VOL. 32 NO. 41 CIRCULATION 3600 40¢ per issue TUESDAY NOVEMBER 18, 1986

Squamish voters re-elected mayoral incumbent Egon Tobus to his second term as Mayor in the Nov. 15 civic election. Also elected to council were Corinne Lonsdale, Chuck Harvey, and Garth McCreedy. About 30 percent of eligible voters in Squamish cast their ballots.

TOBUS RE-ELECTED MAYOR

Squamish voters reject gambling and smoking

No smoking is in, gambling is out.

Squamish residents voted to oppose legalized gambling in the community and to support a no-smoking regulation in two general referenda held Nov. 15.

Some 1,526 voters decided gambling is not for Squamish, 463 votes over those in favor of gambling.

Similarly, 1,516 voters approved regulations banning smoking in designated public places, 449 votes over those opposed to the restriptions.

The results of the two referenda, however, remain to be acted upon by the new Squamish council. Council has still to determine the particulars of a no-smoking by-law, such as which public places will prohibit smoking.

The gambling issue was put to referendum for council's information only, since municipal government does not have the power to authorize such an activity which is under federal jurisdiction.

Squamish mayoral incumbent Egon Tobus has been re-elected Mayor of Squamish, easily beating out former mayor and alderman Dave Stewart.

Tobus, 51, a sheet metal mechanic at Woodfibre, won a total of 1534 votes in the Nov. 15 municipal election, 448 votes ahead of Stewart, who came in second to Tobus with 1086 votes.

Tobus' election victory marks his second consecutive term as Mayor of Squamish, prior to becoming mayor, he served on Squamish council for five years. His opponent, Stewart, a local businessman, presided over Squamish as Mayor in 1975 and 1976, and recently completed two consecutive terms as alderman.

In what was viewed by many as an electoral race pitting the working class against the business community, Tobus maintained a campaign platform of pushing for the promotion of the community to the rest of the province.

"If elected, my major objective will be to put Squamish on the map," Tobus had promised prior to the Nov. 15 election.

Tobus, who has lived in Squamish for 15 years, is married and has two children. He was born and raised in Germany and emigrated to Canada in 1960.

New face on council

Unlike his fellow successful aldermanic candidates Chuck Harvey and Corinne Lonsdale, newly elected alderman Garth McCreedy will have the additional role of being new kid on the block.

McCreedy, a local contractor and chairman of the Squamish Days Committee, came in third behind Lonsdale and Harvey to capture one of three aldermanic seats up for grabs.

Lonsdale, the incumbent, was easily re-elected to the two-year term with 1,704 votes. In second place, Harvey, a fire chief at Weldwood, with 1,555 votes was re-elected to a seat he held until last year's election in which he chose not to stand for re-election.

The three candidates-elect beat out local realtor Brian Giles, who narrowly missed being elected with 1,035 votes, and fifth and sixth place finishers Debby Forsyth and Joe Lavery, who captured 779 and 610 votes respectively.

A total of 6,749 eligible voters cast their ballots in the aldermanic race in the Nov. 15 municipal election.

Shirley Brown

Peter Rothe

Brown re-elected by land-slide

Howe Sound School Board trustee and chairman Shirley Brown was easily re-elected to the board in the Nov. 15 municipal election.

Brown, an instructor at Capilano College in Squamish, captured 1,781 votes, finishing well ahead of second place finisher Peter Rothe, who, with 1,193 votes, also takes on a two-year term as school trustee.

Both candidates beat out third place finisher Don Wilson, a lawyer and former trustee, and Terrill Patterson, a Squamish alderman, who finished last with 587 votes.

A total of 4,633 eligible voters took part in the election of the two school board trustees.

Back to classes at Cap College

It was back to class for 4,000 students, including students in Squamish, at Capilano College Nov. 12 as striking faculty members ching a tentative three-year agreement with the college board.

During the all-night bargaining session held Nov. 10, the main issue of payment on the basis of course load was dealt with, according to a college spokesman.

Instructors have the option to elect eight or nine sections. The penalty for choosing eight sections will increase through the life of the contract.

The board had maintained previously that teachers should be paid according to the number of courses taught, while the faculty had opposed pay on a pro rata basis.

The board said the students will determine how they want to make up for lost class time, be it night and weekend classes or an extension of the session.

Squamish to petition gov't for nuclear-free B.C.

Squamish council voted unanimously at the Nov. 12 meeting to pass a resolution of council calling on the provincial government to declare B.C. a "nuclear weapons free zone." The motion came after council received a request from the Squamish Citizens For Peace to endorse the province-wide peace effort whose goal is to have the whole of Canada declared a nuclear weapons free zone. Seventeen countries, including Japan, Sweden, Austria, Spain and New Zealand have made such declarations.

Jean Wilkinson and Lyn Wilbur, representatives of Squamish Citizens For Peace who attended the Nov. 12 meeting, said in a letter addressed to council: "We therefore call on this council to endorse the above resolution, with the aim of ensuring that nuclear weapons will not be manufactured, stored, distributed, or transported in our province. "Such action would be in accordance with the expressed wishes of local voters, who in referendum last year overwhelmingly supported the goal of nuclear disarmament."

In October, 1985, Squamish council passed a resolution to declare the District of Squamish a nuclear weapons free zone and decided to put the issue of general nuclear disarmament to the voters via a referendum.

In that November referendum, Squamish voters elected overwhelmingly to support the goal of balanced, general disarmament, beginning with a verifiable freeze on the testing, production and deployment of all nuclear weapons and delivery systems.

The voters also supported the urging of the federal government to negotiate and implement with other governments the steps that would lead to the earliest possible achievement of this goal.

The resolution to make Squamish a nuclear weapons free zone also entailed the prohibiting of the manufacture, storage, distribution and transportation of nuclear weapons or any of their components in the District of Squamish, and called for the preparation of appropriate by-laws to support the declaration.

Two signs designating Squamish a nuclear weapons free zone were also installed in the District.

That October motion was passed by council 4-3, with Aldermen Wilf Dowad, Norm Verner, and Corinne Lonsdale voting against it.

With the passing of the motion, Squamish joined about 44 other municipalities in B.C. who have declared themselves nuclear weapons free.

The Nov. 12 motion to endorse the province-wide declaration includes the following acknowledgement: "a clear majority of the people of British Columbia have demonstrated their deep concern about the continuing buildup of nuclear weapons, and their desire for a nuclear weapons free environment by establishing municipal Nuclear Weapons Free Zones."

The resolution also takes into account that 1986 is International Year of Peace as well as a 1978 report from the United Nations' Special Session on Disarmament which stated that "the process of establishing nuclear weapons free zones should be encouraged with the ultimate objective of achieving a world free of nuclear weapons."

Proponents of the province-wide campaign to have B.C. declared a nuclear weapons free zone intend to present a petition to the provincial legislature calling for such a declaration.

In 1984, the B.C. Legislature passed a motion which stated that "this assembly, recognizing the horrors of nuclear war and holocaust, urges all world governments to increase their efforts to end the nuclear arms race and to reduce and finally eliminate all nuclear weaponry."

Police break up "pyramid" scam

An investigation by the Squamish RCMP last week resulted in the break-up of a "pyramid scheme" involving several Squamish residents.

The police, armed with a search warrant, attended a residence in Timbertown Estates on Nov. 11 and disbanded a meeting "solely gathered to conduct business involving the 'pyramid scheme'," according to a police report.

About 30 people were at the meeting at the time of the investigation.

Two men were taken into custody and charges are being considered in negotiation with Crown Counsel.

The RCMP would like to advise all organizations or persons associated to the conducting of such a "scheme" that it is illegal, and contrary to Section 189(1)(e) of the Criminal Code of Canada. This also includes persons participating, offering funds, or merely attending such meetings.

Proposed mill could speed port expansion

A proposed pulp mill in the Interior could mean an expansion of the Squamish Terminals from one deepsea berth to two berths to accommodate the increase in export pulp.

A spokesman for Squamish Terminals said the company was originally contemplating a 1990 completion date for the new berth but with the announcement by Fibreco Export Inc. of Vancouver of a new $170-million pulp mill construction of a second berth may be speeded up.

Although Fibreco has not yet determined the location of its new mill, it will be located on the B.C. Rail line.

B.C. Rail delivers export pulp to the Squamish Terminals from mills in Quesnel, Prince George, MacKenzie, and Prince Albert.

A Terminals spokesman said the company expects to handle some 600,000 tonnes of forest products this year, and in October, shipped its largest single consignment consisting of 19,200 tonnes of cargo headed for Japan.

The new mill announced by Fibreco will have the capacity to produce 180,000 tonnes of bleach chemit-hermo mechanical pulp a year. Construction is scheduled to commence in 1988.

The company, formed by a consortium of 40 independent forest companies, maintains a $16 million terminal in North Vancouver.

The new mill is expected to create 100 permanent jobs.

Council stands firm on peddler policy

The message from Squamish council to would-be peddlers in the community rang loud and clear at the Nov. 12 meeting: go peddle your wares elsewhere.

Without hesitation or debate, council voted unanimously to deny the request for a business licence from a door-to-door book sales company.

The company, Alka Press Int. Inc. of Vancouver, had submitted its application for a peddler's licence, which, in turn, came before council in accordance with a policy formulated last year.

A company representative, who was scheduled to appear before council at the meeting on behalf of his application, failed to appear.

In a second action, council passed a motion requiring peddlers already operating in the community to complete new application forms for the upcoming year in lieu of granting automatic renewal of their business licences.

Six businesses are affected by council's decision to request new licence applications: Collins Safety Shoes, Marks Work Wearhouse, Snap On Tools, Happy Coker, Jamie E. Barosa, and Dickie Dee Ice Cream.

Alderman Corinne Lonsdale, in making the motion to request new applications, said she believed some of the businesses on the list could establish in Squamish and pay taxes but won't.

"I would like to see them come before us," Lonsdale said.

Alderman Dave Stewart concurred with Lonsdale, citing the loss of taxes and input into the community as reasons to deny peddlers the licence to operate in the community.

"I'm not in favor of peddlers licences at all," Stewart said.

The motion to deny the business licence renewals was passed, with Aldermen Ron Barr and Terrill Patterson voting against the motion.

Dave McMillan, program coordinator at the Civic Centre, presents a certificate of appreciation to IGA owner Dan Shollert for donating 70 pumpkins to the Civic Centre's Halloween program, which included pumpkin carving contests.

A vacuum at the top

Two years ago the people of Canada voted in a new government.

It is important to realize that they did not so much vote for the Conservatives and Brian Mulroney as they voted against Pierre Trudeau and the Liberals. But with his enormous majority they hoped that Mulroney would start a new era in Canadian politics and revitalize the economy as well as heal the rifts in the country.

But, by the time the term was half over, the country was disillusioned. Unemployment, while down, is still too high, and the country is still coming up with enormous deficits.

Mulroney's own actions and his smarmy smoothness aren't helping matters.

In the election he told pensioners that pensions indexed to the cost of living were a sacred trust. A short time later his attempts to de-index pensions ended in disaster.

His attempts to become palsy walsy with Ronald Reagan has backfired, the U.S. protectionist mood is increasing, and free trade talks are a disaster. And with the countervailing duties in the forest industry and the additional tariffs, any hope of freer trade seems to be vanishing. The Democratic control of the House and Senate in the States adds to the problems as they are more protectionist.

The Liberals, while higher in the polls than the Conservatives, who are only a shade ahead of the New Democrats, also seem to be bent on self-destruction. John Turner finds it hard to be the leader with Chretien, Lalonde, and Keith Davey sniping at him, and he also carries the taint of the Trudeau era even though he has been away from it.

If there was an election today there is a strong chance that Mulroney would be defeated and we might see a three-way split with no party a winner.

It's enough to make any Canadian cry!

We voted Mulroney in because we wanted a change in 1984 and we can do the same thing two years from now. We don't want someone who thinks that leadership is a popularity contest and politics a public relations exercise. But we need someone who has a vision for Canada and who can communicate it to us.

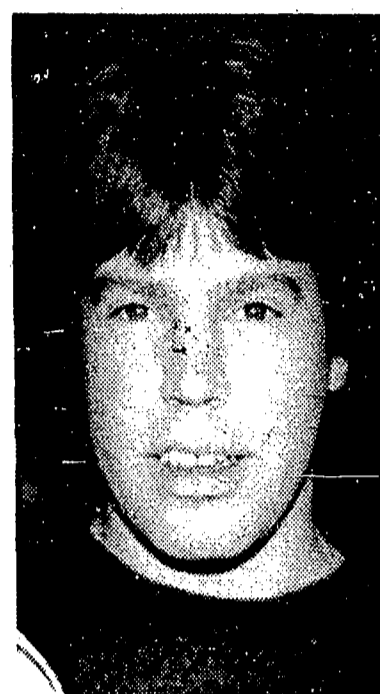

Meanwhile, we look south of the border and almost weep at the respect and admiration that Ronald Reagan, with all his faults, commands, and at his possible successor, the charismatic and eloquent Mario Cuomo of New York.

In Memorium:

Dear Editor:

It is with overwhelming sadness that I write about the recent sudden death of my good friend and often-time squash companion Burnett Wood. He is known to many in Squamish and his loss will be felt deeply.

You see, Burnett had spark, vitality - "joie de vivre", which he demonstrated in all the things he tackled in life. This sometimes earned him the enmity of those who did not understand the tremendous life force which drove him and just as suddenly exited after a squash match at our local club.

I had wanted to personalize some of the characteristics I found endearing in this man, but found that this recent poem says it better. I wrote it, strangely enough, after I had last seen him alive.

I have entitled it: "The Journey Preparations" Have been done, Now my friend, Find peace with the rest.

Secure in the knowledge That perfection is achieved in balance, Not is some lonely isolation Where the only voice is The self's voice Screaming for the search To continue.... (Dedicated to Burnett Wood 86.10)

Fund-raising underway

Dear Editor:

The "Save The Children Fund" has had a very good month in Squamish.

The children at the Stawamus School raised $213.28 with the Halloween STC cans.

Sale of goods, in spite of the economy and the strike, took in $371.

A limited edition print of an eagle, drawn and donated by Isobel McLaurin of Whistler, raised $63.50 as a raffle. The lucky winner of this beautiful print was Wilf Dowad.

Thanks to the Overwaitea for supplying the bags for the sale; also to Jane and Maureen at the library for all their help and to all the people who supported this worthwhile cause.

A Conservative is a man who does not think that anything should be done for the first time...Or on second thought, maybe he is one who went into a holding pattern.

A Conservative is like a player trying to steal second base while keeping his foot on first.

Conservative, n. A statesman who is enamored of existing evils as distinguished from a Liberal, who wishes to replace them with others.

Liberalism is trust of the people tempered by prudence; Conservatism is distrust of the people tempered by fear. David Lloyd George.

If a man is right he can't be too radical; if he's wrong he can't be too conservative. Josh Billings.

Conservatism is the worship of dead revolutions.

Conservatism is the maintenance of conventions already in force. Thorsten Veblen.

A true conservative is one who can't see any difference between radicalism and a new idea. Robertson Davies.

A man who is not a Liberal at sixteen has no heart; a man who is not a Conservative at sixty has no head. Benjamin Disraeli.

I never dared to be a radical when young for fear it would make me conservative when old. Robert Frost.

The modern conservative is engaged in one of man's oldest exercises in moral philosophy, that is the search for a superior moral justification for selfishness. It is an exercise which always involves a certain number of internal contradictions and even a few absurdities. The conspicuously wealthy turn up urging the value of privation for the poor. John Kenneth Galbraith.

The conservative who resists change is as valuable as the radical who proposes it. Will and Ariel Durant.

A conservative is a man with two perfectly good legs, who, however, has never learned to walk forward. Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

I couldn't find any specific New Democrat quotes but though you might find some of these on democracy amusing.....

Democracy is that form of society, no matter what its political classification, in which every man has a chance and knows that he has it. James Russell Lowell.

Democracy is the art of running the circus from the monkey cage. H.L. Mencken.

Democracy is just stumbling along to the right decision instead of going straight forward to the wrong one. Will Rogers.

Democracy is finding proximate solutions to insoluble problems.

Democracy substitutes selection by the incompetent many for appointment by the corrupt few. George Bernard Shaw.

Shaw also said the chief defect of democracy is that only the political party out of office knows who to run the government.

Democracy is no more than an aristocracy of orators. The people are so readily moved by demagogues that control must be exercised by the government over speech and the press.

And on Liberals.....

The Liberal is accustomed to appearing radical to conservatives, counter-revolutionary to radicals, and as a fink to activists of all persuasions.

A liberal is a man who leaves the room when the fight begins. Heywood Brown.

A liberal is a man willing to spend someone else's money. Carter Glass.

I can remember way back when a Liberal was one who was generous with his own money. Will Rogers.

The radical of one century is the conservative of the next. The radical invents the views. When he has worn them out the conservative adopts them. Mark Twain.

Liberalism is the supreme form of generosity; it is the right which the majority conceded to minorities and hence is the noblest cry that has ever resounded in this planet. Jose Ortega y Gasset.

Liberal----a power worshipper without the power. George Orwell.

Criticism also comes from our native Communists....and from the fuzzy minded totalitarian liberals who believe that their creeping collectivism can be adopted without destroying personal liberty and representative government. Herbert Hoover.

And as of communism....and socialism...

The story is communism can be summed up in a single sentence. Abolition of private property. The Communist Manifesto.

Socialism is nothing but the capitalism of the lower classes. Oswald Spengler.

Socialism works but nowhere as efficiently as in the beehive and the ant hill.

We should have had socialism already but for the socialists. George Bernard Shaw.

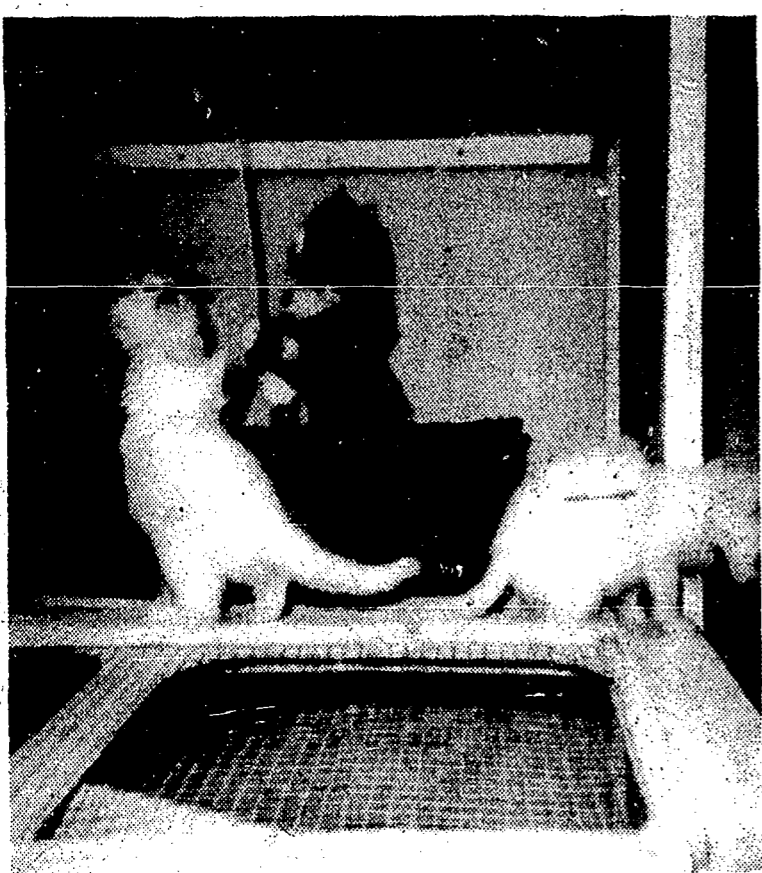

The alternative to the totalitarianism state is the cooperative commonwealth. Norman Thomas.

There are as many communists in the freedom movement as there are Eskimos in Florida. Martin Luther King Jr.

Socialism will never destroy poverty and the injustice and inequalities of capacities. Count Leo Tolstoy.

There you have them. Do you agree or disagree? Or have you some of your own?

FLASHBACK

The Pemberton Trail

by Rose Tatlow

The interior may have had its Cariboo Trail and the southeast of the province the Dewdney Trail, but one which was just as interesting but maybe not as famous was built from Squamish to Pemberton and known as the Pemberton Trail.

For many years, goods and people travelled along the Pemberton Trail which was used to take supplies into the farming area and the mines at Green River.

The trail was first travelled over by Archibald MacDonald who was going from Kamloops, where he was the Hudson Bay factor, to Port Langley. He came down from Kamloops to Pavilion and then to Lillooet, travelling by two lakes, then unnamed but now known as Anderson and Seton Lakes, down to the Pemberton Valley and the Lillooet River. He stayed in the Pemberton Meadows area for some time and then turned back.

That was in 1827. Some 40 years later the government started to build a trail to be used to bring cattle from the Cariboo to tidewater near Vancouver.

Robert Carson, father of a future Highways Minister Ernie Carson, took the first herd of cattle over the trail in 1865. The trail came down from Pavilion to Lillooet and one to Pemberton and then over the Alta Lake watershed to the Cheakamus River and Squamish. The cattle then were taken over the Seymour River watershed to Vancouver. The drive was not a success because the cattle lost too much weight and it was never tried again.

In 1890, a group of Pemberton Valley settlers met at John Currie's house in the Pemberton Valley to talk about rebuilding the trail. Much of it was in poor condition and some of the bridges had been washed out but the base was still there.

The provincial government had given them one thousand dollars to build a road in the Pemberton Valley but they decided access to the coast was more important and used the money for that purpose instead. They asked the government for permission to make the change and it was granted.

In April, 1891, 16 men started out from Pemberton to make the 60-mile trip to Squamish and build the trail. It took them three months to clear out the overgrown cattle trail and rebuild the bridges but in early July the nine men still on the job reached Squamish.

A. P. Barnfield, an early resident of Squamish, was one of those who worked on the trail and he told me when they arrived in Squamish there was one more stream to cross and they had to stand on the river bank and fire shots to alert the residents to come and get them.

The trip between Squamish and Pemberton took three days by pack train and in winter they used dogs to transport the mail.

Between 1900 and 1910, the trail was in constant use and the cattle from Pemberton were driven to Squamish and slaughtered here. The largest lot taken over the trail was in one drive consisted of 34 head and the trip took 10 days.

Two of the well known packers on the trail were Cliff Thorne and Ray Elliott. Pack saddles for the horses were made in the Squamish Valley by John Tatlow who had a saddlery shop there.

In 1910, with the coming of the railway and the construction of the PGE, the trail was no longer needed and it fell into disrepair. Portions of it were used during the construction of the railway and some of it formed the roadbed. Freight wagons and teams of eight mules were used on some portions of the former trail when the railway was being built.

If you look closely near the shoulder of Bear Mountain when you are driving north on Highway 99 heading for Whistler, you can see where the old trail curves around the mountain and some portions can also be seen across the river from the North Vancouver Outdoor School.

Cliff Thorne told me that one year he was packing on the trail with Charlie Magee and the bridge across Stoney Creek, about 15 miles north of Squamish, was washed out three times before they could finally make it stay in place.

Like every trail in history the Pemberton Trail had its characters and one of them was "Pete" Peterson. He had a beautiful blind horse that used to travel over the road at night with never an accident. One winter the proprietor of the Green Lake Hotel, Mr. Cotton, ran out of liquor. In those days that was a real calamity and Pete was asked to go to Squamish and bring back all the liquor he could carry.

It was midwinter and he had to make the trip on snowshoes. He arrived in Squamish and decided he could take back five gallons of whiskey. The only container he could find was a 10-gallon cask so he put the liquor in it and started out.

Without food or blankets, and resting only by leaning against a tree he made the trip in two days.

Not a person but definitely a character was Whiskey Johnnie, a grey horse who was always part of every pack train. His sole job was to carry two casks of liquor, one with rum and one of whiskey. These casks were equipped with spigots and if anyone got thirsty he helped himself. Needless to say, Whiskey Johnnie was an honored member of every pack train.

John Miller, often referred to as Coffee John or Mahogany John, was a marvellous cook. He lived in a cabin about three miles south of Alta Lake and was rumored to have been a member of the Bill Miner gang.

John was a big, broad-shouldered, swarthy man with a full beard and sharp pointed moustache. He was a rough-looking character and as tough as he looked.

John didn't believe in banks and kept his money hidden by spreading it out flat under his oilcloth tablecloth. Every year he went to Vancouver and got roaring drunk, ending up in jail. The judges knew him well and let him off with a small fine and sent him home.

He was an excellent cook and all the packers and visitors stopped off at his cabin. He once offered a packer a feed of lynx meat, all he had in the house. The packer refused, and decided to eat beans instead.

On the return trip the packer stopped off again and ate dinner. For dessert he had a marvellous piece of mince pie. At the conclusion of the meal, John asked him how he liked it and the packer said it was great.

John laughed, a huge rumbling roar of glee and said, "I knew I'd get that lynx into you somehow!"

The packer went out and immediately lost his meal behind the shed.

When the railroad came through, John complained that the place was getting too civilized and he was last seen heading north leading a packhorse.

The Pemberton Trail had a short life but listening to all reports it must have been an interesting one. And it played an important part in the history of this area.

Venturer fund-raising underway

The Hellcat Venturers are continuing their sale of Clingmaster items in an effort to raise money for the troupe.

A large number of Clingmaster items have already been sold and orders continue to pour in. Anyone interested in purchasing the items should call 898-9326 or 898-3024. With Christmas coming, residents will undoubtedly need the items, which work well in the microwave. The items will be delivered to the customer's door.

The company has just finished a fund-raising light bulb sale, and would like to thank the people of Squamish who bought the product, Sylvia Light Bulbs, and who took the time to read the pamphlet for Clingmaster.

With the money raised, the company plans to purchase broomball equipment, materials for a cabin (chinking and roof material), and camping equipment.

Their reward for selling for six days was a trip to see the movie, "Crocodile Dundee" on Nov. 1

On Oct. 11, the Venturers took a camping trip to try to conquer the hike to Echo Lake. The hike was unsuccessful due to a lack of time but the boys picked up a lot of skills useful for future outings.

The Hellcat Venturers group is comprised of: Gene Griffin, Keith Bullington, Billy Milne, Chris Robinson, and David Ganderton. The advisors are Kevin Woods, Brian McCartney, and Mike Wallace. Thanks to these people who donated their time and effort for a successful year.

In an average year, 250 people are killed and 7,200 injured in drinking and driving related accidents. In an effort to direct attention to this problem and help minimize its effects, the 1986 Youth Leadership Conference on Traffic Safety was held Oct. 29 to Nov. 1 at the Westin Bayshore in Vancouver.

Local students Ebrahim Rehmtulla and Tom Timleck from Howe Sound Secondary School, accompanied by sponsor teacher T.M. Dowler, and Andrea Wuolle and Nicole Dedeluk from Pemberton Secondary School attended the conference which was organized by the Insurance Corporation of B.C. (I.C.B.C.).

The conference's theme was "Steer Yourself Right", and two student delegates from each secondary school in B.C. were eligible to attend. A total of 650 students across B.C. gathered to raise the awareness of school and community members about traffic safety topics and issues.

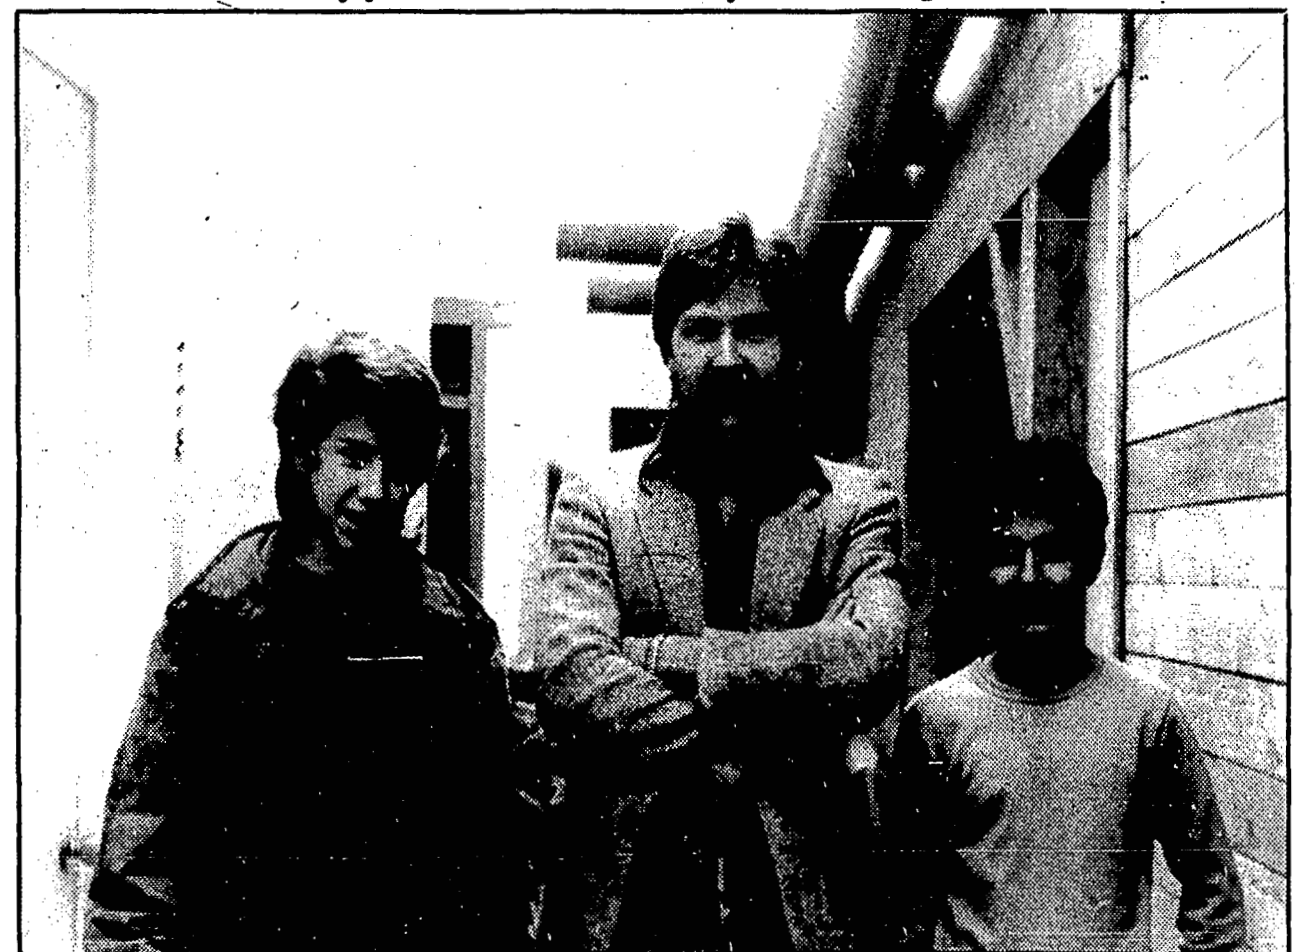

The conference was also held to provide the opportunity for highschool students to acquire knowledge, develop skills, and apply that knowledge and skills during traffic safety leadership school and community activities.

The local students attended a total of five workshops, covering a variety of topics, including Drinking and Driving, Alcohol, Drugs, Car Insurance, Breathalyzer Tests and Peer Pressure. The students also enjoyed the planned social events such as a party and dance the first night, and dinner and dance the following two nights complete with the bands, "The Party Zone" from Ontario, and "The Melloyds" from West Vancouver. A Halloween costume dress-up dance was also organized for Halloween night.

Howe Sound Secondary students Ebrahim Rehmtulla and Tom Timleck, along with teacher T.M. Dowler, recently participated in the 1986 Youth Leadership Conference on Traffic Safety held at the Westin Bayshore in Vancouver.

A TOUCH OF CLASS by Diane Long

What are we really faced with? Though it has been brought up before, it is an important issue. We, teenagers of today, adults of tomorrow, are worried about the threats that hang over our heads. The threat of pollution, nuclear arms, and unemployment; all these, and more, are scaring us.

The threat of pollution is a vast topic. It includes acid rain, contamination of waters, burial of nuclear wastes, and garbage being dumped without discretion. If we continue with these acts, our society will soon be extinct. Oceans give us 80 percent of our oxygen. Contamination could kill our oceans; this would result in the loss of oxygen. Without oxygen, people cannot breathe. If people cannot breathe, people will die. It is as simple as that.

Nuclear arms is a serious, yet realistic, issue. Not only are we teens faced with it, but the children we intend to have as well. I am frightened that I will not reach the age of 25. There is a possibility that 10 years from now, our society will be no longer. And it will be all because of a nuclear war.

It is not only adults who worry about unemployment. Knowing that a vast majority of my graduating class will be going straight into the work-force worries me, and other young people too. This all means that more jobs need to be created to accommodate the influx of working people. British Columbia has a high unemployment rate as it is. How will it be possible for myself, and other graduates, to find work? You tell me that.

Perhaps our lack of school spirit in Howe Sound has something to do with all these threats. I honestly couldn't tell you. But when the world is at its worst, we, the people of the world, should be at our best. To overcome all the dismal and dreary thoughts, we must think positive, and hold fast to our dreams.

For if dreams die, life is a broken winged bird that cannot fly.

Christmas CORNER

Editor's note: This new column will run until Christmas and will feature crafts, recipes and Christmas ideas and lore to help you make Christmas more enjoyable this year.

Countdown to Christmas.....

Here are some suggestions for attractive trims for the tree which are simple and easy to make.

Take a styrofoam ball of any size, coat it with white glue, and roll it in gold glitter (or the multi-colored glitter is also very effective). Push a needle and string through it to make a holder and hang it on the tree.

Another decorating idea is to take an inexpensive holiday wreath with a round styrofoam base and leaves from your own trees. You can use any kind of leaves and pin them in an overlapping pattern around the base. Top it with a pretty ribbon.

Don't forget the birds at Christmas. Decorate a tree in the lawn or garden for them. They will reward you with color and song throughout the holidays.

You could string popcorn and cranberries on your tree or mesh bags filled with suet. Another good idea is to use muffin tins to make cakes of seeds and suet and hang these in mesh bags.

The birds can peck through the spaces in the bags to get at the seeds and fat.

Be sure to hang it in a tree you can see from a window so you can enjoy the birds..

The weather will be cool, if not cold, for the next few months and to keep warm while you're getting ready for Christmas, feed the family a hearty Santa Claus Soup. It's filling and easy to make.

Santa Claus Soup

1 can (10 oz.) condensed old fashioned vegetable soup.

1 can condensed beef broth

2 cans water

1/2 lb frankfurters, sliced

1/2 cup uncooked small shell macaroni

1/2 cup chopped onion

1 medium green pepper diced

1/4 cup peanuts

1/4 cup raisins

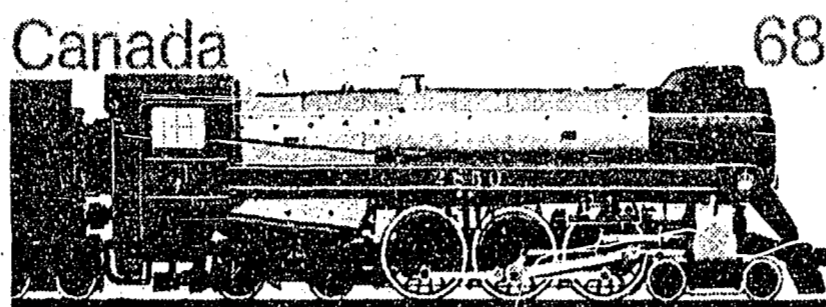

2 tbsps chopped parsley

1/2 tsp crushed thyme

generous dash of pepper

2 tomatoes, diced

In saucepan, combine all ingredients except tomatoes. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes or until done; stirring occasionally. Add tomatoes. Makes about 7 1/2 cups or 5 servings.

Collectors may take advantage of this cancellation by preparing a self addressed envelope and presenting it at the Post office with the new locomotive stamp affixed on Nov. 21 only. First day covers from a Philatelic centre will also be for sale in Squamish.

Drama Club announces cancellation of play

The Howe Sound Drama Club regrets to announce the cancellation of the play "Table Number Seven". The cancellation is due to the illness of cast members. The play was to have been presented in the Brackendale Art Gallery on Nov. 14, 15, 16, 17, and 20. There was no opportunity for an early rescheduling.

Director Doug Sifton said every effort will be made in the New Year to examine the possible revival of the play.

St. John's A.C.W.'s annual Christmas Bazaar will be held in the Civic Centre auditorium from 1 to 3 p.m. this Saturday. I know the ladies work all year long preparing for this annual event and it is always a first class affair.

Family allowance cheques will be in the mail by Thursday, Nov. 20.

Thank goodness it is still a few weeks away but--do keep this date in mind--At 2 p.m., Christmas Eve day a group of people are planning to go carolling. They will meet at the clock (corner Cleveland and Winnipeg) and from their will sing there way down to the Pavilion. An open invitation is extended to one and all.

An invitation is extended to those who have worked with Audrey and Bob in any capacity with the club over the years.

Is this a coincidence or what -- Bob just walked into the office to tell me about his recent fishing trip. Seems he and Ken Pedersen were at Alice Lake today (Friday) fly fishing and as the line will do from time to time it got snagged on a tree trunk a couple of times but the third time, well -- Bob found a small brown owl hooked to his line. After the shock and after getting the poor frightened bird free of the hook, he took it (owl) down to Dr. Hoff's office for an examination. Not sure if little "owly" survived or not but Bob said it didn't appear to have been in very good shape before it got "hooked".

Erich and Elfrieda Schlieper have returned home after spending a vacation in Florida visiting relatives.

Calling all teenagers -- Teen Stop beckons you to the Civic Centre this Friday from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

A bake sale sponsored by women in the United Church will be held in the Highlands Mall on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Rheal Lalonde at their 40th wedding anniversary party.

40th Anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Lalonde

Their 40th wedding anniversary was on Oct. 26, but the official celebration was held on Aug. 16 for Rheal and Georgette Lalonde when many relatives and friends travelled to Squamish for this happy occasion.

The Masonic hall was decorated for the party hosted by the Lalonde children and spouses, Giselle and Paul Owen, Fran and Greg Richardson, Jackie Lalonde and Rick Smith, Helen Lalonde and Serge and Sue Lalonde of Logan Lake.

Special guests and relatives included Joe Perron from Merritt, Rachele Mathieu from Quebec City, and Moyra Domes from Manchester, England.

This gathering was also a retirement party for Mr. Lalonde (who retired from Weldwood), and there were two special cakes, for the anniversary and his retirement.

The Lalondes were presented with a colour television set (for their motor home) from their children. The donations from the wishing well were much appreciated by them. Also a special gift from son-in-law Paul Owen was a video of the entire festivities.

Next year, Rheal and Georgette plan a cross country trip to Quebec and the Maritimes.

Mobile education at Diabetic meeting

Diabetics who attend the Canadian Diabetic Association - Squamish Branch monthly Educational Experience being held on November 19th, in the Civic Centre - senior lounge at 7:30 p.m., will receive the benefit of Mobile Education.

Guest speaker, Joan Johnson, R.N. travels, not only around B.C. picking up valuable bits of information, but has also travelled this summer to a symposium in Toronto for Diabetes Educators which was well attended by educators from all over North America. This allowed for an exchange of ideas and information and for a comparison of diabetes education systems around the world. She is in constant touch with people and the problems they experience with diabetes day-to-day. Some of these problems include the use of the self-glucose monitoring machines. Even people who have been diabetics for years can benefit from learning new things in the care and treatment of diabetes.

Why not join us for an informative evening, a light snack and a cup of hot coffee. Interested non-diabetics are very welcome.

Delores Laventure, manager of the Squamish Chamber of Commerce, discussing a matter with Doreen Shaw at a recent directors' meeting.

Chamber hears Royal Hudson may come earlier

Chamber directors were hopeful that the Royal Hudson will come earlier next year and stay longer after a recent meeting with Tourism Minister Bill Reid. Local postmaster Ken Warkentin told the directors that there will be a special Royal Hudson stamp issued and he has plans to mark the occasion.

He also discussed the possibility of "cluster boxes" in many areas of the community and said this was the wave of the future for postal delivery.

Other matters discussed dealt with the on-going forest strike and members were told that the industry had asked for a judicial inquiry into the forest industry.

It was stated that the industry is generating about $90 million in taxes when it is costing the government some $400 million. One director said this should be investigated and added that "Maybe the Americans are pointing out something we should be looking at."

Reynolds gets speaker posting

West Vancouver-Howe Sound MLA John Reynolds will replace Walter Davidson as Speaker of the House, it was learned.

Although B.C. Premier Bill Vander Zalm did not publicly disclose Reynold's appointment to the Speaker's position, indications are that the MLA, who was left out of the cabinet Vander Zalm announced Aug. 14, is the premier's choice.

Reynolds made an unsuccessful bid for the leadership of the Social Credit Party last summer at which time he threw his support to Vander Zalm after being dropped from the second ballot.

UNITED,
HOTSPURS
KNOCKED OUT OF CUP PLAY

The fourth division Squamish Hotspurs and the second division Squamish United Pharmasave both suffered early exits in Provincial Cup action last week.

With less than a minute to play in the second overtime session Olympic Hotel found the back of the net behind Barry Galley for a 3-2 victory over United.

"We had plenty of chances to score (in overtime)," said Doug Muir who watched teammates Glen Rivett, Reg Fogarty and Alex Ross all miss golden opportunities in extra time, and they had none until the final minute and they score with thirty seconds left. It wasn't a good goal but it was in the net.

"We could have had ten goals ... (but) they (Hotel) just hung in there and hung in there. On the narrow field they could also get at us quicker. Our guys played a decent game but we didn't finish and to Olympic Hotel's credit they had half a dozen chances and they scored three times. It wasn't a case of bad defence, it just...happened."

John Cameron and Dave Harrison, on a penalty shot, connected for Pharmasave which in league play knocked off the Dutch Lions 2-0 a week ago and on Sunday doubled Croatia 4-2 in an exhibition match. Exhibition, that is, due to the lack of a sanctioned ref.

Meanwhile the Hotspurs suffered another nail-biter of sorts in Cup action of their own last week, bowing out by a 1-0 count to Stamp's Landing Pub.

"We played one of our best games of the season," said Bob Mahnger, "but when they (Stamp's) walked out onto the field before the game they looked a lot bigger and stronger than us and it psyched us out at first and so they scored eight minutes in."

In league play the Hotspurs improved their record to four wins and two ties in nine matches courtesy of a come-from-behind 2-2 draw against Vancouver Condor. Down at one point 2-0, Squamish stormed back in the second half when Jack Bir banged in the rebound of a Buljit Binning free kick, and then drew even in the dying seconds on a picture perfect three way passing play involving Bir, Mike Simm and Ian MacDonald, with the latter first-timing it home.

"We needed that win," Mahnger said, "because with eight teams in the division four move up and now we are tied for third. It's going to go right down to the wire but the last four games the team has played well, the guys are getting to know each other, but we're just not able to finish."

Bluehawks outmuscled
Eagles

Squamish Eagle general manager Jim Raymond once described the Burnaby Bluehawks as a "Junior B team with Junior A scouting."

On Sunday the Civic Centre crowd (?) got its first look at the new kid on the block in the West Coast Junior Hockey League and indeed there was much evidence to back up Raymond's statement. A finesse hockey club, Burnaby, who was leading the league in the early going but has since then slackened its pace, at times out-skated and out-passed the home town boys, staking themselves to a 1-0 first period advantage.

But the Eagles, a talented club in their own right and perhaps still stinging from a 12-4 embarrassment last week to Ladner, found the winning ingredients, ingredients that included applying the body, fore-checking, and the idea that one can never go wrong by shooting while posting an 8-5 victory. "I think fore-checking was the key," said coach Doug Sissons. "That, and getting out of our end which we perhaps did better today than in any other game."

Indeed, once the Eagles got away from trying to do it all by themselves and turned to the contact department

Burnaby folded its wings. The tone of the match was set early in the second frame, with Squamish on a two man advantage, when Gord Trenaman put an attempted pass from behind the net in off the hapless goaltender to tie it at one.

The Eagles would strike five more times before the end of that same period including another by Rosser, from behind the net, for a 6-2 lead, as they seemed to be able to score from anywhere but the stands. The ever present Myles Rosser and his wrist shot was responsible for four Squamish goals as he put his team in front for the first time at the 6:01 mark with a quick shot that snug past the keeper's glove hand.

Burnaby's Ron Popoff and Trenaman then traded short-handed tallies before the persistent fore-checking of Richard Lee, who set up Craig Warren's first of two goals for the Eagles' fifth notch and Myles Rosser on the eventual winner, paid off.

Slight lapses in hitting briefly got the Bluehawks back on the wing but some outstanding goaltending by Peter Milkovich, especially in the final three minutes when Burnaby had their goalie pulled, held the lead.

Next up for the Eagles is a home date against the front running White Rock Whalers. Game time is Sunday at 1:15 p.m.

Local man wins medal at Pan Am Games for disabled

Local table tennis champ Bruce Teichman recently won medals at the Pan Am Games for the disabled held in Puerto Rico.

Teichman won a silver in the table tennis singles and a bronze in the doubles.

Representing Canada, Teichman placed third overall in the medal standings.

In all the years in the existence of the Rotary Club's Sportsman's Dinner the powers that be, as part of the awards selection process, must have on many occasions faced some rather difficult decisions.

Not that their ultimate choices weren't deserving of any recognition but in the back of their minds there must have been thoughts of another individual, second in the balloting, but nevertheless just as deserving.

The twenty-first rendition of the "all-men's" banquet, however, was a special occasion. For in one fell swoop the Rotary Club, and its guests, managed to honour three people, who perhaps more than anybody else, are perfect examples of what sports in any town is all about.

And that, of course, is youth for without their participation eventually a sport dies out.

Yvonne Hunter is just such a youth. A lady with the "golden touch" when it comes to sports, Hunter is one of the most gifted athletes in Squamish and she backs up those skills with plain old-fashioned hard work in what ever sport she may be playing.

That list is a long one at that as Yvonne, besides participating actively in soccer and basketball, has played in the B.C. Summer Games for softball, and was captain and top goal scorer of an inspiring Howe Sound Secondary School grass hockey squad that captured the North Shore championship and narrowly missed winning the Provincial "A" title on home turf.

For the past three seasons however this local product has been a major cog in the B.C. National ringette team, where she was again the top scorer, as well as leading the highly successful North Shore Winter Club ringette squad to several titles of their own.

As a result of these accomplishments, Yvonne was given a standing ovation when she was "escorted" in to accept the title of sports-person of the year.

Excellent choices were also made in the sportsbuilders category, for there were two winners this year. Both Bernie Tipper and Lori Vanzella have been active in the development of youth sports programs for several years.

The former was one of the guiding forces in getting a girls non-contact ice sport, namely ringette, introduced to Squamish. As president of the local ringette league Yvonne has seen "his girls" develop into one of the most successful organizations in B ringette in the province, and in a remarkably short period.

Last season was perhaps one of the best ever on the ice for Squamish as the Tweens won their league and came close to a provincial crown while the Petites were the first to hang a provincial banner from the rafters of the Civic Center.

Lori Vanzella meanwhile has been busy himself. Active in minor hockey, Vanzella has been a member of the executive in 1978-80 and since 1982 and for the last two years has been the president.

Also on his resume are several stints as coach at the different levels of the game, not to mention involvement in the skating club and power skating. Not one to put all his eggs in one basket, Vanzella is currently serving as president of the Squamish Golf and Country Club, where he has headed the youth program there as well, and a member of the squash club.

It is, therefore, people like Vanzella, Tipper, and Hunter who are the heart and soul behind sports in Squamish and by recognizing their feats, the Rotary Club has also recognized the fact that this town as a whole is winning due to those efforts.

Local swimmers to compete in Provincials

Eighteen of 23 swimmers in the two Squamish Swim Teams from Howe Sound Secondary and Brackendale Junior High will represent Squamish in the Provincial Meet to be held at U.B.C. on Nov. 21 and 22.

The swimmers competed in the North Shore/Burnaby zones on Nov. 2. Howe Sound placed fourth in the Grand Aggregate Team Totals out of 12 teams. Brackendale placed tenth.

The teams include: Howe Sound - Michelle Wilcox, Debbie Devent, Wendy Harrison, Deanna Begg, Jodi Rustad, Angela Staton, Lori Harris, Alisa Lange, Sean

Wilson, Michael Petersen, Geordie Rawsthorne, Mark Oord, Arney Lange, Allen Wynne, Brackendale - Melanie Singleton, Nicole Bowcock, Jennifer L'hirondelle, Michelle Fairhurst, Skye Laakman, Lindsay Weeks, Leanna Bingham, Bill Milne, Geoff Rawsthorne.

The teams have been practising under the direction of Coach Alisa Lange and sponsor teachers Brian L'hirondelle, Mike Weeks and Rose MacKenzie. Also a special thanks to Grant Wilson and Mike Weeks for driving the school bus down to the meets early Sunday mornings.

SPORTS SHORTS

A pair of goals from Denise Seeley and a single from Mavis Lewis paced the Hunter's Ladies' Soccer Club to a 3-2 victory over the Lynwood Rebels on the weekend. The Rebels, who are one of only two teams to knock off Squamish thus far, applied a lot of pressure in the late going in an attempt to equalize but the goaltending of Kelli Raymond proved to be sturdy. The victory lifts the ladies' record to five wins and one tie in eight games, tied for second spot with the same Rebels.

The latter squad, however, has but one game left while Hunters, and the Comets, which are two points up, have a pair of matches slated to be played. Next week the locals are at home to the Cardinals Cardinals at 12:30 on Sunday before the big showdown the week following against the Comets. Only one side will move up the first division.

Penalty shots were the name of the game. With one second left in regulation time the Porto Juniors connected on a penalty shot to lift themselves into a 2-2 soccer draw against Squamish Overwater. The tie came despite playing with two men short and giving up a pair of penalty shot goals to Squamish's Al Ross.

The Home boys' record now stands at one win, three ties and two losses.

The Howe Sound Men's Soccer League Local 170 has been on a tear in recent times. By posting a 2-0 Sunday shutout over Brackendale, 170 managed to keep sole possession of first place but not by much as close on their heels are DeCook Trucking, which knocked off the Cheeky Chiefs 6-2, and the Native Sons, which skimmed by Irly Bird 2-1.

In the only other match up Corsica Cycles took a 1-0 win by default over McBride Trucking.

Evans, Cawdell capture fall tournament

Fifteen men and twelve women made up the participants list in the Burnett Wood Memorial Squash Tournament.

Once everything was said and done two champions were crowned. In the men's division Peter Evans got the jump on Bob Mahnger and then went all the way to capture the title while in the women's Doreen Cawdell defeated Mona Gunn in the final. In the men's consolation A, Glenn Holstine defeated Luke Plunkett while in the B consolation John Gilmour overcame Don Gunn.

For the women's consolation rounds Mary Anne Plunkett took the A side by getting by Hazel Giese while in the B, Sue Foote won against Pauline McNeney. Of perhaps even more importance to the squash club at the moment is a membership drive that is getting underway. Currently there are roughly only 60 participating members and the club wishes to invite anyone who might be interested in the sport to drop in to watch and learn about the game or even participate in one of the Fun Nights which are held every second Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The next such evening is this Friday.

The club also would like to thank some of the supporters of the fall tournament such as Stedman's, Pharmasave, The Garden Centre, The Pair Tree, the Golf Club, Owen Carney, and Mary Anne Plunkett.

Terminals trounce opposition

The past two games for the under thirteen Squamish Terminals soccer club have been games in name only.

With their explosive offence the locals have outscored their opponents in that span 15-0, the latest win being a 7-0 trouncing on Saturday of Cliff Avenue.

Four of those goals came from the mid-field with Christian Oreamuno putting in a superb first-half showing while netting the hat-trick, and Eric Halvorson adding a single.

In a game where everyone contributed, Danny Muir, David Gaudin and Jerret Cox earned the other tallies while Ray Christensen, Chris Packard, Danny Foreman, and Mark Van Den Maagdenberg were pointed out as having strong games as well.

The previous week Muir and Gaudin each notched a pair in an 8-0 drubbing over the Burnaby Whitecaps. Kevin Barr, Matthew Kinnear, Christian Oreamuno, and Michael Oord also contributed to the score.

Saturday's game marked the end of the first half of season action for the Terminals, which sport a 6-2 record.

"We've played everybody," said coach Doug Muir, "and I think there isn't a team there that we are not better than. The kids know they have the ability to win the league but whether or not they will is another matter."

Local skaters compete in Championship

Several members of the Squamish Skating Club placed well in the B.C. Coast Zone Championships held recently at the Agrodome.

The standings were as follows: Preliminary Ladies, 10 and under Group "A" -- Jody Price (7th), Jessica Sandberg (10th); Preliminary Ladies 11 and under -- Nicole Vaugeois (5th); Pre-Juvenile Ladies, 11 and under -- Shannon Price (9th), Christa Pears (6th--she also advanced to the finals and placed 7th overall); Juvenile Ladies, 12 and over--Nicole Bowcock (9th).

The Club would like to thank all the parents and friends who attended the Pop Concert and who showed support for the girls. The next Pop Concert is tentatively scheduled for February.

Bantam AA hockey enjoying good season

Game One against Mission has been the only loss in league play for the Howe Sound Bantam AA Hockey team. The score was 4-3.

The team has also met Hope twice, resulting in a 4-4 tie and a 7-4 win.

A 10-3 victory over Maple Ridge and a 7-5 win over Port Coquitlam, with Rob Andrews, Alex Laxton, and Brian Jahnke scoring two goals each and Bill Hedin picking up a single, makes the team a strong contender this year.

The next home game is Saturday, Nov. 22 at 4:15 p.m. against Hastings.

Patterson suggests street name change

When is Skyline Drive no longer Skyline Drive? When it becomes Friedel Crescent. Alderman Terrill Patterson told council members at the Nov. 12 meeting that he has received complaints from Garibaldi Highlands residents that Friedel Crescent is confusing to visitors unfamiliar to the area.

Patterson suggested council entertain the idea of re-naming Friedel Crescent to Skyline Drive, which continues across The Boulevard as such.

At least two members of council, both residents of the area, dismissed the name-changing proposal, saying Friedel Crescent has always been so-named.

"It's never caused a problem for people coming to visit me," Alderman Corinne Lonsdale said. "It's been Friedel Crescent for 15 to 20 years. I've never heard of anybody complaining about it."

Added Alderman Dave Stewart: "I was there when it was just a bulldozer trail. It's always been Friedel."

Stewart suggested that any residents discontented with the current name should circulate a petition and present it to council.

Council acts on Skyline hazard

Skyline Drive may be getting a pedestrian walkway for the safety of school children - but the walkway has in turn created another safety hazard.

Squamish council received a report from Works Superintendent John Payne requesting approval for $4,000 to install a six-foot chainlink fence on Skyline Drive to prevent children from rolling down the bank and injuring themselves.

The proposed fence would run from the switchback down the hill for a distance of 300 feet.

According to Alderman Norm Verner, chairman of the Works and Services Committee, the work done by the municipality on Skyline Drive has created the hazard for pedestrians.

"We've created an inviting hazard there," Verner told council, pointing to the installation of cement blocks along the road. Verner said the embankment drops down about 10 feet at a sharp incline.

Not all council members were in agreement with the works superintendent's request, however.

"We're spending $4,000 for something that will encourage kids to go down and take a look," Alderman Terrill Patterson said.

Alderman Corinne Lonsdale cited some concern over the aesthetic appearance of the fence.

"I can see people complaining," she said, but added: "I would like to see no-post guardrails so there is a definite walkway established."

Council passed a motion to authorize funds to be allocated to the fencing of Skyline Drive pending further recommendation from the Works and Services Committee as to the height and position of the fence.
