Woodfibre workers to elect new executive

Pulp mill workers at Woodfibre will elect a new union executive this week following the resignation last Thursday of nine of 12 local executive members.

Reg Ginn, national president of the Pulp, Paper and Woodworkers of Canada, said last week he had called meetings for early this week to elect a new executive to get Local 3 back on its feet again.

Last week's resignations followed a 70 percent vote by union members against going on strike over the issue of travel time on the company financed ferry across Howe Sound.

The resignations included those of Local 3 president Egon Tobus and his vice-presidents who interpreted the vote as non-confidence in their leadership.

Ginn said that Rayonier Canada was being very "short-sighted" in not coming to some agreement over the travel time issue and warned that it will be back on the bargaining table in the next round of forest industry negotiations six months from now.

The vote opens the way for the PPWC to sign a master agreement with the industry. The signing has been stalled for months awaiting resolution of the Woodfibre problems.

Ginn said last week that he had sent telegrams to all PPWC locals telling them now they are free to sign the contract.

Cheryl Bird, Miss Independent Logger; Janet Husted, Miss Ryan's Cycle Centre; Helen Burns, Miss Royal Canadian Legion; Kathy Staats, Miss Dairy Queen; Kim Norton, Miss Firefighters; and Anne Rattray, Miss Spencer Realty. Missing is Erica Cumming, Miss B.J.'s.

Stewart to seek re-election as mayor

Mayorality race to prove interesting

Mayor Dave Stewart announced Tuesday that he would be seeking re-election as mayor of the District Municipality of Squamish in the November elections.

Stewart, who is serving his first two-year term as mayor, will attempt to hold his seat against the bid for re-election of former mayor Pat Brennan who retired last year after 14 years of service to the community.

Stewart, who won his first term as alderman by acclamation, went on to top the poll when he ran for alderman the following year and resigned in 1974 to run for mayor when Brennan announced his plans to retire.

In his statement to the Times Stewart said that he had the utmost respect for Brennan who was a fine man and who had done a great deal for this community and worked very hard for it.

"However," Stewart said, "there are several programs I would like to see completed and I would like to have another term in office in which to finish them."

Stewart added that he welcomed the challenge. This year's November elections could prove to be the most exciting in years. It is the second time since the district municipality was incorporated that there has been a mayorality election and it could be a three way race as the newly formed Concerned Citizens' Committee is planning to run a slate of candidates for office.

Three aldermanic terms, those of Aldermen Ray Bryant, L. C. Kindree and Alice Makowichuk, also expire this year and this could also see a change as there could be new faces on the council if one of these veteran aldermen either decides not to run or is defeated.

The Concerned Citizens' Committee is expected to run a full slate of candidates for these three aldermanic seats.

Also coming up in this year's election are the two school board seats held by Margaret Marchant and Bob McCormick.

ALPINE PAVING GETS ROAD CONTRACT

Last Friday, July 23, a special meeting of council moved that the paving of Clarke Drive, Third Avenue, Main Street, Sixth Avenue, Pemberton Road and Rayburn Road be awarded to Alpine Paving at a cost of $28,005.14.

This was the lowest bid of eight tenders, who estimated costs that ranged up to over $45,000. Alpine Paving also promised to complete the job within seven days, while the other companies needed an average of ten days.

The awarding of this contract is a part of council's summer paving program, which is highlighted by the reconstruction of Second Avenue.

Reconstruction in the three blocks between Pemberton Road and Main Street will include new curbs, gutter, drainage and paving. Construction here has already begun.

Costs for the Second Avenue job will be shared between property owners along the three block stretch and the municipality, with the latter paying the bulk of the expenses. Paving done by Alpine Paving shall be paid fully out of the general revenue.

Water tank, new mains planned

Hydro to study Hat Creek coal

B.C. Hydro has assigned a study to assess the potential of various alternate uses of coal from British Columbia's Hat Creek deposit to Stone and Webster Canada Ltd., a firm of engineering consultants based in Toronto.

The purpose of the study will be to identify and evaluate all possible commercial uses of Hat Creek coal and to indicate the potential for the development of secondary industry in the province based on this coal resource.

This work is being undertaken independently of B.C. Hydro's studies of the use of the coal resource for electric power generation.

Included in the study will be technical and environmental evaluations, market forecasts and economics for various gaseous, liquid and solid products derived from Hat Creek coal using both existing and potential future coal conversion technology.

The findings of the study are expected to be of considerable value in assessing future options for the development of coal resources at Hat Creek and in the province as a whole.

To the best of Hydro's knowledge, this is the first time that such a comprehensive multi-option study of a Canadian coal deposit has been carried out to determine the optimum economic use of such a natural resource.

Completion of the study is scheduled for early 1977.

The district is planning to spend more than $1 million on a new municipal water tank in Northridge, capable of holding a million gallons; a water storage tank on the Boulevard in Garibaldi Highlands, and additional mains.

The entire project is designed to provide adequate water for the ultimate population of the area. To supply this amount of water, 20-inch mains would be required to feed the water to the area south of the Mamquam Bridge.

A prime factor in the overall picture is water storage. This is sadly lacking and to provide water for fire flows and for peak flows a $1 million storage tank in Northridge, hollowed out of the rock similar to the one in Garibaldi Highlands, is proposed.

There is also a lack of water storage north of the Mamquam River. Required at this time is a 250,000 gallon reservoir for the Boulevard and this is included in the overall plans for the waterworks improvement system.

Included in the cost of the Mamquam south phase is the reservoir at $312,000, cost of rock work and the river crossing to bring the main downtown, $75,000; a new 20-inch main from the weir to Northridge, from the existing tank to the new one and from the new tank to the downtown area where it will drop to a 12-inch main for the downtown area, and where an additional main can be built from the end of the new 20-inch main to the BCR shops and the new industrial park when needed; at a cost of $710,000. Cost of the new water tank at the Boulevard is estimated to be $150,000 and the total cost of the combined facilities will be $1,248,000.

The first stage of the downtown program has received approval for the federal Central Housing and Mortgage Corp. grant. Council also anticipates a grant from Guilford because the new reservoir will provide additional storage for the Valleycliffe area.

Future plans include bringing water to the BCR shops and to the industrial park area and a new main will have to be constructed for this purpose. Negotiations are underway with the railway on the provision of water to the shop area and council is hoping for a capital contribution plus an annual user's fee based upon the amount of water actually used by the railway.

Once the program is completed it will provide the additional water needed for fire protection and for peak flows in both the downtown area and in the Garibaldi Highlands area.

Also added to the municipal water supply will be the Brackendale water storage tank to be built by Dunhill.

BCR, union jointly seek arbitration

With almost a year of disagreement between them, the B.C. Railway and the United Transportation Union agreed last week on common action — asking that a board of arbitration be convened as soon as possible.

Glen Bowles, general chairman of the UTU, and Ted Teichman, labour relations manager of the Crown-owned railway, sent a telegram to Owen B. Shime, the Toronto labour relations consultant appointed by the B.C. government to hand down a binding arbitration award in the dispute.

The contract between the union and the railway expired at the end of July last year and since that time the railway's operations have been plagued by problems. Negotiations and operations have been an on-again, off-again basis.

Bowles and Teichman told Shime the delay in convening the arbitration board "is causing unrest among the union members" and they request "that the board of arbitration makes every effort to convene forthwith."

Shime was responsible for handling binding arbitration that awarded a new contract to three other groups of union employees on the railway, the Teamsters, Operating Engineers, and Maintenance of Way Employees.

The main stumbling block between the union and the railway has been the union's request for overtime on a daily basis, rather than the current mileage basis.

Company spokesman Hugh Armstrong said last week that engineers belonging to the Canadian Union of Transportation Employees currently are paid overtime after 100 hours worked in a two week period. He said the railway was prepared to offer the UTU a similar agreement.

Armstrong said the company's last offer represented a 32 per cent increase in a two year term while the union offer had declined to about 60 per cent including fringe benefits.

needed; at a cost of $710,000. Cost of the new water tank at the Boulevard is estimated to be $150,000 and the total cost of the combined facilities will be $1,248,000.

The first stage of the downtown program has received approval for the federal Central Housing and Mortgage Corp. grant. Council also anticipates a grant from Guilford because the new reservoir will provide additional storage for the Valleycliffe area.

Future plans include bringing water to the BCR shops and to the industrial park area and a new main will have to be constructed for this purpose. Negotiations are underway with the railway on the provision of water to the shop area and council is hoping for a capital contribution plus an annual user's fee based upon the amount of water actually used by the railway.

Once the program is completed it will provide the additional water needed for fire protection and for peak flows in both the downtown area and in the Garibaldi Highlands area.

Also added to the municipal water supply will be the Brackendale water storage tank to be built by Dunhill.

Two new men for city hall

Council last week approved the employment of two additional men who will be added to the municipal staff.

They are E.T.S. Moore who will be appointed as development officer taking office Sept. 1 and Terence I. Gordon as recreation superintendent.

Gordon will replace Dan Moon who is leaving to take a law course and Moore's position is a new one which will deal with new projects.

Two accidents here last week

RCMP report two accidents last week; the first on Wednesday, July 21 at the intersection of Darrow Bay and Highway 99; and second on Saturday, July 24 at Highway 99 and Brunswick Beach.

At about 4:45 Wednesday afternoon Melany Yourk of Squamish, driving a 1973 Datsun Fastback stopped for on-coming traffic as she was pulling out on to the highway. A truck driven by Patrick Aitkens, rammed into the rear of her car.

Approximately $200 damage was done to both vehicles. No charges were pressed and there were no injuries.

The second accident occurred when Charles Buck, driving a two-ton truck, attempted to pass Heinz Hammer of Delta, who was driving a 1975 car. A car came the other way and Buck had to pull over. Approximately $750 damage was done to the car and $700 to the truck. Charges were laid against Buck for passing while unsafe. There were no injuries.

HIGHWAY LIGHT PROMISED FOR FALL

Discussion with the highways department brought the information that the light on the intersection of Cleveland Avenue and Highway 99 will be installed this fall.

The light to be installed will also include a pedestrian activator light.

Once the light is installed council felt there might be a possibility of getting the shoulder of the road widened to make it safe for people to walk along the highway. This would help solve the problem of students going to the high school from the Northridge area.

Alderman Ray Bryant was also concerned about the convoy situation with logging trucks which seemed to be developing along Highway 99 and in this connection he wondered about the situation regarding wrappers and wanted to know if the RCMP was checking overweight loads.

He also was concerned about the use of lack of use of the Loggers' Lane by these logging trucks.

VISITING JAPANESE STUDENTS who are really enjoying their stay in Squamish dropped in to the Times last week. Looking at the brochure on Squamish are l. to r. Masako Minamisakamoto, Yasuko Asumi and Akiyo Sagawa. Masako and Akiyo are from Osaka and Yasuko comes from Tokyo. They are all university students and are enjoying Canada very much.

Olympic sweetheart

Everyone, even the most jaded television viewer, must have been thrilled with the amazing display put on by the latest Olympic sweetheart, tiny gymnast Nadia Comenichi. This talented and brilliant performer, who seemed to be able to make her tiny body perform some almost incredible feats, rightly earned the admiration of those who watched her.

But we shudder when we realize that she is only 14 years of age and by the time another Olympics rolls around she may, like her predecessor Olga Korbut, the darling of the Munich Olympics, be surpassed by someone even more skilled.

How terrible it would be to have been at the age of 18, or a fallen star before you are 21. It must be a terrible thing to face; to be the centre of the stage and then four years later, before you have the maturity to accept it, to be faced with the long downhill slide. This would be hard enough for an adult to take, but for a youngster who is scarcely out of childhood and forced into the white heat of Olympic competition?

We are delighted to see these lovely little child women; their grace, skill and artistry are almost unbelievable, but we weep for the years ahead when they are no longer the centre of the stage; when they realize that they received too much too soon and that there is nowhere to go but down.

The Ugly Canadians?

Would you have ever believed that you could hear such a phrase? Would you have ever believed that Canadians, who so proudly used to sport the maple leaf pin while vacationing overseas in order to distinguish themselves from American tourists, would one day wish to be unidentified?

Yet it seems that today the maple leaf pins are quietly disappearing for fear that serious travellers may find themselves identified with camera-laden, talkative, loudly dressed and insensitive visitors from north of the 49th parallel.

Travel writers in Canadian newspapers, used to praise the average Canadian for good taste, quiet manners and a regard for local customs that Americans seemed to ignore in their rush for the hamburger stands and tourist traps.

Sadly we hear reports that Canadians, especially in the Caribbean, are the culprits and that in Spanish areas like Cuba and Puerto Rico, people grit their teeth as the latest Canadian contingent arrives complete with wash and wear, drip-dry manners. Our image abroad is being tarnished as more and more people take advantage of cheap package tours to countries desperately anxious to earn hard currency to boost their sagging economies. Travel in an excellent way to broaden horizons provided one does not mind living with conditions and people that are different from "back home".

Tourism earns Canada some five to six percent of our gross national product and employs some 800,000 people with 1975 receipts totalling some $8.5 billion. It would be a shame if the behaviour of some travelling Canadians were to burden us with a reputation for crass and unpleasant actions and therefore distort our image as kind and friendly hosts.

Canadian travellers would be well advised to study the customs and conditions of countries they plan to visit and travel with the idea of learning something, having some fun and relaxation but never at the expense of others or of our own good name among other countries of this planet.

Words reflect the times

Coo-ool, savage, the six-year-olds scream at some far-out revelation that has just blown their tiny minds. Right-on the teenagers respond in a kind of warm camaraderie that makes their groupiness so all-inclusive, yet so terribly exclusive too.

Have a good day! Now there's one that started off, we suspect, with the treacly inanities of some morning disc jockey and seems to have spread with stunning insincerity to every situation that occurs before noon. Everyone from store clerks to cab drivers to newsstand vendors to elevator operators to distracted traffic cops spreads the good word.

And then there's far-out which seems to thrust aside such trite phrases as marvellous or wonderful or even fantastic. And what persob under 40 ever finds anything that's terrific anymore?

In any age the phrases and words that people use, especially in their relationships with others, often reveal a good deal about the society they live in. Speech, someone said, is the window to the world. And some grumblers are already saying that the window is pretty grubby what with all the impurities and improprieties that curse, or grace, our language today.

Certainly to examine the cliches of our day and then compare them with those of another era would be a quick lesson in social psychology and so what (now there's an oldie) if the purists say we're going to hell in split infinitives.

New words to fit a changing world may be the best way to communicate the uncertainties and insecurities of an age when so many wonder what lies in store for them.

The key phrases of a decade or a culture, what's passing and what's coming, reveal something about its climate and its character.

They get more

There are many Canadians who really want to see the Anti-Inflation Board work fairly, but it has to come as a disillusionment to discover the board has been granting much larger pay increases to government employees than to employees in the private sector.

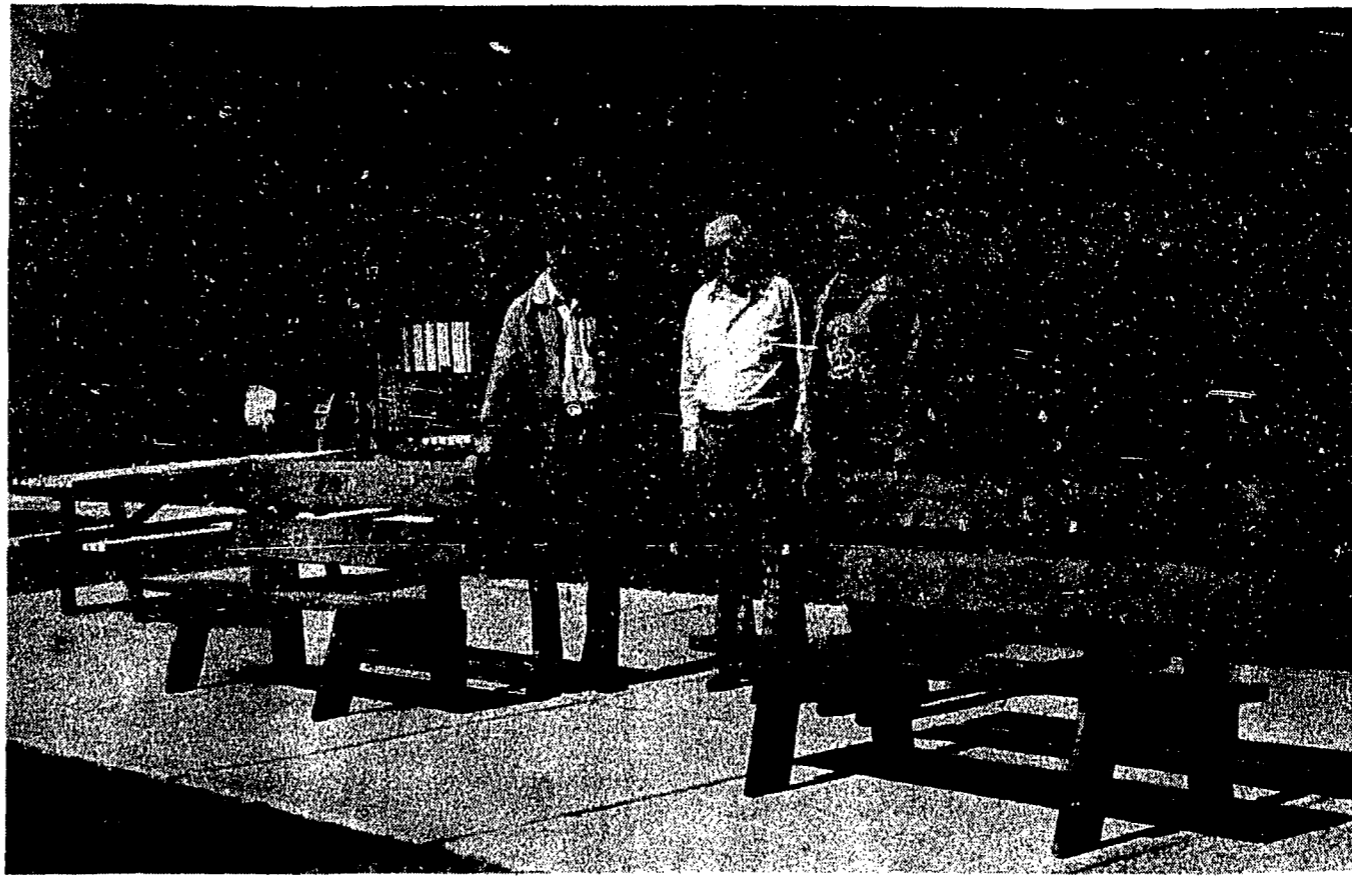

A survey conducted by the Financial Times reveals that in 104 wage decisions, 69 percent of the public sector workers covered by board decisions have been allowed increases of 20 percent or more, while raises for 79 percent of the employees in the private sector have been held to 15 percent or less.

Where is the fairness in those decisions? Government employees are already among the highest paid in the country. They already have more job security than most workers could ever hope to achieve. Yet they are still getting more than workers in the private sector.

The divergence in the board's decisions can only contribute to a loss of credibility in the board and its objectives. This is especially so since we had thought the prime minister had intended to have public servants lead the way in anti-inflation settlements.

We certainly hope somebody can come up with a very good reason why this diversity continues to exist. We can't think of any. (reprinted from the "Campbell River Upper Island")

Cruising the St. Lawrence

The romance of a cruise and the excitement of Canada's past — what more could you ask for in a package vacation?

One such holiday adds to this the variety of metropolitan centres and the quaintness of Gaspé fishing villages.

It's an eleven-day escorted jaunt to Montreal, the Gaspé Peninsula, Quebec City and the scenic Saguenay River, all in the province of Quebec.

The tour starts in Toronto, capital of Ontario and goes from there, by motorcoach, to Montreal, site of the 1976 Summer Olympics. Montreal is one of Canada's most exciting cities.

There will be time here to sample some of the night life and take a sightseeing tour before continuing through southern Quebec to Saint-Jean-Port-Joli.

This is the handicrafts capital of Quebec, where gifted artists produce distinctive wood sculpture, hand-weaving, hooked rugs and other crafts. Visits to two artisans' studios are scheduled.

A drive through the lovely Matapedia Valley along the banks of the Matapedia River, nicknamed the "River of the 222 Rapids", leads to the little village of Percé in the Gaspé Peninsula.

In addition to exploratory tours of the village, a boat cruise has been arranged. It goes around Bonaventure Island, home of thousands of birds — gannets, gulls, puffins, and kittiwakes whose nests are high in the cliffs.

Then follows a drive along the rugged North Shore of the Gaspé which dates back to 1534 when explorer Jacques Cartier landed here and claimed possession of Canada in the name of the King of France. A handsome monument commemorates the event.

Then on to Rivière-au-Renard, one of the peninsula's major fishing ports. The coach hugs the winding shoreline and continues on to Motane, a former Micmac Indian village.

At Matane, your group will board a ferry for a 39-mile cruise across the St. Lawrence River to Baie-Comeau, an ice-free harbour serving ocean-going freighters year-round.

A drive follows along the rugged North Shore of the St. Lawrence, a region rich in scenery and history, where early settlements sprang from the activities of French whalers and fur traders.

Later that day you reach Tadoussac at the mouth of the Saguenay River, gateway to the "Kingdom of the Saguenay", a scenic wonder discovered by Jacques Cartier in 1535.

A five-hour cruise on the Saguenay River follows the ford of the Saguenay which is flanked by steep, granite cliffs rising out of the water to heights reaching 1,700 feet. Wild, unspoiled country stretches for miles around.

The bay is overlooked by Capes Eternity and Trinity. On Trinity stands a statue of the Virgin Mary, 25 feet high and weighing five tons. It is made of rough-hewn wood covered with lead sheets and was completed by local artist Louis Jobin in 1881.

You may glimpse giant freighters carrying bauxite from the West Indies to the aluminum smelters at the head of the fjord. Next stop on your journey will be Quebec City, a flashback to 17th century France in the New World. On a sightseeing tour, you will see the Plains of Abraham where Wolfe and Montcalm fought, the provincial Parliament Buildings, the narrow streets and quaint buildings of the Old Town, and the battlements of the only walled city north of Mexico.

A day is devoted to shopping and a drive out to Montmorency Falls and the world-famous shrine of Ste-Anne-de-Beaupre.

On the last lap of your journey, you cross the St. Lawrence and drive to Montreal, then continue into Ontario and back to Toronto.

Another package vacation that combines bus and boat travel is a journey exploring the St. Lawrence Seaway via Old Fort Henry, the Thousand Islands, Upper Canada Village, Montreal, Quebec City, the Laurentian Mountains, and Ottawa, Canada's capital.

The motorcoach leaves Toronto heading for Kingston, a city with a history dating back to 1673, when it was founded by Count Frontenac, governor of New France, as a fur trading post and military stronghold.

First stop is a tour of Old Fort Henry, built after the War of 1812 and now restored to its former glory.

Later, along the St. Lawrence, a sightseeing cruise of the Thousand Islands is planned. You see palatial summer homes and wend your way through scenic channels with names like Fiddler's Elbow, Needle's Eye, Smuggler's Cove, and Lover's Lane.

Further along the route is Upper Canada Village, where you step back more than a century to the days of early Canada.

The water wheel spins in the old woollen mill, the clang of hammer on anvil rings in the blacksmith's shop, and the aroma of home-made bread wafts from the bakery at Willard's Hotel.

Then comes a visit to the glamorous city of Montreal. During your visit you will see such famous landmarks as Notre Dame Church and Place d'Armes, the busy port area, fashionable Westmount, and you will enjoy a panoramic view of the city from the top of Mount Royal.

As for shopping... your hotel is conveniently located close to a variety of shops and department stores.

From Montreal you drive along the St. Lawrence North Shore, route of the old Chemin du Roy (King's Road), where much of the early history of New France was made.

Half way on the way to Quebec City is Trois Rivieres, dating back to 1634, where huge birchbark canoes, 40 feet in length, were built for the early explorers and fur traders. The city boasts a number of fine buildings more than two centuries old.

Then you continue across the St. Maurice River down which hundreds of millions of logs float yearly to the local paper mills, through the small towns and villages to Quebec City.

From Quebec City you journey in to the Laurentian Mountains where you will view some of Canada's loveliest scenery in the oldest mountain region of North America.

Enjoy an afternoon of swimming, riding, tennis, golf or exploring the 1,400 acres of the mountain estate of Mont Gabriel Lodge.

The following morning a sightseeing drive to Ste-Agathe-des-Monts is on the agenda and a cruise on Lac des Sables. Then after lunch, a safari west across the Laurentian Mountains to the Ottawa River, and thence to the Canadian capital, Ottawa.

Ottawa sightseeing takes in the National Arts Centre, Rideau Hall (home of the Governor-General), the Prime Minister's residence on Sussex Drive, Carleton and Ottawa universities, foreign embassies and the city's lovely parks and gardens.

A side tour across the Ottawa River is also included to Quebec's Gatineau Hills and a visit to Kingsmere, 600-acre estate of former Canadian prime minister Mackenzie King.

Then back to Ottawa and the return journey to Toronto.

The Great Lakes will also be awash with packaged vacation tours in the form of cruises.

Typical are some offered by Midwest Cruises of Indianapolis on the new MV Discoverer between Montreal and Chicago, with calls at Toronto, Niagara Falls, Windsor-Detroit, Mackinac Island, Parry Sound and Georgian Bay.

Of Danish registry and with a Danish captain, the Discoverer has all outside cabins equipped with individually controlled air conditioning, private facilities, refrigerators and lower beds.

Public rooms have Scandinavian decor, and include a library, card room, three bars, movie theatre, gymnasium, sauna and beauty parlour. Cruises will run until Oct. 11.

Another cruise ship, the Cayuga 11, will provide regular service between Toronto and Niagara-on-the-Lake this summer.

A 400-passenger all aluminum vessel, she will sail at least twice daily, seven days a week on the 70-mile return trip across Lake Ontario.

There will also be special excursions when the Shaw Festival is staged at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

And while theatre-goers are enjoying evening performances, Cayuga 11 will take another group on three-hour moonlight cruises of Lake Ontario.

Moonlight cruises are also scheduled out of Toronto when the festival is over.

Teachers urged to fight back on standards charges

Norm Goble, secretary-general of the Canadian Teachers Federation, said last week that it's time teachers stopped talking and started fighting back on the accusations of falling standards in schools.

Goble, who was in Vancouver for the CTF convention last week, said, "We have talked long enough among ourselves and it's more than time to start talking to the public and to say what we know — that accusations of falling standards and loss of skills are misleading, and would be totally untrue if the cutbacks of the last four years had not eroded the resources of the schools."

Goble also took aim at what he termed the "increasing harassment of schools and educators by the advocates of a 'return to the basics' movement."

He described the back-to-basics advocates as well-intentioned but ill-informed taxpayers, opportunistic politicians, elitists resentful of the decentralization of schools and reactionaries who fear the subversive power of education.

"What is perhaps the most disturbing is that the reaction against the democratization of the school is being exploited with considerable success by the disciples of specific political doctrines of an extreme right wing nature, marked sometimes by overtones of racial and religious intolerance."

Goble said the CTF is not using its strength of numbers in a significant way.

"We are seen by politicians, press and the public as a scattering of local groups, safely contained within provincial borders, easily divisible, reluctant to face any issue except at a parochial level, fleeing from the notion of solidarity, shrinking from any awareness of large-scale identity."

From Our Files

5 Years Ago

A letter was written to the Times by someone wondering just how one would go about assessing the price of a seven year old fruit-bearing apple tree.

There was to be some ski facilities developed at Powder Mountain.

A new scheme proposed by a committee of council to the Chamber of commerce and the merchants of Squamish involved the construction of at least two one-way streets.

A movie, "Autumn of the Hunter", starring Peter Lawford and Tony Francioso was being made in the Valleycliffe area. Businessmen were quick to capitalize on it.

10 Years Ago

The highway between Squamish and Britannia was about to be built and preparations were under way to house the workers in a temporary trailer court. Completion of the highway was expected in two years.

There was worry that the FMC plant was distributing poisonous chemicals through the air as some plants were dying.

Due to a re-broadcasting station constructed on Bowen Island television became available to the residents of the Squamish area.

Britannia had its first Miners Day celebration; and marking the occasion was the completion of the book, "The History of Britannia".

An outdoor barbecue large enough to cook 200 steaks was built in Paradise Valley as part of a new park.

Vandalism and theft in the woods took a heavy toll on loggers. Every day they reported equipment broken and stolen.

Sawdust & Shavings

Those doggone type lice did it again and fouled up a line under a picture. As a result Cst. Merv Korolek's name came out wrong in the picture of the RCMP floor hockey team. Sorry for that, we'll just have to catch the little beasts and see it doesn't happen again.

Meanwhile, although we know the RCMP is now accepting women recruits it's a cinch there wasn't one on that team!

Loved the comment made by Ald. Jerry Jerwa last week when, in reference to the mobile home park plan in Brackendale, he said it had to be prepared by an NDP government, it was such a mess!

Don't know how the rest of you felt but when I watched tiny Nadia Comenichi go through her routine at the Olympics I felt like crawling into a hole and pulling it in after me!

She was so graceful that it made us wonder why we had ever let ourselves go to the extent so many of us do. I just can't imagine anyone as graceful and as lovely as she was.

Makes us think there is hope for the world when we see young people as dedicated as that young lady — and all the other young athletes still entering the Olympics with stars in their eyes and unaffected by the political winds which are blowing around them.

Wouldn't you know it. Early this week we overheard someone in the Chieftain complaining about how hot the sunshine was! Really, after all the rain and grey days in June you'd think they'd be delighted.

Walk it to me!

MORE DUPLEXES FOR GARIBALDI HIGHLANDS?

A request from Rowgon Const. for the construction of eleven duplex dwellings in the Highlands on the east side of Perth Drive was discussed. The site is just over two acres. Mayor Dave Stewart said he felt there was beginning to become too much high density housing in this area and that perhaps it might not be wise to have so much located there. The area is presently zoned RII and the Works and Services Committee felt that the lots were too small for RII. The entire question of duplexes in this area was referred to another meeting of the committee of the whole and the Advisory Planning Commission was asked to take another look at it.

Drowning deaths cause concern

Due to what's being termed an alarming increase of drowning deaths in private backyard swimming pools, the Canadian Paediatric Society has pledged its support to an intensive, co-ordinated safety campaign. The objective of the campaign is to alert parents to the dangers of allowing children, particularly of pre-school age, to swim without proper supervision. Doctors are concerned that because of the growing popularity of introducing children to the water at a very early age, parents are becoming over-confident of their child's capabilities.

As a result there has been a tremendous increase in the incidents of drownings among children under 12 years old. Doctors attending the annual convention of the Canadian Paediatric Society in Vancouver heard that in 1974, over 100 children were drowned in private swimming pools.

"These figures exclude the drownings which occurred in lakes, boating accidents and other similar incidents that have occurred outside the enclosure of our backyards or public pools," said Dr. William James of Ottawa in a written report. The society's first major project will be to work together with the Canadian Red Cross Society and develop a brochure aimed at every parent in Canada warning them of the dangers of leaving children to swim without supervision.

Dr. James' report noted that it recognized that the majority of children are not capable of learning to swim before the age of three.

Quick action needed

Even though poisonous substances are conspicuously labelled and stored in special containers, thousands of people — mostly children — are accidentally poisoned each year.

Even in the most cautious home poisoning can happen in an instant, so it would be very wise to keep the following basic first aid procedures in mind.

If the poison is inhaled remove the patient to fresh air and give artificial respiration if necessary. Make sure the person is kept warm.

If poison has come in contact with eyes or skin remove all contaminated clothing and flood the area with water. Do not use a chemical antidote.

If the poison is swallowed dilute the poison by giving the patient two or four cups of milk or water provided the person is awake.

If the patient is unconscious, drowsy or twitching, and you cannot obtain advice by calling an emergency number proceed directly to the hospital.

If the victim is alert and his poison has been a corrosive such as drain cleaners, toilet bowl cleaners, ammonia, oven cleaners, turpentine, kerosene, liquid furniture polish, gasoline, pine oil, and bleaches, do not induce vomiting. Give the patient milk and water. If vomiting does occur hold the person's head below his hips to avoid choking.

If the victim has not swallowed one of the substances listed above you can induce vomiting by giving the person two to four glasses of milk or water and then tickling the back of his throat and tongue with your finger until he gags.

Regardless how slight the poisoning may seem do not depend entirely on your first aid. Get the patient to a hospital or a doctor as quickly as possible.

Deplores drop in seat belt use

The Canada Safety Council is disappointed in a reported drop in safety belt use, suggesting a possible fall-off in enforcement, but the council still supports the Ontario "buckle-up" law strongly.

A spokesman for the council voiced disagreement with the recently reported statement by Dr. Robertson of the U.S. based Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. Robertson had said, after curb-side visual surveys, that the seat belts were "not a long-term panacea."

Philip J. Farmer, executive director of the Safety Council, said "Any curb-side survey of seat belt use must invariably be inferior to proper checks conducted by the government. Air bags are costly, to the extent of several hundred dollars, yet tests have indicated they still require the supplementary use of lap belts for protection against side, corner, or roll-over crashes." He noted that the Insurance Institute had long been

Huntington meeting

There will be a meeting of the Huntington Society in British Columbia on Friday, Aug. 13 at 7:45 p.m. in Wilson Heights United Church, 41st and Argyle, in Vancouver.

Included on the agenda is a half-hour film about Huntington's chorea, which includes interviews with a doctor, a nurse, and a patient.

Families, friends and anyone interested in Huntington's chorea are invited.

aggressively promoting the use of air bags in the United States.

The council drew attention to a quote from another U.S. safety organization (the Highway Safety Research Institute), which stated, "On the basis of existing scientific evidence, it would be unwise to require the installation of air-bag systems in new vehicles ... (which) could not hope to achieve more than could be achieved through the use of the existing lap-torso belt system."

"The fact that in Ontario alone, one life per day is being saved over last year's figures for the first quarter speaks for itself," says Phil Farmer, "and the latest usage figures coming officially from the Ontario government show a rate of 66% with virtually no remaining opposition."

Rezoning in Valleycliffe

Council discussed the question of rezoning of the area north of Westway Avenue on Valleycliffe and this matter was referred to the Advisory Planning Commission. Aldermen felt there should be underground wiring in this area and Ald. L. C. Kindree said he would hesitate to see a condominium type development on the residential portion of this property.

"Apartment buildings would be preferable," he said. Rezoning to RIV was requested to permit 60 units on the 3.5 acre area.

The Canadian Paediatric Society also endorsed Dr. James' recommendation that it is not recommended that large scale programs be undertaken to teach children to swim under the age of three.

Workman sets off alarm

A fire alarm was set off at the Squamish elementary school on Monday morning, July 26 when one of the school board maintenance crew digging a trench on the east side of the portable classrooms tore up the fire alarm wires.

The incident occurred at 9:45 a.m. The workman said he had been told there were no wires in the area.

Burke wins championship

Audrey Burke won the Club Championship for 1976 at the Squamish Valley Golf and Country Club with a total of 197 — closely followed by Yvonne Bilodeau with 200.

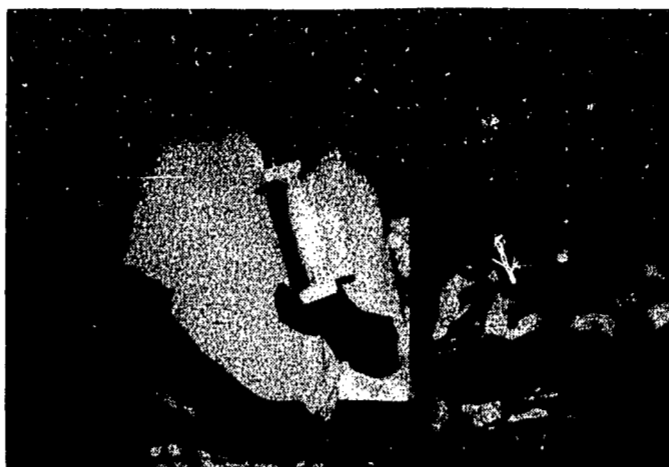

Perfect golfing weather was enjoyed by the ladies on July 17 and 24, when they played the 36-hole competition. Other winners were low net Muriel Hall, and in the first flight low gross winners were Lucille Sturrock and Laura Smith, 2nd flight Marie-Ann Plunkett and Dora Rourke, third flight Lundy Candy and Marg Hendrickson.

It was also a happy day for two of the players who broke their hundred for the first time — Lundy Candy with a shattering 94 and Yvonne Bilodeau with 97.

Winners of long drives for the two days were Audrey Burke, Yvonne Bilodeau, Clara Dorsch, July Deppesse, Dora Rourke and Faith Nelson. Closest to the pin were Bev Croft and Audrey Burke.

Many thanks to the donors who were so generous — Bank of Montreal, Bank of Nova Scotia, Royal Bank, OK Tire, Crown Zellerbach and especially Duck Motors via Les Ashton, who always gives so generously to this competition.

Fish head worth $500

In order to evaluate our salmon hatcheries the fisheries department would appreciate it if both sport and commercial fishermen would watch their catch for Coho or Chinook that have a missing adipose fin, which signifies that there is a coded wire tag implanted in the fish's nose, carrying information vital to the department.

(The adipose fin is small and located on the back of the fish near the tail.)

If you do catch one of the specified species remove the head and turn it in at the Imperial Oil bulk plant here in Squamish or at the department down in Britannia (or freeze the head until it is convenient).

If the head you turn in does contain a tag your name will be entered in a draw for one $500 prize and six $50 prizes.

Lacrosse news

The Sons of Norway ended their lacrosse season with an 8-4 loss to the Abbotsford team in the playoffs held at Grandview Arena July 14.

Jamey Raymond scored two goals, Roy Crowley added one goal and two assists, and Bryan Conn scored one goal. Penalties hurt the Squamish team as they picked up 32 minutes in penalties to Abbotsford's 18.

Abbotsford scored three of their goals while the Sons of Norway were short handed. Squamish outshot Abbotsford 37-23.

Season and playoff statistics: Goalie Kevin Crowston played 19 games, stopped 228 shots, had 69 goals scored against him, earned two shutouts, scored two assists, and received two minutes in penalties.

Ditching in Valleycliffe

The question of ditches in Valleycliffe was discussed with council sending members of the works and services committee to look at them. The committee reported the majority of residents keep the boulevards and ditch areas clean and cropped but there are a few which require work.

Discussion of a bylaw to have these done by a private contractor and billed resulted in a decision to further investigate the problem.

If storm sewers are required in this area they will have to be paid for by the residents.

Insurance frauds climb

During the first three months of this insurance year, 931 claims for stolen or fire damaged vehicles were opened in the Lower Mainland by the Insurance Corporation of British Columbia.

"All claims of this nature are specially recorded and carefully investigated," Norman Bortnick, executive vice-president and general manager, said recently.

"This does not mean that all 931 cases are suspicious, of course, but our experience has indicated that these types of claims should be looked at carefully. As a result of our investigations, 75 files have been marked as potentially fraudulent and our special investigation unit is looking into the details of each one.

"We must be quite certain in our own minds, of course, that the probability of fraud exists before we turn a file over to a law enforcement agency for further investigation," he said.

"We think our record in defending the Autoplan Fund from fraud is very good. Since September 1975 to the end of May 1976, 29 fraud convictions have been obtained and a further 38 charges have been laid by the Crown prosecutor's office," Bortnick stated.

"This represents all suspicious claims against the fund, not just stolen cars or claims involving fire damage."

Vegetables served in many guises

Vegetables come in many guises and the smart cook always tries to add variation to her meals with the use of vegetables in season. Peas are always a popular vegetable and the combination of peas and onions is a specially happy one. Beets add colour to a meal and the vegetable soup is always a hearty beginning and with a salad can make a satisfying summer meal. The crisp fried onion rings make a delectable garnish.

CREAM PEAS AND ONIONS

3 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. corn starch
1/4 tsp. sugar
3/4 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. white pepper
2 cups milk
2 (10 oz.) pks. frozen cooked & drained peas
1 (14 oz.) can small whole boiled onions, drained
1 tbsp. chopped pimiento
Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in cornstarch, sugar, salt and pepper. Remove from heat. Gradually add milk mixing until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, comes to a boil and boils one minute. Stir in peas, onions and pimiento. Heat. Makes 6-8 servings.

Last rites for Mrs. J. McKinnon

A memorial service followed by cremation was held for Mrs. Jessie McKinnon, on Monday, July 26. Mrs. McKinnon, who was in her 59th year, passed away July 23 after a brief illness.

Mrs. McKinnon, a pioneer resident of Squamish, was born in North Vancouver and lived most of her life in the valley, growing up and going to school here. She was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Downer and married John McKinnon, son of another early Squamish family.

Several years ago the McKinnons moved to Salmo where they operated a motel, and later to Grand Forks, returning to Squamish only a few months ago to take up residence in the new Squamish Manor.

Mrs. McKinnon is survived by her loving husband John, her father F. H. Downer Sr., two sons Gary of Edmonton and Kim of Calgary, two daughters Mrs. David Mennes (Joy) of Williams Lake and Mrs. Arthur Schnurr (Leslie) of Squamish, seven grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters.

SQUAMISH, B.C.—THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1976

SECOND SECTION — PAGE 7

Contestants feted at sorority tea

The ten girls who are competing for the Timber Queen crown spent a pleasant Sunday afternoon as guests of the Beta Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at the annual afternoon tea held in their honour.

The event took the form of a garden party at the home of Mrs. Barclay Craig in Northridge and the guests took advantage of the beautiful outdoor weather to sit in the sun or the shade. The girls, their mothers and their sponsors enjoyed the pleasant informal afternoon and the chance to meet each other.

Pouring for the first half of the afternoon was Mrs. R. Gamba with Mrs. H. B. Westerlund taking over for the latter half of the two hour tea period.

The guests enjoyed cheesecake topped with either cherry or strawberry sauce along with their tea and coffee and the girls looked lovely in their attractive summery dresses.

It was a pleasant afternoon and a highlight of the pre-pagan festivities.

Council briefs

Council approved a proposal from P. N. Goode to plant daffodils around the base of the bushes in the Boulevard this fall and to also plant some juniper trees. Cedar bark would also be spread on the ground to improve the appearance of the area.

Dangerous trees located around the Senior Citizens Home will be removed but council emphasized that these must be trees on the property which could be a danger. A pile of gravel which has been left on the site is to be used to improve the parking facilities.

The roadway along the north side of the Highlands Mall building leading to the Garibaldi Highlands post office will be graded and improved.

A request to move the Wood-fibre cairn alongside the Branch 115 one in the municipal park was discussed and it was suggested that the two be incorporated in one.

The proposal will be studied further before a final decision is made.

An extension is planned for the Garibaldi Motel and council last week gave approval to the plans.

Discounts for cash

If you pay cash instead of using a credit card, you could be saving the retailer as much as five percent of the purchase price of an article, because the credit card company may charge the retailer this much for the credit card service.

Until recently, agreements between credit card companies and subscribing merchants typically contained a clause requiring the merchants to sell goods to credit card users at the same prices as those applying to cash transactions. This had been interpreted by some merchants as meaning that they could not give discounts for cash.

Stage One of the Combines Investigation Act amendments included a provision making it illegal for a credit card company to use its contracts to discourage a price reduction by a merchant. Retailers should now be free of any doubt that they may pass on the savings to cash customers. But, they are unlikely to begin giving cash unless the customers ask for them and the more people who ask, the sooner it will become a fact of today's retailing.

So, if you are purchasing a big ticket item with cash, the merchant may well be willing to pass on to you some part of what he will save.

Valerie Babuin wed at St. John's

The Church of St. John the Divine was the scene of a beautiful summer wedding on Saturday, June 26 at 6:30 p.m. when Valerie Babuin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Babuin of Garibaldi Highlands, became the bride of Douglas B. Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman of Ottawa, Ont.

Pink carnations, white chrysanthemums and baby's breath were used to decorate the church where the Rev. Owen Johnston heard the young couple exchange their vows and rings.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of sheer chiffonette with a high neckline, sheer yoke and full bishop sleeves, caught tightly at the wrists. Embroidered rose and daisy lace trimmed the bodice neckline, waist band and cuffs and appliques of the floral lace accented the skirt and trim of the full flounced hemline, which carried through to the attached cathedral train. Her double blusher and cathedral length veil fell from a lace Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of pale pink gladioli and stephanotis.

Sharon Hurst as maid of honour and bridesmaids Dee Coleman, Charlotte Johansen and Nellie Hamilton wore identical gowns of pale pink with short chiffon jackets and carried bouquets of pastel shades of daisies with baby's breath and pink gingham ribbons.

Flower girls Debbie and Joelle, nieces of the bride, wore matching pink dresses with pink gingham sashes and carried baskets of daisies and baby's breath.

Peter Cool of Ladner, the groom's brother-in-law, was best man and ushers were John and Rick Babuin, the bride's brothers and Dale Coleman while Bradley Smith, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Babuin chose a peach floor length gown with short jacket and corsage of gardenias while Mrs. Coleman wore a peacock blue floor length gown and matching chiffon cape with gardenia corsage.

A reception at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall followed the ceremony with the bride's uncle Fred Babuin proposing the toast to the bride.

Before leaving for their honeymoon the bride donned a white pant suit with red blouse and a corsage of red roses and white stephanotis.

The young couple are making their home in Squamish.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Babuin of Burnaby, Mr. and Mrs. E. Babuin and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Babuin and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Babuin and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. Babuin and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. Baese and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Harris and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. Reed and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. The Squamish Day buttons are now on sale and we have a good supply of them in the office. The proceeds always go to some worthy cause and for just $1 you can proudly wear a button and know you are doing a good turn for the community. The button allows you to attend the Timber Queen Pageant Aug. 5 free of charge, and for both the Kinsmen Open Air Dance Aug. 6 and the Demolition Derby Aug. 8 for just an extra dollar you can attend these events — when you are wearing your button of course!

Mrs. Anne Davidson and her children Annette and Duncan from Delta, spent several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rae.

Being the chairman of the Timber Queen Pageant has to be an interesting but definitely time consuming job. Perhaps it's a little harder explaining to your husband and three sons what all the running around is about but for now, Norm Barr is calling his wife Doreen (the chairman) the "Roadrunner". Good luck, Doreen, 'cause I think you still have lots of "running" to do!

Visiting Gary and Vilma Hendrickson this week are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bero and family from Trail.

Mitchell White is in Calgary for the next two weeks visiting his brother Ken White.

A warm welcome is extended to the three young ladies from Japan, here for three weeks as guests of the Squamish Lions Club. The girls, Akiyo Sagawa and Masato Minamisakamoto are from Osaka and Yasuko Asami is from Tokyo.

This little "goodie" was in the North Shore Times last week: "It's okay for children to have pets until the pets start having children."

Constable and Mrs. Rick Boyarski spent their three week vacation on the prairies. They attended a friend's wedding in Dornbrey, Saskatchewan, before travelling to Brandon to visit Rick's parents. Enroute home they stopped in Calgary to take in the Calgary Stampede.

Happy birthday wishes to Rena Matheos, Cheryl McCorrison, Justin Moloughney, Denise Magee, Ross Wilkinson, Sandra Rivett, Kim Britton, Wayne Goodall, Ann Lonergan, Jeff Elliott, Ross Gilmour, Cheryl Bird, Jodie Ann Breckenridge and Bill Rempel.

Visitors at the home of Ross and Gwen Rivett this week are his brother and sister in law, Ivan and Emma Rivett and daughter Shelley and their friends Anne and Sam Thompson and daughters Julie and Ellen from Goderich, Ontario. Ivan and Emma had the pleasure of celebrating their silver anniversary here when the three families went to Mykonos Restaurant for a celebration.

Now that the Olympics are almost half over, I really hope that all the athletes are feeling the true spirit of the Games; ignoring politics and trying their best. And us Canadians will show what good hosts we are. And we will still win medals!

Speaking of the Olympics, some folk from Squamish left for Montreal to see them. Carlotta Harley and Cam Caldwell both went. Carlotta left early for a leisurely trip which included taking in the Calgary Stampede and visiting friends all across Canada.

We've had many visitors to our fair town in the last little while.

Up visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Drenka was his sister Mrs. Ida Heinbach from Seattle. She was here for five days.

Thomas E. Divalentino and Steven A. Schmidt from Connecticut are visiting their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Schmidt of the Highlands for a month.

Dennis and Sandra Gunn from Burnaby are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lowe.

Guests at the home of Harley and Joan Paul were her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nasi and her niece Carrie Bradford from Thunder Bay, Ontario. They arrived Saturday and will be staying for ten days.

And Mr. and Mrs. Gary Campbell and their son Mark arrived from Picton, Ontario with their Australian Rotary exchange daughter Liz at Pat Brennan's home. Liz happens to be from the same town that their son John is staying at. So they found it very enlightening and interesting to talk to her.

Vilma Hendrickson's brother Ed Bromo and family drove out from Trail to visit her. They spent an enjoyable week in Squamish.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Pepper and daughter Maureen were out from Shelbrook, Saskatchewan for a week. They spent time with Mrs. Pepper's sister Ann Boscarol, her mother Mrs. ZK. Morrison and long time residents Art and Arlene Gross.

From overseas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher are out from Nottingham, England. They are staying at his daughter's place, Mrs. Pat Dowad, for three weeks.

Jane-Anne Manson returned from Brazil Thursday night. Her year as a Rotary Exchange is up. Welcome back. We're all really glad to see you.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Watt and their daughter Christine have just returned from Winnipeg after spending five days with their other daughter and son-in-law Jane and Paul Boni. They toured through the U.S. on the way out to Manitoba and came back through Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Harley, their daughter Mrs. Grace Halverson and grandson Eric spent ten pleasant days at Shuswap Lake.

Lorenzo Alverini is leaving for a short holiday in California. He'll be travelling all over the States and I'm sure will be getting lots of sun, swimming and tennis in.

So it looks like everybody is putting their summer to good use, even though the weather has been so poor.

It was an especially happy day for Mrs. Ann McKenzie as her grandson Robbie was born on her birthday. Grandparents Jim and Delores Bird and Aunt Karen Bird from Ganges are visiting in Squamish this week.

A fond and happy farewell is wished to our very good neighbours, Michele and Alan Smith and children Shannon and Simon as they leave on Sunday to return to their native Australia. All good wishes in the future friends and hope someday we'll meet again.

On Sunday, July 18, Kelli Rogers was at his best, as he placed first in the open senior and expert race at the Moto-X racing at Mission. Keep this up and you'll be in great shape for the national championships in late August Kelli.

Wedding anniversary wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moloughney, Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Watt.

Gioia Iacavone has left for a month's holiday in Italy. She will be meeting her sister Maria and Leslie Aldridge over there. Gioia will be meeting her Italian relatives for the first time.

Mrs. Judy Board has just returned from Idaho, where she and her two daughters Shani and Laini spent three weeks visiting her husband Dick's parents in Haley and Aberdeen.

Council Briefs

An application for the construction of a second storey to the Squamish Hardware building on Cleveland Avenue was refused because there is not sufficient property for off-street parking.

An application to move in a house built for Habitat and to demonstrate methods of Canadian house building was removed.

Squamish has a bylaw which forbids the moving in of buildings from outside the community.

It was recommended that the question of awnings over sidewalks be discussed at a meeting of the committee of the whole. The question arose as a result of an application by G. Klomp regarding his delicatessen on Cleveland Avenue.

Ald. Ray Bryant said that he had recently visited Chilliwack and here a whole street put canopies in front of their stores, creating in effect a type of shopping mall and in this climate this was considered to be desirable.

An application by K. Nash for subdivision of his property in the VLA subdivision was approved, providing the subdivision complied with the bylaws.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harley have been holidaying at Shuswap Lake.

McKENZIE — Bill and Debbie McKenzie are pleased to announce the arrival of their first child, a son, Robbie James born in the Squamish General Hospital on July 20, weighing 8 lbs., 4 ounces. ## Graduation ceremonies at Brackendale Elementary

To honour the students who had completed their elementary school year, Brackendale school held a graduation ceremony for the Grade 7 class on June 24.

Twenty-eight members of the class, their parents and teachers, gathered in the school gym for a brief program and social evening at 7 p.m. The students marched into the gym and took their places. Mrs. Rhodes acting as mistress of ceremonies greeted the visitors and introduced the speakers and the graduates.

The first speaker was Brent Olson, class historian, who recalled events of the first seven years of school at "Good Old B.S." Deidre Olander, class prophet, looked 20 years into the future and forswore all members of the class suitably married and employed. Some of those who had enjoyed school so much were now school board employees.

Principal Brian Edwards next addressed the students, recalling some of the highlights of their school careers and wishing them well in the future. Each student was then presented with a diploma certifying that he or she had successfully completed elementary school.

Janette Barreau, class president, then spoke thanking parents and teachers for their help and support. The ceremony completed, refreshments were served and an hour of dancing, followed with students, teachers and parents joining in.

Members of the class who participated were Brent Olson, Doug Wilson, Joey Forcina, Doug Barone, Barry Fryer,

Eddie Kekuala concert pleases

A very professional, very impressive, unquestionably enjoyable evening of Hawaiian song and dance was applauded enthusiastically at the Totem Hall last Tuesday.

It was Squamish's fortune that Mrs. K. Carlson's daughter Iris Hone is manager for Eddy Kekuala, his musicians, the Na Hoaloa Trio, and his dancers Kekuala Hula Dancers; and that she persuaded him to perform out here.

Kekuala's singing is stylized in the peculiarly Hawaiian method of undulating between baritone and falsetto. His voice was at once powerful and mellow.

The showmanship itself was praiseworthy. The hula girls were always smiling real smiles, and their hand ballet was given sincerely, not as though it were merely a job to look and act pretty.

The musicians didn't attempt any acrobatics either with their instruments or their bodies as most groups tend to do nowadays. It was professional, yet not jaded with the sense of star-stuffed snobbery often found in other great musicians. Eddy, his instrumentalists and his dancers, were good, friendly, and likeable.

Fire report for June

The fire department was called out eight times in the month of June to extinguish fires, which in all totalled $22,200 damage.

Two of these fires were deliberately set: one by "prograd" students, the other is still under investigation.

In the area of fire prevention four sets of building plans were revised, the routine and required inspections were made, and three fire marshal's orders were issued regarding fire hazards and fire escapes.

In training there were the four regular practices and a demonstration of rescue and extrication was held for the RCMP. Also, members of the junior firefighters passed their written examinations and firefighter C. French was officially certified as a driver trainer instructor.

Whistler news

by Jenny Busdon

In the 1930s this area had a very imaginative way of recording weather reports. I know because Fred Woods, a man who lived in this area for many years during this time, is good enough to write often passing along treasured memories he feels would interest readers.

Back to the weather reports. In Fred Woods' latest correspondence he tells me that his wife Betty kept such reports for the federal government. The inspector, who visited their house to collect these reports, established thin marks on the window pane of the Woods' house and it was Betty's job to mark down in the weather book at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day just how far the clouds were down on Wedge Mountain, thus ascertaining the unique way of establishing a yearly weather pattern. Their house was situated about 200 - 300 feet north of the PGE tracks on the east side of 21 Mile Creek and Wedge Mountain, of course, would be very clearly visible.

Woods speaks of the pilots of the small planes that regularly flew into the valley. Pilots like Ginger Coates, McCluskey, Williams and others. Over the months of flying into the area the Woods became acquainted with them, and as they flew north or south the pilots used to fly low and dip their wings in salutation, weather permitting. Betty would quickly rush out of the house when hearing the engine of the planes and wave a gesturing towel. Some of these pilots' lives came quickly to an end. McCluskey was killed just southwest of Mons Station and Williams hit a log deadhead on Seaton Lake and was also killed. Of Coates, Woods does not know.

He mentions that most of the "old timers" were originally from the States. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Phillips (owners at that time of the Rainbow Lodge and Myrtle, wife of Alex, of course still lives here at Whistler and whom the new school will be dedicated to), Phil Tapley and wife, Charlie Chandler and Bill McDermott. Bachelors Ed Droll and Bill Bailiff (who I have mentioned numerous times in this column) were originally from Cumberland, England.

Bachelor Billy Marsh was an Australian who had come to Vancouver to try and locate where his twin brother had been buried. This brother had died in Vancouver whilst he was a crew member of a visiting ship. Billy decided to stay in Canada and settled in Alta Lake having secured himself a job working for a Mr. Lynam who owned land and a mink ranch just in from Mile 40 at the south end of Green Lake between the mouth of 21 Mile Creek and the railroad. From the mink ranch Billy decided to make his living by trapping and as no one had trapping rights up the Fitzsimmons and side creeks up to Wedge Mountain this is where he trapped.

However, Billy died in his late forties from alcohol. He became an alcoholic and each Saturday would find him at Mons Station awaiting the 1 p.m. southbound train to get his supply of his eventual destroyer. Charles and Vern Lundstrom were from Sweden, Ernie Archibald, three spinster sisters, Fred and Betty Woods, the Neiland family and Jimmy Riel were all Canadian.

Woods remembers Riel affectionately. From all accounts he was supposed to be related to Louis of the Riel rebellion. Jimmy travelled to San Francisco when he was in his early 20s, took up boxing and also studied law. It was unfortunate that liquor got the better of him and he returned to Vancouver. It was during the PGE construction that he came to Mons and became friends with the Woods. "He was a fantastic swimmer," Woods relates, "and he taught my daughter Helen and my two boys to swim. Helen could swim across Alta Lake and back twice, her only rest was to tread water."

Jimmy was also an accomplished pianist and the piano was his life. "He lived in what we called the 'tar-paper shack', located where we later built the school," Woods continues. "He had a small 20 gallon oil drum for his cook stove, a home-made bed and a mattress, hand-made table and two benches and, of course, his piano. He also had a hole in the floor of this one-room abode, big enough for his cat to get in and out." It seems that Jimmy was an educated and very good man for before the school was built here Woods says that he used to sit for hours with his daughter teaching her to spell and work at figures.

"Jimmy began to feel ill, and money was scarce in those days, and one day he took me aside and told me that he would catch the PGE freight train to Lillooet without any reason. Later Jimmy wrote to my wife and I and told us sadly that he had T.B. and asked that we not tell anyone else of this news. He had also written a letter to the Provincial Police in Lillooet requesting that he be buried in the Indian Cemetery there. He slashed his wrists and died."

Coming back to modern days, Mr. Woods informs me that he will be having a young Japanese lady and her seven-year-old daughter visiting him in August and she is very interested in seeing the Alta Lake that Woods speaks about so often to her where he and his family lived for nearly 20 years. This young lady and her husband have offered hospitality to the two Squamish students who are visiting Japan this month, along with the group of 40 exchange students. Perhaps if Fred Woods and his Japanese friends visit Alta Lake I will have the pleasure of meeting this man that has so many distinct and cherished memories of this area.

Summer recipes for light desserts

Here are some easy summer dessert recipes that are cool and light. They will compliment any meal.

FROZEN CHERRY DESSERT

Whip two 1/2-pint cartons of whipping cream. Add 1 can of cherry pie filling, stir in 1 14-oz. can of sweetened condensed milk. Pour in 1 14-oz. can of well drained crushed pineapple. Add 1/4 cup of lemon juice.

FRUIT SALAD

Place 2 large cans of fruit salad (drained) in a bowl. Add 2 large cans of pineapple chunks (drained); pour in large jar of maraschino cherries; 1/2 of that in the salad and 1/2 for decoration. Add 1 10-oz. jar of miniature marshmallows; stir in 1 pint of sour cream, add 1/2 pint of whipped cream; add another 1/2 pint to decorate. Put in the fridge for 3 hours and then serve.

GLAZED STRAWBERRY PIE

Sort and arrange 3 cups of strawberries in a pastry shell. Crush remaining 1 cup of strawberries in a small saucepan. Add 3/4 cup of water and simmer 3 or 4 minutes. Strain and use 1 cup of juice.

Combine 1 cup of sugar, 3 tbs. cornstarch and 1/8 tsp. salt in saucepan. Add strawberry juice. Bring to a boil until thickened and clear (about 3-4 minutes). Cool slightly and add 1 tsp. lemon juice.

Pour glaze over strawberries in shell and chill. Be sure to cover all the berries. Garnish with whipped cream or ice cream.

Queen contestants visit museum

The Britannia Mining Museum last Wednesday gave the Timber Queen contestants a free tour, which included the exhibits on the trail up, a train ride through the tunnel, demonstrations of drilling, and a special excursion through the old mill.

The stroll up the trail to the boarding platform went quickly with rests only to read the signs explaining exactly what the outdoor displays signified.

Once on the train the young ladies reluctantly put on hard hats and were pulled forward into the tunnel. The guide's microphone wasn't working so he stopped the train at each of the first exhibits and got out to give his explanations which were very interesting.

Three quarters of the way through the tunnel the train came to a halt and everybody disembarked and walked into one of the shafts to watch a demonstration of the drills used for extracting ore from the turn of the century up to modern times.

Several other machines were demonstrated, among them an old locomotive that bucked and jerked along as it scooped up ore and catapulted it into a box-car behind.

Because of the recent slide the tour had to return the way it came. Outside again, the girls quickly disposed of their hats and concluded the main part of the tour by signing the guest book.

However, there was still the hunger they built up on the trip to deal with, and the Dairy Queen came to the rescue with a generous lunch for each of them.

SQUAMISH SENIORS GET FEDERAL GRANT

A federal New Horizons program grant to the Squamish Seniors Club has been announced in Ottawa by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde.

The club receives $10,465 to develop a social and recreational program for the retired people of the Squamish area.

The project will be located in the Cedars senior residence, where space is provided rent-free. Activities will include social gatherings, music, sing-songs, films, hobbies, crafts, pot-luck lunches and dinners and special event celebrations.

President of the group is Arthur Reynolds of Squamish. New Horizons is a program of the department of national health and welfare to fund projects by groups of senior citizens to keep them active and involved in their community.

From the Pemberton Valley

by Shirly Henry

Pemberton Pole & Piling would like to thank the Mt. Currie Fire Department and especially the individuals from Mt. Currie who worked many hours fighting the fire at the pole yard. Also, a thank you to the Pemberton Fire Department and the B.C. Forest Service crew who came and spent many hours of their time getting the blaze under control. We are fortunate to have so many people who are willing to help.

NICE PLACES TO BE is an attractive exhibit of art opening at the Brackendale Art Gallery on Friday, July 29 and features the west coast of North America.

"Nice Place To Be" exhibit at gallery

By KRISTINA DISSING

"He's dreaming now," said Tweedledee, "and what do you suppose he's dreaming about?" For the past six years, Ellsworth Overton has been dreaming of nice places to be, meticulously recording them on canvas and setting them aside like a picturesque, very personal travelogue.

Now for the first time the public is invited to have a look at his journey. "Nice Places To Be" opens at Brackendale Gallery July 29 until Aug. 27 when it moves to his hometown at the Penticon Arts Centre Gallery.

The journey meanders down the coast, from lushly ferned B.C. forest lands, to magically mushroomed San Blas, Mexico where Ellsworth spends his winters until he can afford a year-round home in the north.

He paints wonderlands, not the fanciful, fantastical "Alice" variety, but enchanted terrains to show a friend or entice a lover; quiet little sanctuaries where one can slow down, stand still and finally be.

Do the places really exist? The viewer visits Harvey's paintings like the victim of some pleasant parmesia; everything is as familiar as it is not. Just when we think we have reached a dreamland, an intimate tangibility whispers, "So you weren't dreaming after all!" (Unless, as Alice discovered, we are all part of the same dream.)

But, we still insist, "Can we actually visit those places — in

Old Timers picnic

In spite of lowering skies and cool breezes approximately 25 brave seniors boarded the bus for Stanley Park last Tuesday to meet with former residents now living in the Vancouver area.

Hot tea and coffee awaited them as they arrived at the picnic site and they were soon joined by old friends who had been informed of the event by Mrs. Isabel Blake, Mrs. Nellie Dixon and Mrs. Marion Bochon.

It was a wonderful opportunity to become re-acquainted with old friends and to catch up on family activities. Many strolled through the park, visited the zoo or rode the train, in addition to visiting.

Some who have attended this function in the past were missing but there were also some newcomers. Seen among the crowd were Mrs. Agnes Machin, Mrs. Flo Nott and her sister from Mission, Mrs. Alice Geddes with a daughter and two grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Nicholsonland a granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Musto, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Martinow and their two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Olive Baxter.

See you all again next summer!
