fiancé Liz Davies and other friends.

The Jobs Daughters raffle for that beautiful painting by Mrs. Hoy is being drawn June 6 and tickets are still available in the Times office.

Stork Stories—
MOLOUGHNEY — Ted and Christine Moloughney are pleased to announce the arrival of their second son, Corey James weighing 8 lbs 1 1/4 ounces and born in the Squamish General Hospital on May 14. This is a brother for Justin. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Chris Laursen of Terrace and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moloughney of Ottawa. Great grandparents are Mr. Anton Laursen in Vancouver and Mr. Peter Power in St. Johns, Newfoundland.

VENEKAMP
Congratulations to Rudy and Gail Venekamp on the arrival of their first child, a daughter Kristi Dawn born in the Squamish General Hospital on May 25, weighing 7 lbs. 2 ounces. Proud grandparents are Mrs. Hannah Kirkwood of Squamish and Mrs. M. Venekamp in Amsterdam. Great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C. Basjes reside in Andyk, Holland.

Did you hear about the church janitor who also played the piano on Sunday. He watched his keys and pews!

Peg Tinney and Mick Suter spent the holiday weekend in Prince George. They attended the wedding of former resident Leif Tevely and Astrid Borrmann on May 22. Leif and Astrid are spending a few days in Squamish as guests of the Tinney family.

The photo of the young lady modelling a casual outfit in last week's paper was Darcee LaRiviere and not Gloria Middelmann. The girls have made themselves some very attractive dresses, sportswear, etc., in their sewing classes.

A trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands was taken by Eleanor Dorey as she visited husband John for a week.

Hi and get well wish to Randy Jerwa hospitalized in Lions Gate Hospital. Keep on the bright side, everyone else not feeling up to par.

Thought for the day — Be nice to your friends. If it wasn't for them you'd be a total stranger.

Habitat - UN Conference on Human Settlements opened in Vancouver Monday and continues until June 11. At the same time Habitat Forum, the parallel non-government conference, is taking place at Jericho. There are exhibits and special performances by cultural groups in all parts of the city and the public is invited. Parking is at a premium at Jericho and from here it is suggested you leave your car at Park Royal and take the bus to downtown Van and then board the free bus (I think on Granville) to Jericho. Feel like a boat ride — take a ferry from near the Bayshore Inn for a 35 minute trip to the Jericho site.

Wedding anniversary wishes this week to Dr. and Mrs. L.

Kindree, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Martin.

The band concert held in the high school gym May 25 brought out a large crowd and that is good news. Entertaining were the visiting band Johnson Heights junior secondary school from Surrey, the Stawamus school and the high school band.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim McNeil and family last week were former residents Colleen and Collette Barube from Mackenzie.

Don't usually run classified ads in the column but this one is just a little different. "Now available for occupancy — 16 apartment complex in safe, peaceful setting. Children allowed. Will fine-feathered couples fly due east from Government Road and just south of Depot Road. In lieu of rent, occupants will be responsible for insect removal in area." Would you consider this a "cheep" ad??

Mr. John Sobotka celebrated his 84th birthday on Friday, May 28 and it was a special time for family members to visit him. Blanche and Larry Gargaro came from Nanaimo for the occasion. On the weekend two other daughters, Adeline Bastian from New Westminster and Mary and Don Emalie from Nanaimo visited their father. Two granddaughters and families also joined in the celebration and they were Doreen and Lawrence Fleming with daughters Wanda, Donelda and Tammy from Lillooet and Terri and John Lindsay and sons Grant and Lorne from Vancouver.

Having birthdays this week are Jennifer Bentham, Ann French, Bob Moloughney, Davina Bush, Ethel Robson, Josephine Pascuzzi, Russell Monds, Daniel Sargent, Nicki Confortin, Maurine Wright, Arthur Weeks, Daryl Zacharko, Jessie Mennger, Sigrid Schmich, Tony Mameli, Brenda Gillis, Cyndy Mason, Barbara Schultheiss, Alan Natrall and Eric Lindquist. Kathryn MacKenzie and Jean Chinnapan celebrated first birthdays on June 2.

Local Squamish Lions Club members Bob Kuhn and Ken Ramus attended the three day annual Lions convention held in the Hotel Vancouver May 27-29. Several other members attended some of the sessions.

Anderson Lake was a popular spot over the weekend with many families enjoying a leisure time. These included Norman and Lynette Halvorson, Thor and June Halvorson, Vi and Harry Nichols, Alda and Don Dickie, Rena and Ken Matheos and Alan Husted. Bill, Ruth and Marilyn Smith also spent the weekend at their cottage.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Davis earlier this month were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Driebergen from Rynburg, Holland.

A meeting regarding Brohm Ridge and the operation of the chalet is being held in the Chieftain Hotel tonight at 7 p.m. Don Worthington will be in attendance and a picture display and slides will be shown.

Visitors from England for the next seven weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dedge and daughters Karen and Janie. They are guests at the home of his sister and brother in law Owen and Alf Wilkinson. The Dedges are from Market Drayton, Shropshire, England. They also plan to visit the Okanagan, Cariboo and Vancouver Island while in B.C. Karen and Janie would love to go horseback riding but there is just one small problem — no horse! Can anyone help these two young visitors with an offer of a ride?

Indians compete in canoe race

The Squamish Indian Band will be entering the canoe, recently built by Moses Billy, in the races on Cultus Lake on the weekend of June 5-6.

The canoe, the first built in the valley for more than 40 years, was launched two months ago and since that time the local teams have been practicing each night, paddling out to Watts Point and back.

They have been making the approximately three mile trip to Watts Point in 24 minutes, and Sam Baker says this is an excellent time, easily comparable to what they used to do in the days when canoe racing was a great sport.

There are two Indian teams, a men's and a girls' team, and according to Barbara Billy the girls are as good (or maybe better) as the men. She says that if there are not sufficient paddlers of each team, they practice together.

The paddlers are anxious to compete against other teams to see how well they can do and to see, if they can win, even after only a few short weeks.

Other Indian canoe races will be coming up in the near future and they hope to be able to compete in these.

The Times will tell it the way it is.

Three bands play to capacity crowds

Marjon Vander Ploeg, newly articulated lawyer with Ken Haraldsen at Squamish.

It must have been a pleasant surprise to the local school band's directors and to band members to see the high school gymnasium packed to near capacity for the "three band" concert on Tuesday evening, May 25.

The visiting band under the direction of Bob McGregor was the Johnson Heights junior secondary school band from Surrey, with 88 members in grades 9 and 10. The other two bands were the Howe Sound secondary school band with director Grant Wilson and the Stawamus elementary school band directed by Jeff Larcombe. Larcombe acted as emcee for the evening and he was pleased to welcome the large crowd. Many in the audience were parents but for others it was the first time for them to hear and see for themselves the quality of music offered by these young people.

Both HSSS band and the Johnson Heights band massed together for the playing of O Canada.

Grant Wilson introduced his 36 member band and their first offering was Ballet Overture followed by Blow Ye Winds of Morning. A lively march piece Pacific Grandeur was well received as was A Hundred Pipers.

The next band to appear was the 74 member Stawamus school band and they played the Nutcracker Suite much to the enjoyment of the audience. The young people particularly liked Country Rock followed by the well loved selection Fiddler on the Roof.

The 88 member Johnson Heights band was introduced and their first selection was Here Chicago. You and Me Against the World was their next selection followed by a favorite Beatles medley.

The Howe Sound band took to the instruments again playing first the Concert Overture followed by Clarinets Allegro. Their last selection was March from Symphony 2.

Jeff Larcombe directed the Stawamus band in the playing of Brothers Two and next I's A Small World. They chose as their last selection Sweet Caroline.

Under the direction of Bob McGregor the Johnson Heights band played Music for a Ceremony and another favorite I Won't Last A Day Without You.

The final selection was Cherish and it was played by both the high school bands and this completed a wonderful night of music. There was a good variety of music to suit everyone's taste from rock to serious classical selections.

McGregor was impressed with both our local groups as in the short time they have been organized he felt the quality of music was excellent. On Tuesday morning the Johnson Heights band played a concert at the Stawamus school for the enjoyment of students and teachers.

In the afternoon they spent some time with the high school band and this was a real learning experience as they played each others music as well as playing selections together.

A Fine Arts Night is planned for Friday, June 18 in the Brackendale Art Gallery. The high school art department will have their usual fine arts on display, the high school band will be performing along with the drama club as they present a melodrama. Keep this date in mind and more information will be forthcoming.

Comings and goings

Impressed by England's record drought this spring, one of our local residents sent a raindrop to relatives in England in a recent letter. Suggestions as to how to send more will be greatly appreciated.

Our condolences are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Les Rush on the passing of his mother, Mrs. May Rush, last week.

Mrs. Edith Robertson of Victoria is currently visiting her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Sid Pudney.

Mrs. Marion Bochin was up from North Vancouver to see her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Eadie comfortably settled at home after the excitement of the wedding of their granddaughter in Prince George.

SOME OF the wall paintings at the Arts Council display

Arts council holds art show

The Squamish Arts Council held an Art Show in the upper floor of the Loggers Inn Saturday afternoon, May 15 with examples of work done by local artists and artisans on display.

Among the many beautiful paintings were some which specially appealed to this viewer. These included Carol Bennett's Maligne Lake and still life, both meticulously executed with a fine eye for detail; Arie Hoogenboom's Forest Walk, a study in forest colorings and Alida Hoogenboom's Diamond Head, a familiar but still very lovely scene.

The colour and intensity in Margaret Mitchell's Hecate

Strait was fascinating, and as always Ruth These's heads of horses, pen and ink studies, and one of a dugout canoe on the Squamish River, were appealing.

Maureen Brown's still life and old barn were excellent examples of the work done by this talented local painter.

There were displays of pottery done by members of the pottery class at the Arts Council, paintings by some of the children taking the children's classes, and some macrame, both in wall hangings and in hanging planters.

Barry Calverly had some beautiful examples of weaving on display and the exhibit was attractive and well attended.

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY D. McDONALD

Late May wedding for Candis Mawer

White gladioli decorated the altar for the wedding of Candis Lee Mawer and Stanley David McDonald on Saturday, May 22.

Rev. Jack Lindquist heard the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Mawer of Squamish and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keith McDonald exchange vows and rings.

White silk crepe with an overlay of Chantilly lace in trailing flounces fashioned the bride's period gown. Her tiered veil was of co-ordinated lace with a tulle overlay and her sole jewelry was a pearl necklace. In her shoe she wore a lucky six-pence, sent to her from a friend in London. Her bouquet was of Sonia roses, ivy, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Her attendants Carja Hardy and Janet Miller de Suarez wore coral gowns with an overlay of matching flocced silk. The gowns featured handkerchief hemlines and flounced sheer sleeves. They wore silver necklaces, a gift from the bride, and carried bouquets of white spray daisies and baby's breath with ribbon streamers.

Richard McDonald was the best man, Don Reimer the groomsman and ushers were Clifton Mawer and Dennis McDonald.

A reception at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall followed the ceremony with Ivan Radke acting as master of ceremonies and Jim Fletcher proposing the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon in Victoria the bride donned a two-piece turquoise silk ensemble with a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The young couple plan to live in Calgary.

Out of town guests included the groom's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Whitty of Calgary and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mawer of Comox. Other guests came from Port Moody, Langley, North and West Vancouver, Campbell River, Comox, Delta, Victoria, Vancouver, Burnaby, Port Hardy, Surrey, Fruitvale, Kitimat, Quesnel, Pemberton and New Westminster; Edmonton and Calgary, Alberta; Snomish and Hoquiam, Wash.; and Guadalajara, Mexico.

Whistler news

by Jenny Busdon

Down jackets and longjohns are definitely the garb to be wearing here at Whistler over these past days. It is not too often that I grumble about the weather, but snow on May 27 is just a little too much to digest! The white stuff quickly turned back into rain (maybe all the curses!) but since the holiday weekend it has been remarkably cold and unseasonable with high winds, thunder storms and constant rain, it seems. It just lets up enough to make one think "Ah, it's going to clear up, I can see the sun peeping through those heavy clouds," when those heavy clouds burst forth with more showers. Ironically, it was exactly one month ago that I reported in this column on how warm it was and wondered whether it was time to get enthusiastic about planting a garden. I did, and consequently this week had to cover my geraniums etc. with plastic bags in order to prevent them getting frost!

With June 1 looming near let's hope for the ridge of high pressure to finally appear that Norm Grohman, BCTV weatherman keeps telling us is going to appear and never does.

Mrs. Eleanor Bishop, organizer of the Cancer Funding Campaign programme here at Whistler is very pleased to report that total monies received from area canvassing was $880.70. Last year $758.89 was raised, so it is good to see that the amount collected increased over that in 1975. Eleanor wishes to thank everyone who gave so generously and particularly wishes to thank the volunteer canvassers who helped her, without whom this programme would not have been so financially successful. Therefore hats off to Mrs. McDonald of Garibaldi, Pat Beauregard, Candy Rustad, Julia Heine, Evelyn Cullen and Sheila Zoltay of Whistler.

The Whistler Cay golf course, as we all must agree, has taken many, many hours of blood, sweat and tears (especially the latter when the damage was created due to excessive stormy, rainy weather this past fall) to create such a beautifully neat, green course for the enjoyment of this community. The damage created in the fall, disappointing as it was to Bernie and Bob, but was realized weather was something completely out of their control and as soon as was feasible they got down to the hard work of repairing the damaged course. But this week they had every right to be hopping mad. Why, you ask? Because on Wednesday to their dismay and horror they found a great hole a good foot deep on their No. 7 green, dug up by some dog. Now you know why those big signs have been erected. Owners take note!

It seems that this golf course is treated like public park fields on many occasions. Last week I couldn't quite believe my eyes when I saw three people with three dogs casually walking across the course and greens, having the greatest time throwing huge sticks for their pets to retrieve. Perhaps if they had put in the long hours that Bernie and Bob have done over the last several years to get the course looking the way it does today, they would have more than a second's thought of how inconsiderate and senseless this was.

At the last open council meeting, held at the new Myrtle Phillip school, highway speed limits were discussed under new business. After some debate on this a motion was carried that the speed limits on highway 99 be amended as follows:

1. From the Alta Road to just south of the condominiums near the 76 gas station - 40 miles an hour;
2. From the end of this 40 mile an hour section just south of the 76 to the rock cut just north of the Cheakamus Inn - 30 m.p.h.;
3. From the rock cut to the second turnoff of the Christiana Inn - 40 miles per hour; and
4. From the Christiana turnoff to the Lorimer Road turnoff to Whistler Cay 30 miles per hour, effective September 1 when the school opens, and thereafter 50 miles per hour.

There was concern expressed by council of the lack of overnight camping facilities. Ald. Hetherington noted that the campers in the Tamarisk area could probably not be stopped, and instead should be regulated with regards to the use of garbage containers, fires in fire pits, that no live trees be cut and that the litter be controlled.

Ald. Watson proposed that a letter should be written asking the provincial government if they had any plans for campsites in this area, and that due to the situation reaching critical proportions this letter should state that the matter be given urgent priority for such camping facilities and for camping vehicles. It should also be stated that there should be something established in the interim until a permanent site could be found by the Parks Branch. The impact from the overflow of the Alice Lake campsite was often passed on to Whistler and consequently there was an urgent need to find a location now. The possibility of the forestry or the parks department supplying garbage pails and signs would be further looked into by Ald. Bishop.

With regards to the speed limits on the various lakes in this area, Geoff Pearce, clerk/treasurer, confirmed federal regulations under the Canada Shipping Act that boating restriction regulations had been imposed on Alta Lake of an 8 mile an hour speed limit, and that there should only be battery powered electric motors on Alpha Lake, Nita Lake and Lost Lake.

The parks branch was to be approached for signs using the forms outlined in the boating regulations. Those being symbolized signs with the addition that words be written beneath the signs for clarity.

A proposed residential development plan of Jack Fenton had been presented. It was noted that the development was located outside of the municipal boundaries and that this was not within the Resort Municipality of Whistler's jurisdiction. A letter will be written to Fenton noting that council had appreciated the presentation, with regard to the possible planning effects at Whistler, and that council would like to see the final plans presented in final detail and that the proper authorities would be the Squamish Lillooet Regional District. Ald. Raine noted that the proposal was dependent upon making a contribution to the Whistler sewage on a trucked-in basis. It was consequently moved that a letter in the context noted be forwarded to Fenton, with a copy to the SLRD.

The clerk-treasurer requested clarification of council's intentions with regards to impost fees. Council estimated that presently the estimated impost fees for community facilities and services would be $1,000 per condominium unit, $1,500 per single family or duplex unit and $750 per hotel room.

Mayor Carleton announced that an extension of the time for the tender sewerage bids had been agreed upon to be now set at June 4, 1976 at 3 p.m. at the Whistler Municipal Hall, and that the completion date would be extended by addendum to November 15, 1976.

Pollution control has issued a permit for the establishment of a sewerage system for the 43 lot subdivision in Emerald Estates. Council asked for confirmation as to what the terms were regarding the operation and maintenance of the system; if there were any security or monetary requirements and what were the provisions for the continued operation and maintenance of that system. Council's concern was that this may come into the jurisdiction of council in later years.

Two students from the department of biological sciences at Simon Fraser University had written to council offering a free water analysis to those people here who obtain their drinking and domestic water from private wells or springs and who may desire to test its purity. The tests would be run out of a mobile water lab analysis as a free community service from July 5 to 8 at Whistler. Anyone here who is interested in having this free service should contact the municipal hall and arrangements would then be made with the graduates.

A letter from Leo Verstrate outlined a form of municipal transit which he proposed be operated by the Chamber of Commerce. This was to be referred to the chamber, and council indicated that at this time they did not feel they should get involved in this project.

PAMELA BARR, right, and Mark Nikota, left, thought that this big traffic sign was lots of fun. They were visiting the local RCMP station during Police Week.

Plans finalized for Canada Week

Canada Week 1976 in Pemberton will be full of a great variety of activities for the whole family to enjoy. Starting on June 24, the opening ceremonies will be held at the Village hall with all the school children parading from Signal Hill led by a color party of the Royal Canadian Legion and the R.C.M.P. members. In the afternoon — international entertainment at Signal Hill. In the evening — a chicken BBQ and a novelty ball tournament.

On June 25, the Signal Hill Sports day, and in the evening the second Miss Pemberton Pageant. On Saturday, June 26, open hang gliding, a Pemberton Valley Riding Club gymkana in the afternoon, while in the morning, a treasure hunt for the children in Pemberton and Mt. Currie. The evening will see a family night of square dancing with Henri Rivard calling. A women's invitational ball tournament will take place on Saturday and Sunday.

On Sunday, June 27, the hang gliding competitions, a 4x4 rally from Pemberton to D'arcy (route still to be determined). The finale of the day will be a salmon barbecue at the D'arcy Reserve.

Monday, June 28, will feature a Strawberry Tea in the afternoon and a bike race in the evening for all ages.

Tuesday, June 29, a bingo and during the evening CBC's film on the "Pemberton Valley Story" will be shown.

The Miss Pemberton Ball will be held on Wednesday, June 30. The weeks activities will culminate on July 1, 1976, with the day beginning at 8 a.m. with a pancake breakfast, parade at 11 a.m. Forester's Frolic in the afternoon, with a concession and a beer garden.

Thinking caps should be put on now for those entries in the parade. There will be an entry fee for floats while all children's entries will be free. There will be no specific categories — everyone is encouraged to join in the fun and create a float for club, business, group or individual!

Official opening for park and logging museum

Thursday, June 10 has been set as the official opening of Shannon Falls Park and the logging museum being prepared at the site by the IWA, Carlings and with the assistance of the local Squamish Independent Loggers Association.

Don Rose, speaking for Carling-O'Keefe, owners of the Shannon Falls property whose water is used in the manufacture of the famous Heidelberg beer, said that a number of pieces of logging machinery have been obtained for the museum. These include a crane, which has been refurbished and set up in a clearing in the park, a donkey engine, a railway engine and a flatcar used to haul logs.

Norm Barr of the CRB Logging Co. Ltd. said the donkey was one used by his father when he logged at Green Lake many years ago. Last year Barr and Nick Candy brought it from the swamp high on the mountain side where it had lain for many years and took it down to Squamish where it is being repaired to take its place in the museum.

Barr says his uncle, who ran the donkey in the days when it was used for logging, will be on hand for the opening ceremonies to talk to visitors about the days when it was in use.

Crews have been busy erecting a spar tree, donated by MacMillan Bloedel, rigging it and making it an exact replica of the real thing, used in the woods before the steel spar now in use today was invented. Those were the days of the high riggers when it was a feat to "rig" the lines to the tree. A number of invited guests will come to Squamish aboard the Royal Hudson on Friday, be met at the train's arrival and taken over to the park for the official ceremonies, which will be followed by a barbecue and tour of the museum.

Don Rose says the small wooden building which will house the smaller mementoes of the early days of logging may not be ready for the official opening but they hope to have it open as soon as possible. Anyone having any artifacts or tools used in early logging and wishing to loan or donate them to the museum is invited to do so. The museum would welcome the loan of any such items.

Following the official opening it is hoped that many people will visit the park and see the unusual exhibits of machinery and equipment used in the early days of logging in this province.

Anglican church news

St. John the Divine Anglican Church have finished the winter and spring season with a number of special events, and several more are planned for June.

The Sunday School closed out a successful year with an early morning Pancake Breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Fenton, attended by the children and their parents, and a number of members of the congregation. During Lent they had speakers who had spent time in missionary work and in the Third World. Mrs. H. J. McSherry, whose husband is rector of St. Paul's Church, Vancouver, spoke on their years in Japan, showing the children many Japanese clothing articles, and demonstrating home and church life in Japan. Mr. and Mrs. Stigger and family of West Vancouver visited and shared slides and artifacts which they had retained from several years spent in Rhodesia and Tanzania. Both these events were outstanding in the minds of the children.

A special Family Service for children and parents is being held at 11 a.m. on Sunday, June 27.

Recent baptisms in the Parish have been Pamela Ann, daughter of Nelson and Colleen Winterburn, Angela Dawn, daughter of Fred and Susan Gaebel, Brian Peter Fraser, son of Wilf and Diane Picard, and Marcia Julie, daughter of Steve and Fran Martin.

The new Church Building behind the Vicarage is rapidly taking shape, and we hope to have it completed by the target date of July 15, and then made ready for occupation in September. The date of Dedication by Archbishop David Somerville is Sunday, Oct. 10.

The Archbishop will be in Squamish next Wednesday, June 9 for the Sacrament of Confirmation. The service will be at 8 p.m. in the church on Sixth Avenue, followed by a reception at the Vicarage, Diamond Head Road, Garibaldi Highlands. All are invited to attend the service and the reception.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS INSTALLATION JUNE 6

The public is cordially invited to attend the installation of the officers of Bethel No. 45 of the International Order of Job's Daughters on Sunday, June 6, at 2 p.m.

The ceremonies will take place in the auditorium of the Squamish Elementary School.

To be installed will be Honored Queen-elect Nicola Candy and her princesses, along with the other officers of the group.
