SQUAMISH B.C. - WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1979

Watch for students on road

Students, from the wee tots to the high schoolers, return to classes Tuesday, September 4.

By foot, bicycle and bus they will again be travelling British Columbia streets and highways and motorists should take extra care.

Children's movements are often unpredictable and extreme care is needed when driving in school and playground areas.

Robert Whitlock, B.C. superintendent of motor vehicles, said the first week of school can be the most dangerous.

Accidents occur because children are excited about returning to school and may not obey road safety rules, he said. Then again, drivers may not be prepared for heavy foot and bicycle traffic on local highways as children go back to classes.

"Motorists must remember that where 'pedestrian' and 'children-on-highway' signs are posted, drivers must execute extreme caution as children may be walking or crossing at any time.

"In fact, it is mandatory to stop when school patrols are at an intersection with 'stop paddles' extended."

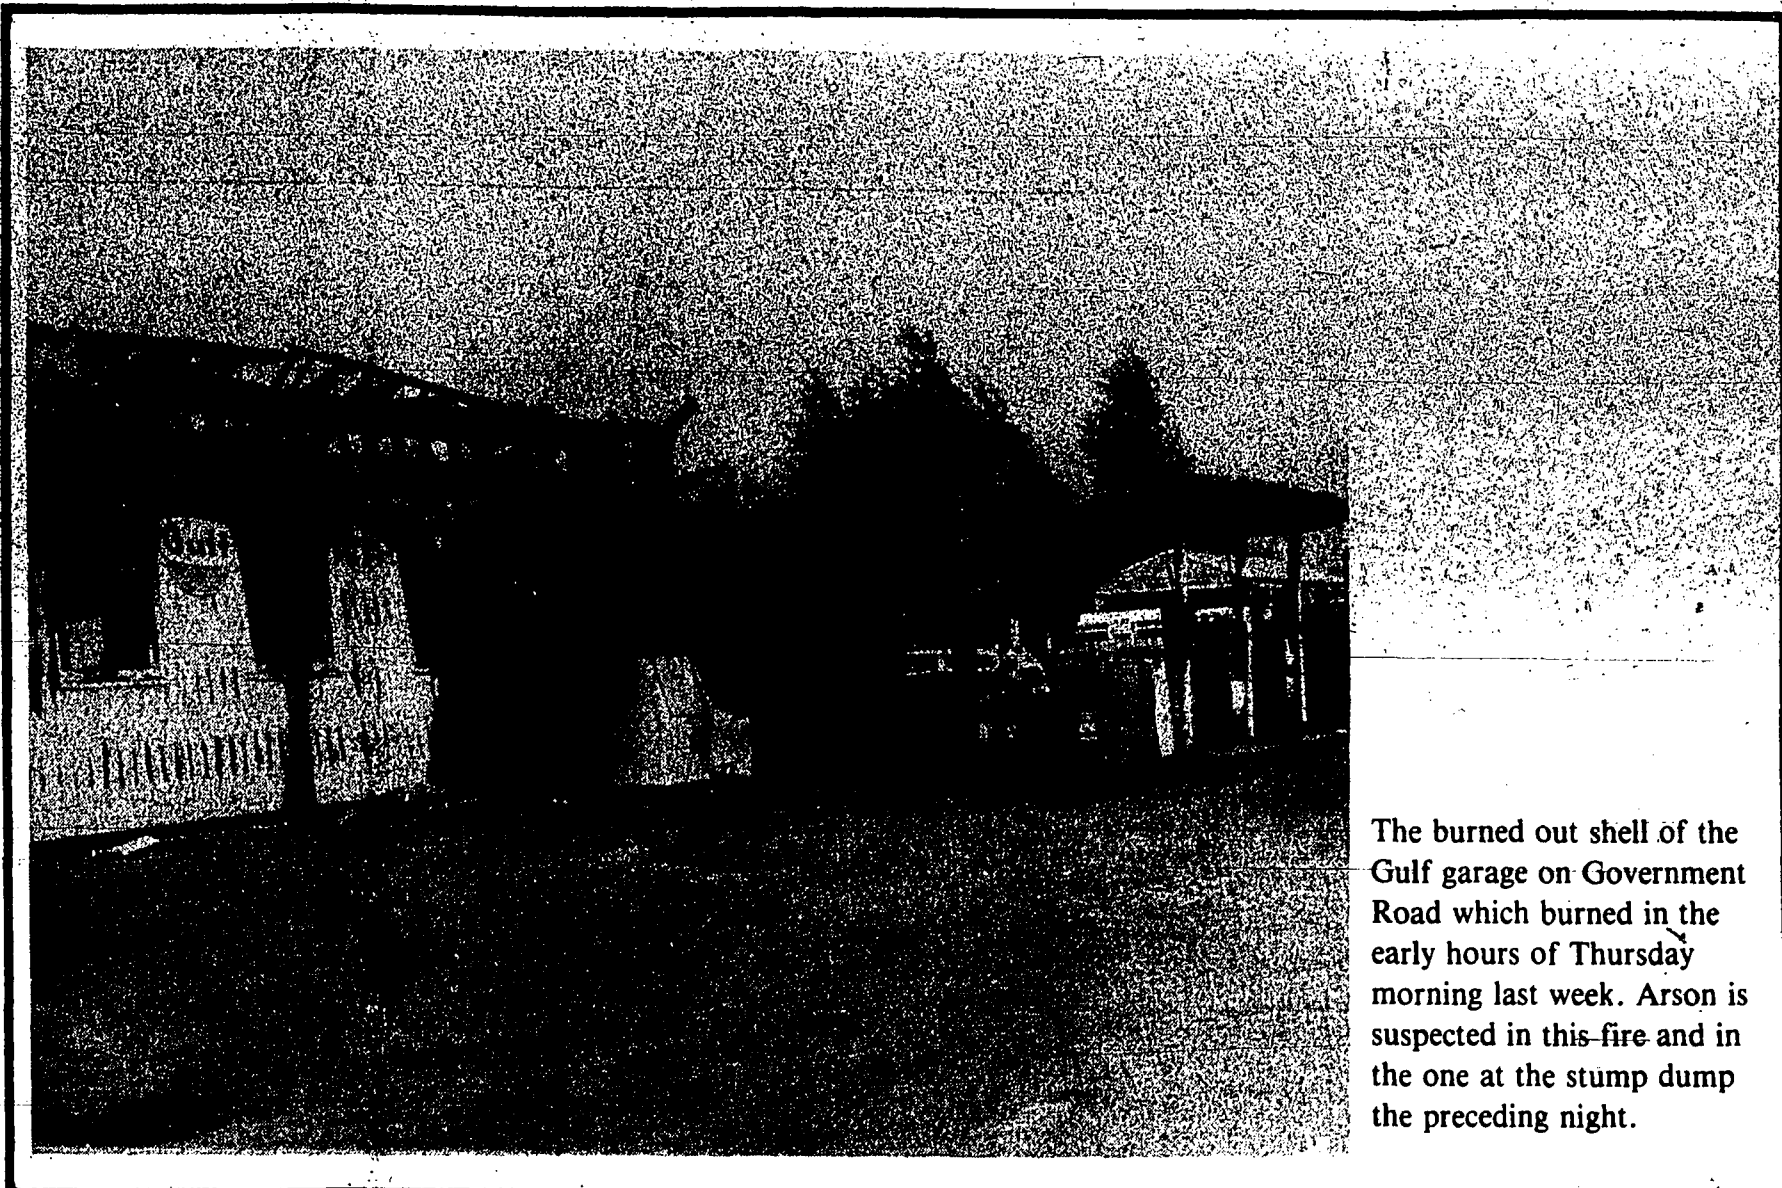

Yellow school buses are also back on the roads. Watch for them, and remember when they are stopped, displaying alternating flashing red lights, motorists must come to a complete stop when approaching from either the rear or at the front of the bus.

Motorists must remain stopped, in both directions, until the bus has received or discharged children and turns off its flashing lights.

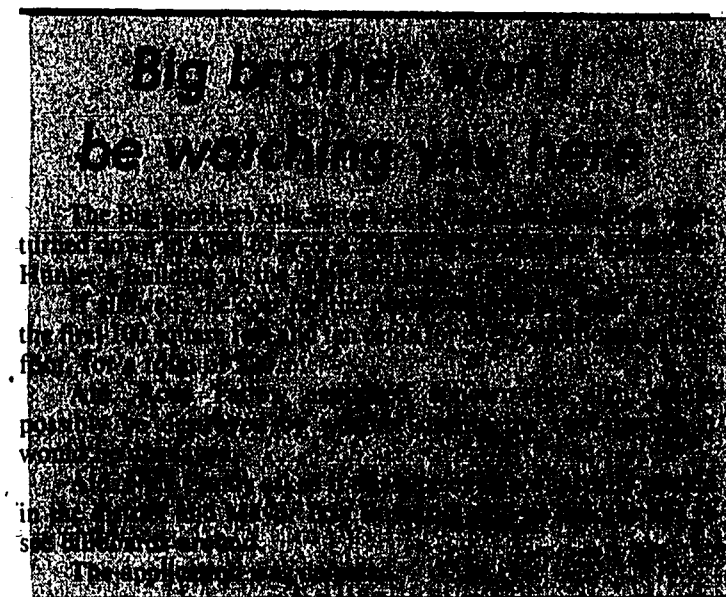

Whitlock said vehicle operators, students and car pool drivers must ensure all passengers six and over are wearing seat belts when travelling in vehicle where the belts are available.

"While motorists are reminded to watch for students and practice safe responsible motoring, parents are also reminded to review road safety rules with children during this first week of the new school year."

Fire destroys garage

Fire completely gutted the Gulf Oil garage at the intersection of Government Road and Garibaldi Way in the early hours of Thursday, Aug. 30th.

Firemen were notified of the blaze at 1:30 a.m. and when the equipment arrived the building was totally involved in fire with flames shooting through the roof and out of the windows.

Explosions were heard almost continually from the time the police arrived and for fifteen minutes after as combustible materials in the building exploded.

All available fire equipment was used on the blaze which was contained by 1:40 a.m. Fire Chief Doug Orser said it was fortunate the fire did not spread to adjoining buildings or property.

The fire marshal's office and the RCMP are investigating the cause of the fire.

FMC upgrading

Council toured the FMC chemical plant in Squamish on Tuesday, August 28, and Mayor Izzy Boscariol said they came away convinced the plant is upgrading all the time.

Ald. Bill Manson and deputy clerk Bill Bloxham accompanied the mayor.

Mayor Boscariol later told council assurance was given by FMC authorities everything that could be done was being done to make the operation of the plant as safe as possible for the community.

The plant manager, Mr. Kass, said he had been contacting sea planes and advising them to keep away from the plant. They are in the habit of taking off in the narrow Blind Channel and banking over the plant, he said.

Ald. Manson suggested the sea plane facility be moved to a different location.

He also suggested priority should be given to the implementing of the siren system for the emergency planning project and should be considered in the upcoming budget.

The project was brought before council earlier this year.

Ald. Manson said FMC is not the only source of concern. Chemicals and other dangerous materials are also trucked by road and rail throughout the community.

Council Briefs

Committee to study yacht club lease

Ald. Manson and Ald. Barr have been appointed to study the yacht club's application to lease land for moorage. The committee will examine the situation with a view of acquiring a lease in the name of the municipality and then sub-lease it to the club.

Parking prohibited near public safety building
Parking on both sides of Tantalus Road from Garibaldi Way will be prohibited because it is the site of the public safety building.

Road Runner to pay $600 yearly rent

Road Runner Sporting Goods Ltd., which leases a room at the civic centre for ice and roller skating, will pay $50 a month rent instead of $100 a month.

Owner Walter Sweeney agreed to pay $900 back rent and agreed to pay the $50 whether or not the ice or roller rink is used.

Fire Chief temporary building inspector

Fire Chief Doug Orser has been appointed temporary building inspector while Bill Allen is away on holidays.

Council might consider closing Porcupine Park

The committee of Ald. Manson and Ald. Elliott advised council to close Porcupine Park and remove all equipment to reduce the extreme high cost of maintaining small parks.

The report will be forwarded to the parks and recreation commission for its opinion on the park.

Stawamus School Rd. okayed

The public works committee, consisting of Ald. Candy and Ald. Barr, recommended the Stawamus School Rd. be blacktopped and a few minor repairs be done at a cost of approximately $2,000.

The committee concluded there is nothing to be considered alarmingly wrong with the road at the present because the school board has done a great deal of upgrading on the road over the past year.

It was also recommended the municipality not replace the road.

at Meagher Creek

Canada's first geothermal power possibility here

Encouraging test results from exploratory drilling near Meagher Creek indicate a significant geothermal potential which could ultimately lead to Canada's first geothermal power generating plant.

Geothermal power uses steam trapped beneath the earth's surface to drive electrical generators. Engineers investigating the geothermal power potential on the south side of the Meagher Mountain volcanic complex, near Pemberton, reached temperatures of 139°C at a depth of 305 metres (m) at the first of six exploratory holes planned for this year.

Joe Stauder, generation planning engineer for B.C. Hydro, said that initial results indicate the possibility of a steam reservoir at a depth of less than 1600 m.

If combined with adequate pressure and flow, this would be sufficient for an electric generating station, Stauder said.

The next stage in the investigations involves drilling exploratory wells about four times the size of the present slim exploratory holes.

Before production wells can be considered, tests on the exploratory wells would have to approximate the following criteria: surface steam temperatures of 180°C or more; pressures of 600-700 kilopascals (kpa); and about 50,000 kilograms (kg) of steam per hour.

If production wells are drilled, a demonstration plant with a capacity of 50 to 100 megawatts could be considered.

Crews conducting resistivity tests in the northern part of the complex have also encountered encouraging results of low resistivity, indicating considerable fracturing and the possible presence of a natural hot water reservoir.

Drilling and geophysical studies, funded jointly by B.C. Hydro and the federal and provincial governments, have been going on in the Meagher Creek area since 1974.

Environmental studies, begun in 1978, are continuing this year.

Technical reports on the field work and on the environment of the Meagher Creek geothermal area will be distributed to government agencies and libraries shortly.

An information bulletin, outlining the history and development of the project, is in preparation and will be available to the public in the near future.

Major maintenance program underway

By ROSE TATLOW

A $3 million facelift and major maintenance program is underway at Weldwood of Canada's Empire Lumber Division where the buildings have been painted, two major log decks and a main head rig carriage are being replaced along with a number of other improvements.

Plant manager Al Siemens said a new infed to the planer mill is being installed; a new chipping edger has been purchased for remanufacturing lumber and there will be a general facelift and modification improvement to the flow-in and outfeed of the sawmill.

Siemens said one of the problems they are facing is the difficulty to get shop time in the lower mainland to build the machinery required as many sawmills and pulp mills are modernizing.

"We hope to have it finished by the end of February," he said last week "but we may be delayed."

"Half the sawmill was down for a week and it was all down for a few days," he said, "while some of the changes were made to the log decks and head rig carriage. Fortunately this could be planned around holidays so there wasn't as much closure as there would have been during the busy season."

Siemens pointed out that the mill is over 15 years old and after that length of time some improvements are necessary.

"The plant has been painted," he pointed out, "and there's an attractive new Weldwood sign on the building. It was all done by local contractor Rise'n Shine and we're pleased with the end result."

Considerable paving has been done around the plant with roadways and other areas repaired and repaved.

Siemens said a lower mainland contractor is in charge of the job but local people are being used wherever possible.

He spoke briefly on the export situation saying the company sends four million feet of dressed and rough lumber to Japan each month and they are assured of markets for the next four or five months.

"We are spreading our exports around so that we are not completely dependent on the U.S. market," he said, "although it is our major one. We also ship to Europe and the United Kingdom."

Siemens said he had visited Japan last fall and was delighted

Harvest festival for Upper Valley

Something different for the Squamish area is planned with the Harvest Moon Festival at the Huddle Ranch in the Upper Valley on Sunday, Sept. 9th.

Bands such as the Elder Pearls and Lashes, Cadie and the Clamtones will be appearing in the race show, along with the Rain Coast Puppets, Gail Warner and others.

There will be belly dancing, a sausage barbecue and food by the Huddle's Middle.

Rick Roy, who has arranged the festival, said they have staged some in other areas and he is looking forward to holding the event on their property in Upper Squamish.

Ample parking will be provided, there will be security measures and people in the upper valley are co-operating with them in staging the event with many residents assisting them.

Cost to enter the festival is six dollars per person and Roy told the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District when he applied for permission to hold the festival, that he expected a crowd of between 700 and 1000 people.

The Harvest Moon Festival is featuring many local artists. Edward John, a former resident of Squamish will also be there doing all the engineering, turning knobs, making sure all the amplifiers, etc. work and Ed will also be playing and singing during the show.

He has a light and motivated many young musicians in Squamish.

Other artists include Fred Pearson, Rick Scott, Dan Raben, west coast fiddler, with Dennis Nichols of String Band who are well known west coast musicians and entertainers.

Cam and Paul Wagner and Roy Eliassen will be there and Norm Foote with his Raincoast Puppets with original songs and puppet work on the side, will be introducing and filling in during the show.

There will be many more fine artists to add to your entertainment.

They will be equipped for rain with a circus tent arrangement so don't let a bit of wet weather stop you. You'll be high and dry at the Harvest Moon Festival.

Debbie Bishop tells of the year spent in India

Debbie Bishop, the tiny, dark-haired and dark-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop of Whistler, spoke to the Squamish Rotary Club on Thursday, Aug. 30, about her year in India as an exchange student.

Dressed in a sari with the dark spot on her forehead, bracelets on her arm and with the diamond nose jewel, she added an exotic note to the meeting.

Debbie was born in Squamish and went to Whistler with her parents ten years ago. Last year she went to India as an exchange student, spending a year in Bombay with two host families and returning this June.

"I loved every minute of it," she told the intent audience. "I had originally asked to go to Australia or New Zealand or Japan, but I'm glad I didn't. I learned a lot, including some Hindi, although it wasn't necessary as most people speak English."

"But a knowledge of Hindi is valuable if you want to bargain in the markets," she added.

"Although I spent most of my time in Bombay I did go north to a hill town and this was the first time I had to wear a sweater during my stay in India."

She spoke of the hill town with its mini Taj Mahal, a beautiful tomb, styled like the Taj Mahal at Agra with carved marble turrets and walls, set in a park-like atmosphere.

"We also went to Goa, where there are beautiful beaches and watched for fishermen coming in from the sea with their catches."

She showed a picture of a Goanese fisherman wearing a turban, but styled differently to the ones which we see on the Sikhs here.

She also told of a visit to a village outside Bombay where a group of exchange students travelled on a bullock cart.

"We were met by the men and the boys from the village who greeted us with a dance of welcome. We all joined them in their dance. The children followed us wherever we went as we were the first exchange students they had ever seen, and they were very curious."

"We were invited to visit their temple," she said, "and this is a very great honor."

She showed many pictures of India, the vegetable sellers on the street, the cows walking through the streets, the hill country, the beaches at Goa, the people who all willingly posed for pictures and pictures of her host families.

One host family lived in an apartment, the other in a beautiful home; but she said she enjoyed the experience of sleeping on the floor on a mattress with her "sisters".

She answered a number of questions after the slide showing, explaining that married women all wear saris; the spot on the forehead is either painted on or pasted on and all Indian women wear jewelry, much of it in gold and precious gems.

In answer to a query regarding the name Singh, she said it is a very common one in India, especially among the Sikhs who are the ones who wear the turban.

She said that India has 22 states and the Sikhs are representative of only one of them.

In response to another query regarding the caste system, she said it is still prevalent in India and she noticed instances of it.

"Weddings are big occasions in India," she said. "Many are still arranged but the young people do get a chance to meet each other before they marry."

"Saris are often given as wedding gifts, many in pure silk and heavily embroidered in gold and silver. Jewelry sets in gold and diamonds or other precious jewels are also given to the bride."

She was asked if she would go back to India and her response was immediate. "I am going back," she said. "One of my 'sisters' is getting married next year and I'm going back for that."

She recommended a year as an exchange student to any young person.

Debbie Bishop, in blue sari with bracelets and beauty mark on her forehead, with Stan Kary, president of the Squamish Rotary Club. Debbie, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bishop of Whistler, was a Rotary exchange student who spent a year in Bombay. She spoke to the club on India and showed some slides of the country.

Regional district briefs

Following some discussion on logging and recreation interests, Director R. Horsey of Whistler said the municipality is still dealing primarily with logging concerns within the municipal boundaries.

He said that sometime in September a report on logging scars, landscape logging, etc., would be prepared. He added that the question goes beyond Whistler and covers the entire corridor from Squamish to Lillooet. Future plans are to set up a resource management committee.

Directors Barr and Candy recommended that a member of the regional district be appointed to the Resource Management Committee.

The board will spend up to $800 to carry out a feasibility study for the Devine Water System and that WEB Engineering be employed following a petition from the residents asking for the study.

The regional district will write to the Village of Lillooet offering to install a water connection between North Lillooet and the village.

Zoning bylaw amendment No. 155 was adopted as well as the bylaw authorizing the lease agreement for the fire hall and refuse disposal site at Garibaldi. First three readings were given to the Lillooet Lake TV Reception Specified Area bylaw and the North Lillooet Community Refuse Disposal Specified Area Amendment Bylaw.

Land Commission appeals by G.P. and C. Tulloch and by Dufour, Nicol and Jarvis were recommended for approval. Director van der Lee expressed his disapproval of the principle of large blocks of residential land being bought and then subdivided, stating smaller farms are marginal operations.

The board decided to inform the UBCM it was not interested in participating in dog control.

The Land Commission appeal to have property at Chuck-Chuck removed from the Agricultural Land Reserve was approved and Director Candy recommended that this matter be referred to the Technical Planning Committee.

Director Rollert expressed concern about the subdivision at Devine, stating that doubt was being cast on whether the people there had permanent resident status. The administrator was to phone the Department of Lands, Parks and Housing to protest the problems created by subdivisions.

Scouts, Cubs & Beavers

RAMBLINGS

from East Howe Sound

With Scouting now becoming a major movement in the East Howe Sound District, a Scouting news column has been inaugurated to keep you informed of local Scouting events, activities and achievements. This column prepared by the Boy Scouts of Canada, East Howe Sound District's Public Relations Coordinator, will advise you of the times and places of major Scouting activities in which the community is invited to attend and participate in. Ramble along with the Scouting Community of East Howe Sound each week.

Registration
Monday, September 10, will be registration night for the East Howe Sound District Scouts, Cubs, Beavers and Venturers. ## RCMP Showband to visit Squamish on Sept. 25th

The RCMP Show and will be in Squamish on Tuesday, Sept. 25th at the Civic Centre from 8 to 9:30 p.m. to present a program of contemporary jazz, rock, sentimental oldies or the best of popular tunes.

This talented group of twelve musicians has the sound any listener enjoys and they have a lot of fun doing it. The group is an integral part of the world famous RCMP Concert Band stationed in Ottawa, Ont.

Personnel selected to perform in the RCMP "Show Band" are some of today's most accomplished musicians. They, for the most part, are career police musicians who are selected from the professional music scene from all parts of Canada.

Notable performances by the RCMP Show Band include the record-breaking Kinsmen

Telemiracle of 1978 in Regina, Sask., and the Variety Club Telethon in Vancouver to raise funds for the handicapped; CBC radio broadcasts from Heritage Festival in Vancouver, and tours to remote Canadian locations such as Sachs Harbor to perform for Inuit audiences.

This renowned ensemble tours Canada capturing the hearts of its audiences whether they are performing for students or at a public concert.

The "Show Band" represents the RCMP in the locations it visits supporting the on-going crime prevention program that each detachment is actively involved in.

Tickets are available from any RCMP member, any Rotary member or from People's Drug Mart in the Highlands Mall or Stedmans.

United Church seeks to sponsor refugees

The Squamish United Church has joined the growing number of organizations in Canada wishing to sponsor a refugee family.

The local church application takes advantage of an "umbrella arrangement" recently signed by the United Church of Canada and the Canadian government.

The sponsoring group is financially and morally responsible for up to one year. This not only includes looking after their housing, clothing and food, but also the little things which show we care and want them to feel at home in their new environment.

Thousands of Vietnamese refugees are being held in overcrowded camps in Hong Kong after risking their lives in crossing the South China Sea by small boats. The lucky families able to enter Canada are flown to this country at government expense; however their fares are repayable by the immigrants within three years.

Anyone wishing to support this worthwhile project may do so by sending donations to the "Squamish United Church Refugee Fund", Box 286, Squamish, B.C. or by directly approaching the church treasurer, Doug Rudy.

All donations will be receipted for income tax purposes.

Overheard at the Chieftain Hotel over coffee ... he thinks penitentiary means over-sexed!

Never let it be said that Squamish people aren't ingenious. Last Saturday at the Candys' barn dance when the power went off just as the food was being served, were they disturbed?

No way. Quick as a flash, big lanterns and flashlights appeared and almost before you could say B.C. Hydro in uncomplimentary accents, Nick had the light plant hooked up, lights were on and the music and food enjoyed even more than before!

Billets needed for Up With People cast

Two members of the Up With People cast, Ann, Christine and Dennis, are currently looking for host families to take in performers on September 13 and 14.

The cast will be arriving September 13 and will be performing two shows September 14, one at 7 p.m. and the other at 8:30 p.m. at the civic centre. Each show will run for 1 1/2 hours and will feature fast dancing, lots of color, a medley of songs and audience participation. The shows are sponsored by the parks and recreation commission.

Dennis said there are approximately 100 members in the cast and they "need as many host families as they can get."

The cast wants to "experience the people of the town and family life," he said.

They can be reached at the parks and recreation office in the civic centre at 898-1604.

After the two performances, Up With People will be recruiting people for next year's cast. Any interested people between 18 and 26 years of age may be interviewed after the show.

Dennis said people are chosen "almost totally on personality and their ability to get along with other people."

The show is put together and members receive instruction for one month in Tucson, Arizona, and sing and dance for 12 hours a day during that time.

The cast does everything from public relations to technical setup under the guidance of the staff.

This year the cast is travelling throughout the United States and Canada and after Christmas will head for South America and Mexico.

Two other casts are currently in Spain and Belgium and will be travelling to Holland and the Scandinavian countries after Christmas.

Three of the five casts will be performing during the Super Bowl halftime show.

The cast currently consist of 40 per cent international members and 60 per cent United States members, however Dennis said the next two years the cast will be split 50-50.

They're trying to make it a global, international group in every sense.

Up With People members are available for speaking engagements on September 14 during the day. Any interested clubs or organizations that want to find out more about Up With People should contact Dennis or Ann Christine at the civic centre. Tickets are available at the Times office, civic centre and the Highlands Mall. Prices are $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and children.

Fish or foul

The latest contretemps between Canada and the United States could be called the halibut and tuna wars but despite the fishy overtones it's rather disturbing to find that our wishes are being flouted by our neighbour who seems to be using his extra size to try to browbeat us.

Last month there was the incident in the north where the Americans took more than their share of the halibut by overfishing and instead of trying to equate things by permitting Canadian fishermen to get their quota decided we got the smaller catch because they had taken too much.

That was bad enough. But this latest episode with the American fishermen defying our offshore regulations by coming into our waters after the tuna is an open defiance of Canadian regulations.

We can imagine what would happen if we tried to enter American waters after fish. We would be hauled into their harbours and roundly chastised. But they claim the fish is migratory. Aren't all fish migratory? At least any that traverse an ocean are.

Coupled with their increasing statements that there should be a reapportioning of the salmon fisheries and the general distrust between the two countries on fishing questions we would say it's heading into a showdown on the question of the U.S.-Canadian fisheries problem.

The herring also come into the dispute and with herring roe such a popular item, although we feel fishing herring for roe is compounding problems with declining salmon stocks, there are even more reasons why someone should sit down and convince big brother that he's not always right just because he is bigger.

Fishing is fishing but foul is foul even when it's fishy.

Howe Soundings

It's the last holiday weekend of summer and judging by Friday's weather it's not going to be a very nice one. It's too bad for all the people who may have held out for a good weekend, last weekend which was wonderful because the three day one was coming up.

And by all accounts one of the best places to stay away from must have been the B.C. Ferries because by Friday morning they said there were lineups which stretched for some distance and wait up to two sailings.

We've gone to the Island before on a holiday weekend and never again. It's just not worth the hassle and there's nothing worse than waiting in line and then having them close it off a car or two in front of you!

But people can't complain. This has been a beautiful summer and there must have been many opportunities to go out for a few days or even for a number of weekends. We have always looked for beautiful weather in September but with the lovely weather we've had all summer we can't really expect it to last much longer.

Have you noticed how the nights are drawing in with darkness falling completely just after 8 p.m. Seems impossible to believe that it's almost fall and before long there will be snow whirling around. Sure we know there are people who spend all their time thinking snow but really... (Wonder how the Whistler people are going to reconcile their thinking snow with the desire to have the good weather last long enough to get everything done in time?)

Some of the best remarks these days are coming out of Jim Elliott's Rotary bulletin. Couldn't resist cribbing some of these.....

Did you hear from the Grade III teacher who told her class that "If you can't write your name, when you grow up you'll have to pay cash for everything!"

And "people will believe anything if you whisper it!" Loved these Confucius sayings he included in his latest effort.

Honeydew over when his hand starts to look in the paper instead of her eyes.

"Stuffed shirt" usually very empty person!

"Show-off" always show up in show-down.

The Senior Citizens will be holding their Mini-Fair this weekend and it will be interesting to see what they have accomplished with their arts and crafts, needlework, vegetables and flowers. Remember the days when Squamish used to have a full-fledged Fall Fair with everyone turning out to see what had been produced?

It's too bad that, like many other things, it succumbed to modern times. People loved to come to the fair and to see what others had done but when it came to working on the event, to planning and setting up the fair, to looking after the entries and the prizes, to finding people to handle the pet show and all the other ramifications of a Fall Fair that was a different matter.

The same few dedicated people worked on everything for the fair and as they grew older and more tired there were not enough people to come forward to help with all the work involved.

It was a shame to see the fair fold. But the dedicated group which had worked so hard for many years just couldn't keep it up any longer. And there were not enough people interested in keeping the event going. So a grand old tradition that had its roots in the early years of this century lapsed and now all we have is the Mini-Fair to carry on the tradition.

Some of those fairs were fun. I can remember the time the cooking judge gave a local lad first prize for his cookies, in the children's division, and said they were so good they would have taken first prize in the adults as well. Then there was the young bride whose lemon pie won out over "veteran" cook Mrs. Seymour's lemon pie and was so delighted she literally walked on clouds.

And the woman who made her fool cake and in the rush of getting her items down to the fair after a glass of orange juice over the cake. So she nonchalantly wiped it off and entered the cake anyway and won first prize with the judge praising it because it was so moist!

Just a quick word of warning. It's back to school this week and with so many little ones starting school for the first time please be careful and watch when you are driving near the schools or when you pass the small ones along the side of the road. They are just a little bit nervous and may dart in front of you (although we hope they have been carefully taught) and we don't want any accidents.

Third world imports

We buy made-in-Korea shirts, shoes and radios because they are cheap — so much cheaper than Canadian-made products. We are importing more and more of our clothing, shoes and electrical appliances from Third World countries like South Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong. The jobs of Canadian workers are being threatened by these imports and their unions are demanding government action to protect jobs and curb imports.

Some have suggested that Canada and other industrialized countries should phase out their textile, electronic assembly and other labour intensive industries and let the underdeveloped Third World countries produce the things we need. They argue that this will provide badly needed jobs for the millions of unemployed in these countries and allow them to industrialize and develop.

But who would really benefit from such a shift in the international division of labour? While the expansion of clothing and electronic industries in the Third World countries may boost GNP and economic growth figures, there is little evidence that this would benefit the workers or the majority of people in these countries.

Labour intensive industries are attracted to the Third World countries because wages are low. South Korean clothing workers for example receive about 40 cents an hour. The governments of many of these countries have outlawed unions and banned strikes in an effort to keep wages low.

Canadian customers do not benefit either. Imports from Third World countries usually have much higher mark-ups than Canadian-made goods, and the savings from the low production cost based on cheap labour are not passed on to the consumer. The only beneficiaries are the multi-national companies and a privileged few in the Third World countries.

The people of the Third World would be much better off if their development plans were based on producing the things they need, not just for export.

An editor's life

Someone once said an editor's life is not a happy one and whoever it was certainly knew what he was talking about.

No matter what you do you can't win. If we make a change in someone's story, we're too critical. If we don't we're lazy or sloppy or both and don't take times to do things properly.

If we take pictures of one business, we favour it; if we don't what have we got against them. If we mention one service club, we're pushing a specific one; if we don't we don't support them.

If we print jokes people say we don't take things seriously; if we don't they say we are too solemn and should laugh once in a while.

If we stay in the office the boss says we ought to be out hunting for news; if we go out he wonders where we are instead of being on hand when people call or drop in.

If we clip things from other papers or use press released we're accused of being too lazy to write our own articles; if we don't we're too fond of our own writing.

If we don't cover every single thing that goes on in town we're not doing our job; if we do, we should stay home once in a while instead of spending all our time socializing.

And to top it all someone will say we swiped this idea from other newspaper .... and we did!

One of the numbers the Up With People cast will perform in the Squamish Civic Centre on Sept. 14 is the Spanish folk dance during the international medley.

Longhouse

There used to be the longhouse man built it by the shore, there she was every morning standing by the door, long raven hair smiling.

Remind of legend and museum pieces.

Strong spice of the fantasy can escalate the visions.

Close your eyes and dream under the shadow of the cedar.

I love that legend and please do not ask me why. But dreams and living are like yes or no sometimes.

For Birthday #28

I sit atop a volcano (here on earth, we all do.) And when my mountain splits and spits and causes the giant hand to clench I will roar out over the land, stream down into the streets, so my unshed tears drown the trees. And when you watch my molten rainbow spread lick up mountainsides taunt seas, then you watch bone and muscle and heart unconsumable alive flowing —Susan A. Wilson Britannia Beach Spring 1979

Bowling leagues forming so join one now!

Bowling is the number one participation sport, so why not participate?

Bowling leagues are being formed at Garibaldi Lanes and any interested people should call now to reserve a space.

Ladies' leagues are in the mornings and afternoons, with free babysitting provided for one-year-olds and over. Mixed leagues begin in the evenings between 7 and 9 and golden-agers can bowl Wednesday afternoons at 1.

In the youth bowling leagues, 4 to 7-year-olds bowl Saturday at 9:30 a.m., 8 to 10-year-olds bowl at 11:30 a.m. and 11 to 13-year-olds bowl at 1 p.m. the same day. On Sunday, at 7 p.m. 14 to 18-year-olds bowl.

New leagues for the coming season are men's on Monday at 9 p.m. and low average and beginners' ladies on Tuesday or Thursday at 1 p.m. and mixed on Tuesday at 9 p.m. This league provides free instruction and weekly coaching for someone who has never bowled before or has a low average due to lack of instruction. There will also be open bowling for fun and relaxation, clubs, organizations, birthday parties and students.

Special events such as bowling for turkeys, masquerade parties moonlight bowling and many more, have been planned. Registration is Saturday, Sept. 8 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Garibaldi Lanes, 18044 2nd Ave. Phone 892-9813 or 892-3814 for more information.

COACHES FOR SOCCER NEEDED DESPERATELY

Did you know that soccer is one of the cheapest sports a child can get involved in? In the Squamish Valley for $5 and a pair of soccer boots a juvenile can play for roughly six months of the year.

This usually means that the Howe Sound Juvenile Soccer League has 350 to 400 boys and girls involved.

Needless to say, with that number we need plenty of coaches, assistant coaches, referees and helpers for the concession stands and this is where we are having problems — just not enough adults showing an interest.

If you are at all interested in either coaching, or assisting a coach or refereeing a few games, please call Anne Martin at 892-3871 or Bruce Rourke at 892-3075. Without your help there is a possibility we may have to limit registration.

Skyline Sports supports Canada's national ski team

Dave Murray of Canada's National Ski Team announced a fund raising program for the Canadian Ski Team Alpine Division at the official opening last week of Skyline Sports' new sporting goods store on West Boulevard in Vancouver.

Murray said Skyline Sports will match, dollar for dollar, any funds donated by the general public to the ski team during Skyline's Super Ski Sale.

It also took Murray just one minute to saw a ski in half to officially open the store. One minute is the time usually taken by Murray to ski an icy downhill course on a mountain in Europe at 70-80 kilometres an hour.

Murray is Canada's foremost skier today; he rates third in the World Cup downhill ratings and has just recently returned from training camp in New Zealand — he leaves for the European circuit just after Labour Day.

Casey and Ann Niewerth, owners of the new store, have contributed enormously to the growth of the ski industry in B.C., and the 6,000 sq. ft. of elegant displays reflect their expertise in the business.

Located at 5395 West Boulevard, the new sporting goods store officially opens to the general public with the Super Ski Sale on September 6th. Preview days are September 4th and 5th.

Contributing to the evening's festivities were models wearing the latest "popcorn" ski fashions by Henri-Charles Colsonet of Geneva.

Nancy Greene-Raine said, "I am delighted Skyline is supporting the National Ski Team; the funds raised in this program will help our skiers get to the Moscow Olympics in 1980."

Skyline Sports also operates a sporting goods outlet at 119 West 16th Street in North Vancouver and a Team and Institutional Division from 3265 E. Esplanade in North Vancouver.

Squamish Ski and Outdoor Club News

The S.S.O.C. monthly meetings will resume Wednesday, September 5, 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

The club hasn't been too active through the summer months with the heat slowing down hikers, lots of members away on holidays, and we who were left behind just did our own thing. There was lots of action with the canoeists and kayakers who have covered many of the local areas, Sechelt Peninsula and the West Coast of Van. Isl.

Our next weekend outing is to Wedgemont Lake which is a strenuous 3 1/2 hour hike with spectacular scenery around the 6000' level lake. This is fed by a mass of glaciers. This can be a day trip also. Further details discussed at our meeting tonight. If you cannot attend this meeting and would like to join us on this trip, please phone Jake Den Dekker at 898-5607, Chris Dale 898-9466 or Helen Denis at 898-9896.

Club memberships are due October 3, 1979, at which time is our Annual General Meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting, and also people who are interested in becoming members are invited to come along and see what the club's plans are. Our meetings are held the first Wednesday of the month and are usually followed by a showing of slides, movies or guest speaker. If you are a lover of outdoors, come join us and get away from the everyday routine. Our main interests are hiking, camping, canoeing, photography, cycling, X-country and downhill skiing, though we are always open for new interests.

Karate vigorous sport

Karate does more than tone up the body, it teaches discipline and courtesy.

The code of the art is be faithful, refrain from violent behavior, endeavor and seek perfection of character.

The karate club in Squamish meets every Monday and Thursday at Stawamus Elementary School from 7 to 9 p.m. The club is affiliated with the National Karate Association, the B.C. Karate Association and Sports B.C.

The monthly fee is $15 plus an additional $7.50 a year for the national association. The $7.50 a year gives a member a licence to compete in tournaments.

Currently there are eight active members in the local club but any interested people are welcome to join. All karate gi, or uniform, must be worn during practice. It is a loose white jacket and white pants.

Jeff Bowcock, who is the contact person for the club, said the sport is "vigorous".

There are nine kyu, or levels, in karate. A raw beginner has no kyu and works his way up to the first level. Then there are 10 more degrees in black belt. A fourth degree black belt is the chief instructor of a school or sensei.

A second degree black belt instructor from the B.C. Karate Association, Kevin Kelly, comes to Squamish to teach several times a month.

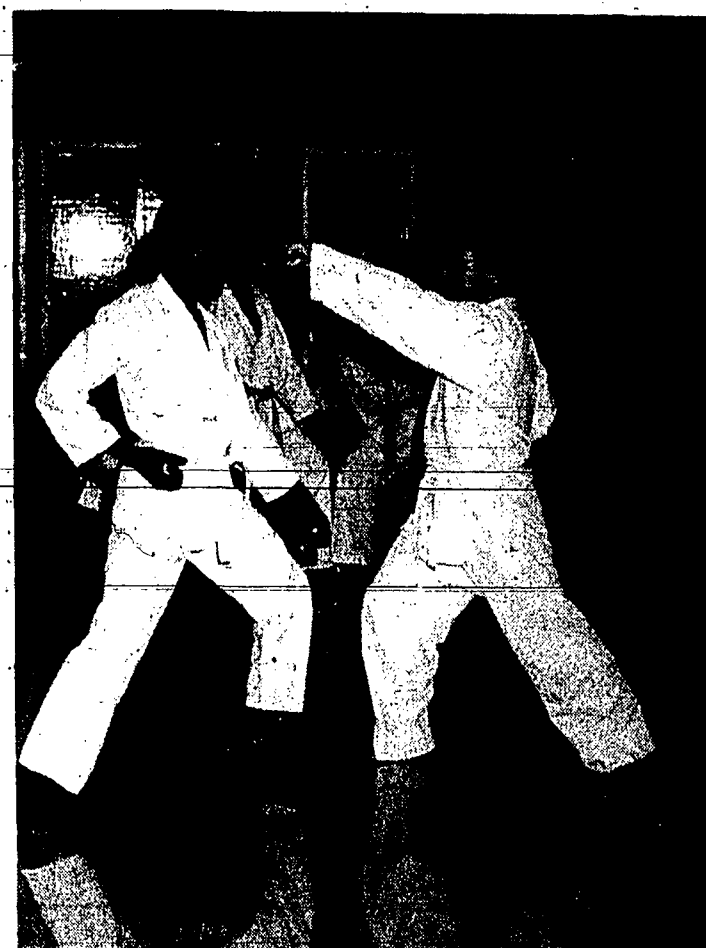

The Vancouver club boasts the Canadian champion in free fighting for three years in a row. Bowcock can be contacted at 898-5416.

Squamish Earful

by Maureen Gilmour

It goes without saying that the Squamish Volunteer Firefighters have had many sleepless nights in recent "days". Last Tuesday evening (Aug. 28) saw them called to the stump dump at 8 p.m. and they finally got to bed after 2 a.m. I have it on good authority that Mayor Izzy Boscarol wasted no time in jumping into the driver's seat of a front end loader which he operated magnificently for several hours, opening up the burning heaps.

Susan and Darcy MacNeil were pleased to have Sue's grandmother Mrs. Helen Ryan and great aunt Mrs. Nathleen Ernewein from Thunder Bay, Ontario, here for a visit with them in the Upper Squamish. It was Mrs. Ernewein's first trip to the west coast and she was duly impressed.

Congratulations to new grandparents Erich and Elfrieda Schlieper on the arrival of their new granddaughter, Tamara Louise Lang, born in Vancouver on August 12.

Did you hear about the shy turtle who went to his friendly psychiatrist to see if he could help him "come out of his shell".

The Martin family, Peter, Anne, and daughters Patricia and Katrina have returned home from a grand reunion with relatives in Scotland. They visited Peter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Martin, in West Barns, Dunbar, and Anne's mother, Mrs. J.C. McHale in Edinburgh and other friends and relatives. When not attending a "haggis bash" the Martin clan found time to visit England.

The 'Up With People' show sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Commission promises to be a good one. We have tickets in the office for both performances on Friday, September 14. You can take your pick of the early 6 p.m. show or the 8:30 time slot.

Norma MacNeil and daughter Sharon and grandson Kerri visited another daughter, Debbie and son in law Rob Haydock in Prince George last week.

And this Thought for the Week: Go placidly amongst the noise and bustle — remembering the peace there is in silence.

Stork, Story — MEURER — Gillian and Francois Meurer are pleased to announce the birth of their second child, a daughter, Natasha Louise, born on August 21 in the Squamish General Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 2 ozs. This is a sister for 2½ year old Darren. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. K. Hewitt of Loughton, Essex, England and Mr. and Mrs. A. Meurer in Paris, France.

The volunteer firemen were on the job again early Thursday morning (around 1 a.m.) when fire "engulfed" the Garibaldi Gulf Service Station. Three gas pumps and a propane tank are not the most convenient articles to have around an inferno. It was not until dawn that the volunteers saw their beds again. They are wondering what's next but whatever — you can be sure they will be ready. Hats off to you fellows.

Birthday greetings to Natalie Quinn, Christopher Harris, Colin McCarthy, Shari Bishop, Aaron Kilby, Michael Johannes, Maria Chinnapen, Georges Sayes, David Paull, Lloyd Ingraham, Colin McIntosh, Leona McKay, Philip Lacoursiere, Lise Quinn, Mitchell White and Chris Billy.

All important first birthdays are being celebrated by three of our young citizens. Congratulations to Jamie Cudmore, Steven Thomas and Shawna Thompson.

Real and Evelyn Lapointe welcomed their niece, Florence Churchill and children, Tina and April from Quesnel, and Evelyn's aunt and uncle from Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newson, during August.

Oliver and Faith Nelson attended a bridge tournament in Nanaimo last week.

Registration for players in the Howe Sound Minor Hockey Association takes place at the Civic Centre Saturday, September 8 from 110 a.m. to 4 p.m. for boys 7 to 18 years of age.

Soccer registration for both boys and girls 5-16 years of age will be held at Brennan Park also on Saturday, September 8.

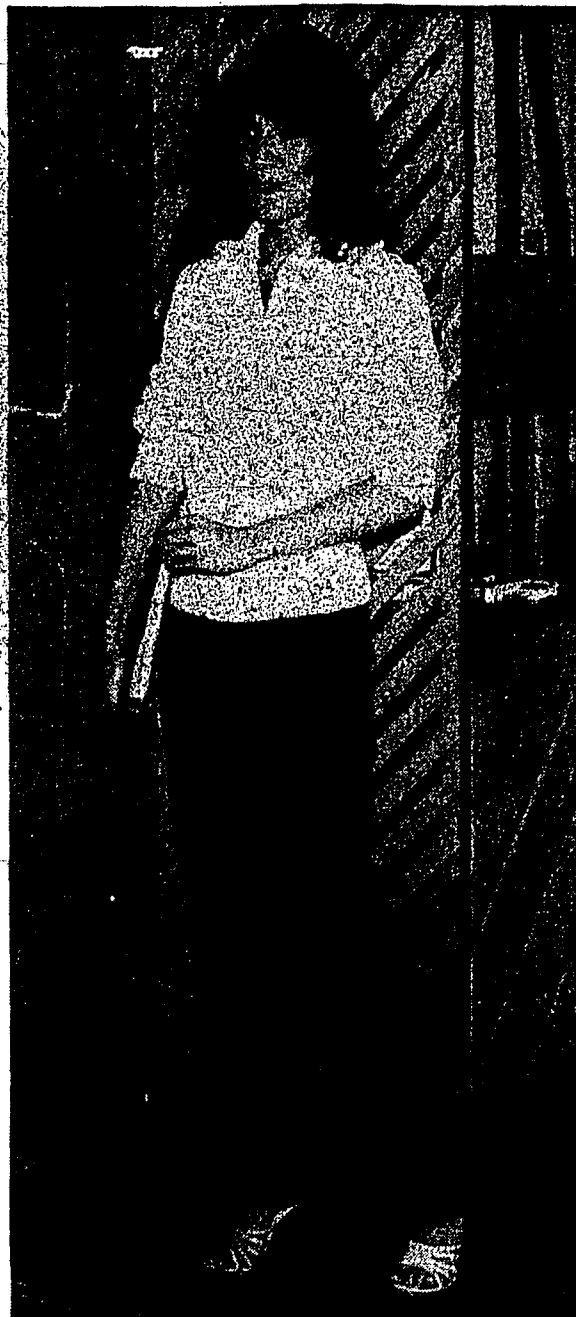

Celebrating first wedding anniversaries this week are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. John Toman. Others with anniversaries are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Halvorson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Theriault, Mr. and Mrs. Tag Neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moloughney, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Matheos, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Denney.

Everyone is invited to the Senior Citizens Mini Fair in the Elks Hall at 2 p.m. this Saturday, September 8.

Belated wedding anniversary wishes to Thor and June Halvorson, whose special day was Monday, August 27.

The game in New York will be history by the time you read this, but on this summer afternoon, Friday, August 31, all soccer fans are talking about the amazing Vancouver Whitecaps and their fantastic record. Whatever you do (did) in New York against the Cosmos, you'll be number one in everyone's hearts for a long time.

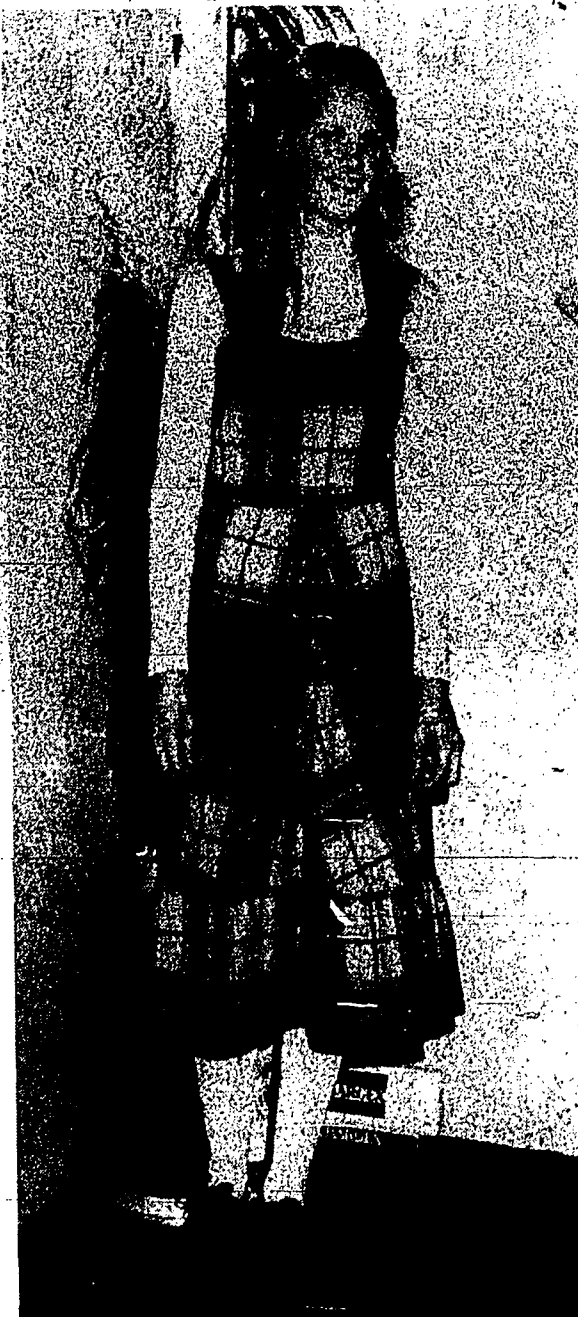

Why it's even pleasant being a B.C. Lions fan these days. Like everyone, I didn't really expect them to win against Calgary in the last second of play in last week's game!!

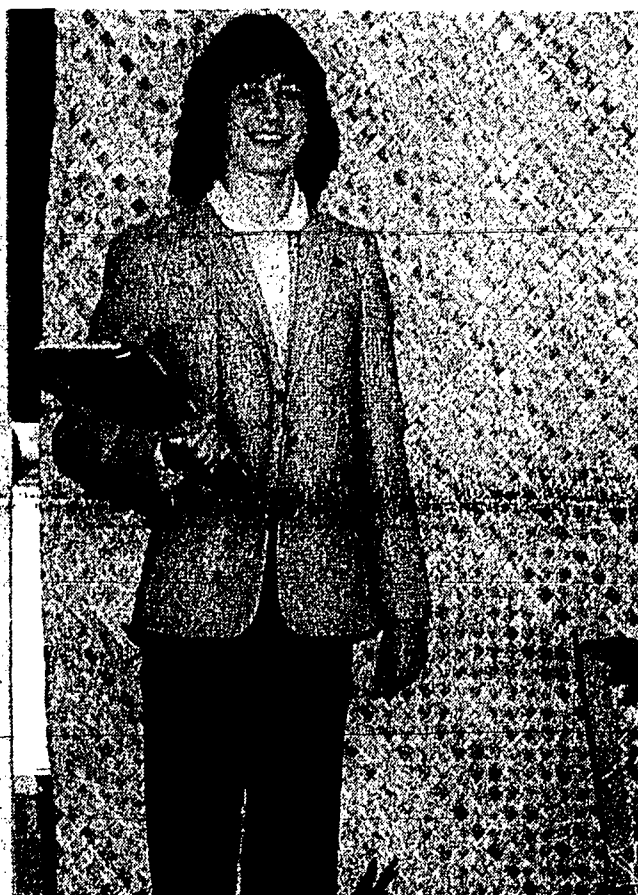

Brown cords by Time topped by a white knit sweater by Topika, bulky and beautiful, was Erica Egyed's choice for her first day of school. Also from Whistle Stop.

Mary Anne Westlund stepping out for school in a smart brown wraparound skirt by Pulse, teamed up with a beige blouse and knitted beige vest. One of the many styles available from BJ's.

The pretty schoolgirl look is modelled by Debbie Sadler in a Carla Jane jumper from Fashionality in brown plaid with darker corduroy trim. With it she wears a beige turtleneck by Paris Star.

Here you see Mary Anne in brown slacks, co-ordinated with the same beige blouse and a beige check blazer by Him and Her. Slacks by Pulse.

Slimmer, tapered look for school clothes this fall

The slimmer, tapered look with narrower slacks, higher heels and a neat, uncluttered look is the big one for fall with young and old alike. In back-to-school wear for the teenagers, look for skirts and slacks, brighter colors and lots of vests.

Burgundy, wine, or all shades of mulberry and maroon are very much in style this year, with grays, beige and browns running close behind. Of course denim in many styles and cuts is also in and jeans are smarter this fall.

For the dressier look the high school student will choose a wrap-around skirt with contrasting check blazer, teamed up with a blouse and vest in co-ordinated colors.

Jeans are smartly styled, with angled pockets; blouses and tops feature the softer look in gathers and pleats and round collars, tiny and neat, are very much in style.

Blouses are softer and more feminine, popular materials are tweeds and checks while corduroy is high in popularity, especially in shades of blues and rust.

But for the "in" color this year, wine and burgundy, in the exotic shades of cedarberry and rosewood, and off shades of maroon, has to be the big winner.

The girls who go off to school this week in the slim, neater look, with checked jumpers, wrap-around skirts, slacks and blazers, jeans and full tops, will be the trend setters for their group.

Look to the local shops for your clothes. They carry many attractive styles and all at prices which are competitive with those in the city.

Blue jeans are also worn by Brenda Conn; the new French cut Visas, slim fitting with angled pockets. With it she wears a grey knit jersey top gathered at the shoulders with pleated back and tiny round collar. One of the many styles available at Whistle Stop.

Tracy Rempel opted for the new burgundy shade in slacks by Mr. Leonard with a matching blouse and topped with a Patman vest in a striped boucle knit in co-ordinating colours. Any of these clothes would be right for school.

Kathy Egyed is ready for class in her jeans by Tyne, worn with a shirt by Pentamento in the new burgundy shade and a knitted bolero by Cecily.

Apple recipes always popular

Apple recipes are always popular and at this time of year when the new crops are starting to come in it's time to look at new recipes or new twists to old recipes.

Try the Apple Bake for a new dessert. For the Deep-Dish Apple Pie topped with Cheddar Cheese Fluff. Cinnamon Apple Rings make a lovely garnish for a pork or ham roast and Apple Upside-down Cake is always a welcome dessert.

APPLE ALMOND BAKE
1 1/2 cups water
6 apples, peeled, cored and cut into eighths

Dissolve sugar in water over heat. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, let simmer, without stirring, for five minutes. Add apples to syrup, cover. Cook for about 10 minutes or until apples are tender. Place apples and syrup mixture into greased baking dish, only one layer thick.

Topping:
6 tbsps. butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup ground almonds
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
2 eggs, separated

Cream butter and sugar. Add almonds, lemon juice, lemon rind and eggs. Mix, blending thoroughly. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into almond mixture. Spread topping over apples. Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until topping is golden.

DEEP-DISH APPLE PIE
8 to 10 medium apples
1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
1 tsp. cinnamon pinch salt
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tbsps. butter

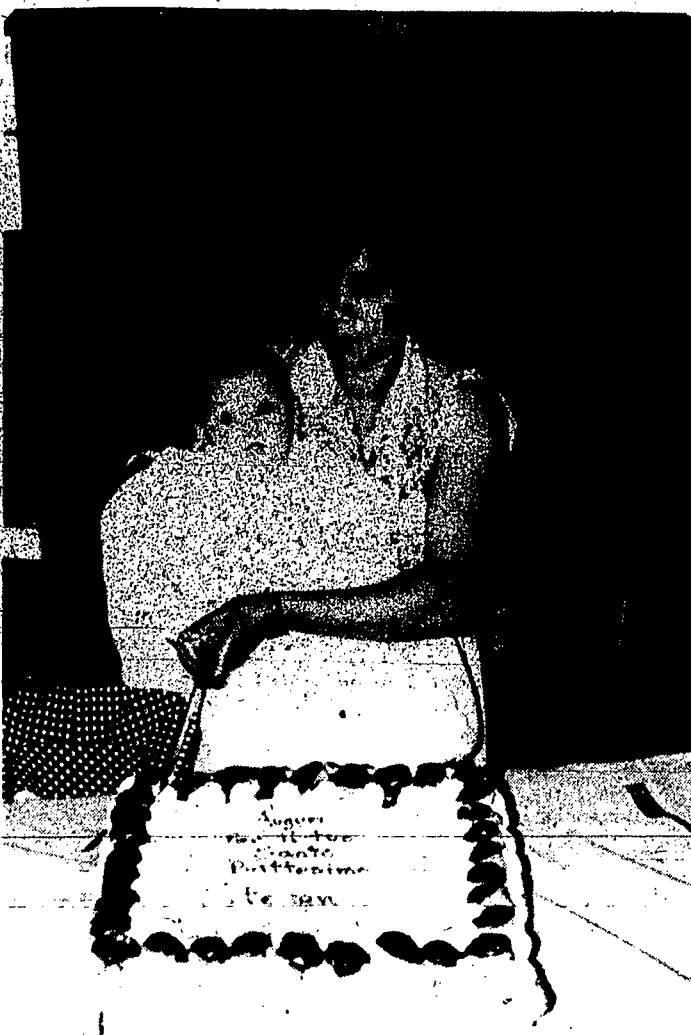

Peel, core and slice apples. Mix apples with sugar, cinnamon, salt and lemon juice. Place apples in 10x10x2 inch pan. Dot with butter. Cover with your favorite pastry. Bake in a 400 oven for 55 to 60 minutes. Top with Cheddar Cheese Fluff.
Cheddar Cheese Fluff
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 4 oz. pkg. cream cheese
Beat Cheddar and cream cheese together till light and fluffy.

CINNAMON APPLE RINGS
1/4 cup sugar
2 cups water
1/2 cup red cinnamon candies
4 apples, large, unpeeled

In heavy skillet, combine sugar, water and cinnamon candies. Stir over medium heat until sugar and candies dissolve. Core unpeeled apples, cut in 1/4 inch rings. Add apples to syrup. Simmer gently until apples are transparent but not soft. Turn occasionally. Cool in syrup, use as garnish for roast.

APPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
3 to 4 apples, peeled, cored and sliced into 1/4 inch slices
10 to 15 maraschino cherries
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
2 1/4 cups cake flour, sifted
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup water

Melt butter in heavy saucepan; add sugar. Cook over medium heat for 2 or 3 minutes. Spread mixture in bottom of 9x12 inch baking dish. Place apple slices on butter mixture, placing a maraschino cherry in the centre of each slice; sprinkle with chopped nuts. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla; mix well. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; add alternately with water to creamed mixture. Pour batter over apple slices. Bake in 350 degree F oven for 40 to 50 minutes. Remove from oven; immediately turn upside-down on waxed paper or cookie sheet.

Baptismal service for Steven Miorin

On May 19, 1979, Steven Roger Miorin was baptised at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Squamish. His parents, Dante and Maria Miorin and godparents Klaus and Olga Nitsche, many relatives from Vancouver and local friends and relatives attended the ceremony. To celebrate the occasion, a small gathering took place at the church community hall after the baptismal.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stan Clarke over the weekend were her sisters Mrs. Anne Moore and Mrs. Marjorie Lefter of Parksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole and their three daughters along with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Green journeyed to Gibsons on a recent weekend for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Green and their family as well as Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green and their children. The special reason for the trip was the birthday of Allan and Myrna Green's daughter Leah.

Hospital report: The patient is looking a little better but is still in the intensive care unit.

For those students who have already taken the course and wish to pursue their interest the course may also be audited.

Minieke Mees is a well-known Vancouver weaver. She has taught for Capilano College in Squamish for five years and has conducted many workshops throughout the province and in the Yukon. She also works on commissions in her own studio in West Vancouver.

Classes will begin Thursday evening, Sept. 6 from 7 to 10 p.m. at Howe Sound Secondary School, room D104. Please register by dropping by the Squamish Learning Centre, 38038 Cleveland Ave. Telephone 892-5322.

The realities of relating

How do you relate to the person you are going out with, or live with? To your children or your parents? How do you pick someone to go out with or decide on a partner and to be a couple? What happens to a couple after marriage? What ideas do you have about children and about being a parent?

How did you grow up in our society to learn the ways of relating we all come to know and respect, yet not-always with a good understanding of how you have been "programmed" by society to act that way?

Has our "social programming" been undergoing dramatic changes in recent years under the impact of changing values in sexuality, marriage, and parenthood? These and other significant questions about the workings of social relationships and social institutions in our modern society will be probed in Sociology 100, "The Social Realities of Relating", an academic course offering of Capilano College in Squamish.

Dr. Matthew Speiser, igstrutor for the course and author of How to Observe Face to Face Communication, has specialized in sociology of childhood, the family, and marriage, and has extensive teaching experience in the greater Vancouver area. The class meets at the new Second Avenue Centre from 7 to 11 p.m. on Thursday evenings and begins on September 6, 1979. Interested persons may inquire about registration details at the Squamish Learning Centre, 38038 Cleveland Avenue. Telephone 892-5322.

Debra Siatecki wed in St. John's

St. John's Anglican Church was the scene of a mid-July wedding when Debra Marion Siatecki, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Siatecki of Brackendale, and William John Biccum, eldest son of Mrs. Frederick Stallman of Surrey were united in marriage.

Vases of beautiful yellow gladioli graced the altar for the 2 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, July 21, with Rev. Owen Johnston officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length white lace gown, the fitted bodice featuring a round neck and round sleeves. The skirt was accented with a train fashioned in tiers of white lace. Her waist-length white tulle veil fell from a pearl-trimmed lace "headress". Debra's sole jewellery was her mother's pearl necklace, and one she had worn at her own wedding. The bride carried a bouquet of deep red roses and white stephanotis.

The maid of honour, Sandra Dupasquier wore a floor length yellow gown whose fitted bodice featured a V-neck and butterfly sleeves. A bouquet of blue carnations and white stephanotis was carried by Sandra.

A petite young miss was the flower girl, and cousin of the bride, Carmen Jonassen from Molonton, Manitoba, bridesmaid. Her blue polyester gown was trimmed with white lace and featured a high neckline and long sleeves. Carmen carried a bouquet of summer flowers.

Supporting the groom was best man Randy Horrocks of Prince George.

Richard Siatecki, brother of the bride, and Charles Biccum, brother of the groom, shared ushering duties.

A reception at the Royal Canadian Legion followed the ceremony and at that time it was the best man, Randy Horrocks' honour to preside as toastmaster.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with clusters of yellow and blue flowers with green leaves, featured a cupid on the top tier. Mrs. Betty Shilling decorated the cake.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Siatecki chose a deep rose crepe floor length gown with spaghetti straps and matching cape tied in front. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Biccum, mother of the groom, wore a flowing peach georgette floor length gown with long wide flowing sleeves and round neck. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

A honeymoon in Prince George was planned and before leaving the reception hall the bride donned a dark blue street-length sheath with spaghetti straps and matching bolero jacket. A corsage of blue and white carnations completed her ensemble.

Many friends from Squamish attended as well as guests from England, Manitoba, Nanaimo, Surrey, White Rock, Vancouver, Houston, Prince George, Duncan and Hanes.

The young couple will be residing in Squamish.

Memories of 1949

The following are the highlights of the issue of the Squamish Review for the week of August 29th, 1949.

Plans for the Fall Fair have been finalized and all arrangements have been completed following a meeting of the committee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McPherson. The event is expected to be bigger and better than ever.

The School Board has found it inadvisable to use the dining room of the P.O.E. Hall as a classroom as it has been impossible to obtain sole use of the room. As an alternative some changes are being made at the school; the canteen room is being renovated for use as a classroom and the "Cavern" in the basement is being enlarged to accommodate additional desks.

At the request of the Chairman of the Village Commissioners, Mrs. Alex Munro undertook a census of the incorporated area as government officials desired the information. The results are as follows:

Number of residents ..... 552
Number of households ..... 165
Number of private residences 139
Number of motor vehicles ... 70

The Squamish Legion is sponsoring a Travelling Library Unit from Victoria. The books will be housed in a section of the Del-Mar

Cafe and will be available to borrowers two or three times a week.

Campbell Bennett Ltd. has been awarded the contract to clear and grade the P.O.E. railway line from the Cottonwood Canyon north to Meadow at a cost of $1,119,694.

Staten-year-old Jack Carson killed a cougar at the ranch of Sam Olson on the old road to the Mamquam River. While visiting the elderly resident, Jack spotted something resembling a coyote along the fence. After wounding the prowler, he hurried home for his cougar hound which found the dead cougar. A good day's work for Jack as he receives the government bounty of $20 and an offer of $10 for the hide from a surveyor in the area.

The 90 days for council to reach a decision on the possibility of a communal burner for Squamish are almost up. The Lavallee brothers, who wish to establish a shake and shingle mill here, said a communal burner would cost them $30,000 within 1 1/2 years.

Dominican disaster fund established

A Disaster Relief Committee for the Island of Dominica which was recently devastated by Hurricane David has been set up in the Vancouver area by several Dominicans living in the Vancouver area.

A trust fund has also been established in one of the major banks. An all-out appeal is being initiated asking for donations and used clothing. For more information please contact Earl Karam at 892-1937 or 898-9083.

He would also like to take this opportunity to thank the following people who have shown their kindness so far: Mamquam Motors, D.B. Motors, Surfside Motors, K & M Parts, IGA Foods and also McNeill's Pharmacy for helping and establishing a comprehensive first aid package for the people.

When is a totem pole full grown?

Even wondered how long it takes a totem pole to grow? That's just one of the questions asked of Lynne McCaughey, tour coordinator at British Columbia's parliament buildings in Victoria.

"We do receive some strange questions, but everyone is treated seriously. Our job is to inform, and it feels good to be able to tell people about Canada, whether it's B.C.'s parliament buildings, the province or the country itself. If we aren't sure of an answer, we find out or recommend how people can get the information," Lynne said.

Tour guides are an essential part of Canada's tourism industry. They are employed at museums, pioneer villages, factories, old forts, historic buildings and other places. Their job is to explain the significance of various attractions and provide friendly advice to visitors who want further information.

They may wear period costumes, crisp uniforms or outfits based on a particular attrac-tion's theme. They might be students employed in summer jobs or full-time professionals. All have two things in common — they're friendly and informative.

Lynne started at the parliament buildings five years ago as a summer guide, then worked full-time, and later became tour coordinator. She is bright, articulate and obviously enjoys her work.

Although Lynne's coordinating position means guiding visitors is no longer one of her functions (she trains and supervises the other guides), she still takes tours to "keep my skills sharp" and because she enjoys "the people and the challenge."

British Columbia's parliament buildings receive about 1700 visitors a day in summer. A minimum of 16 guides are on the job in summer and four in winter, with tours starting every 15 minutes.

Complete excursions take about 40 minutes and include all the highlights. The legislative chambers are paneled with Italian marble and dominated by massive columns of sea-green marble; each statue, mural and stained-glass window has its own story; and historical anecdotes make each sight along the way a little more real.

Other highlights include the speaker's mace, made of British Columbia silver; thrones used by visiting royalty; and a bird's eye view of the thousands of lights that turn the buildings into a fairytale castle at night.

Visitors can see the buildings without a guide, but Lynne prefers they take the tour.
"People see more with a guide and get explanations of the significance of various parts of the building. They are taken to the most interesting sights which they might otherwise miss."

The most common questions people from other countries ask are about the Canadian system of government, and about the role of royalty in the system.

"People are intrigued with royalty. Many ask if they can visit the queen while they're here, what her last name is and if she attends parliament every day. I try to hire political science and history students so such questions can be answered completely and informatively."

Other qualities Lynne looks for when hiring are personality, poise, the ability to talk to a group, a second or third language and good voice projection. She receives many applications so it's not difficult to find the requirements she wants.

Lynne was born in Vancouver and studied French at the University of Victoria for four years. Her pride in British Columbia's parliament buildings is obvious, as it is with all the guides. Lynne says this pride is essential as it directly reflects in the amount of enthusiasm transmitted to visitors.

When you travel in Canada, you'll see tour guides at many attractions. Take time to talk to them — you're bound to learn something.

And if you're not sure how long it takes a totem pole to grow, ask the next guide you meet. He or she will know, and you're guaranteed a smile.

Small enterprise program gets aid

Another five million dollars is being made available under the Assistance to Small Enterprise Program (ASEP). Designed to stimulate manufacturing and processing in British Columbia, the program provides interest-free forgivable loans of up to $30,000 to small industries.

Established in 1977 under Canada-British Columbia Industrial Development Subsidy Agreement, the ASEP program aims to encourage and assist the modernization, expansion and establishment of small enterprises.

Firms must be involved in manufacturing or processing of in-maintenance or repair activities directly relating to the manufacturing sector.

In the first two years of the program 279 applications have been approved resulting in the creation of over 1,100 new jobs. This enthusiastic response has depleted the five million dollars originally allocated for ASEP. Without additional funding the popular program would not have been able to continue.

More than one-half of the applications have been from the wood-mill fabricating and food and beverage industries. New facilities account for over 60 per cent of the projects. Expansions and modernizations account for nearly 40 per cent. Regionally, the program has had its greatest response from the Okanagan Valley, Vancouver Island and the elusive areas near metropolitan Vancouver.

The ministers noted that government programs to stimulate industrial development must recognize the importance of the small entrepreneur in the provincial economy. More than 85 per cent of the industrial firms in British Columbia have fewer than 50 employees.

To be eligible for assistance, projects must be located outside the Lower Mainland and Southern Vancouver Island.

Detailed program guidelines are available from the federal department of regional economic expansion (DREE) in Victoria and Prince George or the British Columbia ministry of economic development in Victoria and Prince George or the British Columbia ministry of economic development in Victoria and Vancouver.

Introducing guaranteed food shopping at Overwaitea

“Because we are listening to you...”

One of the leading concerns we hear about is getting the best pricing, overall, when you shop for food, because for most of us it is a weekly affair. Such a shopping frequency makes the decision of where to go extremely important.

Overwaitea, whose policy it is to be competitive at all times throughout the store, and that includes shelf prices, felt a shopping guarantee would be very meaningful to you. An assurance that lets you feel right at home shopping at Overwaitea, knowing you are getting the best prices possible in all departments.

In order to give you this assurance, Overwaitea now guarantees their prices as well as merchandise satisfaction. The guarantee . . .

We'll pay you DOUBLE THE DIFFERENCE in cash if our total is higher. That's right! Now you know you won't pay more for sure.

Here's how the guarantee works . . . Come shopping at your Overwaitea. Pick out the order of your choice — all departments included.

Compare twenty-five items totalling twenty dollars or more on Overwaitea's cash register tapes, with identical brand, size or quality items from any other conventional supermarket for the same week. (We exclude the food discount operators who do not offer the same quality, selection or services). Regular shelf prices with regular shelf prices, specials with specials. If our twenty-five item total is higher than theirs, bring your itemized Overwaitea register tape along with the other store's prices to your Overwaitea store manager and he'll pay you DOUBLE THE DIFFERENCE in cash.

Now, more than ever, you can shop Overwaitea with confidence.

Because we are listening to you, we would like to hear more. If you believe you can help us, help you, to better food shopping, we'd welcome your comments. Please drop me a line.
